PARICHCHHEDA I

ग्रन्थारम्भे &c. (p. 1, l. 5). All Sanskrit writers generally introduce their works with a salutation or benediction. This (Maṅgala as it is called) is necessary for the removal of obstacles and for the safe completion of the work undertaken. The efficacy of maṅgala is emphasized by so early a writer as Patañjali, who says “माङ्गलिक आचार्यो महतः शास्त्रौघस्य मङ्गलार्थं सिद्ध-शब्दमादिनः प्रयुङ्क्ते मङ्गलादीनि हि शास्त्राणि प्रथन्ते वीरपुरुषकाणि च भवन्त्यायुष्म-त्पुरुषकाणि चाध्येतारश्च सिद्धार्था यथा स्युरिति ।” (p. 7, vol. I of the महाभाष्य ed. by Kielhorn). Compare also the interesting discussion about the necessity and efficacy of maṅgala in the Siddhānta-muktāvali and the Tarkadīpikā of Annam-bhatta.

It would have been better if the author had said प्रारिप्सित-निर्विघ्नपरिसमाप्तिकामः instead of निर्विघ्नेन प्रारिप्सितपरिसमाप्तिः. But he is in good company; e. g. Abhinavagupta says in his ध्वन्या-लोकलोचन “व्याख्यातृश्रोतृणामविघ्नेनाभीष्टव्याख्याश्रवणलक्षणफलसम्पत्तये &c.” (p. 1); and नमिसाधु in his comment upon Rudrata's Kāvya-lāṅkāra says “अविघ्नेन शास्त्रसमाप्त्यर्थं” (p. 1). अविघ्नेन प्रारिप्सित-परिसमाप्तिकामः desiring the unobstructed completion of what he wishes to begin. वाङ्मयाधिकृततया (p. 1. l. 5).—वाङ्मये अधिकृततया. वाङ्मय* means “Literature”; compare लिपेर्यथाबद्धहणेन वाङ्मयं नदी-मुखेनेव समुद्रमाविशत् ॥ रघु. III. 28. वाङ्मयाधि० means ‘Because, She (Goddess of speech) is the constituted authority in or has sway over the province of Literature’. वाग्देवतायाः सांमुख्यमाधत्ते—supply ग्रन्थकृत्—‘He (the author) makes the Goddess of speech favourable (to his object)’. विश्वनाथ wrote the Kārikās as well as the Vṛtti. But he speaks of himself in the third person (आधत्ते), following the practice of such writers as Mammata, who says “ग्रन्थारम्भे विघ्नविधाताय...ग्रन्थकृत् परामृशति.” Compare the words of मेधातिथि ‘प्रायेण ग्रन्थकाराः स्वमतं परापदेशेन भुवते’ or of कुल्लुक (on मनु I. 4) ‘प्रायेणाचार्याणामिदं शैली यत्त्वाभिप्रायमपि परोपदेशमिव वर्णयन्ति.’

known.' शरदिन्दु०—Dissolve शरदिन्दोरिव सुन्दरी रुचिर्यस्याः. Many writers on Rhetoric appropriately praise the goddess of speech at the beginning of their works; vide the काव्यप्रकाश, the काव्यादर्श, अलङ्कारसर्वस्व &c.

Construe यतः अल्पधियामपि चतुर्वर्गफलप्राप्तिः काव्यादेव सुखात् (भवति, तेन (तस्मात्) तत्स्वरूपं (काव्यस्वरूपं) निरूप्यते. चतुर्वर्ग means 'the class of four' i. e. the four पुरुषार्थः धर्म, अर्थ, काम and मोक्ष. (p. 1, l. 12). काव्यतः चतुर्वर्गफलप्राप्तिः सुप्रतीतेव—It is well-known that the four (mentioned above) are the fruits of poetry. गनादिवत्.... उपदेशद्वारेण—प्रवृत्ति and निवृत्ति are to be construed respectively with कृत्य and अकृत्य, i. e. कृत्ये प्रवृत्तिः अकृत्यात् निवृत्तिः; compare the words of Mammata रामादिवद्वर्तितव्यं न रावणादिवदित्युपदेशं च यथायोगं... करोतीति (K. P. 1 Ul.). The fruits of Poetry are differently given by different writers.—e. g. रुद्रट्ट in his Kāvya-lāṅkāra (I. 4-13) practically says the same thing as our author. Vāmana, on other hand, says that the fruits of Kāvya are प्रीति (pleasure) and कीर्ति (I. 1. 5). verse is everywhere quoted as it is in the text. साधुकान्यनिषेवणम् constant application to, or study of, good Poetry (whether by way of composing it or reading it). प्रीतिं करोति causes delight (to the author as well as to the reader). वैचक्षण्य means 'thorough mastery, proficiency.'

किं च... व्युत्पत्त्याधायकत्वाच्च (p. 1, ll. 17-20). The author shows how Poetry severally leads to the attainment of each of the four goals of men. The word कान्यात् is to be connected with each of the four words धर्मप्राप्तिः, अर्थप्राप्तिः etc एकः शब्दः सम्यग्जातः—This passage is often quoted as a Vedic one. The readings, however, are different in each case. J and B read स्वर्गे लोके च (in heaven as well as in this world) for स्वर्गे लोके. Our reading is supported by the तन्त्रवार्तिक (p. 228), by कैयट (p. 10) and by the सर्वदर्शनसंग्रह (p. 139 B. I. edition). The तन्त्रवार्तिक adds शास्त्रान्वितः. Compare for the idea the verse—गौर्गौ कामदुधा सम्यक्प्रयुक्ता स्पर्धते बुधैः। दुग्धप्रयुक्ता पुनर्गोत्व प्रयोक्तुः सैव शंसति॥ कान्यादर्श I. 6. अर्थप्राप्तिश्च प्रत्यक्षसिद्धा—As to the attainment of wealth (by means of Poetry), we see it with our own senses i. e. we see men making money by writing poems. कामप्राप्तिश्चाथैव—Poetry does not directly lead to the attainment of physical comfort, but only indirectly i. e. it makes the poet rich and then he can enjoy life. Compare कामन्दक I. 49. "धर्मादर्थोऽर्थतः कामः कामात्सुखफलोदयः।" मोक्षप्राप्तिश्चैत.....सन्धानात्—एतज्जन्यं (कान्यजन्यं) यद्धर्मफलं तस्य अननुसन्धानात् by not regarding (as the goal) or not hankering after the fruits of merit produced by it (by writing poems). The idea may be explained as follows:—The composition of poems leads, as said above, to the attainment of religious merit and the pleasures of heaven as a consequence of it. These, although in themselves good enough, are not the highest goal to be aimed at. They are transitory after all. One should not rest content with them, because when one's merit is exhausted, one will have again to suffer a fall from heaven. One should therefore aim at Final Beatitude (मोक्ष). This one can do only if a man performs his individual duties without hankering after their proffered reward and thus strives to attain to correct knowledge, knowledge contained in the Upanishads &c. Compare तद्यथैह कर्मचितो लोकः क्षीयते एवमेवायमुत्र पुण्यचितो लोकः क्षीयते। छा० उप० VIII. 1. 6; पुनरुवाच यज्ञरूपा अष्टादशोक्तमवरं येषु कर्म। एतच्छ्रेयो येऽभिनन्दन्ति मूढा जरामृत्युं ते पुनरेवापियन्ति॥ मुण्डकोपनि० I. 2. 7. मोक्षोपयोगिवाक्ये व्युत्पत्त्याधायकत्वाच्च—The passages which are useful for attaining Moksha are those contained in the Upanishads,

Our author first selects for criticism the word अदोषौ in Mammata's definition of poetry. यदि दोषरहितस्यैव काव्यत्वाङ्गीकारः &c. (p. 2, 1. 12)—If you accept as poetry that alone which is free from fault, then the verse न्यक्कारो &c. would not be a poem as it has the fault विधेयाविमर्शः.

of the speaker to convey, what is not known from any other source, that the existence of enemies is a great humiliation; therefore the word न्यक्कार is the predicate. The natural order, then, of the words ought to be अयमेव न्यक्कारः and not न्यक्कारोऽयमेव, in accordance with the old maxim 'one should not utter the predicate before the subject is expressed' 'अनुवाचमनुक्तवै न विधेयमुदीरयेत् । न ह्यलब्धास्पदं किंचित्पुनश्चित्प्रतिष्ठति' ॥*. The order being inverted, we understand the meaning intended after an effort. As, instead of saying अयमेव न्यक्कारः, the speaker says 'न्यक्कारः अयमेव' (all distinct words), the fault is said to be वाक्यगत. वाक्यगत अविमृष्टविधेयांश is defined in the Ekāvalī as अनुवाचविधेयांशादुक्तौ स्यातां विपर्ययेण यदा । अविमृष्टविधेयांशो भवति तदानीं तु वाक्यगतः ॥ p. 159; see also the साहित्यदर्पण (p. 371 Nir.). "न्यक्कारो ह्ययमेव मे यत्" इत्यत्र चायमेव न्यक्कार इति न्यक्कारस्य विधेयत्वं विवक्षितम् । तच्च शब्दरचनापैरीत्येन गुणीभूतम् । रचना च पदद्वयस्य विपरीतेति वाक्यदोषः । अनुवाच and विधेय are defined as follows.—यच्छब्दयोगः प्राथम्यं सिद्धत्वं चाप्यनुद्यता । तच्छब्दयोग औत्तर्यं साध्यत्वं च विधेयता ॥ The subject is that which is connected with the relative pronoun (यत्), which comes first in the sentence and which is accomplished (or well-known); while the predicate is connected with the pronoun 'that' (तत्), it is subsequent (to the अनुवाच) and it is something to be accomplished (or not known). Moreover, in the words वृथोच्छूनैः किमेभिर्भुजैः there is अविमृष्टविधेयांश (पदगत) दोष. Here the subject is the fact of being puffed up (i. e. उच्छूनत्व is the अनुवाच) and what is predicated is the uselessness of this pride (i. e. वृथात्व is the विधेय). But this विधेय, as it forms part of the compound वृथोच्छूनैः, becomes subordinate. It is the subject that is subordinate in a sentence† and hence वृथा, the real विधेय, presents the appearance of being the subject, which is subordinate and thus there is अविमृष्टविधेयांशदोष. See साहित्यद० (p. 366) 'अत्र वृथात्वं विधेयम्, तच्च समासे गुणीभावादनुवाचत्वप्रतीतिरुक्त' ।

* This is often quoted as from Kumārila, but we do not find it in the index to the श्लोकवार्तिक. It is, however, an old n्याय, as it is quoted even by Hemachandra (p. 172 of काव्यानुशासन, Nir. Ed.)

has been admitted to be a specimen of the highest type of Poetry as it contains suggestion. It is Ānandavardhana, the author of the ध्वन्यालोक, who looks upon this verse as a specimen of the highest type of Poetry (see pp. 153-154 of the ध्वन्यालोक). Poetry is divided by Ānandavardhana and others like Mammata into three varieties, उत्तम, मध्यम, and अधम. That is उत्तम काव्य where the व्यंग्य (suggested) sense far excels the expressed sense.* It is also called ध्वनि. In the verse under discussion, मे यदरयः, तत्राप्यसौ तापसः, रावणः, विगृह्यिक्, मुजैः etc. suggest meanings that are far more charming than the plain expressed sense,† i. e. by the word मुजैः (in the plural), it is suggested that they are a mere burden; by the word तापस is suggested the idea that he must be destitute of prowess. As Mammata is a great admirer of आनन्दवर्धन and as he defines उत्तम or ध्वनिकाव्य in the same way as आनन्दवर्धन does, he (Mammata) also must be looked upon as regarding the verse 'न्यक्कारो ह्ययमेव' etc. as an example of उत्तम काव्य.

Kāvya is defined above as अदोषौ etc.; this verse (न्यक्कारो etc.) is shown to be faulty; therefore it cannot be an example of Poetry; but it has been implicitly admitted to be the highest type of Poetry by Mammata. So his definition is too narrow, as it would exclude the verse in question from the province of Poetry. तस्मादव्याप्तिर्लक्षणदोषः (p. 2, l. 18). Every definition must be free from three faults, viz. अव्याप्ति, अतिव्याप्ति and असम्भव. It must neither be too narrow, nor too wide, nor quite impossible. Here Mammata's definition of काव्य is open to the fault of अव्याप्ति, because, as said above, it excludes such a verse as न्यक्कारो &c. which is universally acknowledged to be the best type of poetry, ननु कश्चिदेवांशःचेत् (p. 2, l. 18). An objection is raised against the criticism of Mammata's definition तददोषौ &c. In the verse न्यक्कारः etc., it is only a part that is faulty, and not the whole; therefore we may omit what is faulty and regard the remainder as an example of poetry. To this S. D. replies in the words तर्हि.....निर्दोषस्यैकान्तनसम्भवात् (p. 2, ll. 19--28). The first objection against the above compromise is contained in the words तर्हि यत्रांशे तो किमपि न स्यात्. That part of the verse न्यक्कारः etc. in which there is a fault leads us to call it non-poetry; while that part of it in which there is Dhvani i. e. suggestion, leads us to call it the best poetry. Thus, being dragged in two opposite directions by these two parts, the verse would neither be poetry nor non-poetry.

न च कंचिदेवांशं &c. (p. 2, l. 21). In these words S. D. attacks the idea that one part of a verse may be faulty, while the remainder may be good poetry. He says that such blemishes as श्रुतिदुष्ट etc. (harsh or jarring expression) do not mar a part of a poem merely, but the whole poem if they are faults at all. The idea is that harshness spoils the charm of the Rasa and therefore of the whole verse and not only of those particular words which are harsh. In certain circumstances, however, harshness may be an ornament, instead of being a blemish. Hence, harshness is either a blemish or not a blemish. If the former, it mars the beauty of the whole poem. In such a case, then, you cannot say 'Let a part be faulty; whole remainder may be good poetry.' If in न्यक्कारो etc. it is admitted that there is अविमृष्टविशेषांशदोष, then the whole verse becomes faulty and hence it would not be poetry at all. On श्रुतिदुष्ट, the लोचन remarks (p. 82) "श्रुतिदुष्टा अर्थदुष्टा वाक्यार्थ-बलादस्त्रीलार्थप्रतिपत्तिकारिणः। यथा 'छिद्रान्वेषी महान्तन्वो वातायैवोपसर्पति'। कल्पनादुष्टा तु द्वयोः पदयोः कल्पना। यथा 'कुरु रुचिम्' इत्यत्र* क्रमव्यत्यासे। श्रुतिकटुस्तु अथाक्षीत् अक्षौत्सीत् तृणेढि इत्यादि।"

In 'तथाहि...उदाहृता' (p. 2, ll. 22-26) S. D. supports what he has said above i. e. a fault becomes so when it mars the rasa and thus the whole poem; it cannot spoil only a part of the poem. तथाहि—to explain. A दोष is defined by Mammata as

मुख्यार्थहृतिर्दोषो रसश्च मुख्यस्तमश्रयाद्वाच्यः । उभयोपयोगिनः स्युः शब्दाद्यास्तेन तेष्वपि सः ॥' (7th उल्लास) and by S. D. as 'रसात्कर्षका दोषाः'. A दोष is that which mars the rasa. काव्यात्मभूतस्य रसस्य—rasa is said to be the soul of Poetry, e. g. ध्वन्यलोक II. 7, p. 78 'तमर्थमवलम्बन्ते येऽङ्गिनं ते गुणाः स्मृताः ॥'; also काव्यस्यात्मा ध्वनिरिति etc. I. 1; शौद्धोदनि says 'शब्दाथौ काव्यस्य शरीरम्, आत्मा रसः' etc. If what are called faults do not mar the beauty of the Rasa, the soul of poetry, then they cease to be faults. This is admitted by all including Mammata, e. g. harsh words are a fault in the शृङ्गार-रस, because they mar the beauty of that rasa, but in वीभत्स or रौद्ररस, harshness is not a fault, as it does not mar beauty. Mammata himself says in the 7th Ul. (63rd कारिका) p. 445 (Vā.) 'इदानीं कचिद्दोषा अभ्येतेऽत्युच्यते'. S. D. says in the 7th परिच्छेद 'उक्तदोषाणां च कचिद्दोषत्वं कचिद्गुणत्वमित्याह—वक्तरि कोवसंयुक्ते तथा वाच्ये समुद्धते । रौद्रादौ तु रसेऽत्यन्तं दुःश्रवत्वं गुणो भवेत् ॥' p. 405 (Nir.). तेषां श्रुतिदुष्टादीनाम् अन्यथा (p. 2, l. 23) otherwise, i. e. if it were not admitted that faults are so only when they mar the रस and are not faults when they do not mar the rasa. नित्यदोषानित्यदो— It would not be possible to divide faults into नित्य and अनित्य (as is universally done). If faultiness did not depend upon the fact of marring the rasa then this division of दोष would be impossible. A fault will always be a fault. But if you postulate, as regards the faults, the criterion that whatever mars the rasa is a fault and that what does not do so is not a fault, then only can you say that a certain दोष is अनित्य (not invariably so), e. g. श्रुतिकटु is a दोष in शृङ्गाररस, but not so in रौद्र. दोषाः are generally divided into नित्य and अनित्य. See काव्यप्रदीप p. 201 (Nia) "स चायं द्विविधः नित्योऽनित्यश्च । तत्रानुकरणादभ्येन प्रकारेण समाधातुमशक्यो नित्यः । यथा च्युतसंस्कृत्यादिः । अन्यादृशस्त्वनित्यः । यथाऽप्रयुक्तादिः । च्युतसंस्कृति may be instanced in the use of नाथते in the sense of 'requests' for नाथति (which is the correct form in that sense). अप्रयुक्त is the employment of a word, which, though authorized, is not used by poets e. g. the word दैवत, which, the lexicons say, is both masculine and neuter, is used by poets only in the neuter; if one were to employ दैवतः in a poem, it would be अप्रयुक्तदोष. ध्वनिकृता— By the author of Dhvani i. e. the work called ध्वन्यालोक. The author flourished in the latter half of the 9th century A. D. in Kāshmir. Vide Introduction. Construe अनित्या दोषाश्च ये श्रुतिदुष्टादयो दर्शिताः ते ध्वन्यात्मन्येव शृङ्गारे हेवा इत्युदाहृताः ॥. See ध्वन्यालोक pp. 82—84 (Nir.). ध्वन्यात्मन्येव शृङ्गारे means अङ्कितया व्यंग्ये शृङ्गारे एव (न तु कोपादिमिश्रिते

किं च...असम्भवात्—(p. 2, ll. 27-28). In these words another objection is raised against Mammata’s word अदोषौ. If, as you say, none but a faultless piece were to be regarded as Poetry, then Poetry would be a rare thing indeed or would not exist at all, as it is extremely improbable that a piece should be free from faults in every respect. The idea is that there will be some fault, however slight, in every piece; but according to Mammata’s definition Poetry must be faultless; therefore all pieces, that are faulty in any respect, will be excluded and there will remain nothing answering to the definition of काव्य given by मम्मट. This objection against Mammata’s definition and S. D.’s definition of काव्य are noticed by प्रदीप (Nir. p. 13).

In all this criticism, the meaning of the negative particle in अदोषौ was taken to be अभाव, absence or non-existence. Now, a defender of Mammata’s definition comes forward by saying that the negative particle should be interpreted in the sense of ईषत् ‘a little, slight’, and thus अदोषौ means ‘a little faulty.’ The meanings of नञ्, the negative particle, are six:—तत्सादृश्यमभावश्च तदन्यत्वं तदल्पता । अप्राशस्त्यं विरोधश्च नञर्थः षट्

प्रकीर्तिताः ॥ भाट्टचिन्तामणि p. 154; (प० ल० मं० 25, attributes it to हरि, author of वाक्यपदीय) or 'नञ्भावे निषेधेन स्वरूपार्थेऽप्यतिश्रमे । ईषदर्थे च सादृश्ये तद्विरुद्धतदन्ययोः ॥' मेदिनी. According to this new interpretation, the definition of Poetry would be 'word and sense, a little faulty etc.' Against this S. D. brings an objection, which is as follows. As अदोषौ (i. e. ईषदोषौ) forms part of the definition, in every poem there must be some slight fault. Every word in a definition must be applicable to all the things defined. Now, if some very gifted poet wrote a poem free from every fault, the definition of Kāvya as interpreted above would not apply to it and his composition would not be called a poem, as it would not possess some slight fault. But to say so would be quite absurd.

(p. 3, l. 1). सति सम्भवे ईषदोषौ इति चेत्—An improvement is suggested in these words in the interpretation of अदोषौ as ईषदोषौ. We do not mean that in every poem there must be some slight fault; what we mean is that Poetry is "word and sense with a slight fault, if at all" i. e. there should be no faults, but if there are faults they should be slight; if in a piece there are grave faults, it would not be a poem. S. D.'s objection against this is contained in the words 'एतदपि काव्यलक्षणे.....स्फुटः.' He says that these words i. e. 'सति सम्भवे ईषदोषौ' should not have been inserted in the definition of poetry; just as in the definition of such a thing as a jewel etc. one omits such a circumstance as its being perforated by an insect. A लक्षण is defined by वात्स्यायन as 'अतत्त्वव्यवच्छेदको धर्मः' i. e. a property which serves to distinguish the thing defined from all other things. तर्कदीपिका says 'दूषणत्रयरहितो धर्मो लक्षणम् । यथा साक्षादिनत्त्वम् । स पद्मासाधारणधर्म इत्युच्यते ।'. From these it follows that in a definition only the most essential or peculiar attributes of a thing should find a place. कीटानुबेध is not an essential or peculiar attribute of a jewel. So it should have no place in the definition of a jewel, as that circumstance would not constitute a thing a jewel, though it may not cause it to cease to be regarded as a jewel. Similarly, poetry may be free from every fault, or it may have slight faults. But the fact of having a slight fault, if any, is not one of the essentials or peculiarities of Poetry and therefore should not find a place in the definition of poetry. नहि etc. Here S. D. fully explains the illustration of a jewel given by him. Such circumstances as कीटानुबेध are not able to deprive a jewel of its character of a jewel, but they are able only to make applicable to it degrees of comparison* (i. e. that it is excellent, middling or inferior). The same holds good of such faults as श्रुतिदुष्ट in the case of poetry i. e. they do not make a composition, in which they occur, cease to be a poem, but they render applicable to such a piece the words 'superior' 'middling' or 'inferior'. S. D. supports his remarks by a quotation. "The nature of poetry is held to reside even in faulty compositions where the रस etc. are clearly perceived in like manner as the character of a jewel etc is held to belong to such a thing as a jewel which is perforated by an insect."

(P. 3, l. 7). किं च...अनुपपन्नम्—S. D. here begins his criticism of the second word 'सगुणौ' in 'मम्मट's definition of काव्य. He says that this qualification of the word शब्दार्थौ is inappropriate. The reason is contained in the words गुणानां...प्रतिपादितत्वात्. तेनैव = काव्यप्रकाशकारेणैव. On the कारिका 'ये रसस्याङ्गिनो धर्माः शौर्यादय इवात्मनः । उत्कर्षहेतवस्ते स्युरचलस्थितयो गुणाः ॥' (का. प्र. 8. 1) मम्मट's वृत्ति is आत्मन एव हि यथा शौर्यादयः, नाकारस्य, तथा रसस्यैव माधुर्यादयो गुणाः, न वर्णानाम्. Mammata has declared that the 'excellences such as melodiousness are the properties of Rasa alone and not of anything else' (such as words). But in his definition he says 'सगुणौ शब्दार्थौ', thereby intimating that the Guṇas (excellences) are the properties of words and senses. Thus he is inconsistent.

(P. 3, l. 9). रसाभिव्यञ्जकत्वेन.....चेत्. In these words some one defends मम्मट' expression सगुणौ शब्दार्थौ. उपचारतः indirectly or by metaphor. The adjective सगुणौ as applied to शब्दार्थौ is quite appropriate; since it is these i. e. words and senses, that reveal the Rasa or sentiment; the गुण, which really are the properties of रस, may be secondarily regarded as belonging to शब्द and अर्थ, which manifest the रस. S. D. replies that even this would not improve matters. The definition is still improper. तथाहि to explain. (P. 3, ll. 10-17) तयोः...स्वरूपाधायकत्वं तयोः ..रसोऽस्ति न वा. Here two alternatives are proposed. Either रस exists in words and senses or does not exist. If you accept the latter, then words and senses cannot possess in that case any excellence, since excellences, being the properties of रस (as said by yourself in the 8th Ul 1st verse), follow the presence or absence of रस i. e. if रस is present, गुण is present; if रस is absent, then गुण also is absent. If then you say that in शब्द and अर्थ there is no रस, there follows, as a matter of course, the absence of गुण and therefore the adjective सगुणौ cannot be applied to शब्दार्थौ. If on the other hand you accept the former alternative i. e. that रस does exist in शब्द and अर्थ, then why did you not say रसवन्तौ शब्दार्थौ instead of सगुणौ शब्दार्थौ? गुणवत्त्वान्यथानुपपत्त्या = गुणवत्त्वस्य अन्यथा अनुपपत्त्या. एतद्व्यत्ये = रसवन्तौ इति विशेषणं लभ्यते। राम०. An attempt is made in these words to defend मम्मट's words सगुणौ शब्दार्थौ. As excellences are the properties of रस, the word सगुणौ cannot properly be applied to शब्दार्थौ. But by लक्षणा i. e. Indication or metaphor, the word गुण conveys the idea of रस, to which it really belongs. Thus the meaning of सगुणौ शब्दार्थौ is indirectly the same as रसवन्तौ शब्दार्थौ. गुणवत्त्व (i. e. the character of possessing गुण) cannot directly be predicated of शब्दार्थौ. S. D. replies to the above in the words तर्हि.....केनाप्युच्यते (P. 3, ll. 13-15). If by सगुणौ you intend to convey रसवन्तौ, then why not prefer the direct mode of expression सरसौ शब्दार्थौ (काव्यम्) to the round-about and metaphorical expression सगुणौ, which has to be interpreted as meaning रसवन्तौ by लक्षणा. नहि &c.—gives an illustration. शौर्य is a property of beings, just as गुण are the properties of रस. ननु शब्दार्थौ.....इति चेत् (P. 3, ll. 15-16). The round-about way of using सगुणौ for सरसौ is now defended in another way. This round-about method of expression is preferred to the direct mode-लक्षणा is resorted to—for a certain purpose (प्रयोजन) viz. to state this that in Poetry there are to be employed these words and senses which reveal or develop the excellences. S. D. rebuts this argument by saying that, in the case of Poetry, the possession of शब्द and अर्थ which manifest गुण's, is not of the essence of poetry, but merely serves to heighten the beauty of Poetry; and here we are not inquiring as to what heightens Poetry, but as to the essentials of poetry; and therefore सगुणौ should not form part of the definition of काव्य.

* We translate कीटानुविद्ध as 'perforated by an insect.' This is a literal translation. It is not meant that the jewel is really perforated by an insect. What is meant is that a jewel may have a scratch on it or may not shoot from a part dazzling rays, the part being opaque and crossed with lines which present the appearance of different insects etc. Varāhamihira mentions a number of blemishes in jewels and says that they lessen the price of the jewel. काकपदमक्षिकाकेशघातयुक्तानि शर्कं विद्धम् । द्विगुणाश्रिदग्धकलुषत्रस्तविशीर्णानि न शुभानि ॥ यानि च बुद्धददलितायचिपिटासीफल-प्रदीर्घाणि । सर्वेषां चैतेषां मूल्याद्भगोऽष्टमो हानिः ॥' बृहत्संहिता 80. 15-16. On मक्षिका, उत्पल remarks 'मक्षिकाभिस्तदाकृतिभिः'. In the vernacular also such defects are called 'Māśī'. कीटा— is ascribed to हृदय-दर्पण by रसप्रदीप of प्रभाकर (p. 3 Tri. ed.).

उक्तं हि.....कटककुण्डलादिवत् (p. 3, ll. 17-20). This is given here for supporting the position above taken about the relation of गुण, शब्द, अर्थ and रस. These words summarize the views of the author of the Dhvanyāloka and others, including Mammata. गुणाः = माधुर्यौजःप्रसादाः; see 8th Ul. of K. P. and 8th परिच्छेद of साहित्य०; दोषाः (of काव्य); see 7th Ul. of K. P. and 7th परिच्छेद of साहित्य० for them. रीतिः style of composition. Their number is variously given. We shall refer to them at length later on. Compare for the idea "शब्दार्थौ काव्यस्य रीरम्" the words of दण्डिन् 'तैः शरीर च काव्यानामलङ्काराश्च दर्शिताः। शरीर तावदिष्टार्थव्यवच्छिन्ना पदावली' ॥ काव्यादर्श I. 10. Compare generally for the whole idea the following: उक्तं च भगवता (शौद्धोदनिना) 'शब्दार्थौ काव्यस्य शरीरम्, आत्मा रसः, गुणाः शौर्यादिवत्, दोषाः काण्ठत्वादिवत्, अलङ्काराः कुण्डलादिवत्' इति (in अलङ्कारशेखर of केशवमिश्र p. 20, Nir.); तमर्थमवलम्बन्ते येऽङ्गिनं ते गुणाः स्मृताः। अङ्गाश्रितास्त्वलङ्कारा मन्तव्याः कटकादिवत् ॥ ध्व० II. 7; ये रसस्याङ्गिनो धर्माः शौर्यादय इवात्मनः। उत्कर्षहेतवस्ते स्युरचलस्थितयो गुणाः ॥ K. P. 8. 1; उपकुर्वन्ति तं सन्तं येऽङ्गद्वारेण जातुचित्। हारादिवदलङ्कारास्तेऽनुप्रासोपमादयः ॥ K. P. 8. 2; काव्यस्य हि शब्दार्थौ शरीरम्। तस्य च वक्रोक्तिवास्तवादयः कटककुण्डलादय इव कृत्रिमा अलङ्काराः। नमिसाधु on रुद्रट XII. 2.

(p. 3, ll. 20-23). एतेन...उत्कर्षमात्राधायकत्वात्. Here S. D. attacks the third part of Mammata's definition of काव्य 'तददोषौ शब्दार्थौ सगुणावनलङ्कृती पुनः कापि.' अस्य ह्यर्थः.....काव्यमिति—मम्मट himself explains these words as कापीत्यनेनैतदाह यत्सर्वत्र सालङ्कारौ कचिचु स्फुटालङ्कारविरहेऽपि न काव्यत्वहानिः। K. P. p. 17 (Vā). These words of मम्मट have been variously interpreted; see प्रदीप pp. 10-11 (Chān). The best meaning appears to us to be:—Poetry is constituted by word and sense in which rarely a distinct figure may be absent i. e. शब्दार्थौ in which there is रस (a figure may or may not be present) or in which there is a distinct figure (if the रस is absent). S. D.'s objection against the insertion of अनलङ्कृती in the definition is as follows:—Words and senses even when possessed of figures serve merely to heighten a poem. They are not of the essence of Poetry. In defining Poetry then, only the essentials should be selected and therefore no reference at all ought to have been made to अलङ्कार in the definition of Poetry. If we were to define a child, we should not refer to the ornaments which children might wear, since they do not constitute the essentials of a child.

Here ends S. D.'s criticism of मम्मट's definition of काव्य. विश्वनाथ first attacked the word अदोषौ by saying that, if only faultless pieces were to be called poetry, some of the best poems will have to be given up and there will be practically no Poetry, as it is very difficult to keep clear of every blemish. Nor could it be said that faults mar only those particular words in which they occur. If they are faults at all, they mar the whole poem. If 'अदोषौ' were to be taken as meaning ईषदोषौ, then this word ought not to stand in the definition, as a faultless piece would otherwise be excluded from the domain of Poetry. 2ndly, सत्तुगै is quite inappropriate; rather, we should say सत्तसौ; गुण are the properties of रस and not of शब्द and अर्थ. Besides, गुण simply heighten काव्य, and are not of its essence and therefore should not be referred to in the definition of काव्य; 3rdly, no reference to figures ought to have been made in the definition of काव्य, as they merely heighten the beauty of काव्य.

As to these objections one cannot help saying that Viśvanātha is here over-fastidious and is perhaps actuated by the desire of making a show of his erudition by pouring ridicule upon a famous predecessor. This much must be said in favour of मम्मट, that his definition has the great merit of being simple and easily understood. His definition is good enough for all practical purposes. Everyone is familiar with the words दोष, गुण and अलङ्कार. By using them, मम्मट conveys a tolerably clear and accurate idea of the character of Poetry. Viśvanātha, on the other hand, after a good deal of hair-splitting, offers us a definition, which does not leave us any the wiser after reading it. He, in the quest of a scientifically accurate definition, introduces his readers into the thorny jungle of रस. After all this trouble, his definition itself (वाक्यं रसात्मकं काव्यम्) has not satisfied other critics. See for example the criticism of प्रभा.*

*P. 13. (Nir.) अर्वाचीनाः इत्यस्वरसंयोजनम् । तद्वीजं तु वस्त्वलङ्कारप्रधानेषु कव्येषु कलक्षणस्याव्याप्तिः । न चेष्टापत्तिः । महाकविप्रदायमज्ञात् । लक्ष्यानुसारेण हि लक्षणकल्पना न तु वैपरीत्येन । वर्णितानि च महाकविभिर्जलप्रवाहवेगादीनि कपिवा

On विश्वनाथ's criticism of मम्मट's word अदोषौ, the उद्योत says:— The word दोष in the definition is to be understood in the sense of a 'tangible fault' and the tangibility of a fault lies in being opposed to the apprehension of the Rasa. Thus in the verse 'तथाभूता' (वेणीसंहार I), on account of the apprehension of the strikingness of the suggested sense, the knowledge of the faults in the verse vanishes and hence there arises the apprehension of the Rasa in the verse. Hence the verse is entitled to be called poetry and moreover the best poetry. But as regards him, who does not apprehend the strikingness of the suggested sense in that verse, the verse is faulty and there is no contradiction in citing that verse as an illustration of a fault (as done by Mammata in the काव्यप्रकाश 7th उच्छास under न्यूनपददोष, on page 339, Vā). Just as a piece which is अप्रतीत (not understood) may be called a poem with reference to him who knows that particular branch of knowledge, as to him it is well known and therefore there is no fault; but with reference to others, the same piece becomes not poetry; similarly here. For मम्मट himself will say later on 'Even a fault is sometimes an ornament on account of the appropriateness thereof in the speaker etc.' This is the meaning of the verse कीटानुविद्ध etc.—Just as a jewel does not lose its character as a jewel, because all its blemishes are merged away in the excess of its brilliancy, so also, as regards a poem, on account of the strikingness of the suggested sense (the faults are not seen). Really speaking, this definition of काव्य given by मम्मट is the definition of such a poem as does not deserve to be ridiculed; since it is extremely hard to avoid ridicule, when a poem possesses faults.....The general definition of poetry should not include the word अदोषौ in it. Hence it is that such expressions as 'a faulty poem' obtain in ordinary life.

वक्रोक्ति—Dandin does not define वक्रोक्ति but says of it ‘श्लेषः सर्वांशु पुष्पाणि प्रायो वक्रोक्तिषु श्रियम् । भिन्नं द्विधा स्वभावोक्तिर्वक्रोक्तिश्चेति वाङ्मयम् ॥’ K. D. II. 363. भामह says that वक्रोक्ति enters into the composition of all Alankāras and seems to identify वक्रोक्ति with अतिशयोक्ति (अतिशयेन उक्तिः) : ‘तैषा सर्वैव वक्रोक्तिरनयाऽर्थो विभाव्यते । यत्नोऽस्यां कविना कार्यः कोऽलङ्कारोऽनया विना ॥ भामह II. 75. This verse is quoted as from भामह on p. 208 of ध्वन्यालोक. K. P. also quotes it (X on विशेष) रुद्रट regards it as one of the five शब्दालङ्कार and gives two varieties, श्लेषवक्रोक्ति and काकुवक्रोक्ति. ‘वक्त्रा तदन्यथोक्तं व्याचष्टे चान्यथा तदुत्तरदः । वचनं यत्तदभङ्गैर्ज्ञेया सा श्लेषवक्रोक्तिः ॥’ रुद्रट II. 14. An example of this is किं गौरिमां प्रति रुषा ननु गौरिहं किं (why, oh Gaurī, towards me with anger; am I a cow?). In the first way गौरि is in the Vocative; in the second we read किं गौः इमां etc. काकुवक्रोक्ति is defined as ‘विस्पष्टं क्रियमाणादङ्घ्रिष्ठा स्वरविशेषतो भवति । अर्थान्तरप्रतीतिर्यत्रासौ काकुवक्रोक्तिः ॥’ रुद्रट II. 16. मम्मट defines briefly, but in the same way as रुद्रट, ‘यदुक्तमन्यथा वाक्यमन्यथान्येन योज्यते । श्लेषेण काका वा ज्ञेया सा वक्रोक्तिस्तथा द्विधा’ ॥ K. P. IX. p. 491 (VI.). काकुः (काकुः स्त्रियां विकारो यः शोकमीत्यादिभिर्ध्वनेः ॥ अमर I. 6. 12) — ‘अङ्गान्तरात्’, ‘a change of the tone or voice.’ An example of काकुवक्रोक्ति is ‘शृङ्खलपरतन्त्रतया बत दरतरं देशमद्यतो गन्तव्यम् । अलिकलकोकिलललिते नैव्यति

सखि सुरभिसमयेऽसौ ॥. Here by a change of voice the words नैष्यति may convey two meanings; in the mouth of the heroine they mean 'he will not come'; in the mouth of her friend, they mean 'Will he not come?' i. e. he will come. The अलङ्कारसर्वस्व remarks 'वक्रोक्ति-शब्दश्चालङ्कारसामान्यवचनोऽपि इहालङ्कारविशेषे संज्ञितः' p. 177. For more examples, see रुद्रट and सर्वस्व. Vāmana defines वक्रोक्ति quite differently 'सादृश्याल्लक्षणा वक्रोक्तिः' काव्या० सूत्र IV. 3. 8 (Vakrokti is indication based upon resemblance). The वक्रोक्तिजीवितकार says 'वक्रोक्तिरेव वैदग्ध्यमङ्गीभणितिरुच्यते' (1st उन्मेष). According to him, clever speech is the soul of poetry and that it alone should engage a poet's best efforts. Dhvani is included under उपचार-वक्रता i. e. वक्रोक्ति based upon metaphor. It is not the suggested sense (व्यंग्य) that is the essence of poetry, but striking speech. His definition of काव्य is 'शब्दार्थौ सहितौ वक्रकविव्यापारशालिनि । बन्धे व्यवस्थितौ काव्यं तद्विदालहादकारिणि ॥'. According to him वक्रता has six principal varieties 'कविव्यापारवक्रत्वप्रकाराः सम्भवन्ति षट् । प्रत्येकं बहवो भेदास्तेषां विच्छित्तिशोभिनः ॥'. The six varieties are वर्णविन्यासवक्रता, पदपूर्वार्धवक्रता, प्रत्ययाश्रयवक्रता, वाक्यव०, प्रकरणव०, प्रबन्धव०. His views are briefly summarized by अ० सं० p. 8: 'वक्रोक्तिजीवितकारः पुनर्वैदग्ध्य-मङ्गीभणितिरुच्यते । बहुविधां वक्रोक्तिमेव प्राधान्यात्काव्यजीवितमुक्तवान् । व्यापारस्य प्राधान्यं च काव्यस्य प्रतिपेदे । अभिधानप्रकारविशेषा एव चालङ्काराः । सत्यपि त्रिभेदे प्रतीयमाने व्यापाररूपा भणितिरिव कविसंरम्भगोचरः । उपचारवक्रतादिभिः समस्तो ध्वनिप्रपञ्चः स्वीकृतः । केवलमुक्तिवैचित्र्यजीवितं काव्यं न व्यंग्यार्थजीवितमिति तदीयं दर्शनं व्यवस्थितम् ।'

(P. 3, ll. 25-29). यत्तु.....समुत्कण्ठते इति. On p 17 (Vā) Mammata cites this verse and remarks 'अत्र स्फुटो न कश्चिदलङ्कारः, रसस्य च प्राधान्याच्चालङ्कारता ।'. He quotes this verse in illustration of his words अनलङ्कृती पुनः कापि. He says:—in this verse there is no distinct figure of speech. It cannot also be said that there is the figure called रसवद् by मामह and उद्भट. That figure occurs only when the रस is subordinate i. e. when it heightens another Rasa or the expressed sense. But in this verse शृङ्गाररस is the principal one and therefore there is no रसवद् अलङ्कार. This objection and answer of मम्मट are with reference to the views of मामह and उद्भट. He himself does not admit रसवद् as an अलङ्कार. यः कौमारहरः etc.—शीलभट्टारिकायाः पद्यमिदमिति शाङ्गधरपद्धतौ स्पष्टम् (वामनाचार्य) । स्वाधीनपतिका काचिदसकृदुपभुक्तेष्वपि वरोपकरणादिषु उत्कण्ठोत्पत्त्या तेषामत्यन्तोपादेयतां सूचयन्ती सखीमाह—यः कौमारहर इति । अत्र हिशब्दस्य यद्यपीत्यर्थकतया अस्तिक्रियाध्याहारेण च यः कौमारहरो वरः स एव यद्यप्यस्ति चैत्रक्षपास्ता एव यद्यपि सन्ति, अस्मि च सैव यद्यप्यस्मि तथापि तत्र रेवारोधसि

In this verse, no figure other than विशेषोक्ति and विभावना is worth pointing out. Those two also are not distinct, as explained below—विशेषोक्ति* is the statement that an effect is absent although the causes of it are present. In this verse, the fact that 'the husband and other things have been frequently enjoyed before' should be the cause of the effect that 'the woman has no longing for the re-enjoyment of them.' The absence of this effect i. e. her having a longing for re-enjoyment is here stated (in चेतः समुत्कण्ठते) even though the cause i. e. the enjoyment of them in the past, is present. Thus there is विशेषोक्ति in the verse. But it is not distinctly stated, for the absence of the effect is stated in the form 'still the mind has a longing' and not in the form 'still the mind is not without longing'. The figure would have been distinct only if the latter mode of expression had been employed. †

enjoyed them before, is here stated along with the presence of the effect i e her longing for the enjoyment of them. Thus there is विभावना in the verse. But it is not distinct, for the absence of the cause is stated in the form 'although the husband etc. have been frequently enjoyed by me before.' Thus, like विशेषोक्ति above विभावना also is indistinct here.* The two figures being indistinct the union of these which constitute a separate figure called सन्देहसङ्कर is also indistinct. Where there are no circumstances which enable us to determine that a verse contains a particular figure to the exclusion of others which are possible, there is सन्देहसङ्कर.† The S. D. objects to the abovementioned view of मम्मट by saying that both the figures विशेषोक्ति and विभावना are distinct and therefore the सङ्कर based upon them is also distinct. His view appears to be that विशेषोक्ति occurs not only when an effect is stated to be absent although its causes are present; but also when the opposite of the effect is stated to exist; similarly in the case of विभावना. His words are "इह च कार्याभावः कार्यविरुद्धसङ्गावमुखेनापि निबध्यते । विभावनायामपि कारणाभावः कारणविरुद्धसङ्गावमुखेन । एवं च 'यः कौमारहरः' इत्यादिउत्कण्ठाकारणविरुद्धस्य निबन्धनाद्विभावना । 'यः कौमार' इत्यादेः कारणस्य च कार्यविरुद्धाया उत्कण्ठाया निबन्धनाद्विशेषोक्तिः ।" S. D.'s remarks appear to be based upon the words of the Alankāra-sarvasva of Rājānaka Ruyyaka, where we read under विशेषोक्ति‡ 'कार्यानुत्पत्तिश्चात्र कचित्कार्यविरोधोत्पत्त्या निबध्यते । एवं विभावनायामपि कारणाभावः कारणविरुद्धमुखेन कचित्प्रतिपाद्यते ।' p. 127 of अलं. स.; p. 161 of ed. of 1939, on p. 200 (p 251 of ed of 1939) he gives 'यः कौमारहरः' as an instance of सन्देहसङ्कर and remarks 'तथाह्युत्कण्ठाकारणाभावे (कौमारहरवराद्यसंनिधानरूपस्य कारणस्याभावे

(P. 4, ll. 3-6). यत्तु ध्वनिकारेणोक्तम् .ब्रूमः. 'काव्यस्यात्मा ध्वनिः'—these words are contained in the first verse of the ध्वन्यालोक 'काव्यस्यात्मा ध्वनिरिति बुधैर्यः समाम्नातपूर्वस्तस्याभावं जगदुरपरे भाक्तामडुस्तमन्ये । केचिद्वाचां स्थितमविषये तत्त्वमूचुस्तदीयं तेन ब्रूमः सहृदयमनःप्रीतये तत्स्वरूपम् ॥.' The meaning is 'the soul of poetry is suggestion.' S. D. asks a question:—what does the author mean by the above? Does he mean suggestion in its threefold aspects—(1) वस्तु matter, (2) अलङ्कार embellishment and (3) रस flavour etc.; or does he mean that the soul of poetry is only रस etc. (and not the three वस्तु, अलङ्कार, रसादि)? वस्तु, अलङ्कार and रस must be clearly explained. ध्वनि is defined by the ध्वन्यालोक as 'यत्रार्थः शब्दो वा तमर्थमुपसर्जनीकृतस्वार्थौ; व्यक्तः काव्यविशेषः स ध्वनिरिति सूरिभिः कथितः' ॥ p. 33 ('तमर्थम् व्यंग्यार्थः । उपसर्जनीकृतौ गुणीभूतौ स्वार्थौ स्वं चासौ अर्थश्चेति यान्याम् । यथासंख्येन तेनार्थो गुणीकृतात्मा, शब्दो गुणीकृताभिधेयः । व्यक्तः बोधयतः । लोचन'). ध्वनि is divided into three kinds, वस्तुध्वनः, अलङ्कारध्वनः, and रसध्वनि as said in ध्वन्यालोक p. 15 'स ह्यर्थो वाच्यसामर्थ्याक्षिप्तं वस्तुमात्रनलङ्कारा रसादयश्चैत्यनेक-प्रमेदप्रभिन्नो दर्शयिष्यते'; or in the काव्यानुशासन of हेमचन्द्र p. 26 'स च (व्यंग्यार्थः) ध्वन्यते द्योत्यते इति पूर्वाचार्यैर्ध्वनिरिति संज्ञितः । अयं च वस्तुध्वनिरलङ्कार-रसादिभेदात् त्रिधा ।' As to वस्तुध्वनि, लोचन says 'प्रतीयमानस्य तावत् द्वौ भेदौ लौकिकः काव्यव्यवहारगोचरश्चेति । लौकिको यः शब्दवाच्यतां कदाचिदधिरोधते । स च विधिनिषेधाद्यनेकप्रकारो वस्तुशब्देनोच्यते' p. 15. An example of वस्तुध्वनि is 'शिखरिणि क नु नाम कियच्चिरं किमभिधानमसावक्रोत्तपः । सुमुखि येन तवाधरपाटलं दशति बिम्बफलं शुक्रशावकः ॥ अत्रानेन कविनिबद्धस्य कस्यचित्कामिनः प्रौढोक्तिसिद्धेन वस्तुना तवाधरः पुण्यातिशयलभ्य इति वस्तु प्रतीयते । A distinct subject or topic is suggested, viz. that your lip (i. e. a kiss) is to be gained only by excessive merit. अलङ्कारध्वनि is that in which the suggested sense would constitute a figure of speech; the expressed sense does not however do so. An example of अलङ्कारध्वनि is: दिशि मन्द्यस्यते तेजो दक्षिणस्यां रवेरपि । तस्यामेव रघोः पाण्ड्याः प्रतापं न विषेहिरे ॥ ; अनेन स्वतःस्मै विभावना वस्तुना रवितेजसो रघुप्रतापोऽधिक इति व्यतिरेकालङ्कारो व्यज्यते ।'

रसध्वनि occurs there where रस, Bhāva etc. are the principal element and where the words, expressed sense, and the figures of speech are dependent upon Rasa etc., as said by the ध्वन्यालोक 'वाच्यवाचकचारुत्वहेतूनां विविधात्मनाम् । रसादिपरता यत्र स ध्वनेर्विषयो मतः ॥' p. 67. रसध्वनि may be instanced in 'शून्यं वासगृहं विलोक्य शयनादुत्थाय किञ्चिच्छनैः निद्राव्याजमुपागतस्य सुचिरं निर्वर्ण्य पत्युर्मुखम् । विस्त्रब्धं परिचुम्ब्य जातपुलकामालोक्य गण्डस्थलीं लज्जानम्रमुखी प्रियेण हस्ता बाला चिरं चुम्बिता ॥' अत्र शृङ्गारध्वनिः. Against this threefold division of ध्वनि,* S. D. brings an objection in the words प्रहेलिकादावनिव्याप्तेः. प्रहेलिका means 'a riddle or conundrum.' Even the कादम्बरी mentions प्रहेलिका and they are mentioned also by the विष्णुधर्मोत्तरपुराण (3rd खण्ड, Chap. 16). We find a full exposition and illustration of प्रहेलिका in the काव्यादर्श and the सरस्वतीकण्ठाभरण. प्रहेलिका is defined by रुद्रट as 'स्पष्टप्रच्छन्नार्थी प्रहेलिकाऽव्याहृतार्थी च ।' Ru. V. 25. नमिसाधु explains as follows—'प्रहेलिका द्विविधा । स्पष्टप्रच्छन्नार्थी अव्याहृतार्थी च । तत्र स्पष्टः पदारूढत्वात् प्रच्छन्नश्च प्रश्रवाक्ये एवान्तर्गतत्वेन भ्रमकारित्वादर्थो यस्याः सा तथाविधा । तथाऽसाधारणविशेषणोपादानादेवाधिगन्तव्येनाव्याहृतः साक्षादनुक्तो अर्थो यस्याः सा तथाविधा ।' An example of the above two kinds is given by रुद्रट in one verse: 'कानि निक्कृत्तानि कथं कदलीवनवासिना स्वयं तेन । कथमपि न दृश्यतेऽसावन्वक्षं हरति वसनानि ॥' Ru. V. 29. The first half is an example of स्पष्टप्रच्छन्नार्थी. Construe कदलीवनवासिना तेन कानि कथं स्वयं निक्कृत्तानि. This is the question. The answer is contained in the same line. कानि (शिरांसि) निक्कृत्तानि, कथं कदलीव (like a plantain tree) असिना (खड्गेन), (कियन्ति) नव (नवसंख्याकानि), स्वयम्, तेन (दृशाननेन). The second line is an example of अव्याहृतार्थी. अन्वक्षं means प्रत्यक्षम्. This applies only to the wind and not to a thief etc. Dandin mentions 16 varieties of good प्रहेलिकास and refers to 14 kinds of bad ones. See Kāvyaḍ. III. 106. We shall quote two interesting examples. नासिक्यमध्या परितः श्रुतुर्वर्णविभूषिता । अस्ति काचित्पुरी यस्यामष्टवर्णाह्वया नृपाः ॥ Kāvyaḍ. III. 114. The town is काञ्ची and the family of the kings is पुण्ड्रक, which has 8 letters. विजितात्मभवद्वेषिगुरुपादहतो जनः । हिमापहामिन्धरैर्व्याप्तं व्योमाभिनन्दति ॥ काव्यादर्श III 120. (विना पक्षिणा गरुडेन जितः इन्द्रस्तस्यात्मभवः अर्जुनः तस्य द्वेषी कर्णः तस्य गुरुः पिता सूर्यः तस्य पादैः किरणैः हतः । हिमापहो वह्निः तस्यामित्रो जलं तद्धरैर्मैवैर्व्याप्तं etc.). But even Dandin and रुद्रट had a clear perception of the value of these riddles. रुद्रट says 'मात्राविन्दुच्युतके प्रहेलिका कारकक्रियागृहे । प्रश्नोत्तरादि चान्यत् क्रीडामात्रोपयोगमिदम् ॥ Ru. V. 24. क्रीडागोष्ठीविनोदेषु तज्ज्ञैराकीर्णमन्त्रणे । परव्यामोहने चापि सोपयोगाः प्रहेलिकाः ॥ काव्यादर्श III. 97. They do not look upon प्रहेलिका as constituting poetry, much less आनन्दवर्धन, the author of the ध्वन्यालोक who says 'इदानीन्तानां तु न्याय्ये काव्यनयव्यवस्थापने क्रियमाणे नास्त्येव ध्वनिव्यतिरिक्तः काव्यप्रकारः । यतः परिपाकवतां कवीनां रसादितात्पर्यविग्रहे व्यापार एव न शोभते ।' p. 221. He does not recognise any piece of poetry, in which रस etc. are absent. But the S. D. objects that, if by ध्वनि you understand the three, viz. वस्तु, अलङ्कार and रस, then, even प्रहेलिका would be included under ध्वनि, as in प्रहेलिका also, there is some suggested sense other than the expressed one, just as there is in वस्तुध्वनि instanced above.

द्वितीयश्चेदोमिनि ब्रूमः If, however, you accept the 2nd alternative i. e. the soul of Poetry is suggestion which takes the shape of Rasa, Bhāva and the like then we say 'agreed.'

(P. 4, ll. 6-10). ननु यदि.इति चेत्. An objection is raised against the 2nd view, mentioned above, viz., the soul of poetry is suggestion which takes only the form of Rasa and the like (and not वस्तु nor अलङ्कार). अत्रा एतत् &c.* This is the 67th verse in the 7th शतक of the गाथासप्तशती of हाल. राज्यन्धकत्वेन कथितात्मानं पथिर्कं प्रति स्वयंदूत्या (of a woman who introduces herself to her paramour without the intercession of a go-between) उक्तिरियम् । राम०. The expressed meaning is 'Don't tumble on our bed.' But the suggested sense is quite the opposite. 'अत्र गृहे विद्यमानायाः श्रद्धा अतिवृद्धतया बधिरनिश्चेष्टत्वादियोगादन्यस्य चासत्त्वाद्भिः शङ्कं व्यवहरेति वक्तुं प्रतिपाद्यवैशिष्ट्यात्प्रतीयते ।' उ० च० p. 65. This is given as an example of वस्तुध्वनि on p. 20 of the ध्वन्यालोक. Here another matter merely is suggested (viz. the traveller's doing the opposite of what is expressed) and hence, if रसादिरूपमात्रध्वनि were to be the soul of Poetry, such a verse cannot be called Poetry.

S. D. replies to the above by saying अत्रापि रसाभासवत्तैव etc. We admit that this verse is Poetry, but we do so because in this verse there is a semblance of Rasa (of Love here) and not because mere व्यंग्यवस्तु can constitute the soul of Poetry. S. D. says further on that under रस are included भाव, रसाभास, भावाभास, भावशान्ति, भावोदय, भावसन्धि, भावशबलत्व. रसाभास is defined as 'अनौचित्य-प्रवृत्तत्वं आभासो रसभावयोः।' S. D. III. 262. Here the love is improper and illegitimate and therefore there is रसाभास.

(P. 4, l. 11). अन्यथा = वस्तुमात्रस्य व्यंग्यत्वेऽपि काव्यत्वस्वीकारे । राम०. If we were to admit that a piece is a poem, even if merely the matter were suggested, then such a sentence as 'देवदत्त goes to a village' will have to be called Poetry; because here also, there is something suggested, viz., his being attended by a servant, as every gentleman usually is. But nobody calls this poetry, because here there is no connection with रस etc.

(P. 4, ll. 12-16). अस्त्विति...कत्वात्—If it were said "Let this sentence 'देवदत्त goes to a village' be called a poem, because there is some suggested sense in it," we reply—no, because it is our position that the name of Poetry is to be applied to that only which has रस. काव्यस्य प्रयोजनं.उक्तत्वात्—This is a reply to those who would admit a piece to be poetry even if it be destitute of रस. Construe काव्यस्य प्रयोजनं.....प्रवृत्ति-निवृत्त्युपदेशः. विनेय—those who are to be taught, students. रसास्वादसुख-पिण्डदानं does not appear to be a good reading. Instead of सुखपिण्ड the author would have said सुखसन्तान etc. रसास्वादसुखसन्तान-द्वारेत्यर्थः । राम०, by means of giving a fund of delight in the form of the relishing of Rasa. सुखपिण्ड means 'an inducement.' Compare: को न यानि वशं लोके सुखे पिण्डेन पूरितः । मृदङ्गो मुखलेपेन करोति मधुर-ध्वनिम् ॥. रामादिवत्—this has occurred above. Compare for the idea the words of the ancient rhetorician भामह "स्वादुकाव्यरसोन्मिश्रं शास्त्रमप्युपयुजते । प्रथमालीढमधवः पिवन्ति कटुं शेषजम् ॥" V. 3 (The लोचन p. 182 quotes this as from भामह, but reads वाक्यार्थम् for शास्त्रमपि). Compare व्यक्तिविवेक I, p. 20 'एवं च ये सुकुमारमतयो...ये चाल्यन्ततोपि जडमतयः...उभयेपि तेभिमतवस्तुपुरस्कारेण गुडजिह्विकया रसास्वादसुखं मुखे दत्त्वा तत्र कटुकौषधपानादाविव प्रवर्तयितव्याः ।'.

(P. 4, ll. 16-20). तथा च...तत्सिद्धेः इत्यादि. The author cites the testimony of three ancient authors in support of his position that the soul of Poetry is suggestion which assumes only the form of रसः. 'वाग्वैदग्ध्यप्रधानेयि' etc. occurs in अग्निपुरा 336. 33 (B. I. ed.). अत्र = काव्ये. वाचो वैदग्ध्यं प्रधानं यस्मिन् तत् (काव्यं), that in which the chief element is the cleverness of speech; or we may dissolve as 'वाग्वैदग्ध्येन प्रधानं (उत्तमं)', in Poetry which becomes first-rate by skill in speech. The Agnipurāṇa says 'Rasa alone (and not वस्तुध्वं nor अलङ्कारध्वं) is the life of Poetry, in which the chief element is skill in speech etc. व्यक्तिविवेककार—author of व्यक्तिविवेक (which means 'investigation of the true nature of suggestion'). His name is Mahimabhatta. Vide introduction. He wrote his work to demolish the theory of the ध्वन्यालोक and to establish that what is called suggestion is included under अनुमान 'Inference'. 'अनुमानेऽन्तर्भावं सर्वस्यैव ध्वनेः प्रकाशयितुम् । व्यक्तिविवेकं कुरुते प्रणम्य महिमा परां वाचम् ॥' व्यक्तिविवेक 1st verse. काव्यस्यात्मनि etc. As to the fact that the soul of Poetry, which is always to be found in it, is रस and the like, there is no difference of opinion. सङ्गिनि = अवश्यस्यायिनि । राम०. सङ्ग means 'attachment or connection.' The words काव्यस्यात्मनि occur in the व्यक्तिविवेक I. p. 22 (Trivandrum ed. 1909). The printed edition reads सङ्गिनि for सङ्गिनि. The position of the व्यक्तिविवेककार is that he does not dispute that रस is the soul of poetry, but the point on which he lays stress is that the essence of poetry (viz. रस &c.) is grasped by अनुमान and not by an independent power of words such as व्यञ्जना. As regards the thing (संज्ञा) there is no dispute; there is a difference only in संज्ञा (in the appellation of the thing). He calls it by the name of अनुमान, while the ध्वनि school calls it by the name of ध्वनि. ध्वनिकारेणाप्युक्तम् . तत्सिद्धेः इत्यादि. The ध्वन्यालोक reads 'निर्वहणेन किञ्चित्प्रयोजनम् । इतिहासादेव तत्सिद्धेः. The words of the text mean 'By a mere narration on the part of the poet of what happened, the soul of Poetry is not accomplished, because that, viz. the mere narration of events, can be effected by History (such as the महाभारत) and the like.' इतिवृत्त means the same thing as वस्तु or कथाशरीर as said in the भावप्रकाश 'वस्तु यत् स्यात् प्रबन्धस्य शरीरं कविकल्पितम् । इतिवृत्तं तदेवाहुर्नाट्याभिनयकोविदाः ॥' (VII. p. 200). We take आत्मलाभः = काव्यात्मनः लाभः. We may also take आत्मलाभः to mean कविपदलाभः, and then the whole means 'a poet does not attain the position of a poet by confining himself to the simple narration of events.' The idea is:—

The poet's business is to develop रस etc. and he has, in writing his work, to look solely to the proper evolution of the sentiments etc. If in the narrative on which he bases his poem, he finds anything which would be incongruous to the Rasa he is developing, he should throw the narrative to the winds and should arrange events so as to suit the Rasa. Because one does not become a poet by merely narrating events. This is not the poet's function, but that of the historian. In a poet we do not look for history, but for the development of रस. We prefer the second meaning of आत्मलाभः to the first, as it suits the context better. The reading प्रयोजनम् of the ध्वन्यालोक means 'the poet has nothing to do with the mere narration etc.' The words of the ध्वन्यालोक preceding the line are 'कविना प्रदन्धमुपनिबध्ना सर्वात्मना रसपरतर्पणं भवितव्यम् । तत्रेतिवृत्ते यदि रसानुगुणां स्थितिं पश्येत्ता संक्त्वापि स्वन्नतया रसानुगुणं कथान्तरमुत्पादयेत् । न हि कवेः etc. p. 148 of ध्वन्या ०.

(P. 4, ll. 19-23). ननु तर्हि ... गौण एव तर्हि means 'If you lay down that what possesses Rasa is to be called poetry and none else.' Certain verses without रस (i. e. merely narrative etc.) in a composition will not, on the above theory, be poetry (and the same difficulty would occur, as said above in ननु कश्चिदंशोऽत्र दुष्टः etc., whether the composition as a whole is poetry or not) S. D. replies to this objection in रसवत्पद्या अङ्गीकारात्. यथा रसवत्पद्यान्तर्गतनीरसपदानां पद्यरसेन रसवत्ता अङ्गीक्रियते तथा तेषां (नीरसानां पद्यानां) प्रबन्धरसेनैव रसवत्ता अङ्गीक्रियते । Certain words in a verse may be without रस; still, as the whole verse has a रस, the words may be said to have a रस, as being included in the verse; similarly here. यत्तु नीरसेष्वपि.....गौण एव. The idea is:—The name of poetry is strictly applicable only to such pieces as have a रस in them; the application of the term काव्य to such pieces as are without any रस, but possess letters which manifest some excellence, which are without faults and possess figures of speech, is quite secondary (गौण) and not strict, which application is based on the resemblance of these latter to such pieces as contain a रस. गुणामिव्यञ्जकवर्णमद्भावात्—The Gunas are three, माधुर्यं, ओजस् and प्रसाद. They are the properties of रस; but are said to be revealed by certain favourable letters, e. g. मूर्ध्नि वर्गात्यगाः स्पर्शा अटवर्गा रणौ लवू । अवृत्तिर्मध्यवृत्तिर्वा माधुर्यं घटना तथा ॥ K. P. 8. Ul. i. e. माधुर्यं is revealed by the letters from कृ to स् except the टवर्ग, each letter being preceded by the nasal of the class to which it belongs, by the letters र् and ण् combined with a short vowel etc. वृत्ति = समास-

(P. 4, ll 23-25) यत्तु वामनेन.....भिरत्वात् वामन wrote काव्यालङ्कारसूत्र in five अधिकरणस. He wrote a comment on his own sūtras. He belongs probably to the latter half of the 8th century. रीतिरात्मा काव्यस्य—is काव्यालङ्कारसूत्र I. 2. 6. रीति means a style of composition, as वामन himself defines it as 'विशिष्टा पदरचना रीतिः' I. 2. 7. These styles must be numerous, but writers on rhetoric generally select a few of the most prevalent ones for definition. टण्डिन् says 'अस्त्यनेको गिरां मार्गः सूक्ष्मभेदः परस्परम् । तत्र वैदर्भी-गौडीयौ वृण्यन्ते प्रस्फुटान्तरौ ॥' काव्यादर्श I. 40. He then tells us that ten guṇas are the essential attributes of वैदर्भी रीति; and the opposites of them or the absence of them of the गौडीरीति; 'श्लेषः प्रसादः समता माधुर्यं सुकुमारता । अर्थव्यक्तिरुदारत्वमोजःकान्तिसमाधयः ॥ इति वैदर्भीमार्गस्य प्राणा दश गुणाः स्मृताः । एषां विपर्ययः प्रायो दृश्यते गौडवर्त्तनि ॥' काव्यादर्श I. 41 and 42. वामन vehemently protests against the division of styles into वैदर्भी and गौडी 'वैदर्भमन्यदस्तीति मन्यन्ते सुधियोऽपरे । तदेव च किल ज्यायः सदर्थमपि नापरम् ॥ गौडीयमिदमेतत्तु वैदर्भमिति किं पृथक् । गतानुगतिकभ्यायात्रानाख्येयमनेषाम् । ननु चाश्मकवंशादि वैदर्भमिति कथ्यते । कामं तथास्तु प्रायेण संबैच्छतो विधीयते ॥' I. 31-33. वामन mentions three वैदर्भी, गौडी and पाञ्चाली. विश्वनाथ adds a fourth लटी The same are given by the अग्निपुराण chap. 339. मोज gives two more, viz. आवन्तिका and मागधी. It will be seen from the above that each country is credited with a particular style of composition. मम्मट includes them under वृत्त्यनुप्रास (उपनागरिका, परया and कोमला correspond to वैदर्भी, गौडी, and पाञ्चाली). The नाट्यशास्त्र of भग्न (14. 36, Ch. ed.) mentions four प्रवृत्तिस that were named after countries.

वामन stands perhaps alone in regarding रीति as the soul of Poetry. S. D.'s objection is very proper and is as follows:—रीति is a particular kind of arrangement; and arrangement is nothing but a particular disposition or posture of parts; and what is called soul is different from this. The different parts of our body assume different positions; but they are distinct from the soul. Similarly शब्द and अर्थ are the body of काव्य. The various arrangements of the limbs of this body i. e. the different arrangement of words etc. can never constitute the soul.

(P. 4, l 25-p. 5, l 2). यच्च ध्वनिकारेण.....अपास्तम्. अर्थः सहृदय etc. This occurs on p. 12 of the ध्वन्यालोक (I. 2) 'A sense which is highly thought of by men of taste, which, it has been settled, is the soul of Poetry, has two kinds, viz. वाच्य, the expressed or literal sense, and प्रतीयमान the understood or suggested sense. Here the ध्वनिकार declares that अर्थ is the soul of Poetry and that वाच्य is a variety of अर्थ. Thereby he declares that expressed sense also is the soul of Poetry. This is opposed to his own words at the beginning of his work 'the soul of Poetry is suggestion.' Thus the ध्वनिकार is shown to be inconsistent. See, however, the लोचन (on pp. 12-13), which reconciles these two apparently conflicting dicta of the ध्वन्यालोक.* The ध्वन्यालोक here speaks of अर्थ, the soul of Poetry, as divided into वाच्य and प्रतीयमान in accordance with ordinary ideas. अर्थ is of two kinds; the real soul of Poetry is व्यंग्य, but there are people who regard the प्रतीयमान as not different from वाच्य. So what the ध्वनिकार says is not that वाच्य is the soul of Poetry, but that अर्थ is of two kinds, वाच्य and प्रतीयमान. As to what is the soul of Poetry, there is difference of opinion.

(P. 5, ll. 4-7). वाक्यं रसात्मकं.....गृह्यन्ते. रसात्मकं वाक्यं काव्यम्—Poetry is a sentence the soul whereof is रस. निरूपयिष्यामः—We shall describe (in the 3rd परिच्छेद). रसात्मक is explained in the words रस एवात्मा etc. Rasa alone is the soul (of Poetry) i. e. it endows it (काव्य) with life as being essential. तेन विना = रसेन विना. "It has been established above that, without रस, a piece cannot be called a poem." This has been shown in the words अन्यथा देवदत्तो ग्रामं याति (p. 4, l. 11) etc. Under रस are included भाव (incomplete flavour) and the semblances of रस and भाव (which will be treated of in the 3rd परिच्छेद), since the word रस is derived from the root रस् 'to taste or relish' and means 'what is tasted or relished'. भाव, incomplete flavour etc., also can be relished and therefore may be included under रस. See S. D. III. 259-60 'रसभावौ तदाभासौ भावस्य प्रशमोदयौ । सन्धिः शबलता चेति सर्वेऽपि रसनाद्रसाः ॥'

रस is defined as 'विभावेनानुभावेन व्यक्तः सञ्चारिणा तथा । रसनामेति रस्यदिः स्थायिभावः सत्त्वेन सत् ॥' S. D. III. 1. Love and the like, which are permanent moods or underlying sentiments in any composition, when manifested by विभाव, अनुभाव and सञ्चारिभाव (and not by direct mention thereof) attain to the condition of रस (Flavour) in the man of taste. The रस are 8 (or 9) शृङ्गार, हास्य, करुण, रौद्र, वीर, भयानक, वीभत्स, अद्भुत (the 9th is शान्त). The स्थायिभावाः, permanent or underlying sentiments, corresponding to the 8 रस are रति, हास, शोक, क्रोध, उत्साह, भय, जुगुप्सा, विसय. विभावाः are those which are the causes of स्थायिभाव i. e. on account of which the स्थायिभावाः रति etc. are manifested, and those which nourish them (रति etc.), when they are produced. विभावाः are of two kinds, आलम्बनविभाव and उद्दीपनविभाव. Women etc. are the examples of आलम्बनविभाव because they cause the स्थायिभाव रति; while चंद्रोदय, वसन्त etc. are the उद्दीपनविभाव, because they nourish love. अनुभावाः (अनुभावो विकारस्तु भावसंस्पर्शनात्मकः । दशरू. IV. 3.) are the effects of रति etc. i. e. glance, perspiration etc. Under अनुभाव are included the eight सात्विकभावाः, स्तम्भ, खेद, रोमाञ्च, स्वरभङ्ग, वेपथु, वैषर्ण्य, अश्रु, प्रत्य. सञ्चारिभावाः or व्यभिचारिभावाः are those which help or are accessory in apprehending स्थायिभाव or its effects; they are so called because they are not permanent, but appear and disappear as waves in the ocean. The व्यभिचारिभावाः are 33 viz. निर्वेद, ग्लानि, शङ्का, अभूया etc. They are not main sentiments in a composition; they are found associated with the main sentiment. स्थायिभाव is defined as विरुद्धैरविरुद्धैर्वा भावैर्विच्छिद्यते न यः । आत्मभावं नयत्यन्यान् स स्थायी लवणाकारः ॥ (दशरू. IV. 32), यथा मालतीमाधवे श्मशानाङ्गे वीभत्सेन मालत्यनुरागस्यातिरस्कारः ।

(P. 5, ll. 7-12). तत्र रसो यथा... रसः शून्यं वासगृहं—occurs in अमरशतक (82). नवोढाया अभिनवसमागमवर्णनमिदम् । उ० चं० p. 88 of प्रदीप. वासगृहं = रतिमन्दिरम्. निद्राव्याजमुपागतस्य of him who was counterfeiting sleep or who was feigning to be asleep. विश्रब्धं विश्रुतं यथा स्वात्तया. Supply पत्युः before गण्डस्थलीम् (cheek). This verse is given as an example of सम्भोगशृङ्गार. शृङ्गार is of two kinds, सम्भोग and विप्रलम्भ (that of separated lovers). The former is defined as 'अनुकूलौ निषेवेते यत्रान्योन्यं विलासिनौ । दर्शनस्पर्शनादीनि स सम्भोगो मुदान्वितः ॥' दशरूपक. IV. 63. विप्रलम्भशृङ्गार is defined as 'भावो यदा रस्तिर्नाम प्रकर्षमविगच्छति । नाधिगच्छति चाभीष्टं विप्रलम्भस्तदोच्यते ॥, or briefly-सम्भोगः सङ्गतयोर्वियुक्तयोर्वैश्व विप्रलम्भोऽसौ ।' रुद्रट XII. 6. तत्र सम्भोगो नाधिकार-

रब्धो नायकारब्धश्च. In this verse, the शृङ्गार is on both sides. But that on the part of the नायिका is the principal one, as said by प्रभा 'अत्र नायिकारब्धतया तद्वताया रतेः प्राधान्यम् । p. 88 of प्रदीप. 'तत्र नायक आलम्बनम् । शून्यगृहमुदीपनम् । नायकचुम्बनमनुभावः । लज्जा व्यभिचारिभावः ।' प्रभा p. 89.

To mention रस, स्थायिभाव or व्यभिचारिभाव under its own name in a piece is generally looked upon as a fault. See K. P. VII. 12-14 under रसदोष p. 433 (Vā) 'व्यभिचारिरसस्थायिभावानां शब्दवाच्यता । ... रसे दोषाः स्युरीदृशाः ॥ i. e. रसस्य स्वशब्देन शृङ्गारादिशब्देन वा वाच्यत्वम् (दोषः)'. 'जाता लज्जावती मुग्धा प्रियस्य परिचुम्बने' is an example of the mention of व्यभिचारिभाव under its own name. Here the व्यभिचारिभाव 'लज्जा' is directly mentioned; it would be free from fault if we convey the idea of लज्जा by reading 'आसीन्सुकुलिनाक्षी सा प्रियस्य परिचुम्बने.' विशेषोदाहरणानि वक्ष्यामः—we shall speak of their distinctions and examples (in the 7th परिच्छेद).

गुणादयः किस्वरूपाः.....वक्ष्यामः (P. 6, ll. 1-8). Excellences, figures and styles are spoken of as the causes of the heightening of रस. गुणाः शौर्यादिवत् etc. This we had above (उक्तं हि शब्दार्थौ text p. 3, ll. 17-20). इह Here i. e. according to the view of Rhetoricians like myself. An objector might ask "How do you say that Gunas heighten रस through words and senses? गुणः are the properties of रस alone and not of शब्दार्थः; therefore having nothing to do with शब्द and अर्थ, they cannot heighten रस through शब्द and अर्थ". We reply:—The word गुण here is secondarily employed (i. e. by लक्षणा) for words and meanings which develop excellences. Hence what is meant is this—that words (and senses), which develop excellences, heighten Rasa. This was said before ('रसाभिव्यञ्जकत्वेनोपचारतः उपपद्यते' etc. p. 3. l. 9). वक्ष्यामः—in the 8th परिच्छेद (गुणः), in the 9th (रीति) and in the 10th अलङ्कारः.

PARICHCHHEDA II

The author defines Poetry as a kind of sentence, the soul whereof is rasa. A question now arises:—what is a sentence? The answer is वाक्यं स्तान् etc. (p. 7, l. 2.). This means:—A sentence is a collection of words possessing Compatibility, Expectancy, and Juxta-position (or proximity). Some other definitions of वाक्य are:—साक्षाक्षाणां पदानामनेकानां समूहो वाक्यम् । अ० वृ० ना०; वाक्यं पदसमूहः; । तर्कसंग्रहः; वाक्यं त्वाकांक्षायोग्यतासंनिधिनतां पदानां समूहः । T. Bh. p. 47. योग्यता means the absence of absurdity in the mutual relation of the things denoted by the words. A sentence like पयसा सिञ्चति has योग्यता because water has the fitness, owing to its liquidity which is necessary for sprinkling. But a sentence like वह्निना सिञ्चति has no compatibility, since fire lacks liquidity which only can make a thing an instrument in the act of sprinkling पदोच्चयस्य एतद्भावेऽपि—एतद्भावे means योग्यताभावे. If it were held that a mere collocation of words can make a sentence even in the absence of compatibility, then such a collection of words as 'वह्निना सिञ्चति' would be a sentence; but no one would say that the above (वह्निना सिञ्चति) is a proper sentence. P. L. M. defines योग्यता as 'परस्परान्वयप्रयोजकधर्मवत्त्वम्' and then says 'तेन वह्निना सिञ्चतीति वाक्यमयोग्यम् । अस्ति च सेकान्वय-प्रयोजकद्रवद्रव्यत्वं योग्यता जले कारणत्वेन जलान्वयप्रयोजकाद्रीकरणत्वं योग्यता सेक-क्रियायाम् । अत एव वह्निना सिञ्चतीति वाक्यमयोग्यम् । वह्नेः सेकान्वयप्रयोजक-द्रवद्रव्यत्वाभावात् । p. 13; see also T. Bh. on योग्यता p 47. आकांक्षा-प्रतीति-पर्यवसानविरहः प्रतीतिः पर्यवसानं तस्य विरहः (अभावः) absence of the completion of the sense. स च—this refers to विरहः. This absence of a complete sense consists in the listener's curiosity (on hearing a word) to know something which the other words in the sentence will inform him of. If we say simply अश्वः, a desire (जिज्ञासा) is at once produced in the listener to know something about the horse. This desire is satisfied only when we supply some such word as धावति. T. S. defines आकांक्षा as 'पदस्य पदान्तराव्यतिरेकप्रयुक्तान्वयाननुभावकत्वम्', the incapacity of a word to convey the idea of its connection, which incapacity is due to the absence of some other word. V. P. says 'पदार्थानां परस्पर-जिज्ञासाविषयत्वयोग्यत्वमाकांक्षा । क्रियाश्रवणे कारकस्य तस्य श्रवणे क्रियायाः करणश्रवणे इतिकर्तव्यतायाश्च जिज्ञासाविषयत्वात् ।'. निराकांक्षस्य वाक्यत्वे—supply पदोच्चयस्य after निराकांक्षस्य. गौरवः पुरुषो हस्ती—these words do not constitute a sentence, because they lack one of the requisites of a sentence, viz. आकांक्षा; these words have no expectancy as regards one another i. e. when the word गौः is uttered, desire is produced in the mind to know something about the cow. But this desire is not satisfied by the word अश्वः. आसत्तिर्बुद्ध्यविच्छेदः-बुद्धेः पदार्थोपस्थितेरविच्छेदः अव्यवधानम्, अव्यवहित-पदार्थोपस्थितिरिति तात्पर्यार्थः । राम०. The words गौरश्चः पुरुषो हस्ती occur in the महाभाष्य of पतञ्जलि (vol. I p. 1). Juxtaposition is the absence of a break in the apprehension of what is said; i. e. the presentation of things without the intervention of time or of other unconnected things. The V. P. defines आसत्ति more clearly as 'अव्यवधानेन पदजन्यपदार्थोपस्थितिः' p. 265, the knowledge of the meanings of words resulting from the words (being heard) without any long pause (between the several words). P. L. M. also defines it similarly : प्रकृतान्वयबोधानुकूलपदाव्यवधानमासत्तिः. T. D. says अविलम्बेन पदार्थोपस्थितिः संनिधिः (the unbroken apprehension of all the things denoted by the words). A sentence is made up by the combination of several notions and it is therefore necessary that the impression made by each word should remain fresh until this combination is effected. If we utter the two words गाम् and आनय at the interval of some hours, no sense will be apprehended. It is not absolutely necessary that the words must be uttered together. In a printed book we have no utterance and yet we apprehend the sense because the words occur in juxtaposition. These three viz. आकांक्षा, योग्यता and आसत्ति or संनिधि are declared to be the causes of वाक्यार्थज्ञान; T. S. says: आकांक्षा योग्यता संनिधिश्च वाक्यार्थज्ञानहेतुः । p. 52; V. P. says वाक्यजन्ये च ज्ञाने आकांक्षायोग्यतासत्तयस्तात्पर्यज्ञानं चेति चत्वारि कारणानि p. 247; P. L. M. says शाब्दबोधसहकारिकारणानि आकांक्षायोग्यतासत्तितात्पर्याणि (p. 12). अत्राकांक्षायोग्यतयोरात्मार्थधर्मत्वेऽपि पदोच्चयधर्मत्वमुपचारात् (p. 7, ll. 9-10). The words आत्मा and अर्थ are to be construed respectively with आकांक्षा and योग्यता; अत्र आकांक्षया आत्मधर्मत्वेऽपि योग्यताया अर्थधर्मत्वेऽपि तयोर्थत्वोच्चयधर्मत्वमुक्तं तदुपचारात् (i. e. लक्षणाया)—Although expectancy is a property of the soul and compatibility is an attribute of things, still both of them are spoken of in the text as the properties of a collection of words in a secondary sense. आकांक्षा, as said in the text, is a desire to know (जिज्ञासा). Desire cannot reside in the words, nor properly speaking, in the senses. Desire is a property of sentient beings alone. It is therefore that आकांक्षा is said to be आत्मधर्म in the text. Then how is it that a word is said to be साकांक्ष? We reply that this mode of speech is based on लक्षणा; a पद is said to be साकांक्ष, because it conveys a meaning which is itself साकांक्ष; a sense is said to be साकांक्ष, because it produces in the mind of the listener of the word having that sense, a desire to know another meaning connected with the first. योग्यता (fitness or compatibility) really subsists between the things signified by words. The thing 'water' is a fit object to irrigate with. The thing 'fire' is not a fit object to irrigate with. The words are said to possess योग्यता, a property of things, only in a secondary sense, on account of the close connection between words and things. As explaining the text, read the following; वाक्यसमयग्राहिका आकांक्षा । सा चैकपदार्थज्ञाने तदर्थान्वय-योग्यार्थस्य यज्ज्ञानं तद्विषयेच्छा अस्य अन्वयी अर्थः क इत्यवरूपा पुरुषनिष्ठैव तथापि तस्याः स्वविषयेऽर्थे आरोपः । अयमर्थोऽर्थान्तरनाकांक्षते इति व्यवहाराद् ।पदं साकांक्षमिति तु साकांक्षार्थबोधकमित्यर्थकम् । P. L. M. p. 12. Compare T. Bh. pp. 47-49 नन्वत्रापि पदानि न साकांक्षाणि किं त्वर्थाः, फलादीनामाधेयानां तीराद्याधाराकाक्षितत्वाद् । न च विचार्यमाणे अर्था अपि साकांक्षाः । आकांक्षाया इच्छात्मकत्वेन चेतनधर्मत्वाद् । सत्यम् । अर्थास्तावत्स्वपदश्रोतुरन्योन्यविषयकांक्षाजनकत्वेन साकांक्षा उच्यन्ते । तद्द्वारेण तत्प्रतिपादकानि पदान्यपि साकांक्षाणीत्युपचर्यन्ते । एवमर्थाः साकांक्षाः परस्परान्वययोग्याः । तद्द्वारा पदान्यपि योग्यानीत्युपचर्यन्ते । The author implies that आसत्ति is directly an attribute of words themselves. When words are uttered or written by a man in juxtaposition, the meaning is conveyed. T. Bh. says (p. 49) संनिहितत्वं तु पदानामेकेनैव पुंसा अविलम्बोच्चारितत्वम् । तच्च साक्षादेव पदेषु सम्भवति नार्थद्वारा ।

(P. 7, l. 11.). वाक्योच्चयो महावाक्यम् । etc. विश्वनाथ says in the words योग्यता...एव that the collection of sentences which constitutes a great sentence, i. e. a passage, must possess the three attributes of आकांक्षा etc. योग्यताकांक्षासत्तियुक्त एव वाक्योच्चयो महावाक्यम्. Two such sentences as रामो गच्छति, गगनं दृश्यते cannot constitute a महावाक्य, because there is no expectancy between them. इत्थं वाक्य.....रघुवंशादि (p. 7, ll. 13-17). Having given a twofold division of वाक्य, the author supports it with the authority of Kumārila-bhatta. स्वार्थबोधे etc.—This occurs in तत्रवार्तिक p. 339. Pramadāśa, in his translation, ascribes the verse to the वाक्यपदीय. The तत्रवार्तिक reads अङ्गाद्वित्वाद्यपेक्षया for ऽंगित्वव्यपेक्षया. V. P. (p. 291) follows the printed तत्रवार्तिक. The meaning is:— a syntactical unity is produced in the case of sentences that have already effected their purpose by each expressing its own sense, when they are put together, on account of the sentences being viewed as standing in the relation of principal and subordinate etc. The example of वाक्य is शून्यं वासगृहं etc. which occurs in the १५ परिच्छेद p. 5.

(P. 7, ll. 19-23). पदोच्चयो.....मविवक्षितम्—Having defined a sentence as a collection of words, the author now defines a word. वर्णः पदं प्रयोगार्हानन्वितैकार्थबोधकाः—प्रयोगार्हाश्च अनन्वितैकार्थबोधकाश्च । राम०. 'A word means letters so combined as to be suited for use, not in logical connection, conveying a meaning and only one meaning.' प्रयोगार्हेति etc. By the expression 'suited for use' employed in the definition, a crude form (प्रातिपदिक) is excluded from being regarded as a word. A प्रातिपदिक is the crude form or base which has not yet been inflected. It is not a word, because it is not used in a sentence, unless it is inflected. अनन्वित etc.—supply व्यवच्छेदः after महावाक्ययोः and also in the following two clauses. The words 'not in logical connection' serve to exclude वाक्य and महावाक्य. Although a sentence consists of letters which are suited for use, still it is not to be called a word, because the parts of it are (अन्विन) in logical connection with one another and not अनन्विन, as in a word (the letters constituting which are not logically connected). एकेति etc.—साकांक्षाणि च तानि अनेकानि पदानि वाक्यानि च. The expression 'only one' in the definition serves to exclude many words and sentences that are inter-dependent (साकांक्ष). There may be certain words and sentences which are suited for use and inter-dependent, but do not possess योग्यता or आसत्ति. Such a collection of words or sentences may have to be called letters. The possibility is excluded by the words 'only one'. The words or sentences spoken of above convey not one but many senses; while a पद must convey only one sense. An example of such a collection of words would be देवदत्तो ड्यते. Here the आकांक्षा created by the utterance of the word देवदत्तः is satisfied by the word ड्यते; but there is no योग्यता between the two, as a man cannot fly. This collection of words is not a sentence. An objection might be raised that एक in the definition is superfluous as अनन्वित would serve the same purpose, i. e. would exclude a number of words and sentences that are interdependent. We reply that अनन्वित serves to exclude only those sentences and great sentences which are properly so called i. e. which possess आकांक्षा, योग्यता and आसत्ति, while एक serves to exclude a number of words and sentences, which though possessing आकांक्षा, do not possess योग्यता or आसत्ति and hence cannot properly be called a वाक्य or a महावाक्य. If साकांक्ष पदs and वाक्यs are excluded by एक in the definition, निरसांक्ष ones are much more excluded. A collection of words without आकांक्षा or योग्यता or आसत्ति is प्रयोगार्ह and अनन्वित. But as the unconnected words present many senses they are excluded by the word एक in the definition. अर्थबोधकाः etc.—By this expression employed in the definition 'conveying a sense,' the exclusion is effected of such unmeaning combinations of letters as क च ट त प (which are the first letters of the five classes of consonants). वर्णा इति—By 'letters,' it is not intended to speak of a plurality i. e. as the plural वर्णाः occurs in the definition, it may be supposed that in a word there must be at least three letters. But this is not so. Although most words have three or more letters, still some words may consist of one letter or two, e. g. मा (wealth). Other definitions of पद are:—ते (वर्णाः) विभक्त्यन्ताः पदम्। न्या. सू. II. 2. 60; सुसिङ्गन्तं पदम्। पा० I. 4. 14. Both these definitions mean 'a word is what is inflected'. शक्तं पदम्। T. S.—A word is what has power or significance.

(P. 7, l. 24-p. 8, l. 1.). अर्थो वाच्यश्च...अभिधायाः. The author defined a word as 'letters conveying a sense etc.' It is therefore now necessary to know the nature of अर्थ (sense). The meaning that may belong to a word is held to be threefold viz. Expressed, Indicated and Suggested. वाच्योऽर्थोऽभिधया बोध्यः—The expressed meaning is what is conveyed by the word's power of direct signification (अभिधा). लक्षण्या—by the power of indication. व्यञ्जनया by the power of suggestion. ताः स्युस्तिष्ठः शब्दस्य शक्तयः These three are the powers of a word. It should be noted that the word generally used to denote a power of a word is वृत्ति (function). Compare the titles of certain works such as अभिधावृत्तिमातृका, वृत्तिवार्तिक etc.; सा च वृत्तिस्त्रिधा शक्तिर्लक्षणा व्यञ्जना च। P. L. M. p. 2; 'तिस्रो वृत्तयः पदानां भवन्ति शक्तिर्लक्षणा व्यञ्जना चेति' अलं० शै. p. 9. Sometimes the word व्यापार is used in the same sense; मम्मट wrote a work called शब्दव्यापारविचार; स मुख्योऽर्थस्तत्र मुख्यो व्यापारोऽस्यभिधोच्यते। K. P. 2nd. Ul. Our author here uses the word शक्ति for वृत्ति; while many other writers restrict the word शक्ति to only one of the वृत्तिस, viz. अभिधा, as for example in the P, L. M. just quoted.

(P. 8, l. 2-10) तत्र सङ्केतितार्थस्य etc. तत्र means 'among the three powers of a word.' सङ्केतितश्चासौ अर्थश्च. सङ्केतितः-सङ्केतः कृत अस्य. The primary one is अभिधा (primary power), since it conveys to the understanding the meaning which belongs to the word by convention. शक्ति is defined in T. S. as 'अस्मात्पदादयमर्थो बोध्यः इतीश्वरेच्छा सङ्केतः शक्तिः' i. e. Śakti is the convention made by God that such and such a meaning should be understood from such and such a word. According to this definition each word in every language is capable of conveying a particular sense, because God has so willed it. This is the view of ancient Indian logicians. The moderns say इच्छामात्रं शक्तिः, thereby intimating that even the human will can endow words with meanings, as in the case of proper names like देवदत्त, हित्थ† etc. To avoid this controversy T. D. defines शक्ति as अर्थ-स्वत्यनुकूलः पदपदार्थसम्बन्धः शक्तिः 'Power is the relation of a word and its sense that brings the sense to the mind (whenever the word is spoken).' It will be seen from the first definition of शक्ति that the तार्किकस identified शक्ति and सङ्केत or इच्छा. The अलङ्कारशेखर says 'शक्तिरीश्वरेच्छा या सङ्केत इत्युच्यते' p 9. The मीमांसकस on the other hand hold that शक्ति is an independent पदार्थ. शक्ति is said by them to be सङ्केतग्राह्य i.e. to be grasped or apprehended from the convention. When a man ascertains that a particular word has a convention in respect of a particular sense, then only does he recognise the power of the word to express that particular sense. The Grammarians follow the मीमांसकस on this point—vide उद्योत p. 39 (Chān.) 'कारिकया 'सङ्केतग्राह्यं शक्त्याख्यपदार्थान्तरमभिधा' 'तादृशं शब्दार्थयोस्तादात्म्यमभिधा' इति मीमांसकपातञ्जलमतमुपनिबद्धमिति बोद्धव्यम् ।'; P. L. M. p. 3 'उक्त ईश्वरसङ्केत एव शक्तिरिति नैयायिकमतं न युक्तम् । अयमेतच्छब्दयोऽत्रास्य शक्तिरिति अस्य सङ्केतस्य शक्तिः पार्थक्यात्'†. See also V. P. pp. 271-273. The Rhetoricians generally follow the Grammarians on this point. Our author seems to do the same. उत्तमवृद्ध- an old man who gives directions to another. मध्यमवृद्ध middle-aged man to whom directions are given by his senior. सास्त्रारि- मत्पिण्ड a body possessing a dewlap etc. सास्त्रा तु गलकन्धरः । अमर० II. 9. 63. प्रथमम्—Before he grasps the primary meaning of each word. प्रतिपद्यते understands. आवापोद्वापाभ्याम्—अन्ययव्यतिरेकाभ्याम् । राम० By the insertion and omission (of the portions of the sentence 'bring the cow'). सङ्केतमवधारयति he ascertains the convention. The idea is:—When a child begins to learn a language, he first understands the meanings of words in a lump and not of each word separately. When he hears the direction 'bring a cow' addressed by one old man to another, and sees a cow brought by the man, he understands that the direction meant the bringing of a body with a dewlap etc. He then has no distinct idea of the meaning of the two words गाम् and जानय. Afterwards he hears two sentences 'tie the cow' and 'bring the horse' and sees the cow fastened and the horse brought. He finds that in the former of these sentences, a portion, namely गाम् (is common to the sentence गामानय), but another portion (आनय) is omitted and something else inserted (बवान). As in the case of both the sentences (गामानय and गामानय) the same body was dealt with, he naturally associates the portion गाम् with the body (cow). Thus he ascertains that the word गो has a convention in respect of cow. The ascertainment of the convention leads him to understand that the primary meaning of the word गो is cow. Compare T. D. शक्तिग्रहश्च वृद्धव्यवहारेण। व्युत्पत्तिर्बालो गामानयेत्युत्तमवृद्धवाक्यश्रवणानन्तरं मध्यमवृद्धस्य प्रवृत्तिमुपलभ्य गवानयतं दृष्ट्वा मध्यमवृद्धप्रवृत्तिजनकज्ञानस्यान्वयव्यतिरेकाभ्यां वाक्यजन्यत्वं निश्चित्याश्चानय गा वधानेतिवाक्यान्तरं आवापोद्वापाभ्यां गोपदस्य गोत्वविशिष्टे शक्तिरश्वपदस्याश्वत्वविशिष्टे शक्तिरिति व्युत्पद्यते। p. 50. In this case the सङ्केत is ascertained by the usage of elders (वृद्धव्यवहार). कचिच्च प्रसिद्धपद etc.— supply सङ्केतमवधारयति. वृद्धव्यवहार is not the only way of ascertaining the meaning of a word, for sometimes the meaning of a word may be gathered from the utterance of well-known words along with it, as in the example इह प्रभिन्नकमलोदरे etc.—‘In the bosom of the expanded lotus, the honey-maker drinks honey’ A person knowing that bees drink the honey in the lotus understands that the word मधुकर means a bee:— कमलाम्बन्तरे अमर एव पिवतीति जानता जनेन कमलपदसमभिव्याहारान्मधुकरपदस्य अमरे सङ्केतो गृह्यते। राम०. कचिदातोपदेशात्—sometimes the conventional meaning is understood from the instruction of one worthy of confidence, as in the example ‘This (pointing at the animal) is what is denoted by the word horse.’ An आप्त is defined by T. B. as आप्तस्तु यथाभूतस्यार्थस्योपदेशा पुरुषः, by T. S. as आप्तस्तु यथावैयक्त्यः। The following couplet mentions eight ways in which सङ्केत is learnt. शक्तिग्रह व्याकरणोपमानकोशाप्तवाक्याद्व्यवहारतश्च। वाक्यस्य शेषाद् विवृतेर्वग्नि सानिध्यतः सिद्धपदस्य वृद्धाः॥ quoted in P. L. M p. 145. Of these, the text illustrates three व्यवहार, आप्तवाक्य and सिद्धपद-सानिध्य; 4 व्याकरण—we learn from Grammar the meanings of roots, terminations, derivatives etc; 5 उपमान as when the meaning of गवय is known by the similarity of a Gayal with the cow; 6 कोश as when we know from a dictionary the synonyms अजर, अमर, देव etc.; 7 वाक्यशेष (the rest of the passage i. e.) context, as in the Vedic text अक्ताः शर्करा उपदधाति, the exact meaning of अक्ताः) is understood from the context तेजो वै द्युतम् (‘सन्दिग्धेषु वाक्यशेषात्’) पृ. मी. सू. I. 4. 29); 8 explanation (विवृति), as in रसालः आम्रः. Compare also अलं. श्ले. p. 9 “सा (शक्तिः) च ‘कोशव्याकरणाप्तोक्तिवाक्यशेषोपमादितः। प्रसिद्धपदसम्बन्धाद् व्यवहाराच्च बुध्यते।” शक्यन्तरानन्तरिता— कक्षा शक्तिः शक्यन्तरं तेन न अन्तरिता (व्यवहिता)—without the intervention of any other power of the word. That power of a word which conveys to the understanding the conventional meaning without the intervention of any other power of the word in called in the text अभिधा.

(P. 8, ll. 11-17). सङ्केतो गृह्यते जातौ.....आनन्यव्यभिचारदोषा- पातात् सङ्केतो गृह्यते जातौ गुणद्रव्यक्रियासु च 'A convention (whereby the expressed meaning of a word is settled) is accepted in regard to universals, qualities, things and actions.' Having defined अभिधा as that power which conveys the conventional meaning, the author now deals with the question—where is the convention understood? In other words the question is, what does a word like घट primarily signify? Do we understand the सङ्केत with reference to the object jar, or the common property (घटत्व jariness) or both together? This is a very important question, as round it have raged the fiercest controversies.
On this point there are five important theories—I केवलव्यक्ति- वादिनः, II जानिविशिष्टव्यक्तिवादिनः, III अपोहवादिनः, IV केवलजातिवादिनः, V जाल्यादिवादिनः.

I. When one says 'bring a jar' one desires the object (व्यक्ति) घट, as it is the object that is useful for one's purpose and not the property jariness. Therefore by the word 'jar' the object 'jar' must necessarily be implied somehow or other; for otherwise the hearer can never fetch the object. Modern Naiyāyikas rely simply upon this fact and say that the word घट primarily denotes the व्यक्ति. Compare कैयट's प्रदीप 'व्यक्तिवादिनस्त्वाहुः । शब्दस्य व्यक्तिरेव वाच्या । जातेस्तूपलक्षणभावेन आश्रयणादानन्त्यादिदोषानवकाशः ।'
p. 17.

II. But there are many objections against this theory. If the word 'jar' denotes a particular व्यक्ति we should require as many separate words as there are jars in the world and the सङ्केत would have to be learnt separately in each case, as they can have no connection with each other. As a matter of fact there is only one word घट, and when we know its significance as a कम्बुग्रीवादिमद्रस्तु, we apply it to all objects having that shape.
घट therefore denotes not only the घटव्यक्ति but also the property कम्बुग्रीवादिमत्त्व, and that it is similar to all jars in the world i. e.
when we say घट, we refer to the व्यक्ति घट, the जाति घटत्व and the peculiarity or आकृति कम्बुग्रीवादिमत्त्व. गौतम puts this as 'व्यक्याकृति- जातयस्तु पदार्थः' । N. S. II. 2. 68. This is the view of the ancient
(p. 15.) on the words अपोहो वा शब्दार्थः कैश्चिदुक्तः 'जातिव्यक्तितद्योगजाति-

मदबुद्ध्याकाराणां शब्दार्थस्यानुपपद्यमानत्वाद्वयादिशब्दानामगोव्यावृत्त्यादिरूपोऽगोहः शब्दार्थ इति बौद्धाः'; T. D. गामानयेत्यादौ वृद्धव्यवहारात्सर्वत्रानयनादेर्व्यक्तावेव सम्भवेन जातिविशिष्टव्यक्तावेव शक्तिकल्पनात् ।

III. The Bauddhas say that the import of all words is अगोह or अनद्व्यावृत्ति, distinction from all other different objects. As individuals are innumerable we cannot understand the सङ्केत with reference to them. As all things are क्षणिक, a जाति (which is defined as नित्यमेकननेकानुगतं सामान्यम्) is impossible. Therefore what the word वृट really signifies is that a certain thing possesses peculiarities which distinguish it from all other things. We do not exactly know what वृट is; we know what it is not; we know that is not वृट or anything else. 'सौगतास्तु व्यक्तावानन्त्यादिदोषाद्भावस्य च देशकालानुगताभावात्तदनुगतायामनद्व्यावृत्तौ सङ्केतः' प्रदीप.

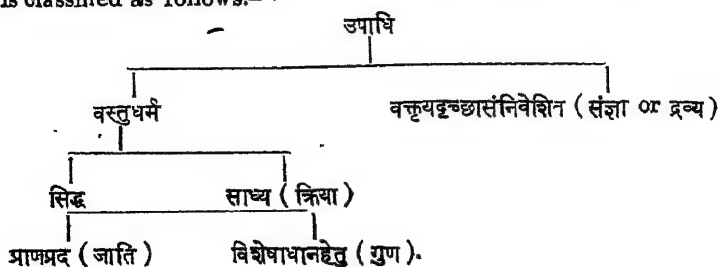

IV Words, according to the Mīmāṃsakas, signify the जाति alone primarily. As the व्यक्ति are many it is not possible to understand the सङ्केत with reference to them all; it may be said that 'जाति cannot be the import of a word, because, when we say घटमानय, we wish the व्यक्ति घट to be brought to us; if a word signified जाति only, the above sentence would mean घटत्वमानय. The मीमांसक replies by saying that, as व्यक्ति is inseparably connected with जाति, we understand from each word by आक्षेप (implication or inference) the व्यक्ति, although the primary significance of a word is जाति. The मीमांसक go so far as to say that even in proper names like इत्य there is जाति. For a summary of their views, vide K. P. 2nd UI. pp. 35-38 (Vā); T.S. says 'गवादिशब्दानां जातावेव शक्तिविशेषणतया जातेः प्रथममुपस्थितत्वाद्व्यक्ति-लाभस्तु आक्षेपादिनेति केचित्' 1; 'आकृतिस्तु क्रियार्थत्वात्' 1 पूर्वमीमांसक I. 3.33 'आकृतिरेव शब्दार्थ इति सिद्धम्' तत्रवार्तिक p. 379; see शास्त्रदीपिका on the आकृतिशक्त्यधिकरण. 'प्रथमं च सामान्यमेव शब्दाद्व्यत्यते पश्चाच्च व्यक्तिष्वाकांक्षामात्रं जायते ततस्तदेवाभिधेयं न व्यक्तिविशेषः । शा. दी.; कैयट says (vol. I p. 17 निर्णय० ed.) 'जातिरेव शब्देन प्रतिपाद्यते व्यक्तीनामानन्त्यात्सम्बन्धग्रहणारम्भवात् । सा च जातिः सर्वव्यक्तिष्वेकाकारप्रत्ययदर्शनादस्तीत्यवसीयते । तत्र गवादयः शब्दा भिन्नद्रव्यसमवेतां जातिमभिधधति । तस्यां प्रतीतायां तदावेशात् तदवच्छिन्नं द्रव्यं प्रतीयते ।.....संज्ञाशब्दानामप्युत्पत्तिप्रभृत्याविनाशात्पिण्डस्य कौमार-यौवनाश्वस्थामेदेऽपि स एवायमित्यभिन्नप्रत्ययनिमित्ता इत्थत्वादिका जातिर्वाच्या । क्रियाशब्देष्वपि जातिर्विद्यते सैव धातुवाच्या ।'

V. The Grammarians hold that the import of words is either ज्ञाति, गुण, क्रिया or द्रव्य i. e. there are four groups of words, जातिशब्द, गुणशब्द, क्रियाशब्द or द्रव्यशब्द (यदृच्छाशब्द or संज्ञाशब्द). Their view is based upon the words of the Mahābhāṣya चतुष्टयी शब्दानां प्रवृत्तिः* (vide महामाष्य on the वार्तिक 'लकारोपदेशो यदृच्छा-अशक्तिजानुकरणञ्च-

Our author does the same. Vide K. P. In the महाभाष्य (vol. I p. 1) we read यत्तर्हि तद्विभ्रेष्वभिन्नं छिन्नष्वच्छिन्नं सामान्यभूतं स शब्दः । नेत्याह । आकृतिर्नाम सा, on which नागेश says: आकृतिर्जातिः संस्थानं च.

An Upādhi is of two sorts, वस्तुधर्म (attribute inhering in a thing) and वस्तुदृच्छया संनिवेशित (an attribute which is imposed upon a thing by the will of the speaker, such as a proper name). वस्तुधर्म is also of two kinds, an attribute that is fully accomplished and that which is in process of accomplishment. A सिद्धवस्तुधर्म again is of two kinds, प्राणप्रद that which gives life to a thing and विशेषाधानहेतु. The former is called जाति and the latter is called गुण. What is the distinction between जाति and गुण? जाति is never found dissociated from the individuals in which it resides, while a quality like शुक्ल serves to distinguish a thing from other things belonging to the same जाति. गुण may be dissociated from the thing in which it resides. The शुक्लत्व of a piece of cloth may give place to blackness; but the जाति गोत्व will always be associated with गो. साध्य वस्तुधर्म (an attribute of a thing in process of accomplishment) is a क्रिया. When I say शुद्धः पटः, the whiteness of the piece of cloth is an accomplished fact. But when I say तरुच्छिद्यते I advert not to one single accomplished act, but to a series of different movements, some completed and some in process of completion, all of which occupy successive portions of time; e. g. the action of cutting consists of the raising up of the axe, its coming down, its coming in contact with the wood and so on. This is well expressed by the वाक्यपदीय 'गुणभूतैरवयवैः समूहः क्रमजन्मनाम् । बुद्ध्या प्रकल्पितामेदः क्रियेति व्यपदिश्यते ॥'. P. L. M. explains this as 'क्रमजन्मनां व्यापाराणां समूहं प्रति गुणभूतैरवयवैर्युक्तः सङ्कलनात्मयैकत्वबुद्ध्या प्रकल्पितामेदरूपः समूहः क्रियेति व्यवहियते इति' p. 16. व्यावर्त्यन्ति—Differentiate. द्रव्यशब्दाः names of things i. e. proper names. क्रिया साध्यरूपा वस्तुधर्माः—This has been explained above. एषु=साध्यरूपवस्तुधर्मेषु. अधिश्रयणावश्रयण etc. (p. 8. l. 15.) "what is denoted by such a word as 'cooking' is the collection of proceedings, from first to last, such as the putting on (the pot with the rice to boil) and ultimately taking it off (the fire) again." अधिश्रयणं—जुह्यां स्थाल्या आरोपणम्; अवश्रयणं—स्थाल्या अवरोपणम्. पूर्वापरीभूतः occupying successive periods of time from first to last. अधिश्रयणं च अवश्रयणं च अधिश्रयणावश्रयणे, आदिश्च अन्तश्च अन्तादी (according to 'राजदन्तादिषु परम्' । पा० II. 2. 31), अधिश्रयणावश्रयणे अन्तादी यस्य सः अधिश्रयणावश्रयणान्तादिः स चासौ पूर्वापरीभूतश्च व्यापारकलापः. एष्वेव हि व्यक्तेरुपाधिषु सङ्कोतो गृह्यते न व्यक्तौ (p. 8, 11. 16-17). This has been explained above when dealing with जाल्यादिवादिनः. मानन्त्वव्यभिचारदोषापातात्—If it were supposed that the convention is made in respect of individuals (and not in respect of the four उपाधिस—attributes), then will follow the faults of endlessness and violation. To explain—If it be not admitted that a word imports जाति, गुण, etc., we ask what does it import? You reply—it imports व्यक्ति. We ask a further question—Is the convention made in respect of all individuals (say, cows in the case of गो) or in respect of some one only? If you admit the first alternative, you are liable to the fault of अनन्त्य; i. e. if you say that the convention of a word like गो is made on all the individuals of the species, then, since the individuals are numberless, it would be impossible to understand the conventional meaning of the word. If, on the other hand, you admit the second alternative, you will be liable to the fault of व्यभिचार-violation (of the rule of invariable association between cause and effect). To explain—The rule is that a word expresses that alone in respect of which a convention is understood. Suppose that a child, on seeing a red bull, is told that it is गौः. Now, according to the केवलव्यक्तिवादिन्, the child understands the सङ्केत of the word गौः with reference to that individual red bull. Suppose, a short time afterwards, the child sees a black bull. The child will call the animal गौः. But the सङ्केत of the word गौः was understood with reference to a red bull. The black bull was सङ्केताविषय and yet the child applied the word गौः to it. A घट is also equally सङ्केताविषय, as the black bull was when the child understood the सङ्केत in respect of the red bull. Therefore, as the black bull and घट are both सङ्केताविषय, it follows that the child should apply the word गौः to घट, just as it applied the word गौः to a black bull which was सङ्केताविषय. But this is quite absurd. Besides, the child understood the सङ्केत with reference to the red bull only, and, if it applies the word to the black bull also in respect of which सङ्केत was not made, then the rule सङ्केतितस्यैव शाब्दबोधः is violated. Read the K. P. Pr. pp. 32-33, 'किं हि व्यक्तिषु सर्वांस्तु शक्तिग्रहो व्यवहाराङ्गम् (गोपदजन्य-शाब्दबोधाङ्गम् । प्रमा), उत यस्यां कस्यांचित् । नाद्यः । अनन्त्यात् (गवादिव्यक्ती-नामनन्तत्वेनोपस्थापकाभावात् । प्रमा; तथा च शक्तिग्रहासम्भवः । उद्बोधत) । नान्त्यः । व्यभिचारप्रसङ्गात् (सङ्केतितस्यैव शाब्दबोध इति नियमाभावप्रसङ्गादित्यर्थः) यतोऽगृहीतसङ्केतगोपिण्ड इव घटादेरपि गोपदात्प्रतीतिः प्रसक्ता । अगृहीतसङ्केतत्वस्य तुल्यत्वात् । किं च । न यत्र सङ्केतग्रहस्तस्यापि प्रतीतिरिति व्यभिचारान्न व्यक्तौ सङ्केतः (सङ्केताविषयगोपिण्डस्यापि प्रतीतेर्व्यभिचार इत्यर्थः । प्रमा) ।

अथ लक्षणा—मुख्यार्थबाधे etc. (P. 8, l. 18 ff). Having dealt with the first power of a word, viz. अभिधा, the author now begins the treatment of the second, viz. लक्षणा. यया अन्योऽर्थः प्रतीयते असौ लक्षणा शक्तिः—this is the definition. मुख्यार्थबाधे, तद्युक्तो, रूढे:

प्रयोजनाद्वा—these expressions refer to the three conditions (मुख्यार्थबाध, मुख्यार्थसम्बन्ध, रूढिप्रयोजनान्यतरत्वं) under which alone लक्षणा is possible and in the absence of any one of which लक्षणा would be impossible. The word अर्पिता is descriptive. It brings out the point which distinguishes लक्षणा from अमिधा. 'Where the primary meaning of a word is incompatible (with the rest of the sentence) this power of Indication is communicated (to the word), whereby another meaning (than the expressed one), connected therewith, becomes apprehended, either through usage or through some motive'. तद्युक्तो—मुख्यार्थसम्बद्धः अन्यः=मुख्यार्थान्दन्तः. रूढिः=प्रसिद्धिः. प्रयोजनात्—प्रयोजनामिसन्धेरित्यर्थः। प्रयोजनामिसन्धिपूर्वकं लाक्षणिकशब्दप्रयोगे वक्तुः प्रवृत्तिर्भवतीति तस्य लक्षणाप्रयोजकत्वं बोध्यम्। उद्घोषः. 'कलिङ्गः साहसिकः' etc. (p. 8, 121). माहसिक means 'rash'. The word कलिङ्ग primarily signifies a country (Orissa of the present day). But as rashness is a quality found in sentient beings only, the primary meaning of कलिङ्ग is here inappropriate. Thus there is मुख्यार्थबाध. Hence the word कलिङ्ग causes us to think of the men residing in the country, which meaning is connected with the primary meaning a 'country'. Thus there is तद्योग (मुख्यार्थसम्बन्ध). स्वसंयुक्तान्—स्वार्थसम्बद्धान्. To take another example. गङ्गायां घोषः a herd-station on the Ganges. The word Ganges primarily signifies a stream of water; but in the present example, this meaning is inappropriate, as a herd-station cannot be built over a mass of water. Thus there is मुख्यार्थबाध. This impossibility leads us to think of the bank, which is connected with itself (i. e. the Ganges) by the relation of proximity etc. Thus there is तद्योग. This power of a word by which we understand 'men' from the word कलिङ्ग and 'bank' from the word Ganges, and which is अर्पित, is called लक्षणा. अर्पिता is explained as स्वाभाविकेतरा (स्वाभाविकात् इतरा) or ईश्वरानुद्भाविता (ईश्वरेण अनुद्भाविता अनुत्थापिता). These two explanations of अर्पित refer two views about अमिधा, the primary power. Some say that अमिधा is that power of a word which is natural. According to their opinion, लक्षणा is a power other than the power which belongs to a word naturally. Others say अमिधा is the power which is given to a word by God i. e. God willed that a particular word should mean a particular thing. This is called सङ्केत which is identified by the नैयायिक with अमिधा. Now, according to this view, the लाक्षणिक meaning of a word is not given to it by God, but by the human will. Hence लक्षणा is a power not communicated to a word by God, unlike अमिधा.

केचिपु कर्मणि कुशलः...शयनकालेऽपि प्रयोगात्. (P. 9, ll. 1-7) It is Mammata who gives कर्मणि कुशलः as an example of Indication arising from Usage. The words of मम्मट are 'कर्मणि कुशल इत्यादौ दर्भग्रहणाद्ययोगात्...मुख्यार्थस्य बाधे...विवेचकत्वादौ सम्बन्धे रुढितः (प्रसिद्धे)...मुख्येन अमुख्योऽर्थो लक्ष्यते...यत्सा लक्षणा ।'. कुशल कुशौद्धातीति—One who takes कुश (sacrificial grass) What Mammata means is:—The primary meaning of the word कुशल, viz. 'gatherer of कुश grass' being incompatible with the matter in question, viz. 'business, we think of the sense of 'expert' which is connected with the primary sense, 'gatherer of grass,' through the relation of a similarity of character in respect of being a discriminating person (which the gatherer of कुश grass must be, else he could not tell one kind of grass from another). The लक्षणा is here based upon रूढि, usage i. e. it is a general practice to use the word कुशल in the sense of 'expert.' The three conditions of लक्षणा are here satisfied, viz. मुख्यार्थबाध, तद्योग and रूढिप्रयोजनान्तरत्व; and a meaning other than the primary one is indicated. तदन्ये न मन्यन्ते (P. 9. 3). Others do not like this view of the matter (including विश्वनाथ himself). Their idea is as follows:—The primary meaning of the word कुशल is 'expert' itself, although the sense of 'gatherer of कुश grass' might be gathered from the etymology. The etymological meaning is not necessarily the primary meaning. It is the grammarians who find out the etymology of every word that is not a radical and often times they derive a word in a far-fetched way to suit their own theories or convenience. The principle that regulates the employment of a word in a particular sense is not the etymology, fanciful or otherwise, that the Grammarians may suggest, but is the fact that the word is assigned a particular meaning by convention. अन्यद्दि शब्दानां व्युत्पत्तिनिमित्तं etc. The reason for the etymology of words is one thing, viz. the theories and convenience of Grammarians; and the reason for the employment of a word is quite another, viz. the long-standing practice of using the word in a particular sense. व्युत्पत्तिलभ्यस्य मुख्यार्थत्वे—If it were said that the primary meaning of a word is what is gathered from its etymology, then in the sentence 'the cow is lying' there would be Indication; because, as the word गौ is formed from the root गम् 'to go' by the addition of the affix डे (ओ) according to the Upādi-sūtra (235 गमेडोः), it means 'what is moving' and it cannot be primarily applied to the cow when it is lying down; there would be incompatibility in saying 'what is moving is sleeping'. The मुख्यार्थे will be बाधित and we shall have to resort to लक्षणा. But no one holds this absurd view as regards गौ; similarly then we must look upon कुशल. कर्मणि कुशलः must therefore be looked upon not as an example of लक्षणा, but rather of अभिधा. Compare the सर्वदर्शनसंग्रह p. 161 'न च व्युत्पत्तिविकादेव सर्वत्र शब्दः प्रवर्तते तथात्वे गच्छतीति गौरिति व्युत्पत्तेस्तिष्ठन्नौर्न स्मात् गच्छतो देवदत्तस्य स्मात्'; also कान्यानुशासन of हेमचन्द्र "कुशल-द्विरेक-द्विकादयस्तु साक्षात्स्मृतिविषयत्वान्मुख्या एवेति न रूढिर्लक्ष्यस्यार्थस्य हेतुत्वेनास्माभिरुक्ता ।" p. 25.

crow, but all the other दध्युपधानक creatures. Compare वाक्यपदीय II. 314 'काकेभ्यो रक्ष्यतां सर्पिरिति बालोपि चोदितः । उपधानपरे वाक्ये न श्वादिभ्यो न रक्षन्ति ॥'. In जहदजहलक्षणा a part of the primary meaning is retained and a part is left out as in सोऽयं देवदत्तः; the word दः means तत्कालीनो देवदत्तः; while अयम् signifies एतत्कालीनो देवदत्तः; and so to establish the identity of the two we leave out the qualification तत्कालीन and एतत्कालीन. See T. D. p. 5 'यत्र वाच्यार्थस्यान्यभावास्तत्र जहती यथा मन्त्राः क्रोशन्तीति । यत्र वाच्यार्थस्याप्यन्यस्तत्राजहती यथा छत्रिणो गच्छन्तीति । यत्र वाच्यैकदेशत्यागेनैकदेशान्वयस्तत्र जहदजहती यथा तत्त्वमसीति ।'. See V. Sāra. pp. 43-47; but see V. P. pp. 283-285 against the view of V. Sāra; मल्लिनाथ in his commentary on एकावलि gives the following संग्रहश्लोक 'स्वार्थत्यागे सन्नासेऽपि मह तेनान्यलक्षणा । यत्रेयमजहत्स्वार्था जहत्स्वार्था तु तं विना ॥ स्वार्थैकांश-त्यागादंशान्तरमेव लक्ष्यते यत्र । मा जहदजहत्स्वार्था तत्त्वमसीत्यादिविषयदृश्येयम् ॥' p. 68.

अर्पणम् स्वस्य ... जहत्स्वार्थेत्युच्यते । (P. 9, 11. 17-27). Construe (यथा वृत्त्या) वाक्यार्थे परम्यान्यसिद्धये स्वस्य अर्पणं स्यादेश उपलक्षणहेतुत्वात् लक्षणलक्षणा (उच्यते). स्वस्य अर्पणं=स्वार्थस्य परित्यागः. The abandonment of the primary sense, with a view to establish the logical connection of something with the other things in the sentence, is called लक्षणलक्षणा (Exclusive Indication), since it is the cause of an indication pure and simple and nothing more. The word उपलक्षणहेतुत्वात् shows why this kind of लक्षणा is called लक्षणलक्षणा (उपलक्ष्यते अनेन इति उपलक्षणम्). 'The rash Kalūga' is an example of लक्षणलक्षणा based upon usage. Here, the primary meaning of कलिङ्ग is entirely given up (स्वस्य अर्पणम्) and the meaning 'inhabitant of कलिङ्ग' is indicated, because this latter alone can logically be connected with rashness. The reason why the word is so used is long—continued usage. An example of लक्षणलक्षणा based upon प्रयोजन is 'a hamlet on the Ganges'. Here, the primary meaning of 'गङ्गा' viz. a stream of water, is entirely given up, and the meaning 'bank' is indicated in order that it may be logically connected with the 'hamlet.' The motive why the word is so used has been explained above.

primary meaning of the sentence is 'Oh friend, you have highly obliged me, how shall I express the obligation? You have shown your good nature etc.' But the context in which these words were uttered makes this meaning quite inappropriate. Exactly the opposite meaning is required. Therefore उपकृत etc. mean their opposites by Indication. मम्मट himself remarks in श० व्या० वि० 'अतो वक्तुमहिम्ना मूर्खे बृहस्पतिशब्देन मूर्खत्वमिवापकारि-दुर्जनत्वादि अत्र लक्ष्यते.' This verse is cited by Mammata in the 4th Ul. of K. P. as an example where the expressed sense, being quite improper, is altogether given up 'क्वचिदनुपपद्यमानतया अत्यन्तं तिरस्कृतम् (वाच्यम्)' p. 83 (Vā). अपापकारादीनां वाक्यार्थेऽन्वयसिद्धये—In order to establish the logical connection of injuries etc. (which are what are really meant to be spoken of) with the other things in the sentence. उपकृतादयः शब्दा आत्मानमर्पयन्ति—the words उपकृत etc. give themselves up and stand ironically for injuries. The मुख्यार्थे is वाधित, because in the sentence benefit is ascribed to an injurer. The relation between the primary sense and the indicated sense is that of contrariety, just as we ironically apply the word बृहस्पति to a fool. फलमपकारातिशयः—The result of this mode of expression is that excess of injury is understood. इयमेव—लक्षणलक्षणैव. जहत्स्वार्था—This we have explained above under अजहत्स्वार्था.

आरोपाध्यवसानाभ्यां etc. (P. 9, ll. 28. ff). So far we have spoken of four varieties of लक्षणा, viz. उपादानलक्षणा (based upon रूढि¹ and प्रयोजन²) and लक्षणलक्षणा based upon रूढि³ and प्रयोजन⁴). Now a further basis of division is introduced. आरोप means the expressing in words of an object and of the thing with which it is identified; e. g. the words माणवक and अग्नि. If we say अग्निमाणवकः we identify माणवक with अग्नि and both of them are expressed in words. अध्यवसान—When an object is swallowed up i. e. not expressed in words, by the thing with which it is identified, there is अध्यवसान, e. g. when we say with reference to a boy 'अग्निरयम्', there is अध्यवसान, because the boy is not referred to by name, and he is identified with 'fire.' In this example, माणवक is the विषय (an object upon which another is superimposed) and अग्नि is the विषयिन् (an object which is super-imposed upon another). प्रदीप says 'विषयविषयिभोर्भेदेनोपन्यासस्यात्रारोपपदार्थत्वात्' and 'विषयिणा विषयतिरोभावस्यात्राध्यवसानपदार्थत्वात्'.

is superimposed upon another). अन्यतादात्म्यप्रतीतिद्वय—अन्यतादात्म्यस्य प्रतीतिं करोतीति—which makes one think of the identity with something else (of an object not swallowed by that with which it is identified, but expressed along with it). This is called सारोपा लक्षणा (Superimponent Indication). (विषयिणा) निगीर्णस्य विषयस्य अन्यतादात्म्यप्रतीतिद्वय साध्यवसानिका मता. The Indication is held to be Introsusceptive which makes one think of the identity with something else of an object swallowed i. e. not expressed, but recognised as if it were inside of that with which it is identified. साध्यवसाना अध्यवसानेन सह (वर्तते) इति. An example of उपादानलक्षणा सारोपा based upon रूढि is 'the horse, the white gallops.' हि because. अनिगीर्णस्वरूपः—अनिगीर्णं स्वरूपं यस्य who is not swallowed up i. e. who is expressed by the word अश्व. स्वसमवेतश्चेतुगुणतादात्म्येन प्रतीयते is thought of as identical with the quality i. e. the colour 'white', which is in intimate relation with it (with अश्व). समवेत—समवायसम्बन्धेन सम्बद्ध. The relation of समवाय holds between गुण and गुणिन्. See T. S. or T. B. We understand here that the words 'the horse' and 'the white' mean just one and the same thing. An example of उपादानलक्षणा सारोपा based upon प्रयोजन is 'These—the lances enter.' Here the men carrying lances are denoted by the pronoun एते. They are also referred to by the word कुन्ताः and thus there is here सारोपा लक्षणा. An example of लक्षणलक्षणा सारोपा based upon रूढि is 'The Kalmāga—the man—fights.' Here पुरुष is the विषय and कलिङ्ग is the विषयिन्. Both are expressed, therefore there is सारोपा. आधाराधेयभावः सम्बन्धः—आधार support, location; आधेय thing located. An example of लक्षणलक्षणा सारोपा arising from प्रयोजन is 'Longevity Ghee.' कार्यकारणभावसम्बन्ध्यायुस्तदात्म्येन (p. 10, II. 7-8). कार्यकारणभावसम्बन्धेन सम्बन्धि यदायुः तेन तादात्म्येन. Here ghee, the cause of longevity, is thought of as identical with the longevity related to it through the relation of cause and effect. अन्यवैलक्षण्येन etc.—Following the words of K. P. and Pradīpa [शुद्धमेदयोस्त्वन्यवैलक्षण्येनाव्यभिचारेण च कार्यकारित्वादि (प्रयोजनम्) । K. P.; शुद्धमेदे तु सारोपे अन्यवैलक्षण्येन कार्यकारित्वादेः, साध्यवसाने तु अव्यभिचारेण कार्यकारित्वादेः प्रतीतिः फलम् । Pradīpa], we should read अन्यवैलक्षण्येन आयुष्करत्वं प्रयोजनम्. Here only सारोपा लक्षणलक्षणा based upon प्रयोजन is spoken of. The प्रयोजन in this case, as said by प्रदीप, is अन्यवैलक्षण्येन आयुष्करत्वम्. अव्यभिचारेण आयुष्करत्वं is the प्रयोजन in साध्यवसाना लक्षणा only, which will be referred to later and therefore the word अव्यभिचारेण should not occur here. राम० also remarks 'अन्यवैलक्षण्येनाव्यभिचारेण-

in each case is swallowed up by the विषयिन् e. g. अश्व in the first is not expressed, in the 2nd पुरुषा and so on. The relations (सम्बन्धः) which are at the root of लक्षणा are summarized in different works differently, e. g. शं० व्या० वि० p. 8 'यश्च सम्बन्धो लक्षणाया निमित्तं तं पञ्चविधमाहुः । तथोक्तम् । अभिषेयेन सम्बन्धात्सादृश्यात् समवायनः । वैपरीत्यात्क्रियायोगाल्लक्षणा पञ्चधा मता ॥' The अभिधावृत्तिमात्रका ascribes this verse to आचार्यभर्तृमिश्र (भर्तृहरि author of वाक्यपदीय ?) and quotes it for the same purpose; see कारिका 10; the Nyāyasūtra gives an exhaustive list of the relations on account of which one word is used in a secondary sense for another; सहचरण-स्थान-तादर्थ्य-वृत्त-मान-धारण-सामीप्य-योग-साधन-आधिपत्येभ्यो ब्राह्मण-मन्त्र-कट-राज-सक्त-चन्दन-गङ्गा-शकट-अन्न-पुरुषेष्वतद्भावेऽपि तदुपचारः । N. S. II. 2. 63.; for explanation see वात्स्यायन's भाष्य; see P. L. M. p 7 'तात्स्थ्यात्तथैव तादृश्यात्तत्सामीप्यात्तथैव च । तत्साहचर्यात्तादर्थ्याज्ज्ञेया वै लक्षणा दुषैः ॥'. The examples in order of this last Kārikā are मन्त्रा हसन्ति, गौर्वाहीकः, गङ्गाया वोषः, यष्टीः प्रवेज्य, इन्द्रार्था रथूणा इन्द्र इति. This is based on the words of the महाभाष्य 'चतुर्भिः प्रकारैरतस्मिन् इति भवति तात्स्थ्यात्तादृश्यात् तन्सामीप्यात् तत्साहचर्यादिति' (vol. II p 218). The examples in order are मन्त्रा हसन्ति, यान-नं जटिनं ब्रह्मदत्त इत्याह, गङ्गायां वोषः, कुन्तान्प्रवेशय.

सादृश्येतरसम्बन्धाः etc (P. 10, l. 16 ff). The author introduces a further basis of division. ताः सकलाः—The eight kinds already spoken of, viz. उपादानलक्षणा and लक्षणलक्षणा each of which is first divided into two varieties रूढिमूला and प्रयोजनवती, each of these four being either सारोपा or साध्यवसाना सादृश्येतरसम्बन्धाः—सादृश्यात् इतरः सादृश्येतरः सम्बन्धः यासाम्. All these eight kinds of लक्षणा, when the relation on which they are based is some one other than that of similarity, are called Pure; but when they arise from likeness, they are called Qualitative. Thus the varieties of लक्षणा now amount to 16 गौणी-गुणनिमित्ता वृत्तिगौणी वृत्तिः, or गुणेभ्य आगता गौणी. सादृश्येतरसम्बन्धाः—The relations other than that of सादृश्य are those of कार्यकारणभाव, स्वस्वामिभाव etc. The eight examples of शुद्धा are the eight examples already given above i. e. श्वेतो धावति, अश्वः श्वेतो धावति etc. (p. 10.1.2. ff). An example of उपादानलक्षणा गौणी based upon रूढि is 'These oils are pleasant in the cold weather.' Here the word तैल, taking along with it its primary meaning, which is the only matter expressed from sesamum seeds, is applied to other unctuous liquids also, such as that extracted from mustard seed. Thus this is उपादानल०. The word तैल is by usage applied to all oils (not only to that extracted from तिल). Therefore the लक्षणा is रूढिमूल. It is गौणी, as the oil of mustard etc. is so called because its qualities are similar in certain respects to those of the oil of sesamum. The लक्षणा is सारोपा because the pronoun एतानि is mentioned. An example of उपादानलक्षणा सारोपा arising from प्रयोजन is 'these, the princes, are going,' when this sentence is employed with reference to princes and persons like them that are going. An example of साध्यवसाना गौणी उपादानलक्षणा arising from usage is 'oils are pleasant in the cold weather,' omitting the pronoun एतानि. In the same way, the example under प्रयोजन would be 'the princes go,' omitting the pronoun एते. An example of सारोपा लक्षणलक्षणा गौणी arising from रूढि is 'the king clears away the foe—the chief of Gauda'. This is लक्षणलक्षणा because the word कण्टक 'thorn' entirely gives up its primary meaning, and implies 'a foe' from the likeness of the two. Therefore it is गौणी. The word कण्टक is by common practice used in the sense of 'foe.' Therefore it is रूढिमूल. As (the विषय) गौडेन्द्र (on whom कण्टकत्व is superimposed) is mentioned, it is सारोपा. If we omit the word गौडेन्द्र it will be an example of साध्यवसाना, as done below. An example of सारोपा गौणी लक्षणलक्षणा arising from a motive is 'Vāhika is a bull.' If we omit वाहीक (the आरोपविषय) as in 'the bull prattles,' there is साध्यवसाना. वाहीक is derived in two or three ways. वाहीको नाम देशविशेषः तत्रत्यः पुरुषः वाहीकः an inhabitant of Vāhika (Punjab). नागेशभट्ट on कैयट under एङ् प्राचां देशे (पा. I. 1. 75) says वाहीकलक्षणं च 'पञ्चानां सिन्धुषष्ठानां नदीनां येऽन्तराश्रिताः । तान्धर्मबाह्यान्शुचीन् वाहीकान् परिवर्जयेत् ॥' कर्णपर्व 44. 7 and then adds एवं च धर्मबहिर्भूतत्वाद्वाहीकत्वम्. Another way is बहिर्भवो वाहीकः बवयोरमेदाद् वाहीकः इति शास्त्रीयाचाराद्बहिर्भूत इत्यर्थः. Pāṇini appears to favour the idea that वाहीक is the name of a country, see his sūtra वाहीकग्रामेभ्यश्च IV. 2. 117. A Vārtika on पा० IV. 1. 85 says 'बहिषष्टिलोपो यच्च' (बाह्यः). Another says "ईकक्च" (वाहीकः)

individual वाहीक. What is indicated is the qualities जाड्य and मान्द्य belonging to वाहीक. The individual वाहीक is not indicated by the word गो, because he is apprehended from the word वाहीक itself. The view, although not entirely unobjectionable, is a great improvement on the first. The differences between the two are:—I. According to the first view वाहीक is denoted by the word गो; according to the second, the individual वाहीक is neither denoted by the word गो nor indicated by it. II. According to the first view, dullness and stupidity co-existing in a bull are indicated by the word गो; according to the 2nd view, what is indicated is the qualities dullness etc. belonging to वाहीक (and not to गो) which are similar to and hence looked upon as identical with those of गो. The only point in which the two theories coincide is that both of them regard that the word गो indicates qualities and not the individual वाहीक. तदपि अन्ये (p. 11, l. 6). This second view also is not approved of by others (including विश्वनाथ), तथाहि to explain. अत्र गोशब्दात् etc. (p. 11, l. 7). In the example under discussion 'Vāhika is a bull', is the sense of the individual वाहीक understood from the word 'bull' or not? If you accept the former of these alternatives, then, we ask a further question, is the sense (of the individual Vāhika) understood just from the word 'bull' by the power of denotation, or secondly, is it understood from the quality (sluggishness &c.) indicated by the word 'bull' on account of the fact that qualities are inseparably associated with the things in which they reside. तत्र न प्रथमः—The first of this second and subordinate pair of alternatives is improper; because the convention of the word 'bull' was not made in respect of the individual वाहीक (and therefore the individual Vāhika cannot be denoted by the word गो). अयं=गोशब्दस्य. Nor is the 2nd of the subordinate pair of alternatives proper. The idea of this 2nd view is:—The word गो indicates the qualities जाड्य and मान्द्य residing in वाहीक, because they are similar to and hence identical with those of गो. The individual वाहीक is understood from the word गो not by Denotation (अभिधा) nor by Indication (लक्षणा) but by the process of reasoning which enables us to think of the individual Vāhika, because the indicated qualities जाड्य and मान्द्य must have a substratum to reside in. This is improper. अविनाभावलभ्यस्य etc. (p. 11, ll. 9-10)—Because, the word गो is here placed in apposition to the word

वाहीक and as such does not allow the sense implied by invariable association (between a quality and the substratum in which it resides) to determine this concordance of words शाब्दी ह्यकाक्षा — Because the expectancy raised by a word is fulfilled only by a word and not by a sense which is implied by the contemplation of inseparable association and which if expressed would appear not in apposition but in a different relation e. g. 'a man of bovine stupidity.' What we understand from गौर्वाहीकः is गोगतजाव्यसजातीयजाव्यवान्वाहीकः according to the 2nd view. न द्वितीयः—Nor is the 2nd alternative of the first pair possible (the 2nd alternative is that the individual वाहीक is not understood from the word गो). यदि हि गोशब्दात् etc. p. 11, ll. 10-12). If the individual Vāhika were not understood from the word गो, then the agreement in case of this word (i. e. गो) and of the word वाहीक, which the example exhibits, would be improper, it being only words signifying the same thing that agree in case. The word गो indicates qualities according to this theory and not the individual and Vāhika denotes an individual. The same objection is raised by प्रदीप against this view 'गौर्वाहीक इति मामानाधिकरण्यानुपपत्तेः'; on this the प्रमा remarks 'एकधर्मिवोधकत्वाभावादिति भावः'.

तस्मादत्र etc. (P. 11, l. 33. ff). This is the view of विश्वनाथ himself. Mammata also appears to agree. गोशब्दो मुख्यया वृत्त्या etc. The word bull having no logical connection in its primary signification with Vāhika, indicates the individual Vāhika through the relation of community of properties (between the bull and the man) such as ignorance etc. The expression गौर्वाहीकः conveys the identity of the two things denoted by the two words. But if we take only the primary meaning of गो and of वाहीक that identity cannot be established. Therefore we have to take the word गो in a secondary sense, in order that its meaning may be logically connected with Vāhika. वाहीकस्या-

* This is a न्याय often quoted: see रुचिदत्त's comment on उदयन's कुसुमाञ्जलि p. 478 (B. I. edition) 'यत्रापि पदस्य पदार्थोपस्थितिस्तत्रापि पदार्था एवान्वयबोधकाः, न तु पदान्यपि । पदार्थस्मृत्यैव अन्यथा सिद्धत्वात् । कथमन्यथा श्वेतरूपदर्शनाद्वैषाशब्दश्रवणात्...शब्दं विना श्वेतोऽश्वो धावतीति धीः । न चैवं पञ्चवीथ्युक्ते प्रत्यक्षोपस्थितकलायेनान्वयबोधापत्तिः शब्दोपस्थिते पदार्थे शब्दोपस्थापित-पदार्थान्तरेणैव अन्यथात् । शाब्दी ह्यकाक्षा शब्देनैव प्रपूर्यते इति न्यायात् । अत एव श्रुतार्थापत्तिस्थलेऽपि शब्द एव कल्प्यते इत्यर्थः ।'

उपचारः' p. 70. These quotations recognize the first meaning of उपचार given above. The अभिधावृत्तिमातृका says 'उपचारमिश्रा तु यत्र वस्त्वन्तरे वस्त्वन्तरमुपचर्यते यथा गौर्वाहीक इति । अत्र हि गोशब्दो वाहीकशब्देनानुपपद्यमानसामानाधिकरण्याद् बाधितमुख्यार्थः सन् गोगता ये जाड्यमान्धादयो गुणास्तत्सदृशवाहीकगतजाड्यमान्धादिगुणलक्षणाद्वारेण गोगतजाड्यमान्धादिगुणसदृशजाड्यमान्धादिगुणोपेते वाहीके उपचरितः।' on कारिका 2. Here the writer seems to favour the 2nd meaning of उपचार given above. But further on (कारिका 4-5) he speaks of शुद्ध उपचार and गौण उपचार and gives आयुर्धृतम् as an example of शुद्ध उपचार and गौर्वाहीकः as an example of गौण उपचार. On अग्निर्माणवकः the तन्त्रवार्तिक remarks 'वह्निवलक्षितादर्थाद्यत् पैङ्गल्यादि गम्यते । तेन माणवके बुद्धिः सादृश्यादुपजायते" ॥ p. 345 (Anan ed.). शुक्लपटयोस्तु etc. (p. 11, ll. 17-18). But in 'white' and 'cloth' there is no apprehension of any very great difference between the two. That which is really 'cloth' is also that which is 'white' and is not simply metaphorically called 'white'; but the 'boy' is not really 'fire', he is quite distinct from it, only he is like fire and hence he is metaphorically called 'fire'. तस्मादेवमादिषु—Hence in such cases as शुद्धः पटः.

व्यंग्यस्य गूढागूढत्वात्.....स्फुटं प्रतीयते (P. 11, ll. 19-26). व्यंग्यस्य... फललक्षणाः. Indications arising from a purpose are two-fold on account of the abstruseness or obviousness of the suggested sense. Here फल is used in the same sense as प्रयोजन. The eight varieties of लक्षणा arising from a motive are further divided on the ground that the प्रयोजन which is व्यंग्य (suggested) is either abstruse or obvious. गूढः—काव्यार्थभावनापरिपक्वबुद्धिर्भवमात्रवेद्यः— which is to be understood only by the force of an intellect matured by the study (or contemplation) 'of the sense of Poetry. Compare the definition of गूढ given by प्रदीप 'काव्यभावनापरिपक्वबुद्धिः सहृदयः । तन्मात्रवेद्यं गूढम्'. An example where the प्रयोजन is गूढ is the verse 'उपकृतं बहु' etc. which occurs above. अगूढः etc. The obvious is that which, on account of its extreme clearness, is to be understood by all; as in the following 'It is the intoxication of youth that teaches women blandishments.' 'सुकुमारतयाज्ञानां विन्यासो ललितं भवेत्.' ललित is a posture of the limbs of the body so as to convey an idea of the delicacy of it. The first half of the verse is 'श्रीपरिचयाज्जडा अपि भवन्त्यभिज्ञा विदग्धचरितानाम् ।'. Instruction, which consists in the employment of words favourable to the conveying of knowledge, is possible only in sentient beings and therefore the word उपदिशति is inapplicable to ~~शरीरजन्तु~~ ^{शरीरजन्तु}, which is अचेतन, in its primary sense. Therefore the word उपदिशति indicates 'manifests.' उपदेशकत्व is the attribute of a guru; यौवनमद् is not a sentient being like a guru and so it cannot be an उपदेशक in the literal sense. आविष्कारानिश्चयश्च—and the idea of thorough manifestation is apprehended as clearly as if it 'had been stated expressly (and not indicated by the word उपदिशति). The व्यंग्य sense, the fact that young women learn blandishments easily, all (whether सहृदय or not) can understand. सम्मट (K. P. II.) remarks on this verse: अत्रोपदिशतीति । अनायासेन शिक्षणमभिधेयवत्स्फुटं प्रतीयते । on which प्रदीप says 'उपदिशतिपदेन अनायासेन शिक्षादानमभिव्यज्यते । तच्च सहृदयासहृदययोरप्यभिधेयवत्प्रकाशते ।'.

with patience, which heighten the joy of lovers when united). अत्रात्यन्तदुःखसहिष्णु etc. Here Rāma is indicated by the expression रामोऽसि (which taken literally is insignificant) as a person extremely patient under afflictions and this indicated Rāma is the धर्मी (possessor of the quality of patience, which is suggested by the employment of the word Rāma). तस्यैव = दुःखसहिष्णो रामस्य एव. The fruit i. e. the excess of patience belongs to him i. e. राम who is indicated. The ध्वन्यालोक remarks upon this 'अत्र रामशब्दः। अनेन हि व्यंग्यधर्मान्तररूपपरिणतः संजी प्रत्याच्यते, न संज्ञामात्रम्.' The idea is —The word राम is a proper name and denotes simply an individual, the son of दशरथ here. There is no very great propriety in saying रामोऽसि, if we look merely at the primary meaning. But if we take the indicated meaning 'who has been the pet of all misfortunes and sorrows' the word राम is then very appropriate. The suggested meaning is 'As I did not break down even when buffeted by so many misfortunes, I shall surely live on, though I receive the crowning stroke of misfortune, viz. the death of Sītā' Here, then, the suggested sense, viz. the excess of patience, pertains to the patient Rāma who is indicated by the word राम in रामोऽसि गङ्गायां घोषः कृन् (p 12, l. 9)—In 'a herd-station on the Ganges', where the bank is indicated, the fruit, i. e. excess, pertains to the properties coolness and purity and not to the bank, the thing indicated.

पदवाक्य अशीतिप्रकारा लक्षणा (P. 12, ll. 13-16). पदवाक्यगतत्वेन—according as the power of Indication resides in a word or sentence. An example of पदगतलक्षणा is गङ्गायां घोषः. Here the word गङ्गा has indicated sense. An example of वाक्यगतलक्षणा is 'उपकृतं बहु.' Here the लक्षणा does not reside in any particular word, but in the whole sentence. Thus then the varieties of लक्षणा amount to 80.

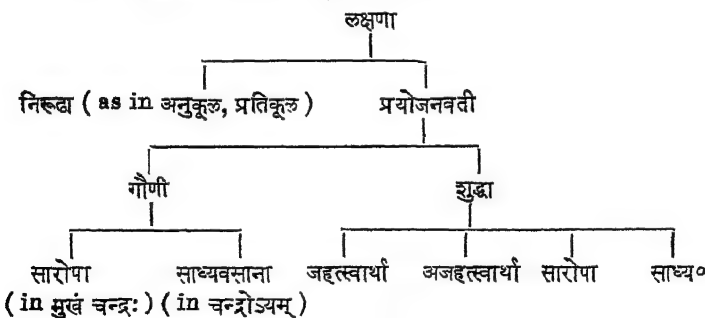

The divisions of लक्षणा are differently given by different writers. Mammata's divisions, according to प्रदीप, are as follows:—

विरतास्वभिधाबासु.....व्यञ्जना नाम (P. 12, ll. 18-23). विरतासु.....
अर्थादिकस्य च—अभिधाबासु विरतासु यया परः अर्थः बोध्यते सा शब्दस्य अर्थादिकस्य च वृत्तिर्व्यञ्जना नाम—When Denotation and other powers cease after discharging their function, that function of a word or its sense etc., by which a further meaning is conveyed, is what is called suggestion. परः—अभिधेयादिव्यतिरिक्तः व्यञ्ज्यत्वेन निरूपयिष्यमाणः.
शब्दबुद्धि.....नयेन—In accordance with the maxim that when a word, a cognition and action cease after a single effort, there is no further exertion on their part. The idea is that a word has a power to express a particular meaning. When the word expresses that meaning, its power of denotation is exhausted, it cannot further denote anything else. Compare “विशेष्य नाभिधा गच्छेत् क्षीगशक्तिविशेषणे” इत्यादिना अभिधाव्यापारस्य विरम्य व्यापारात्सम्भवाभिधानात्” लोचन p. 16. This view is diametrically opposed to that of some followers of कुमारिल who maintain that, as a single arrow, discharged by a strong man, destroys in a single movement, called velocity, the armour of the enemy, pierces his vitals and kills him, so a single word presents to us, by the single power called Denotation, the sense of the word, the syntactical connection of the word in a sentence and the suggested sense. They say that the व्यंग्य sense in such a verse as निःशेषच्युत० is brought out by the अभिधा itself, and not by व्यञ्जना as said by the आलङ्कारिकसः. Their view is vigorously criticised by Mammata in the 5th Ullāsa (pp. 225-226ff, Vā). “ये त्वमिदधति ‘सोऽयमिधोरिव दीर्घदीर्घतरो व्यापारः’ इति ‘यत्परः शब्दः स शब्दार्थः’ इति च विधिरेवात्र (‘निःशेषच्युत’ इत्यादौ नावकान्तिकगमनरूपः) वाच्य” इति K. P. प्रदीप explains the view of these theorists as follows:— यथा बलवता प्रेरित इयुरेकेनैव वेगाद्येन व्यापारेण वर्नच्छेदमुरोमेदं प्राणहरणं च रिपोर्विधत्ते तथैक एव शब्द एकेनैवाभिधास्यव्यापारेण पदार्थसृष्टिं वाक्यार्थानुभवं व्यंग्यप्रतीतिं च विधत्ते । वाक्यार्थानुभवं व्यंग्यत्वाभिमतस्यार्थस्य वाच्यत्वमेव । किं च यत्र शब्दस्य तात्पर्यं स शब्दार्थ इति ‘निःशेष’० इत्यादौ तात्पर्यविषयतया विधिर्वाच्य एवेति ।’ The काव्यप्रकाशसङ्केत (p. 11) explains “यथा शरो वमोरसी भित्ता जीवितनाड्ये तथा वाक्यमप्यभिधयैव वाच्यव्यंग्ये वक्तीति भावः । अभिधा हि यत्पर्यन्ता तत्रैवाभिधायकत्वं तत्पर्यन्तता प्रधाने ध्वनत्वेव । एतेन वाच्यव्यंग्ययोरभिधैव व्यापारः ।’ अनिनवगुप्त refers to this view, refutes it and approves of the maxim quoted by our author “योप्यन्विताभिधानवादी ‘यत्परः शब्दः स शब्दार्थः’ इति हृदये गृहीत्वा शरवदभिधाव्यापारमेव दीर्घदीर्घमिच्छति तस्य यदि दीर्घदीर्घो व्यापारस्तदेकोऽसाविति कुतः । भिन्नविषयत्वात् । अथानेकोऽसौ तद्विषयसहकारिमेदात्सजातीय एव युक्तः । सजातीये च कार्ये विरम्य व्यापारः शब्दकर्मबुद्ध्यादीनां पदार्थविद्भिर्निषिद्धः । असजातीये चासन्नय एव” p. 18 of लोचन. Vide also व्यक्तिविवेक. I. p. 27. अभिधालक्षणातात्पर्याख्यासु... उपक्षीणासु—When in accordance with the maxim above explained, the three functions, viz. Denotation, Indication and Drift are exhausted, after having conveyed each its appropriate meaning. अभिधा and लक्षणा have been explained above. But the function called तात्पर्य requires a little explanation. When the senses of the words used in a sentence are connected together on account of Expectancy, Compatibility and Juxtaposition, a new sense arises, which is called the Drift or Purport, which is apart from the meanings of the words taken separately. The power by which this purport is conveyed is called तात्पर्याख्यवृत्ति. Mammata refers to this तात्पर्य in many places 'तात्पर्यार्थोऽपि केपुचित्' K. P. 2nd Ul. p. 25 (Chān.); 'ते च अभिधातात्पर्यलक्षणाभ्यो व्यापारान्तरेण गम्याः'. But it does not appear that Mammata entirely approved of this view. Otherwise he would not have said 'केपुचित्', but would have simply declared that तात्पर्य is one of the functions. Our author also appears to hold views similar to those of Mammata. He first emphatically says above (in II. 3) that there are three powers of a word. He did not mention तात्पर्य there. If he speaks of it here, it is only for the purpose of referring to the views of others, viz. that school of the पूर्वमीमांसा called अभिहितान्वयवादिन्s. Their idea of तात्पर्य is as follows:—In a sentence the meanings of certain words are सिद्ध i. e. accomplished or already known from other sources; and the purport of a sentence is to make such meanings subordinate to the meanings that are to be accomplished (साध्य or भव्य). Let us take an example. The moving about of priests being known from other sources, in the sentence 'लोहितोष्णीषा ऋत्विजः प्रचरन्ति,' the assertion is meant simply to lay down that the priests should wear red head-dress, and not to lay down that they should move about. See the remarks of प्रदीप (K. P. V.) on तात्पर्य p. 176 (Nir). The आलङ्कारिकs generally do not accept the तात्पर्यार्थ as a separate पदार्थ, but look upon it as included under the व्यंग्य sense; e. g. एकावली says 'अनुवाचानामर्थानां विधेयार्थपरत्वं तात्पर्यमिति व्यापारान्तरं परैरस्युपगतम्' p. 56. सा शब्दस्य.....व्यञ्जना नाम—That function of a word or sense, or of an affix etc. (through which another meaning is conveyed), that function which is variously designated as व्यञ्जन (suggestion), ध्वनन (hinting), गमन (conveying), प्रत्यायन (acquainting), is what is called the power of suggestion. Compare K. P. II Ul. p. 63 (Vā) 'तच्च व्यञ्जनध्वननद्योतनादिशब्दवाच्यमवश्यमेवेतद्व्यञ्ज्यम्'. व्यञ्जना—The author of the ध्वन्यालोक establishes the existence of a व्यंग्य sense at great length (pp. 182-197). There are many who deny the existence of a separate वृत्ति called व्यञ्जना. They include व्यंग्यार्थ under तात्पर्य. Others, like the author of the व्यक्तिविवेक, include it under अनुमान or under लक्षणा. Note the words of T. D 'व्यञ्जनापि शक्तिलक्षणात्तन्मूर्ता । अशक्तिमूला चानुमानादिनान्यथासिद्धा' !; the अभिधावृत्तिमातृका of मुकुल says 'लक्षणाभिमार्गावगाहित्वं तु ध्वनेः सहृदयैर्नूतनतयोपवर्णितस्य विद्यत इति दिशमुन्मूलयितुमिदमत्रोक्तम् !; see also P. L. M. p. 9. तिस्रपु वृत्तिषु—This would be so according to the अभिहितान्वयवादिन्s; while acc. to the अन्विताभिधानवादिन्s, there would be the two वृत्तिस and not three. इति नयेन means—because यथा शब्दो विरतः नान्यं व्यापारं करोति तथा तन्निष्ठवृत्तिरपि विरता भवति । उपक्षीणासु = अर्थान्तरबोधने क्षीणसामर्थ्यास्तु. अभिधालक्षणा...दिधा—(p. 12 l. 25) व्यञ्जना इ

उक्तं हि... नोदाहृतम् (P. 13, ll. 2-15). उक्तं—It has been said (by Hari or अनृहरि in his वाक्यपदीय). The two verses quoted here are from वाक्यपदीय II. 317 and 318. The reading in the printed text of the Vākyapadīya is संसर्गो for संयोगो. Almost everywhere we read the quotation as संयोगो. हेमचन्द्र reads संसर्गो (p. 39 काव्यानुशासन). We must also notice another peculiarity about these two verses. They are universally quoted as embodying the views of Hari. But the commentator पुण्यराज says that they embody the views of others and not of Hari. Hari's views are contained in the verse which precedes these two (i. e. Vākyap II. 316). पुण्यराज's words are 'अत्रेदं गौगनिदं मुख्यनिदं नान्तरियकमित्येवं शब्दार्थनिर्णयप्रस्तावे तत्तन्निश्चयोपायानुपदर्शयितुकाम आह । वाक्यात्प्रकरणादर्थान्वित्यादेः कालतः । शब्दार्थाः प्रविभज्यन्ते न रूपदेव केवलात् ॥ (वाक्यपदीय II. 316) तथा चापरेः संसर्गादयः शब्दार्थावच्छेदहेतवः प्रदर्शिता इत्याह । संसर्गो विप्रयोगश्च' साहचर्य companionship; विरोधिता hostility or incompatibility of co-existence, अर्थे motive; प्रकरण context; लिङ्ग attribute or characteristic, शब्दस्यान्यस्य संनिधिः juxtaposition of another word; मान्दर्य power; आचिती congruity; व्यक्ति gender; स्वर accent. शब्दार्थस्यानवच्छेदे विशेषस्मृतिहेतवः—(These) are the causes of one's recollecting a special sense of some word, when the sense of the word is not of itself definitely ascertained. 'तदेवमेते शब्दार्थस्य सन्देहनिराकरणद्वारेण नियतार्थावसायहेतुत्वाद्विशेषस्मृतिहेतवो निर्णयहेतवः संसर्गादय इति बोद्धव्यम्' पुण्य०. रसग० explains अनवच्छेदे as तात्पर्यसन्देहे and विशेषस्मृति as एकार्थमात्रविषया स्मृतिः.

1. सशङ्खचक्रो हरिः—This is an example where संयोग defines the meaning of a word. Here हरि means 'Vishṇu' alone and not 'a monkey' or 'a lion' (which are also the possible meanings of the word हरि as said by अमर० 'यमानिलेन्द्रचन्द्राकविष्णुसिंहांशुवाजिषु । शुक्रादिपशुषु हरिर्ना कफिषु त्रिषु'), because of the conjunction of conch-shell and discus, which are generally associated with Vishnu. संयोग is defined as a connection between two things such as is generally known to exist between those two things only. प्रदीप defines it as 'संयोगः प्रसिद्धार्थस्य (तदर्थमाववृत्तितया प्रसिद्धस्य अर्थस्य । प्रमा) गुणविशेषरूपः सम्बन्धः'.

2. तद्वियोगेन (शङ्खचक्रवियोगेन = शङ्खचक्रभावेन) तमेव (विष्णुमेव) - supply अभिधत्ते after तमेव. The word हरि in this example denotes Vishnu alone on account of the disjunction of शङ्ख and चक्र. There would be no propriety in saying that 'a lion' etc. are without शङ्ख and चक्र because they are never connected with शङ्ख or चक्र. Therefore the very fact that हरि is here spoken of as being without शङ्ख and चक्र is the means of restricting the meaning of the word हरि to Vishnu. विप्रयोग is defined by प्रदीप as तादृशसम्बन्धव्यसः, disappearance of the connection that is generally known to exist between two things.

3. In the example 'Bhīma and Arjuna,' Arjuna is the son of Prthā (and not सहस्रार्जुन कर्तृवीर्य who was killed by परशुराम) on account of साहचर्यं ? e. because अर्जुन (the son of पृथा) is associated with भीम and not कर्तृवीर्यार्जुन. साहचर्य is defined by रसगो as 'एकस्मिन्कार्ये परस्परापेक्षित्वम्.' The example of साहचर्य generally given is रामलक्ष्मणौ upon which पुण्य० says 'रामलक्ष्मणावित्युक्ते लक्ष्मणसाहचर्याद्दाशरथेरेव प्रतीतिः'. The word राम is applied to बलराम, परशुराम and दाशरथि राम. An objection is raised that संयोग and साहचर्य are not different. The example of संयोग will be an example of साहचर्य also and vice versa. To this, Jagannātha replies:—What the ancients mean by regarding संयोग as different from साहचर्य is:—When any well-known connection which restricts the denotation of a word is expressed by a distinct word, that is an example of संयोग, as in the example सशङ्खचक्रो हरिः where the connection between शङ्खचक्र and विष्णु is संयोग because it is expressed by a distinct word स (in सशङ्खचक्रः); but when one of the सम्बन्धस्य restricts the sense of the other by forming a Dvandva compound with it, there is said to be साहचर्य; as in रामलक्ष्मणौ where the word लक्ष्मण itself restricts the meaning of राम, both forming a द्वन्द्व compound. Thus सगाण्डीवोऽर्जुनः is an example of संयोग and गाण्डीवार्जुनौ is an example of साहचर्य. 'संयोगशब्दस्य सम्बन्धसामान्यपरतया यत्र शब्दोपात्तं प्रसिद्धं सम्बन्धसामान्यं शक्तिनियामकं तदाद्यस्य, यत्र तु द्वन्द्वादिगतः सम्बन्धेयव केवलस्तथा तत्साहचर्यस्योदाहरणमिति प्राचामाशयात् । इत्थं च सगाण्डीवोऽर्जुन इति संयोगस्य, गाण्डीवार्जुनाविति साहचर्यस्योदाहरणम् ।' p. 120 रसगो०.

4. In the example 'Karna and Arjuna,' Karna is the son of the Sūta (charioteer) and not any one else called Karna 'or the ear,' because his hostility (विरोधिता) to Arjuna is famous. विरोधिता is defined as 'प्रसिद्धं वैरं सहानवस्थानं च'. An example of विरोधिता in the 2nd sense (सहानवस्थान not remaining together) is छायातपौ (shade and light). छाया may mean 'lustre' elsewhere. But here छाया means 'shade' as that meaning is विरुद्ध to that of आतप (light). The usual example of विरोधिता is रामार्जुनौ or रामार्जुनगतिस्तयोः as in K. P. This example is adversely criticised by वृत्तिवार्तिक p. 6. अप्यदीक्षित gives रामरावणौ as an example of विरोधिता. The रसज्ञाधर (pp. 120-121) attacks, as usual, वृत्तिवार्तिक and defends K. P. Jagannātha says that रामरावणौ will be an example of साहचर्य. Vide the ingenious remarks of the रसज्ञाधर.

5. अर्थः—In the example 'I salute Sthānu' the word Sthānu means 'Śiva' and not 'a post,' as there is no purpose served in saluting a post. अर्थ means प्रयोजन.

6. प्रकरणम्—In the example 'my lord knows everything,' the word देव means 'you, sir,' and not God, the context being that the words are addressed to a king. प्रकरण is defined as 'वक्तृश्रोतृबुद्धिस्थता' प्रदीप and वृत्तिवार्तिक p. 6 (being in the mind of the speaker and hearer). Another example, where प्रकरण restricts the meaning of a word, is सैन्यवसानय. These words, if uttered when a man is about to take his meal, denote the bringing of salt. If uttered by a man when going out, they mean that a horse is to be brought.

7. लिङ्ग—In the example 'the angry one, on whose banner is the alligator,' the God of Love is meant (by the word मकरध्वज) and not the ocean which also is called मकरध्वज, because the characteristic 'anger' is intimately connected with the God of Love only and with no other meaning of the word मकरध्वज. लिङ्ग means 'a characteristic connected with one of the things expressed by a word by some relation other than संयोग and separated from everything else denoted by the word.' लिङ्गं संयोगातिरिक्तसम्बन्धेन परपक्षव्यावृत्तो धर्मः। प्रदीप or 'लिङ्गं प्रयुक्तनानार्थपदवाच्यान्तरव्यावृत्तो धर्मः'। वृ० वा०, an attribute which is excluded from the other meanings of a word which has been employed and is capable of several meanings. Some say that लिङ्ग means 'a peculiar characteristic,' but if this meaning were taken, then कुपितो मकरध्वजः is not a proper example where लिङ्ग defines the meaning of a word, because क्रोप is not a peculiar characteristic of मदन (being found in human beings also) and because then सशङ्खचक्रो हरिः would be an example under लिङ्ग. Therefore लिङ्ग means 'any property or characteristic which belongs to one only out of the several meanings of a word by a relation other than संयोग and is not at all found in the other meanings of that word.' वृ० वा० p. 6 thus distinguishes between संयोग and लिङ्ग 'संयोगोदाहरणे प्रसिद्धिप्राचुर्यम्, शङ्खदेरिन्द्रादावर्थान्तरेऽपि संयोगाविरोधात् । लिङ्गोदाहरणे तु सर्वथा अर्थान्तरव्यावृत्तिरिति भेदः ।'

8. शब्दस्यान्यस्य संनिधिः—In the example 'the God, the foe of Pura,' the word पुरारि means Śiva, as we gather from the proximity of the word 'God,' for otherwise the word पुरारि might as well stand for 'the enemy of the city,' some king. प्रदीप defines संनिधि as 'नियनार्थकशब्दान्तरसामानाधिकरण्यम्' agreement in case with another word having a fixed sense. This definition is strongly criticised by the वृत्तिवार्तिक p. 7 as well as by the रसगङ्गाधर. वृत्तिवार्तिक defines it as 'नानार्थपदैकवाच्यसंसर्गर्थान्तरवाचिपद-समन्विताहारः', 'utterance of a word having a meaning logically connected with only one meaning of a word which is capable of many senses.' The objections which Jagannātha raises against प्रदीप are " 'करेण राजते नागः' इत्यादावव्यापनात्तद्वियामकान्तरस्य गवेषणे गौरवात्, 'कुपितो मकरध्वजः' इति तन्मूलोक्ते लिङ्गोदाहरणेऽतिव्यापनाच्चोपेक्ष्यम्."

9. सामर्थ्य—In the example 'the cuckoo is intoxicated by the spring,' the word 'madhu' means 'spring-time' and not 'nectar' or 'honey,' because it is the spring-time only that has 'power' to intoxicate the cuckoo and not honey etc. सामर्थ्य is explained as कारणत्वम्.

10. औचित्य—In the example 'may the favourableness of your beloved preserve you' the word मुख means 'favourableness or coming face to face,' because here the word मुख in the sense of face has no propriety with reference to the act of preserving. The preserving of persons stricken by love is brought about only by the favourableness of their sweet hearts, and not by their mere faces, which, if the sweet hearts are themselves unfavourable, cannot preserve the lovers. Hence मुख is taken to mean 'सामुख्य.' " 'पातु वो दयितासु-खम्' इत्यत्र दयितासुखकर्तृकरक्षणाकर्मत्वाक्षिप्तकामार्तानां सम्बोध्यपुरुषाणां त्राणं हि तस्याः सामुख्येनैव भवति । न तु मुखमात्रेण । वैमुख्ये तेन (मुखेन) त्राणायोगात् अतस्त्राणार्हत्वं वदनसामुख्योभयप्रत्यायकस्य मुखशब्दस्य" रसगं० p. 124.

11. देश—In the example “the moon shines in the sky,” we are led to take चन्द्र in the sense of ‘moon,’ by the presence of the place ‘sky’. The word चन्द्र also means ‘camphor’ or ‘gold,’ as said by अमर० ‘स्वर्गेऽपि मूरिचन्द्रौ द्वौ’ or by मेदिनी ‘चन्द्रः कर्पूरकाम्पिल्लुधांशुस्वर्णच [चा?] रयु’

12. काल—In the example ‘चित्रभानु at night,’ we know that चित्रभानु means ‘fire’ here, from the time specified, viz. ‘night.’ चित्रभानु also means ‘the sun,’ if spoken of by day.

13. व्यक्ति—In the sentence ‘the wheel glistens,’ we know that the word रथाङ्ग means ‘a wheel’ and not ‘the chakravāka, the ruddy goose’ from its being in the neuter gender. रथाङ्ग means चक्रवाक when it is masculine. अमर० says ‘चक्र रथाङ्गम्’ and मेदिनी says ‘रथाङ्गं न द्योश्चक्रे ना चक्राङ्गविहङ्गमे’

14. (P. 13, II. 14-15) स्वरस्तु वेदे एव...नोदाहृतम्. As accent modifies sense in the Vedas alone and not in Poetry, no example of its occurrence is given here. An example from the Vedas, where accent modifies the sense is इन्द्रशत्रुः* in the sentence इन्द्रशत्रुर्वधेत्. The word इन्द्रशत्रु may be dissolved in two ways इन्द्रस्य शत्रुः or इन्द्रः शत्रुर्धस्य. If it be taken as a तत्पुरुष, it will mean ‘the killer of Indra’ and the उदात्त accent will lie on the last letter of the whole compound according to the Sūtra of Pāṇini ‘सनात्स्य’ VI. 1. 223 (सनात्स्य अन्तः उदात्तः स्यात्). In this case the word इन्द्रशत्रु will be written in the पदपाठ as इन्द्रशत्रुः. If we dissolve the word as इन्द्रः शत्रुः यस्य i. e. as a बहुव्रीहि compound, it will mean ‘whose killer is Indra’ and the उदात्त accent will be the same as the natural accent of the first member of the बहुव्रीहि compound, viz. इन्द्र, according to the Sūtra ‘बहुव्रीहौ प्रकृत्या पूर्वपदं’ पा. VI. 2. 1. The word इन्द्रशत्रुः in this latter case will be written in the पदपाठ as इन्द्रशत्रुः. Our author lays down here that accent modifies the sense in the Vedas alone and not in Poetry. Accents were employed only in the Vedic Literature and not in classical Sanskrit. Compare the words of मम्मट ‘इन्द्रशत्रुरित्यादौ वेदे एव न काव्ये स्वरोऽर्थविशेषप्रतीतिवृत्तः.’ Our author simply echoes the words of Mammāṭa.

* Compare Śatapatha Brāhmaṇa I. 6. 3. 1. ff अथ यदब्रवीदिन्द्र-शत्रुर्वधेत्वेति तस्माद् हैनं इन्द्र एव जवान। अथ यद् शश्वदवश्यदिन्द्रस्य शत्रुर्वधेत्वेति शश्वद् इ स एवेन्द्रमहनिष्यत् 1; also the पाणिनीयशिक्षा ‘मन्त्रो हीनः स्वरतो वर्णतो वा मिथ्याप्रयुक्तो न तमर्थमाह। स वाग्वज्रो यजमानं हिनस्ति यथेन्द्रशत्रुः स्वरतो-परावात् ॥ verse 52.

(P. 13, ll. 16-24) इदं च केऽप्यसहमाना.....कटाक्षनिक्षेपेण. इदं च....आहुः some, not enduring this assertion, say. इदं refers to the words of मम्मट (and of our author also) quoted above वेदे एव न काव्ये स्वरोऽर्धविशेषप्रतीतिरुक्तः' विश्वनाथ gives us here the criticism of Mammata's dictum by some commentators (like चण्डीदास and राघवानन्द) and then rebukes them for criticizing a respectable writer like Mammata without sufficient reason. स्वरोऽपि काकादिरूपः काव्ये विशेषप्रतीतिरुद्धेव—Accent also in the shape of change of voice etc. is, as a matter of fact, the cause of understanding in a particular sense something that would otherwise be ambiguous. The word स्वर in the कारिका of हरि may mean 'a Vedic accent, उदात्त, अनुदात्त or स्वरित' or it may mean simply 'change of voice, or tune.' So काकु, which is defined by अनर० as 'काकुः स्त्रियां विकारो यः शोकभीत्यादिभिर्ध्वनेः' (a change of voice which is due to sorrow, fear, etc.) will be denoted by the word स्वर. We have seen above that the same sentence, when uttered with a different tone will mean different things, e. g. in the verse 'ममामि कौरवशतं समरे न कोपात्' etc. (वेणीसंहार I Act). If this sentence is read merely as an affirmative one, the meaning will be 'I shall not destroy the hundred Kauravas in battle through wrath.' This sense is opposed to the vow of Bhīma that he will kill all the Kauravas. So, by a change of voice in repeating the verse, i. e. repeating it interrogatively, another meaning is conveyed i. e. 'shall I not kill etc. i. e. 'I shall indeed kill' etc. Here then we see that स्वर (in the shape of change of voice) does modify the meaning of words in a poem, not—withstanding Mammata's words to the contrary. उदात्तादिरूपोऽपि...विशेषप्रतीतिरुद्धेव—According to the way laid down in his treatise by the holy sage Bharata, accent in the shape of उदात्त (acute) etc. does really convey some particular Rasa, as for example, the Erotic (when in the absence of the accent, the रस would have been doubtful). मुनेः—The मुनि is here भरत, the author of a नाट्यशास्त्र in 36 or 37 chapters, which he is said to have received from Brahṃā. We should read मुनेः पाठ्यगुणोक्तिदिशा for पाठोक्तदिशा. भरत says (chap. 19 p. 221 नाट्यशास्त्र) 'पाठ्यगुणानिदानीं वक्ष्यामः तद्यथा सप्त स्वराः, त्रीणि स्थानानि etc.' The word पाठ does not yield a good sense. But there is no Ms. to support our conjecture. भरत says (chap. 19. 43 of नाट्यशास्त्र) 'उदात्तश्चानुदात्तश्च स्वरितः कम्पितस्तथा। वर्णाश्रित्वार एव स्युः पाठ्ययोगे तपोधनाः ॥ तत्र हास्यशृङ्गारयोः स्वरितोदात्तैर्वैरौद्राद्भुतेषु उदात्तकम्पितैः करुणावात्सल्यमयानकेषु अनुदात्तस्वरितकम्पितैर्वर्णैः पाठ्यमुपपादयेदिति।' So we are told that in a dramatic representation the speeches should be recited with स्वरिन and उदात्त letters respectively in हास्य and शृङ्गार. So even such स्वर as उदात्त is cited by the sage भरत as defining a meaning; and we have seen above that काकुस्वर also modifies the meanings of words. एतद्विषये उदाहरणं नुचितमेव इति—In the case of this also i. e. स्वर, some exemplification is proper, as in the case of the 13 other defining causes. Here ends the criticism of Mammata's dictum. The सारसमुच्चय of रत्नकण्ठ has a similar note upon the words 'वेद एव न काव्ये' in 'अत्र यद्यपि चोदात्तादिः स्वरः काव्ये विशेषप्रतिनिमित्तं न भवति तथापि स्वरः काकुस्वरः काव्ये विशेषप्रतीतिहेतुर्भवति यथा "मञ्जामि कौरवगतम्" इति च ग्रन्थकृता तु एतदपरामृश्योदात्तादिनिषेधः काव्ये कृतः ।'. तन्न.....निक्षेपेण (p. 13, ll. 18-24). विश्वनाथ answers these criticisms. स्वरा.....विशेषम्. The स्वरा, whether regarded as changes of voice or the accents उदात्त etc., cause one to understand one particular sense in the form of the suggested sense only; they do not really acquaint us with any distinction in the shape of restricting to a single sense a word which has more possible senses than one, which (i. e. restricting a word to a particular sense) is the subject under discussion (and not anything respecting what is व्यंग्य). The idea is—संयोग etc. restrict a word to a particular meaning out of several possible meanings which are all primary. As स्वर is mentioned along with संयोग etc., it also must restrict a word to a particular meaning out of several possible and primary meanings. But स्वर in the form of काकु does not restrict a word to a particular sense out of many possible senses, but it suggests some sense other than the one expressed by the words in a sentence. Vide the words of प्रदीप 'काकुस्थले तु न नानार्थाभिधानियमनं किं त्वपदार्थस्यैव व्यञ्जनम्' Similarly स्वर in the form of उदात्त referred to by Bharata-muni does not restrict the meaning of a word, but it serves to bring out by its employment, the sentiment of Love etc. in a recitation. Thus स्वर, as interpreted by the critic, would not be on all fours with the other defining agencies such as संयोग; and therefore the interpretation of the critic is wrong and must not be accepted. किंच, यदि यत्र.....शेषानङ्गीकारप्रसङ्गः—Moreover, if restriction to a single sense were laid down by the force of accentuation in every case where even two meanings of ambiguous words were left undetermined by the absence of such defining causes as context etc., then, in such a case, it would follow that we cannot recognise the figure of speech called शेष (Paronomasia). The idea is:—If accents such as उदात्त were admitted as defining the meanings of words in poetry, then the श्लेषालङ्कार must be given up; e. g. the expression सर्वदोमाधवः is श्लिष्ट. We may take it as equal to सर्वदोमाधवः or सर्वदो माधवः. If accent were admitted as defining the meanings of words, सर्वदो माधवः will mean only one thing and thus it will not be an example of श्लेष. न च तथा—But it is not so (i. e. it is not seen that श्लेष is not recognised). श्लेष is recognised by all authorities as a figure of speech. अत एवाहुः...नये इति Hence it is that they say while treating of श्लेष "according to the maxim 'in the province of Poetry, accent is not regarded.'" आहुः—This refers to मम्मट himself. The plural is used to show respect. काव्यमार्गे etc.—these are the words of मम्मट, who says "—अर्थमेदेन शब्दभेदः" इति दर्शने, 'काव्यमार्गे स्वरो न गण्यते' इति च नये वाच्यमेदेन भिन्ना अपि शब्दा यद् युगपदुच्चारणेन श्लिष्यन्ति भिन्नं स्वरूपमपह्नुवते स श्लेषः" K. P. IX. 7. इत्यलं . . . निक्षेपेण—Enough of this censorious glancing on the part of these objectors at the explanations of the venerable (author of काव्यप्रकाश), who is the source of inspiration (lit. the bestower of livelihood) to the critic as well as to me (i. e. to all). व्याख्यानेषु—this refers to मम्मट's note on the word स्वर in the कारिका of हरि.

The words इदं च केऽप्यसहमानाः of the text most probably refer to रुचक (who is generally identified with रुच्यक, the author of अलङ्कारसर्वस्व, which is the guide of our author). Ruchaka in his काव्यप्रकाशशङ्केत, while commenting upon the words of Mammata 'वेदे एव न काव्ये स्वरोऽर्थविशेषप्रतीतिकृत्' says "न विशेषप्रतीतिहेतुरिति । यद्यपि चोदात्तादिः काव्ये न विशेषप्रतीतिनिमित्तं तथापि काकुस्वरो विशेषप्रतीतिहेतुर्भवति । यथा मञ्जामि कौरवशतं समरे न कोपादिति, स्वस्था भवन्ति मयि जीवति धारैराट्ठा इति च गुरुकृतः....दौल्यादिनिषेधः कृतः ।" We take मान्य and उपजीव्य as referring to Mammata and व्याख्यानेषु as referring to मम्मट's words on the expression स्वरादयः occurring in Hari's Kārikā. It is possible that मान्य and उपजीव्य refer to Ruchaka and the words व्याख्यानेषु refers to Ruchaka's remarks upon the words of Mammata. The above quotation from Ruchaka is due to the courtesy of Dr. S. K. Belvalkar. The लोचन on साहित्यद० says केपि refers to चण्डीदास and राघवानन्द.

on the open plain.' मनसिजं संमीलयंस्तेजसा who by his lustre throws into the back-ground the god of love. प्रोद्यद्राजकलः—प्रोद्यत् प्रकुप्यन्-दययुक्तं राजकं राजसमूहं लति वश्यतया गुह्यति who subdues flourishing chiefs. गृहीतगरिमा one who has attained greatness. विष्वग्गतो भोगिभिः—surrounded on all sides by gay people (voluptuaries). नक्षत्रेशकृतेक्षणः क्षत्रेशे क्षत्रियश्रेष्ठे कृतेक्षणो दत्तदृष्टिर्न भवतीति तत्रापि तुच्छबुद्धिरिति भावः। राम०—who does not condescend even to cast a look at the best of ksatriyas. गिरिगुरौ गाढां रुचिं धारयन् who has the deepest devotion for Śiva (गिरिः गुरुः श्वशुरः यस्य). गामाक्रम्य—Having made the earth his own. विभूतिभूषिततनुः (विभूत्या भूषिता तनुरस्य, 'विभूतिर्भूतिरैश्वर्यमणिमादिकमष्टधा' अमरः) whose body is decorated by prosperity or wealth. उमावल्लभः—husband of Umā. The verse as applied to शिव means:—दुर्गालङ्घितविग्रहः—दुर्गया लङ्घितः आक्रान्तः विग्रहः देहः यस्य—whose body is embraced by Durgā i. e. Pārvatī. मनसिजं संमीलयंस्तेजसा—overwhelming by his fire (from the third eye) the god of love. प्रोद्यद्राजकलः—प्रोद्यन्ती राजः चन्द्रस्य कला यस्य who wears the rising digit of the moon. गृहीतगरिमा—One who has attained vast proportions. भोगिभिः—सर्पैः—by serpents. नक्षत्रेशकृतेक्षणः—नक्षत्राणां ईशः चन्द्रः तेन कृतं ईक्षणं येन—who looks upon everything by means of the Lord of the Nakṣatras. गिरिगुरौ गाढां रुचिं धारयन्—(गिरीणां गुरुः हिमालयः) who has the deepest affection for the Lord of Mountains. गामाक्रम्य having mounted on a bull. विभूतिभूषिततनुः with his body adorned with ashes. उमावल्लभः husband of उमा i. e. Pārvatī. अत्र प्रकरणेन...बोध्यते. अभिषेये-अभिषया बोध्ये; connect अभिषेये with नियन्त्रिते. Here by the context the meaning of the word उमावल्लभ being restricted in respect of Denotation to the king Bhānudeva, the lord of the great queen Umā, the sense of the 'husband of the goddess Gaurī' i. e. the god Śiva, is understood only through suggestion. The suggestion is here based upon अभिषा. The reason is:—Out of several possible meanings, the word is restricted to a particular one by context etc. And then another meaning, which could have been denoted by the same word in another connection, is suggested. The result is that the king is suggested to be similar to Śiva i. e. there is उपमाध्वनि in this verse.

follow Mammata. प्रदीप says 'सा (व्यञ्जना) च द्वेधा-शब्दनिष्ठा अर्थनिष्ठा च । आद्या तु द्वेधा-अभिधामूला लक्षणामूला च' pp. 45-46 (Nirn. ed.). Our author and प्रदीप include अभिधामूला and लक्षणामूला under शाब्दी. The reason appears to be that लक्षणा and अभिधा are both powers of a word. The उद्घोत remarks on शाब्दी व्यञ्जना 'शब्दस्य परिवृत्त्यसहत्वाच्च शब्दमूलकत्वेन व्यपदेशः' p. 74 (Chān.). The suggestion is here said to be based upon word because here we cannot put a synonymous word in place of the one employed. In the example 'दुर्गालङ्घितविग्रहः...उमावहनः', if we substitute पार्वती for उमा, it won't do. The matter in hand is the glorification of the husband of the queen named Umā. So we cannot employ the word पार्वती there. Thus in this case of अनिधामूल-व्यञ्जना, the definition of उद्घोत applies. But how will it apply to लक्षणामूलव्यञ्जना instanced in गङ्गायां घोषः? There even if we substitute भागीरथ्यां for गङ्गायां, there is suggestion still. Our author does not expressly tell us why he includes लक्षणामूल-व्यञ्जना under शाब्दी. The reason may be as follows—It is true that we can substitute भागीरथी for गङ्गा; but the शब्दपरिवृत्त्यसहत्व does not lie in this. We understand शैलपावनत्वाद्यतिशय from the expression गङ्गायां घोषः; but if we substitute in its place गङ्गातीरे घोषः the suggested sense vanishes. We may employ another synonym, भागीरथी. But here also, there is लक्षणा; what we cannot do is to substitute a direct expression like गङ्गातीर or भागीरथीतीर for गङ्गा or भागीरथी. Herein consists the परिवृत्त्यसहत्व. It is not meant that in शाब्दी व्यञ्जना, the अर्थ (meaning) is not necessary. What is meant is that in शाब्दी व्यञ्जना, the particular words employed are most important; the circumstances which constitute अर्थी व्यञ्जना may or may not be present but it is not meant that they must not be present. As it is the word that is most important in this kind of व्यञ्जना, it is called शाब्दी or शब्दनिष्ठा in accordance with the न्याय 'प्राधान्येन व्यपदेशा भवन्ति.'

That suggestion is said to arise from the sense of words which causes one to think of something else through the peculiar character of the speaker, or the person addressed, or the sentence, or the proximity of another person, or the expressed meaning, or the occasion, or the place, or the time, or the modulation of voice, or gestures etc. Our author copies the

It is not commented upon by अर्जुनवर्मदेव (1216 A. D.) but is commented upon by वेननूनाल. A great deal of controversy has raged about the meaning of this verse. Our author appears to hold that this verse is an example of व्यञ्जना based upon लक्ष्यार्थ, as is made clear by his remarks 'तदन्तिकनेव गनासीति विपरीतलक्षणया लक्ष्यम्.' Let us first understand the meaning of the verse as interpreted by our author. नायकानयनाय प्रेषिता तं सन्मुज्यागतां दूर्तीं प्रति विदग्धोत्तननाविका खानकार्यत्वप्रतिपादनमुखेन सम्भोगचिह्नान्युद्घाटयितुमाह^{*1}

उ० च०. The plain meaning is 'you went hence to bathe in the well and not, as I had directed you, to the wretch.' Our author's idea appears to be that this plain meaning (मुख्यार्थ) is inapplicable under the circumstances and that these words indicate, by the relation of contrariety (as in Irony), that she went to the wretch (and not to the well).

The words निःशेष etc. apparently denote the effects of bathing. But as the apparent meaning (वापीस्नान) is incompatible under the circumstances, the meaning 'you went to the wretch' is indicated by विपरीतलक्षणा. The words निःशेष etc. are then properly construed with this meaning.* This is what the author says in the words 'अत्र तदन्तिकमेव गतासीति विपरीतलक्षणया लक्ष्यम्' i. e. the लक्ष्य is तदन्तिकमेव गतासि. तस्य च...बोध्यते. तस्य = लक्ष्यस्य. From this indicated sense is understood the suggested sense 'your purpose was dallying with him' through the specialty of the messenger addressed. Therefore the verse is an example of the specialty of the बोद्धव्य. The motive, here, in resorting to लक्षणा, as done by our author, is to convey the idea of dallying.

The above view about this verse is entirely opposed to that of Mammata, his commentators like Pradīpakāra and Nāgeśa, and to that of Jagannātha. The words of मम्मट are 'अत्र तदन्तिकमेव रन्तुं गतासीति प्राधान्येन अधमपदेन व्यज्यते.' i. e. the व्यंग्य is 'रन्तुं तदन्तिकगमन'. Here मम्मट says that the sense 'you went near him only for dallying with him' is suggested by the word अधम which is most prominent (according to Pradīpa) or the fact that 'you went only to dally with him,' which is the most promiment, is suggested by the word अधम (according to उद्द्योत). नम्मट's idea is that in this verse you cannot resort to लक्षणा at all. Herein he differs from our author. Moreover, he says that the whole व्यङ्ग्य sense can be had from the word अधम. The words निःशेषः etc are common both to वापीक्षान and dallying with him. They are not to be interpreted as being inapplicable to वापीक्षान and specially appropriate to तदन्तिकगमन, as is done by the चित्रमीनंता. Vide the words of नम्मट in the 5th Ul. "तथा 'निःशेषच्युत' इत्यादौ रनक्तया दानि चन्दनच्यवनदीन्युपात्तानि, तानि कारणान्तरतोऽपि सम्भवन्ति अनश्च अत्रैव क्षानकार्यवेत्तोक्तानि नोपनोगे एव प्रतिबद्धानि इत्यनैकान्तिकानि" p. 256 (Vā). The रसगङ्गाधर explains निःशेष etc as applied to the bathing in the well as follows—"निःशेषच्युतचन्दनं स्तनयोस्तदनेव नोरः-स्थलम् । वापीगतबहुलयुवजनत्रयापारवश्यादंसद्वयलक्ष्माग्रस्ति कीकृतमुजलतायुगलेन तदस्यैवोन्नततया मुहुरामशात् ।" pp. 15-16.*

After giving the explanations of निःशेष etc. as applied to bathing in a well, the रसगङ्गाधर remarks that there is no necessity for resorting to Indication, as the primary sense is not altogether inapplicable, because the words निःशेषः etc. are equally applicable (to the primary and the suggested sense). After the primary meaning is understood, we see that the speaker, the person addressed and the hero have a specialty of their own. The word अधम means primarily one who is mean. So the word at first denotes one who gives pain by doing some harm. Then ultimately by the power of suggestion, the word अधम yields the sense of 'one who causes pain by dallying with the maid.' "एवं साधारणेष्वेव वाक्यार्थेषु मुख्यार्थेषु बाधाभावात्, तात्पर्यार्थस्य श्रुतित्वात्कलनात्कुतोऽत्र लक्षणावकाशः । अनन्तरं च वाच्यार्थप्रतिपत्तेः वक्तृबोधव्य-

etc, the other circumstances mentioned in the verse, which are marks of bathing, they suggest dalliance only when we reflect that they are also the effects of embraces, kisses etc. which are subsidiary to dalliance i. e. they first suggest the idea of embraces etc. and through these and along with these, they suggest dalliance. Therefore, the words निःशेषच्युत etc. are subordinate in conveying the व्यञ्ज्य sense and the word अधम is prominent. Another reason for rejecting lakṣaṇā and regarding the word अधम as pradhāna in bringing out the suggested sense may be suggested. Even supposing for the sake of argument that there is विपरीतलक्षणा as said by our author, the word अधम will then mean 'noble' and as such will obstruct the व्यञ्ज्य which, as admitted by all, is dallying with the दूती. Hence the presence of the word अधम in the verse precludes विपरीतलक्षणा and it is thus the most prominent word to suggest the sense intended, the remainig words being equally applicable either way. This verse is addressed by a damsel to her paramour. निश्चलनिष्पन्दा may be taken as one word or as two words. In the first case, निश्चल would mean 'not moving to another place' and निष्पन्दा 'not moving any part of its body'; in the latter, निश्चल would be addressed to the paramour and would mean 'lazy, not quick to seize the opportunity' (जनशङ्कया विहारव्यापारनिर्बन्धोः । उद्द्योत). अत्र बलाकाया...प्रत्युच्यते Here by the motionlessness of the crane, its security is suggested and from the security, the fact that the spot is devoid of people; hence it is said (suggestively of course) by some woman to a paramour who is by her side that 'this (where the crane stands fearing no intrusion) is the place for a rendezvous.' Here the word निष्पन्दा suggests the sense of security (विश्रुतत्वं). This suggested sense suggests another sense, viz. that the place is a lonely and unfrequented one and hence that it is a nice place for their meeting. So here one व्यङ्ग्यार्थे gives rise to another. Therefore this is an example of अर्थी व्यङ्गना. The last व्यङ्ग्यार्थे i. e. सङ्केतस्थानमेतद्, is due to the specialty of the fact of the paramour being near the speaker, i. e. because the paramour is near, the fact that the place is solitary suggests the further idea that it is a proper place for their meeting. Thus this is an example of अन्यसंनिधिवैशिष्ट्य. अत्रैव.....प्रयोजकम्—In these words the author seems to give us an example of अर्थी व्यङ्गना due to the वैशिष्ट्य of वाच्य. 'He exemplified the वैशिष्ट्य of वक्त्र, प्रस्ताव, देश, काल and वाक्य in कालो मधुः'; that for बोद्धव्य and अन्यसंनिधि in निःशेष etc' and 'उअ etc.' respectively. Further on he will speak of the वैशिष्ट्य of काकु and चेष्टा. So out of the ten specialties mentioned above, वाच्यवैशिष्ट्य alone remains to be dealt with. We interpret this line as follows:—In this very example 'उअ निश्चल etc.' the specialty of the suggested sense, viz. the loneliness of the spot, is what leads to (the apprehension of a further suggested sense). Here we must put a wide interpretation upon the word वाच्य so as to take it to mean 'वाच्य, लक्ष्य, or व्यंग्य अर्थ'. So according to this interpretation, the verse is an example of वाच्यवैशिष्ट्य as well as अन्यसन्निधिवैशिष्ट्य. Pramadādāsa does not understand the passage as an example of वाच्य, as we do. The व्यंग्य sense in the verse 'उत्र गिञ्जल' etc. is brought out in two ways by Mammata. One sense favouring लम्बोदरशृङ्गार and the other विप्रलम्बशृङ्गार. The first is the same as that brought out by our author. The second is 'अथवा मिथ्या वदसि न त्वमत्रागतो भूरिति व्यज्यते' which is explained by प्रदीप as 'निष्पन्दत्वेन आश्वस्तत्वम्, तेन जनागमनाभावः, अतो न त्वमत्रागत इति मिथ्या वदसीति कयाचित् दत्तसङ्केता त्वं नागता अहं त्वागत इति वादिनं प्रति व्यज्यते !'. This means:—Some woman made an appointment with her paramour to meet him at a certain place. He rebuked her for not coming as appointed, while he himself came. Thereupon, the woman recites the verse and suggests by the use of the word निष्पन्द, that the crane is securely standing and further none must have come there to disturb it and hence that the paramour tells a lie in saying that he came there. गङ्गाधरभट्ट in his comment upon this verse in the गाथासप्तशती gives another meaning altogether.

(P. 15, ll. 7-11) मित्रकण्ठ.....काक्का व्यज्यते. मित्रकण्ठ..... अभिधीयते । This is quoted in जयरथ's अलङ्कारसर्वस्वविमर्शिनी p. 175, the first half being 'वाक्यामिधे (धी?) यमानेऽर्थे येनान्यः प्रतिपद्यते !'. This is a definition of काक्कु, which we have explained above. This definition means 'that is called by the word काक्कु, emphasis or modulation of voice, which is an alteration of the sound in the throat.'

आकरेभ्यो ज्ञातव्याः—The varieties of काक्कु should be known from original works. The word आकर is used for the works on any Śāstra, in which the topics peculiar to a शास्त्र are authoritatively and completely dealt with; e. g. the तत्त्वबोधिनी (commentary on the सिद्धान्तकौमुदी) applies the word आकर to the महाभाष्य of पतञ्जलि "अत्राहुः—संज्ञाजातिक्रियाशब्दान् हित्वाऽन्ये गुणवाचिनः । चतुष्टयी शब्दानां प्रवृत्तिरित्याकरग्रन्थनिष्कर्षादेव निर्णय इति" p. 119 on बोतो गुणवचनात् । पा० IV. 1. 44; similarly नागेशभट्ट in his वैयाकरणसिद्धान्त-मञ्जूषा says 'अत एव निपातानां द्योतकत्वमाकरे' उक्तम्. काक्कु is divided into two varieties साक्षाक्ष and निराक्षाक्ष in भरत's नाट्यशास्त्र 19th अ० p. 222 (of Chowkhamba ed.). See also the काव्यानुशासन of हेमचन्द्र pp. 234-239. 'गुरुपर.....समयेऽसौ'—Being dependent on his elders, alas, he is about to depart to a far-off land. In the spring time, deliciously charming on account of its swarms of bees and its cuckoos, he won't come back, my friend.' Here she says 'he won't come back', but by a change of voice when uttering नैष्यति it is suggested that he will surely come back. So this is an example of अर्थी व्यञ्जना due to काकु. Mammata cites this verse as an example of काकुवक्रोक्ति (K. P. under IX. 1) There we have to understand that the heroine said that 'he won't come' and that her friend interprets it as 'would he not come?' Vide प्रदीप 'अत्र नैष्यतीति नायिकया निषेधाभिप्रायेणोक्तं सख्या तु नैष्यति अपि तु एष्यति एतेत्यर्थकतया काका योज्यते.' In the verse as interpreted by विश्वनाथ in the text, the heroine utters the verse with the apparent meaning that he won't come, but by a change of voice she suggests herself the idea that he would surely come.

(P. 15, ll. 12-15) चेष्टावैशिष्ट्ये.....घोलते. सङ्केतकालमनसं..... निमीलितम्. This verse is quoted in the ध्वन्यालोक (p. 103). It is cited by Mammata (and by our author also) as an example of मृक्षमालङ्कार. विटं जारम्। सङ्केतकाले मनो यस्य। तं जिज्ञासुमित्यर्थः। अत एव हस्तद्वयां नेत्राभ्यां अपितं सूचितं आकृतं रहस्यं येन तादृशं (विटं) ज्ञात्वा विदग्धया नायिकया लीलासम्बन्धि पद्मं निमीलितमित्यन्वयः। ३० च० p. 440. घोलते—विटं प्रतीत्यर्थः. We may also construe हस्तत्रेवपिताकृतं as an adverb or as an adjective qualifying लीलापद्मन. Perceiving that her lover was anxious to know the time of their secret meeting, the quick-witted damsel closed the lotus with which she was playing in such a manner as to convey her import by her laughing eyes. In case we take it as an adverb, dissolve हस्ता नेत्रेण अपितं (स्यापितं) आकृतं (भावो) यथा स्यात्तथा. अत्र संध्या.....घोलते—Here by the gesture of closing the lotus, it is suggested by a certain woman that the twilight is the time of meeting. The petals of lotuses close in the evening. So by the gesture (चेष्टा) of closing the lotus, she suggests the time. Here the व्यंग्य sense viz. the time of twilight, is due to the वैशिष्ट्य of चेष्टा. एवं.....बोद्धव्यम्—व्यस्त taken separately, समस्त taken in combination.

(P. 15, l. 17) त्रैविध्यादियं.....त्रिविधा मता. As meanings are three-fold, the power of suggestion is held to be, in respect of each of the above-mentioned varieties (in वक्तुबोद्धव्य etc.), three-fold, understood literally and then give rise to the suggested sense. An example of suggestion belonging to an indicated meaning is 'निःशेष्युन etc.', where the words indicate the reverse of what is said and suggestion originates in this indicated meaning; and 3rdly, an example of suggestion belonging to a suggested meaning is 'उग्र गिच्चरु etc.', where the suggestion of its being a fit place for meeting arises from the suggested sense of its being a lonely place. प्रकृति etc.—But suggestiveness belonging to the radical part of a word, to an affix etc. will be treated of at length. The author deals with this topic in the 4th परिच्छेद verse 11 pp. 231 ff. (Nir. 1922), 'पदांशवर्णरत्नप्रवन्धेष्वस्तुत्कनः । असंख्यक्रमव्यंग्यो ध्वनिस्तत्र पदांशप्रकृतिप्रत्ययोपसर्गनिपातादिनेत्रादनेकविधः ।'. An example is the verse 'न्यक्कारो' etc. where the plurals अर्यः and भुजैः, the तद्धित affix in ग्रामटिका etc. suggest other senses.

(P. 15, ll. 22-25) शब्दबोधो व्यक्त्यर्थःअङ्गीकर्तव्याः शब्दबोधो... सहकारिता. The meaning understood from a word suggests, so also does a word applied in another sense suggest. When the one suggests, the other is its co-adjutor. The author here answers an objection that may be raised against his division of व्यञ्जना into शाब्दी and अर्थी. When you say that व्यञ्जना is अर्थी, do you mean that in that case शब्द is of no account? Similarly, when you say that व्यञ्जना is शाब्दी, do you mean that अर्थ is of no account? Our author replies that this is by no means the case. Word and sense are inseparably related together. When we say that the व्यञ्जना is अर्थी, we do not mean that it has nothing to do with शब्द. What we mean is that it is there primarily concerned with अर्थ, and in a subordinate manner with शब्द. यतः शब्दो...शब्दम्—'Because a word, when it suggests, has an eye to another meaning (without which it would fail of suggesting) and so too a meaning when it suggests has an eye to the word, without which the meaning would vanish'; e. g. in the example of शाब्दी (अभिधामूल) व्यञ्जना, the word उमावह्वयः suggests Śiva only when it denotes another meaning, viz. the husband of Umā. So here also, sense is required (सहकारितया) as a helper. तद्=तस्मात्. एकस्य व्यञ्जकत्वे—When one suggests, the co-operation of the other must needs be admitted. The name शाब्दी or अर्थी is employed, as said above, because we look only to what plays the prominent part in the व्यञ्जना. The idea is यत्र यच्छक्तिरुत्कर्तव्यं तत्र तन्मूलो व्यञ्जकत्वव्यपदेशः.

(P. 15, 26-27) अभिधादि.....व्यञ्जकस्तथा. A word also is held (like the meaning) to be three-fold on account of its being distinguished by the three distinguishing elements, viz. primary power etc. A word is expressive, indicative or suggestive. Compare the words of Mammata 'स्यादात्रको लक्षणिकः तद्वदोऽत्र व्यञ्जनविधा । वाच्यादयस्तदर्थः स्युः' K. P. II.

(P. 16, II. 2-6) तात्पर्याख्यां वृत्ति..... नतम्. तात्पर्याख्यां.....परे. Construe.—परे पदार्थान्वयबोधने तात्पर्याख्यां वृत्ति तदर्थं तात्पर्यार्थं तद्वोधकं च वाक्यमाहुः—'Others say that there is a function called Purport (तात्पर्य) which function consists in making one apprehend the connection among the meanings of the words; the sense from the Purport being the 'Drift' and the sentence as a whole being what conveys that drift by the said function? अभिधाया..... तात्पर्यं नाम वृत्तिः—As the power of Denotation ceases after conveying the meanings of the several words, there is a function called Purport which leads us to apprehend the connection among the meanings of the words in the form of the sense of the whole sentence. तदर्थश्च तात्पर्यार्थः—The sense arising from the function called तात्पर्य is the Drift. तद्वोधकं च वाक्यम्—The sentence as a whole conveys the तात्पर्यार्थं through the power called तात्पर्य. This is the opinion of the अभिहितान्वयवादिन्. What is meant is this:—There is a fourth function called तात्पर्य, in addition to the three treated of, viz., अभिधा, लक्षणा and व्यञ्जना. This function consists in conveying the connected meaning of several words and is not like अभिधा, लक्षणा and व्यञ्जना which convey the meaning of a particular word. As the meaning conveyed by लक्षणा is called लक्ष्य, that conveyed by व्यञ्जना is called व्यंग्य, so the meaning conveyed by this वृत्ति (तात्पर्य) is called तात्पर्यार्थः. It is generally the word that conveys the अभिधेय or लक्ष्य meaning; the तात्पर्यार्थः is conveyed not by a word, but by the whole sentence. This view is held by that school of the पूर्वमीमांसा, which is called अभिहितान्वयवादिन्. The opposing school is designated अन्विताभिधानवादिन्. अभिहितान्वयवादिनः—What they say is this:—Words have a general meaning. The logical connection of words is not known from the words, but by the function called तात्पर्य based upon आकाङ्क्षा, योग्यता and संनिधि. The तात्पर्यार्थः that arises is distinct from the meanings denoted by the words. In the example गामान्वय, गो means, 'सत्त्वादिमान्पदार्थः' generally, the affix अस् show कर्मेत्वं generally, नी shows motion generally. The simple word गो by itself does not express the गो meant in the sentence, viz. the आश्रय of the कर्मेत्वं denoted by अस्. The connection between the पदार्थः is known from आकाङ्क्षा, योग्यता and संनिधि and when the connection is known, a special sense arises, which is called तात्पर्यार्थ or वाक्यार्थ. The views of these मीमांसकs are expressed as follows by भट्टकुमारिल (from whom the अभिहितान्वयवादिन्s are called भट्टs) in his श्लोकवार्तिक 'साक्षाद्यद्यपि कुर्वन्ति पदार्थप्रतिपादनम् । वर्णास्तथापि नैनस्मिन् पर्यवस्यन्ति निष्फले ॥ वाक्यार्थमितये तेषां प्रवृत्तौ नान्तरीयकम् । पाके ज्वालेव काष्ठानां पदार्थप्रतिपादनम् ॥' verses 342-343, p. 943. Mammata explains their views as follows — 'आकांक्षायोग्यनासंनिधिवशाद्दृश्यमाणस्वरूपाणां पदार्थानां सन्नन्वये तात्पर्यार्थो विशेष-वपुरपदार्थोऽपि वाक्यार्थः समुल्लसतीत्यभिहितान्वयवादिनां मतम्' K. P. II. Ul. pp. 25-26 (Chān). पार्थन्मथिनिश्च in his न्यायरत्ननाला supports अभिहितान्वयवाद by quoting the authority of जैमिनि and शबर. "अभिहितान्वय एव ज्यायान् । तथा च सूत्रकारः (पू. मी. सू. I. l. 25) 'अर्थस्य तन्निमित्तत्वात्' इति व्यक्तमेव पदार्थनिमित्तकत्वं वाक्यार्थस्य दर्शयति । भाष्यकारोऽपि हि 'अमूनि पदानि स्वं स्वमर्थनभिधाय निवृत्तव्यापाराणि, अयेदानीं पदार्था अभिहिताः सन्तो वाक्यार्थमवबोधयन्ति' इत्याह ।" p. 97. The words अमूनि पदानि etc. occur in शबर's भाष्य on जै. I. l. 25 p. 96 (आनन्दाश्रम ed). The reason why they are called अभिहितान्वयवादिन्s is—"अभिहितानां पदार्थानां अर्थाभिधायिनां वा पदानामन्वयः इति ये वदन्ति ते अभिहितान्वयवादिनः."

अन्विताभिधानवादिनः—These writers say—Words do not express their meanings generally, but connectedly as parts of a sentence. In ordinary life, we first understand meanings from sentences. When a child hears a man say to his servant 'गामानय,' he sees the servant move a साक्षादिमत्पदार्थ from one place to another and infers that the servant understood from the sentence the bringing of a साक्षादिमत्पदार्थ. He then hears 'अश्वमानय' where the word आनय is the same as before. He then knows the meanings of the words गो and अश्व generally, but as connected with some such act as bringing. Hence we see that it is a sentence alone that sets a man in motion or dissuades him. The सूत्र is made in respect of a word not as denoting a general meaning, but rather as connected with other meanings. Hence words have a power to denote things, but as having a connection with some other things. Hence we need not postulate the special existence of a वृत्ति called तात्पर्य, from which we are to understand the meaning of a sentence. No वृत्ति is necessary to logically connect the meanings of words, as said by the अभिहितान्वयवादिन्s, but the several meanings themselves connectedly denoted by the words constitute the meaning of the sentence. Their views are clearly set forth by Mammata in the 5th Ul. pp. 265-268 (Vā). देवदत्त 'गामानय' इत्यद्युत्तमवृद्धवाक्यप्रयोगाद्देशान्तरं साक्षादिमन्तमर्थं मध्यमवृद्धे नयति सति 'अनेनास्माद्वाक्यादेवंविधोऽर्थः प्रतिपन्नः' इति तच्चेष्ट्यानुमाय तयोरखण्डवाक्यार्थयोः अर्थापत्त्या

The reason why they are called अन्विताभिधानवादिनः is—अन्वितानामेव पदार्थानामभिधानं शब्दैः प्रतिपादनं इति ये वदन्ति ते अन्विताभिधानवादिनः ।; see भाट्टचिन्तामणि p. 172. The अभिधावृत्तिमातृका (on कारिका 7-8) clearly explains the two views 'इह केषांचिदन्वयव्यतिरेकावसेयसामान्यभूतस्वार्थमात्रविश्रान्तेषु पदेषु पदार्थाकांक्षासंनिधियोग्यतामहिम्ना वाक्यार्थस्यानभिधेयभूतस्य हर्षशोकादिवदवसेयत्वमेव । यदा हि ब्राह्मण पुत्रस्ते जातः, ब्राह्मण कन्या ते गर्भिणीति यथाक्रमं पुत्रजन्मकन्यागर्भिणीत्वनिमित्तौ हर्षशोकौ स्वशब्देनानभिहितावपि शब्दाभिधेयभूतवस्तुसामर्थ्यादाक्षिप्येते । एवं वाक्यार्थस्यानभिधेयभूतस्यैव पदार्थाक्षेप्यत्वं द्रष्टव्यम् । एषां चैवंवादिनां मतेनार्थानामभिहितानामुत्तरकालं परस्परांस्त्वयादभिहितान्वयः । अपरे त्वादुः- वृद्धव्यवहाराच्छब्दार्थमन्वन्धावसायः । स च वृद्धव्यवहारः प्रवृत्तिनिवृत्तिरूपः । प्रवृत्तिनिवृत्ति च विशिष्टार्थनिष्ठे । अतो विशिष्ट एवार्थे पदानां सन्वन्धावधृतिः । ततश्च विशिष्टा एव पदार्था न तु पदार्थानां वैशिष्ट्यम् । एवं च परस्परांस्त्वितानां वाक्यार्थरूपतापन्नानां तत्तात्सामान्यावच्छादितत्वेन गृहीतस्ववाचकसम्बन्धानां पदैः प्रत्यायनादन्विताभिधानमिति ।' p. 15.

(P. 17, ll. 3-4) अथ..... उपमामाह. अथ = शब्दालङ्कारनिरूपणानन्तरम्. अवसरप्राप्तेषु अर्थालङ्कारेषु.—The occasion for treating the figures of sense having arrived. प्राधान्यात्....लक्षितव्येषु—those that are based upon similitude should be defined first, as being the principal ones. Alankāras are often classified as those based upon सादृश्य, विरोध, लोकन्याय etc. We shall speak of these classifications later on. तेषामप्युपजीव्यत्वेन—he speaks of simile first, which is at the root of even those (सादृश्यमूल अलङ्कारs). Compare the words of राजशेखर as quoted in अलं० शे० p. 32 'अलङ्कारशिरोरत्नं सर्वस्वं काव्य-सम्पदाम् । उपमा कविवंशस्य मातैवेति मतिर्मेम ॥'; अलं. स p. 26 'उपमैवानेकप्रकार-वैचित्र्येणानेकालङ्कारबीजभूतेति प्रथमं निर्दिष्टा १'; तरल p. 195 'मुखमेव चन्द्रः मुखचन्द्रः; मुखं चन्द्रश्च शोभते, मुखं वा चन्द्रो वा, न मुखं किं तु चन्द्र इत्यादिसादृश्य-विच्छित्तिविशेषै रूपादीपकाद्यनेकालङ्कारबीजनयोपमायाः प्रथमं निरूपणमित्यर्थः १'.

(P. 17, ll. 5-7) साम्यं वाच्यं... इत्यस्या भेदः. सान्यं...—द्वयोः—* construe वाच्यैक्ये (सति) द्वयोः (वस्तुनोः) वाच्यं अवैधर्म्यं साम्यं उपमा—Simile is the resemblance between two things expressed in a single sentence and unaccompanied with the statement of difference. रूपादिषुइत्यस्या भेदः—The author now proceeds to explain the propriety of each of the words used in the definition. The word वाच्य serves to distinguish उपमा from रूपक (metaphor). An example of metaphor is मुखं चन्द्रः (the face itself is the moon); while an example of simile is मुखं चन्द्र इव (the face is like the moon). In metaphor, when we reflect upon the fact that the face cannot be identified with the moon unless there be some points in which the one is like the other, the similarity of the two objects is suggested; while in simile (the face is like the moon) the similarity is directly expressed (by the word इव in the example). व्यतिरेके च—In व्यतिरेक (Contrast), points of difference also (between two objects) are expressly mentioned. In व्यतिरेक, the उपमेय (the object of comparison) is said to be superior to the उपमान (standard of comparison), which superiority may be due to the excellence of the Upameya, or to the inferiority of the Upamāna. So in व्यतिरेक there is not only resemblance between two things, but it is also pointed out that one thing excels another in a certain point (वैधर्म्यस्य उक्तिः); while in similes resemblance alone is referred to and hence अवैधर्म्यम् serves to exclude व्यतिरेक. An example of व्यतिरेक is 'अकलङ्कं मुखं तस्या न कलङ्कि विधुर्यथा'. उपमेयोपमायां वाक्यद्वयम्—In उपमेयोपमा, the उपमान is compared with the उपमेय and the उपमेय is compared with the Upamāna i. e. what was Upameya becomes the Upamāna and what was Upamāna becomes the Upameya. An example of उपमेयोपमा is 'कमलेव मतिर्मेतिरिव कमला' (the intellect is like wealth and wealth is like the intellect). But the above example contains two sentences. Therefore, by the word वाक्यैक्ये, उपमेयोपमा, which has two sentences, is excluded. अनन्वये तु...भेदः. In अनन्वय ('self-comparison') the same thing is compared to itself, the purpose being to show that no second thing resembling it is known to exist. An example is 'रामरावणयोर्युद्धं रामरावणयोरिव'. In Upamā two things are compared and therefore the word द्वयोः serves to exclude the figure अनन्वय, in which there is साम्य, but not between two things that are distinct. Some other definitions of Upamā are given below:—'अथात उपमा यदतत्तत्तद्विशमिति गान्धर्वस्तदासां कर्म' etc. निरुक्त III. 13; यत्किञ्चित्काव्यवन्धेषु सादृश्येनोपमीयते । उपमा नाम विज्ञेया गुणाकृतिसमाश्रया ॥ भरतनाट्य० 17. 44; विरुद्धेनोपमानेन देशकालक्रियादिभिः । उपमेयस्य यत्साम्यं गुणलेशेन सोपमा ॥ भाषाह II. 30; यच्चैतोहारि साधर्म्यमुपमानोपमेययोः । मिथो विभिन्नकालादि शब्दयोरुपमा तु वत् ॥ उद्भट I. 34; उपमा यत्र सादृश्यलक्ष्मीरुह्यतति द्वयोः ॥ चन्द्रालोक V. 3.

(P. 17, ll. 8-11) सा पूर्णा...उपमानं चन्द्रादि Construe सा (उपमा) पूर्णा (भवति) यदि सामान्यधर्मः औपम्यवाचि (पदम्) उपमेयं उपमानं च वाच्यं भवेत्—The simile is fully expressed, when the common property, the word implying comparison, the object of comparison and the standard of comparison are all expressed. The author now comes to the divisions of Upamā. Simile is divided into पूर्णा and लुप्त. There is a fully expressed simile when all the four elements of comparison are expressed. In the example 'मुखं कमलमिव सुन्दरम्' the word मुख is the उपमेय, कमल is the Upamāna, इव is the औपम्यवाची शब्द and सुन्दरं the common property. When all these four are expressed, there is a fully expressed simile; if any one or more of them be unexpressed, there is elliptical उपमा. साधारणधर्मो...मनोज्ञत्वादि—The common property i. e. the quality or action which causes the similarity of two objects is such as loveliness etc (in the example चन्द्र इव मनोज्ञं मुखम्).

(P. 17, ll. 12-21). इयं पुनः.....वतेरुपादाने. इयं=पूर्णा. पूर्णा is divided into two varieties श्रौती and आर्थी. That (पूर्णा) again is Direct (श्रौती) in which the notion of comparison is conveyed by particles, such as यथा, इव, वा, or by the affix वत् when it is equivalent to इव; it is Indirect when the notion of comparison is conveyed by attributive words such as तुल्य, समान etc. or by the affix वत् when employed in the sense of तुल्य (equal). The author tells us that the उपमा is श्रौती, when the words यथा, इव, वा, etc. are employed to express the comparison and that it is आर्थी when words like तुल्य are employed. A question arises:—what is the difference between the words यथा etc. and तुल्य etc. The difference between the two classes of words is as follows:—The words इव, यथा, वा, etc. primarily express साम्य i. e. relation of two things based upon their possessing a common property 'व वा यथा तथैवैवं साम्ये'। अमर III. 4. 9, 'यथेवशब्दौ सादृश्यमाह तुर्व्यतिरेकिणोः'। भासह II. 31. The words यथा etc. have a peculiar power whereby they denote, whenever they are used, that two things are related together as possessing a common property. In the example 'पद्ममिव मुखम्' by the very employment of the word इव, the two things पद्म and मुख are shown to be related together as उपमेय and उपमान on account of their possessing some property in common. The words तुल्य etc. on the other hand, are used in the sense of 'similar' (सदृश). In the example 'पद्मेन तुल्यं मुखम्', the word तुल्य expresses that मुख is an object similar to another. Here the word तुल्य does not convey the idea of सादृश्य directly; it only expresses that one thing has similarity in it. The word तुल्य does not tell us, by its very employment, that two things are related together by the possession of a common property. The idea of the possession of a common property comes in only when we consider that similarity cannot exist unless there be some property in common. Compare the words of Mallinātha in his तरल 'इवादीनामप्यर्थात्सदृशपर्यवसानं श्रुत्या तु सादृश्यगमकत्वमेवेति तत्प्रयोगे श्रौतीत्यर्थः। तुल्यादिशब्दानां तु श्रुत्या सदृशपरत्वमर्थात्तु सादृश्यपर्यवसानमिति तेषां प्रयोगे त्वार्थीत्याह।' p. 198. यथेवादय शब्दाः—वा has two senses 'उपमायां विकल्पे वा' अमर. III. 3. 249. उपमानानन्तर etc.—Although they are quite similar to words like तुल्य when employed after the उपमान. The particles इव, यथा etc. are used after the उपमान as in चन्द्र इव मुखम्. तुल्य etc. may be used with the उपमान or उपमेय or both. When तुल्य is used after the उपमान, it and इव would be quite similar (as in almost verbatim. See K. P. X. “‘तत्र तस्येव’ इत्यनेन इवार्थे विहितस्य वतेरुपादाने । तेन तुल्यं मुखम्’ इत्यादावुपमेये एव, ‘तत्तुल्यमस्य’ इत्यादौ चोपनाने एव, ‘इदं च तच्च तुल्यम्’ इत्युभयत्रापि तुल्यादिशब्दानां विश्रान्तिरिति साम्यपर्यालोचनया तुल्यानाप्रतीतिरिति साधर्म्यस्यार्थत्वात् तुल्यादिपदोपादाने, अर्थी । तद्वत् ‘तेन तुल्यं क्रिया चेद्वतिः’ इत्यनेन विहितस्य वतेः स्थितौ ।”

(P. 17, l. 22-p. 18, l. 2) द्वे...षडेव तत् द्वे etc. द्वे both (i. e. श्रौती and अर्थी) may be set forth by a nominal affix (तद्धित), by a compound and by a sentence. सौरभ etc—मुखस्य सौरभं अम्भोरुहवत् the fragrance of the mouth is like that of the lotus. पीन plump. तव वदनं हृदयं मदयति यथा शरदिन्दुः (मदयति) your face gladdens the heart as the autumnal moon. In this verse अम्भोरुहवत् is an example of तद्धितगा श्रौती पूर्णा. Affixes like वत्, कत्प etc. are तद्धितः. This is श्रौती because here वत् is used in the sense of इव in accordance with the sūtra ‘तत्र तस्येव’ (अम्भोरुहवत् = अम्भोरुहस्य इव). कुम्भौ इव is an example of समासगा श्रौती. Here the word इव is compounded with कुम्भौ in accordance with the Vārtika ‘इवेन (नित्य) समासो विभक्त्यलोपः (पूर्वपदप्रकृतिस्वरत्वं) च’ on Pāṇini II. 4. 71. The words in brackets are not found in the सिद्धान्तकौमुदी (with तत्त्वबोधिनी printed by the Nir. Press), but are found in K. P. In the महाभाष्य (vol. I. p. 417) on the sūtra कुगतिप्रादयः we have the words ‘इवेन विभक्त्यलोपः पूर्वपदप्रकृतिस्वरत्वं च’ (but not printed by Kielhorn as a Vārtika). The reading नित्यसमासः appears to be wrong, as this compound is optional and not नित्य (obligatory). The Vārtika means ‘the word इव is compounded with a noun which does not, however, lose its case-termination’ (as all nouns generally do in a compound). वदनं.....शरदिन्दुर्यथा is an example of वाक्यगा श्रौती. मधुरः* सुधावदधरः...तस्याः—पेलव soft, or delicate. In this verse, सुधावत्, पल्लवतुल्यः, चकितमृगलोचनाभ्यां सद्गुणे are respectively the examples of तद्धितगा अर्थी, समासगा अर्थी and वाक्यगा अर्थी. पूर्णा षडेव तत्—Thus the fully expressed simile is six-fold. उपमा was first divided into पूर्णा and लुप्ता. Pūrṇā was divided into श्रौती and अर्थी and each of these two was divided into three varieties. So there are six varieties of पूर्णा.

(P. 18, ll. 4-5) लुप्ता.....पूर्ववत्. Construe—सामान्यधर्मद्विरेकस्य यदि वा द्वयोः त्रयाणां वा अनुपादाने लुप्ता, सा अपि (लुप्ता अपि) पूर्ववत् पूर्णवत् श्रौती अर्थी (च). It is Elliptical when one, two or three of the four (viz. सामान्यधर्मे, औपम्यवाचिपद, उपमेय and उपमान) beginning with the common property are omitted. This also like the former is Direct or Indirect.

(P. 18, ll. 7-11). पूर्णावर्द्धने.....अश्मवत्. पूर्णावत्.....तद्धिते—सा (लुप्तोपमा) धर्मेऽपे पूर्णावत् तद्धिते तु श्रौतीं विना. The धर्मेऽपे has five varieties, viz. वाक्यगा and समासगा श्रौती, वाक्यगा, समासगा and तद्धितगा आधी. तद्धितगा श्रौती, when the common property is omitted, is impossible. The reason is as follows:—the तद्धितगा श्रौती उपमा is possible only when the तद्धित affix is used in the sense of इव. Such an affix is वत् only, when it is used according to the sūtra 'नत्र तस्येव'. When वत् is used it always requires the express mention of the ground of comparison, as in चैत्रवन्मैत्रस्य गावः or in मथुरावत् सुधे प्राकारः, where गावः and प्राकारः are the ground of comparison. We cannot simply say चैत्रवन्मैत्रस्य; we must mention the common attribute if we are to have any complete sense out of the words. But here धर्मे is said to be omitted and therefore श्रौती तद्धितगा (which occurs only when वत् is employed in the sense of इव) is impossible. सुखम्.....अश्मवत्. Here इन्दुर्यथा and पृथगेन समः are examples of वाक्यगा श्रौती and वाक्यगा आधी; सुधा इव, विम्बतुल्यः and अश्मवत् are examples of समासे श्रौती, समासे आधी and तद्धिते आधी respectively. In none of these five varieties is the common property mentioned.

(P. 18, ll. 12-19) आधार.....एवमन्यत्र. आधार.....पुनः—This i. e. धर्मेऽपे is five-fold, being possible in the two sorts of the affix क्यच् respectively applied in the sense of position and object, in the case of the affix क्यङ्, and in the case of the gerundial affix णमुल् added in the sense of the agent or object. (1) The affix क्यच् is applied to a noun in the objective case, which is expressive of Upamāna, in the sense of 'behaviour' 'उपमानादाचारे' पा० III. 1. 10. 'उपमानात् कर्मणः सुवन्तात् आचारे अर्थे क्यच् स्वात् । पुत्रमिवाचरति पुत्रीयति छात्रम्' सि० कौ०. An example is पुत्रीयति. Here the affix क्यच् is applied to पुत्र which is an Upamāna in the objective case (पुत्रमिव), in the sense of आचार (पुत्रमिव आचरति व्यवहरति पुत्रीयति छात्रम् he behaves towards his pupil as towards his own son). (2) A Vārtika on the above sūtra says 'अधिकरणाच्चेति वक्तव्यम्' which means that 'the affix क्यच् is applied to an Upamāna in the locative, in the sense of आचार'; e. g. प्रासादीयति कुट्यां भिक्षुः the bhikṣu behaves in his hut as if he were in a palace (प्रासादे इव आचरति कुट्यां भिक्षुः). (3) 'कर्तुः क्यङ् सलोपश्च' पा० III. 1. 11. 'उपमानात्कर्तुः सुवन्तात् आचारे

क्यङ् वा स्यात् । सान्तस्य तु कर्तृवाचकस्य लोपो वा स्यात् ।' सि० कौ०. The affix क्यङ् is applied to a noun in the nominative case and expresses the sense of 'behaving' 'like' e. g. कृष्णायते (कृष्ण इव आचरति). Here कृष्ण is a noun in the nominative case and is an उपमान. The क्यङ् affix makes the denominative verb Atmanepadī. The णमुल् (अस्) affix forms gerunds from verbs when repetition of an action is to be implied, according to the sūtra 'आसीदप्ये णमुल् च' पा० III. 4. 22, e. g. स्मारं स्मारम् having again and again remembered. (4 and 5) 'उपमाने कर्मणि च' III. 4. 45. चात् कर्तरि, घृतनिधायं निहितं जलम् । घृतमिव सुरक्षितम् । अजकनाशं नष्टः । अजक इव नष्ट इत्यर्थः । सि० कौ०. The affix अस् is applied to a root compounded with a noun in the accusative or nominative, which is an उपमान; e. g. in अजकनाशं नष्टः the affix अस् is applied to the root नश् and the gerund is compounded with noun अजक which is in the nominative case and is an उपमान. क्यच्.णम्:—Kalāpamata is a grammar of the Sanskrit language, the author of which, शर्ववर्मा, is said to have received it from कार्तिकेय शर्ववर्मा taught it to king Śatavāhana, who made his teacher king of Bharukachcha (Broach) out of gratitude. The Grammar is called कातत्र because it is small as compared with Pāṇini's and also कालापक from the कलाप (tuft of hair) of the peacock which is the vehicle of कार्तिकेय; see for the story बृहत्कथामञ्जरी I. 3 and कथासरित्सागर I. 6 and 7. प्रतिज्ञायेति तपसा विलोक्य वरदं गुहम् । स कातत्रेण नृपतिं मासैश्चक्रे बहुश्रुतम् ॥ बृहत्कथा० I. 3. 48; अथासौ भगवान् साक्षात् षड्भिराननपङ्कजैः । सिद्धो वर्णसमाम्नाय इति सूत्र-मुदीरयत् ॥ तच्छ्रुत्वाैव मनुष्यत्वसुलभाच्चापलाद्वत् । उत्तरं सूत्रमभ्युह्य स्वयमेव मयोदितम् ॥ अथाब्रवीत् स देवो मां नावदिष्यः स्वयं यदि । अभविष्यदिदं शास्त्रं पाणिनीयोपमर्दकम् ॥ अधुना स्वल्पतत्रत्वात् कातत्राख्यं भविष्यति । मद्राह्नकलापस्य नाम्ना कालापकं तथा ॥ कथासरित्सागर I. 7. 10-13. Viśvanātha says that in the Kātantra Grammar यिन्, आयि and णम् stand for the क्यच्, क्यङ् and णमुल् of पाणिनि. क्यच्....णम्:—कातत्रं (B. I. ed.) 'उपमानादाचारे' III. 2. 7, 'उपमानान्नाम्नः आचारेऽभिधेये यिन् परो भवति । पुत्रीयति माणवकम् ।' दुर्गसिंह; then for आयि see 'कर्तुरायिः सलोपश्च' III. 2. 8. and for णम् 'णम् चासीदप्ये सलोपश्च' IV. 6. 5. अन्नः पुरीयसि... क्षितीश—रणेषु अन्तःपुरीयसि (अन्तःपुरे इव आचरसि) is an example of आधारक्यच्. त्वं पौरं जनं सुतीयसि (सुतमिव आचरसि) is an example of कर्मक्यच्. श्रीः सदा रमणीयते (रमणी इव आचरति) 'fortune behaves as a wife towards you'—is an example of क्यङ्. प्रियांसिः अमृतद्युतिदर्शं दृष्टः—looked upon by the beloved ladies as the moon (whose beams are nectar-like)—is an example of कर्मणमुल्, because अमृतद्युतिदर्शम् is equal to अमृतद्युतिमिव दृष्टः.

In the case of certain roots कृ etc. the same verb, to which णमुल् is affixed, must be repeated after the gerund according to the sūtra 'कृषादिषु यथाविध्यनुप्रयोगः' पा० III. 4. 46. 'यस्माणमुक्तः स एव धातुः प्रयोक्तव्यः' लि० कौ० भुवि इन्द्रसञ्चारं सञ्चारसि—Thou walkest on the earth like Indra himself. This is an example of कर्तृणमुल् (i. e. where the णमुल् is affixed to a root which is compounded with a noun in the nominative case, (इन्द्र इव चरित्वा)). Thus in one verse the five varieties of धर्मेभुता are exemplified. अत्र...लोपः—Here in the word अन्तःपुरीयसि, the common property, viz. the circumstance of being a place of pleasant sports is omitted and in the word सुतीयसि, the circumstance of being full of affection is omitted. एवमन्यत् similarly (the common property is omitted) in the remaining (three expressions).

(P. 18, l. 20) इह च...नास्ति—In these five varieties, i. e. those due to क्यच् etc., there is no necessity of discussing whether these are श्रौतो or आधीं similes, because in them the words यथा, तुल्य etc. are absent.

(P. 18, ll. 20-21) इदं च.....उदाहरन्ति—Some instance these (five based upon क्यच् etc.) as the case of the omission of इव etc. expressive of comparison. It is Mammata who instances these as varieties of वादिलुता. 'वादिलोपे सनासे ता कर्माधारक्यचि क्यङि । कर्मकर्त्रोर्णमुलि' K. P. X. मम्मट says that in the कर्मक्यच्, or आधारक्यच्, क्यङ् and णमुल्, we have instances of वादिलुता (omission of words conveying the simile) and not of धर्मेभुता.

तदयुक्तम्—This is improper क्यङादेरपि.....प्रतिपादकत्वात्. तदर्थ—विहितत्वेन = इवाद्यर्थविहितत्वेन. Mammata's view is not right, because क्यङ् etc. also, being added in the sense of इव etc. (as laid down in the sūtras of Pāṇini) convey comparison. Therefore क्यच् etc. cannot be examples of वाचकलुता.

(P. 18, ll. 22-p. 19, l. 2) ननु.....लुता—Nor can you say that the affixes क्यङ् etc. do not well convey comparison, because being affixes they are not independently expressive and because such words as इव are not used in these cases. The words ननु.....प्रयोगाभावाच्चेति raise an objection against Viśva-nātha's position that क्यङ् etc. convey comparison as इव etc. do and that therefore क्यङ् etc. should not be regarded as cases of वाचकलुता. The objection is based on two grounds; 1 क्यङ् is a termination and not a word like इव. Some say that a termination has no independent meaning. It has a meaning only when connected with a word. So, as क्यङ् by itself has no meaning, it cannot well convey औपम्य. II It is generally acknowledged that words like इव, वत् etc. are उपमाप्रतिपादक. क्यङ् etc. are not so recognised and therefore when क्यङ् etc. are used, the comparison is not so well conveyed as when इव etc. are used. For these two reasons क्यङ् etc. should be cited as cases of वाचकलुप्ता (i. e. वाचकलुप्ता) and not of धर्मलुप्ता. S. D. replies in the words कल्पवादावपि तथा प्रसङ्गात् 'the same might be urged against कल्प etc.' (which are admitted by मम्मट as expressive of comparison in 'विषकल्पं मनो वेत्ति यदि जीवसि तत्सखे' which is an example of धर्मलुप्ता तद्वितगा आर्षी). What S. D. means is that कल्प is an affix just like क्यङ् and not an independent word like इव. Therefore, if you say that क्यङ् cannot well convey comparison, being an affix, then कल्प also being an affix cannot convey comparison. But you admit it to be expressive of comparison. So you are inconsistent. You must admit that क्यङ् is उपमाप्रतिपादक like कल्प. So क्यङ् etc. should not be cases of वाचकलुप्ता, but of धर्मलुप्ता. The affix कल्प is applied according to the sūtra 'ईषदसमाप्तौ कल्पव्-देश्य-देशीयरः' पा० V. 3. 67. The affixes कल्प, देश्य and देशीय are added in the sense of 'a little less than'; e. g. ईषदूनां विद्वान् विद्वत्कल्पः. न च.....द्योतकत्वम्—'Nor can it be argued that कल्प etc. as being equivalent to इव etc. are expressive of comparison, while क्यङ् etc. are only suggestive of it.' Here the objector brings forward the idea that कल्प, though an affix, is used in the sense of इव and is therefore, like इव, साक्षात् औपम्यप्रतिपादक; while क्यङ् etc. are only suggestive of comparison. S. D. answers this objection by simply denying what the objector assumes as indisputable. Grammarians say that निपातः (like च etc.) are द्योतक and not वाचक. 'चादयो न प्रयुज्यन्ते पदत्वे सति केवलाः । प्रत्ययो वाचकत्वेपि केवलो न प्रयुज्यते ।' वाक्यपदीय II. 196, on which पुण्यराज says 'एते हि चादयः केवला न प्रयुज्यन्ते ततो वाचका न भवन्तीति बोद्धव्यम्'. इव is included in the चादिगण. Therefore S. D. says इवादी.....निश्चयाभावात्—There is no certainty as to whether इव etc. are expressive. वाचकत्वे वा..... साम्यमेवेति. 'Granting that कल्प etc. are expressive, there can be no difference between the affixes of the वत् class and those of the क्यङ् class, according to either of the two opinions touching affixes, viz. (1) the inflected word in its integrity is expressive and (2) the base and the affix have each its own significance. S. D.'s idea is as follows:—He first threw doubt on the theory that इव etc. are वाचक. He concedes that कल्प (and therefore इव etc. also) are वाचक. He says that, even conceding this, his position is not in the least affected. As कल्प is an affix (and not an independent word), so is क्यङ् also. So what holds good of कल्प must hold good of क्यङ् also. If कल्प is वाचक (of औपम्य), then so is क्यङ् also. There are two views as to the meaning of affixes. Some say that an affix by itself has no meaning. It is the inflected word alone that has a meaning.

(the वैयाकरणस) who are स्फोटवादिन्s. The second view is that the base and the affix have each its own independent meaning. The base expresses a meaning which is general; the affix denotes its own meaning and then by the combination of these two meanings, a distinct and limited meaning arises from the inflected word as a whole, which meaning is not expressed by anyone singly out of the two, प्रकृति and प्रत्यय; e. g. in the word पाचक, the root पच् simply denotes the action of boiling and the affix अक denotes an agent in general. These two meanings being combined, we get from पाचक the idea of ‘cook’, which is not singly expressed by any one of the two

i. e. पच् and अक. See पूर्वमीमांसा II. 1. 1 and तन्त्रवातिक p. 380 (Ānan. ed.). This maxim occurs in the महाभाष्य on पा. III. 1. 67 (vol. II, p. 58 ed. by Kielhorn) and शबर on जै. III. 4. 13 refers to it in the words ‘प्रकृतिप्रत्ययौ प्रत्ययार्थं सह व्रत इत्याचार्योपदेशात् कर्ता शब्दार्थः कर्म चेत्यवगम्यते ॥’ ‘प्रत्ययार्थं सह व्रतः प्रकृतिप्रत्ययौ सदा । प्राधान्याद्भावना तेन भावनार्थोऽवधार्यते ॥’ तन्त्र०. Compare the following from the न्यायारम्भमाळा of पार्थसारथिमिश्र “प्रत्ययेन स्वार्थोऽभिधीयमानः प्रथमावगतप्रकृत्यर्थानुरक्त एवावगम्यत इति तत्रान्वयव्यतिरेकाभ्यां प्रकृतेः प्रत्ययस्य च स्वे स्वेऽथ अनुरागाद्ये च प्रतिप्रत्ययसमभिव्याहारस्यैव पदार्थान्तरानुरागमिमित्तत्वं विविच्यते ।

.....यथा ग्रहणस्मरणात्मना प्रत्यभिज्ञाने ग्रहणांशस्येन्द्रियनिमित्तत्वं स्मरणांशस्य च संस्कारनिमित्तत्वम्.....तथात्रापि अनुरागांशस्य प्रकृतिप्रत्ययसमभिव्याहारदेव प्रतीतिसिद्धेर्न प्रत्ययस्य तदभिधायकत्वं स तु स्वार्थमेवाभिधत्ते । आह च । ‘प्रकृतिप्रत्ययौ ब्रूतः प्रत्ययार्थं स्तेति यत् । मेदेनैवाभिधानेऽपि प्राधान्येन तदुच्यते ॥ पाकं हि पचिरेवाह कर्तारः प्रत्ययोऽप्यकः । पाकमुक्तं पुनः कर्ता वाच्यो नैकस्य कस्यचित् ॥” p. 101

The above quotations shed much light upon the meaning of the maxim. We think it clearly established from the above that प्रत्यय means here also 'an affix'; the quotation cited by पार्थसारथि explains the reason of the maxim. On the question whether इव etc. are वाचक or द्योतक the R. G. has the following interesting note:—

Whichever of the above two views about affixes we may hold, वत्, कल्प etc. and क्यङ् etc. are similar. If कल्प is औपम्यवाचक, then क्यङ् also must be so; and therefore क्यङ् etc. are cases of धर्मलुप्ता and not of वाचकलुप्ता. दच्च केचिदाहुः.....इति—As to what some say that affixes like इव are directed by Pāṇini to be employed in the sense of इव, while क्यङ् etc. are directed to be employed in the sense of ‘behaviour’ (as in ‘उपमानादाचारे’). What these people mean is as follows:—Pāṇini lays down that वत् etc. are to be used in the sense of इव (‘तत्र तस्यैव’); therefore just as इव is औपम्यवाचक, so are वत्, कल्प etc. But क्यच्, क्यङ् are applied in the sense of आचार (behaviour) only. Pāṇini does not expressly say that they are affixed in the sense of इव. So in his opinion there is a difference between वत् etc. and क्यङ् etc. The latter, being affixed in the sense of simple behaviour, do not denote औपम्य and therefore are fit cases of वाचकलुप्ता. To this Viśvanātha replies as follows:—‘तदपि न... इति.’ This view also is wrong; for क्यङ् etc. do not simply imply behaviour, but similar behaviour. Viśvanātha says that Pāṇini’s very words suggest the idea that क्यच् etc. are applied in the sense of similar behaviour (‘उपमानादाचारे’). He directs that क्यङ् etc. are to be applied to an उपमान in the sense of ‘behaviour’ to form denominative verbs. So the presence of the word Upamāna clearly suggests that the behaviour meant is similar behaviour. Therefore क्यङ् etc. are तादृश्यवाचक and hence, when they are employed, there cannot be वाचकलुप्ता. When they are employed, the common property ‘similar behaviour’ is not directly expressed and hence they are cases of धर्मलुप्ता. तदेवं.....लुप्ता—Thus धर्मलुप्ता is tenfold i. e. वाक्यगा औती and आर्थी, स्नासगा औती and आर्थी, तद्धितगा आर्थी (5 in all) and कर्मक्यच्, आधारक्यच्, क्यङ्, कर्मणमुल्, and कर्तृणमुल्.

R. G. looks upon कर्मक्यच् and आधारक्यच् and क्यङ् (but not णमुल्) as cases of the omission of both वाचक and धर्म. Vide his remarks “अत्रेदमवधेयम्—कर्माधारक्यचि क्यदी च वाचकलुप्तोदाहरणं प्राचामसङ्गतमिव प्रतीयते। धर्मलोपस्यापि तत्र सम्भवात्। न च क्यजाद्यर्थे आचार एव साधारणधर्मोस्तीति वक्तव्यम्। धर्ममात्ररूपस्याचारस्योपमाप्रयोजकत्वाभावात्। ‘नारीयते सपत्नसेना’ इत्यादौ वृत्त्यन्तरनिवेदितैः कातरत्वादिभिरभिन्नतयाध्यवसितस्याचारस्योपमानिष्पादकत्वात्। यदि च क्यङ्गर्थे आचारमात्रमुपमानिष्पादकं स्यात् तदा ‘त्रिविष्टपं तत्त्वलु भारतायते’ इत्यादौ सुप्रसिद्धत्वादिरूपाचारोपस्थितावप्युपमालङ्घ्यतेरनिष्पत्तेः। तस्यैव च ‘सुपर्वभिः शोभितमन्तराश्रितैः’ इति चरणान्तरनिर्माणे तस्या निष्पत्तेः क्यङाद्यर्थे साधारणोऽपि नोपमां प्रयोजयति। उपमाप्रयोजकनावच्छेदकरूपेण साधारणधर्मवाचकशून्यत्वस्यैव धर्मलोपशब्देनाभिधानात्। अन्यथा ‘मुखरूपमिदं वस्तु प्रकुलमिव पङ्कजम्’ इत्यादौ पूर्णोपमापत्तेरिति दिक्।” pp. 169-170.

(P. 19, ll. 3-9). उपमानुपादाने.....वोक्तम्. उपमाना.....समासयोः—When the Upamāna is omitted, the लुप्ता is two-fold, in a sentence and in a compound. अत्र...उपमानलोपः—Here objects answering to the face and eye being simply suggested (and not expressed) there is omission of the Upamāna. In the words मुखेन सदृशं रम्यं we have वाक्यगा उपमानलुप्ता and in नयनतुल्यं रम्यं we have समासगा उपमानलुप्ता. अत्रैव.....सम्भवति—In this very verse, if we read मुखं यथेदं for मुखेन सदृशं and दृगिव for नयनतुल्यं we shall have औती (उपमानलुप्ता) also. Thus वाक्यगा and समासगा उपमानलुप्ता will each have two varieties, आर्थी and औती and there will be four varieties of उपमानलुप्ता. प्राचीनानाउक्तम्—Yet following the manner of the ancients, we have spoken of उपमानलुप्ता as of two sorts only. It must be said that these remarks of विश्वनाथ are quite wrong, as they are opposed to all ordinary ideas. The word इव and यथा when placed after a noun lead us to understand that the noun is an Upamāna. Compare the words of Mammata ‘यथेववादिन्दा यत्परास्तस्यैवोपमानताप्रतीतिरिति’ etc. If we say दृगिव or मुखं यथेदं, इक् and मुख will be looked upon as Upamānas, if we are to pay any regard to ordinary modes of speech. Therefore, in the उपमानलुप्ता we cannot employ such words as इव or यथा. Hence, there can be no औती उपमा in उपमानलुप्ता and only two varieties remain. Compare the words of Pradīpa ‘न वा औती (सम्भवति)। इवादीनामुपमानमात्रान्विततया तदनुपादाने (उपमानानुपादाने) तेषामप्यनुपादानात्। अतो वाक्यसमासयोरेव। तयोरेप्यार्थी एवेति द्विप्रकारा लुप्तोपमानोपमा।” p. 13.

(P. 19, ll. 10-15) औपम्य...निर्देशात्. औपम्य...द्विधा— When the word or affix expressive of comparison is omitted the लुप्ता is two-fold, being possible in a compound or in the case of the क्प् affix. सुधाकरमनोहरम्—सुधाकर इव मनोहरम्. Here, इव being omitted, the example is one of वाचकलुप्ता समासगा. As the औपम्यवाचक words, यथा, वत्, इव, तुल्य etc. are omitted, in this variety there can be no discussion about श्रौती or आर्थी nor can there be तद्धितगा; for all तद्धित like वत्, कल्प, being included as affixes of comparison, are to be omitted. Nor can there be वाक्यगा, because the sentence सुखं चन्द्रो रमणीयम् conveys no connected sense. So only समासगा remains. The author adds one more variety due to the क्प् affix, which is added according to the Vārtika 'सर्वप्रातिपदिकेभ्यः क्त्वा वक्तव्यः'. The affix क्प् may be applied optionally to all nouns in the sense of 'behaviour' to form denominative verbs. The difference between क्प् and क्यङ् is that the latter leaves some trace of itself in the verb formed by adding it (as in नारीयते); but the क्प् affix leaves no sign of itself (as in गर्दभति). गर्दभति श्रुतिपरुषं.....पुरतः—'He acts the ass, loudly and hoarsely screaming before the great.' Here, in गर्दभति, the क्प् affix expressive of comparison is omitted. न च.....निर्देशात्—it cannot be said that in this example the उपमेय is also omitted; because the उपमेय is pointed out by the word निनदन् (screaming) itself, which is the subject of the verb गर्दभति. It should be noted that Mammāṭa cited क्त्वा लुप्तोपमा under धर्मवाचकलुप्ता (where both the common property and the word expressive of comparison are omitted). Our author cites क्त्वा under वाचकलुप्ता. Our author says above that क्यङ् is a case of धर्मलुप्ता. As क्प् is applied in the sense of क्यङ् optionally, and as the affix क्प् is omitted altogether, we should look upon क्त्वा as a case of धर्मवाचकलुप्ता according to our author's own reasoning. So he is inconsistent.

(P. 19, ll. 16-18). द्विधा समासे.....दाहरणम्. When both धर्म and उपमान are omitted, we need not discuss whether श्रौती is possible; because इव etc. are used only with the Upamāna; for the same reason तद्धितगा is excluded. If in the verse 'तस्या मुखेन' etc. we read 'लोके' in place of 'रम्यम्' we shall have the two examples of वाक्यगा and समासगा धर्मोपमानलुप्ता. 'मुखेन सदृशं लोके नास्ति' will be वाच्यता. Here only the उपमेय and वाचकशब्द are expressed; the उत्पन्न and common property are omitted. Similarly in the next.

(P. 19, ll. 19-23) किप्समासना...समासगा विववति मुखाब्जमस्याः Her lotus-like face shines like the moon (विधुरिव आचरति). Here the औपन्यवाचकशब्द and the common property, viz. loveliness, are both omitted. केचित्तु .. आहुः—some say that here also, it is only the affix that is omitted. These people mean that this example is similar to the one given above under वाचकलुप्ता (e. g. गर्जनति); and so this is an example of mere वाचकलुप्ता and not of धर्मवाचकलुप्ता as the author says. 'मुखाब्जम्' is an example of समासना धर्मवाचकलुप्ता. The compound is formed according to the Sūtra 'उपनिनं व्याघ्रादिभिः सामान्याप्रयोगे' पा० II. 1. 56. Here only the उपमान and उपमेय are mentioned and they are compounded.

(P. 19, l. 24-p. 20, l. 2) उपमेयस्य.....अनुशासनविशदत्वात्. The उपमेयलुप्ता is possible only in the क्यच् affix. अरति...सहस्रायुधीयति—This verse is given by Mammata in the connection in which our author gives it, अरतिविक्रमालोकेन वैरिपराक्रमदर्शनेन विकस्वरे विकासशीले विलोचने नवने यस्य सः । कृपाणेन खड्गेन उदग्रः भीरणः दोर्दण्डो बाहुयस्य सः । सहस्रायुधीयति सहस्रमायुधानि यस्य तमिव आत्मानमाचरतीति कर्मणि क्यच् । कार्तवीर्य was said to have had 1000 arms and so he could be सहस्रायुध. Vide मत्स्यपुराण chap. 43 and आश्वमेधिकपर्व 29 for the story of कार्तवीर्य. सहस्रायुधीयति is a denominative verb formed from सहस्रायुध by the affix क्यच् and means 'he conducts himself like one who wields a thousand weapons.' अत्र ..लोपः—Here the उपमेय, viz. the word आत्मानम्, is omitted, for the expression सहस्रायुधीयति when expanded is equivalent to the sentence 'he' conducts himself like one who wields a thousand weapons. An objection may be raised against this that here the उपमेय is directly expressed in the word सः and therefore this cannot be an example of उपमेयलुप्ता. The answer is—Although the person denoted by सः is the उपमेय, he is the Upameya, not in his capacity as the agent, but in his capacity as the object. If it were said that सः is the Upameya and that the person is the Upameya in his capacity as agent (कर्ता), then we reply that in that case the affix क्यच् cannot be applied to सहस्रायुध to form a denominative verb. The क्यच् affix, as said above, is applied to a noun which is an Upamāna and which is an object. Now here if सः is the Upameya, सहस्रायुधीयति will have to be explained as सहस्रायुध इव आचरति. But here सहस्रायुध would be in the nominative case and क्यच् cannot be applied. So सहस्रायुधीयति must be interpreted as सहस्रायुधेन आत्मानं आचरति. Thus we see that आत्मानम् is the

उपमेय, सहस्रायुधम् is the उपमान and in the objective case. As आत्मानम् is omitted there is उपमेयलुप्ता. Compare the words of Pradīpa 'अत्र यद्यपि विशेषणद्वारोपात्तः कर्तव्योपमेयः तथापि न तथात्वेन किं तु कर्मत्वेन । अन्यथा क्यचोऽसङ्गतत्वापत्तेः ।' न च न्यायात् nor can it be said that there is here the omission of the word expressive of comparison for reasons already stated above (when treating of कर्मक्यच् etc. text p 18, l. 12). He has established that क्यच् etc. are वाचक or द्योतक like कृय or वत्. अत्र केचित्.....लोप इति—some people, in order to get over the objection that the उपमेय is directly mentioned in the word सः, read स सहस्रायुधीयति as one word and interpret it as follows—सहस्रायुधैः सह वर्तते इति सहस्रायुधः—one who is possessed of thousand weapons. They then apply the affix क्यच् and interpret सहस्रायुधीयति as सहस्रायुध इव आचरति (He behaves like one who possesses a thousand weapons). Then they say that the person who is the subject of description (विशेष्य) not being directly mentioned by any word, there is omission of Upameya. To this our author replies by saying that the view is untenable. The employment of क्यच् with the nominal base (सहस्रायुध) signifying an agent is opposed to the rules of Pāṇini. क्यच् is applied to a noun in the objective case. It is क्यङ् that is applied to a noun which is an agent (कर्तुः क्यङ्). But the verb formed by the affix क्यङ् takes the Ātmanepada. So in सहस्रायुधीयति the affix is क्यच् and the word is an example of उपमेयलुप्ता. Acc to the लोचन of अनन्तदास 'केचित्' refers to चण्डीदासपण्डित.

(P. 20, ll. 3-7) धर्मोपमेय... लुप्ता. भवतः यशसि प्रसरति सति सर्वे सागराः क्षीरोदीयन्ति क्षीरोदमिव आत्मानमाचरन्ति—When thy fame spreads, all the oceans conduct themselves like the ocean of milk. Fame is, according to the convention of poets, white. Here, as in सहस्रायुधीयति above, the उपमेय 'आत्मानम्' is omitted, as we shall see when we explain the word क्षीरोदीयन्ति as 'they conduct themselves like the ocean of milk.' The common property 'whiteness' also is omitted. So this is an example of धर्मोपमेयलुप्ता.

(P. 20, ll. 8-12) त्रिलोके.....लोपः. When three out of the four elements of comparison are omitted, a simile is possible only in a compound. The word मृगलोचना is to be explained as मृगलोचने इव चञ्चले लोचने यस्याः 'she whose eyes are as tremulous as those of a stag.' Here मृगलोचने is the उपमान, इव is औपम्यवाचक शब्द and चञ्चल is the common property. All these are omitted and the उपमेय 'लोचने' alone remains. The उपमान is मृगलोचने and not मृग.

and hence the presence of मृग does not matter. The question is:—why is the word लोचन dropped from the word मृगलोचने? The answer is—according to the Vārtika 12 'सप्तम्युपमानपूर्वपदस्य बहुव्रीहेस्तरपदलोपश्च' on 'अनेकन्ययदार्थे' पा० II. 2. 24, a compound word, containing in itself a word in the locative case or an Upamāna, enters into a Bahuvrīhi compound with another word and then the latter part of the first member (which contained in itself a noun in the locative case or an Upamāna) of the Bahuvrīhi compound is dropped; e. g. उरसिस्थानि लोमानि यस्य सः उरसिलोमा, where उरसिस्थ (a compound word which contains in itself as its first member उरसि which is in the locative case) is compounded with लोमन् to form a Bahuvrīhi and then the latter part (i. e. स्थ) of the first member (i. e. उरसिस्थ) of the Bahuvrīhi is omitted and we get उरसिलोमा. Similarly मृगलोचना where मृगलोचने is उपमान, मृग, being a part of it, is also उपमान, because the property of the whole may be attributed to the part or vice versa as said by कैयट (2nd अ०, p. 120, Benares ed.) in his gloss on उद्ग्रमुख 'अवयवधर्मेण समुदायस्य व्यपदेशात् उद्ग्रस्योपमानेति उपमानपूर्वं उद्ग्रमुखशब्दः'. So मृगलोचने is उपमानपूर्वपद i. e. compound word which has an Upamāna as its first member (here, मृगलोचने) and when it is compounded with लोचने, the compound is a Bahuvrīhi and the latter member of the first compounded word i. e. लोचने out of मृगलोचने is dropped.

There are, however, some who say that the word मृग stands by Indication for मृगलोचने; according to this view मृगलोचना would not be an example of त्रिलोपोपमा. Compare the words of Pradīpa 'अत्र यदि मृगशब्देन लक्षणया तल्लोचने विवक्ष्यते तदा नेदमुदाहरणम् । यदा तु मृगलोचने इव लोचने यस्या इत्यर्थो विवक्ष्यते तदा 'सप्तम्युपमानपूर्वपदस्य बहुव्रीहिस्तरपदलोपश्च' इत्यनेन मृगलोचनेत्युपमानपूर्वपदस्य नयनशब्देन बहुव्रीहौ उपमानवाचिनि मृगलोचने इति पूर्वपदे उत्तरपदभूतस्य लोचनशब्दस्य लोपे उपमेयभूतस्य नयनमात्रस्योपादानादिदमुदाहरणम् ।' p. 18 (Chān.)

(P. 20, ll. 13-14). तेनोपमायाः.....सप्तविंशतिप्रकारोपमा. Thus there are 27 sub-divisions of Upamā, 6 of the Pūrṇā and 21 of the Luptā, viz. 10 of धर्मलुप्ता, 2 of उपमानलुप्ता, 2 of वाचकलुप्ता, 2 of धर्मोपमेयलुप्ता, 2 of धर्मवाचकलुप्ता, 1 of उपमेयलुप्ता, 1 of धर्मोपमेयलुप्ता and one of त्रिलोपा. Our author in these sub-divisions follows

Mammata with some difference. He borrows some examples from Mammata and closely copies many others. Mammata gives in all 25 varieties of Upamā, 6 of Pūrṇā, which are the same as our author's and 19 of Luptā. The latter are as follows:—5 of धर्मलुप्ता (श्रौती and आर्थी वाक्यगा and समासगा and आर्थी तद्धिता); 2 of उपमानलुप्ता (वाक्यगा and समासगा), 6 of वाचकलुप्ता (समासगा, कर्मव्यङ्गा, आधारव्यङ्गा, व्यङ्गा, कर्तृणमुखगा and कर्मणमुखगा), 2 of वाचकधर्मलुप्ता (किङ्गा and समासगा), 2 of धर्मोपमानलुप्ता (समासगा and वाक्यगा), 1 of वाचकोपमेयलुप्ता (व्यङ्गा), and 1 of त्रिलोपा (समासगा). The curious reader may also consult the चित्रमीमांसा and रसगङ्गाधर. The grammatical basis of the divisions of Upamā appears to have first originated with Udbhata. Vide his remarks “यथेवशब्दयोगेन सा श्रुत्यान्वयमर्हति । सङ्गशादिपदरूपेणान्वयेत्युदिता द्विधा ॥ संक्षेपाभिहिताप्येषा साम्यवाचकविच्युतेः । साम्योपमेयतद्वाग्विवियोगाच्च निबध्यते ॥ उपमानोपमेयोक्तौ साम्यतद्वाचिविच्यवात् । कचिद् समासे तद्वाचिविरहेण कचिच्च सा ॥ तथोपमानादाचारे क्यच्प्रत्ययबलोक्तिः । कचित्सा कर्तुराचारे क्यङा सा च किपा कचिद् ॥ उपमाने कर्मणि वा कर्तरि वा यो णमुख कषादिगतः । तद्वाच्या सा वतिना च कर्मसामान्यवचनेन ॥ षष्ठीसप्तम्यन्ताच्च यो वतिनीमतस्तदभिधेया । कल्पप्रभृतिभिरन्यैश्च तद्धितैः सा निबध्यते कविभिः ॥” अलङ्कारसारसंग्रह (I. p. 16 Nirn. ed. 1915). On the divisions of Upamā as given by Mammata and our author, the author of Chitramīmāṃsā makes some very appropriate remarks. Appaya Dikshita says that the divisions being based purely upon grammatical principles (thus merely proving that the authors are familiar with Grammar) should find no place in a treatise on Rhetoric; moreover, the divisions of Luptā are not exhaustive. Vide his remarks “एवमयं पूर्णलुप्ताविभागो वाक्य-समासप्रत्ययविशेषगोचरतया शब्दशास्त्रव्युत्पत्तिकौशलप्रदर्शनमात्रप्रयोजनो नातीवालङ्कारशास्त्रे व्युत्पाद्यतामर्हति । न वा लुप्तानामयं सामस्येन विभागः etc.” चि. मी. p. 27.

(P. 20, ll. 15-26) एषु...निर्दिष्टे. The author now expounds a peculiarity of those varieties of simile in which the common property is not omitted. एकरूपः.....मिदा. Construe साधारणो गुणः कचिद् एकरूपः, कापि भिन्नः, भिन्ने (साधारणे गुणे) बिम्बानुबिम्बत्वं शब्दमात्रेण वा मिदा (मेदः) सम्भवति. The common property is sometimes the same in both the उपमान and उपमेय; sometimes it is distinct. When the common property is distinct (being of a different sort in the Upamāna and the Upameya), there is the relation of बिम्बप्रतिबिम्बभाव (prototype and copy, or original and image) or there is merely a verbal difference. What our author means is as follows:—the साधारणधर्म may appear under three aspects; I it may be mentioned only once and is connected with both Upamāna and उपमेय, as in the example मधुरः सुषावदधरः, where मधुरत्व is mentioned only once and is directly connected with both the face and nectar; II The common property may be mentioned twice in two different words, one connected with the Upamāna and the other with the Upameya; here there are two ways again; (a) the common property, thus twice mentioned in two different words, may really be non-different in essence i. e. the same property may be mentioned in two words, as for example, in the verse 'यान्त्या मुहुर्वलितकन्धरमाननं तदावृत्तवृन्तशतपत्रनिभं वहन्त्या' the two words वलित (turned) and आवृत्त (turned) mean the same property, but one of the words is connected with कन्धरा (neck) and the other with वृन्त (stalk of lotus etc.). This aspect is referred to by our author as 'मित्रे शब्दमात्रेण मिदा', which is elsewhere called वस्तुप्रतिवस्तुभावः; II (b) The common property may be expressed by two different words and the property in the Upameya is distinct from that in the Upamāna; but the two are looked upon as identical on account of their great resemblance, as for example, in भट्टाप-वर्जितैः etc. the heads are compared to honey-combs, the common property being twice mentioned in इमंशुलैः and सरवाभ्यासैः (teeming with bees); here इमंशुल and सरवाभ्यास are not essentially the same, but they are so alike that they may be looked upon as identical. This is called बिम्बप्रतिबिम्बभावः. We see in ordinary life that, although the reflection in the mirror is different from the face reflected, people identify their face with the reflection and make use of such expressions in connection with the reflection 'This is my face.' जयरथ has the following note here 'अत एवात्र बिम्बप्रतिबिम्बभावव्यपदेशः । लोको हि दर्पणादौ बिम्बाप्रतिबिम्बस्य मेदेऽपि मदीयमेवात्र वदनं संक्रान्तमित्यमेदेनाभिप्रेयते । अन्यथा हि प्रतिबिम्बदर्शने कुशोऽहं स्थूलोऽहमित्याद्यभिमानो नोदियात्. भूषणविन्यासादौ च नायिका नादियेन ।' p. 28 अ० स० वि०. बिम्बप्रतिबिम्बत्वे.....श्लोऽयमदौ—The verse is Raghuvamśa IV. 63. 'He covered the earth with their (Persians') bearded heads severed by the lance, as with honey-combs teeming with bees.' Here corresponding to 'bearded', there is the word 'teeming with bees', as in the figure दृष्टान्त. दृष्टान्त is a figure where the Upamāna, Upameya and the common property are represented as if reflected i. e. where no यथा, इव, are used; but the meaning of one sentence is a reflection as it were of another sentence. We shall treat of this figure later on. शब्दमात्रेण.....माकूलम्. When the words are different, but the common property is in reality the same. This is वस्तुप्रतिवस्तुभाव. 'स्मेरं विधाय....माकूतम्'. स्मेर expanding. मनोगतम् आकूतम्—The secret meaning lying in her heart. Here the same common property is expressed in two different words in (स्मेर and विकसित) as in प्रतिवस्तूपमा. In प्रतिवस्तूपमा the same common property is twice mentioned in different words in two sentences (and not in one sentence as in simile). The author appears to borrow this treatment of the three aspects of the common property from the Alaṅkārasarvasva of Ruyyaka 'तत्रापि साधारणधर्मस्य कचिदनुगामितया ऐकरूप्येण निर्देशः । कचिद्वस्तुप्रतिवस्तुभावेन पृथक् निर्देशः । पृथक्निर्देशे च सम्बन्धिभेदमात्रं (न पुनः स्वरूपभेदः कश्चिदित्यर्थः । जयरथ) प्रतिवस्तूपमावत् । विम्बप्रतिविम्बभावो वा दृष्टान्तवत् । pp. 26-27. The चित्रमीमांसा explains वस्तुप्रतिवस्तुभाव as 'एकस्यैव धर्मस्य सम्बन्धिभेदेन द्विरुपादानं वस्तुप्रतिवस्तुभावः' (i. e. mentioning the same common property in two different words on account of its being connected with two different substrates) and विम्बप्रतिविम्बभाव as 'वस्तुतो भिन्नयोर्धर्मयोः परस्परसादृश्यादभिन्नतयाध्यवसितयोर्द्विरुपादानं विम्बप्रतिविम्बभावः' p. 18 (i. e. mention of two properties. which, though really different, are looked upon as identical on account of resemblance between them). The Ekāvali gives practically the same definitions (p. 205). For further information on these aspects of the common property, vide चित्रमीमांसा pp. 18-21 and रसगङ्गाधर pp. 174-177.

मालोपमा.....सहस्रधा दर्शनात् (P. 21, ll. 10-22). मालोपमा ..दृश्यते. यद् एकस्य (उपमेयस्य) बहु उपमानं दृश्यते (तदा) मालोपमा—When we have several Upamānas in connection with one Upameya, we have a garland of similes. वारिजेनमनोहरा—सरसी a lake नय virtue or justice. Here श्री is compared to many Upamānas, viz. सरसी, निशीथिनी and वनिना. Here the common property (मनोहरत्व) is the same. Sometimes the common property may be different with each Upamāna, as in 'ज्योत्स्नेव नयनानन्दः सुषेव मदकारणम् । प्रभुतेव समाकृष्टसर्वलोका निमग्निनो ॥'. क्वचित्.....दृश्यते sometimes both the Upamāna and Upameya are connected with the subject-matter. Generally the Upameya is the matter in hand and the Upamāna has nothing to do with the subject of discussion. हंसश्चन्द्रः...शरदागमे. शरदागमे at the advent of Autumn. Here as the matter in hand is the description of Autumn, both the moon and swan, the sky and water etc. are प्रस्तुत अस्य राज्ञो... कल्पवृक्षभवा इव. पुरन्दर is Indra. कल्पवृक्षभवाः born of the celestial tree (which yielded every desired object). Here we have a case of the simile of Implication, since by the word विमलतयः, which is the Upameya, are suggested the treasures, which are the Upamānas and which are qualified as 'born of the celestial tree'. In this very example, since the sense of house is repeated by the word भवने, this is प्रतिनिर्देश्योपमा. These and others have not been defined here, for a thousand such varieties might be made out; (and so it would be impossible to define and exemplify them all). Compare the words of Mammata '(मालोपमा रसनोपमा च) न लक्षिता । एवंविधवैचित्र्यसहस्रसम्भवात् । उक्तमेतान्तिकमाह ।' K. P. X.

(P. 21, l. 23-p. 22, l. 2) उपमानोपमेय.....प्रयोजकम् इति. एकस्यैव उपमानोपमेयत्वम् अनन्वयः—When the same object occupies the position of both Upmāna and Upameya i. e. when a thing is compared to itself, there is अनन्वय. It follows, as a matter of course that the comparison must be expressed in a single sentence. राजीव.....शरत्समुद्योषमे—When Autumn began to manifest itself, the lotus blushed like the lotus etc. अतन्द्रः—not slumbering. Here the lotus and others are intentionally compared to themselves in order to convey the idea that they have not their like. In अनन्वय one thing is compared to itself, the purpose being to convey the idea that there is nothing like it in the world; while in Upamā one thing is compared to another and there is no intention to intimate the idea that there is nothing similar. Compare जयरथ's words 'एवं चास्य द्वितीयसब्रह्मचारिनिवृत्तिरेवालङ्कारत्वप्रतिष्ठापकं प्रमाणम्' p. 30. Vāmana defines अनन्वय similarly 'एकस्योपमेयोपमानत्वेऽनन्वयः' काव्यालङ्कारसूत्र IV. 3. 14 and gives the following as an instance 'गगनं गगनाकारं सागरः सागरोपमः । रामरावणयोर्दुष्टं रामरावणयोरिव ॥'. भामह (III. 45) and उद्भट define in the same words 'यत्र तेनैव तस्य स्यादुपमानोपमेयता । असादृश्यविवक्षातस्तमित्याहुरनन्वयम् ॥'. Udbhata's example is 'यस्य वाणी स्ववाणीव स्वकीयेव क्रियाऽमला । रूपं स्वमिव रूपं च लोकलोचनलोभनम् ॥' उद्भट VI. 8. The name अनन्वय is significant (न विद्यते उपमेयस्य उपमानान्तरेण अन्वयः सम्बन्धः अत्रेति). वैवक्षिकः—न तात्त्विकः, किन्तु बहुविवक्षया निष्पादितः.

because it is dear to the people or poets of Lata, the country about Surat. This लाटानुप्रास is treated of at length in Udbhata and Mammata. उद्भट defines it as 'स्वरूपार्थाविशेषेऽपि पुनरुक्तिः फलान्तरात् । शब्दानां वा पदानां वा लाटानुप्रास इष्यते ॥' I. 13. Examples of लाटानुसप्रास are.—कचिदुत्फुल्लकमला कमलभ्रान्तषट्पदा । षट्पदकाणमुखरा मुखरस्फारसारसा ॥ पद्मिनीं पद्मिनीगाढस्पृहयागत्य मानसात् । अन्तर्दन्तुरयामासुर्हस्ता हस्ताकुलालयात् ॥ उद्भट I. 18 and 20. 'दिनकरकुलचन्द्र चन्द्रकेनो सरभसमेहि वृद्धं परिष्वजस्व ।' उत्तरराम० 6. Here the words कमल, षट्पद, पद्मिनी, हस्त etc. are repeated in the same sense, but in a different connection. What then is the difference between लाटानुप्रास and अनन्वय? In the former, the poet uses words having the same appearance and sense, with the difference that each is construed in a different way. In अनन्वय, the poet uses the same object twice and compares it to itself with the idea of excluding the possibility of the existence of another thing similar to it. It is not absolutely necessary for अनन्वय that the same word should be used ; a synonymous word may do as well, as in राजीवमिव पाथोजन्; but it is better to employ the same word, as it is more suitable for the purpose in hand, viz. conveying the idea that the same object is compared to itself. In लाटानुप्रास, it is absolutely necessary that the same word be employed twice in the same sense but with a different construction, and moreover there is no idea of excluding the possibility of another thing similar to it; i. e. there is शब्दार्थपौनरुक्त्य; while in अनन्वय, it is not absolutely necessary that the same word should be used i. e. there is अर्थपौनरुक्त्य; the same word, however, is generally employed with the purpose of quickly calling attention to the fact that the poet aims at the exclusion of another object similar to the one mentioned. किं तु...श्रेयान्—But it is better to employ the same word, as this is more suitable for leading us to understand that the उपमान and उपमेय are the same. The एकावली distinguishes the two as follows—पौनरुक्त्यस्य तात्पर्यमात्र-भिन्नस्यात्र प्रयोजकत्वात् अनन्वये चार्थमात्रगतयुगपदुपमानोपमेयभावस्य उपयुक्तत्वात् । शब्दैक्यस्य पुनरौचित्यविशेषेण प्रसङ्गसङ्गतत्वात् ।' p. 113. On this the तरुल says 'उभयपौनरुक्त्यं लाटानुप्रासे प्रयोजकमनन्वये त्वर्थपौनरुक्त्यं तावत्तैवैकस्य युगपदुमानोपमेयभावसिद्धेरित्यर्थः । किमर्थं तर्हि तत्र शब्दैक्यं कुर्वन्ति कवयो नियमेनेत्याशङ्क्याह । शब्दैक्यस्य पुनरिति । औचित्यविशेषेनेति । उद्देशप्रतिनिर्देश-योरैकरूप्यमिति न्यायवलेनान्यथा पर्यायप्रक्रमभङ्गापत्तेर्न तु लक्षणत्वेनेत्यर्थः ।' तदुक्तम्...प्रयोजकम्—This verse is found in अलं. स. p. 24. In अनन्वय, sameness of words is accidental because it is more suitable; while in the लटानुप्रास it is directly essential (to constitute the figure itself). On आनुषंगिकम्, विमार्शनी says 'न पुनः साक्षात् प्रयोजकमित्यर्थः । शब्दैक्यं विनापि अनन्वयस्य प्रतिपादनात् ।' and on 'साक्षादेव' it says 'शब्दैक्यं विना अस्य (लटानुप्रासस्य) अनुत्थानात्' p. 24.

पर्यायेण.....मिप्रायः (P. 22, ll. 3-8)—द्वयोः पर्यायेण एतद् (उपमानोपमेयत्वम्) उपमेयोपमा मता. That is regarded as उपमेयोपमा, when two things alternately occupy the position of Upamāna and Upameya. This must of course take place in two sentences. कमलेव मतिः...वत यस्य—This is cited by Mammata as an example of उपमेयोपमा. Here the wealth and intellect etc. of the king are alternately compared to one another, the object being to convey that there is no third thing resembling the two, कमला and मति etc. Connect the word विभक्ति with all the clauses. Our author's definition is word for word the same as Ruyyaka's द्वयोः पर्यायेण तस्मिन् (उपमानोपमेयत्वे) उपमेयोपमा' p. 31.

The figure is called उपमेयोपमा, because in it with the उपमेय of the first sentence is compared the उपमान of that sentence, i. e. 'उपमेयेन उपमा' as Mammata says. The purpose with which this mode of speech is resorted to is to convey the idea that there is no third thing resembling the two mentioned. Compare the words of जयरथ "अस्याश्चोपमानान्तरतिस्कारो यव फलम् । अत एवोपमेयेनोपमा इत्यस्या अन्वर्थमिधानम् । यत्र पुनरुपमानान्तरतिस्कारो न प्रतीयते तत्र नायमलङ्कारः । यथा-सविता विधुवति विधुरपि सवितरति तथा दिनन्ति यामिन्यः । यामिनयन्ति दिनानि च सुखदुःखवशीकृते मनसि । न ह्यत्र विधुसवित्रादीनमुपमानान्तरतिस्कारणं विवक्षितं किंतु सुखदुःखवशीकृतमनसामेव विपरीतं भवतीति ।" p. 32. उपमेयोपमा-(पूर्ववाक्यस्थेन) उपमेयेन उपमासादृश्यं द्वितीयवाक्यस्थस्य उपमानस्य.

The word द्वयोः in the definition serves to exclude रसनोपमा, where also one thing becomes उपमेय and उपमान in two successive sentences as in चंद्रायते शुक्लरुचापि हंसो etc.; but in रसनोपमा two things are not compared to one another. The distinction between अनन्वय and उपमेयोपमा is that in the former the same thing is compared to itself with the object of excluding the possibility of another thing similar to it; while in उपमेयोपमा two things are compared together alternately with the purpose of excluding a third thing similar to the two mentioned. In उपमा, there is only one sentence setting it forth and there is no suggestion of तृतीयसदृशव्यवच्छेदः; while in उपमेयोपमा two sentences are required to constitute it and there is such a suggestion.

Other examples of उपमेयोपमा are—सुगन्धि नयनानन्दि मदिरामदपाटलम् । अम्भोजमिव वक्त्रं ते त्वगस्यमिव पङ्कजम् ॥ भामह III. 38; खमिव जलं जलमिव खं हंसश्चन्द्र इव हंस इव चन्द्रः । कुमुदाकारास्तारास्ताराकाराणि कुमुदानि ॥ अलं. स p. 32.

सदृशानुभवात्.....राम (P. 22, ll. 9-17). सदृशानुभवात् वस्तुस्मृतिः स्मरणम्—A recollection of an object arising from the perception of something like it is termed स्मरण. The Naiyāyikas say that knowledge (बुद्धि or ज्ञान) is of two kinds, स्मृति and अनुभव. स्मृति is that knowledge which is produced by impressions alone; while अनुभव (apprehension) is all knowledge other than स्मृति. We apprehend a thing such as a jar. This apprehension leaves traces on the mind which are called संस्कार (भावनाख्य); these impressions when awakened give rise to remembrance. So mental processes may be represented as अनुभव—संस्कार—स्मृति, each preceding one being the cause of the following. Compare the words of T. S. 'सर्वव्यवहारहेतुर्बुद्धिर्ज्ञानम् । सा द्विविधा स्मृतिरनुभवश्चेति । संस्कारमात्रजन्यं ज्ञानं स्मृतिः । तद्विन्नं ज्ञानमनुभवः ।' and also 'संस्कारस्त्रिविधः । वेगो भावना स्थितिस्थापकश्चेति । अनुभवजन्या स्मृतिहेतुर्भावना आत्ममात्रवृत्तिः ।' When, after perceiving a thing similar to one which was formerly apprehended, one remembers the latter, there is स्मरणालङ्कार. अरविन्द.....चञ्चललोचनम्—खेलत्वजनमञ्जुलम्—Charming with the sporting wagtail bird. Here the perception of the lotus on which the खञ्जन bird was playing stirs up the latent impressions (संस्कार) which cause the remembrance of the face with tremulous eyes. There is similarity between face and lotus. To constitute the figure स्मरण, it is necessary that the remembrance must be due to the perception of a similar object. If remembrance be due to anything else such as anxiety, contemplation etc. then there is no स्मरणालङ्कार. In the verse 'मयि सकपटं etc. the remembrance being produced without the apprehension of similarity there is no स्मरणालङ्कार. The verse in question is Viśvanātha's own and was cited by him in the 3rd परिच्छेद as an example of the व्यभिचारिभाव called स्मृति. The verse is: मयि सकपटं किञ्चित्कापि प्रणीतविलोचने किमपि नयनं प्राप्ते तिर्यग्विजृम्भिततारकम् । सितमुपगतामालीं दृष्ट्वा स्मलञ्जमवाञ्छितं कुवलयदृशः स्मेरं स्मेरं सरामि तदाननम् ॥ 'Oh how I recollect the ever-smiling face of the lotus-eyed one, bashfully held down on seeing her female friend smiling, when I, artfully directing my eyes somewhat in some direction, in some measure caught her eye (which would not consent to meet my direct glance), that eye of hers the pupil of which was dilated in a sidelong fashion (as she stole what she fancied an unobserved look at me!). राघवानन्द.....मिच्छन्ति. The great minister Rāghavānanda would have the figure स्मरण even where the recollection arises from dissimilarity (or contrast). राघवानन्द has been referred to already in the 1st Pari. He appears to have been some relative of Viśvanātha. We said above that to constitute the figure स्मरण the remembrance must be due to the apprehension of a similar object. Rāghavānanda says that even when the remembrance is due to the apprehension of contrast, there is स्मरणालङ्कार. His instance is शिरीषपुष्पी etc. शिरीषपुष्पी—tender like the Śrīṣha flower. सौख्यलक्षणाणि lakhs of felicities. गलद्भु is an adverb—गलन्ति अश्रूणि यथा स्युस्तथा. Here by the perception of Sītā's sufferings which are contrasted with (विस्मृत्वा) her pleasures at home, Rāma remembers the latter. सुखध्यानमिति स्मृतिः, सुखविस्मृशुःखदर्शनेन सा उद्बुद्धा.

The definition of स्मरण in the text is the same as that of अलं० स. 'सदृशानुभवाद्भस्वन्तरस्मृतिः स्मरणम्' p. 32. Ruyyaka remarks 'सादृश्यं विना तु स्मृतिर्नायमलङ्कारः' p. 23. जगन्नाथ defines as सादृश्यज्ञानोद्भूतसंस्कारप्रयोज्यं स्मरणं स्मरणालङ्कारः' p. 216. Jagannātha further remarks 'अयं चालङ्कारिकाणां संप्रदायो यत्सादृश्यमूलकत्वे स्मरणं निदर्शनादिवदलङ्कारः । तस्याभावे व्यङ्ग्यतायां भावः । तयोरभावे तु वस्तुमात्रम्' । p. 217. Jagannātha criticises the use of the word सदृशानुभवात् in the definition of Ruyyaka (and our author also). He says that it is too narrow, as it would exclude a remembrance which is produced by a संस्कार which is stirred up by the remembrance (स्मरण and not अनुभव) of another similar thing. We remember a thing not only when we perceive another similar thing, but also when we remember another similar thing. Hence we should substitute for सदृशानुभवात् the word सदृशज्ञानात् as ज्ञान includes both अनुभव and स्मृति. "यदपि 'सदृशानुभवाद्भस्वन्तरस्मृतिः स्मरणम्' इत्यलङ्कारसर्वस्वरत्नाकरयोः स्मरणालङ्कारलक्षणमुक्तं तदपि न । सदृशस्मरणोद्बुद्धेन संस्कारेण जनिते स्मरणे अव्याप्तेः । यथा—'सन्त्येवासिजगति बहवः पक्षिणो रम्यरूपास्तेषां मध्ये मम तु महती वासना चातकेषु । धैर्य्यक्षैरथ निजसखं नीरदं स्मारयद्भिः स्यूयारूढं भवति किमपि ब्रह्म कृष्णामिधानम् ॥' अत्र च चातकदर्शनादेकसम्बन्धिज्ञानादुत्पन्नेनापरसम्बन्धिनो जलधरस्य भगवत्सदृशस्य स्मरणेन जनितं भगवतः स्मरणं भगवद्विषयरतिभावाद्भूम् । यदि च 'सदृशानुभवात्' इत्यपहत्या सदृशज्ञानात्' इति लक्षणे निवेद्यते तदा भवत्यस्यापि संग्रह इति दिक्" PP

रूपकं रूपितारोपाद् विषये निरपह्वे—Metaphor consists in the representation of the subject of description, which (subject) is not concealed, as identified with another (a well-known standard). विषय is an object upon which something is superimposed, as the face upon which चन्द्रत्व is superimposed; विषयिन् is the object superimposed upon another, as चन्द्र on मुख. So विषय and विषयिन् are here equivalent respectively to उपमेय and उपमान. रूपितस्वारोपः रूपितारोपः. It would have been better if the author had said 'रूपितारोपः' instead of 'रूपितारोपाद्'. An example of रूपक is मुखं चन्द्रः. The name Rūpaka is quite appropriate, as in it the विषयी imposes its form (रूप) on the विषय; note the words of अलं. स. 'विषयिणा विषयस्य रूपवतः करणादूपकम्' p. 35, or of the एकावलि 'यदा तु विषयी विषयं रूपयति रूपवन्तं करोति तदान्वर्थाभिधानं रूपकम्' p. 212. रूपित.....व्यवच्छेदः—The word रूपित in the definition serves to distinguish Rūpaka from the figure परिणाम. We shall discuss this point, when we come to the definition of Parināma. The word 'निरपह्वे' serves to exclude अपह्वुति. In अपह्वुति, an object is denied to be what it really is and something else is established in its stead; e. g. नेदं मुखं किन्तु चन्द्रः. In रूपक, there is no such denial. On account of the extreme similarity of two things we identify one with the other and say 'मुखं चन्द्रः'.

तत्परम्परितं.....त्रिधा (P. 22, l. 21). The author divides Rūpaka first into three varieties, परम्परित (Consequential), साङ्ग (Entire), निरङ्ग (Deficient).

मालाक्षिष्टपरं०, केवल अक्षिष्ट परं०, माला अक्षिष्ट परं०. An example of केवलपरम्परित resting upon Paronomasia is 'आहवे' etc. जगदुद्दण्डश्च असौ राजमण्डलराहुश्च—राजमण्डल may mean (1) the full orb of the moon, or (2) the entire assemblage of kings. राजमण्डलमेव राजमण्डलम्. Here राजमण्डल (in the sense of 'the orb of the moon') is superimposed upon राजमण्डल (in the sense of 'assemblage of kings'). This superimposition is the cause of the superimposition (आरोप) of Rāhu upon the arm of the king. An example of मालापरम्परितरूपक resting on श्लेष is 'पद्मोदय' etc. Read दिनाधीश for दिगाधीश. पद्मोदयः is equivalent to पद्मानुदयः (पद्म + उदय), or पद्मायाः उदयः (पद्मा + उदय). पद्मा means 'Goddess of wealth.' सदागति may be explained as 'सदा गतिः' (constant motion or as 'सतामागतिः' (the resort of the good). भूभृत् means 'mountain' or 'king.' दम्भोलि (m. f.) means 'Thunderbolt.' Here we identify पद्मोदय (attainment of fortune) with पद्मोदय (the blooming of lotuses), the point of similarity between the two being the fact of their being expressed by the same word. This superimposition of पद्मोदय on पद्मोदय is the cause of identifying the king with the lord of the day. Similarly, the superimposition of सदागति (constant motion, a characteristic of the wind) on सदागति (resort of the good) is the cause of identifying the king with the wind and the identification of भूभृत् (king) with भूभृत् (mountains, which were cleft by Indra's thunderbolt) is the cause of the ascription of the nature of the thunderbolt to the king. Here there are three superimpositions (and not one as in 'आहवे' etc.) and therefore this is मालापरं०. An example of केवलपरम्परित not resting upon श्लेष is 'पान्तु वो' etc. शार्ङ्गज्याघातकर्कशम्—hardened by the strokes of the string of his bow (made of horn). त्रैलोक्यमण्डपस्तम्भाः—pillars of the dome (मण्डप) in the form of the three words. Here the superimposition of मण्डप upon त्रैलोक्य is the cause of the superimposition of स्तम्भ upon the arms. As there is a single superimposition causing another single superimposition, this is केवलपरं०. An example of मालापरं०, not based upon श्लेष, is 'मनोजराजस्य' etc. मनोजराजस्य = मनोजः (मदनः) एव राजा तस्य. सितातपत्रम्—white umbrella. श्रीखण्डचित्रम्—श्रीखण्ड (m) means 'sandalwood' as said in the त्रिकाण्डशेष 'माल्यस्तु स्याच्छ्रीखण्डो रौहिणश्च सः' and चित्र means 'the ornamental mark on the forehead (तिलक)' as said by मेदिनी 'तिलकालेख्ययोः छीवं कर्तुराहुतयोरपि'. हरित् means 'direction or quarter.' हरिदेव अङ्गना हरिदङ्गना. व्योम एव सरः तस्मिन् सरोजम्. कर्पूरपूरप्रमम् resembling a lump of camphor. In this verse

the superimposition of the nature of the king on Madana is the cause of the ascription of the nature of 'white umbrella, (which is a symbol of royalty) to the moon. The superimposition of the nature of a woman upon हरिर् is the cause of the ascription of the nature of the तिलक (always associated with a woman) to the moon; and so on. In this and the preceding examples, none of the important words is paronomastic. Thus the four varieties of परम्परित are exemplified. एषु...केचित्—It is the opinion of some that in these (four examples of परम्परित) the superimposition of Rāhu etc. upon the arm of the king etc. is the cause of the ascription of the nature of the चन्द्रविम्ब etc. to राजमण्डल etc. This view is exactly the opposite of Viśva-nātha's. विश्वनाथ's view appears to be better, as it is in accordance with the views of Mammata and other famous rhetoricians. Moreover, between राजमण्डल (disc of the moon) and राजमण्डल (assemblage of kings), there is something in common i. e. the fact of being expressed in the same words, but between Rāhu and the king's arm, there is nothing in common that is well-known.

The name परम्परित is given to this variety because here there is a series of Rūpakas (परम्परा सजाता अख्येति), one of which is the cause of the other. Jayaratha explains the term as 'परम्परया एकस्य माहात्म्यादपरस्यारूपणत्वमायातं यत्र तत्तथोक्तम्' p. 36 and एकावली as 'परम्परा जाता अख्येति' p. 215. परम्परित is formed like तारकित, acc. to पा. V. 2. 36 'तदस्य सजातं तारकादिभ्य इतच्'.

अङ्गिनो.....चोपचरितत्वाद् (P. 23, l. 17-p. 24, l. 2). That is साङ्ग (entire), where the principal object is metaphorically represented together with those that are parts of it; and it is of two kinds, (1) that which dwells in all the objects, (2) or resides in only a portion. आरोप्याणाम्.....मृतम्—When all the things to be superimposed are expressed, it is समस्तवस्तुविषय. शब्दत्वे means शब्देन अभिधेयत्वे. An example of साङ्गरूपक (समस्तवस्तु-विषय) is 'रावणावग्रह' etc. This verse occurs in Raghua X. 48. रावण एव अवग्रहः तेन क्लान्तम्. अवग्रह means 'drought'. वागेव अमृतम् वागमृतम्. मरुतः एव सस्यम् = मरुत्सस्यम्. कृष्णमेघः-कृष्णः एव मेघः. The cloud-Kṛṣṇa disappeared, having thus rained down the nectar of words upon the crops in the form of the deities, that withered in the drought in the form of Rāvaṇa. Here कृष्ण is the principal object of description; रावण, वाक्, मरुत् are the subordinate elements associated with him; मेघ and its subordinate elements, such as अवग्रह, अमृत and सस्य are directly expressed. So this is साङ्ग and as all the anugas are expressly mentioned and are not to be understood, it is समस्तवस्तुविषय. Mammata explains the term समस्तवस्तुविषय as 'समस्तानि वस्तूनि विषयः अस्य' and Jayaratha as 'समस्तमारोप्यमाणानात्मकं वस्तु अभिधाया विषयो यत्र तत्तथोक्तम्' p. 36. When मेघ, the principal one (अङ्गिन्), is superimposed upon कृष्ण (the अङ्गिन्), the अमृत etc. (the अङ्गः) are superimposed upon वाक् etc. (which are also अङ्गः). यत्र.....तत्—It is said to be एकदेशविवर्ति (residing in a part), when someone of the superimposed things (आरोप्यमाण) is understood (and not expressed in words). An example of एकदेशविवर्ति is 'लावण्यमयुभिः' etc. लावण्यमेव मधु. विकस्वर—expanding, blooming. लोकलोचन etc. लोकानां लोचनान्येव रोल्म्बाः अमराः तेषां कदम्बैः—By what cluster of bees in the form of the eyes of the people. Here, the superimposition of मधु on 'beauty' is directly expressed; while the superimposition of 'lotus' on 'the face' is indirect (i. e. is only suggested). As 'honey' is superimposed on 'beauty' and 'bee' on 'eyes', so we infer that it is meant that 'lotus' should be identified with 'face.' As here one of the constituent Rūpakas is not directly expressed, this is एकदेशविवर्ति. The term is explained by जयरथ as 'एकदेश आरोपविषयाणामर्थात्तदात्मक पवारोप्यमाणप्रयोजनप्रतिपादनाय तद्रूपतया विवर्तते परिणमति यत्र तत्तथोक्तम्' p. 36; or by Uddyota as 'रूपकसङ्घातस्य अवयविनः अवयवे कस्मिंश्चिद्रूपके विशेषण शब्दमुखेन स्फुटतया (वर्तते) इत्यर्थः'. न चेय...उपचरितत्वात्—Nor can you say that this is एकदेशविवर्तिनी simile (exemplified in 'नेत्रैरिवोत्पलैः' etc. text p. 21), because the attribute of bloomingness primarily belongs to the 'lotus' alone, which is the thing superimposed (upon the face) and belongs to the face only metaphorically. What is meant is as follows:—It is sometimes hard to say whether in a particular expression there is simile or metaphor. In मुखचन्द्रः, if we dissolve the compound as मुखं चन्द्र इव, there is Upamā, but the word मुखं would be prominent in that case and चन्द्रः would be subordinate. If we dissolve the compound as मुखमेव चन्द्रः it would be a Rūpaka and the word चन्द्र would be prominent and मुखं would be subordinate. From the other words used in the sentence, we can often judge whether the one or the other is meant. If I say 'मुखकमलं प्रफुल्लम्,' the compound is Rūpaka (मुखमेव कमलम्), as the word 'प्रफुल्लम्' (fully blooming) primarily agrees with 'lotus' alone. The compound, therefore, must be so dissolved here as to give prominence to the word 'lotus', which is possible only if we dissolve it as

निरङ्ग.....व्यथा मे (P. 24, ll. 3-12). If the principal object alone is metaphorically represented, there is निरङ्गरूपक, which is two-fold, being serial or single. An example of निरङ्ग (माला) is 'निर्माणकौशलं etc. सा इयं इन्दीवरेक्षणा धातुः निर्माणकौशलं लोकचक्षुषां चन्द्रिका अनङ्गस्य क्रीडागृहम्. धातुनिर्माणकौशलम् The very skill of the Creator in creating. Here the woman (अङ्गिनी, the principal subject) is alone compared; the subordinate elements are not referred to at all; hence this is निरङ्ग. An example of केवलनिरङ्ग is 'दासे कृतागसि etc.—This verse is cited by the अलं. स. (p. 37) as an example of केवलनिरवयरूपक. Arjunavarmadeva, in his comment upon the Amarusaṭaka, ascribes it to king Vākpatirāja alias Muñja (the uncle of Bhoja) "यथास्तपूर्वजस्य वाक्पतिराजापरनाम्नो मुञ्जदेवस्य 'दासे कृतागसि' etc." p. 23 Amaru. Construe कृतागसि (कृतापराधे) दासे प्रभूणां पादप्रहारः उचिनः भवेदिनि (मत्वा) सुन्दरि नात्र दूये। यत् (तव) मृदु पदं उच्यते कठोरपुलकाङ्कुरकण्टकाग्रैः खिद्यते ननु सा व्यथा मे. दूये I grieve. उच्यन्तः ये कठोराः पुलकाङ्कुराः ते एव कण्टकाः तेषां अग्रैः by the points of those thorns in the form of the hard shoots of my hair that stand erect (at the thrilling touch). The hero says that he is not distressed by the kick of the heroine; but the thrilling touch of her foot causes his hair to stand erect and the points of those may prick her delicate foot. This is what causes distress to him. Here पुलकाङ्कुर is identified with कण्टक; and there is no other superimposition.

तेनाष्टौ...मृग्यम् (P. 24, ll. 13-17). Thus eight varieties are mentioned by the ancients. Bhāmaha mentions only two, समस्त-वस्तुविषय and एकदेशविवर्ति (II. 22). Similarly Udbhata gives four varieties, समस्तः, एकदेशः, and both as माला and केवल. It is Mammata who gives exactly the same number of divisions as our author. परम्परितः is divided into 4 varieties, साङ्ग into 2 (समस्तः and एकदेशः), निरङ्ग into 2 (केवल and माला). The अलं. स. gives the same number. Our author does not appear to be satisfied with this

divison, as the varieties are not mutually exclusive. He says that a परम्परितरूपक may also be एकदेशविवर्ति. In परम्परित the superimposition of one thing on another is the cause of the superimposition of something else on another. The two things do not stand in the relation of principal and subordinate (अङ्गिन् and अङ्ग); while in साङ्गरूपक (of which एकदेशविवर्ति is a variety), there are no doubt two or more superimpositions, but the objects stand in the relation of principal and subordinate. This is the view of the ancients. Our author differs from them and gives 'खङ्गः क्षमासौविदहः' as an example of परम्परितएकदेशविवर्ति. Our author follows here the अलं. स. This line is the last one of a verse cited by अलं. स०. The first three lines are: पर्यङ्को राजलक्ष्म्या हरितमणिमयः पौरुषाब्धेस्तरङ्गो मग्नप्रत्यर्थिवंशोत्पन्नविजयकरिस्त्यानदानाम्बुपट्टः । संभ्रामत्रास्तान्यन्मुरलपतियशोहंसनीलान्वुवाह'. On this verse the अलं० स० remarks 'अत्र क्षमासौविदह इति परम्परितमप्येकदेशविवर्ति' p. 38. क्षमा means 'the earth' and सौविदह is कञ्चुकिन्, the guard on the king's harem. अन्तःपुरे त्वधिकृतः स्वादन्तर्वेशिको जनः । सौविदहाः कञ्चुकिनः स्थापत्याः सौविदाश्च ते ॥' अमर. II. 8. 8. मालवाखण्डलः—That Indra in the form of the king of Mālvā. अत्र आद्यैः etc. Here the implied superimposition of the idea of a queen upon the earth is the cause of the ascription of the nature of the guard to the sword. As the superimposition of महिषी upon क्षमा is the cause of the superimposition of सौविदह upon खङ्ग there is परम्परितरूपक. But as 'महिषी' is not directly expressed, and सौविदह alone is expressed, this is एकदेशविवर्ति. अस्य भेदस्य etc.—The reader should search out for himself an example of एकदेशविवर्तिपरम्परित, where there is a series of superimpositions.

is not expressed, while the other constituent elements as स्तन, अंशुक, ईक्षण are mentioned. If we read 'चुचुम्बे हरिदबलामुख-मिन्दुनायकेन' for विचुम्बति...मुधांशुः' we shall have छिष्टसमस्तवस्तुविषय, as in this case 'the woman' superimposed upon 'the direction' and 'the hero' upon 'the moon' will both be expressed in words. न चात्र...असङ्गतम् (p. 24. ll. 23-25). It cannot be said that this is छिष्टपरम्परित (and not छिष्टसाङ्ग). In छिष्टपरं, e. g. in 'भूसदावलिदम्भोलिः' etc, without the superimposition of mountains etc. upon the kings, the identification of the monarch, who is the object of description, with the thunderbolt would be altogether absurd, as there is not the least similarity between the two. But in the example 'कसुदय' etc, the superimposition of कर upon कर, or of नायक upon मुधांशु, etc., or of woman upon 'अमरेशदिक्' is not dependent upon the superimposition of anything else. Each may be superimposed upon the other independently, as there is great similarity between the various pairs. तर्हि..... वाच्यम्. An objection is raised against the above reasoning in these words. If you say that 'भूसदावलिदम्भोलिः' is an example of परम्परित, then how is it that you cite पद्मोदयदिनाधीशः etc. as an example of परम्परित? The king can be identified with the sun, as there is between the two great similarity founded upon both being तेजस्वि (glorious). This superimposition is independent of the superimposition of पद्मोदय upon पद्मोदय. Hence 'पद्मोदयदिनाधीशः' should be an example of साङ्ग and not of परम्परित. तथाहि.....विवक्षितत्वाद्. The foregoing objection is answered in these words. It is quite true that the resemblance of the king to the sun as possessing glory is quite manifest; but it is not intended in the example under discussion. It is पद्मोदयत्व (the identity of the attainment of fortune with the blooming of lotuses based upon Paronomasia) that is intended to be the common attribute of the two. And hence, the superimposition of पद्मोदय on पद्मोदय is the cause of the superimposition of the 'sun' on the king and 'पद्मोदय' etc. is an example of परम्परित. पद्मोदयादेरेव means पद्मोदयादिछिष्टदस्यैव. इह तु.....इति न छिष्टपरम्परितम्. But here the similarity of the mountain to the female breast in plumpness and prominence is quite manifest of itself and hence there is no छिष्टपरं, but छिष्टसाङ्ग. क्वचित्समासाभावेऽपि etc. sometime Rūpaka is found without a compound. The author appears to allude to the words of Daṇḍin, who divides Rūpakas into रूपकम् (without a compound), समस्त (in a compound) and व्यस्तसमस्त (partly compounded and partly not). 'उपमैव तिरोभूतमेदा रूपकमिष्यते । यथा बाहुलता पाणिपद्मं चरणपङ्कजः ॥ अङ्गुल्यः पङ्कवान्यासन् कुसुमानि नखार्चिषः । बाहू लते वसन्तश्रीस्त्वं नः प्रत्यक्ष-चारिणी ॥ इत्येतदसमस्ताख्यं समस्तं पूर्वरूपकम् (बाहुलता etc.) । सितं मुखेन्दोज्योत्स्नेति समस्तव्यस्तरूपकम् ॥' काव्यादर्श II. 66-86. कचिद्वैयधिकर-ण्येपि etc.—In Rūpaka, the Upamāna and Upameya are generally in apposition, as in मुखचन्द्रः, बाहुलता etc. But sometimes the Upamāna and Upameya are in different cases, as e. g. 'The Creator formed here a line of bees under the shape of a creeper-like eyebrow.' Here भ्रूलता and मधुपश्रेणी are in different cases. The Nirṇaya-sāgara edition wrongly omits the words from विदधे to वैधर्म्येऽपि यथा. It thus makes 'सौजन्यान्धु' etc., an example under वैयधिकरण्य, which it is not. Besides the अलं० सू० cites 'सौजन्यान्धु' etc. as an example under वैधर्म्य; see pp. 38-39. The printed editions put the words 'इदं मम' after the verse 'सौजन्यान्धु' etc; this seems to us to be wrong; the verse is quoted by Ruyyaka, who preceded Viśvanātha by at least two centuries. सौजन्यान्धु.....पुच्छच्छटा—these are in apposition with राजावली. यैः.....सेविता They, who inspired with foolish hopes, have served the princes of the Kaliyuga (Iron Age). सौजन्य etc.—सौजन्यमेव अन्धु तस्य मरुस्थली the sandy desert for the water of courtesy (i. e. as in Mārwar there is no water, so there is no courtesy in princes). सुचरितं—सुचरितमेव आलेख्यं तस्य द्युमितिः— the aerial wall for the pictures of good deeds (i. e. as no pictures can be painted on the canvas of the sky, so there are no good deeds in the princes of this age.) गुणचतुर्दशी—गुणा एव ज्योत्स्ना तस्याः कृष्णचतुर्दशी the fourteenth night of the dark fortnight for the moonlight of merit (i. e. as there is no moonlight on the fourteenth of the dark fortnight, so there are no merits in the princes). सरलता—सरलता कौटिल्यराहित्यमेव सरलता ऋजुता तस्याः योगे श्वपुच्छच्छटा the very perfection of the dog's tail in respect of rectitude (i. e. as the dog's tail can never be straight, so there is no straightforwardness in the princes). तेषां.....कौशलम्—for those (hard workers), how much ability would be required to serve God Śiva who is to be easily attained by faith alone?

अथ केषां.....गणनम् (P. 25, ll. 11-12). Although some of the Rūpakas exemplified above are based upon Paronomasia (of words), they are counted as alaṅkāras of sense, as they are species of Rūpaka. श्लेष is of two kinds, शब्दश्लेष and अर्थश्लेष;

in the former the word itself is important; if we substitute another in its place, the charm vanishes; e. g. योऽसकृत्परगोत्राणां पक्षच्छेदक्षमः स विबुधेन्द्रो राजते; here विबुधेन्द्रो means 'Lord of Gods or lord of learned men'; परगोत्राणां means 'of the families of enemies' or 'of the best mountains' and so on. Here if we substitute the word वंश and पण्डित for गोत्र and विबुध respectively, the double meaning vanishes and then there will be no श्लेष. Therefore as the word is here the chief element, this is called शब्दश्लेष, which is an alankāra of Śabda and not of Artha. In some of the Paramparita Rūpakas founded upon श्लेष, the particular word employed is very important; as e. g. in 'भूभृदावलिदम्भोलिः'. If we substitute here the word पर्वत for भूभृद, then there will be no श्लेष, and this verse would cease to be an example of छिष्टपरम्परित. So then, the verse appears to be an example of शब्दालङ्कार. Our author remarks that, although in such verses the particular words employed are important, still the prominent figure is Rūpaka and श्लेष serves only as a means to an end. Hence it is that the verses are cited under figures of sense. एवं... बोध्यम्—The same is to be understood with respect to alankāras to be spoken of later on.

अधिका... वैशिष्ट्यम् (P. 25, ll. 13-19). Construe (यत्) अधिका रूढवैशिष्ट्यम् रूपकं तत् तदेव—That Rūpaka in which the excellence rises to an excessive pitch is termed the same (i. e. अधिकारूढवैशिष्ट्यम्). अधिकं आरूढं वैशिष्ट्यं यस्मिन् तत्. An example of this is इदं वक्त्रं' etc. अधरः सुधाधाराधारः विरपरिणतं बिम्बम्—the lower lip, the receptacle of nectar, is a bimba fruit ripened after a long time. तनुः अवगाहे सुखतरः लवण्यानां जलधिः—the body is an ocean of charms exceedingly delightful to him who immerses himself in it. In this example, the face is identified with the moon, but the excellence of the face is carried to the highest pitch, by saying that the face is spotless, while the moon has spots; similarly, the बिम्ब fruit is not the receptacle of nectar; lotuses do not bloom day and night (they bloom either by day or in the night); a plunge in the sea is not always delightful. To us this verse appears to be not a distinct variety of रूपक, but of व्यतिरेक. In व्यतिरेक, the superiority of the उपमेय over the उपमान is pointed out. The same is done here. Or if it be said that the superiority of उपमेय is not intended, then we say that this is an example of an ordinary Rūpaka. The Upamāna and Upameya are identified because there is great resemblance; still there must be certain properties in the उपमेय which are not found in the उपमान. Similarly here, the fact that the face is कलङ्कुरहित while the moon is सकलङ्क does not constitute this example a separate figure. Jagannātha says that the possession by the Upameya of a property over and above those of the Upamāna or the non-possession by the Upameya of one of the properties of the Upamāna does not prevent us from identifying Upamāna and Upameya. “वामनस्तु—‘एकगुणहानिकल्पनायां साम्यदार्ढ्यं विशेषोक्तिः’ (कान्यालङ्कारसूत्र IV. 3. 23.) इत्याह उदाजहार च—‘द्युतं हि नाम पुरुषस्यासिंहासनं राज्यम्’ (मृच्छकटिक) इति । अत्र हि द्युते राज्यं तादात्म्येनारोप्यते । तत्र सिंहासनरहितं हि द्युतं सिंहासनसहितराज्यतादात्म्यं कथं वहेदिति आरोपोन्मूलकयुक्तिनिरासायारोप्यमाणे राज्येपि सिंहासनराहित्यं कल्प्यते । तेन द्वारोप रूपकमेवेदम् । न विशेषोक्तिः । एवं च ‘अचतुर्वदनो ब्रह्मा द्विबाहुरपरो हरिः । अमाललोचनः शम्भुर्भगवान्बादरायणः ॥’ इति पौराणपद्येऽपि रूपकमेव । तथा गुणाधिक्यकल्पनायामपि तदेव । यथा—‘धर्मो वपुष्मान्मुवि कार्त्तवीर्यः’ इत्यादौ ।” p. 439. R. G.

with him, the present and the wager assume the form of a smile and and embrace. Here the आरोप्यमाण is उपायन in the first case and पग in the second, while the विषय (i. e. उपमेय) is सित in the first and आश्लेष in the 2nd. Now here the आरोप्यमाण i. e. विषय is not useful in its own nature for the matter in hand, which is welcoming a lover; it will be useful for the matter in hand by being completely identified with the विषय i. e. सित. A lover must be welcomed by a smile etc; ordinary presents would not do. Therefore, here the आरोप्यमाण उपायन in its own sense is not suitable to the purpose in hand; it becomes suitable only when it is identified with the smile. Similarly in the case of आश्लेष. प्रथमार्धे.....सामानाधिकरण्येन—In the first half of this verse, the figure is used without apposition (of उपमान and उपमेय) i. e. सितेन is in the Instrumental and उपायन in the Nominative, and in the second half with an apposition (of उपमान and उपमेय i. e. पगः and आश्लेषः are both in the nom.). रूपके.....तादात्म्येन. The author here distinguishes between रूपक and परिणाम. In Rūpaka, as for instance in 'I see the moon-face', the superimposed moon only serves to distinguish the face, but it has nothing to do with the act of seeing, which is the matter in hand. But in Parināma, the present (उपायन, the आरोप्यमाण or उपमान) is completely identified with the subject of superimposition, viz. the lady's smile (the आरोपविषय or उपमेय); and the present as so identified subserves the purpose in hand, viz. honouring the lover. अत एवअत्र तु तादात्म्येन—Hence is it that in Rūpaka, what is superimposed (the उपमान) is construed simply as characterizing or distinguishing the subject; but in परिणाम, the thing superimposed (आरोप्य) is construed as being completely identical. The word अवच्छेदक is a technical one, of which the Naiyāyikas are very fond. It means 'a determining attribute.' When we say मुखचन्द्रः, what the word चन्द्र effects is simply to tell us that the face is one which possesses most of the qualities of the moon and is similar to it. It serves to distinguish the particular face from other faces which do not possess great similarity to the moon. The distinction between Rūpaka and Parināma when briefly stated is this:—In Rūpaka, the उपमान tinges or colours the Upameya simply, but the उपमान is not necessarily of any use for the matter in hand as in मुखचन्द्रं पश्यामि, where the moon subserves no purpose in the act of seeing. In परिणाम, on the other hand, the उपमान

is completely identified with the Upameya and subserve the purpose in hand by being so identified e. g. प्रसन्नेन दृग्भजेन वीक्षते मदिरेक्षणा; here the word अब्ज (lotus) is connected with the action of seeing as its agent. But a lotus in its own nature cannot see. It can be the agent of seeing only if it be thoroughly identified with the eye and when thus identified with the eye, it will subserve the purpose in hand. In Rūpaka, the उपमान is superimposed upon the Upameya, which is the subject of discussion; while in Parināma the उपमान passes over entirely into the nature of the Upameya and subserve the purpose in hand. So it is प्रकृतोपयोगित्वं that distinguishes this figure from Rūpaka. The word रूपित in the definition of Rūpaka was said above to distinguish it from Parināma. It is now clear from the above that, what is meant is that in रूपक there is simply a superimposition of the रूपित (i. e. of what gives its form to another). Our author, in distinguishing रूपक and परिणाम, appears to borrow the words of Ruyyaka; “आरोप्यमाणं रूपके प्रकृतोपयोगित्वाभावात्प्रकृतोपरञ्जकत्वेनैव केवलेनान्वयं भजते परिणामे तु प्रकृतात्मतया आरोप्यमाणस्योपयोग इति प्रकृतमारोप्यमाणरूपत्वेन परिणमति ।” p. 40 अलं २०, on which जयरथ remarks “एवमत्र प्रकरणोपयोगित्वाभावादित्यारोप्यमाणस्योपयोग इति चान्वयव्यतिरेकाभ्यां प्रकृतोपयोगित्वस्य असाधारणत्वं दर्शितम् । असाधारणत्वस्य हि धर्मस्य तत्त्वव्यवस्थापकत्वाच्छक्यत्वम् ।” p. 41; उपयोग इति तेन विना प्रकृतार्थस्यानिवृत्तेः । जयरथ p. 40.

Our author is not very clear in his exposition of Parināma. The Chitramīmāṃsā is very explicit on this point “यच्चारोप्यमाणं किञ्चित्कार्योपयोगित्वेन निबध्यमानं स्वतस्तस्य तदुपयोगित्वासम्भवात्प्रकृतात्मतापत्तिमपेक्षते तत्रैव परिणामाङ्गीकारात् । ‘प्रसन्नेन दृग्भजेन वीक्षते मदिरेक्षणा’ इति ।” p. 55. It then explains how this verse is an example of परिणाम; “अत्र तु अब्जस्य वीक्षणोपयोगित्वं निबध्यते । मयूरव्यंसकादिसमासेनोत्तरपदप्राधान्यात् । न चोपमिति (त?) समासाश्रयणेन पूर्वपदार्थप्राधान्याद्दृष्टं एव तदुपयोगित्वं निबध्यत इत्यस्त्विति वाच्यम् । प्रसन्नेति सामान्यधर्मप्रयोगात् । ‘उपमितं व्याघ्रादिभिः सामान्याप्रयोगे’ (पा. II. 1. 56) इति तदप्रयोग एवोपमितसमासानुशासनात् । अब्जस्य च वीक्षणोपयोगित्वं न स्वात्मना सम्भवति । अतः प्रकृतदृगात्मतापत्त्यपेक्षणात् परिणामालङ्कारः ।” p. 55. The चि. मी. distinguishes रूपक and परिणाम as ‘रूपके प्रकृतमप्रकृतरूपापन्नं भवति परिणामे तु अप्रकृतं प्रकृतरूपापन्नं भवति’ p. 59. Similarly, Jagannātha very clearly defines Parināma as ‘विषयी (i. e. उपमानम्) यत्र विषयात्मतयैव प्रकृते प्रकृतोपयोगी न स्वातन्त्र्येण (i. e. स्वस्वरूपेण) स परिणामः’ R. G. p. 248. His example of परिणाम is a beautiful one. ‘अपारे संसारे विषमविषयारण्यसरणौ मम भ्रामंभ्रामं विगलितविरामं जडमतेः । परिभ्रान्तस्यायं तरणितनयावीरनिन्द्यः समन्तात्सन्तापं हरिन्वतमालस्तिरयतु ॥’. Upon this verse he remarks

‘भगवदात्मतयैव तमालस्य संसारतापनिवर्तनक्षमत्वम् । मार्गश्रान्तजनसन्तापहारकत्वात् रमणीयशोभाधारत्वाच्च तनालो विषयितयोपात्तः ।’ R. G. p. 248. In the above example, the तमाल (a tree) cannot on its own account be said to remove the worry of this life; it can do so only if it is identified with the Dēty, who is the subject of discussion. The एकावली defines परिणाम quite differently ‘तं परिणामं द्विविधं कथयन्त्यारोप्यमाणरूपतया । परिणमनि यत्र विषयः प्रस्तुतकार्योपयोगाय ॥ यत्रारोपविषयः (i. e. उपमेय) प्रकृतकार्यसिद्धयर्थमारोप्यमाणरूपतया परिणमति तत्र यथार्थोपनिधानः परिणामः’ । pp. 220-21. This is directly opposed to the words of our author आरोप्ये (उपमाने) विषयात्मतया (उपमेयात्मतया) प्रकृतार्थोपयोगिनि etc. and of Jagannātha ‘विषयी (उपमानम्) यत्र विषयात्मतयैव (उपमेयात्मतयैव) प्रकृते प्रकृतोपयोगी etc.’ The Ekāvalī means that where the Upameya cannot in its own nature serve the purpose in hand, but can do so only as completely passing over into the nature of the Upamāna, there is परिणाम; while our author and Jagannātha say that where the Upamāna does not subserve the purpose in hand in its own nature, but does so only as completely identified with the Upameya, there is परिणाम. The एकावली seems to follow the अलं० सं० which says ‘प्रकृतमारोप्यमाणरूपत्वेन परिणमति’ p. 40. But the अलं० सं० appears to us to be self-contradictory. It defines परिणाम as ‘आरोप्यमाणस्य प्रकृतोपयोगित्वे परिणामः’ and says further on ‘परिणामे तु प्रकृतात्मतया आरोप्यमाणस्योपयोगः’. This is exactly our author’s view; but the words ‘प्रकृतमारोप्यमाणरूपत्वेन परिणमति’ placed after आरोप्यमाणस्योपयोगः are exactly the reverse of what our author says. An example of परिणाम according to the एकावली is “राजन् नृसिंह भवतः समरोत्सवेषु धूलीमिरन्धतमसं सपदि व्यधायि । निखिशकृतशिरसाममरत्वभाजां स्वर्गाङ्गनासुरतकेलिषु शात्रवाणाम् ॥ अत्रारोप्यमाणान्धतमसरूपतया परिणतानां धूलीनां प्रस्तुतसुरतोपयोगित्वम् ।” p. 222. It should be noted that Mammata does not recognize the figure Parināma. उद्बोधत takes the same view. Vide its remarks “यच्च आरोप्यमाणो यत्र विषयात्मतयैव प्रकृतकार्योपयोगी न स्वातन्त्र्येण स परिणामः (this is जगन्नाथ’s लक्षण) । अत्र च विषयामेदः आरोप्यमाणे उपयुज्यते रूपके तु नैवमिति विशेषः (these are the words of R. G. p. 248) । वदनेन्दुना तन्वी सरतापं विलुम्पति-इत्यादि उदाहरणम् । अत्र हि सरतापनाशनसामर्थ्यं मुखात्मनैवेन्द्रोः । त्र्योष्मसन्तापहारकत्वाद् रमणीयशोभाधारत्वाच्चेन्दुर्विषयतयोपात्तः’ इति दाक्षिणात्याः । तन्न । इन्द्रो वदन्तादात्म्य-प्रतीतेर्वर्णनीयमुखाबनुत्कर्षकत्वेनालङ्कारत्वाभावाद् इति दिक् ।” p. 30 (Chān).

दासे.....घटनार्थमनुसन्धीयते (P. 26, ll. 3-5). In the verse ‘दासे’ quoted above (text p. 24), there is Rūpaka and not परिणाम. It may be objected that in the verse ‘दासे कृतागति’ there is परिणाम, as दासे आरोप्यमाण कण्टक, which is well-known as the cause of piercing, the foot, is here identified with पुलक (उपमेय). पुलक cannot be connected in its own sense with पादभेदन, but only when identified with कण्टक. Thus the verse will be an example of परिणाम according to the view of the एकावली, which says 'यत्रारोपविषयः (i. e. उपमेय; here पुलक) प्रकृतकार्यसिद्धयर्थम् (here पादभेदन-रूपप्रकृतकार्यसिद्धयर्थम्) आरोप्यमाणात्मतया (here कण्टकात्मतया) परिणमति तत्र परिणामः'. To this our author replies that in 'दासे' there is रूपक; because, the act of piercing the foot, brought about by the thorn which is the आरोप्यनाम, is not the matter in hand. If पादभेदन is not the matter in hand there cannot be परिणाम, of which the characteristic mark is प्रकृतोपयोगित्व. In 'दासे' etc., the प्रकृत is the removal of the sense of wounded pride. It may be said that although पादभेदन is not the matter in hand, still it helps to bring out the प्रकृत sense (मानमङ्ग) and is thus प्रकृतोपयोगि. The author replies 'न खलु' etc. तत्र = पादभेदनम्. Nor is the piercing of the foot understood to help towards the bringing out of any of the matters in hand in that verse.

अयमपि.....वैशिष्ट्यम् (P. 26, ll. 6-10). As the author spoke of अधिकारूढवैशिष्ट्यरूपक, so he speaks of अधिकारूढवैशिष्ट्यपरिणाम "वनेचराणां...सुरतप्रदीपाः". This is Kumārasam. I 10. यत्र = हिमालये. दरी एव गृहं तस्य उत्सङ्गः (lap i. e. interior) तस्मिन् निषक्ताः मासः यासाम्—This qualifies ओषधयः. अतैलपूराः qualifies प्रदीपाः and means 'unfed by oil.' वनितासखानां वनेचराणां to the foresters accompanied by their consorts. In this verse ओषधयः are आरोपविषय or उपमेय; प्रदीपाः are the आरोप्यमाण or उपमान. The प्रकृत is the removal of darkness, which is favourable to dalliance. The lamps subserve the purpose in hand as identified with the ओषधयः, the आरोपविषय, and hence there is परिणाम. As the lamps are said to be unfed by oil, there is अधिकारूढवैशिष्ट्य, while ordinary lamps require to be fed by oil. In our view this is, as remarked by Jagannātha, Rūpaka itself. In explaining the application of his definition of परिणाम to the verse, the author appears to have broken down completely. One may well argue that the lamps (विपरी) can in their own nature very well serve the matter in hand i. e. removal of darkness. It is ओषधयः that cannot well serve the matter in hand and do so only when completely identified with lamps i. e. here the आरोप्य (the lamps) are नो विषयात्मतया प्रकृतार्थोपयोगि but in their own nature. Hence the definition of परिणाम as given by विश्वनाथ does not apply to this verse. The definition of एकावली applies; यत्र विषयः (i. e. here ओषधयः) प्रस्तुतकार्योपयोगाय (i. e. अन्धकारनाशाय) आरोप्यमाणरूपतया (i. e. प्रदीपरूपतया) परिणमति स परिणामः. The word अतैलपूराः is to be kept aside, according to our author, so far as mere परिणाम is concerned; the addition of that word makes this verse an example of अधिकारूढवैशिष्ट्य परिणाम. So the figure परिणाम is constituted by the words यत्र रजन्यां ओषधयः सुरतप्रदीपा भवन्ति. In that case, it is difficult to see how the author's remarks अत्र प्रदीपाना... योगः apply to the example.

प्रकृतेऽन्यस्य प्रतिभोत्थितः संशयः सन्देहः—When an object under discussion is poetically suspected to be something else, it is called a Doubt. It is three-fold, शुद्ध, निश्चयगर्भ (containing a certainty) and निश्चयान्त (ending in a certainty). प्रकृत means उपमेय. अन्यस्य = अप्रकृतस्य i. e. उपमानस्य. Two things are necessary to constitute the figure सन्देहः; (I) the doubt must be due to सादृश्य and (II) the doubt must be poetical and not matter of fact (i. e. must be चमत्कृतिजनक); e. g. इतो गता सा क गता न जाने गेहं गता मे हृदयं गता वा; here there is a doubt but it is not due to सादृश्य; therefore there is no सन्देहालङ्कार; in 'स्वाणुर्वा पुरुषो वा', the doubt, though it may be सादृश्यमूलक, is not poetical; therefore there is no सन्देहालङ्कार. यत्र.....शृङ्गारिणः (p. 26, ll. 13-17). It is शुद्ध where it terminates in doubt. किं ताहण्य.....शृङ्गारिणः—This verse is ascribed to Bandhu in सुभाषितावलि (No. 1471). It is cited by अलं. स. p. 43 also. ताहण्यमेव तरुः. 'Is she a new sprout, that from an exuberance of रस (juice, also feeling) has burst forth from the tree of youthfulness?' वेलाप्रोच्छलितस्य = वेलायां प्रोच्छलितस्य उद्गतस्य overflowing the shores. लावण्यमेव वारानिधिः उदधिः. स्वसमयोपन्यासविश्रम्भिणः (स्वसमयस्य स्वसिद्धान्तस्य उपन्यासे ज्ञापने विश्रम्भिणः प्रणयिनः । राम०) देवस्य शृङ्गारिणः (मदनस्य) किं उद्गाढोल्लिखितावताम् (अगाधोल्लिखितावताम्) साक्षादुपदेशयतिः—'Is she the chastising rod of the Deity of love, eager to expound his doctrines to men who are deeply agitated (by fancy)?' उपदेशयतिः उपदेशार्थं यतिः ताडनवेष्टादिदण्डः विद्यायाः उपदेष्टारः बालानां चपलचित्तनिवारणाय ताडनार्थं यतिं गृह्णन्ति इति प्रसिद्धमेव. Here, no conclusion is arrived at; and therefore this is an example of शुद्धसन्देह. यत्र.....निश्चयमध्यः—That is निश्चयमध्य where there is a doubt at the beginning and another at the end; but certainty in the middle. Compare अलं० स० 'निश्चयगर्भो यः संशयोपक्रमो निश्चयमध्यः संशयान्तश्च' p. 43. 'अयं मार्तण्ड.....प्रतिमताः'—मार्तण्डः The sun. इतः = उक्तः. कुशानुः = अग्निः. एवः = अग्निः. प्रतिमताः foemen. विकल्पान्विदधति uncertain doubts. This verse is cited by Mammata as well as

Ruyyaka. Here at first a doubt is raised that the king is the sun; this doubt is dispelled by the fact that the king rides a single horse. So then there is the certainty that he is not the sun (i. e. निश्चयः गर्भे यस्य). It is not yet certain that he is the king; for if that were so, no new doubt can arise. So what is certain is the absence of the first doubt. Then comes the doubt that he is fire; and so on. So here there is संशय first, then निश्चय (dispelling of the संशय) and then there is another doubt. यत्रादौ.....परोक्षैः (p. 26, ll 26-28). Compare अलं. स. 'यत्र संशय उपक्रमो निश्चये पर्यवसानम्' p. 43. किं तावत्...परोक्षैः—This occurs in शिशुः VII. 9. आरात् near. वकसहवासिनां (पद्मानां) परोक्षैः (अपरिचितैः) विब्वोक्तैः (शृङ्गारभावजैः चेष्टाविशेषैः, as defined in 'विब्वोक्तोऽभिमत-प्राप्तावपि गर्वादनादरः') by means of those gestures of loving indifference unknown to the lotuses. Here a doubt is raised first whether it is a lotus or the face of a young woman. At last by advertng to some property peculiar to the Upameya, a certainty is arrived at that it is the face. After this certainty there is no new doubt. मध्यं तव.....भासते. पयोधरभरेण अर्दितम् oppressed by the weight of the breasts. This is an example of अतिशयोक्ति (Hyperbole) and not सन्देह, because when the उपमान is suspected in place of the उपमेय, it is सन्देह. In 'मध्यं तव' etc., no उपमान is mentioned; the doubt is in reference to the same thing, without suspecting it to be something else.

Our author follows Mammāṭa and Ruyyaka in the three-fold division of this figure. Ruyyaka, Vāmana, the Ekavālī and our author call this figure सन्देह; while दण्डिन्, भामह, उद्भट, मम्मट and Jagannātha call it ससन्देह, which उद्भट explains as 'सन्देहेन सह विषयतया तद्विशिष्टः इति ससन्देहः' p. 26. Dandīn includes it undr उपमा; 'अनन्वयससन्देहादुपमास्वेव दर्शितौ' काव्यादर्श II. 358. भामह's example is 'किमयं शशी न स दिवा विराजते कुसुमासुषो न धनुरस्य कौसुमम् । इति विस्मयाद् विमृशतोऽपि मे मतिस्त्वयि वीक्षिते न लभतेऽयं निश्चयम् ॥' III. 44, place their jars beneath the cows. कैरव white lotus (सिते कुमुद-कैरवे । अमर I. 10. 37). कुवलय blue lotus. कर्कन्धू = वदरी the jujube tree. सान्द्रा चंद्रिका—The profuse moonlight. In this verse, the profuse light of the moon is represented as causing error. The jujube fruit, when the rays of the moon fall upon it so as to make it shine, is mistaken for a pearl. Here the error is due to similarity. The word तन् in तद्वद्धि refers to the उपमान & c. अप्राकरणिक and अतत् means the उपमेय or प्राकरणिक. स्वरसोत्थापिता etc. An illusion caused by the nature of things (and not poetically represented) does not come under this figure; as for example, the illusion of silver on mother-o-pearl; or of a snake on a rope. स्वरस means 'स्वभाव' here. An illusion not arising from resemblance is not the subject of the present figure, as in सङ्गम etc. सङ्गम-विरहविकल्पे—In a choice between her company and her separation. सङ्गे.....विरहे—In union there is but she alone, but in separation, the three worlds themselves are nothing but herself. Here the illusion of looking upon the three worlds as the woman is not due to सादृश्य (but to love and constant thoughts about her) and there is no भ्रान्तिमान्.

An example of this figure is प्रश्नोत्तरं नु हरिचन्दनपल्लवानां निष्पीडितेन्दुकरकन्दलजो नु सेकः । आतप्तजीविततरोः परितर्पणो मे सजीवनौषधिरसो नु हृदि प्रसिक्तः ॥ उत्तरराम० III. 11.

8 भ्रान्तिमान् (Error)

The अलं स० explains the name भ्रान्तिमान् as follows—भ्रान्ति-श्चित्तधर्मः । स विद्यते यस्मिन्भणितिप्रकारे स भ्रान्तिमान् ।' p. 44. on which जयरथ remarks 'अतश्चालङ्कारे भ्रान्तिसङ्भाव उपचरितः :'. Error is a property of the mind and hence भ्रान्तिमान् would mean 'a person who is in error.' The अलङ्कार is not in error and so cannot be primarily called भ्रान्तिमान्. But the figure is called भ्रान्तिमान् in a secondary sense, as in its expression is given to a person's error. Similarly जगन्नाथ remarks "अत्र च भ्रान्तिमात्रमलङ्कारः । भ्रान्तिमानलङ्कार इति व्यवहार-स्त्वौपचारिकः । तथा चाहुः । 'प्रमात्रन्तरधीर्भ्रान्तिरूपं यस्मिन्ननुब्रूयते । स भ्रान्तिमानिति ख्यातोऽलङ्कारे त्वौपचारिकः ॥"' R. G. p. 266.

Two conditions are essential to constitute this figure; (I) The error must be due to similarity (and not to a stroke etc.) and (II) the error must be poetical. The verse 'दामोदर-कराघातचूर्णिताशेषवक्षसा । दृष्टं चाणूरमल्लेन शतचन्द्रं नभस्तलम् ॥' is not an example of भ्रान्तिमान्, because here the illusion is due to the heavy blow (and not to सादृश्य). . Although in 'शुक्तौ रजतमिति' there is similarity and error, there is no भ्रान्तिमान्, as there is no poetical beauty in it (वैचित्र्य). Jagannātha defines भ्रान्तिमान् as 'सदृशे धर्मिणि तादात्म्येन धर्म्यन्तरप्रकारकोऽनाहार्यो निश्चयः सादृश्यप्रयोज्यश्चमत्कारी प्रकृते भ्रान्तिः । सा च पशुपद्यादिगता यस्मिन्वाक्यसन्दर्भेऽनुब्रूयते स भ्रान्तिमान् ।' R. G. p. 266. He finds fault with those who cite a verse containing many errors as an example of भ्रान्तिमान् (as our author does). He says there must be a single error, or otherwise the figure उल्लेख to be defined below will have no province, as it is nothing but a series of errors in connection with the same thing made by many perceivers 'लक्षणे चात्रैकत्वं विवक्षितम् । अन्यथा वक्ष्यमाणानेव ग्रहीतृकानेकप्रकारैकविशेष्यकभ्रान्तिसमुदायात्ननुल्लेखेऽपि प्रसङ्गापत्तेः ।' R. G. p. 267. His example of भ्रान्तिमान् is 'रामं खिग्धनरदयामं विलोक्य वनमण्डले । धाराधरधिया धीरं नृत्सन्ति स शिखावलाः ॥' R. G. p. 270.

What distinguishes Rūpaka from भ्रान्तिमान् is that in Rūpaka the knowledge is आहार्य while in भ्रान्तिमान् it is अनाहार्य. आहार्य means बाधकालीनमिच्छाजन्यं ज्ञानम्. In Rūpaka, we identify the उपमान (चन्द्र) with the उपमेय; this we do in भ्रान्तिमान् also. But in Rūpaka, we are conscious that मुख and चन्द्र are quite distinct and we identify them because there is great similarity between them; in भ्रान्तिमान् there is no consciousness that the उपमान and उपमेय are separate, the उपमान is rather mistaken for the उपमेय.

कचिद् ग्रहीतृणां मेदात् तथा कचिद् विषयाणां मेदात् एकस्य यः अनेकधा उल्लेखः स उल्लेख उच्यते—The description of one under different characters arising from a difference of perceivers or from difference of the objects is termed Representation. Our author gives two varieties of उल्लेख. The first is that where a certain object is apprehended by different persons in different ways through different causee e. g. the verse 'प्रिय इति' etc. Here the Lord (who is one) is apprehended as प्रिय, शिशु, अधीश, नारायण and ब्रह्म by the milkmaids, by elderly men like Nanda, by other gods, by devotees and by ascetics respectively through different causes. The milkmaids call him प्रिय because they love him, the devotees call him नारायण because they desire His grace and so on. The second variety is that where one and the same thing is described in different ways on account of the difference of विषय or आश्रय, although there are not many perceivers. An example is 'सत्रीडा दयितानने सकरुणा मातङ्गचर्माम्बरे सत्रासा मुञ्गे सविस्मयरसा चन्द्रेऽमृतस्यन्दिनी । सेष्या जह्नुतावलोक्नविधौ दीना कपालोदरे पार्वत्या नवसङ्गमप्रणयिनी दृष्टिः शिवायास्तु वः ॥' (quoted in K. P. VII p. 434 Wā. and by जयरथ p. 49). In this verse the sight of Pārvatī, which is one, is represented as of different sorts (bashful or jealous etc.) on account of the varieties of objects (विषयभेद) on which it falls. This second variety is alluded to by the अलं. स. also; 'पूर्वत्र ग्रहीतृभेदेनानेकधात्तोल्लेखः इह तु विषयभेदेन ।' p. 49. The चित्रमीमांसा defines this 2nd variety clearly as 'ग्रहीतृभेदाभावेऽपि

अत्र...तात्त्विकत्वात् (P. 27, ll. 22-26). The author now proceeds to distinguish the figure from other figures. The verse 'प्रिय इति' etc. is not an example of मालारूपक. In मालारूपक instanced above in 'निर्माणकौशलं' etc. we superimpose many things upon one thing on account of the latter being very similar to many objects. We are, however, all along conscious that the things are distinct. But here in 'प्रिय इति' there is no mere superim- position of प्रिय (lover), नारायण etc. upon the Lord; here there is no आरोप; but the Lord is, as a matter of fact, प्रिय to the milk- maids. Besides, the perceivers are here many. In मालारूपक the perceiver is one. Nor is this verse an example of आन्तिमान्. An objector may say that 'प्रिय इति' is an example of आन्तिमान्, as here there is अतर्हिस्तदुद्धिः. Our author says that it is not so. In this verse the Lord is looked upon as beloved not because of any illusion due to similarity, but because he is really so to them. The चि. मी. says that what distinguishes उल्लेख from आन्तिमान् is that in the former there is always निमित्तमेद; while in the latter there is a single निमित्त; e. g. in 'प्रिय इति' etc. the निमित्त are रुचि, अर्थित्व etc; while in 'मुग्धा दुग्धधिया' etc. the निमित्त is one i. e. the profuse moonlight. According to Jagannātha in आन्तिमान् there is a single error that is charm- ing; उल्लेख is constituted by many errors, the charm lying in the number of illusions on the part of many as regards the

नेकग्रहीतृकानेकप्रकारकैकविशेषकभ्रान्तिसमुदायात्मन्युल्लेखेऽतिप्रसङ्गापत्तेः* ।' R. G.
p. 267. According to Jagannātha's view the verse 'मुग्धा मुग्ध'° will be an example of उल्लेख. Nor is this verse 'प्रिय इति' etc.
an example of अतिशयोक्ति consisting in making a distinction where there is none. अतिशयोक्ति, which will be defined below, has five varieties. One of these is that where we poetically make a distinction while there is none as a matter of fact. An instance is 'अन्यदेवाङ्गलावण्यमन्याः सौरभसम्पदः । तस्याः पद्मपलाशाक्ष्याः सरस्त्वमलौकिकम् ॥' न चेह—Here, although beauty is always one and the same, the poet says that the beauty of a particular woman is a strange one, quite distinct from all other beauty. In this verse the objects, beauty etc., are represented as distinct. न चेह.....तात्त्विकत्वाद्—But here (i. e. in 'प्रिय इति') the character of being beloved is not poetically ascribed to the Deity by the milkmaids; it did really belong to the Lord at the time (when they saw him).

केचिदाहुः.....लङ्कारयोगः (P. 27, l. 26-p. 28, l. 10). नियमेन Invariably. अलङ्कारान्तरविच्छित्तिमूलः—विच्छित्ति means 'charm or strikingness'; अलङ्कारान्तरं विच्छित्तिमूलं यस्य—That which derives its charm from another figure. Some say that उल्लेख cannot be found by itself; it is always associated with some other figure from which it derives its charm. In the example (प्रिय इति etc.)
there is अतिशयोक्ति (Hyperbole) inasmuch as Kṛṣṇa, though really one and the same, is represented as distinct (भिन्नत्वाध्य-वसायः) with respect to the several beholders, under the characters of one beloved etc. which are intended to be exclusive of those of a child etc. वृद्धैश्च शिशुरेवाग्राहि इत्येवं नियताभि- प्रायादित्यर्थः । तथा च यूनि देवे शिशुभिर्नपि शिष्यमेदारोपाद् मेदेपि अमेदारोपरूपाति- शयोक्तिर्दार्शिता । The Lord Kṛṣṇa is represented as प्रिय; then it is meant that to them he is not शिशु etc. So in Kṛṣṇa, who is one and the same, different characters are assumed as in 'अन्यद् एवाङ्गलावण्यम्'. So there is अतिशयोक्ति (असेदे मेदः) and we need not define उल्लेख as a separate figure. Our author replies:—तत्सद्भवेऽपि.....प्रयोजकः—He admits that अतिशयोक्ति is present in the verse प्रिय इति etc., but notwithstanding this, the peculiar charm consisting in the apprehension of the same object as different due to a difference of perceivers constitutes a separate figure called उल्लेख. ओकण्ठजनपदवर्णने...रूपकालङ्कार-

* The अलं. स. appears to hold the same view 'एवं हि तत्र विषये
भ्रान्तिमदलङ्कारोऽस्तु । अतद्वपस्य तद्वपप्रतीतिनिवन्धनत्वाद् । नैतद् । अनेकधाग्र-

योग:—In the description of the country called श्रीकण्ठ (in हर्ष-चरित III. para. 10 ff of my edition) the passage (III. 13) 'it was fancied to be an adamantine cage by those who sought it for refuge, the mine by those who sought treasure'* is an instances of उल्लेख, apart from अतिशयोक्ति, it being here associated with रूपक. It is the अलं स. which says that here उल्लेख is associated with रूपक; "नन्वेतन्मध्ये 'वज्रपञ्जरमिति शरणागतैरसुरविवरमिति वातिकैः' इत्यादौ रूपकालङ्कारयोग इति कथनयमुल्लेखालङ्कारविषयः। सत्यम्। अस्ति तावत् 'तपोवनम्' इत्यादौ रूपकविविक्तोऽस्य विषयः। यदत्र वस्तुतस्तद्भूतायाः (i. e. तपोवनादिरूपतायाः) सम्भवः।" p. 47. वस्तुतस्तु.....प्रयोजकत्वात् (p. 28, ll. 4-5) strictly speaking, in the clause 'mine' etc'. they would have the figure आन्तिमान् and not Rūpaka. Our author disagrees with the view of the अलं० स० and says that in 'असुरविवरम्' etc. there is आन्तिमान् and not रूपक as admitted by अलं स. भेदप्रतीति.....प्रयोजकत्वात्—The superimposition of something only when preceded by the apprehension of its distinction from what it is superimposed upon gives rise to the figure रूपक, which is founded upon गौणीलक्षणा. In रूपक, the आरोप्यमाण and आरोपविषय are apprehended as distinct, but the former is superimposed upon the latter on account of their possessing certain properties in common. In saying मुखं चन्द्रः the word चन्द्रः is used in a secondary sense i. e. there is लक्षणा which is here गौणी as it is due to सादृश्यसम्बन्ध.

यदाहुः.....पुरःसर इति. The author quotes a venerable writer in support of his statement that in Rūpaka, which is based upon गौणी लक्षणा, there is apprehension of the difference of उपमान and उपमेय. वाचस्पतिमिश्र wrote a commentary called भामती on the शारीरकभाष्य of शङ्कराचार्य; शङ्कराचार्य expounds the Vedāntasūtras of Bādarāyana. The quotation occurs on p. 7 of the Bhāmātī (Nirn. edition). अपि च परशब्दः.....पुरःसरः—A word (implying the उपमान) is used to signify something else (i. e. उपमेय) on account of the possession of some attributes which are common to both. When in such an employment of words, the speaker and

* J. B. and N. read 'अम्बरविवरमिति वातिकैः'. Pramadādāsa translates 'the ethereal void by the chāśakas' (so he read चातकैः). Our reading is that of the Harṣacarita as printed. The commentator explains वातिकैः as विवरव्यसनिभिराचार्यैः. The अलं० स० reads as we do. असुरविवर seems to mean 'shaft of gold ~~or~~ diamond mine that had already been worked up in bygone days.' Vide our notes on the passage (in हर्षचरित p. 90 notes).

the hearer have the right apprehension (i. e. the understanding of resemblance), it is qualitative (i. e. the function is there qualitative); and it is preceded by an apprehension of difference between the two objects.' As in गौणी, there is apprehension of difference, so in रूपक, founded on गौणी लक्षणा, there must be also apprehension of difference. इह तु वातिकानां etc. But here in the description of the country श्रीकण्ठ, the imposition upon it of the nature of असुरविवर is due to the mistake of the vātikas. So, as there is error and not apprehension of difference, there is no Rūpaka, as said by अलं स०, but there is भ्रान्तिमान् in 'असुरविवरम्' etc. अत्रैव च...परिणामालङ्कारयोगः—In the same passage, in 'a sacred grove by the ascetics, the temple of Love by courtézans' we have an instance of the association of उल्लेख with the figure परिणाम. Here the things superimposed viz., तपोवन and कामावनन, subserve the purpose in hand viz. the performance of austerities and carrying on love affairs; therefore there is Parināma. The अलं स० gives these words as an example of उल्लेख (p. 47), in which there is no रूपक.

गाम्भीर्येण.....योगः (P. 28, ll. 11-14.). The author now comes to the treatment of the 2nd उल्लेख, viz. विषयभेदात् एकस्यानेकधा उल्लेखः. गाम्भीर्य Depth. गौरव weightiness. The distinction of the objects i. e. the qualities of solemnity etc. are the cause of the manifold representation of the same man. In the first variety, the representation is due to the manifold perceivers; in the 2nd, it is due to the manifold attributes. Here the figure is associated with Rūpaka. 'गुरुर्वचसि' etc.—this is हर्षचरित III. 16. This is another example of the 2nd sort of उल्लेख. In speech he is Guru (weighty or बृहस्पति, who is the god of eloquence). In chest he is पृथु (vast, or the king पृथु son of वेन); in fame he is अर्जुन (white or Arjuna, one of the Pāṇḍavas). This is a case in which it has a province apart from Rūpaka (i. e. there is no Rūpaka here). Here उल्लेख is associated with अतिशयोक्ति based upon श्लेष (i. e. the words गुरु, पृथु, अर्जुन are paronomastic). 'पृथुरसि, अर्जुनो यज्ञसि' are cited by the अलं स० (p. 49). Compare चन्द्रालोक V. 20 'एकेन बहुधोल्लेखोऽप्यसौ विषयभेदतः । गुरुर्वचस्यर्जुनोऽयं कीर्तौ भीष्मः शरासने ॥'. An example of the first sort as given by the चन्द्रालोक is 'बहुभिर्बहुधोल्लेखादेकस्योल्लेख इष्यते । स्त्रीभिः कामोऽर्थिभिः स्वर्गुः कालः शत्रुभिरैक्षि सः ॥' V. 19.

स्थापनम्. कचिदप.....इति—Sometimes the attribution of another character is preceded by the denial of the real nature and sometimes the denial of the real nature is preceded by the superimposition of another. नेदं नभोमण्डलमम्बुराशिः This is not the sky, but the ocean. नवफेनभङ्गाः fragments of fresh foam. कुण्डलितः फणीन्द्रः—शेय with a coiled tail. Here there is first of all अपहृत् i. e. denial of the nature of नभोमण्डल and then the attribution of अम्बुराशि. एतद्विभाति.....कैतवेन. चरमाचलचूडनुम्बि kissing the crest of the setting mountain. हिण्डीरः means 'foam'.* हिण्डीरस्य पिण्डस्तस्य रुचिरिव रुचिर्यस्य स चासौ शीतमरीचिश्च (चन्द्रः) तस्य विन्म्व. रजनीम् उज्ज्वलितस्य मदनालस्य धूमं प्रकटलाञ्छनकैतवेन दधत् (विन्म्व) bearing the smoke, under the disguise of the clearly seen spot, of the fire of love kindled during the night. धूम is superimposed upon the spot in the moon and then by the word कैतव the spot is denied to be what it really is (अपहृत्). विराजति...बोधः—similarly, the negation of the real character is to be understood under such a form as the following 'the ocean shines in the form of the heavens and the stars are the foam thereof'. Here the उपमेय व्योम is not directly negated, but the negation is to be understood from the word वपुः. The अलङ्कारसर्वस्व says that the figure अपहृति presents three aspects; 'तस्य च त्रयी बन्धलाया-अपहृत्पूर्वक आरोपः । आरोपपूर्वकोऽपहृत् । छलादिशब्दैरसत्यत्वप्रतिपादकैर्वापहृत्निर्देशः । पूर्वोत्तमेद्वये वाक्यभेदः । तृतीयभेदे त्वेकवाक्यम् ।' p. 50. On the employment of the word वपुः in the example 'विराजति व्योमवपुः पयोधिः', compare the remarks of अलं. स. 'कचित्पुनरसत्यत्वं वस्त्वन्तरूपताभिधायिवपुःशब्दादिनिबन्धनम्' p. 52. The word वपुः means 'body' and when it is joined to another word, it conveys the idea that the thing, expressed by the noun to which it is joined, is something else and thus conveys the negation of the nature of the thing. भामह's example of अपहृति is 'नेयं विरौति भृङ्गाली मदेन मुखरा मुहुः । अयमाकृत्यमाणस्य कन्दर्पधनुषो ध्वनिः ॥' III. 23. उद्भट gives 'एतद्वि न तपः सत्यमिदं हालाहलं विषम् । विशेषतः शशिकलाकोमलानां भवाद्वाशम् ॥' V. 4. The verse † 'न विषं विषमित्याहुर्नृद्धास्वं विषमुच्यते । विषमेकाकिनं हन्ति ब्रह्मस्वं तु ससन्ततिम् ॥' is not an example of अपहृति, but of रूपक. Here the nature of विष is not denied and nothing else is established in its place; on the contrary ब्रह्मस्व (the wealth of a brāhmaṇa)

* 'हिण्डीरोऽब्धिकफः फेनः' अमर० III. 9. 105.

† This occurs in वसिष्ठधर्मसूत्र 17. 86, where we have पुत्रपौत्रकम् ईश्वरं तु ससन्ततिम्. The बौधायनधर्मसूत्र (I. 5. 102) reads 'ब्रह्मस्वं तु ससन्ततिम् विषमेकाकिनं हरेत् । न विषं...मुच्यते ॥' is here identified with विष (i. e. विष is आरोपित upon ब्रह्मस्व) and therefore there is रूपक; if we say 'न ब्रह्मस्वं विषमिदम्', then there is अपहृति. What distinguishes अपहृति from रूपक is that in the former there is a poetic denial, expressed or implied, of the nature of the प्रकृत (i. e. उपमेय) and something else is established in its stead; while in the latter, there is no such denial; only the प्रकृत is identified with the अप्रकृत on account of their great resemblance.

Most writers say that in अपहृति the उपमेय is denied its nature and the उपमान is established in its place i. e. अपहृति is based upon औपम्य. Compare the words of मम्मट "उपमेयमसत्यं कृत्वा उपमानं यत्सत्यतया स्याप्यते सा तु अपहृतिः ।". Our author follows this definition in his first variety of अपहृति. But in the second variety which he states there is no गम्यमान औपम्य. Something is concealed by representing it to be something else. There is no implied relation of उपमान and उपमेय, as for example in 'काले' etc. In this second variety of अपहृति our author appears to follow writers like Dandin. Dandin defines अपहृति as "अपहृतिरपहृत्य किञ्चिदन्यार्थदर्शनम् । न पञ्चपुः सरस्तस्य सहस्रं पत्रिणामिति ॥" K. D. II. 304. Dandin says that the denial of something and the representing of something else in its place constitute अपहृति. There need be no औपम्य. In his example the पञ्चशरत्व of काम is denied and it is said that he hits with a thousand arrows. नागेश in his उद्द्योत takes the same view 'किञ्चिदपहृत्य कस्यचित्प्रदर्शनमपहृतिरित्येव लक्षणम् ।'

account of the extreme similarity between सरोज and वदन (the उपमान and उपमेय), it is possible that the one may be looked upon as the other. So it is emphatically asserted that the face is the face and not the lotus. Our author, after giving his own verse as an example, cites another's verse. 'हृदि विसलता etc.'—This is the utterance of a lover in separation. This verse occurs in the गीतगोविन्द. It is also quoted as of जयदेव in सुभा० (No. 1314). हृदि विसलताहारः—This is a garland of lotus stalks on my chest. Lassen reads 'विसलता'. भुजङ्ग-मनायकः—The lord of serpents (which are the ornaments of Śiva). मलयजरसो नेदं भस्म It is not ashes but the watery powder of sandal that besmears my body. अनङ्ग हरत्रान्त्या न प्रहर किमु कुधा भावसि—Oh Cupid, do not strike me mistaking me for Śiva (who is your foe); why do you rush at me with anger! Here it is emphatically asserted that it is lotus-stalks etc. that the man wears and not a serpent (which greatly resembles the string of lotus stalks).

न ह्ययं.....सम्भवात् (P. 29, ll. 15-17)—It cannot be said that in these examples the figure is निश्चयान्तसन्देह, because in the latter the doubt and certainty successively reside in the same person; e. g. in 'किं तावत्सरसि सरोजम्', the man, who has a doubt whether it is a lotus or the face of a young woman that he sees, himself decides that it is the face. But in this figure, the doubt belongs to the bee and the certainty to the lover. किं च.....सम्भवात्. The author says that in the verses (under निश्चय) there is really no doubt at all even in the bees एककोट्यनधिके—एका चासौ कोटिश्च तस्याः न अधिकम् तस्मिन् एककोटिमात्र-वगाहिनि. कोट्य.....ज्ञाने when its cognition has not more than one alternative i. e. when it does not vacillate between two ideas, but is certain. तथा refers to the words इह भ्रमसि. तथा समीपगमनासम्भवात् (because the bee's approaching so near would be impossible) is the reading of all editions (except that of Motilal Banarsidas). But the context requires the reading तथा समीपगमनासम्भवात्, the bee's approaching so near (as described in the verse) would be possible only when its cognition is certain and not vacillating. The bee would surely approach, when it was certain that it was a lotus and not when it was in doubt whether it was a lotus or a face. Pramadādāsa translates as we do. It is noteworthy that रामचरण paraphrases समीपगमनासम्भवात् as सन्देहप्रसङ्गायोगात् i. e. he draws the same meaning, as we give above, from the reading गमनासम्भवात्. We cannot see how this can be done. . .

तर्हि भ्रान्तिमानस्तु...An objector says:—If the bee is not in doubt, but is certain of there being a lotus (in place of the face), then let the figure be भ्रान्तिमान्. Our author replies—अस्तु नाम etc. We grant that the bee etc. (in the two examples of निश्चय) are under a mistake; we contend, however, that it is not the mistake that causes the strikingness in the two verses; but it is the peculiar mode of expression adopted by the lover (that causes the charm in the verses). This is felt only by the man of taste. So our author after appealing to the man of taste says the figure is निश्चय and not भ्रान्तिमान्, as it is the emphatic assertion on the part of the lover etc. that constitutes the charm in these verses. किं च.....तथाविधोक्तिः (p. 29, ll. 19-30). In these words, our author takes up the position that निश्चय need not necessarily be based upon भ्रान्तिमान् etc. It may be said that in the two verses भ्रान्तिमान् is at the root of the figure निश्चय. Even if it be not really meant that the bee did fly towards the face of the woman or was under a mistake, such a mode of speech (as वदनमिदं न सरोजम्) may be employed simply by way of offering a flattering compliment to the heroine. 'चट्ट चट्ट म्रिये वाक्ये'. Our author means—In the two verses cited above, it is not necessary to suppose that the bee was under a delusion and then an emphatic assertion was made by the lover. Such an assertion may be made simply as a compliment. Still it will be an instance of निश्चय. न च रूपकध्वनि.....अनिर्धारणात् (p. 29, ll. 20-21). Nor is this that form of suggested poetry called अलङ्कारध्वनि (here रूपकध्वनि); because the face is not cognised under the character of the lotus (which character is, as a matter of fact, expressly denied). We have explained above the three varieties of ध्वनि, viz. वस्तु, अलङ्कार and रस रूपकध्वनि is that where, if the suggested sense were fully expressed, it would assume the form of a metaphor. An example of रूपकध्वनि is 'लावण्यकान्तिपरिपूरितदिग्मुखेऽसिन्धुसरेऽधुना तव मुखे तरलायताक्षि । क्षोभं यदेति न मनागपि तेन मन्ये सुव्यक्तमेव जलराशिरयं पयोधिः ॥' ध्वन्यां p. 110. In this verse, the fact that the sea is found fault with (जलराशिः=जडराशिः) for not becoming agitated at sight of her shining face suggests that the face is identified with the moon (at whose sight the sea rises) and thus there is रूपकध्वनि. In वदनमिदं न सरोजम् there is no रूपकध्वनि, because there is not only no suggested superimposition of the lotus on the face, but there is an express denial of the lotus being identical with the face. न चापहृतिः etc. Nor is this अपहृति; because here the प्रस्तुत (i. e. उपमेय) वदन is not denied to be what it really is. In अपहृति we knowingly deny the nature of the Upameya. But here there is no such denial. So this is a separate figure, quite distinct from the figures treated of by ancient rhetoricians. शुक्तिकायां..... वैविध्याभावात् (p. 29, ll. 23-24)—This figure does not exist in such sentences (which are not striking, but detail matters of fact) as 'This is mother-o'-pearl and not silver,' addressed to a person bending down over mother-o'-pearl under the notion of its being silver; because in these sentences, strikingness is wanting (which is the essence of an alaṅkāra).

We can only remark that the figure निश्चय has no strikingness in it in spite of the author's vehement efforts to establish it. In the two examples, the charm lies according to our ideas in the illusion of the bee etc. and not in the assertion. Therefore the figure in them is आन्तिमान्.

वाच्या.....द्वार्निर्दिष्टतां यान्ति (P. 29, l. 25-p. 30, l. 2). Our author closely follows the अलं० सू० in the subdivisions of उत्प्रेक्षा (see अलं० सू० pp. 57-58). उत्प्रेक्षा is first divided into वाच्या (expressed) and प्रतीयमाना; (implied). The expressed उत्प्रेक्षा occurs when particles like इव etc. are employed and the प्रतीयमाना when they are not employed. Compare अलं० सू० 'सा च वाच्या इवादिशब्दैरुच्यते । प्रतीयमानाया पुनरिवाद्यप्रयोगः ।' p. 57; and काव्यादर्श 'मन्ये शङ्के श्रुवं प्रायो नूनमित्येवमादिभिः । उत्प्रेक्षा व्यज्यते शब्दैरिवशब्दोऽपि तादृशः ॥' II. 234. Since in each of these two, the thing fancied may be either a जनि (genus), गुण, क्रिया or द्रव्य, they amount to eight. In each of these eight varieties, the fancy may be positive or negative. So there are 16 varieties. The source of the उत्प्रेक्षा may either be a quality or an action and thus there are 32 varieties.

तत्र वाच्योत्प्रेक्षायाम्.....एवमन्यत् (P. 30, ll. 3-20). ऊरुः कुरङ्गकटशः etc. कुरङ्गकटशः of the woman whose eyes are like those of a fawn. चञ्चलचेलञ्चलः on which flutters the skirt of her garment. विजयस्तम्भ—triumphal column. Here the thigh (उपमेय) of the woman is figured as if it were the triumphal column (उपमान) of Cupid. Here as the word विजयस्तम्भ denotes many objects, i. e. is a generic name (and not a proper name) we have जात्युत्प्रेक्षा. ज्ञाने मौनं etc.—This is Raghu. I. 22. तस्य = दिलीपस्य. ज्ञाने मौनम् silence in knowledge (i. e. he knew so much, still he kept aloof from all pedantic wrangling). त्यागे श्लाघाविपर्ययः absence of vaunting in liberality (i. e. although he was very generous, he never vaunted of his gifts). गुणा.....इव his virtues, occasioning as they did other virtues, were, as it were, productive. Here what is fancied is सप्रसवत्व (i. e. representing the qualities as having children), which is a गुण. गङ्गाम्भसि.....पातकी सुरत्राग is a sanskritized form of the Arabic word 'sultan'. निःशाननिस्वनः—the sound of the drums beaten at the marching. अरिवधूवर्गस्य गर्भपातनमेव पातकम् तत् अस्य अस्तीति guilty of causing the abortion of the wives of thy foes. गङ्गाम्भसि स्नातीव bathes as it were in the Ganges. Sinners bathe in the waters of the Ganges. Here the coming in contact with the waters of the Ganges on the part of the sound is represented as bathing which is an action. मुखमेणी.....अपरः. एणीदृशः = सृणीदृशः. Hence the word 'moon' signifying, as it does, a single individual, is denotative of a substance i. e. a concrete object (i. e. it is not a generic name). Here the face is poetically represented as if it were another moon. If we omit the word अपरः here, the figure will be उपमा. If we omit both इव and अपरः, the figure will be रूपक. If we omit इव, then it will be अनिश्चोक्ति. The above are the examples, when the fancy is positive. The following are examples of the negative fancy. कपोल...गनौ. This example occurs in उद्भट (III. 7) and is cited in the अलं० सू०. कष्टम् Alas, it is a pity. अस्याः कपोलफलकौ तथाविधौ (अनिसुन्दरौ) भूत्वा अन्योन्यमपश्यन्तौ इव ईदृक्षां क्षामतां गनौ. The cheeks of this lady, so fair, are reduced to this thinness, as if not seeing each other. Here the cheeks, which have become thin through the lady's separation from her husband, are represented as if growing thin on account of their not seeing one another. In the word अपश्यन्तौ, we have the negation of an action. निमित्तस्य.....क्रिया—The examples, where the occasion (or the source) is a quality or action, are:—in the example 'गङ्गान्मसि' etc. the source of the fancy contained in 'as it were bathes', is the quality of being a sinner; in 'कपोलफलका०' the cause of the fancy is an action, viz. being reduced to thinness. The author has so far exemplified वाच्योत्प्रेक्षा (though only partially).

(which is that the lady grows thin as if to get room in the heart of the youth). The verse 'महिलासहस्त' occurs in the 4th परिच्छेद (p. 219, Nir. ed.) of the S. D. The whole verse is महिलासहस्तभरिणं तुह हिअ सुहअ सा अमाअन्ती । अणुदिणमणणकम्मा अंणं तणुअं पि तणुएइ ॥' गथासप्तशती* II. 82 (महिलासहस्तभरिते तव हृदये सुभग सा अमाअन्ती । अनुदिनमनन्यकर्मा अङ्गं तन्वपि तनयति ॥). विरहकृशां नायिकां नायकाय आवेदयन्त्याः सख्या उक्तिरियम् । हे सुभग, महिलानां स्त्रीणां सहस्रैर्भरिते व्याप्ते तव हृदये अमाअन्ती अवकाशमलभमाना सा नायिका अनुदिवसं नान्यत्कर्म कर्तव्यं यस्याः (सा अनन्यकर्मा) तथाभूता क्लेशमपि अङ्गं तनयति तनूकरोति । अत्र सुभग इत्यनेन नायिकाया एव अनुरागविषयस्त्वं न तु सा तवेति ध्वन्यते ।' उ० चं० p. 127. Here the sentence becomes complete even if we take the plain meaning (viz, that the woman not finding a niche in your heart, grows thinner and thinner). The suggested fancy that she grows thinner as it were to find an easy entrance in your heart is not necessary to understand the logical connection of the sentence. But in the verse 'तन्वांग्याः.....लज्जया', the breasts cannot possibly feel shame and hence the sentence becomes logically complete only when we understand लज्जया as equivalent to लज्जया इव (as if through shame). Supply वाक्यविश्रान्तिः after उत्प्रेक्षयैव. Thus there is a difference between व्यंग्योत्प्रेक्षा and प्रतीयमानोत्प्रेक्षा, which is that in व्यंग्योत्प्रेक्षा the sentence is logically complete as regards the sense even without the suggested fancy, while in प्रतीयमानोत्प्रेक्षा the plain meaning of the words is not logical until we understand an Utprekṣā.

अत्र वाच्योत्प्रेक्षायाः.....हेतुत्वेनोत्प्रेक्षितः (P. 30, l. 29-p. 31, l. 10)* तत्र वाच्याभिदा.....हेतुगाः—Of these the expressed sorts again, with the exception of that of substance, are each threefold, as pertaining to (1) nature, (2) a fruit and (3) a cause. वाच्योत्प्रेक्षायाः...षट्त्रिंशद्भेदाः. Of the 16 sorts of वाच्योत्प्रेक्षा, the twelve belonging to three, viz. जाति, गुण and क्रिया, being each three-fold as referring to nature or fruit (purpose) or a cause, we have 36 varieties. As an object denoted by a proper name can be fancied as regards its nature only, there are only 4 varieties in connection with it and thus there are 40 varieties in all of the वाच्योत्प्रेक्षा. It is said that an object (द्रव्य) denoted by a proper name does not give rise to उत्प्रेक्षा, if fancied as the fruit or cause of a certain event. Our author here appears to follow the अलं० सू० but goes a step further. Compare 'द्रव्यस्य प्रायः स्वरूपोत्प्रेक्षणमेवेति हेतुफलोत्प्रेक्षाभेदास्ततः पातनीयाः ।'

उक्त्यनुक्तयोः.....वाक्यं स्यात् (P. 31, ll. 11-19). Out of the above 40 varieties of वाच्या, the 16 varieties of स्वरूपोत्प्रेक्षा are subdivided into 32 according as the source (निमित्त) of the उत्प्रेक्षा is mentioned or not. Thus the varieties of वाच्या come to be 56 (i. e. 32+24, after subtracting 16 from 40). An example where the nimitta is mentioned is the verse गङ्गाम्भसि etc. in which the occasion of the fancy in 'bathes as it were,' viz. 'being guilty' is mentioned. In 'मुखमेणी' etc., the cause of the fancy in 'as if it were another moon,' viz. excess of peculiar beauty, is not mentioned. हेतुफलयोः.....वाक्यं स्यात्. In हेतुत्प्रेक्षा and फलोत्प्रेक्षा, the निमित्त must invariably be mentioned. In हेतुत्प्रेक्षा the निमित्त is the fruit or consequence of what is fancied; and in फलोत्प्रेक्षा, the निमित्त is the cause of what is fancied. To explain:—in 'सैषा स्थली' holding silence is the निमित्त of the fancy 'as if through sorrow'; in 'रावणस्यापि' etc. the निमित्त of the fancy 'as if to tell' is 'entering into the earth.' If both these निमित्त be not mentioned, then the sentences would be unconnected i. e. if बद्धमौनत्व be omitted there would be no propriety in saying विरेषदुःखादिव.

if it is made up of masses of collyrium; it appears filled, as it were, with the particles of musk (मृगमद); it appears over-spread, as it were, with Tamāla trees (the leaves of which are blackish); it appears, as it were covered with dark-blue garments. Here, the subject (विषय i. e. उपमेय), viz. the being pervaded (व्याप्तत्व), is not mentioned in connection with the thing fancied (the विषयिन् or उत्प्रेक्ष्य) viz. being made up of collyrium etc. The world is pervaded by darkness; this state of being pervaded by darkness is represented as if the world were made up of masses of darkness. The author gives another example in 'लिम्पतीव' etc. This is from the मृच्छकटिक (I Act). The last half is 'असत्पुरुषसेवेव इष्टिर्विफलतां गता ।'. The darkness besmears, as it were, our bodies and the sky rains, as it were, collyrium. अत्र.....तमःसम्पातः. Here the विषय is the pervasion of the world by darkness and its falling all round. The pervasion is figured as the besmearing of the body and the falling of darkness is represented as the showering down of collyrium. Both, viz. व्यापन and तमःसम्पात, the विषयस्य (or उपमेयस्य), are omitted. अनयोः.....यथासंख्यम्. यथासंख्यम् respectively. The reasons of the fancy in this example are respectively the thickness and its coming down in the shape of streams; as darkness is very thick, so it is represented as besmearing (लेप also is thick) and so on. राम० remarks that this explanation is according to the view of those who regard darkness as a substance. The curious reader may refer to the T. D. on the words 'तत्र द्रव्याणि पृथिव्यसेजोवाय्वाकाशकालदिगात्मनोऽसि नवैव ।' T. S. In his remarks upon the words 'Darkness besmears' etc. our author follows Mammata who says 'व्यापनादि लेपनादिरूपतया सम्भावितम्'. केचित्तु.....इत्याहुः some say 'Darkness, which is not really an agent in besmearing (i. e. darkness can never as a matter of fact besmear anybody, being अचेतन), is figured as being the agent of besmearing, the nimitta (the reason or occasion) of this fancy being the pervasion (by darkness of the world). Similarly, the sky (though it is really incapable of showering collyrium) is fancied as the agent of the act of showering.' The views referred to here are those of the अलं० सू०, which says "निमित्तस्य अनुपादाने यथा—'लिम्पतीव तमोऽङ्गानि' इत्यादौ । अत्र तमोगतत्वेन लेपनक्रियाकर्तृत्वोत्प्रेक्षायां व्यापनादि निमित्तं गम्यमानम् । व्यापनादौ तूत्प्रेक्षाविषये निमित्तमन्वेष्ट्यं स्यात् । न च विषयस्य गम्यमानत्वं युक्तम् । तस्योत्प्रेक्षिताधारत्वेन प्रस्तुतस्याभिधातुमुचितत्वात् । तस्माद्यथोक्तमेव साधु ।" p. 63. The views of Mammata and our author on the one hand and the Alankāra-sarvasva on the other as regards the verse 'लिम्पतीव' may be briefly stated as follows:—Our author says that here व्यापन is the प्रस्तुत (or विषय) and is fancied as लेपन; while Sarvasva says that तमः is the प्रस्तुत (or विषय) and it is fancied as probably identical with the लेपनकर्तृ; 2ndly our author says that the निमित्त (the reason) of the fancy is the thickness of the darkness, while Sarvasva says that it is व्यापन (pervasion) which is the reason; 3rdly, our author cites this verse as an instance of that variety of उत्प्रेक्षा, where the प्रस्तुत (here व्यापन) is not mentioned, while Sarvasva cites this verse as an instance of निमित्तानुपादान (here व्यापन, according to अलं० सू०, being the निमित्त). The अलं० सू० criticizes those who regard व्यापन as the प्रस्तुत and as not mentioned. It says that if व्यापन is the प्रस्तुत, it must be mentioned, because it is the subject upon which something else is to be fancied. If व्यापन, the subject, were swallowed up by लेपन we cannot understand लेपन as poetically predicated of it. So the Sarvasva argues that it is better to say that in darkness, which is the धर्मी, the attribute of pervasion (व्यापन) is swallowed up by, and is fancied as identical with the attribute of being the agent of the action of besmearing (लेपनक्रियाकर्तृत्व). 4thly, Mammata and our author say that Utpreksā occurs everywhere by the relation of identity (अनेद); e. g. मुखं चन्द्रं मन्ये where one धर्मी (i. e. मुख) is fancied as if identical with another धर्मी (i. e. चन्द्र); in 'लिम्पतीव' etc. they say the धर्मी (व्यापन) is fancied as if identical with another धर्मी (लेपन); the अलं० सू० does not admit that Utpreksā occurs invariably by the identity of two धर्मis; it says that Utpreksā occurs also when an attribute (धर्म) is fancied as belonging to a subject (धर्निन्). It says that व्यापन, if it be the प्रस्तुत, cannot be omitted for reasons given above. So it is better to admit two kinds of Utpreksā, धर्म्युत्प्रेक्षा and धर्मोत्प्रेक्षा. लिम्पतीव &c. is an instance of धर्मोत्प्रेक्षा, where the धर्म (लेपन) may be fancied as probably belonging to darkness (धर्मी). Those who uphold Mammata say against the criticism of Sarvasva that what the poet intends to fancy is the identity the two actions (लेपन and व्यापन) and since this identity is directly possible (without having to resort to the idea of agent etc.) there is no necessity to fancy the identity of agents in order that through that identity we may fancy the identity of actions. G. p. 298.

On these manifold sub-divisions of Utpreksā, Jagannātha makes the very appropriate remark that there is no difference of strikingness in them. They should not, therefore, be mentioned at all. At the most only three varieties of Utpreksā should be given, viz., हेतु, फल and स्वरूप. ‘इह जाल्यादयो हि भेदाः प्राचामनुरोधादुदाहृताः । वस्तुतस्तु नैषां चमत्कारे वैलक्षण्यमस्तीति अनुदाहर्यते । चमत्कारवैलक्षण्यं पुनर्हेतुफलस्वरूपात्मकानां त्रयाणां प्रकाराणामेवेति ।’ R. G. p. 295.

अलङ्कारान्तरोत्था.....उत्प्रेक्षावाचकम् (P. 32, ll, 10-18). अलङ्कारान्तरोत्था=अलङ्कारान्तरादुत्तिष्ठतीति when arising from another figure. An example of Utpreksā founded upon concealment (अपङ्कृति) is ‘अश्रुच्छलेन’ etc. हुतपावकधूमेन कलुषे अक्षिणी यस्याः तस्याः सुदृशः लावण्यमेव वारि तस्य पूरः अङ्गे मानमप्राप्य अश्रुच्छलेन विगलति इव. The flood of beauty of that fair-eyed lady, incapable of being contained in her body, falls as it were, under the disguise of tears, as her eyes are pained by the smoke of the fire kindled by oblations of ghee. An example of उत्प्रेक्षा based upon रूप is ‘मुक्तोत्करः’ etc. ‘The pearls, we believe, that issued from the narrow womb of the oyster, have attained this गुणवत्त्व (possession of a fair quality or being stringed) from dwelling upon the charming conch-like neck of this lotus-eyed damsel’. Here the word गुणवत्त्व is paronomastic; and it is the cause (निमित्त) of the हेतूत्प्रेक्षा contained in the words ‘कन्दुग्रीवाधिवासादिव’ (as if from dwelling upon the conch-like neck). The word ‘जानीमहे’ is denotative of उत्प्रेक्षा.

employed, as इव is सादृश्यवाचक also; i. e. on what ground is it that we regard the verse 'ऊरुः.....सरस्यैव' as an example of उत्प्रेक्षा and not of उपमा? The verse can as well be taken as an Upamā (ऊरुः सरस्य स्तम्भ इव मतिः). Our author nowhere explains this difficulty. चक्रवर्तिन्, the author of the अलङ्कारसर्वस्व-सजीविनी, says on this point 'यदाऽयमुपमानांशो लोकोक्तः सिद्धिमुच्छति । तदोपमैव येनेवशब्दः साधर्म्यवाचकः ॥ यदा पुनरयं लोकादसिद्धः कविकल्पितः । तदोत्प्रेक्षैव येनेवशब्दः सम्भावनापरः ॥' (quoted by उद्द्योत p. 24). When the Upamāna is one from ordinary life, there the figure is Upamā and the word इव is then expressive of similarity. But when the Upamāna (i. e. the अप्रस्तुत or विषयिन्) is not one from ordinary life, but is simply due to the poet's fancy, then the figure is Utprekṣā, so that there the word इव has the sense of सम्भावन (representing as probably identical). When इव is employed in उत्प्रेक्षा, the poet purposely represents one thing as almost identical with another; in Upamā, the only object is to give expression to the similarity between two objects. The चि० मी० remarks: 'यत्र यत्राप्रकृततादात्म्यसम्भावनोपयुक्तविशेषणकल्पना तत्र सर्वत्राप्युत्प्रेक्षाऽवगन्तव्या । यत्र तु सम्भावनोपयुक्तविशेषणकल्पना रहितमुपमानं निवध्यते तत्र परमिवशब्दः सादृश्यपर इत्युपमालङ्कारः ।' p. 74 (and then it quotes the words of चक्रवर्तिन्). Appayadīkṣita bases the difference upon the existence of adjectives or attributes that would contribute towards the poetic representation of the identity of the प्रकृत and अप्रकृत. If these exist there is उत्प्रेक्षा; but if there is the Upamāna purely without any attributes serving to lead on to सम्भावन, then there is Upamā and इव denotes similarity.

कचिदुपमोपक्रमोत्प्रेक्षा.....ज्ञेयम् (P. 32, ll. 20-26). उपमा उपक्रमे यस्याः सा उपमोपक्रमा. Sometimes, an Utprekṣā begins with a simile. 'पारेजलं...शैवलाभाः'. This is शिशु० III. 70. मुरारिः (कृष्णः) नीरनिधेः पारेजलं आनीलपलाशराशीः (हरितपर्णपूर्णः) उत्कलिकासहस्रप्रतिक्षणोः त्वूलितशैवलाभाः (उत्कलिकासहस्रेण तरङ्गसहस्रेण प्रतिक्षणमुत्कलिताः तीरं प्रापिताः ये शैवलास्तत्तुल्याः) वनालीः (वनराजीः) अपश्यत्. Kṛṣṇa saw, on the other side of the sea, series of woods, abounding with greenish leaves, which looked like moss thrown every moment upon the shore by thousands of waves. इत्यत्र.....ज्ञेयम्. In the above verse, the word आभा (in शैवलाभाः) denotes comparison and hence there is a simile at first, but in the end there is fancy (उत्प्रेक्षा) inasmuch as the existence of huge masses of moss on the seashore can be imagined as possible. We should prefer the reading शैवलस्थितेः सम्भवोपपत्तेः to सम्भवानुपपत्तेः. Similarly, it is to be understood in the description of the emaciation of certain lovelorn ladies, as in 'their bracelets were turned into armlets' (केयूरं इव आचरितम्) and also in 'the side glance of her with deer-like eyes acts the part of a blooming lotus on the ear' (विकासिनीलोलमिव आचरति). In both the examples, there is at first उपमा, because the affixes क्यङ् (in केयूरायितम्) and क्क्प् (in नीलोलमिव) are expressive of Upamā but, since it is impossible that a bracelet should be on the arm and that a glance should exist on the ear, there is only a poetic fancy. The poet does not here compare the bracelet with the armlet and the side-glance with the blue lotus, but rather fancies that they are actually identical as it were.*

अन्तिमदलङ्कारे.....इति द्वयोर्भेदः (P. 32, ll. 26-29). The author now distinguishes Utprekṣā from other figures of speech. He first distinguishes between अन्तिमान् and उल्लेखः. In अन्तिमान् as instanced in 'सुरधा दुग्धविद्या' the cowherds who are under error have no consciousness of the moonlight, which is the subject (on which they wrongly superimpose the notion of milk); for the description of it (i. e. of the absence of the knowledge of the truth) is given by the poet himself (and not by the persons). In उत्प्रेक्षा, however, the person who indulges in the fancy has a consciousness of the subject also. What distinguishes अन्तिमान् from उत्प्रेक्षा is this:—In the former, the knowledge is अनाहार्य; while in the latter it is आहार्य; 2ndly, in the former, the विषय is not perceived in its real nature, it is mistaken for something else (the विषयिन्); in उत्प्रेक्षा both the विषय and विषयिन् are cognised distinctly, there is no mistake, but for poetical purposes it is represented that the विषय is almost identical with the विषयिन्.

सन्देहे.....भेदः (P. 32, ll. 29-31). What distinguishes सन्देह from उल्लेखः is that in the former both the alternatives are equally prominent; but in the latter, one of the alternatives is more prominent and is poetically represented as probably identical with the other. अतिशयोक्तौ...भेदः in Hyperbole, the unreality of the character fancied (विषयिन्) is apprehended after the sense of the sentence is understood; and here it is apprehended at the very time of the sense being understood. An example of अतिशयोक्ति is 'कमलमनम्भसि कमले च कुवलये तानि कनकलतिकायाम् ।'. Here the face is apprehended and spoken of as कमल, the eyes as कुवलय and the body as कनकलतिका. At the time of using this mode of speech, it is not intended that the विषयिन् (कमल) is understood as distinct. The unreality of the identity of विषय and विषयिन् comes in only when we reflect upon the sense of the verse. In उत्प्रेक्षा, when we use such an expression as 'नूनं मुखं चंद्रं मन्ये', we are perfectly conscious of the विषयिन् (च. ६. उपमान चंद्र) not being the विषय (मुख).

रजिता नु...प्रकारकल्पनया (P. 33, ll. 1-10). 'रजिता नु...तिमिरेण.' This is किराताजुनीय IX. 15. This is a description of intense darkness. रजिता नु...शैलः—Has darkness coloured black the various trees and hills? स्थणितम्—screened. विषमेषु in uneven portions. संहता नु ककुभस्तिमिरेण has darkness annihilated the regions of space? The printed editions have संहताः for संहताः. The Sarvasva reads संहताः. तिमिरेण is to be connected with all past passive participles. इत्यत्र.....केचिदाहुः some say that the figure here is सन्देह, inasmuch as the trees pervaded by darkness are suspected to be coloured and so on. It is the अलं० स० which cites this verse as an instance of सन्देह, in which the things superimposed have each a separate substratum (कचिदारोप्यमाणानां भिन्नाश्रयत्वे दृश्यते । यथा 'रजिता' p. 43). The Sarvasva remarks on this verse 'अत्रारोपविषयतिमिरे रागादि तर्वादिभिन्नाश्रयत्वेनारोपितम्' p. 44, 'रागादि रजनादि । आदिशब्देन नमनस्यगनपूरणसंहरणानि गृह्यन्ते । तर्वादीत्यादिशब्देन गगनधरित्रीककुभः । अत्र व्यामुवत् तिमिरं विषयः, रजनादिर्धर्मो विषयी ।' समुद्रबन्ध's comment. एकविषये.....स्फुरणं च. Our author says that this is wrong; for the figure सन्देह consists in the apprehension of one object under more alternatives than one, all being equally prominent, whilst, here, the pervasion of the trees, sky &c. by darkness is not one and the same pervasion, but is conceived as distinct pervasions distinguished by the several objects with which it comes in contact. Besides, pervasion etc. is swallowed up by the idea of 'colouring' &c, which alone is prominent. एकविषये=एकधर्मिणि. What our author means is:—In Sandeha, the same object is perceived under two or more alternatives, as in 'अयं मार्तण्डः किं' above; in the present verse, the object is not the same; the pervasion by darkness of the trees being quite different from the pervasion of the sky by it; 2ndly, in Sandeha, what the poet conveys is the equal prominence of two or more alternatives; but this is not the case here; here the pervasion by darkness is not mentioned at all in words, it is swallowed up, as it were,

by 'colouring'; what the poet intends to do here is to represent poetically that 'pervasion' is probably the same as 'colouring'. For these two reasons, the figure in the present verse is उत्प्रेक्षा. अन्ये तु.....वदन्ति स others say that the present verse is a distinct sort of the figure सन्देह, though one of the alternatives is more prominent, because it has the special charm of determining one thing to be manifold. What these people mean is:—in this verse, the विषयिन् (रञ्जन) is no doubt more prominent; still the figure is not उत्प्रेक्षा, but another kind of सन्देह. Here व्यापन (the विषय) is determined to be the same as रञ्जन, स्थगन, पूरण etc. (which are many). Therefore, as in ordinary सन्देह one thing is suspected under different characters, so here also one thing is determined under different characters; and therefore there is सन्देह. This view appears to be the same as the one mentioned by Sarvasva 'केचित्त्वध्यवसायाश्रयत्वेन सन्देहप्रकारमाहुः' p. 44. Our author rejects this view also. निगीर्ण...कल्पनया fancy (उत्प्रेक्षा) is the apprehension of a thing, the real nature of which is, as it were, swallowed up, under an identity with something else. This kind of fancy is clearly visible here and is conveyed by the word तु, as well as by इव. Therefore the figure ought to be उत्प्रेक्षा. It is not necessary to resort to the invention of a distinct species of Sandeha found nowhere else. The Sarvasva itself mentions the fact that some look upon the verse 'रञ्जिता तु' etc. as an instance of उत्प्रेक्षा, 'अन्ये तु नुशब्दस्य सम्भावनाद्योतकसत्त्वादुत्प्रेक्षाप्रकारमिममाचक्षते' p. 44.

to have superimposed something else on the शशक. But he speaks of the moon in the next half, and not of शशक at all. Therefore there is no अपहृति. It may be said that, as there is अपहृति in the first half and the word मन्ये (which is उत्प्रेक्षाद्योतक) occurs in the 2nd half, there is सापहृत्वोत्प्रेक्षा. Our author replies that the mere presence of the word मन्ये is not sufficient. We must have सम्भावना, which does not exist in the verse under consideration. The author of the सर्वस्व also was not quite satisfied with the instance he himself gave. On 'यदेतच्चन्द्रा०' etc. he remarks 'अत्र ऐन्दवस्य शशकस्यापहृत्वे उपक्षिते शशकप्रतिवस्तुकिण्वत इन्दोरारोपो नान्वयघटनां पुष्यतीति न निरवद्यम्' p. 51 and also "तस्याः (उत्प्रेक्षायाः) चेवादिशब्दवन्मन्येशब्दोऽपि प्रतिपादकः । किंतु उत्प्रेक्षासामग्र्यभावे मन्येशब्दप्रयोगो वितर्कमेव प्रतिपादयति यथोदाहृतं प्राक् 'अहं त्विन्दु मन्ये' इत्यादि (on p. 51)" p. 64.

What constitutes the essence of उत्प्रेक्षा is that the प्रस्तुत (उपमेय) must be represented as probably identical with the अप्रस्तुत (उपमान) and that this representation must be charming. उत्प्रेक्षा must be based upon implied resemblance. 'नूनमनेन स्थाणुना भाव्यम्' cannot be an उत्प्रेक्षा, because there is no charm in it. The fancy must be आह्वय (volitional) and not due to mistake. 'रामं स्निग्धतरइयामं विलोक्य वनमण्डले । प्रायो धाराधरोऽयं स्यादिति नृत्यन्ति केकिनः ॥' is not an example of उत्प्रेक्षा, because here the peacocks mistake him to be a cloud and, as a result, dance. They have no distinct apprehension that he is Rāma. The mere presence of उत्प्रेक्षाद्योतक words would not constitute a verse an instance of उत्प्रेक्षा, e. g. the word प्रायः in the above verse.

Examples of उत्प्रेक्षा are sown broad-cast in the works of Kālidāsa and Bāṇa; vide the following 'मुक्तेषु रश्मिषु निरायतपूर्वकाया निष्कम्पचामरशिखा निभृतोर्ध्वकर्णाः । आत्मोद्धतैरपि रजोभिरलङ्घनीया धावन्यमी मृगजवाक्षमयेव रथ्याः ॥' शा. I.

13 अतिशयोक्ति (Hyperbole).

सिद्धत्वे.....प्रचक्षते इति (P. 33, ll. 17-23). When the introsusception is complete, it is styled Hyperbole. विषयनिगूढेण..... अध्यवसायः—These words are quoted verbatim from अलं० स० p. 56. When the विषयिन् (i. e. उपमान or अप्रस्तुत) swallows up (or altogether takes in) the विषय (the subject on which something else is superimposed) and there is therefore an apprehension of identity, it is अध्यवसाय (Introsusception). In उत्प्रेक्षा the अध्यवसाय is incomplete (or in process of completion) as the विषयिन् is expressed there with uncertainty (i. e. विषयिन् is there represented as probably identical with the विषय, and not with certainty). But in अतिशयोक्ति, the अध्यवसाय is complete because the subject is apprehended with certainty. The twofold division of अध्यवसाय is borrowed by our author from the अलं० स०. अध्यवसाय is brought about in two ways; (I) the विषयिन् entirely swallows up the विषय, which is consequently not expressed in words at all; (II) the विषयिन् as it were swallows up the विषय, which though expressed in words and therefore seeming to be different, is yet identified with the विषयिन्. In the first case the अध्यवसाय is said to be सिद्ध and in the latter साध्य. The अध्यवसाय is said to be सिद्ध, because the विषय not being expressed in words and being swallowad up by the विषयिन्, the विषयिन् (which is the अध्यवसित, superimposed) is predominant. अध्यवसाय is said to be साध्य, because the विषय is in process of being represented as probably identical with the विषयिन् (it is not निगीर्ण, but निगीर्थमाण) and therefore it is this process (which is being accomplished) that is predominant. Vide विमर्शिनी on अलं० स० “स (अध्यवसायः) च द्विविधः—सिद्धः साध्यश्च । सिद्धो यत्र विषयस्यानुपात्ततया निगीर्णत्वादध्यवसित-प्राधान्यम् । साध्यो यत्रेवाधुपादानात्सम्भावनाप्रत्ययात्मकत्वाद्विषयस्य निगीर्थमाणत्वादध्यवसायक्रियाया एव प्राधान्यम् ।” A question might be asked what is the difference between अध्यवसाय and आरोप (as in मुखं चन्द्रः)? The reply is:—in आरोप, the विषय is apprehended as the विषयिन्. But here (in सिद्ध अध्यवसाय), the विषय being entirely swallowed up by the विषयिन् and therefore not being expressed, only the विषयिन् is apprehended; in साध्य अध्यवसाय (which is the province of उत्प्रेक्षा), the विषय may or may not be expressed (while in आरोप it must always be expressed) and, even when it is expressed, it is in process of being swallowed up by the विषयिन् (as in मुखं चन्द्रं मन्ये). ‘अत एव चात्र विषयस्य निगीर्थमाणत्वादारोपगर्भत्वं न वाच्यम् । तत्र विषयस्य विषयितया प्रतीतिः । इह (उत्प्रेक्षायाम्) पुनर्विषयस्य निगीर्थमाणत्वेन विषयिण एव प्रतीतिः ।’ विमर्शिनी p. 55. An objection might be raised as follows:—अध्यवसाय is certain knowledge of the विषयिन्, which swallows up the विषय. It is said above that in उत्प्रेक्षा there is साध्य अध्यवसाय. In उत्प्रेक्षा, the विषय is generally expressed and not swallowed up. Besides, उत्प्रेक्षा is constituted by representing something as probable. There is no certainty in it. Therefore it is improper to say that in उत्प्रेक्षा there is साध्य अध्यवसाय. The reply is:—अध्यवसाय is of two kinds, स्वारसिक and उत्पाद्य. In the former, the real nature of an object is not known at all, but through mistake the विषय is identified with the विषयिन्. In the latter (उत्पाद्य), a man, although well knowing that विषय is distinct from विषयिन्, superimposes the विषयिन् upon the विषय for some poetical purpose. स्वारसिक अध्यवसाय is the province of भ्रान्तिमान्, in which the poet speaks of the mistaken notions of others. उत्पाद्य अध्यवसाय (i. e. आहार्य) is the province of उत्प्रेक्षा. अध्यवसाय is defined as विषयनिगर्ण. In उत्प्रेक्षा, although there is no complete swallowing up, still the विषय is in process of being swallowed and, therefore, we may say that there is अध्यवसाय. Hence there is nothing wrong in saying that साध्य अध्यवसाय is the province of उत्प्रेक्षा. 'एवमप्यनिश्चयात्मकसम्भावनाप्रत्ययमूलत्वादुत्प्रेक्षायाः कथनध्यवसायमूलत्वम् । तस्य हि विषयनिगर्णे (गं?) विषयिनिश्चयश्च स्वरूपम् । न चात्रैकमपि सम्भवति । विषयोपादानान्निश्चयाभावाच्चेति । अत्रोच्यते । इह द्विधास्त्यध्यवसायः स्वारसिक उत्पादितश्च । तत्र स्वारसिके विषयानवगम एव निमित्ततामर्थ्यात्स्वरसत एव विषयप्रतीतेरुल्लासात् ।इतरत्र तु विषयमवगम्यापि तदन्तःकारेण प्रतिपत्तौ स्वात्मपरतत्रविकल्पनात् विषये प्रतिपत्तिमुत्पादयेत् । जानान एव हि विषयिविविक्तं विषयं तत्र प्रयोजनपरतया विषयिणमध्यवस्येत् । तत्राद्यो भ्रान्तिमदादिविषयः । तत्र हि प्रमात्रन्तरगता स्वारसिकेव तथाविधा प्रतिपत्तिर्वैकान्त्येन न तूपाद्यते ।..... इतरस्तूप्रेक्षाविषयः ।.....ननु विषयनिगर्णमध्यवसायस्य लक्षणमिह पुनर्विषयस्य निगीर्यमाणतेति कथमत्राध्यवसायतेति चेत् । नैनत् । 'विषय्यन्नःकृतेऽन्यस्मिन्सा स्यात्साध्यवसानिका' (का. प्र. II.) इत्याद्युक्त्याध्यवसायस्य विषयिणा विषयस्यान्तःकरणं लक्षणम् । तच्च विषयस्य निगर्णेन निगीर्यमाणत्वेन वा भवतीति न कश्चिद्विशेषः । निगीर्यमाणमपि पूर्वोक्तनीत्या विषयन्योपात्तस्यानुपात्तस्य वा भवतीत्यपि न कश्चिद्विशेषः ।' विनयिनी p. 55. विषय.....प्रचक्षते इति (p. 33, ll. 20-23). In उत्प्रेक्षा, the swallowing up of the object takes place only by reducing it to a subordinate position and so it may be here also (i. e. in अतिशयोक्ति) as in 'the face is a second moon'. The author means that for swallowing up as required in उत्प्रेक्षा (साध्य अध्यवसाय), it is not necessary that the विषय must not be mentioned. What is meant by निगर्ण is here simply that the विषय should be in quite a subordinate position as regards the purpose in view (i. e. the charm of the सम्भावना). Similarly, even in अतिशयोक्ति, the विषय (i. e. मुख here) need not necessarily be omitted (as in 'the face is a second moon').

The name given to this figure is significant 'अतिशयस्योक्तिरिति यौगिकत्वमस्याः' एका. p. 227 ; 'विषयिणा विषयस्य निगर्णमतिशयः । तस्योक्तिः' R. G. p. 307.

भेदेऽपि अमेदः Denial of difference where there is difference in reality; II. अमेदे भेदः (the opposite of the preceding) statement of a difference, where there is none in reality; III. सम्बन्धे असम्बन्धः negation of connection where there is a connection; IV. असम्बन्धे सम्बन्धः (which is the reverse of III); V. कार्यकारण-पौर्वापर्यालयः—the inversion of the sequence of cause and effect. Mammata following उद्भट (II. 24–26) gives four varieties, by omitting III and IV and substituting in their place “यद्यर्थोक्तौ च कल्पनम्” (a supposition under a condition introduced by ‘if’). मल्लिनाथ in his तरु criticizes Mammata and says that ‘यद्यर्थोक्तौ etc.’ is included either under सम्बन्धेऽसम्बन्धः or its reverse (see p. 237). उद्भट remarks that ‘यद्यर्थोक्तौ च’ etc. includes सम्बन्धेऽसम्बन्धः and its reverse by Indication.

An instance of भेदेऽमेदः is ‘कथमुपरि’ etc. कथं.....कलापः How is it that the peacock’s tail shines above? उपरीति नायिकाया उपरीति. अष्टमीन्दुखण्डम्—The digit of the moon on the 8th night of the fortnight. ततः next to it. प्रवालमस्तात्—still lower a tender leaf. Here we have the introsusception of the tresses of a woman in the peacock’s tail with which they are identified. Here केशपाश, माल, नेत्र, नासिका, and अङ्ग are swallowed up respectively by कलाप, इन्दुखण्ड, कुवलय, तिलकुसुम and प्रवाल, although they are distinct (भेदेऽप्यमेदः). Another example of this is ‘विक्षेपदुःखादिव’ etc., which was cited above under Utprekṣā. The silence belonging to a sentient creature is one thing and the stillness pertaining to an inanimate object is another. These two states, though different, are identified here, the reason being that the word बद्धमौनं conveys both the meanings. ‘सहाङ्ग...प्रियः’ is another example of the same. In her youth, her lover is possessed of rāga (love, also ‘red colour’) together with the soft petal of her under-lip. Here the rāga of the lower-lip is its redness and the rāga of the lover is his love. Though these two are different, they are identified, because they are expressed by the same word. It must be said that, following these two examples of our author, the verse ‘पद्मोदयदिनाधीशः’ etc. instanced above under परम्परित (छिष्ट), will be an example of this kind of अतिशयोक्ति, so far as the word पद्मोदय is concerned.

An example of अमेदे भेदः is ‘अन्यदेव’ etc. सौरभसम्पदः the riches of the fragrance breathed by her. सरस्वत् चarmingness. Here though beauty is one and the same, the beauty of a woman is represented as being quite different from all other beauty. Another example of this variety may be given from the Śākuntala 'क्षीरलसुष्टिरपरा प्रतिभाति सा मे धातुर्विभुत्वमनुचिन्त्य वपुश्च तस्याः ।'.

An example of सन्बन्धेऽसम्बन्धः is the verse 'अस्याः सर्गविधौ', which occurs in the Vikramorvaśīya (1st Act). The same verse is cited by the अलं० स० as an example of this variety. अस्याः.....कान्तिप्रदः 'Was it the moon, the source of lovely radiance, that was the creator in forming her?' शृङ्गार एव एको रसः यस्य who is solely devoted to the sentiment of love. पुष्पाकरः spring. जडः dull, free from emotions. विषयेभ्यः व्यावृत्तं कौतूहलं यस्य whose admiration (i. e. mind) is turned away from objects of senss. पुराणो मुनिः Brahmā. In this verse, although the Creator is connected with the act of creating her, he is represented as not being connected with that act. This verse is cited by Mammāṭa as an instance of ससन्देह (or सन्देह of our author). उद्घोत remarks (p. 59) that this verse cannot be an example of अतिशयोक्ति as there is no certainty here. In अतिशयोक्ति, there must be certain knowledge. In the above verse, the speaker raises doubts as to who created the woman.

An instance of 'असम्बन्धे सन्बन्धः' is 'यदि स्यान्मण्डले etc.' Here, a connection, which is unreal, is fancied by means of a supposition brought in by the force of the word 'if'. इन्दीवरद्वय does not exist in the moon i. e. there is असम्बन्धः; but by the force of the particle यदि this connection of lotuses with the moon is brought in. Therefore there is असम्बन्धे सन्बन्धः. A beautiful example of this variety is cited by Vāmana (under IV. 3. 10) 'उभौ यदि व्योम्नि पृथक्प्रवाहावाक्काशगङ्गापयसः पतेताम् । तेनोपमीयेत तमालनीलामासुक्तमुक्तालतमस्य वक्षः ॥' शिशु० III. 8.

कार्यकारण.....सहीक्षितान् (P. 34, ll. 15-21). The inversion of the sequence of causation may occur in two ways: (I.) the effect may be supposed to precede the cause or (II.) it may be supposed to take place simultaneously with the cause. An example of the first is 'प्रागेव हरिणाक्षीणा' etc. Supply जातम् after उत्कलिकाकुलम् and जाताः after श्रियः. उत्कलिकाकुलम्—agitated by fancy. उद्भिन्नानां प्रफुल्लानां बकुलानां रसालमुकुलानां (आम्रमुकुलानां) च श्रियः the beauty of the blooming bakula and the blossoming mango (manifested itself). Mangoes put forth blossoms, which generally are the excitants of love (उद्दीपन). But here this sequence is inverted. The heart is said to be agitated first and then the mangoes blossomed. Another instance of this variety is 'हृदयमधिष्ठितमादौ मालत्याः कुसुमचापवाणेन । चरमं रमणीवह्म लोचनविषयं त्वया भजता ॥' (दामोदरयुग्म's कुट्टनीमतम्, verse 96). Another is 'तव प्रसादस्य पुरस्तु सन्पदः' शा० 7. An example of the cause and effect taking place at the same time is 'सममेव etc.' This is Raghu. IV. 4. समाक्रान्तम् was trodden, was attained. सममेव at the same time. Here the cause, viz, coming to the ancestral throne and the effect, viz, conquering the kings, are represented as taking place at the same time. The reason why the relation of cause and effect is inverted is to give expression to the idea that the cause produces the effect speedily, as said by Mammata 'कारणस्य शीघ्रकारितां वक्तु कार्यस्य पूर्वमुक्तौ' etc.

इह केचिदाहुः.....लक्षणस्य इति (P. 34, ll 22-24). In these words our author refers to the view of the अलं० स०. The question is:—in अतिशयोक्ति what is introsuscepted in another? For अतिशयोक्ति, सिद्ध अध्यवसाय is necessary. When it is said that two varieties of अतिशयोक्ति are मेदेऽमेदः and अमेदे मेदः, the question arises what two things are अमेदेन अध्यवसित. According to the view of the अलं० स० the ordinary excellence belonging to the woman's tresses etc. in the verse 'कथमुपरि कलापिनः' is fancied as being extraordinary. It should not be supposed that tresses etc. are introsuscepted under the character of the peacock's tail. What is अमेदेन अध्यवसित is natural beauty (वास्तव सौन्दर्य) which is here fancied to be identical with the beauty imagined by the poet (कविसमर्पितसौन्दर्य). It is not the केशपाश that is fancied to be identical (अमेदेन अध्यवसित) with the peacock's tail. If it were intended to be so (i. e. if it were intended that the अध्यवसाय in this variety should be between two धर्मेऽs, such as केशपाश and कलाप and not between the two धर्मेऽs (वास्तव-सौन्दर्य and कविसमर्पित सौन्दर्य), then the definition of the figure would not include, as it ought to include, such instances as 'Different is the beauty' etc. The reason why the instance 'अन्यदेवाङ्ग' etc. would be excluded is—if we say that केशपाश and कलाप are अमेदेन अध्यवसित, we mean that for अध्यवसाय, two धर्मेऽs are necessary; two धर्मेऽs would not do. In 'अन्यदेवाङ्गलावण्यम्' etc. there are no two धर्मेऽs, but only two धर्मेऽs. If two धर्मेऽs were necessary for अध्यवसाय, this instance cannot be an example of अतिशयोक्ति. Therefore, in order to include it, we should say that it is two धर्मेऽs that are everywhere अध्यवसित. Vide the words of the अलं० स० p. 69 "एषु पञ्चसु मेदेषु मेदेऽमेदादिवचनं लोकातिक्रान्त-गोचरम् । अत्र चातिशयाख्यं यत्फलं प्रयोजकत्वात्त्रिमितं तत्रामेदाध्यवसायः । तथाहि 'कमलमनम्भसि' इत्यादौ वदनादीनां कमलाद्यैर्भेदेऽपि वास्तवं सौन्दर्यं कविसमर्पितेन

Our author replies to the above reasoning in the words 'तत्रापि etc.' तत्रापि...अध्यवसीयते There too, i. e. in 'अन्यदेवाङ्गलावण्यम्' the lady's beauty, which is generally not different from that of other women, is fancied as different. So that here also there is अध्यवसाय. We need not say that वास्तवसौन्दर्यं is fancied to be identical with कविसमर्पितसौन्दर्यं. In 'अन्यदेवाङ्ग' etc. one thing viz. the beauty of the woman, is poetically represented as being another thing, viz. a beauty different from all other beauty. तथाहि to explain, to make clear what is meant. अन्यदेव...अङ्गीक्रियते If we substitute अन्यदेव for अन्यदेव in the verse 'अन्यदेवाङ्ग' etc. (in which case it would mean 'her beauty is, as it were, quite apart from that of other women'), we should admit the figure उत्प्रेक्षा, as there is then साध्य अध्यवसाय. Everybody admits that in 'अन्यदेवाङ्गलावण्यम्,' there is उत्प्रेक्षा. We have shown above that in Utpreksā there is अध्यवसाय (साध्य of course). So we must admit that in 'अन्यदेवाङ्ग' etc. also there is अध्यवसाय, which is सिद्ध, because the word इव, that is सम्भावनाद्योतक, is absent. In 'प्रागेव हरिणाक्षीणा' etc., the beauty of bakula though coming first is fancied as coming last i. e. there is अध्यवसाय. Here also if we employ the word इव, there is उत्प्रेक्षा. Similarly in the other two, सम्बन्धेऽसम्बन्धः and असम्बन्धे सम्बन्धः i. e. प्रजापति, who is the creator of the beauty, is represented as identical with Brahmā who does not create such a beauty; two blue lotuses which are not connected with the moon are fancied as identical (अध्यवसित) with two lotuses connected with the moon. Hence the opinion of the अलं. स. that there is अध्यवसाय of two धर्मस (one वास्तव and the other कविसमर्पित) and not of धर्मस is wrong. जयरथ also finds fault with the "अलं. स. "उपलक्ष्यं चैतत् । यावता ह्यध्यवसितप्राधान्यमस्या

As to the remark of our author that when we read 'अन्यदिव' for 'अन्यदेव' in 'अन्यदेवाङ्ग-लावण्यम्' etc. there is उत्प्रेक्षा, vide the remarks of R. G. and Nāgeśa thereon (p. 135.) "यदपि तैरेव (अप्यदीक्षितैः) उक्तम् 'सम्बन्धातिशयोक्तिः स्यादयोगे योगकल्पनम् । सौधाट्टानि पुरस्यास्य स्पृशन्ति विधुमण्डलम् ॥' तदपि न । अत्रैव 'स्पृशन्तीवेन्दुमण्डलम्' इति कृते कोऽलङ्कारः । उत्प्रेक्षेति चेत्, तर्हीवादेरभावाद्भ्रमोत्प्रेक्षेयमुचिता । इवादिसत्त्वे या वाच्योत्प्रेक्षा सैवैवाद्यभावे गम्योत्प्रेक्षेति नियमस्य सर्वसंमतत्वात् । 'त्वत्कीर्तिर्भ्रमणशान्ता विवेश स्वर्गनिम्नगाम्' इति त्वदुक्तगम्योत्प्रेक्षायाः 'सौधाट्टानि' इत्यस्य चोत्प्रेक्षांशे विशेषानुपलम्भात् ।.....तसादुत्प्रेक्षासामग्री यत्र नास्ति तादृशमुदाहरणमुचितम् । यथासदीयं 'वीरध्वनिभिरलं ते नीरद मे मासिको गर्भः । उन्मदवारणबुद्ध्या मध्येजठरं समुच्छलति ॥' इत्यादि । सुन्दरत्वे सति उपस्कारकत्वमलङ्कारसामान्यलक्षणमिहापि न विसरणीयम् ।' R. 14 तुल्ययोगिता (Equal Pairing).

पदार्थानां.....क्रियाभिसम्बन्धः (P. 34, l. 29—p. 35, l. 5). When objects in hand or others are associated with one and the same attribute, the figure is तुल्ययोगिता. An attribute is either a quality or an action. So, although our author does not say so specifically, तुल्ययोगिता has four varieties; all the things may be प्रस्तुत or all may be अप्रस्तुत; and the common attribute in each case may be a गुण or a क्रिया. There is another point on which our author is silent. उद्भट, अलङ्कारसर्वस्व, एकावली and many others say that in तुल्ययोगिता औपम्य is always implied; compare 'औपम्यस्य गम्यत्वे पदार्थगतत्वेन प्रस्तुतानामप्रस्तुतानां वा समान-धर्मोभिसम्बन्धे तुल्ययोगिता' अलं० स०. This means that between the प्राकरणिक or अप्राकरणिक things that are connected with the same attribute, there must be implied resemblance. It is not sufficient that they are connected with the same attribute. Our author, by omitting the words औपम्यस्य गम्यत्वे, leads us to infer that he did not regard implied resemblance between the प्राकरणिक or अप्राकरणिक things as necessary to constitute the figure तुल्ययोगिता. The reason why the figure is called तुल्य-योगिता is given by एकावली as 'तुल्यधर्मेण योगो जातोऽस्यामिति अन्वर्थनामा तुल्ययोगिता' p. 239. i. e. that in which there is a connection (of प्रकृत or अप्रकृत things) with the same attribute. अनुलेपनानि.....अबोधिवत—This is Śiśu. IX. 24. Some printed editions of Śiśu. read दीपशिखाः for दीपदशाः and 'चिरसुप्तमनोभव-

 in समयेन अनुलेपनानि, कुसुमानि, पतिषु कृतमन्यवः (कृतकोपाः) अबलाः, दीपदशाः (दीपज्वालाः) सुचिरं शयितप्रतिबोधितस्सरं (सुचिरं शयितः पश्चाद् प्रतिबोधितः स्सरः कामः यथा स्यात्तथा) अबोधिषत (बोधितानि). Unguents of sandal, white flowers, fair ones indignant against their lords and the flames of lamps were by that time (i. e. by evening) lighted up so as to awaken Love that had long fallen asleep. Here, as the description of the evening is the matter in hand, sandal ointment etc. which are connected with the evening are also प्रस्तुत; they are all connected with the one action (क्रिया) of बोधन (being lighted up).

त्वदङ्ग.....सम्बन्धः (P. 35, ll. 6-13). त्वदङ्ग—This is Udbhata V.
 12 Who, that has perceived the softness of thy body, feels not that the jasmine, the digit of the moon and the plantain plant are hard? Here the heroine is the subject of description and मालती etc., which are the उपमान are (generally, of course)
 अप्रस्तुत. They are all connected with the single attribute 'hardness' (which is a गुण), दानं... आहरेत्—दानं विचात्, कृतं (सत्यं) वाचः etc. 'charity from affluence, truth from speech, fame and piety from life, beneficence to others from the body—from unsubstantial things, man ought to extract substantial good., Here दान, कृत, कीर्तिधर्म, परोपकरण, which are all in the objective case, being all connected with the attribute of substantialness, are also connected with the action of extracting. Our author gives an example of तुल्ययोगिता where all the things are connected with the same गुण and the same क्रिया. An example where all प्राकरणिक things are connected with the same गुण is 'योगपट्टो जटाजालं तारवी त्वद्भृगाजिनम् । उचितानि तवाङ्गस्य यद्यमूनि

अप्रस्तुतप्रस्तुतयोः (एकधर्माभिसम्बन्धः यदा स्यात्तदा) दीपकं तु निगद्यते ।
 When a thing, which is the subject in hand, and another which is not the subject in hand, are connected with the same attribute, there is दीपक. Also when the same case (कारक) is connected with more than one verb.

Some writers like उद्भट, जगन्नाथ etc. say that in दीपक also there must be गम्य औपम्य. Our author is silent on this point.
 It must be noted that if गम्य औपम्य is necessary for दीपक, then the 2nd variety of दीपक given by our author, where one case is connected with many verbs, must be excluded altogether, as there can be no resemblance in that variety.

The reason why this figure is called दीपक is that it is like a lamp, which, when employed for illuminating one object, also illumines others. 'प्राकरणाप्राकरणिकयोर्मध्यादेकत्र निर्दिष्टः समानो धर्मः प्रसङ्गेनान्यत्रोपकारादीपनादीपसादृश्येन दीपकाख्यालङ्कारोत्थापकः ।' अलं० स० p. 72; 'प्रकृताप्रकृतान्यतरसंनिध्वनयितृष्वपि सावारणो धर्मः प्रसङ्गेनान्यदपि दीपयतीति दीपकम् ।' एका० p. 242; 'प्रकृतार्थनुपात्तो धर्मः प्रसङ्गादप्रकृतमपि दीपयति प्रकाशयति सुन्दरीकरोतीति दीपकम् । यद्वा दीप इव दीपकम् । संज्ञायां कन् (पा० V. 3. 75) । दीपसादृश्यं च प्रकृताप्रकृतप्रकाशकत्वेन बोध्यम् ।' R. G. p. 322.

बलावलेपा....भवान्तरेष्वपि (P. 35, ll. 17-18)—This is Śiśu. I. 72. जिगीषुणा तेन (शिष्टुपालेन) बलावलेपात् (बलवर्त्तात्) पूर्ववत् अधुनापि जगत् प्रवाध्यते । भवान्तरेष्वपि (जन्मान्तरेष्वपि) सती योषित् (साध्वी भार्या) निश्चला प्रकृतिः (स्वभावः) च पुनांसमभ्येति. Here unchanging nature is the subject of description; while, chaste wife is अप्रकृत. Both of them are connected with one dharma viz., the one action of 'accompanying'. The printed editions of Śiśu. read सतीव योषित् प्रकृतिः सुनिश्चला (v. l. सुनिश्चिता). The Nirnayasāgara edition of S. D. reads सतीव for सती च. But then the figure would be उपमा. In the above verse, there is अर्थान्तरन्यास also. दूर...क्षणेन (p. 35, ll. 21-24). This is an instance of the 2nd kind of दीपक, called by some कारकदीपक. Here the heroine, who is one, is connected with many actions, viz, rising, sleeping, going to the house of the lover and so on.

अत्र च...सम्भवात् (P. 35, l. 26-27)—some say that this figure has three varieties according as the single धर्म, whether गुण or क्रिया, is mentioned in the beginning, middle or end. The Kāvyaśāstra, Bhāmaha, Udbhaṭa and many others divide Dīpaka into three varieties according as the single dharma occurs in in the beginning, middle or end. "आदिमध्यान्तविषयं त्रिधा दीपकमिष्यते । एकस्यैव व्यवस्थत्वादिति तद्विद्यते त्रिधा ॥ अमूनि कुर्वन्तेवर्था-मस्याख्यामर्थदीपनात् । त्रिभिर्निर्देशैश्चैवं त्रिधा निर्दिश्यते यथा ॥" भासह II. 17-15; 'आदिमध्यान्तविषयाः प्राधान्येतरयोगिनः । अन्तर्गतोपमा धर्मा यत्र तदीपकं विदुः ॥ उद्भट I. 30. An example of आदिदीपक is 'श्यामला प्रावृण्यार्भिर्दिशो जीमूतपंक्तिभिः । भुवश्च सुकुमाराभिर्नवशाद्वलराजिभिः ॥, काव्या० II. 100, where श्यामलत्व, the common property, is mentioned in the beginning of the verse. 'मालिनीरंशुकम्बतः खियोऽलङ्कुस्ते मधुः । हारीतशुकवाचश्च भूधराणामुपत्यकाः ॥' (भासह II. 18) and 'तदानीं स्फीतलावण्यचन्द्रिकाभरनिर्भरः । कान्ताननेदुरिन्दुश्च कस्य नानन्द-कोऽभवत् ॥' (उद्भट. I. 33) are examples of मध्यदीपक and अन्तदीपक respectively. Our author remarks upon this that this threefold division need not be given, because a thousand such varieties may be found out. There is no special charm in these divisions; whether the single attribute be mentioned in the beginning or end it does not matter. The charm of this figure lies in several प्रकृत and अप्रकृत things being connected with the same attribute.

The distinction between Dipaka and तुल्ययोगिता may be stated as follows:—In Dipaka, one or more प्रस्तुत things and one or more अप्रस्तुत things are connected with one attribute; while in तुल्ययोगिता, all things must be either प्रस्तुत or अप्रस्तुत; there cannot be both प्रस्तुत and अप्रस्तुत things. Those who regard औपम्य as implied in both the figures make a further distinction.
In Dipaka the Upameya is प्रस्तुत and the उपमान (implied, of course) is अप्रस्तुत, while in तुल्ययोगिता, as all things are either प्रस्तुत or are all अप्रस्तुत, it is left to the volition of the hearer to regard one as the Upameya and the other as the Upamāna
'अयं चानयोरपरो विशेषः । उभयोरनयोरुपमालङ्कारस्य गम्यत्वाविशेषेऽपि अत्र
(दीपके) अप्रस्तुतमुपमानं प्रस्तुतमुपमेयमिति व्यवस्थित उपमानोपमेयभावस्तत्र (तुल्ययोगितायां) तु विशेषाग्रहणादैच्छिकः स इति ॥' कुव० p. 51. In Dipaka, the प्रस्तुत (उपमेय) and the अप्रस्तुत (उपमान) are connected with the same attribute. A question arises:—how are we to distinguish दीपक from उपमा as in 'कमलमिव मुखं मनोज्ञम्' where कमल is उपमान (and therefore अप्रस्तुत) and मुख is उपमेय (i. e.
प्रस्तुत) and both are connected with the single attribute मनोज्ञत्व.
The reply is that in Dipaka the resemblance is only implied, if at all; there are no words like इव, expressive of simile;
while in simile the resemblance is directly expressed.

Vide Jagannātha's criticism of those who cite कारकदीपक as a separate variety; R. G. pp. 324–326 प्रथमार्थगतलक्षणेनैव दीपक-द्वयस्यापि संग्रहाद्द्वितीयं लक्षणं व्यर्थम् । गुणिनां कारकाणां च गुणक्रियारूपधर्मस्यैव

कृणति वेष्टति विवर्णति निमिषति विलोकयति तिर्यक् । अन्तर्नन्दति चुम्बितुमिच्छति
नवपरिणया वधुः शयने ॥' (मम्मट's example of कारकदीपक)
इत्याद्युदाहरणमपि न सङ्गच्छते । क्रियाणां शुद्धप्रकृतत्वात् । किं च दीपकतुल्ययोगितादौ

कान्वितानामप्यौपम्यं कविस्तरम्भगोचरः । तस्मात्समुच्चालङ्कारच्छायात्रोचिता । Jagannātha further criticizes those who regard दीपक and तुल्ययोगिता as two distinct figures. He says that they should not be considered as separate, because the charm in both is the same, viz. the occurrence of the common attribute only once. What leads to the separate enumeration of figures is some difference in charm. It cannot be said that, because in दीपक the common dharma is connected with both प्रकृत and अप्रकृत things and in तुल्ययोगिता either with प्रकृत things or with अप्रकृत things, there is difference of charm in the two figures; because, in तुल्ययोगिता also, as defined by you, you will have to make two figures according as the common dharma is connected with only प्रकृत things or with अप्रकृत things. But you do not do so. Therefore regard दीपक also as a variety of तुल्ययोगिता. “अत्रेदं बोध्यम् । तुल्ययोगितातो दीपकं न पृथग्भावमर्हति । धर्मसकृद्वृत्तिमूलाया विच्छित्तेरविशेषात् । विच्छित्तिवैलक्षण्यस्यैवालङ्कारविभागहेतुत्वात् । न च धर्मस्य सकृद्वृत्तेरविशेषेऽपि धर्मिणां प्रकृतत्वाप्रकृतत्वान्यां प्रकृताप्रकृतकत्वेन च तुल्ययोगिताया दीपकस्य विशेष इति वाच्यम् । तवापि तुल्ययोगितायां धर्मिणां केवलप्रकृतत्वस्य केवलप्रकृतत्वस्य च विशेषस्य सत्त्वादलङ्कारद्वैतापत्तेः । श्लेषेऽपि द्वैतापत्तेश्च । सर्वेषामप्यलङ्काराणां प्रमेदवैलक्षण्याद्वैलक्षण्यापत्तेश्च ।तस्मात्तुल्ययोगिताया एव त्रैविध्यमुचितम् । प्रकृतानामेव धर्मस्य सकृद्वृत्तिः, अप्रकृतानामेव, प्रकृताप्रकृतानां चेति । एवं च प्राचीनानां तुल्ययोगिततो दीपकस्य पृथगलङ्कारतामाचक्षणाणां दुराग्रहमात्रमिति नव्याः ।” R. G. pp. 326-327.

An example of कारकदीपक is ‘कामान्दुग्धे विप्रकर्षलक्ष्मीं कीर्तिं सते दुष्कृतं या हिनस्ति । तां चाप्येतां मातरं मङ्गलानां धेनुं धीराः सनुतां वाचमाहुः ॥’ उत्तरराम० V.

प्रतिवस्तूपमा the same common property is expressed in two different but synonymous expressions. In the example both sentences mean the same thing, viz. आकर्षण This figure is found in a series also. विमल..... सज्जनः—(p. 36, ll. 6-7). शिवगिरिः mountain of Śiva i. e. Kailāsa, which is white. Compare 'ईशः करस्थीकृतकाञ्चनाद्रिः कुबेरमित्रं रजताचलस्यः ।' विश्वगुणादर्शः शिवहाससहोदरः Brother of i. e. akin to Śiva's laughter. Here the words 'glorious', 'pure' are the same in their ultimate meaning. Here सज्जन is the उपमेय and in the other sentence there are उपमान and निर्मलत्व is common to all, though expressed in different words. This figure also occurs under a negation of the attribute. चकोर्य एव.....रतनर्मणि (p. 36, ll. 9-10). The verse occurs in अलं स० pp. 74-75 in the same connection. विनावन्तीर्न etc. 'none but the fair ones of Avanti are skilled in the pranks of love.' Other examples of प्रतिवस्तूपमा under वैधर्म्य are:—'वंशभवो गुणवानपि सङ्गविशेषेण पूज्यते पुरुषः । नहि तुम्बीफलविककलो वीणादण्डः प्रयाति महिमानम् ॥'; 'यदि सन्ति गुणाः पुंसां विकसनस्येव ते स्वयम् । नहि कस्तूरिकामोदः शपथेन विभाव्यते ॥' कुव० p. 54.

The reason why this figure is called प्रतिवस्तूपमा is given by कुव० as 'प्रतिवस्तु प्रतिवाक्यार्थमुपमा समानधर्मोऽस्यामिति' p. 52. Here the sense of the sentence constitutes the उपमान or the उपमेय. मम्मट says 'वस्तुनो वाक्यार्थस्योपमानत्वात्,' on which उद्द्योत remarks 'एवं चोपमेयत्वमपि वाक्यार्थस्येति ध्वनितम्'. 'वस्तुशब्दस्य वाक्यार्थाभिधायित्वात् प्रतिवाक्यार्थमुपमेति सार्थकताभिधानेयं द्विधा' एका० pp. 243 and 254.

The distinction between Upamā and प्रतिवस्तूपमा is as follows:—In Upamā, the resemblance may be expressed, while in प्रतिवस्तूपमा it is only implied; 2ndly, in Upamā there is only one sentence, while in प्रतिवस्तूपमा, there are two sentences; 3rdly, in प्रतिवस्तूपमा words like इव are always absent, while in Upamā they are generally present.

A beautiful example of this figure occurs in Śāk. (Act I.) 'मानुषीषु कथं वा स्यादस्य रूपस्य सम्भवः । न प्रभातरलं ज्योतिरुदेति वसुधातलात्'. Another is 'मानुः सङ्खुक्तुरङ्ग एव रात्रिदिवं गन्धर्वहः प्रयाति । शेषः सदैवाहितभूमिभारः पञ्चाशद्वृत्तेरपि धर्म एषः ॥ शा० 5.

17 दृष्टान्त (Exemplification).

सधर्मस्य* = साधारणैकधर्मस्य or सदृशस्य. वस्तुनः वाक्यार्थस्य. प्रतिबिम्बनं = बिम्बप्रतिबिम्बभावः. दृष्टान्त is the reflective representation of a similar subject. We have explained above under Upamā (p. 106) what is meant by बिम्बप्रतिबिम्बभाव. The word 'सधर्मस्य' serves to distinguish this figure from प्रतिवस्तूपमा. This figure also is two-fold, being founded either on similarity or on contrast. अविदित...

मणिति:—A good poet's song, though its merits have not been closely examined. अनधिगतपरिमलापि although its fragrance has not been perceived. Now, here, the subject of description is the song of a good poet, which pours a honeyed stream into the ear. Corresponding to 'pouring etc.,' we have the attribute 'riveting the eye'. These two are not the same, but there is some similarity between them, as there is between the original and its reflected image. So also नाग corresponds to मणिति and अनधिगतपरिमला to अविदितगुणा. त्वयि दृष्टे.....कुमुदसंहतेः. लंसते stops, is gone. अनुदयमाजि इन्दौ कुमुदसंहतेः ग्लानिः दृष्टा the assemblage of water-lilies has been seen to droop, when the moon is not risen. This is an example based on वैधर्म्यं. The fact that lilies droop when the moon is not risen implies that they do not droop when it rises; this idea corresponds to the one in the first line. वसन्त.. वल्लिमन्याम् (p. 36, ll. 18-19). वसन्तलेखायामेव यकसां निबद्धः भावः यस्य तत् (मनः) the affections of which are fixed upon Vasantalekhā alone. वसन्तलेखा-is the name of the नायिका and the verse is to be deemed as spoken by the hero. प्रफुल्ल... मन्याम् Does the bee, extremely fond of the honey of the blooming jasmine, desire any other plant? In this verse the figure is not दृष्टान्त, but प्रतिवस्तूपमा, because the two expressions, viz., 'how can our mind turn' and 'does the bee desire another plant', ultimately convey the same sense. In दृष्टान्त, in the two sentences the attributes are only similar and not the same (but differently expressed) as in प्रतिवस्तूपमा. इह तु...न त्वैकरूप्यम्—In the present figure, in the example 'अविदित etc.', the pouring of a stream of honey and riveting the eye, are only similar and not identical.

The term दृष्टान्त etymologically means that in which the ascertainment of the matter in hand is observed i. e. made authoritatively. It is that in which the truth of the matter in hand is confirmed by the example given in illustration, as said by Mammata 'दृष्टः अन्तः निश्चयः यत्र', which Mallinātha explains as 'दार्ष्टान्तिके सन्दिग्धस्यार्थस्यात्र निश्चयदर्शनादयं दृष्टान्तः' p. 245 of तरु.

The distinction between प्रतिवस्तूपमा and दृष्टान्त may be stated as follows:—Although in both similarity is implied, still in प्रतिवस्तूपमा the attribute is the same in both the sentences, being only expressed in different words; while in दृष्टान्त, the attribute in one sentence is only similar to (and not identical with) the attribute in the second sentence. In दृष्टान्त the two attributes mentioned in the two sentences stand in the relation of the original and its reflection, 'अस्य चालङ्कारस्य प्रतिवस्तूपमया भेदकमेतदेव यत्तस्यां धर्मो न प्रतिबिम्बितः, किं तु शुद्धसामान्यात्मनैव स्थितः। इह तु प्रतिबिम्बितः।' R. G. p. 337. जयरथ draws another distinction. In प्रतिवस्तूपमा something is stated in order to convey the idea that it is similar to the matter in hand; while in दृष्टान्त, in order that the matter in hand should not be indistinctly apprehended, we give an instance where a similar state of things exists. 'यतोऽस्याः प्रकृतार्थस्य विशेषाभिधित्तया सादृश्यार्थमप्रकृतमर्थान्तरमुपादीयते । अत एव चात्र प्रकृताप्रकृतयोरुपमानोपमेयभावः । दृष्टान्ते पुनरेतादृशो वृत्तान्तोऽन्यत्रापि स्थित इति प्रकृतस्यार्थस्याविस्पष्टा प्रतीतिर्मा भूदिति प्रतीतिविशदीकरणार्थमर्थान्तरमुपादीयते । विमर्शिनी p. 74. जयरथ says further on that similarity is not absolutely necessary for दृष्टान्त. Vide the severe criticism of these views of जयरथ in R. G. pp. 337-339. अत्र.....न तथेति भेदः (p. 36, ll. 22-24). In अर्थान्तरन्यास a general proposition is strengthened by particular instances or a particular instance is confirmed by a general proposition. In प्रतिवस्तूपमा or दृष्टान्त the two sentences do not stand in the relation of general and particular propositions. In them if the first is a particular proposition, the second also is so. Compare जयरथ's words 'किञ्चिच्च दृष्टान्ते द्वयोः समर्थ्यसमर्थकभावेन अनयोः (of प्रतिवस्तूपमा and दृष्टान्त) भेदमाहुः । तदसत् । यतः सरूपयोर्विशेषयोः समर्थ्यसमर्थकभावो न भवति । वस्तुवन्तरेण वस्तुवन्तरसिद्धयनुपपत्तेः ।.....यदि चात्र समर्थ्यसमर्थकभावः स्यादर्थान्तरन्यासादस्य पृथगलङ्कारता न स्यात् ।' विम० p. 75.

Jagannātha is willing to regard प्रतिवस्तूपमा and दृष्टान्त as two varieties of one figure. 'यदि तु न तेषां दाक्षिण्यं तदैकस्यैवालङ्कारस्य द्वौ भेदौ प्रतिवस्तूपमा दृष्टान्तश्च । यच्चानयोः किञ्चिद्वैलक्षण्यं तत्प्रभेदताया एव साधकं नालङ्कारताया इति सुवचम्।' R. G. p. 339.

A good example of दृष्टान्त is the following from Raghu. कामं नृपाः सन्ति सहस्रशोऽन्ये राजन्वतीमाहुरनेन भूमिम् । नक्षत्रताराग्रहसङ्कुलापि ज्योतिष्मती चन्द्रमसैव रात्रिः ॥; also स्वसुखनिरमिलाषः खिद्यसे लोकहेतोः प्रतिदिनमथवा ते वृत्तिरेवंविधैव । अनुभवति हि मूर्खा पादपस्तोत्रमुष्णं शमयति परितार्पणायया संश्रितानाम् । शा० V; कुतो धर्मक्रियाविघ्नः सतां रक्षितरि त्वयि । तमस्तपति धर्माशौ कथमाविर्भविष्यति ॥ शा० V.

18 निदर्शना (Illustration).

'When a possible or, as is sometimes the case, even an impossible connection of things implies a relation of type and prototype, it is निदर्शना.' वस्तुसम्बन्धः धर्मधर्मिभावः, बिम्बानुबिम्बत्वं बिम्बप्रतिबिम्बभावः. An example of निदर्शना under a possible connection of things is 'कोऽत्र' etc. Construe ततः दिनेन अत्र भूमिपल्लवे जनान्मुधा तापयन्कः सुचिरम् सम्पदम् एति इति वेदयन् भानुमान्

चरमाचलम् आसताद्—“Who, that vainly torments creatures in this mundane sphere, enjoys prosperity for a long time’ telling this, the sun, in a day, then reached the western mountain.” Here the connection of the sun as the agent in the act of intimating such an idea is quite possible, inasmuch as the attribute of reaching the western mountain, which (attribute) belongs to him, is quite capable of conveying such an idea. दिनेन is अपवर्गे तृतीया (पा. II. 3. 6) e. g. अह्ना अनुवाकोऽधीतः. अत्र तृतीयार्थः परित्यापिना विपत्त्याप्तिरूपः. स च—refers to वेदनक्रियायां कर्तृत्वेनावयः. This (possible) connection conveys the relation of Type and Prototype (original and reflection) between the sun’s setting and the falling into adversity of those who oppress others.

The ingredients which constitute निदर्शना are:—there must be a connection of things, which is, (A) either possible or (B) impossible; and moreover, this connection must lead on to or end in implying the relation of similarity. An example of A has been given above. There the sun is represented as telling a moral truth. This connection of the sun with telling leads us to suppose a similarity between अस्ताचलगमन and विपत्त्याप्ति. The second variety of निदर्शना, where an impossible connection of things causes us to suppose the existence of similarity, is of two kinds, as (1) occurring in a single sentence or (2) in more sentences than one. An instance of B (1) is ‘कलयति etc.’ (p. 37, ll. 5-6). ‘Her sidelong darting glance bears the loveliness of the blue lotus; her underlip, the glow of the tender leaf; her face, the charm of the moon.’ Here the impossibility of the darting glance etc. bearing the loveliness of the blue lotus garland etc.—for how can a thing possess the property of another?—suggests a loveliness like thereto and implies the relation of similarity between the wreath of blue lotuses and the darting of a glance. This is एकवाक्यम् because there is a single sentence is ‘कटाक्षविक्षेपः कुवलयमालालितं कलयति.’ कलयति—is to be connected with अपरः and आननं also. Another example of the same is प्रयाणे etc. Here it is impossible that the feet can give up the gait of the royal swan, with which they are in no way connected; we are to understand, therefore, that their (of the feet) connection with it (gait of a swan) is only fancied; this fancied connection, being actually impossible, implies a gait similar to that of the swan. An example of निदर्शना based upon an impossible connection of things (i. e. B. above) occurring in more sentences than one is ‘इदं किल etc.’ (p. 37, ll. 15-16). This verse occurs in Sāk. I. Here the connection of identity between the significations of the two sentences, respectively marked by the relative pronoun यद् and the demonstrative तद् (i. e. यः साधयितु इच्छति स च्छेतुम् व्यवस्यति) being impossible, terminates in the relation of विम्बप्रतिविम्बभाव thus:—the desire of making such a body fit for penance is like the desire of cutting the creeper with the edge of the blue lotus. Or to take another example of the same. 'जन्मेदं' etc.' (p. 37, ll. 21-22). वन्ध्यतां नीतम् rendered fruitless. भव...लिप्सया by the desire to enjoy the pleasures of the world. काचमूल्येन ..मया I have sold the (invaluable) Cintāmaṇi (desire-yielding jewel) at the price of glass. Here there is no possible connection between leading a useless life in the eager pursuit of pleasures and selling Cintāmaṇi at the price of glass. This impossibility ultimately terminates in implying a comparison, viz. the wasting of life in the pursuit of pleasures is like selling Cintāmaṇi at the price of glass. क...सागरम् (p. 37, ll. 25-26). This is Baghu. 1. 2. अल्पविषया मतिः Intellect of little compass. उडुपेन by means of a raft. Here, the description of the solar race by a narrow intellect and the crossing of the ocean on a raft are unconnected; but as they are brought together, they lead us to understand a comparison thus:—the description of the solar race by the intellect is like the crossing of the ocean on a raft.

इयं च...भोगविताने (P. 37, l. 28-p. 38, l. 4). इयं च... भवति—This variety (असम्बन्धस्तुसम्बन्ध) may also be found where some circumstance belonging to the उपमेय cannot be found in the Upamāna. In the foregoing examples, e. g. in 'कलयति कुवलयमालालितं' a property of the उपमान (here ललितं of the कुवलयमाला) was represented as borne by the Upameya, कदाक्षविक्षेपः; one thing cannot bear what belongs really to another alone and so we are led to suppose similarity. Sometimes a property of the Upameya is represented as belonging to the Upamāna and leads to the supposition of similarity. An example is 'योऽनुभूतः' etc.' मृद्वीकारसे in the juice of the grape. Here the attribute of sweetness belonging to the lower lip, which is the subject of description (and hence the उपमेय), being impossible in the grape-juice (the उपमान), the sense terminates in bringing out a comparison, as in the preceding examples. Our author here closely follows the अलं० स० "इयं सामान्येनैवासम्भवाद् प्रतिपादिता उपमेयवृत्तस्योपमानेऽसम्भवाद् अपि भवति । उभयत्रापि सम्बन्धविघटनस्य विद्यमानत्वात् । तद्यथा 'विद्योगे गौडनारीणां यो गण्डतल्लपाण्डिमा । अलक्ष्यत स खर्जूरीमञ्जरीमर्भरेणुषु ॥' अत्र गण्डतलं प्रकृतम्"

p. 78. निदर्शना is found in a series also, as in क्षिपति etc. (38 l. 3). वृषदर्शकः a cat. मृगादनः a hyena (तक्षुस्तु मृगादनः। अनर० II. 5. 1); रदनः a tooth. भोगविनाने चेतो विवधत् (त्वन्) thou who settest thy heart on a series of worldly enjoyments. This verse is addressed by a man who is ज्ञान्त to one who is भोगान्त.

इह विम्ब.....सादृश्यपर्ववसानभावात् (P. 38, ll. 5-7). The author distinguishes between निदर्शना and दृष्टान्त. In the former the sense of the sentence or sentences is not complete, until the relation of type and prototype (i. e. of similarity) is implied. But in दृष्टान्त, the sense of the sentence is complete; and then through the completed sense we understand the relation of type and prototype. Briefly put, in निदर्शना, resemblance is supposed in order to account for the bringing together of two things; while in दृष्टान्त, the sense is quite complete and then that sense implies resemblance. The अलं० स० draws another distinction. In दृष्टान्त the two sentences are independent and stand in the relation of type and prototype; while in निदर्शना, with the sense of the sentence, which is the subject of description, another sense is co-ordinated and the impossibility of the connection thus brought about is the cause of supposing similarity. सानर्थ्यात् = प्रयुक्तानुपयुक्तकथनापत्तिपरिहार एव सामर्थ्यम्—“निरपेक्षयोर्हि वाक्यार्थयोर्विम्ब-प्रतिविम्बभावो दृष्टान्तः। यत्र च प्रकृते वाक्यार्थे वाक्यार्थान्तरनारोप्यते सामानाधिकरण्येन तत्र सम्बन्धानुपपत्तिमूला निदर्शनेव युक्ता न दृष्टान्तः।” अलं० स. p. 77. Nor can it be said that this figure is the same as अर्थापत्ति (Natural Inference), because in the example of the latter, ‘हारोऽय’ (text p. 53) the sense does not terminate in a comparison, as it does in निदर्शना. In the example ‘कोऽत्र भूमिवलये’ etc., one may say that the meaning is “Even the sun, who torments people, sets; what of others?” Therefore there is अर्थापत्ति, which will be explained below. Our author replies that this is not so. The essence of निदर्शना is that we must be led on to suppose comparison. This is not so in अर्थापत्ति. In ‘कोऽत्र’ etc. we are led to suppose a comparison and therefore it is not an example of अर्थापत्ति.

Some writers like हय्यक divide असम्भवद्वस्तुसम्बन्धा into two varieties, पदार्थवृत्ति and वाक्यार्थवृत्ति, which correspond to एकवाक्यमा and अनेकवाक्यमा of our author. The अलं० स० gives ‘त्वत्पादनखरखानां यदलक्तकमार्जनम्। इदं श्रीखण्डलेपेन पाण्डुरीकरणं विधोः।’ as an example of निदर्शना. R. G. finds fault with it and calls it वाक्यार्थवृत्त्यक (p. 343). Uddyota defends the अलं० स० and says that this is शाब्दी निदर्शना, while ‘क सूर्य’ etc. is an example of आर्थी निदर्शना-

His reasons are 'न चेदं वाक्यार्थरूपकम् । लोकप्रसिद्धोपमानत्वोपमेयत्ववतोरभेदस्यैव रूपकत्वात् । किं च तत्र सादृश्यलक्षणामूलाऽभेदप्रतीतिः । इह तु प्रतीयमानाभेदानुपपत्त्या तत्त्वकल्पनेति भेदात् ।' p. 47. R. G. is willing to regard त्वत्पादनखरखानि यो रञ्जयति यावकैः । इन्दुं चन्दनलेपेन पाण्डुरीकुरुते हि सः ॥' (p. 344) as an example of निदर्शना.

- (A) सम्भवद्वस्तुनिदर्शना—चूडामणिपदे धत्ते यो देवं रविमागनम् । सतां कार्यातिथेयीति बोधयन्गृहमेधिनः ॥ अयं मन्दद्युतिर्भास्वानस्तं प्रति धियासति । उदयः पतनायेति श्रीमतो बोधयन्नरान् ॥ भामह III. 34; उदयत्रेण सविता पक्षेवर्षयति श्रियम् । विभावसितुमृद्धीनां फलं सुद्धनुग्रहम् ॥ K. D. II. 349.

19 व्यतिरेक (Contrast, Dissimilitude).

When the Upameya excels or falls short of the Upamāna, it is व्यतिरेक. The word व्यतिरेक means 'difference or excellence'. The name व्यतिरेक given to the figure is therefore quite appropriate, as in it the excellence of the Upameya over the Upamāna or vice versa is pointed out. एक.....त्रिधा (p. 38, l. 11). This is single, when the reason is mentioned and threefold when the reason is not mentioned. The reason of the superiority of the Upameya over the Upamāna is some point of excellence belonging to the Upameya and some point of inferiority belonging to the Upamāna. If both of them are mentioned, there is one kind of व्यतिरेक; when any one of the two is mentioned (but not both) there are two more varieties; when none of the two is mentioned there is one more. Thus there are in all four varieties.

चतुर्विधोऽपि.....अष्टचत्वारिंशद्विधः पुनः—The fourfold व्यतिरेक becomes twelvefold according as the relation of Upamāna and Upameya is directly expressed by words or indirectly through the sense or is only implied. आक्षेप means 'implication.' आक्षेपेण उपमाप्रतिपादकानामिवादीनां तुल्यादिपदानां चाभावे कल्पनेनेत्यर्थः. These twelve varieties become twenty-four (three times eight) according as there is Paronomasia or not (the words 'क्षेपेऽपि' in the kārikā implying the idea of अक्षेपेऽपि). These 24 varieties occur when the Upameya is superior to the Upamāna,

These 24 varieties also occur in the same manner as above, when the Upameya is inferior to the Upamāna. Thus there are in all 48 varieties.

अकलङ्कः.....आधिवय उदाहरणानि (P. 38, l. 22-p. 39, l. 3). In 'अकलङ्क' etc., both the circumstances, viz, 'spotlessness' belonging to the Upameya and 'the stainedness' of the moon (the Upamāna) are expressed. If we read 'न कलङ्कि विधुर्यम्' for 'न कलङ्कि विधुर्यथा' there is indirect comparison. We have to remember the distinction of श्रौती and आर्थी उपमा based on the employment of words like यथा, इव or तुल्य etc. If we read 'जयतीन्दुं कलङ्किनम्' (triumphs over the spotted moon) for 'न कलङ्की विधुर्यथा', we shall have an implied comparison, as words like इव, तुल्य are absent. The face cannot defeat anything; so we are led to infer similarity between the face and the moon. द्वयोरनुत्तौ—when both अकलङ्क and कलङ्कि are omitted we shall have an example of व्यतिरेक, where there is no mention of उपमेयगतमुत्कर्षकारणम् or of उपमानगतनिकर्षकारणम्. In this case the sentence would stand as 'मुखं तस्या न विधुर्यथा'. Our author's view is open to the following criticism. Here it is simply stated that her face is not like the moon; i. e. there is pure सादृश्यनिषेध and nothing more. From this sentence standing by itself we cannot understand that the face is superior or inferior to the moon. When it is said that A is not like B, there is generally no idea of expressing the superiority of one over the other. What we do is to negative similarity. So, those varieties of व्यतिरेक (viz. शाब्द, आर्थ and आक्षिप्त) which occur when both उपमेयगतोत्कर्ष and उपमानगतनिकर्ष are omitted, should really be not counted at all. Compare the criticism of R. G. 'इदं तु बोध्यम्-इहोमयानुपादानमेदत्रयं दुरुपपादम् । वैधर्म्यानुपादाने हि किमाश्रयः श्लेषः स्यात् । न च यत्र द्विजसुरालयमातरिश्वादिशब्दवेद्येषूपमानोपमेयेषु स्वशब्दोपात्त एव श्लेषो व्यतिरेकोत्थापकस्तत्रैव तदुदाहरणं सूपपादमिति वाच्यम् । तत्र स्वशब्दवेद्यैव वैधर्म्यस्य सम्भवात् । इत्थं च चतुर्विंशतिभेदा इति प्रात्रामुक्तिर्विपुलोदाहरणामिज्ञैर्यथाकथञ्चिदुपपादनीया । किं चोपमाप्रमेदाः सर्व एवात्र सम्भवन्तीत्यलं चतुर्विंशतिभेदगणनया ॥" p. 350. श्लेषे.....उदाहरणानि (p. 38, l. 29-p. 39, l. 3). अति etc. This is imitated from Mammata's words 'अतिगाढगुणस्यास्य नाञ्जवद्भङ्गुरा गुणाः' (का. प्र. 10). गुण means 'fibre' as well as 'merit'. भङ्गुर frail. Here वत् is used in the sense of इव (according to the sūtra 'तत्र तस्येव'). Therefore it is शाब्दव्यतिरेक. Both the superiority of the Upameya (गाढगुणत्व) and the inferiority of the उपमान (भङ्गुरगुणत्व) are mentioned. गुण is paronomastic. Other varieties should be understood as before. Another example of श्लेषव्यतिरेक (आर्थ)

मागतः ॥" का. प्र X. Here the word कल is Paronomastic (meaning 'phases' or 'arts'). All these are examples of the cases where the उपमेय excels the Upamāna.

न्यूनत्वे दिङ्मानं यथा..... स्याधिक्यम् (P. 39, 11, 3-6). न्यूनत्वे- supply उपमेयस्य. क्षीणः क्षीणोऽपि...यातं तु. This is रुद्रट VII. 90. मानिनीं प्रति कामुकस्योक्तिरियम्. यातं तु यौवनं अनिवर्ति-Youth, when gone, never comes back again. Here, the उपमान is the moon and the Upameya is youth. The moon is pointed out as waxing again after waning, while (the उपमेय) youth never waxes when once it is lost. So youth is inferior to the moon. This is the opinion of our author, who closely follows the अलं. सू. which defines व्यतिरेक as 'मेदप्राधान्ये उपमानादुपमेयस्याधिक्ये विपर्यये वा व्यतिरेकः'
p. 79. The अलं. सू. following रुद्रट cites 'क्षीणः' etc. as an example of उपमेयन्यूनत्व. It remarks upon 'क्षीणः' etc. 'चन्द्रापेक्षया च यौवनस्य न्यूनगुणत्वम् । शशिवैलक्ष्येन तस्यापुनरागमनात्' p. 80. This view is sharply opposed to that of Mammata, Jagannātha and others, who say that व्यतिरेक occurs only when the उपमेय is superior to or excels the Upamāna in some way. They do not hold that the variety where उपमेय is inferior to the Upamāna has any charm in it. They say that 'क्षीणः क्षीणः' is an example of व्यतिरेक as defined by them; i. e. in it also the उपमेय excels (and is not inferior to) the Upamāna. The views of Mammata and others are summed up by our author in 'अत्रोपमेय.....यत्केचिदाहुः'.
They say that the Upameya and Upamāna are not youth and the moon respectively, but are the instability of youth and that of the moon. Here the waning of the moon is inferior, because it is followed by waxing; but the instability of youth is superior, because it can never return when once gone. Therefore what the poet here intends to convey is the superiority of the instability of youth over that of the moon. The verse then means—The moon, though she wanes, is easily found again; but youth cannot be regained when once lost; so you should not, cultured as you are, render it fruitless, by dwelling too much on your wounded pride. The sense is quite favourable to the object desired, viz., soothing the heroine's wounded feeling. But, if we take the moon as Upamāna and youth as the Upameya and say that here youth is said to be inferior, then the meaning of the verse would be unfavourable to the object desired. The meaning would be 'As youth is inferior, why should I give up my pride; let it pass, an inferior thing as it is.' Therefore in this verse also, there is अधिक्य of उपमेय over उपमान. Therefore the words 'विपर्यये वा' employed in the definition of व्यतिरेक by some (e. g. अरु. स.) are useless. व्यतिरेक can never occur when the उपमेय is represented as being inferior to the Upamāna. These are the views of Mammata and others. Our author does not agree with them.

अस्तु वा.....न्यूनतायुवा इति (P. 39, ll. 9-12). Our author concedes for argument's sake, that in 'क्षीणः क्षीणः' there is उपमेयाधिक्य (and not उपमेयन्यूनता). The reason why he concedes this is probably as follows:—That verse is intended to soothe a proud woman. It can produce the desired effect only if it is impressed upon her mind that by insisting upon nourishing her wounded feelings, she would be casting aside a rare thing, viz. youth. So in order to heighten the value of youth, it must be pointed out that it never returns again when once lost. It would not do to point out that it is inferior; so, instead of regarding यौवन as the उपमेय and as being inferior to the moon, it is better to point out that यौवन is the most unstable thing in the world (i. e. यौवनस्थैर्य is the उपमेय) and that the most must be made of it. After conceding that 'क्षीणः' etc. may be an example of उपमेयगताधिक्य, our author cites 'हनुमदाद्यैः' etc. as an example, where there is उपमेयगतन्यूनत्व and says that here the explanation offered on 'क्षीणः' etc. would not hold good. हनुमदाद्यैः.....सिद्धीकृतः-

This is the last half of Nai. IX. 123, the first half being 'स्वनाम यन्नाम मुधान्यधामहो महेन्द्रकार्यं महदेतदुज्झितम्'। The printed text of the नैषधीय reads दूत्यपथ, which appears to be better. Hanumat and others illumined the messenger's path by their fame (which is white), while I, by my foemen's laugh (which is also represented as white). Here हनूमत् and others (i. e. उपमान) are superior, because they carried out the errand on which they were sent by their masters; the उपमेय, Nala (who is the speaker), is inferior, because he failed in effecting the object for which he was sent by the gods, viz. winning over Damayanti for them. Our author suggests, by the words 'का गतिः', that we cannot anyhow show that the Upameya is superior to the Upamāna here. Therefore it is quite proper that the words न्यूनताऽथवा are inserted in the definition. But the उद्घोत shows that even here it is उपमेयगताधिक्य and not उपमेयगतन्यूनत्व that is intended "अत्र नलमहीपतेः स्वनिन्दया लब्धनिर्वेदातिशयरूपप्रकृतवाक्यार्थे दूत्यगत-न्यूनताया एवानुगुणत्वेनाधिक्यरूपत्वाद्"।" p. 70.

'तदुभयमप्यस्तत् । अस्मिन् हि प्रियहितकारिण्या वचने चन्द्रादप्यधिकगुणत्वमेव विवक्षितम्, न न्यूनगुणत्वम् । चन्द्रो हि पुनःपुनरागमनेन लोके सुलभः अत एव न तादृशमाहात्म्यशाली । इदं च पुनर्यौवनमपुनरागमनेनातिदुर्लभतरत्वादत्युत्कृष्टमिति मानादिभिरन्तराधैः शठजनश्लाघनीयैर्विदग्धया भवत्या मुधा गमयितुमसंप्रतमिति तावदुपात्तगुणकृतमुत्कृष्टत्वं स्फुटमेव । सकलसुखनिदानत्वाद्यनुपात्तगुणकृतोऽप्युत्कर्षोऽत्र वाक्यार्थपरिपोषाय सहृदयहृदयसरणिमवतरति । अन्यथा 'किमित्यस्य कदर्यस्य यौवनस्य कृते मया मानाद्विरस्यते यातु नाम यौवनमिति' प्रतिकूलैकार्थेन प्रकृतार्थस्यापुष्टतापत्तेः । किंच यत्र कापि शब्द उपमेयस्थापकर्षस्तत्रापि स तस्य वाक्यार्थपर्यवसायितयोत्कर्षात्मना परिणमति । यथा 'द्रोहो निरागसां लोके हीनो हालाहलादपि । अयं हन्ति कुलं सार्धं भोक्तारं केवलं तु सः ॥' अत्र हीन इत्यपकर्षो दारुणताधिक्यरूपोत्कर्षात्मना परिणमति ।" R. G. p. 353.

20 सहोक्ति (Connected Description).

When a single expression by the force of a term denoting conjunction, signifies two facts, it is सहोक्ति, provided hyperbole be at the basis of it. When a word conveying, by virtue of the power of denotation, a meaning connected with one thing, also conveys a meaning connected with another thing by the force of some word like सह, सार्धम्, साकम् etc., it is सहोक्ति. In पुत्रेण सहागतः पिता, the father is connected with the action of coming as well as the son. But the father, being in the nominative case, is principal, while पुत्र, being in the instrumental, is indirectly (and therefore subordinately) connected with the action of coming. The employment of the word सह denotes the idea of गुणप्रधानभाव between the words, not necessarily between the objects. It should never be forgotten that strikingness is the essence of every figure. सहोक्ति also must be striking. So पुत्रेण सहागतः पिता is not an example of the figure. सहोक्ति is striking only when it is based upon अनिशयोक्ति. This अतिशयोक्ति may be of two kinds, (1) based upon अमेदाध्यवसाय ('Introsusception of an object into an identity with another') or (2) upon the inversion of the sequence of cause and effect. The former again may rest upon (a) Paronomasia, or (b) not. The अलं. स. remarks that in सहोक्ति the poet intends to convey the relation of उपमान and उपमेय, but it is not the natural one (as that of चन्द्र and मुख) but is entirely left to the volition of the writer. 'सहार्थप्रयुक्तश्चात्र गुणप्रधानभावः । उपमानोपमेयत्वं चात्र वैवक्षिकम् । द्वयोरपि प्राकरणिकत्वादप्राकरणिकत्वाद्वा । सहार्थसामर्थ्याद्धि तयोस्तुल्यकक्षत्वम् । नत्र तृतीयान्तस्य नियमेन गुणत्वादुपमानत्वम्, अर्थाच्च परिशिष्टस्य प्रधानत्वादुपमेयत्वम् । शाब्दश्चात्र गुणप्रधानभावः । वस्तुतस्तु विपर्ययोऽपि स्यात् । तत्र नियमेनातिशयोक्तिमूलत्वमस्याः । सा च कार्यकारणप्रतिनियमविपर्ययरूपा अमेदाध्यवसायरूपा च । अमेदाध्यवसायश्च श्लेषभित्तिकोऽन्यथा वा ।" p. 81.

सहाधरदलेन etc. Here the word रागभाक् is Paronomastic. There is अमेदाध्यवसाय between राग meaning 'redness' and राग meaning 'love'. Therefore this is अमेदाध्यवसायमूलातिशयोक्तिमूला सहोक्ति i. e. 1a). सह कुमुद...सञ्चरन्ति. सह.....उल्लासयन्तः 'awakening love along with the assemblage of water-lilies.' सह सरसिज.....मीलयन्तः 'closing the heart (in the contemplation of the beloved one) along with the multitude of lotuses.' Here the words उल्लासः are distinct from the difference of the things they relate to, but not under a Paronomasia. The idea is,—in 'सहाधर' etc. the two literal senses of the word राग (love, redness) are identified; while here, the word उल्लास has one general sense 'awakening,' which in relation to the lotuses means 'expanding' and in relation to love 'exciting'. These two, i. e. expanding and exciting are spoken of under one word, because they are very similar. There is no Paronomasia (i. e. it is an example of 1b).

An example of सहोक्ति based upon the inversion of the sequence of cause and effect is 'सममेव' etc. सममेव...तलम्. The Nirn. edition says that this is taken from the Raghuvamśa. But this seems to be wrong. There is a similar verse in Raghu. "वपुषा करणोज्झितेन सा निपतन्ती पतिमप्यपातयत् । ननु तैलनिषेक-

लक्षणेन.....नायमलंकारः. In लक्षणेन etc. there is no सहोक्ति, because there is no अतिशयोक्ति at the basis.

Jagannātha very strongly criticizes those who regard कार्यकारणपौर्वापर्यविपर्ययमूला सहोक्ति as a separate figure. He says that the charm lies simply in the inversion and therefore the figure is अतिशयोक्ति and not सहोक्ति. Vide his lucid and pointed remarks in R. G. pp. 361-362.

Other examples of सहोक्ति are:—‘सह दीर्घा मम श्वासैरिमाः संप्रति रात्रयः । पाण्डुराश्च ममैवाङ्गैः सह ताश्चन्द्रभूषणाः ॥ वर्षते सह पान्थानां मूर्च्छया चूतमञ्जरी । पतन्ति च समं तेषामसुभिर्मलयानिलाः ॥’ K. D. II. 352-353.

21 विनोक्ति (Speech of Absence).

यद् अन्येन विना अन्यद् न असाधु, असाधु वा (सा) विनोक्तिः—That is विनोक्ति, when a thing in the absence of another is represented (1) as not disagreeable, or (2) as disagreeable. नसाधु means that it does not become unsightly. Thus, though the meaning of the words न असाधु is ultimately the same as ‘शोभन’ i. e. agreeable, still the reason why the attribute of agreeableness is expressed through the negative of disagreeableness (i. e. not positively as शोभन, but through two negatives as in न अशोभन) is to convey the idea that the अशोभनत्व (apparent) of some object of description is the fault of the proximity of another object (and not of the object to be described) and that the object of description is naturally fair in itself. Compare अलं. स० ‘अत्र च शोभनत्वाशोभनत्वसत्तायामेव वक्तव्यायामसत्तामुखेनाभिधानमन्यनिवृत्तिप्रयुक्ता तन्निवृत्तिरिति ख्यापनार्थम् । एवं च तदन्यनिवृत्तौ विधिरेव प्रकाशिनो भवति ।’ p. 83. विना etc. निस्तन्द्रतां गतः attained her unslumbering state (i. e. shone with all her natural brilliance). ग्रीष्मोष्मणा विना without the heat of summer. मञ्जुः charming. Here the moon and woods are naturally charming, but become अशोभन only in the presence of clouds and summer respectively. When these latter are absent, they become agreeable i. e. this verse is an example of that variety, which is ‘अन्येन विना अन्यद् अशोभनं न’ जनादीति कान्तमनुयान्त्या By you, who followed thy lord who is dead. Here दिनश्री is अशोभना without the sun, i. e. अन्येन विना अन्यत् अशोभनम्. निरर्थकं.....न येन (p 40, ll. 7-8). This occurs in अलं. स. p. 84 as an example of विनोक्ति. It is ascribed to बिम्बहण and राजकन्या in the सुभाषितावलि (No. 1964). तुहिनांशुः means 'the moon.' विनिद्रा awakened i. e. blooming. The Sarvasva reads the last pāda as 'न येन दृष्टा नलिनी प्रबुद्धा'. In this verse, there is a special strikingness, as there is a विनोक्ति with reference to each of the two i. e. नलिनीजन्म is said to be अशोभन without चन्द्रदर्शन and चन्द्रोत्पत्ति is said to be अशोभन without विनिद्रनलिनीदर्शन. अलं स. remarks in the same way on निरर्थकं etc. 'इत्यादौ विनोक्तिरेव तुहिनांशुदर्शनं विना नलिनीजन्मनोऽशोभनत्वप्रतीतिः । इयं च परस्परविनोक्तिभंग्या चमत्कारातिशयकृत् । यथोदाहृते विषये ।' p. 84.

Bhāmaha and Udbhata do not define this figure. A writer called अलङ्कारभाष्यकार defines it differently. विम० says "यदाहालङ्कारभाष्यकारः । नित्यसम्बद्धानामसम्बन्धवचनं विनोक्तिरिति विनोक्तिरुपसंख्यास्यते इति" p. 83. An example of this विनोक्ति will be "तस्याः शैल्यं विना ज्योत्स्ना पुष्पङ्गिः सौरभं विना । विनोष्णत्वं च द्रुतभुक्त्वां विना प्रतिभासते" इत्यत्र विनोक्त्यलङ्कारत्वमाहुः । अत्र हि ज्योत्स्नादीनां शैल्यादिना नित्यमविनाभावेऽपि विनाभाव उपनिबद्धः" विम० p. 83. Jagannātha also refers to this अलङ्कारभाष्यकार, quotes his definition and cites the following as an example:—मृणालमन्दानिलचन्दनानामुशीरशेवालकुशेशयानाम् । वियोगदूरीकृतचेतनाया विनैव शैल्यं भवति प्रतीतिः ॥ R. G. pp. 365-366.

An example of समासोक्ति, where the behaviour of the अप्रस्तुत is ascribed to the प्रस्तुत from a sameness of action, is व्याधूय etc. व्याधूय...गन्धवाह (p. 40, ll. 15-16). अम्बुजलोचनायाः (कमलनयनायाः) कनककुम्भविलासभाजोः वक्षोजयोः (स्तनयोः) वसनं (वस्त्रं) व्याधूय (दूरमपसार्य), यद् अस्याः अशेषं (सर्वं) अन्नं प्रसभ (हठात्) आलिङ्गसि (तत्) (हे) मलयाचलगन्धवाह (मलयपर्वतसम्बन्धिवायो) त्वमेव धन्यः. Here it must be understood that the subject of description is the wind from the Malaya mountain. The action of embracing the woman belongs both to the wind and the lover. But the lover is not mentioned and is अप्रस्तुत here. So here from the sameness of action, there is an ascription of the behaviour of a rough lover to the wind. It must be noted that, if here it is not the wind that is the subject of description, but the lover, who does not succeed in embracing the woman and therefore calls the wind blessed, implying thereby that he is unfortunate, then the figure would be अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा and not समासोक्ति.

Sameness of attributes (i. e. 3 above) may occur in three ways; (a) from a Paronomasia; (b) from community (साधारण्य) and (c) as implying resemblance. An example of (3 a) is विकसित etc. (p. 40, ll. 24-27). This verse is a description of morning on पौर्णिमा. तुहिनद्युतिः (हिमांशुः चन्द्रः) पुरः (पुरतः) विकसितमुखी (विकसितं मुखं एकदेशः यस्याः सा; विकसितं मुखं वदनं यस्याः सा) रागासङ्गात् (रागस्य रक्तवर्णस्य आसङ्गात्; रागस्य अनुरागस्य आसङ्गात्) गलत्तिमिरावृत्तिम् (गलन्ती अत्र्यन्ती तिमिरस्य अन्धकारस्य आवृत्तिः आवरणं यस्याः सा; पक्षे गलन्ती तिमिरावृत्तिः तिमिरसदृशं वसनं यस्याः सा), दिनकरकरस्पृष्टाम् (सूर्यकिरणस्पृष्टाम्; कर-हस्तः तेन स्पृष्टाम्) पेन्द्री (प्राची) दिशं निरीक्ष्य, जरठलवलीपाण्डुच्छायः (पक्कलवः लीवत् पाण्डुः छाया कान्तिर्यस्य सः) कलुषान्तरः (कलुषं मलिनं अन्तरं यस्य; पक्षे कलुषं ईर्ष्या आकुलं अन्तरं मनः यस्य स) प्राचेतसीं (वरुणाधिष्ठितां प्रतीची) हरितं (दिशं) श्रयति (भजते). हन्त इति खेदे. In this verse the words मुख, राग etc. are Paronomastic. Here the moon is the subject of description; as the morning rays redden the eastern horizon, the moon approaches the western horizon with faded lustre

The Paronomastic adjectives convey the idea that, on seeing that his beloved (a fickle woman) touched by another's hand grows joyous, the lover loses his colour through jealousy. Here, to the moon is ascribed the behaviour of the lover and to the eastern quarter that of a fickle lady.

अत्रैव.....समासोक्तिरेव. In the above example, even if we read 'निमिरांशुकाम्' for 'निमिरावृत्तिम्' and thus turn a part of the verse into a metaphor (गल्तिनिमिरांशुकाम् would be equal to गल्त्तिमिरमेव अंशुक यस्याः सा), the figure is still समासोक्ति and not एकदेशविवर्तिरूपक. तत्र.....ईशः. The author now proceeds to assign his reasons for saying that there is still समासोक्ति. There (i. e. in निमिरांशुकाम्) the figuring of darkness as vesture would, from their evident resemblance on account of both being covering things, rest in itself independent of the help of any other metaphor (such as that of the East as a woman); so it (रूप्यरूपकभावः) could not preclude our recognizing समासोक्ति to be the figure in this whole verse. What the author means is:—निमिर and अंशुक are both covering things; their resemblance is therefore quite evident; they can very well be superimposed the one on the other on account of this resemblance. The superimposition of अंशुक on निमिर would be quite independent of any other आरोप in the verse and may stand by itself. It is not necessary for us to suppose a superimposition in any other part of the verse. Therefore the figure in the whole verse is समासोक्ति although in one part (i. e. निमिरांशुकाम् read for निमिरावृत्तिम्) there is Rūpaka. यत्र..... रूपकमेव—Where the thing figured and the thing figuring it do not bear an evident resemblance, there indeed the metaphor being unintelligible apart from a metaphor in another part, we have to recognize an implied metaphor in another part of the description, although it be not expressed in words. In such a case there is एकदेशविवर्तिरूपक. The author says:—in एकदेशविवर्तिरूपक, we have one metaphor expressed in words, but the resemblance of the two things is not quite evident. This leads us to recognise a metaphor in another part of the description, although it be not expressed. But in the verse 'विकसितमुखी' etc. the रूपक in निमिरांशुक is quite independent of any other Rūpaka, as the two things greatly resemble one another. We need not suppose, to account for निमिरांशुक, that there is a रूपक of प्राची and नायिका, although it is not directly expressed. Therefore, निमिरांशुक

standing by itself, the figure in the whole verse is समासोक्ति and not एकदेशविवर्तिरूपक. An example of एकदेशविवर्तिरूपक is 'जस्त' etc. (p. 40, ll. 4-5). 'यस्य रणान्तःपुरे करे कुर्वतो मण्डलाग्रलताम् । रससंमुख्यपि सहसा पराङ्मुखीभवति रिपुसेना ॥'. This verse is cited in the K. P. as an example of एकदेशविवर्तिरूपक. 'मण्डलाग्रलताम् खड्गलताम् । करे कुर्वतः धारयतः । युद्धार्थं रतार्थं च । अन्तःपुरत्वारोपसामर्थ्याद्धताया नायिकात्वावगमात् रसेन वीररसेन शृङ्गारेण च । संमुखी युयुत्सु रिरंसुश्च । पराङ्मुखीभवति भयाद्बुद्धान्निवर्तते कोपात्प्रियसङ्गमाच्च ।' उ. च. p. 385. Here the resemblance between battle-field and the अन्तःपुर is not quite evident. Here, although there is the superimposition of the character of a heroine on मण्डलाग्रलता, because the gender of both words is the same and although the behaviour of the rival heroine (प्रतिनायिका) is superimposed upon the hostile army, because both turn their faces away (the one in running away and the other through jealousy), still the figure is एकदेशविवर्तिरूपक (and not समासोक्ति where also there is the superimposition of अप्रस्तुतव्यवहार on a प्रस्तुत thing); for these two superimpositions (of नायिका on मण्डलाग्रलता and प्रतिनायिका on रिपुसेना) are made solely to account for the superimposition of अन्तःपुर on रण. . क्वचिच्च.....निरोधायकत्वाद्—In those cases also where there is an expressed figuring of many objects bearing evident resemblance to those with which they are identified, and an implied figuring in a part, there also there is एकदेशविवर्तिरूपक. The author said above that even if we read (in 'विकसितमुखी' etc.) 'निमिरांशुकाम्' the figure will be समासोक्ति; the Rūpaka in निमिरांशुकाम् may stand by itself, as the resemblance between darkness and vesture is evident. Now suppose that there are several Rūpakas, all expressed in words, in a verse and the things superimposed bear great resemblance to the things on which they are superimposed; and also that there is one superimposition which is implied and not expressed. Now the question is:—Is the figure of the whole verse समासोक्ति or एकदेशविवर्तिरूपक? It may be said that, as in निमिरांशुकाम्, the Rūpakas, being all of them as regards things between which there is evident resemblance, may stand by themselves and the figure will be समासोक्ति as there is one superimposition which is implied (as in समासोक्ति) and not expressed. The author says that this should not be so. The figure must be taken to be Rūpaka, as the cognition of metaphor is the pervading one (on account of there being a number of directly expressed Rūpakas) and as this all-pervading cognition prevails over the cognition of समासोक्ति (which is possible, in the case supposed in a solitary part of the whole verse). व्यापितया = बहुत्वेन or अनेकपदाश्रयत्वात्.

औपन्यगर्भत्वं.....प्रतीतिः (P. 41, ll. 16-25). The circumstance of the common qualification implying a resemblance (i. e. 3 c above) is possible in three ways according as a simile or a metaphor or a commixture (of the two figures) is included. उपमा...गर्भत्वात् = उपमागर्भत्वे रूपकगर्भत्वे उपमारूपकयोः सन्देहसङ्कारगर्भत्वे च. तत्रोपमागर्भत्वे etc. दन्तप्रभा...हरिणेश्वरा—This occurs in अलं. स. p. 86. Compare the following from उद्भट (II. 23) 'दन्तप्रभासुमनसं पाणिपल्लवशोभिनीम् । तन्वी वनगतां लीनजटाषट्चरणावलम् ॥' cited as an example of समामोक्ति. In this verse the adjective सुवेषा (well dressed) applies primarily to the lady. Therefore, the other adjectives दन्तप्रभा etc. must be interpreted in such a way as to be applicable to her. दन्तप्रभापुष्पचिता is to be dissolved as दन्तप्रभाः पुष्पाणि इव तैः चिता. In so dissolving, the word दन्तप्रभाः will be prominent and the figure, in the compound, will be Upamā. Afterwards, the compound दन्तप्रभापुष्पचिता being dissolved in another manner (as दन्तप्रभासदृशैः पुष्पैश्चिता, which is a मध्यमपदलोपिसमास, 'covered with flowers resembling the brightness of the teeth') we recognise the fawn-eyed lady under the character of a creeper, by the force of the qualifications (such as दन्तप्रभापुष्पचिता, पाणिपल्लवशोभिनी etc.) which are equally applicable both to the lady and to the creeper (by a difference in the way of the dissolution of the compounds). Our author here copies the very words of the अलं. स. p. 16 'अत्र दन्तप्रभाः पुष्पाणीवेति सुवेषत्ववशादुपमागर्भत्वेन च कृते समासे पश्चाद्दन्तप्रभासदृशैः पुष्पैश्चितेति समानान्तराश्रयणेन समानविशेषणमाहात्म्याल्लताव्यवहारप्रतीतिः ।' रूपकगर्भत्वे.....इत्यादि (p. 41, ll. 22-23). The verse 'लावण्यमधुभिः' has been cited above (text p. 23) as an example of एकदेशविवतिरूपक. The way in which this verse will be समामोक्ति is as follows:—लावण्य and मधु are both delightful; similarly, रोलम्ब and लोचन are both श्याम; therefore there is evident resemblance between them. These two Rūpakas may stand by themselves; they are independent and do not require the आरोप of पक्ष on मुख. The adjective विकस्वर (expanding) primarily applies to पक्ष and not to मुख. Therefore, as in 'निर्गमसौरभ' etc., the figure is समामोक्ति. The number of Rūpakas being only two (and not many), there is no all-pervading idea of Rūpakas; and so the figure may well be समामोक्ति. It will be seen below that our author's view is quite different and that he does not approve of रूपकगर्भी समामोक्ति. In giving this example he simply follows ancient writers. सङ्कारगर्भत्वे.....प्रतीतिः (p. 41, ll. 23-25). सङ्कार will be treated of at length below. It has been briefly explained in the notes (p. 21) on 'यः कौमारहरः'. If we read परीता for सुवेषा in 'दन्तप्रभा' etc. then समासोक्ति will be सङ्करगर्भ (of उपमा and रूपक). परीता is an adjective that may apply to the lady as well as to the creeper. There is no criterion for settling whether there is a simile or a metaphor as in दन्तप्रभापुष्पचिता. Therefore there is सन्देहसङ्कर. We may dissolve the compound in one way or the other. When we have dissolved it in one way, then we shall recognise the lady under the character of the creeper. Compare “अत्रैव ‘परीता हरिपेक्षणा’ इति पाठे उपमारूपकसाधकवाधकाभावात्सङ्कर-समाश्रयणेन कृते योजने पश्चात्पूर्ववत् समानान्तरमहिम्ना कृताप्रतीतिर्ज्ञेया ।” अलं. स. pp. 86-87.

The 2nd (viz. रूपकगर्भसमासोक्ति) is nothing but एकदेशविवर्तिरूपक. In लावण्यमधुभिः पूर्ण etc. there is एकदेशविवर्तिरूपक and not समासोक्ति (as the author said following ancient writers); because here the charm lies in the Rūpaka and not in समासोक्ति: besides what is first perceived is the Rūpaka. मधु cannot possibly be connected with the face and hence from the very first we must superimpose पद्मत्व on मुख. Compare ‘मुखे मध्वाद्यन्वयस्यासम्भावात्प्रथमत एव पद्माध्याहारेण प्रतीतिः । कुतो व्यञ्जनामात्रप्राणा समासोक्तिरिति भावः ।’ राम०. ‘रूपकगर्भत्वेन तु समानान्तराश्रयणात्समानविशेषणत्वं भवदपि न समासोक्तेः प्रयोजकम् । एकदेशविवर्तिरूपकमुखेनैवार्थान्तरप्रतीतिस्तस्या वैयर्थ्यात् ।’ अलं. स. p. 87. पर्यालोचने.....उचिता—On careful consideration, however, it will appear that in the first variety (viz. उपमागर्भसमासोक्ति) it is proper to recognize no other figure than partial Simile.

instead of प्रमोदयन्ती*. पाण्डुपयोधरेण आर्द्रनखक्षताभम् ऐन्द्रं धनुः दधाना शरद् सकलङ्कमिन्दुं प्रमोदयन्ती रवेः अभ्यधिकं तापं चकार. The autumn bearing on her pale पयोधर (cloud; breast) the bow of Indra (the rain-bow) resembling the fresh wound of the nail and delighting the spotted moon, increased the distresses (or the heat) of the sun. If एकदेशविवर्तिनी उपमा be not admitted and in its place समासोक्ति be recognised, then in the above verse, how can we recognise the autumn as behaving like a woman, when it is impossible that the breast of the woman should bear the rain-bow resembling a fresh wound of the nail? What the author means is:— In the above verse every one admits that the sun and the moon are apprehended as the Nāyakas. Now the question is whether this apprehension is due to Upamā or समासोक्ति, or whether the figure in the verse is एकदेशविवर्तिनी उपमा or समासोक्ति. The words आर्द्रनखक्षताभम् ऐन्द्रं धनुः convey, by the force of the word आभ, that the figure is Upamā. The only thing that is specially noteworthy is that all the āngas are not mentioned in words. नायिका and नायक are not mentioned, but we can understand that they are the Upamānas here from the fact that ऐन्द्रं धनुः is expressly compared to आर्द्रनखक्षत. So the figure is एकदेशविवर्तिनी उपमा. But, it is said by some that the figure is समासोक्ति. Here the qualification प्रमोदयन्ती (or better प्रसादयन्ती 'making clear of clouds;' 'propitiating') is common to both शरद् and नायिका and therefore here, behaviour of the नायिका and of नायक is attributed to शरद् and रविचन्द्र respectively. Thus the figure is समासोक्ति. Our author brings forward against this the objection that then the qualification 'आर्द्रनखक्षताभम् ऐन्द्रं धनुर्दधाना cannot be applied to the Nāyikā. It is applicable only to Autumn. It cannot be applied to Nāyikā, whose breast cannot be said to bear the rainbow. So in taking समासोक्ति to be the figure, one qualification would have to be regarded as practically purposeless. This is not good. We must understand the figure to be that which would explain everything. If we take एकदेशविवर्तिनी उपमा to be the figure, then we can explain ऐन्द्रं धनुः as compared to नखक्षत, शरद् to नायिका and the moon to a नायक and so on. 'प्रसादयन्ती सकलङ्कमिन्दुमिति विशेषणसाम्याच्छरदौ नायिकात्वप्रतीतौ तदानुगुण्यात्तयोः (इन्दुसूर्ययोः) समासोक्त्या नायकत्वप्रतीतिरिति चेत्, आर्द्रनखक्षताभम् ऐन्द्रं धनुर्दधानेत्येतद्विशेषणं कथं साम्येन निर्दिष्टम्।' अलं. स. p. 92. आर्द्रनखक्षताभम् shows that आर्द्रनखक्षत is उपमान, ऐन्द्रं धनुः is उपमेय.

ननु.....भविष्यतीति चेत् (P. 41, l. 32-p. 42, l. 3). An objection is raised in these words against the position taken above that the figure is एकदेशविवर्तिनी उपमा, as in one part, viz, नखक्षतामन्, it is directly expressed. Though here, according to the letter, the character of Upamāna belongs to the nail-mark, still, if we consider the spirit of the passage, the nature of the Upamāna must be transferred to the rainbow. What is meant is:—As the word अम is used after नखक्षत, at first sight it appears that नखक्षत is the Upamāna; but if we reflect upon the spirit of the passage, which is the apprehension of the behaviour of nāyikā, we shall find that नखक्षत is the Upameya and देन्द्रं धनु is the Upamāna; therefore we should construe the words in a different way, viz, देन्द्रचापामं नखक्षतं दधाना. A parallel instance of interpretation is given in the words 'यथा दध्ना...विधिः'. इन्द्रेण एकत्र बोधितस्यार्थस्य अन्यत्र सञ्चारे वृष्टान्तनाह यथा दध्ना. विधि is a Vedic sentence which enjoins something which is not known from any other source, 'विधिरत्यन्तमप्राप्तौ'. Vide notes below on परिसंख्या. The sentence 'दध्ना जुहोति' (he makes an oblation of curds) is a विधि. The question is:—what is laid down in this sentence, whether हवन is laid down or the oblation of curds is laid down. The reply is:—The Vedic sentence अग्निहोत्रं जुहोति has already enjoined हवन. So, although in दध्ना जुहोति the verb जु occurs, still what is enjoined is not हवन, which is अन्यथासिद्ध (i. e. which we already know from another source, viz., the Vedic injunction अग्निहोत्रं जुहोति), but दधि as the material with which the हवन is to be effected. Here the words apparently lay down हवन, but from the spirit of the passage and other circumstances, we say that the object is not to lay down हवन, but to give information about the material to be used. Similarly, the clause 'देन्द्रं धनुः आर्द्रनखक्षतामं दधाना' will imply 'देन्द्रचापामं नखक्षतं दधाना.' The words from ननु.....प्रतीतिर्भविष्यति are copied almost verbatim from the अरु. स. अधात्र नोपमानत्वेन नायकः स्वरूपेण प्रतीयते तथापि रविशशिनोरेव नायकव्यवहारप्रतीतिः । तयोरत्र नायकत्वाद् । तदत्रार्द्रनखक्षताममित्यत्र स्थितमपि श्रुत्योपमानत्वं वस्तुपर्यालोचनया देन्द्रे धनुषि सञ्चारणीयम् । इन्द्रचापामं नखक्षतं दधानेति प्रतीतिः । यथा 'दध्ना जुहोति' इत्यादौ दध्नि सञ्चार्यते विधिः, एवमित्युपमानुप्राणिता समासोक्तिरेव ।' p. 62; on यथा दध्ना etc. जयरथ remarks "एतदेव शास्त्रान्तरप्रसिद्धवृष्टान्तमुखेन हृदयंगमी-करोति—यथेत्यादिना । अग्निहोत्रं जुहुयादित्यनेनोत्पत्तिविधिव्याक्येन हि होमो विहितस्तस्य च पुनर्विधानमदग्धदहनन्यायेन यावदप्राप्तं विधेर्विषय इत्यन्युपाममत्र श्रुज्यत इति तत्राशुक्तत्वादुपपदे दध्नि सञ्चार्यते इत्यर्थः ।" Compare "भूतमव्यस-मुच्चारणे भूतं मव्यायोपदिश्यते", इति कारकपदार्थाः क्रियापदार्थेनन्वीयमानाः प्रधा- simile, you cannot in the same breath admit समासोक्तिः. 'विशेषणानां सादृश्योपलम्भमहिम्ना विशेष्यस्याप्यध्याहारेण प्रथमत एव सादृश्यप्रतीतिरनुभवसिद्धा तथैव श्रोतुराकांक्षविरहाद् व्यवहारव्यञ्जनं न भवतीति भावः।' राम०. Compare 'नेत्रैरिव' इत्यत्र सरःश्रियां नायिकात्वप्रतीतिर्न समासोक्त्या । विशेषणसाम्याभावात् । तस्मान्नायिकात्रोपमानत्वेन प्रतीयते न तु सरःश्रीधर्मत्वेन नायिकाप्रतीतिरित्येकदेशविवर्तिन्युपमैवान्युपगम्या । गत्यन्तरासम्भवात् ।" अल० स० p. 93.

The author supports his position by a quotation 'व्यवहारो... स्फुटा'. Most printed editions read तन्नौपम्यं समासोक्तिः which is also the reading of राम०. Pramadādāsa, in a foot-note (p. 400), asks us to read तन्नौपम्यसमासोक्तिः. This latter is better, because the context is favourable to it. The author is discussing whether समासोक्ति based upon औपम्यगर्भविशेषण is possible. If we read तन्नौपम्यसमासोक्तिः. the verse will mean that समासोक्ति based on औपम्य (i. e. औपम्यगर्भविशेषण) is not possible. If we read तन्नौपम्यं समासोक्तिः' and also तत्त्वमौपम्ये as N does, the meaning will be:—व्यवहारो अथवा तत्त्वम् (स्वरूपं) यत् औपम्ये प्रतीयते तद् औपम्यं समासोक्तिर्न (सा) एकदेशोपमा स्फुटा. As to the other reading, construe यत् (यस्मात्) व्यवहारः अथवा तत्त्वं (रूपकवत्) औपम्येन प्रतीयते तत् (तस्मात्) औपम्यसमासोक्तिः (औपम्यगर्भा) समासोक्तिः न (भवति). That resemblance in which the behaviour or the nature of two things is understood (to be similar) is not समासोक्ति, but it is evidently partial simile. An objection against this is that the word औपम्य is needlessly repeated in the second half. राम० supports this interpretation. B and J read तत्त्वं नौपम्ये. There the meaning would be 'since in उपमा, neither the identical action nor the nature (of the उपमान) is understood (to be attributed to the Upameya), there is no such thing as समासोक्ति (in which this is done) based upon simile but it is evidently एकदेशविवर्तिनी उपमा.' To us this appears better, as it agrees well with the words above 'किं चोपमायां व्यवहारप्रतीतिरभावात् etc.' Some say that in समासोक्ति the nature (रूप) of one is apprehended as identical with that of another. It is, however, generally said that the behaviour of one is represented to be identical with that (व्यवहार) of another. In Upamā one thing is simply understood to be similar to another.

विशेषण.बहुप्रकारा समासोक्तिः (P. 42, ll. 12-18). The author now tells us finally that the 3rd variety of समासोक्ति (viz. विशेषणसाम्य, the other two being कार्यसाम्य and लिङ्गसाम्य) is only twofold (and not three-fold as said above), as resting upon Paronomastic or common epithets. समासोक्ति is due to कार्यसाम्य, लिङ्गसाम्य or विशेषणसाम्य, the last is of two kinds. छिट्छिन्नविशेषणं or साधारणविशेषणं. Thus समासोक्ति has four varieties. In all these four varieties, the essence is the attribution of the behaviour of one thing to another. Compare 'सर्वत्र चात्र व्यवहार-समारोप एव जीवितम्' अलं० सू० p. 89. स च.....इति चतुर्धा—सः means व्यवहारसमारोपः. This attribution of the behaviour of one thing to another is again fourfold—(1) The behaviour of a thing belonging to ordinary life is attributed to another thing of ordinary life; (2) The behaviour of a thing pertaining to some branch of science is attributed to another thing pertaining to science; (3) The behaviour of a लौकिकवस्तु is ascribed to a शास्त्रीयवस्तु; (4) The behaviour of a शास्त्रीयवस्तु is attributed to a लौकिकवस्तु. These four are mentioned by अलं० सू० p. 89 and by R. G. p. 384. लौकिकवस्तुषु...अनेकविधम्. The things belonging to ordinary life may be divided into many classes from the difference of rasas etc. which they are capable of developing.

यैरेकरूप ..मन्ये—This verse is cited in the अलं० सू० p. 90, with the remark 'अत्रागनशास्त्रप्रसिद्धे वस्तुनि व्याकरणप्रसिद्धवस्तुसमारोपः. आगन means वेद. Here ईश्वर is addressed. यैः अखिलामु (मर्वासु) अपि वृत्तिषु (विवर्तेषु; कृत्तद्धितादिषु वृत्तिषु, as said in सि कौ 'कृत्तद्धितसमासैकशेषसनाद्यन्त-धातुरूपाः पञ्च वृत्तयः । परार्थानिधानं वृत्तिः') एकरूपं अव्ययं (अविनाशिनं; अव्ययपदवाच्यं च) असंख्यनया प्रवृत्तम् (अनन्तरूपैः परिदृश्यमानम्, संख्याप्रतिपादका-भाववत्त्वेन वर्तमानम्) पश्यद्भिः (औपनिषदैः; बुधैर्वैयाकरणैः) परत्वज्ञुषुः (उत्कर्षमा-ज्जुषुः, परवर्तिन्याः) विभक्तेः (भेदस्य; स्वादेः तिडादेर्वा according to Pāṇini's sūtra 'विभक्तिश्च' I. 4. 194—सुप्तिडौ विभक्तिसंज्ञौ स्तः । सि. कौ.) लोपः कृतः तैः तव लक्षणं ध्रुवमेव कृतं इति मन्ये. 'They, I think, have surely definitely understood Thee, who (they), seeing Thee as the one unchangeable in all phenomena, the imperishable and evolving manifold forms, have lost all notions of difference (quality) in Thee who art the highest.' This is the meaning of the verse as understood with reference to God. We understand the अप्रस्तुत also viz. निपात (a particle like च, इव etc.), through the force of the qualifications एकरूपम्, अव्ययम् etc., although the word निपात is not mentioned. The grammatical meaning would be 'they, I think, have defined thee (properly), (Oh nipāta), who, seeing thee same in all connections, called an अव्यय, used without reference to number, omit the application of terminations after thee." Compare Pāṇini's sūtras 'प्राप्तिश्चरान्निपाताः' I. 4. 56; 'चादयोऽस्त्ये' I. 4. 57 (अद्रव्यार्थाश्चादयो निपातसंज्ञाः न्युः । सि. कौ.); 'प्रादयः' I. 4. 58. (अद्रव्यार्थाः प्रादयस्तथा । सि. कौ.); on अद्रव्याः, the तत्त्वबोधिनी remarks 'लिङ्गसंख्यान्विनं द्रव्यम्.' In the above verse, the properties of a thing (निपातः) known from the science of Grammar are ascribed to the Being (God) known from the Vedas. Many Vedic passages say that the truth about God can be known only from the Vedas; compare 'तं त्वौपनिषदं पुरुषं पृच्छामि' etc. एवमन्यत्र. The author has given examples of two varieties only, viz. लौकिके वस्तुनि लौकिकवस्तुव्यवहारसमारोप and शास्त्रीये शास्त्रीयवस्तुव्यवहारसमारोप. For the examples of the other two, see अलं० सं० pp. 90-91 and R. G. pp. 384-5. An example of लौकिके वस्तुनि शास्त्रीयवस्तुव्यवहारसमारोपः (4 above) is परार्थव्यासङ्गादुपजहदथ स्वार्थपरताममेदैकत्वं यो वहति गुणभूतेषु सततम् । स्वभावाद्यस्यान्तः स्फुरति ललितोदात्तमहिमा समर्थो यो नित्यं स जयतितरां कोऽपि पुरुषः ॥ अत्र समर्थः स्रजगतमहाभावाथस्य (समारोपः) । तत्र हि 'अथ ये वृत्तिं वर्तयन्ति किं त आहुः' इत्यादिना जहत्स्वार्था वृत्तिरजहत्स्वार्था वृत्तिरिति पक्षद्वयं निरूपितम् । तत्रैवोपसर्जनार्थे अमेदैकत्वसंख्यानि ध्वनिता । R. G. p. 384. An example of शास्त्रीये वस्तुनि लौकिकव्यवहारसमारोपः (3 above) is कृत्वा सूत्रैः सुगूढार्थैः प्रकृतेः प्रत्ययं परम् । आगमान्भावयन्भाति वैयाकरणपुङ्गवः ॥ अत्र राजव्यवहारस्य । R. G. p. 385.

The reason why this figure is called समासोक्ति is given by Mammata as 'समासेन संक्षेपेण (एकेनैव शब्देन) अर्थद्वयकथनात्', because (one and the same word) briefly conveys two things. 'प्रस्तुताद्वाच्यादप्रस्तुतस्य प्रतीयमानत्वे संक्षेपेणार्थयोः कथनमित्यन्वर्थो समासोक्तिः ।' एकावली p. 254.

Mammata defines समासोक्ति differently 'परोक्तिर्भेदकैः क्लृष्टैः समासोक्तिः'. There are two points in which Mammata appears to differ from our author. (1) According to Mammata, Paronomastic adjectives are necessary to constitute समासोक्ति, while according to our author Paronomastic adjectives are not necessary. (2) Mammata simply says 'परस्य अप्रस्तुतस्य उक्तिः', he does not intimate that in समासोक्ति, the behaviour of the अप्रस्तुत is attributed to the प्रस्तुत while our author distinctly says so.

रूपके..... मेदः (P. 42, ll. 24-28). The author now proceeds to distinguish समासोक्ति from other figures of speech. रूपके..... इत्याहुः—In रूपक (particularly एकदेशविवर्ति) a thing, which is not the matter in hand, by superimposing its own nature, covers over the nature of the thing, which is the subject in hand, while in समासोक्ति the अप्रकृत, by the attribution of its own condition (to the प्रकृत) distinguishes the प्रकृत from its original condition, without covering its nature. It is therefore that they say that here (i. e. in समासोक्ति) there is simply the attribution of the behaviour of the अप्रकृत to the प्रकृत and not the superimposition of the nature of the अप्रकृत on the प्रकृत. The author here appears to refer to the words of the अलं. स. 'विशेषगताम्यादि प्रतीयमानमप्रस्तुतं प्रस्तुतावच्छेदकत्वेन प्रतीयते । अवच्छेदकत्वं च व्यवहारसमारोणे न रूपसमारोपः । रूपसमारोपे त्ववच्छादिनत्वेन प्रकृतस्य तद्वन्नरूपित्वादेव रूपकम्' : p. 85. जयरथ remarks 'एवं समासोक्तौ व्यवहारसमारोपादप्रस्तुतेन प्रस्तुतस्य वैशिष्ट्यलक्षणमवच्छेदकत्वं विधीयते । रूपके तु रूपसमारोपाद्वन्नरूपित्वात्वाच्छादकत्वमित्यनयोर्भेदः' । In Rūpaka, as instanced in 'मुख चन्द्रः', the very nature of the moon (रूप) is superimposed upon the face, without any regard to the mention of common qualifications. There is not merely the attribution of the behaviour of the moon to the face; but rather the face is looked upon as the moon i. e. the face is covered over, as it were, by the moon. In समासोक्ति, as instanced in 'देन्द्रीमुखं चुम्बन्ति चन्द्रमाः', the nature of the अप्रस्तुत i. e. नायक is not superimposed upon चन्द्र, but the behaviour of the Nāyaka is attributed to the moon. This attribution of behaviour only results in heightening the beauty of the अप्रस्तुत (it results in the distinguishing of the अप्रस्तुत from its former condition i. e. if it be plainly stated). The behaviour of one object cannot properly belong to another. Therefore the attribution of the behaviour of one to another suggests by the invariable concomitance of व्यवहार and its आश्रय, that in which the behaviour rests. The अप्रस्तुत which is thus suggested only distinguishes the प्रस्तुत (but does not cover it), as a crow sitting on a house-top serves to distinguish the house but does not cover it. 'न ह्यन्यथमितस्त्वन्विनो धर्माः स्वधर्मेण-

is sameness of the विशेष्य (the thing qualified) also; while in समासोक्ति, there is sameness of the attributes alone. उपमाध्वनि occurs when the sentence as a whole suggests a comparison as the principal meaning, as remarked by R. G. 'इयैव च यदा सकलेन वाक्येन प्राधान्येन ध्वन्यते तदा परिहृतालङ्कारभावा ध्वनिव्यपदेशहेतुः ।'
p. 185. An example of उपमाध्वनि is 'अविरलविगलद्दानोदकधारासारसिक्त-धरणिनलः । धनदाग्रमदितनूतिर्जयनितरां सार्वभौमोऽयम् ॥' on which Nāgajībhata comments 'अयं राजा सार्वभौमः सर्वभूमीश्वरः । उदग्दिग्गजश्च ।...
धनदातृणामग्रे पूजितमूर्तिः । कुबेराग्रे पूजितमूर्तिश्च' R. G. p. 185. Here दान in the first line means 'gift' or 'the fluid issuing from an elephant's temples'. Here the word सार्वभौमः means a sovereign and the दिग्गज of that name. A comparison between the two is suggested. The विशेष्य 'सार्वभौम' is the same (and not only the विशेषण 'अविरल' etc.). अर्थरूपेण will be treated of below.
The com. विज्ञप्रिया says we should read उपमाध्वनौ रूपेण विशेषः.
R. G., after defining समासोक्ति as 'यत्र प्रस्तुतधर्मिको व्यवहारः साधारणविशेषणमात्रोपस्थापिताप्रस्तुतधर्मिकव्यवहाराभेदेन भासते सा समासोक्तिः', says about the insertion of मात्र after विशेषण "शब्दशक्तिमूलध्वनिवार-णाय मात्रेति । तत्र (as exemplified in अविरल etc. above) विशेष्यस्यापि

p. 367. अप्रस्तुत.....भेदः—अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा will be defined below; in that figure, it is the प्रस्तुत that is implied from the mention of the अप्रस्तुत, while in समासोक्ति, it is the अप्रस्तुत that is implied.
Compare 'गन्धत्वं प्रस्तुतनिष्ठमप्रस्तुतप्रशंसाविषयः । अप्रस्तुतनिष्ठं तु समासोक्ति- विषयः ।' अलं. स. pp. 84-85.

Some examples of समासोक्ति are 'उपोद्वाराणेन विलोलतारकं तथा गृहीतं शशिना निशामुखम् । यथा समस्तं निमिराशुर्कं तथा पुनोपि रागाद्भलितं न लक्षितम् ॥' quoted in the ध्वन्यालोक I, p. 35; 'उत्सन्ने तव गङ्गे पायं पायं पयोऽनिमधुरतरम् ।

23 परिकर (Insinuator, the significant).

A speech with a number of significant epithets is the figure called परिकर. The plural विशेषणैः in the definition implies that there must be many significant epithets to constitute the figure. The example is अङ्गराज etc. It occurs in the Veni-samhāra ((III). These words were addressed by Aśvatthāman to Karna (who had ridiculed Droṇa and also his son) when दुःशासन was about to be killed by Bhīma. Each word is significant; "You are a king; you must be able to protect the whole country; let me see whether you can save your own brother" etc 'तथा च राज्ञो जगद्रक्षितव्यमस्य पुनरनुजमात्ररक्षणसिद्धेरन्यदेव नाममात्रेण राजत्वमित्युपहासपरत्वम्।' विम० p. 95. In this figure the adjectives are साम्प्रदायिकं i. e. suggest a sense which is striking and serve to bring the expressed meaning into prominence. The suggested sense is not the prominent one; it is subordinate to the expressed sense. Therefore this figure is properly so called, because in it the suggested sense is dependent on the expressed sense. 'विशेषणानां साम्प्रदायिकत्वं प्रतीयमानार्थगर्भीकारः। अत एव प्रसन्नगन्भीरपदत्वान्नायं ध्वनेर्विषयः। एवं च प्रतीयमानांशस्य वाच्योन्मुखत्वात् परिकर इति सार्थकं नाम।' अलं. स. p. 84. (परिकरः पर्यङ्क-परिवारयोः ॥ अमर० III. 3. 165).

There is a difference of opinion among rhetoricians in connection with this figure. Mammata, Sarvasva, the Vimarśinī, Ekāvalī, our author hold that to constitute this figure there must be many significant epithets; one would not suffice. On the other hand Pradīpa, Uddyota and Jagannātha hold that even one significant epithet would constitute this figure. Compare for the former view the following:—'विशेषणैर्वैत्साक्यैरुक्तिः परिकरस्तु स.' K. P. X; यद्यप्यपुष्टार्थस्य दोषतामिधानात्तन्निराकरणेन पुष्टार्थस्वीकारः कृतः, तथाप्येकनिष्ठत्वेन बहूनां विशेषणानामेवमुपन्यासे वैचित्र्यमित्यलङ्कारमध्ये गणितः' वृत्ति in K. P.; 'विशेषणानां चात्र बहुत्वमेव विवक्षितम्। अन्यथा ह्यपुष्टार्थस्य दोषतामिधानात्तन्निराकरणेन स्वीकृतस्य पुष्टार्थस्यायं विषयः स्यात्। एवमेवंविधानेकविशेषणोपन्यासद्वारेण वैचित्र्यातिशयः सम्भवतीत्यलङ्कारत्वम्।' विम० p. 94. They mean:—Epithets that do not nourish the meaning are said to be अपुष्ट; अपुष्ट is a fault. An example of it is 'विलोक्य वितते व्योम्नि विधुं मुञ्च रुषं प्रिये'; here the word वितत does not serve to nourish the sense of the passage, which is the removal of wounded pride. From this it naturally follows that the epithet employed must be significant and thus the employment of significant epithets is not an alaṅkāra, but only the absence of a fault. Mammata replies to this argument that, although this is so, the fact that many epithets qualifying one noun are used gives rise to a special charm, which is called परिकर. So, according to Mammata and others of the same school, the charm lies in the number of significant epithets. Those who hold the other view say:—the presence of even a single significant epithet would constitute this figure, that freedom from the fault called अनुष्टुप्त्व may be brought about by not employing epithets at all, that therefore परिकर is not the same as the absence of अनुष्टुप्त्व and that a distinct charm is perceived from a single significant epithet. “तादृशैकविशेषणोन्यासेऽपि अलङ्कारत्वमुच्यते । अनुष्टुप्त्वं विरहस्य निर्विशेषणस्यऽप्युपपत्तौ सिद्धत्वाभावाद्वैचित्र्यस्य चानुभवसिद्धत्वात् । प्रदीपः “ननु निष्प्रयोजन-विशेषणोपादानेऽप्युष्टुप्येवोपस्थितत्वात्तत्र योजनविशेषणं दोषाभावमात्रं कष्टत्वाद्यभावाद्भवितुमर्हति, न त्वलङ्कार इति । अत्र विमर्दिनीकारादय आहुः—“विशेषणानां बहुत्वमत्र विवक्षितम् । साभिप्रायविशेषणगतबहुत्वकृत एव चात्र वैचित्र्यातिशयः । एकविशेषणं तु दोषाभावमात्रस्यावकाशः ।” इति । तदसत् । विशेषणानेकत्वं हि वदंयाधिक्याधायकत्वाद्वैचित्र्यविशेषाधायकमन्तु नान । न तु प्रकृतालङ्कारशरीरमेव तदिति शक्यं वक्तुम् । “वीचिक्षालितकालियाहितपदे”* इति प्रागुक्ते एकस्यैव विशेषणस्य चमत्कारिताया अनन्यद्वर्णनीयत्वात् । ‘अयि लावण्यजलाशय तस्या हा हन्त मीननयनायाः । दूरस्थे त्वयि किं वा कथयामो विस्तरेणालम् ॥’ अत्रैकैकविशेषणमात्रेणैव सकलवाक्यादे-सजीवनाच्च ।” R. G. p. 387; “यथा नित्ये संध्यावन्दनदौ दोषाभावस्याङ्गवैकल्येऽपि सिद्धौ साङ्गतत्करणं फलातिशयायैव, तथा दोषाभावस्य विशेषणानुपादानेऽपि सम्भवेन साभिप्रायैकविशेषणनिबन्धनश्चमत्कारो दुरपह्व इति भावः । किं च ‘सुधांशुकलितोत्तंसस्तापं हरतु वः शिवः’ इत्यादौ यत्र सुधांशुकलितोत्तंस इति विशेषणभावेऽपि तापहरणसान्ध्यस्य सामर्थ्यानिशयेनाप्युपपत्तेस्तद्विशेषणानुपादानेऽपि न क्षतिस्तत्र तद्विशेषणोपादानमधिकचमत्कारायैवेति बोध्यम् ।” उद्धृत p. 108.

Some writers, like विद्याधर (author of एकावली) and Appayadīkshita speak of a figure called परिकराङ्कुर, which occurs when the विशेष्य is significant and not the विशेषण. An example is ‘चतुर्णां पुरुषार्थानां दाता देवश्चतुर्भुजः ।’ Here the विशेष्य, चतुर्भुज (विष्णु), is significant as it suggests the power of God to give the four objects of human life (with his four hands as it were). Most writers on the अलङ्कारशास्त्र, however, do not speak of परिकराङ्कुर. Uddyota remarks that the word विशेषणैः in the definition of परिकर is to be taken as comprehending विशेष्य also and therefore परिकराङ्कुर is not a separate figure. “अत्र विशेषणैरित्युपलक्षणं विशेष्यस्यापि ।

* ‘वीचिक्षालितकालियाहितपदे स्वर्लोककलोलिनि त्वं तापं तिरयाधुना भवभय-न्यालवलीदात्मनः ॥’ This is the latter half of a verse quoted in R. G. p. 386 under परिकर.

A good example of परिकर is 'तव प्रसानान्कुसुमायुधोऽपि सहायनेकं मधुमेव लब्ध्वा । कुर्या हरस्यापि पिनाकपागेर्धैर्यच्युति के मम धन्विनोऽन्ये ॥' कुमारसं० III.

The expression of more than one meaning by words naturally bearing one signification is called श्लेष. The words 'naturally bearing one signification' serve to distinguish this figure (अर्थश्लेष) from शब्दश्लेष; and the word 'expression' serves to distinguish this figure from ध्वनि (suggestive Poetry). We shall explain this below. An example of अर्थश्लेष is 'प्रवर्तयन् etc.' (p. 43, ll. 4-5). विभाकरः the sun, or a king so called. प्रवर्तयन् क्रियाः साध्वीः occasioning the performance of good actions (the sun and the king both do this). मालिन्यं...हरन् dispelling the gloom of the quarters (the sun by lustre, and the king by his spotless fame). भूयसा महसा दीप्तः brilliant with excessive glory (both the sun and the king are brilliant). In this verse as there is no such determining element as प्रकरण (context) etc. both the king and the sun are expressly meant. We have seen above (परिच्छेद II. text p. 13) that संयोग etc. determine the sense of a word capable of many significations. Here there is no such determining element; therefore the word विभाकर is used to express both the king and the sun; both of them are the subject of description (प्राकरणिक). We cannot say that one is प्रस्तुत and the other अप्रस्तुत. Both are intended to be expressed. The words क्रियाः प्रवर्तयन्, मालिन्यं हरन्, महसा दीप्तः are applicable both to the king and the sun and even if we substitute such words as कर्माणि, श्यामतां, तेजसा for क्रियाः, मालिन्यं and महसा respectively, the figure will still be the same. It must be remarked that in the word विभाकर there is शब्दश्लेष and not अर्थश्लेष, as, if we substitute another word for विभाकर such as प्रभाकर, it will not apply to the king. So in this example both शब्दश्लेष and अर्थश्लेष are combined; it is not an example of pure अर्थश्लेष. 'नन्वेवं शब्दश्लेष एवायं विभाकरपदस्य राजसूर्योभयवाचकत्वादिति चेत्, सङ्कीर्णमेवेदमुदाहरणम् ।' राम०.

It was said above that this figure is to be distinguished from शब्दश्लेष. श्लेष is of two kinds, शब्दश्लेष and अर्थश्लेष. शब्दश्लेष is, according to our author, of three kinds, समङ्गश्लेष, अमङ्गश्लेष, and उभयात्मक (i. e. both सम्बन्ध and असम्बन्ध). Vide साहित्यदर्पण x. 12. An example of all the three varieties of शब्दश्लेष is 'येन ध्वस्त-मनोभवेन बलिजित्कायः पुरास्त्रीकृतो यश्चेद्बृहत्भुजङ्गहावलयो गङ्गां च योऽधारयत् । यस्याहुः शशिमच्छिरोहर इति स्तुत्यं च नामानराः पायास्त स्वयन्धकक्षयकरस्ता सर्वदोमाधवः ॥ q. in the ध्वन्यालोक (p. 95) and अलं. न. p. 96. In this verse, both Vishnu (माधवः) and Śiva (उनाधवः) are addressed. लोचन comments on this—येन ध्वस्तं वाक्त्रोडयान् अनः शकटम् । अभवेन अजेन सता (i. e. the word ध्वस्तमनोभवेन is to be split up into ध्वस्तम् अनः अभवेन) बन्धिनो वन्दनान्यो जयति नादृग्येन कायः वपुः पुरामृतहरणकाले (स्त्रीकृतः) स्त्रीत्वं प्रापितः । यश्चेद्बृहत् समर्वं कालियाख्यं भुजङ्गं हतवान् (the word ends with भुजङ्गहा, nom. singular of भुजङ्गहन्) रवे शब्दे लयो यस्य 'अकारो विष्णुः' इत्युक्तेः । यश्च अं गोर्धनदर्वतं गां च भूमिं पातालगतामधारयत् (i. e. we have to suppose that there is an अवग्रह after वलयो) । यस्य च नान स्तुत्यमप्य अहु । किं तर् शशिनं मथ्नातीति क्षिप् (i. e. we get शशिनश्च meaning राहुः) तस्य शिरोहरः मूर्धापहारकः । स त्वां माधवः विष्णुः नर्वदः (सर्वं ददातीति) पायात् (अवतु) । कीदृक् । अन्यकनान्नां (a clan of the Yādavas) जनाना येन क्षयो निवानो द्वारकायां कृतः । यद्वा नौसले इयीकान्तिस्तेषां क्षयो विनाशो येन कृतः । This is the meaning when Vishnu is meant to be addressed. The second meaning, when शिव is meant to be addressed, is given by लोचन (pp. 95-96) as follows.—येन (ध्वस्तमनोभवेन) ध्वस्तकामेन सता बलिजितः विष्णोः कायः पुरा त्रिपुरनिर्दहनावसरे अस्त्रीकृतः शरत्वं नीतः उद्बृत्ता भुजङ्गा एव हारवलाश्च यस्य । गङ्गां मन्दाकिनीं च योऽधारयत् । यस्य च ऋषयः (we have अमराः; लोचन appears to read नामर्षयः for नामानराः) शशिमच्छन्द्रयुक्तं शिर आहुः । हर इति च नाम स्तुत्यमाहुः । स भगवान् स्वयमेवा न्धकासुरस्य विनाशकारी त्वां सर्वदा सर्वकालम् उनाया धवो वल्लभः पायादिति । In the above verse, in ध्वस्तमनोभवेन etc. there is सम्बन्धश्लेष, because the expressions have to be differently split up in each connection (once as ध्वस्तम् अनः अभवेन, and then as ध्वस्तः मनोभवः येन तेन). If we substitute for मनोभव the word मदन, the second sense will vanish altogether; ध्वस्तमदनेन will not yield the second sense yielded by ध्वस्तमनोभवेन (ध्वस्तम् अनः etc.). So here the particular word employed is the most important thing. In अन्यकक्षयकरः there is असम्बन्धश्लेष, as the expression is not split up differently, but in the same way (अन्धक+क्षय); the only thing note-worthy being that here also the particular word employed is the most prominent thing. We cannot substitute another word for अन्यक or क्षय. If we do so, we shall get only one sense. As both सम्बन्धश्लेष and असम्बन्धश्लेष are exemplified in the same verse, it is also an example of उभयात्मकश्लेष. All these three varieties are called शब्दश्लेष, because here everything depends upon the particular word employed. The determining element in calling a figure as belonging to शब्द or अर्थ is अन्वयव्यतिरेक. If an alaṅkāra occurs only when a particular word is present, and disappears when that word is not employed, (but a synonymous word is employed) it is an alaṅkāra of शब्द. In all the three above-mentioned varieties of शब्दश्लेष, the particular word employed was necessary for the figure, which would disappear if other words were used (as shown above). But in अर्थश्लेष, as instanced in 'प्रवर्तयन्' etc. even if we substitute synonymous words for क्रिया, मालिन्य etc., the figure will still persist i.e. this figure does not depend upon the particular words employed, but upon the sense. Hence is it that the words स्वभावादिकार्यैः distinguish this figure from शब्दश्लेष.

On this point there is a great divergence of opinion among the different writers on Rhetoric. (I) Udbhata speaks of श्लेष (he calls it क्लृष्ट) as an अर्थालङ्कार only. He then divides it into two, अर्थश्लेष and शब्दश्लेष, which correspond respectively to our author's अमङ्गल and समङ्गलश्लेष. An example of the two is 'स्वयं च पल्लवाताम्रभास्वत्करविराजिनी । प्रभातसंध्येवास्वापफललुब्धे हितपदा ॥' उद्भट IV. 26 ('न केवलं स्वामिसापेक्षतयैव फलप्रदा गौरी किंतु स्वयं च स्वयमपि अस्वापे दुष्प्रापे फले लुब्धाना-मिष्टप्रदेत्यर्थः । केव प्रभातसंध्येव । कीदृशी । पल्लवाताम्रौ पल्लवारूपौ भास्वन्तौ कान्तियुतौ करौ हस्तौ ताभ्यां विराजिता शोभिता । संध्या तु तादृशैर्माखतः सूर्यस्य करैः किरणैर्विराजिता तथा अस्वापः तदानीं निद्राऽभावः तत्फलं लक्ष्मीलाभः तत्र लुब्धे जने हितप्रदा ।' उ. च. pp. 351-52. प्रतीहारेन्दुराज (p. 53) explains differently 'न केवलं त्वं हिमाद्रेर्वन्विधस्य सुता यावत् स्वयं चैवंप्रकारेति चशब्दः'. In this verse, there is अर्थश्लेष (i.e. अमङ्गलश्लेष of our author) in the first half and शब्दश्लेष (i.e. समङ्गलश्लेष) in the 2nd. (II) The views of Mammata and our author coincide. They say that what is called अर्थश्लेष by Udbhata is really शब्दश्लेष and that there is contradiction in saying (as Udbhata does) that श्लेष is an अर्थालङ्कार and yet dividing it into two varieties called शब्दश्लेष and अर्थश्लेष. 'ननु स्वरितादिगुणमेदात् मित्रप्रयत्नोच्चार्याणां, तदभावाद-मित्रप्रयत्नोच्चार्याणां च शब्दानां बन्धेऽलङ्कारान्तरप्रतिभोत्पत्तिः शब्दश्लेषोऽर्थश्लेषश्चेति द्विविधोऽप्यर्थालङ्कारमध्ये परिगणितोऽन्यैरिति कथमयं शब्दालङ्कारः । उच्यते । इह दोषगुणालङ्काराणां शब्दार्थगतत्वेन यो विभागः सः अन्वयव्यतिरेकाभ्यामेव व्यवतिष्ठते । तथाहि कष्टत्वादिगाढत्वाद्यनुप्रासादयः व्यर्थत्वादिप्रौढ्याद्युपमादयस्तद्भावतदभावानुवि-चायित्वादेव शब्दार्थगतत्वेन व्यवस्थाप्यन्ते । 'स्वयं च पल्लवाताम्र' इति अमङ्गलः, 'प्रभातसंध्येव' इति समङ्गलः, इति द्वावपि शब्दैकसमाश्रयाविति द्वयोरपि शब्दश्लेषत्वमुपपन्नम्, न त्वावस्थार्थश्लेषत्वम् । अर्थश्लेषस्य तु स विषयो यत्र शब्दपरिवर्तनेऽपि न श्लेषत्वखण्डना । यथा-स्तोकेनोन्नतिमायाति स्तोकेनायात्ययोगतिम् । अहो सुसदृशी वृत्तिस्तुलाकोटिः खलस्य च ॥" K. P. IX. Ul. pp. 516-520 (Vā); "शब्दश्लेष इति चोच्यते अर्थालङ्कारमध्ये च लक्ष्यते (यथा उद्भटेन) इति कोऽयं नयः" K. P. IX. Ul. p. 527. In this passage Mammata clearly enunciates the difference between शब्दश्लेष and अर्थश्लेष.

The former is शब्दपरिवृत्त्यसह (i. e. incapable of enduring a change of words), while the latter is शब्दपरिवृत्तिसह (capable of enduring a change of words). (III) The अलं. स. treats of श्लेष among the अर्थलङ्कारs just as Utkhata does. He then divides it into three varieties (and not two as उद्धट does), viz. शब्दश्लेष, अर्थश्लेष and उभयश्लेष. The former occurs when the same expression, being differently split up, yields two meanings. Here the words are really different, as would be indicated by the difference of the accent in them such as स्वरिन etc. and the effort that would be required in pronouncing them. They present the appearance of being one as lacquered wood appears to be one single thing, though really lac is put upon wooden parts. अर्थश्लेष occurs where the expression is the same and has the same accent etc., but has two meanings, just as two fruits hang down from a single stem (as in अन्धकक्ष्य above). उभयश्लेष is that where both these varieties occur. “उप च शब्दार्थोभयगतत्वेन वर्तमानत्वाद् त्रिविधः । तत्रोदात्तादि-स्वरभेदात्प्रयत्नभेदाच्च शब्दाश्रयत्वे शब्दश्लेषः । यत्र प्रायेण पदभङ्गो भवति । अप्यर्थश्लेषस्तु यत्र स्वरादिभेदो नास्ति । अत एव तत्र न समङ्गयद्वयम् । सङ्कलनया तुभयश्लेषः ।” अलं. स. p. 96. All these three views are very clearly and concisely put forward by R. G. “सोऽयं श्लेषः समङ्गोऽभङ्गश्चार्थालङ्कार एवेत्यौद्भवाः । (२) उभावप्येतौ शब्दालङ्कारौ । शब्दस्य परिवृत्त्यसहत्वादन्य-व्यतिरेकाभ्यां तदाश्रितत्वावधारणात् । तृतीयस्त्वर्थालङ्कारः । अर्थमात्राश्रितत्वात् । इति मम्मटभट्टः । (२) अन्यव्यतिरेकाभ्यां हि हेतुत्वावगमो घटं प्रति दण्डदेरिवास्तु । न त्वाश्रयत्वावगमः (This is an attack on Mammata). स तु पुनस्तद्वृत्तित्वज्ञानाधीनः । इह हि समङ्गश्लेषस्य शब्दद्वयवृत्तित्वं जनुकाष्टन्यायेन, अभङ्गस्य चार्थद्वयवृत्तित्वमेकवृत्तगतफलद्वयवच्च स्फुटमेवेत्येकस्य शब्दालङ्कारत्वम-परस्यार्थालङ्कारत्वम्..... इत्यलङ्कारसर्वस्वकारादयः ।” R. G. pp. 401-402.

वाचनं इति च ध्वनेः—We have now to distinguish between श्लेष and शब्दशक्तिमूलध्वनि. In श्लेष both the विशेषण and the विशेष्य are छिष्ट (Paronomastic). In ध्वनि (शब्दशक्तिमूल) also, they are छिष्ट (as exemplified in दुर्गालङ्घितविग्रहः in the 2nd Pari.). But the difference between them is—In श्लेष, the विशेष्यs are both प्राकरणिक or अप्राकरणिक; while in ध्वनि, only one topic is प्राकरणिक, the expressive power of the words being limited by the context etc.; but another अप्रस्तुत meaning is suggested, after the प्राकरणिक meaning is understood, by the force of the double-meaning expressions. In प्रवर्तयन् क्रियाः (example of अर्थश्लेष), there is nothing to tell us that only the king or the sun is the subject of description. Both may be प्रवृत्त or both may be अप्रवृत्त. But in ‘दुर्गालङ्घितविग्रहो’ etc., from the context we know that the प्रस्तुत is the king, who was the husband of queen Umā; while by the power of suggestion, another meaning, viz. the description of Śiva (who is अप्रस्तुत) is conveyed. An example of शब्दशक्तिमूलध्वनि given by Ānanda-vardhana is 'उन्नतः प्रोष्ठसद्धारः कालागुरुमलीमसः । पयोधरभरस्तस्या क न चक्रेऽभिलाषिणम् ॥' (उन्नतः महान् उच्चतरश्च; प्रोष्ठसन् हारः यस्मिन्, प्रोष्ठसन्तो धारा यस्मिन् कालागुरुणा मलीमसः. श्यानः, कालागुरुवद् मलीमसः. पयोधरः स्तनो मेघश्च). Here the subject of description is the breast. The words also suggest the description of a cloud. But this has nothing to do with the subject of description. So the ultimate meaning that is conveyed is the idea that the breast is similar to the cloud. प्रदीप puts the difference between श्लेष and शब्दशक्ति-मूलध्वनि as "यत्रोभयोस्तात्पर्यं स श्लेषः । यत्र त्वेकसिन्नेव तद्, सामग्रीमहिम्ना तु द्वितीयार्थप्रतीतिः सा व्यञ्जनेति ।" p. 56 (Nir.); 'विशेष्यविशेषणसाम्येन पुनर्द्वय प्रकरणादिना प्रकृतार्थे एव शृङ्खलितायामभिधायामप्रकृतार्थाभिधानाय सामर्थ्यविधुरत्वेपि शब्दस्याप्रकृतार्थोपि प्रतीतिसरणिमनुसरति तत्र शब्दशक्तिमूलानुरणनरूपव्यङ्ग्यो ध्वनिः ।" एका० p. 261; "यत्र तु प्रकृताप्रकृतोभयविशेष्ययोरपि श्लिष्टपदोपात्तत्वं स तु ध्वनेर्विषयः ॥" R. G. p. 396. The difference between श्लेष and समासोक्ति is as follows—in the former, both the विशेषण and विशेष्य are श्लिष्ट; while in समासोक्ति only the विशेषण may be श्लिष्ट. Besides, in श्लेष, the two objects are either both प्रकृत or both अप्रकृत; while in समासोक्ति one is प्रकृत and the other अप्रस्तुत. "केवलविशेषणसाम्यं समासोक्तावुक्त विशेष्ययुक्तविशेषणानाम्यं त्वधिकृत्येदमुच्यते ।" अलं. स p. 95, नायं समासोक्तिः, विशेषणनात्रसाम्यस्य तां प्रति प्रयोजकत्वात् । विशेष्यविशेषणसाम्यमधिकृत्य चास्य (श्लेषस्य) प्रवृत्तत्वात् ।" एका० p. 259, "यत्र तु न विशेष्ये श्लेषः, नापि द्वितीयार्थोपस्थितिं विनाऽन्वयानुपपत्तिः, तत्र प्रस्तुतान्वयबोधोत्तरं विशेषणश्लेषमात्रमाहात्म्येन अप्रस्तुतवृत्तान्ते उपस्थिते व्यञ्जनया तदभिन्नप्रस्तुतवृत्तान्तारोपः प्रकृते तत्र समासोक्तिः ।" उद्योत p. 72.

There is another point in connection with श्लेष on which also a fierce controversy has been carried on. We have seen above that श्लेष is at the root of many figures e. g. रूपक, समासोक्ति etc. The question arises whether श्लेष should be regarded as stronger than any of these (and thus dispelling the notion of these figures), or (2) as being equally powerful and therefore entering into combination with other figures, or (3) as being weaker and therefore not prominent where other figures occur "अयं चालङ्कारः प्रायेणालङ्कारान्तरस्य विषयमभिनिविशते तत्र किमस्य बाधकत्वं स्यादाहोस्वित्सङ्कीर्णत्वमुताहो बाध्यत्वमिति ।" R. G. p. 393. Considerations of space and utility prevent us from discussing at length these three views. The curious reader is referred to the K. P. IX. U1 pp. 516-527 (Vā), the Alankārasarvasva p. 97 ff,

R. G. 393-396. The first view mentioned above is that of उद्भट, who says that श्लेष is more powerful than any other figure, that when it is present, there is merely the appearance of another figure (like उपमा) and that the real figure in such verses (where उपमा etc. and श्लेष appear to be combined) is श्लेष and not the former. His words are "एकप्रयत्नोच्चार्याणां तच्छ्रव्यां चैव विभ्रताम् । स्वरिन्दिगुनैर्मिद्वैदन्धः छिष्टमिहोच्यते ॥ अलङ्कारान्तरगतां प्रतिभां जनयत्पदैः । द्विविधैरर्थशब्दोक्तिविशिष्टं तत्प्रतीयताम् ॥" उद्भट IV. 24-25. The second is the view of Mammata, Sarvasva, Jagannātha and almost all writers on Rhetoric. The अलं. स. briefly puts all the three views 'एव च नाप्राप्तेषु अलङ्कारान्तरेष्वारम्भमाणस्तद्वाधकत्वेन तत्प्रतिभोत्पत्तिहेतुरिति केचित् । (2) 'येन ध्वस्तननोभवेन बलिजिह्वायः पुरास्त्रीकृतः' इत्यादौ विविक्तोऽस्य विषय इति निर्वकाशत्वाभावाच्चान्यवाधकत्वमित्यन्यैः सह सङ्करः । (3) दुर्वलत्वान्नावान्त्वान्यवाधकत्वमित्यन्ये (दुर्वलत्वान्नावन्यवाधकत्वमित्यन्ये?) ।" p 97. "अत्राहुतद्भटाचार्याः—'येन नाप्राप्ते य आरम्भ्यते न तस्य वाधकः' इति न्यायेनालङ्कारान्तरविषयः एवायमारम्भमाणोऽलङ्कारान्तरं वाधते । न चास्य विविक्तः कश्चिदस्ति विषयो यत्र सावकाशो नान्यं वाधते ।.....'नदीनां सन्पदं विभ्रद्राजायं सागरौ यथा' इत्यादौ उपमादीनां प्रतिभाननात्रे न तु वास्तवा स्थितिः ।...तस्मादुपमादिप्रतिभोत्पत्तिहेतुः श्लेष एव स्वविषये सर्वत्रालङ्कारः इति । (2) एतच्चापरे न क्षमन्तेः ।.....श्लेषस्य नापवादकत्वं सङ्कीर्णत्वं तु स्यात् ।..... (3) अलङ्कारान्तरोपस्कारकतया स्थितः श्लेषः कथङ्कार स्वगुह्य इव श्लेषालङ्कारव्यपदेशो बोद्धुमीष्टमिति वाच्यप्राय एव—इत्याहुः" R. G. pp. 393-396.

About श्लेष Jagannātha says that it enters into combination with many figures and produces ever fresh charms in poetry. "अयं चोपमेव स्वतन्त्रोऽपि तत्र तत्र सकलालङ्कारानुग्राहकतया स्थितः सरस्वत्या नवं नवं सौभाग्यमावहन्नानाविधेषु लक्ष्येषु सहृदयैर्विभावनीय इति ।" R. G. p. 402. Similarly, Dandin says श्लेषः सर्वास्तु पुष्पाति प्रायो वक्रोक्तिषु श्रियम् । भिन्नं द्विधा स्वभावोक्तिर्वक्रोक्तिश्चेति वाङ्मयम् ॥ K. D. II. 363.

25 अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा (Indirect Description).

When (1) a particular from a general, (2) a general from a particular, or (3) a cause from an effect, or (4) an effect from a cause, or (5) a thing similar from what resembles it, is understood, each of the former being in question and the latter not so, it is अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा, which is thus five-fold. The word प्रस्तुत in कारिका 59 (latter half) is to be connected with five words viz. विशेषः, सामान्यं, निमित्तं, कार्यं and समं and अप्रस्तुतात् is to be connected with the five words in the ablative viz. सामान्यात्, विशेषतः, कार्यात्, हेतोः, समात्.

सगियं.....विषमीश्वरेच्छया—This is Raghu, VIII. 46. This is part of Aja's lamentation on the death of his queen caused by the fall of a garland. Here what is intended to be expressed is the general proposition that a thing which is ordinarily hurtful may work good and a thing which is ordinarily beneficial may do evil. This general proposition being प्रकृत the author speaks of only a particular example, viz. poison and nectar. Thus, there is the figure called अर्थान्तरन्यास founded on अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा. In अर्थान्तरन्यास a general proposition is supported by a particular instance or particular instances are supported by general propositions. In the above verse, Aja at first asks the question why the garland which killed his beloved does not kill him. He himself answers the question by a general proposition that a thing ordinarily beneficial may be sometimes hurtful (as the garland proved to be in the case of his wife). Therefore there is अर्थान्तरन्यास. But instead of laying down the general proposition, which was प्रकृत, he cites a particular case. Therefore there is अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा. It might be said against this that the figure is दृष्टान्त, since विष acting rarely as nectar or nectar as poison is exactly paralled to (प्रतिविम्बम्) the garland, which is generally beneficial, killing the queen. Our author declares that this is not दृष्टान्त; because in दृष्टान्त a well-known object alone is taken as the type (प्रतिविम्ब), as instanced in अविदितगुणायि etc. above. But in this verse दृष्टान्त is not possible, because the fact of poison and nectar turning into nectar and poison respectively is not well-known. तस्य in l. 20 refers to दृष्टान्तस्य.

इन्दुलिप्त.....प्रतीयते (P. 43, ll. 21-26). इन्दुलिप्त.....सगर्हा इव. This occurs in अलं. स. p. 105 in the same connection. For विद्रुमदलं we read there विद्रुमरुचिः and for कलया च we have कलयासि. सीतायाः पुरतः—These words are to be construed with every clause. In the presence of Sītā, the moon is, as it were, besmeared with lamp-black. जडिता motionless. प्रस्लानरुणिम इव विद्रुमदलम्—प्रस्लानः अरुणिना यस्य तत्—The redness of the leaf-like coral appears to fade. The reading कलयासि (I think) would be better. कार्कश्यं कलया.....प्रस्तुतम्—It appears, as it were, that harshness has begun to manifest itself to a certain extent (कलया) in the throats of female cuckoos. बर्हाः सगर्हा इव—The long tails display as it were their defects (on account of the absence of blueness and delicacy). Here what is प्रस्तुत is the extreme beauty of the face etc. of Sītā. This beauty is the cause of the fancy of the moon being besmeared with lamp-black as it were. So instead of speaking of the cause, viz. सौन्दर्य, which is प्रस्तुत, the effects, viz., the fancy of the moon as besmeared etc., are spoken of. Therefore there is अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा. “अथ सम्भाव्यमानैरेन्द्रादिगनैरञ्जलितत्वादिभिः कायरूपैरप्रस्तुतैर्लोकैश्चरो वदनादिगतः सौन्दर्यातिशयः कारणरूपः प्रस्तुतः प्रतीयते । तेनेयमप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा ।” अलं० स p. 105.

पुंस्त्वादपि etc.) is Paronomastic, as it is in श्लेष. पुंस्त्वादपि प्रविचलेत्—'Though he may give up the state of a male, as Vishnu did when he assumed the form of a damsel (मोहिनी) to tempt the demons into destruction'; as applied to the person it means 'although he may lose one of the cherished objects of man (पुरुषार्थे).' अथोऽपि यायात् although he may go down to the infernal regions, as Vishnu did to raise up the earth submerged under water (in वराहावतारः); with reference to the person "although he may be reduced to a low condition." अत्र.....पुरुषः प्रतीयते—Here from the विशेष्य पुरुषोत्तम which is Paronomastic is first understood Vishnu because the word Puruṣottama is generally used in that sense. But as विष्णु is अप्रस्तुत, some person intended to be described is understood from the word पुरुषोत्तम. It might be said that in this verse the figure is श्लेष, as both the विशेषण and the विशेष्य are श्लिष्ट, and not अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा. Both the senses, viz. विष्णु and some person, may be looked upon as intended to be expressed (प्रस्तुत). To this we reply:—this is not श्लेष, but अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा; because what we first understand is Vishnu, as that is the conventional meaning of the word पुरुषोत्तम and then we understand the etymological meaning 'best of men'; i. e. both meanings are not at once expressed; therefore there is no श्लेष. Besides, here the poet intends to give information of the matter in hand viz. the person to be described, by describing Vishnu who is not the matter in hand. श्लेष is subordinate as it simply helps to bring out this intention. Therefore the principal figure is अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा. सादृश्यमात्र.....प्रतीयते. अम्बरनावृत्तिशून्यम्—The sky (the atmospheric region) affords no shelter (corner). शरणे विधेः कृष्णा Divine Grace is the only refuge. Here, from the description of the pigeon, which is अप्रस्तुत, is understood some person, the subject of description, whom many enemies are pursuing. Here there is mere similarity between कपोत (the अप्रस्तुत) and the person (the प्रस्तुत).

वाच्यस्य.....उभयरूपत्वम् (P. 44, ll. 17-27). The figure again is three-fold, according as the expressed sense (which is अप्रस्तुत) is possible, impossible or both. Of these three cases, that of possibility is illustrated by the above examples. 'वाच्यस्य सम्भवासम्भवीभयरूपत्वमिच्छयः प्रकारः ।' अलं. स. p. 104. An example of impossibility is 'कोकिलोह' etc. काकलीकोविदाः—('काकली तु कले नृक्षमे ध्वनौ तु नधुरास्फुटे । कलः' अनर. I. 7. 2)—Those who know soft melody. Here the अप्रस्तुत is the dialogue between a crow and a cuckoo; but this is impossible in the nature of things, unless we superimpose upon them the character of two persons whose exteriors are alike, but whose qualities vastly differ. प्रस्तुताध्यारोपं विना अप्रस्तुते कोकिले वाच्ये प्रस्तुतस्य व्यंग्यस्याध्यारोप विनेत्यर्थः.. दण्डोदात्तं—'उक्तिप्रत्युक्तिमद्वाक्यं वाकोवाक्यं विदुर्बुधाः । द्वयोर्वक्त्रोस्तदिच्छन्ति बहूनामपि सज्जने ॥' सरस्वतीकण्ठाभरण of Bhoja, परि० II. अन्त...गुणाः—This is the 23rd verse of महदृशतक and is cited in अलं. स. p. 108. छिद्राणि विवराणि दोषाश्च, भूयांसि बहुतराणि, कण्टकाः तीक्ष्णाग्रवृक्षावयवाः क्षुद्रशत्रवश्च, कमलनालस्य गुणाः तन्तवः यशांसि च कथं भङ्गुरा मा भूवन् (भवन्तु नाम). The expressed sense is the splitting of the lotus stalk. This meaning is अप्रस्तुत and the possession of holes (in the case of lotus stalks) is no cause of their splitting up, but the possession of thorns is a cause, because they may rend the stalks. Therefore, without superimposing the notion of some person who is प्रस्तुत on the कमलनाल, the possession of holes cannot possibly be the cause of making the fibres fragile. So this is an example where both possibility and impossibility are found. "अत्र वाच्येऽर्थे कण्टकानां भङ्गुरीकरणे हेतुत्वं सम्भवि च्छिद्राणां त्वसम्भवीत्युभयरूपत्वम् । प्रस्तुतस्य तात्पर्येण प्रतीतेस्तदध्यारोपात्तत्र सज्जतमेवैतदिति नासमीचीनं किञ्चित् ।" अलं. स. p. 108.

सुना दुर्योधनादयः सभृत्याः स्वस्या निश्चिन्ता भवन्तु । कीदृशाः कुराजसुताः । रक्ता अनुरक्ता प्रकर्षेण साधिता भूर्यस्तादृशाः । क्षतो निर्वर्तितो विग्रहः कल्हो यैस्तथाभूताः । अत्र प्रशमात् नाशात्, रुधिरशोभितभूमयः, खण्डितशरीराः, स्वर्गस्थाः, इति अमङ्गलाक्षीलं भाव्यर्थसूचकतया गुणः । उ० च० p. 302). In this verse the plain sense is "may the sons of धृतराष्ट्र, who have made the world contented and who have brought all quarrels to an end, rest in ease." But by the force of the double-meaning words रक्तप्रसाधितभुवः etc, another sense is suggested, viz. 'may the Kauravas, who have besmeared the earth with blood, whose bodies are hacked into pieces, attain to Heaven (स्वःस्थाः* means 'remaining in heaven', 'स्वरव्ययं स्वर्गनाक etc.' अमर.)'. This second sense is suggested purely by the force of the words; शब्दशक्तिमूलवस्तुध्वनि is based purely on double-meaning words; while अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा is not necessarily so based. Even when the latter is based upon words with two meanings it differs from शब्दशक्तिमूलवस्तुध्वनि. In the ध्वनि, the expressed sense is complete in itself and then suggests another matter; but there is no attribution of the behaviour of one to another; while in अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा, the expressed sense is अप्रस्तुत and is identified with the suggested sense, which is प्रस्तुत; as e. g. in अन्तश्छिद्राणि etc., the behaviour of कमलनाल is identified with that of a person who has many enemies. In समासोक्ति also, the behaviour of one is superimposed upon another. Then what is the difference between समासोक्ति and अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा? It is as follows:—In समासोक्ति, the प्रस्तुत is described and suggests the अप्रस्तुत; while in अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा, what is अप्रस्तुत is expressed and suggests the प्रस्तुत i. e. अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा is exactly the opposite of समासोक्ति. 'प्रस्तुतादप्रस्तुतप्रतीतौ समासोक्तिरुक्ता अधुना तद्वैपरीत्येनाप्रस्तुतात्प्रस्तुतप्रतीतावप्रस्तुतप्रशंसोच्यते।' अलं. स. p. 102; 'अप्राकरणिकेन प्राकरणिकाक्षेपोऽप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा प्राकरणिकेनाप्राकरणिकाक्षेपः समासोक्तिरिति विवेकः । प्रदीप p. 50 (Chān.). उपमा...व्यंग्यत्वम्. An example of उपमाध्वनि, has been given above and explained under समासोक्ति. In उपमाध्वनि, the अप्रस्तुत is only suggested, while in अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा, the अप्रस्तुत is expressed and the प्रस्तुत is suggested. एवं समासोक्तौ—similarly in समासोक्ति (the अप्रस्तुत is implied and not expressed as in अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा). The printed editions do not put a stop after समासोक्ति, but we think it is necessary. The author himself said above under समासोक्ति 'अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसायां प्रस्तुतस्य गम्यत्वम्, इह तु अप्रस्तुतस्येति भेदः.' श्लेषेऽपि.....वाच्यत्वम्—In श्लेष, both the things

denoted by the word are expressed, because there is no determining element such as प्रकृत्य etc. to tell us that a particular sense is प्रस्तुत and the other अप्रस्तुत. In अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा, the अप्रस्तुत is expressed, while the प्रस्तुत is implied. Even when Paronomastic words are employed in अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा, the first meaning that strikes us is connected with the अप्रस्तुत. 'द्विष्टव्यप्रयोगे त्वर्थान्नस्वावाच्यत्वाच्छेषाद्विशेषः । हेने हनेकर्मार्थस्य वाच्यत्वानित्युक्तम् ।' अलं. स. p. 104.

The word प्रशंसा in अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा does not mean 'praise' but simply 'mention, description' (कथनम्). 'इहाप्रस्तुतमप्रस्तुतत्वादेव वर्णनमनुचितमपि प्रस्तुतपरत्वेनौचित्येनानन्दन इति प्रस्तुतं व्यञ्जनप्रस्तुतस्य वाच्यस्य सिद्धिमात्रातीति वाच्यसिद्धयङ्गमिदं गुणभूतव्यञ्जनम् । अत्र एव प्रस्तुतस्य प्रशंसा कथनमित्यन्वर्थनाश्रयणमानय्याऽप्रस्तुतस्य वाच्यत्वमत्र नञानुपपन्नमपि लभ्यते.' एका. p. 293; 'एवं च लक्ष्यलक्ष्ययोः प्रशंसद्वयः स्तुतिनिन्दास्वरूपास्त्वानन्वयधाराय कोर्वेनमात्रप्ररो द्रष्टव्यः ।' कुव. p. 79; 'प्रशंसनं च वर्णनमात्रम्, न तु स्तुतिः' R. G. p. 402.

The student is advised to read the R. G. for some very beautiful examples of the 5th variety of अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा (viz. तुल्ये प्रस्तुते तुल्याभिधानम्); some of them are:—नितरां नीचोऽसीति त्वं खेदं कृप मा कदापि कृथाः । अत्यन्तसरसहृदयो यतः परेषां गुणग्रहीताऽसि ॥ तावत्कोकिल दिवसान्यापय विरसान्वनान्तरे निवसन् । यावन्मिलदलमालः कोऽपि रसालः समुद्धसति ॥ pp. 403-404.

When from blame and praise, that are expressed, are understood praise and blame respectively, it is termed व्याजस्तुतिः-निन्दया.....व्याजस्तुतिः. When praise is understood from apparent blame, the figure is properly called व्याजस्तुति, because it etymologically means 'व्याजेन स्तुतिः' (तृतीयातत्पुरुष) i. e. praise by an artifice or disguise. But when blame is understood from apparent praise, how can the figure be called व्याजस्तुति (it should rather be called, it might be said, व्याजनिन्दा)? The author says that in this second case, the word व्याजस्तुति is to be explained in another manner, i. e. as meaning 'false praise.' Compare the words of मम्मट "व्याजरूपा व्याजेन वा स्तुतिः"; "यत्र स्तुतिरभिधीयमानाऽपि प्रमाणान्तराद्वाधितस्वरूपा निन्दायां पर्यवस्यति तत्रासत्यत्वाद् व्याजरूपा स्तुतिरित्यनुगमेन तावदेका व्याजस्तुतिः । यत्रापि निन्दाशब्देन प्रतिपाद्यमाना पूर्ववद्बाधितस्वरूपा स्तुतिः पर्यवसिता भवति सा द्वितीया व्याजस्तुतिः व्याजेन निन्दासुखेन स्तुतिरिति कृत्वा" । अलं. स. p. 112; 'तृतीयातत्पुरुषकर्मधारयान्यां योगार्थद्वयेन द्वयोरपि शब्दार्थत्वम्' ।

स्तनयुग...जाता: (P. 45, ll. 3-4). The reading in the text makes the metre of the verse faulty. If we read रिपुस्त्रियः there are 16 mātrās, whereas there should be only 15 in the last pāda of an Āryā. It is therefore that the Nirṇaya-sāgara edition proposes द्विद्विस्त्रियः. But for this there is no warrant. स्तनयुगे मुक्ताभरणं हारो यासां ताः (पक्षे, स्तनयुगात् मुक्तं गलितं आभरणम् वस्त्रं यासाम् ताः) कण्टकैः रोमाञ्चैः कलिताः व्याप्ताः अङ्गयष्टयः देहलतिकाः यासां ताः (पक्षे, कण्टकैः तीक्ष्णायुर्वृक्षावयवैः कलिताः अङ्गयष्टयः यासाम्), त्वयि कुपितेऽपि प्रागिव (कोपात् पूर्वस्मिन् काले इव) रिपुस्त्रियः विश्वस्ताः निश्चिन्ता (पक्षे, विधवाः 'विश्वस्ताविधवे समे' अमर. II. 6. 11) जाताः. The women formerly wore pearl necklaces etc; now also they are स्तनयुग etc. (i. e. in running away, when their lords were killed, for fear of capture, they had no time even to look to their garments). Formerly they felt secure (विश्वस्ताः); now also they are विश्वस्ताः (widowed). Here in this verse, at first sight it appears that the king is blamed for causing trouble to women (whose delicate bodies were pierced by thorns when fleeing for life into a forest etc.), but ultimately we perceive that praise is meant, because he utterly routes his enemies.

व्याजस्तुतिस्तव..... पथिकान्निहत्य (P. 45, ll. 6-7). यत् जगतः जीवनाय तव जीवनानि (पयासि), इयं (हे) पयोद (मेघ) मया तव व्याजस्तुतिः असत्यस्तुतिः उदिता उक्ता। घन (हे मेघ, पक्षे कठिनहृदय) इदं तु ते तव महत् स्तोत्रं स्तुतिः यत् पथिकान् निहत्य (प्रियाविरहितानां पथिकानां चेतो मेघालोके उत्कण्ठितं भवति) धर्मराजस्य (यमस्य) साहाय्यमर्जयसि. "This is, Oh cloud, but a false encomium I have bestowed on thee 'thy waters are the life of the world'. But this indeed is a great praise to thee, that thou renderest assistance to the Lord of Justice (Yama, the God of death) by killing the wayfarers (who are separated from their beloved)." Here at first sight it seems that the cloud is praised for rendering assistance to धर्मराज himself; but ultimately we perceive that censure is meant, because the cloud kills poor wayfarers.

In व्याजस्तुति, the sense that is at first expressed by the words, whether praise or blame, is given up and is understood, on account of the context or the specialty of the speaker etc. as conveying blame or praise respectively. A question naturally arises:—what is the distinction between व्याजस्तुति and that ध्वनि in which a sense, exactly opposed to that which is expressed, is suggested? The reply is:—in ध्वनि, the expressed sense can stand by itself; it is not improper or improbable in itself; another sense is suggested when we reflect upon the speaker, the context etc; while in व्याजस्तुति the expressed sense, whether praise or blame, being impossible because opposed to what we understand from the context, the specialty of the speaker etc., gives itself up and indicates something else, either blame or praise respectively. “अत एवास्या ध्वनेर्भेदः । स हि विश्रान्ते वाक्यार्थे वक्तृवाच्यौचित्यपर्यालोचनबलादवगम्यते । इह पुनः प्रमाणान्नगद्व्यधिनः सन्वाक्यार्थः स्वयननुपपन्नानन्वातरत्र निन्दागौ स्वं समर्पयति । तत्रैव प्रकृतवाक्यार्थस्य विश्रान्तेः । ” विन० p. 112; “(आमुखप्रतीनान्यां निन्दास्तुतिभ्यां स्तुतिनिन्दयोः क्रमेण पर्यवसानं व्याजस्तुतिः) आमुखेत्यादिविशेषणेन तयोः पर्यवसानाभावं वदन्वाधित्वमभिप्रेति । अत एव नास्या ध्वनित्वम् । ध्वनौ हि निर्वाधेन वाच्येनागूरुण-महिम्नाऽर्थान्तरमवगम्यते । न चैवं प्रकृते । ” R. G. p. 416. व्याजस्तुति must be distinguished from अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा. In both, something else is suggested by the expressed sense. From अप्रस्तुत निन्दा or स्तुति we understand प्रस्तुता स्तुति or निन्दा. But in अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा, we understand a cause from an effect or vice versa, a general from a particular or vice versa, or a thing similar from another like it; but in व्याजस्तुति, there is no such thing. Besides, in व्याजस्तुति, the charm lies in understanding blame or praise from praise or blame. स्तुतिनिन्दारूपत्वस्य विच्छित्तिविशेषस्य भावादप्रस्तुत-प्रशंसातो भेदः । अलं. स. p. 112; on which जयरथ remarks ‘तत्र हि सामान्यविशेषादीनां गम्यत्वम्’ p. 113; ‘न चात्राप्रस्तुतशंसैवास्तु । स्तुति-निन्दात्मकतया विच्छित्तिविशेषात् । कार्यकारणभावादिसम्बन्धाभावाच्च ॥’ उद्योत p. 89.

It should be remembered that व्याजस्तुति occurs only when the blame or praise is understood with reference to that object alone with reference to which the praise or censure was expressed. ‘इयं च व्याजस्तुतिर्यस्यैव वस्तुनः स्तुतिनिन्दे प्रथममुपक्रम्यते तस्यैव चेन्निन्दास्तुत्योः पर्यवसानं भवेत्तदा भवति । वैयधिकरण्ये तु न इति प्राचामलङ्कार-शास्त्रप्रवर्तकानां समयः ।’ R. G. p. 419. Where from the praise or blame of one, we understand the praise or blame of another, there is no व्याजस्तुति, but it is an example of व्यंग्यवाक्य.

example of व्याजस्तुति is 'अर्धं दानववैरिणा गिरिजयाप्यर्धं शिवस्याहृतं देवेत्थं जगतीतले सरहराभावे समुन्मीलनि । गङ्गा सागरमम्बर शशिकला नागाधिपः क्षमातलं सर्वज्ञत्वमधीश्वरत्वमगमत्त्वां मां च निष्ठाटनम् ॥' (सर्वज्ञः सर्वेश्वरोऽसीति राज्ञः स्तुत्या व्याजरूपया मदीयवैदुष्यादि दारिद्र्यादि सर्वं जानन्नपि बहुप्रदानेन रक्षितुं शक्तोऽपि मह्यं किमपि न ददासीति निन्दा व्यज्यते । कुव० p. 92).

'Periphrasis occurs when the fact to be intimated is expressed by a turn of speech' मङ्गि means प्रकार 'mode' (of speech). When what is to be conveyed is expressed, there is पर्यायोक्त. It may be asked, 'how can that which is गम्य be at the same time वाच्य' i. e. the same thing cannot be गम्य and वाच्य at the same time. The reply is:—the गम्य is expressed through its effect, i. e. the effect is expressed and as there is invariable association between cause and effect, the express mention of the effect suggests the cause (which is गम्य). This is what is meant by गम्यस्य भङ्ग्या (प्रकारान्तरेण i. e. कार्यादिद्वारेण) अभिधानम्. Our author closely follows the अलं. स. in defining this figure. "गम्यस्यापि भङ्ग्यन्तरेणाभिधानं पर्यायोक्तम् । सूत्र । (वृत्ति) यदेव गम्यत्वं तस्यैवाभिधाने पर्यायोक्तम् । गम्यस्य सतः कथमभिधानमिति चेत्, गम्यापेक्षया प्रकारान्तरेणाभिधानस्याभावात् । न हि तस्यैव तदैव तस्यैव विच्छिन्त्या गम्यत्वं वाच्यत्वं च सम्भवति । अतः कार्यमुख-द्वारेणाभिधानम् ।" अलं. स. p. 111.

An example of पर्यायोक्त is 'स्पृष्टाः' etc. स्पृष्टा.....सैनिकैः (P. 45, ll. 10-11). The verse is cited by अलं. स. p. 112 as an example of पर्यायोक्त. यस्य (हयग्रीवस्य) सैनिकैः नन्दने (इन्द्रस्योपवने) शक्त्याः (इन्द्राण्याः) केशसम्भोगलालिताः (केशानां सम्भोगाय भूषणाय लालिताः यत्नेन संवर्धिताः) पारिजातस्य मञ्जर्यः सावज्ञं स्पृष्टाः. The word सावज्ञं (with contempt) implies that they were not afraid of Indra at all. Hence it is clearly implied that the heavens were conquered by Hayagrīva. Here what is प्रस्तुत and is to be intimated is the fact of the conquest of Heaven by Hayagrīva, which fact is the cause, and is expressed through the effect, viz. the scornful touching of the flowers of Pārijāta by the soldiers. The reason why the cause is expressed through the effect is that the description should be specially charming.

subject of description. वर्णीयस्य = हयग्रीवस्य (नत्प्रभावेनैव मावजनजरी-स्पर्शात्). The reason why the effect is described and the cause is left to be understood is that, as the effect is more striking than the cause, its description lends a special charm to the verse; “इह दत्र कार्यकारणं प्रतीयते तत्र कार्यं प्रस्तुतमप्रस्तुतं चेति द्वयी गतिः। यत्र प्रस्तुतत्वं कार्यस्य कारणवत्तस्यापि वर्णीयत्वात्तत्र कार्यमुखेन कारणं पदयोगोक्तमिति पर्यायोक्तनलङ्कारः। तत्र हि कारणापेक्षया कार्यस्यानिशयेन नौन्दर्यमिति न देव वर्णितम्।.....यत्र पुनः कारणस्य प्रस्तुतत्वे कार्यमप्रस्तुतं वर्ण्यते तत्र न्यट्टेवाप्रस्तुत-प्रशंसा। यथा ‘इन्दुलिप्तं इवाजनेन’ इत्यादी। अत्र हि इन्द्रादयः स्फुटमेवाप्राकरगिकाः। तत्रनिच्छन्दभूतानां मुखादीनां प्राकरगिकत्वात्। तेनान्त्रेन्द्रादिगतेनाजनगित्वादिना अप्रस्तुतेन कार्येण प्रस्तुतं मुखादिगतं तौन्दर्यं सहृदयान्वाहदकारि गम्यते इति उत्राप्रस्तुत-प्रशंसा। एवं च यत्र वाच्योऽर्थोऽर्थान्तरं तादृशमेव स्वोपस्कारकत्वेनागूरयति तत्र पर्यायोक्तम्। यत्र पुनः स्वात्मानमेवाप्रस्तुतत्वात् प्रस्तुतमर्थान्तरं प्रति समपयति तत्राप्रस्तुतप्रशंसति निर्णयः” अल. त. pp. 106-107.

एवं च...पर्यायोक्तमेव (P. 45, ll. 16-20). अनेन...हाराः—This is Raghū. VI. 28. पत्नैवराभिन्दुनती प्रति धात्र्या उक्तिरियम्. The printed editions of the Raghuvamśa read उन्मुच्य सूत्रेण for आक्षेपसूत्रेण. The reading in the text is supported by राम०. It must be said that the reading उन्मुच्य is better, as it agrees very well with प्रत्यर्पिताः (returned or restored). शत्रुविलासिनीनां स्तनेषु मुक्ताफल-स्थूलनमान् अश्रुविन्दून् पर्यासयता (प्रस्तारयता पानयता) अनेन (अङ्गनाथेन) आक्षेपसूत्रेण (प्रथनगुणेन) विनैव हाराः प्रत्यर्पिताः ‘He restored to the fair ladies of his foemen their necklaces without the banding thread, as he caused tears to trickle down their breasts in drops large like pearls.’ Here the effect—the tears shed by the weeping wives of the slaughtered enemies—is as much प्रस्तुत as the cause, which is merely गन्त्य (suggested) viz. the killing of the enemies, as it (the description of the tears) conveys the great prowess of the king who is the subject of description. Therefore the figure is no other than पर्यायोक्त.

राजन्...इत्याहुः (P. 45, ll. 21-28). राजन्...आभाषते—These words are addressed by some person to a king, who was preparing to march out against his enemies. राज्ञः शत्रुभूतस्य शुकस्तवारिभवने अध्वगैः पान्यैः पञ्जरात् मुक्तः शून्यायां वलमौ भित्तौ चित्रस्थान् (राजादीन्) अवलोक्य एकैकं प्रति इत्यभाभाषते इत्यन्वयः। कीदृक्। तत्राह। राजत्रित्यादि। कुब्जे तादृशयाः भोजिकायाः सम्बोधनम्। कुमारसहितैः सचिवैः अद्यापि किं न भुज्यते इति काकुः (एषां भोजनसमये शुकस्यापि भोजनलाभः)। उ. च. p. 397. देव्यः इति संबोधनम्। तूष्णीं स्थिताः यूयमपि. Here, the cause of the state of things described is in question, viz. ‘the enemies have suddenly fled away, hearing that Your Majesty was ready to march.’ With respect to this verse, some say that the effect too, viz. the talk of the parrot is प्रस्तुत, as being fit to be described in connection with the cause, which is प्रस्तुत, and therefore the figure in this verse is पर्यायोक्त. Others says that the figure is none but अप्रस्तुत-प्रशंसा, inasmuch as the indescribably great power of the king in question is understood from the account of the royal parrot, which is अप्रस्तुत (not connected with the subject).

It is Mammata who cites राजन् राजसुता° as an example of अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा 'अत्र प्रस्थानोद्यतं भवन्तं ज्ञात्वा सहसैव त्वदरयः पलाय्य गता इति कारणे प्रस्तुते कार्यमुक्तम्' K. P. X. The अलङ्कारसर्वस्व, on the other hand, says that the verse in an example of पर्यायोक्त as defined by it. "ततश्चानया प्रक्रियया "राजन् राजसुता" इत्यत्र पर्यायोक्तमेव बोध्यम् । अन्ये तु दण्डयात्रोद्यतं त्वां बुद्ध्वा त्वदरयः पलाय्य गता इति कारणरूपस्यैवार्थस्य प्रस्तुतत्वाद् कार्यरूपोऽर्थोऽप्रस्तुत एव राजशुकवृत्तान्तस्याप्रस्तुतत्वाद् प्रस्तुतार्थं प्रति स्वात्मानं समर्पयतीत्यप्रस्तुतप्रशंसैवात्र न्याय्येति वर्णयन्ति" । अलं. स. p. 107. There is a great difference in the definitions of पर्यायोक्त given by Mammata and Ruyyaka. We shall speak of it later on. As regards the present verse, the whole dispute lies round the question whether the talk of the parrot is प्रस्तुत or अप्रस्तुत. The अलं. स. takes it to be प्रस्तुत and according to its definition of पर्यायोक्त the figure must be पर्यायोक्त. Mammata, on the other hand, regards शुकभाषण as अप्रस्तुत and therefore naturally says that the figure is अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा. To us the opinion of Mammata appears to be more reasonable. If शुकभाषण, which is one of the many effects of the running away of the enemies, is to be looked upon as प्रस्तुत, then any other effect, however remote, will have to be regarded as प्रस्तुत. It will be then hard to say what effects are प्रस्तुत and what are अप्रस्तुत. So it is better to regard effects like शुकभाषण as अप्रस्तुत. Viśvanātha does not positively declare what side he takes. But from the fact that he defines पर्यायोक्त as the अलं. स. does, and cites the opinion of अलं. स. on this verse first, we may infer that he leans to the view of the अलं. स. (and regards राजन् राजसुता as an example of पर्यायोक्त) rather than to that of Mammata.

There is a great difference in the views held by different writers as regards this figure. Bhāmaha and Udbhaṭa define it in the same manner. 'पर्यायोक्तं यदन्येन प्रकारेणाभिधीयते । वाच्यवाचक-वृत्तिभ्यां शून्येनावगमात्मना ॥' उद्भट VI. 12. Where the प्रस्तुत meaning is conveyed in another manner, viz. by suggestion, which is apart from the primary power, there is पर्यायोक्त. According to them, what is expressed is the same as that which is suggested; only the words employed express the sense in a different manner and are more picturesque than they would otherwise have been the effect which is प्रस्तुत, viz. destruction of the whole family. An example of (b) is त्वद्विपक्षमहीपालाः स्वर्वालाधरपण्डवम् । पीडयन्ति तं तीव्रदाम्णैर्दशनक्षनैः ॥. Here the description of the effect, viz. सुरवधूयन्मोग on the part of the enemies, suggests the cause which is प्रस्तुत viz. their death. An example of (c) is सूर्याचन्द्रमनौ यस्य वासो रजयतः करैः । अङ्गराग सजल्यस्ति वन्दे परमेश्वरम् ॥. Here शिव is suggested to be गगनाम्बर (one whose garment is the sky, naked) by the description of him as one whose garment is dyed by the rays of the sun and the moon; he is also suggested to be smeared with ashes by the description of him as one whose toilet is furnished by fire. Between the suggested sense गगनाम्बरत्व and the description सूर्यचन्द्रकररज्यमानवस्त्व there is no causal relation; and yet there is पर्यायोक्त. Therefore the views of अलं. स. and its followers that पर्यायोक्त occurs only when there is a causal relation is, in our opinion, wrong. Jagannātha points out that the modes of expressing an idea are numberless. “तदेवं संक्षेपतस्त्रिविधः । वाग्भङ्गीनां तु पर्यालोचने एकस्मिन्नेव विषयेऽनन्तप्रकारः सम्पद्यते किमुत विषयमेवे । यथा—‘इह भवद्भिरागन्तव्यम्’ इति विषये ‘अयं देशोऽलङ्घ्यः’ इति, ‘पवित्रीकर्तव्यः’ इति, ‘सफलजन्ना कर्तव्यः’ इति, ‘प्रकाशनीयः’ इति, ‘देशस्यास्य भाग्यानुज्जीवनीयानि’ इति, ‘तमांसि निरस्करणीयानि’ इति, ‘अस्मन्नयनयोः सन्तापो हरणीयः’ इति, ‘मनोरथः पूरणीयः’ इत्यादिः ।” R. G. p. 416.

Bhāmaha and Udbhata do not seem to have recognised ध्वनिकाव्य as the best and a separate variety of काव्य. They included all suggestive poetry under पर्यायोक्त. The meaning of पर्यायोक्त as defined by them is given by लोचन as follows:—

Some examples of पर्यायोक्त are—येन लम्बालकः सास्रः कराघातारुणस्तनः । अकारि भद्रबलयो गजानुरवधूजतः ॥ उद्भट IV. 13; चक्राभिघातप्रसभाज्ञयैव चकार यो राहुवधूजनस्य । आलिङ्गनोद्दामविलासशून्यं रतोत्सवं सुम्बनमात्रशेषम् ॥ quoted by the ध्वन्यालोक (p. 89.); नमस्तस्मै कुतौ येन मुधा राहुवधूकुचौ । चन्द्रालोक.

28 अर्थान्तरन्यासः (Corroboration).

When a general proposition is strengthened by a particular or a particular by a general one and when an effect is justified by a cause or vice versa, either under a similarity or a contrast, there is अर्थान्तरन्यास, which is thus eight-fold.

यावदर्थपदां.....मितभाषिणः (P. 46, ll. 7-8). This is Śiṣu, II. 13. यावदर्थपदाम् (यावान् अर्थः यावदर्थम् अव्ययीभावः । यावदर्थं पदानि यस्यां सा) अभिव्येयसंमिताक्षरान् वाचन् एवम् आदाय (गृहीत्वा उक्तवैत्यर्थः) नाथवः (कृष्णः) विरराम । नहीयामः (नहतरा जनाः) प्रकृत्या मितभाषिणः (भवन्ति). यावदर्थपदां वाचनादाय having discoursed in words that exactly conveyed the sense required to be expressed. The Nir. edition of S. D. reads यावदर्थ्यपदा and is supported by राम०. Our reading is supported by Mallinātha. यावदर्थ्यपदां will mean “यावन्ति अर्थानि (अर्थान्नपेनानि, according to the sūtra ‘वर्णपदार्थन्यायादन्नपेते’ । ण० IV. 4. 92) पदानि दत्तान्” that in which all the words are significant. Here the particular proposition, viz. that Kṛṣṇa stopped after speaking in words that exactly conveyed the sense intended, is supported by the general proposition that all great persons (Mādhava being one) are naturally measured in their speech.

पृथिवि स्थिरा.....आततज्यम् (P. 46, ll. 9-12). This is cited by the अलं. न. p. 110. This occurs in the हनुमन्नाटक I. 27 (a ms. in the library of the Bom. Branch of the Royal Asiatic Society). These are the words of Lakṣmaṇa when Rāma was about to make the bow of Śiva strung. पृथिवि स्थिरा भव be firm, Oh earth (or otherwise by the formidable pressure it might totter). भुजङ्गम् (शेष)पदां (पृथ्वीं) धारय; कूर्मेगज! त्वं इदं द्वितीयं (शेषं पृथ्वीं च) दधीषाः (धारयस्व); दिङ्मुखराः (दिग्गजाः) तन्नितये (तेषां त्रितये कूर्मे अनन्ते पृथ्व्यां च) दिधीषां (धारणेच्छां) कुरुत; देवः (रामः) हरकार्मुकम् (हरस्य शिवस्य धनुः) आततज्यम् (आतता ज्या यस्मिन् तत्) करोति. For the idea that the great Tortoise, the serpent and the elephants of the quarters support the earth, compare ‘कमठकुल-चलदिग्गजफणिपतिविधृतापि चलति वमुषेयम्’ भर्तृहरि. Here we understand that the firmness etc. are the effects, as they are the things which are enjoined upon the earth; the earth is naturally firm; so what is to be conveyed by the injunction is that it should be specially firm. The special firmness required is justified by the cause or occasion, viz., the stringing of Śiva's bow.

— सङ्गमा.....कारणस्य समर्थकम् (P. 46, ll. 14-15). सङ्गता विदधीत न क्रियानविवेकः परमापदां पदम् । कृणते हि विमृश्यकारिणं गुगलुब्धाः स्वयमेव नम्यदः ॥ This is किरातार्जुनीय II. 30. Here, the effect, viz. prosperity's choosing the prudent man, justifies the cause, viz. the reverse of rash dealing i. e. prudence. Here, as the reverse of rash dealing is enjoined upon all (in the potential mood विदधीत), we understand that it is the means to an end. Unless that end is mentioned, it cannot properly be the means. therefore सम्बन्धरण is put in (as the effect) to justify the cause, viz. सहसा विधानाभाव. The above four verses are examples (four) resting upon साधर्म्य.

वैधर्म्ये.....एवमन्यत् (P. 46, ll. 16-20). इत्थमाराध्यमानः.....दुर्जनः. This is Kumāra. II, 40. This is spoken by Bṛhaspati with reference to the demon Tāraka. Here a general proposition supports the particular proposition (in the first half) under वैधर्म्य. सहसा विदधीत etc. Here, the reverse of rash behaviour that is enjoined is justified by the effect (which is produced by rash behaviour i. e. the opposite of सहसाविधानाभाव) viz. causing adversity. एवमन्यत्—Out of the four varieties of अर्थान्तरन्यास under वैधर्म्य, our author exemplifies only two, viz. विशेषस्य सामान्येन समर्थनम्, and कारणस्य कार्येण समर्थनम्. Examples of the other two, viz., (3) सामान्यस्य विशेषेण वैधर्म्येण समर्थनम्, and (4) कार्यस्य कारणेन वैधर्म्येण समर्थनम्, are:—(3) गुणानामेव दौरात्म्याद्धुरि धुर्यो नियुज्यते । असञ्जातकिणस्कन्धः सुखं स्वपिति गौर्गलिः ॥ (गुणरूपदोषादेव धुर्यः श्रेष्ठः धुरि कार्यभारे नियुज्यते । असञ्जातकिणः स्कन्धः यस्य । यः आसञ्जितं गुणं बलात्पातयति स गौर्गलिः । उद्धोत p. 82); (4) सहसा विदधीत etc.—Here the effect of अविवेक (which is the opposite of सहसाविधानाभाव) viz. आपत्पदत्व is justified by the cause (सहसाविधानाभाव) which is the same as विमृश्यकारित्व mentioned in the 2nd half).

The name अर्थान्तरन्यास is significant. 'अर्थैते इति अर्थः प्रस्तुतः इति यावत्।' एकावली p. 266; अन्यः अर्थः अर्थान्तरम् तस्य न्यासः. Compare the following definitions 'ज्ञेयः सोऽर्थान्तरन्यासो वस्तु प्रस्तुत्य किञ्चन । तत्साधनसमर्थस्य न्यासो योज्यस्य वस्तुनः ॥' K. D. II. 169; 'उपन्यसनमन्यस्य यदर्थोऽसौदितादृते । ज्ञेयः सोऽर्थान्तरन्यासः पूर्वार्थानुगतो यथा ॥' भाषा II. 71.

Our author, in the treatment of अर्थान्तरन्यास, slavishly follows the अलं. स. Although this figure is of the most frequent occurrence, next to उपमा, रूपक and उपमेया, he borrows some of the examples also from अलं. स. 'निर्दिष्टस्याभिहितस्य समर्थनार्हस्य प्रकृतस्य समर्थकात् पूर्वं पश्चाद्वा निर्दिष्टस्य यत्समर्थनं उपपादनम्, न त्वपूर्वत्वेन प्रवीतिरनुमानरूपा सोऽर्थान्तरन्यासः । तत्र सामान्यं विशेषस्य विशेषो वा सामान्यस्य समर्थक इति द्वौ भेदौ । तथा कार्यं कारणस्य कारणं वा कार्यस्य समर्थकमित्यपि द्वौ भेदौ । तत्र भेदचतुष्टये प्रत्येकं साधर्म्यवैधर्म्याभ्यां भेदद्वयेऽष्टौ भेदाः । हिशब्दाभिधानानभिधानाभ्यां समर्थकपूर्वोपन्यासोत्तरोपन्यासाभ्यां च भेदान्तरसम्भवेऽपि न तद्वर्णना सहृदयहृदयहारिणी । वैचित्र्यस्याभावात् । तस्माद्भेदाष्टकमेवेहोद्दिष्टम् ।' अलं. स. p. 109. In अर्थान्तरन्यास, the proposition to be supported is generally placed first and the proposition that supports is placed last. But this order may be reversed. Similarly, the relation of समर्थ्य and समर्थक may be directly expressed by such words as यतः, यत्, हि etc. or it may be left to be understood. “असिन्नलङ्कारे समर्थ्यसमर्थकभावः अर्थः शाब्दश्चालङ्कारताप्रयोजकः । न तु काव्यलिङ्गे हेतुहेतुमद्भाव इवार्थ एव । हि यत् यतः इत्यादेः प्रतिपादकस्याभावे अर्थः ।.....तत्सत्त्वे शाब्दः ।” R. G. p. 472. Compare ‘समर्थकस्य पूर्वं यद्वचोऽन्यस्य च पृष्ठतः । विपर्ययेण वा यत्स्याद्विश्वोक्त्याऽन्यथापि वा ॥ ज्ञेयः मोऽर्थान्तरन्यासः प्रकृतार्थसमर्थनात् । अप्रस्तुत-प्रशंसाया दृष्टान्ताच्च पृथक्स्थितः ॥’ उद्भट II. 7-8.

The अलं. स. has been severely criticized for saying that अर्थान्तरन्यास occurs also when an effect is justified by a cause or vice versa. The अलं. स. and our author perhaps stand alone in holding this view. Even Jayaratha, the commentator of सर्वस्व, says ‘कार्यकारणभावाश्रयस्य भेदद्वयस्य काव्यलिङ्गत्वं ग्रन्थकृदेव वक्ष्यतीति सामान्यविशेषभावाश्रयमेव भेदद्वयमाश्रयणीयम् ।’ विम० p. 109. Jagannātha says that when the cause is justified by the effect or the effect by the cause, the figure is काव्यलिङ्ग (which is admitted by the अलं. स. and our author also) “यत्तु ‘कारणेन कार्यस्य कार्येण कारणस्य वा समर्थनम्’ इत्यपि भेदद्वयमर्थान्तरन्यासस्यालङ्कारसर्वस्वकारो न्यरूपयत्, तन्न । तस्य काव्यलिङ्गविषयत्वात्, अन्यथा ‘वपुःप्रादुर्भावात्’ इति सकलालङ्कारिकसिद्धं काव्यलिङ्गोदाहरणमसङ्गतं स्यात् । अपरार्थे वाक्यार्थद्वयस्य कारणत्वेनार्थान्तरन्यासो-दाहरणतापत्तेः ।” R. G. p. 474. The verse referred to in the quotation from R. G. is “वपुःप्रादुर्भावादनुमितमिदं जन्मनि पुरा पुरारे न प्रायः क्वचिदपि भवन्तं प्रणतवान् । नमन्मुक्तः संप्रत्यहमतनुरग्रेऽप्यनतिभाग् महेश क्षन्तव्यं तदिदमपराधद्वयमपि ॥”. This is cited as an example of काव्यलिङ्ग by Mammāṭa and many other rhetoricians. Here the effect, viz., अपराधद्वयम्, is justified by the two causes, पुरा क्वचिदपि न प्रणतवान्, अग्रेऽपि अनतिभाक्. This would be an example of अर्थान्तरन्यास according to the अलं. स. and our author. But that would be going against all weighty authority. So अर्थान्तरन्यास should be so defined as not to trench upon the province of काव्यलिङ्ग. This can be effected by saying that अर्थान्तरन्यास occurs when a particular is supported by a general proposition and a general by a particular; while in काव्यलिङ्ग the effect is justified by the cause or vice versa. Compare उद्योत ‘कारणेन कार्यस्य कार्येण कारणस्य वा समर्थनं काव्यलिङ्गस्य विषय इति बोध्यम् । समर्थ्य-समर्थकयोः सामान्यविशेषभावसम्बन्धेऽर्थः, तदितरसम्बन्धे काव्यलिङ्गमित्युपगमात् ।’ p. 82. It should not be forgotten that this distinction is not approved of by our author and that he tries to show that even when अर्थान्तरन्यास is defined as done by him, काव्यलिङ्ग will have a province quite distinct from अर्थान्तरन्यास. We shall see this later on under काव्यलिङ्ग.

Jagannātha speaks of an अलङ्कार called उदाहरण, which occurs when, in order to understand a general proposition laid down, a particular case of that proposition is mentioned and the relation of the two as अवयव and अवयवि is expressed by such words as इव, यथा, निदर्शन etc. 'सामान्येन निरूपितस्यार्थस्य सुखप्रतिपत्तये तदेकदेशं निरूप्य तयोरवयवावयविभाव उच्यमान उदाहरणम् ।' R. G. p. 213. Examples are अमितगुणोऽपि पदार्थो दोषैकैकेन निन्दितो भवति । निखिलरसायनराजो गन्धेनोद्रेण लघुन इव ॥ उपकारमेव कुरुते विपद्भ्यः सद्गुणो नितराम् । मूर्च्छां गतो मृतो वा निदर्शनं पारदोऽत्र रसः ॥'. What distinguishes this figure, according to Jagannātha, from अर्थान्तरन्यास is that in उदाहरण, some word, such as इव, यथा, निदर्शन, which conveys the relation of अवयव and अवयवि is present, while in अर्थान्तरन्यास it is not present; and that in उदाहरण the predicate of the particular case is the same as that of the general proposition first laid down, as निन्दितो भवति in 'अमितगुणोऽपि' etc. "असिश्चालङ्कारेऽवयवावयविभावबोधकस्येवशब्दादेः प्रयोगः सामान्यविशेषयोरेकरूपविधेयान्वयश्चार्थान्तरन्यासभेदाद्वैलक्षण्याधायक इति ।" R. G. p. 215; also pp. 472-473. On this some say that the figure in उपकारमेव etc. is nothing but अर्थान्तरन्यास, for निदर्शन means nothing but समर्थक. Others say that the figure is Upamā. Very few writers recognise this figure. 'प्राश्नस्तु वदन्ति 'नायमलङ्कारो(उदाहरणालङ्कारो) अतिरिक्तः । उपमयैव गतार्थत्वात् । न च सामान्यविशेषयोः सादृश्यानुल्लासाल्पमुपमेति वाच्यम् । 'निर्विशेषं न सामान्यं' इति सामान्यस्य यत्किञ्चिद्विशेषं विना प्रकृतत्वायोगात्तादृशविशेषमादाय विशेषान्तरस्य सादृश्योल्लासे बाधकाभावादिवादिभिरामुखे प्रतीयमानस्यापि सामान्यविशेषभावस्य परिणामे सादृश्ये एव विश्रान्तेः' इत्यप्याहुः ।" R. G. pp. 215-16. "ननु 'उपकारमेव' इत्यत्र कोऽलङ्कार इति चेदयमेव (अर्थान्तरन्यास) एव । निदर्शनशब्दस्य समर्थकपरत्वात् । उपमाऽलङ्कार इति कश्चित् । एतेनोदाहरणालङ्कारोऽयमतिरिक्त इत्यपास्तम् ।" उद्योत p. 82. The Chandraloka and the Kuvalayananda speak of another figure called

29 काव्यलिङ्गम् (Poetical Cause).

तत्र वाक्यार्थता.....गोपयत्युग्रमूर्धनि (P. 46, l. 22-p. 47, l. 2). यत्त्वेत्रे.....क्षम्यते. क्षेमेन्द्र in his सुवृत्ततिलक (p. 47) ascribes this verse to श्रीयशोवर्मेन् (probably the same as the patron of मवभूति and वाक्पतिराज, about 700 A. D.); the verse is cited as an example of काव्यलिङ्ग in the अलं. स. (p. 144). Some person who is gone on a long journey and whose mind becomes excited at the approach of the rainy season says this (according to राम०). यत् त्वेत्रेऽस्मान्कान्ति (त्वेत्रेऽभ्यां समाना कान्तिर्यस्य) इन्दीवरं तत् सलिले मग्नम्; मुखस्य छायां कान्तिमनुकरोतीति मुखच्छायानुकारी शशी मेवैः अन्नरितः (तिरोहितः); येषु त्वद्भ्रमनानुसारिगतयः (त्वद्भ्रमनानुसारिणी गतिः येषां) ते राजहंसा गताः (मानससरोवरमिति शेषः); त्वत्सादृश्यविनोदमात्रमपि (तव सादृश्यं तेन विनोदः, विनोद एव विनोदमात्रम्) मे दैवेन न क्षम्यते. In this stanza, the fourth line asserts that ‘Fate does not allow me to derive even that consolation which things resembling you would give.’ The first three lines imply the three reasons for this assertion. Here the reason is implied in a sentence

(हेतोर्वाक्यार्थता). The second variety, viz. हेतोः पदार्थता, may occur, when the हेतु is implied in a single word or in many words (not forming a sentence). त्वद्वाजि.....हरः—त्वद्वाजिराजिभिः (तव अश्वनिवहैः) निर्धूतं यत् धूलिपटलं तेन पङ्क्तिराम् (पङ्क्तमयीं) गङ्गां भूरिभारमिया हरः (शिवः) शिरसा न धत्ते. In this verse, the first half which is a single word (being a compound), implies the reason of the assertion made in the 2nd. पश्यन्त्यसंख्य.....मूर्धनि. देव (राजन्), त्वद्दानजलवाहिनीम् असंख्यपथगां (संख्यातीतैः प्रवाहैः गच्छन्तीम्) पश्यन्ती त्रिपथगा (गङ्गा; पक्षे त्रिभिः एव मार्गैर्गच्छतीति) आत्मानम् उग्रमूर्धनि (उग्रः शिवः, 'उग्रः कपर्दी श्रीकण्ठः' अमर. I. 1. 32, तस्य शिरसि) गोपयति. Here, for the assertion that the Ganges hides herself on the head of Śiva, the implied reason is contained in the words पश्यन्त्यसंख्यपथगां त्वद्दानजलवाहिनीम्. The reason is not contained in one word, but in many; but there is not a complete sentence.

It should be carefully remembered that to constitute the figure काव्यलिङ्ग, the हेतु must be implied and not expressed by the instrumental or ablative case. Therefore the verse "प्रजानां विनयाधानाद्रक्षणाङ्गरणादपि । स पिता पितरस्तासां केवलं जन्महेतवः ॥" (रघु० I. 24) is not an example of काव्यलिङ्ग, as the हेतु is directly mentioned by the ablative cases. Compare "तेन 'भयानकत्वात्परिवर्जनीयो दयाश्रयत्वादसि देव सेव्यः' इत्यादौ नायमलङ्कारः । गम्यमानहेतुकत्वस्यैव हेतोः सुन्दरत्वेनालङ्कारिकैः काव्यलिङ्गताभ्युपगमात् ।" R. G. p. 466.

The word लिङ्ग means 'a sign, reason'. The reason why the figure is called काव्यलिङ्ग is given by कुव० (p. 127) as "व्याप्तिधर्मता- [व्याप्तिपक्षधर्मता?] सापेक्षनैयायिकलिङ्गव्यावर्तनाय काव्यविशेषणम्." Vide "पक्षधर्मत्वान्वयव्यतिरेकानुसरणगर्भतया यथा तार्किकप्रसिद्धा हेतवो लोकप्रसिद्धवस्तुविषयत्वेनोपनिबध्यमाना वैरस्यमावहन्ति न तथा काव्यहेतुः । अतिशये सर्वेषां जनानां योऽसौ हृदयसंवादी सरसः पदार्थस्तन्निष्ठतया उपनिबध्यमानत्वात् । अतः काव्यलिङ्गमिति काव्यग्रहणमुपात्तम् । न खलु तच्छालिङ्गं, किं तर्हि काव्यलिङ्गमिति काव्यग्रहणेन प्रतिपाद्यते ।" प्रतीहारेन्दुराज on उद्भट VI. 16.

actually would cause the death of the love-lorn travellers, i. e. the हेतु is कारक. An example of ज्ञापकहेतु is 'गतोऽस्तमर्को भातीन्दुर्यान्ति वासाय पक्षिणः । इतीदमपि साध्वेव कालवस्थानिवेदने ॥' K. D. II. 244. Here the setting of the sun and the like indicate that it is time to perform the Sandhyā adoration. The अग्निपु० (B. I. edition) defines हेतु as 'सिंसाधयिषितार्थस्य हेतुर्भवति साधकः । कारको ज्ञापक इति द्विधा सोऽप्युपजायते ॥' अ० 343. 29-30 (हेतु is that which is a means to accomplish or prove what is desired to be accomplished or proved). The सरस्वतीक०, strictly following the dogma of the grammarians, says 'क्रियायाः कारणं हेतुः कारको ज्ञापकश्च सः । अभावश्चित्र-हेतुश्च चतुर्विध इहेष्यते ॥' III. 12. The कारकहेतु is defined as 'यः प्रवृत्तिं च निवृत्तिं च प्रयुक्तिं चान्तरा विशत् । उदासीनोऽपि वा कुर्यात् कारकं तत् प्रचक्षते ॥' सरस्वतीक० III. 13 (That which, whether itself acting or not, causes motion, cessation or continuity is termed कारक). About a ज्ञापकहेतु it is said 'द्वितीया च तृतीया च चतुर्थी सप्तमी च यम् । क्रियाना-विष्टमाचष्टे लक्षणं ज्ञापकश्च यः ॥'. A ज्ञापक has no व्यापार of its own and it serves as a characteristic of another thing. A ज्ञापक हेतु does not produce an object, but it only indicates its existence; it may itself be the effect and may lead us to infer its cause, as the sight of a flood of water leads us to the inference of heavy rains as the source of a river. The अग्निपु० (B. I. ed) observes 'प्रवर्तते कारकाख्यः प्राक् पश्चात्कार्यजन्मनः ॥ पूर्वशेष इति ख्यातस्तयोरेव विशेषयोः । कार्यकारणभावाद्वा स्वभावाद्वा नियामकात् । ज्ञापकाख्यस्य भेदोऽस्ति नदीपूरादिदर्शनात् ।' अ० 343. 30-32. The निष्पादक and समर्थक हेतुs of our author are both included under कारक; for we have shown above that no clear line of division can be drawn between them.

dealing contained in 'सहसा विदधीत' etc. is fully intelligible in itself (even without the mention of the reason) on account of the sense being complete, as being a piece of advice similar to that contained in 'नरोपकार' etc.' सम्पद्वरणं is the subject of करोति, the object being सहसाविधानाभावम्. तोपपत्तिकमेव goes with सहसाविधानाभावम्. The mention of the fact that prosperity chooses only the discreet merely confirms the prohibition (of rash dealing); but is not required for the completion of the sense of 'सहसा विदधीत' etc. What the author means is—We often give advice in the form of cut and dried propositions without stating the reasons for the advice. Similarly, in 'नहन्ता विदधीत' etc, people are warned against acting rashly; that advice is intelligible in itself; it is निराकाङ्क्ष. If the reason is at all mentioned, it is only to justify the advice given. That is to say, in अर्थान्तरन्यास based upon कार्यकारणभाव, one proposition is quite independent of the other; while in काव्यलिङ्ग, one proposition depends upon another (i. e. is साकाङ्क्ष) and would be unintelligible without it. इति पृथगेव.....काव्यलिङ्गान्. For this reason काव्यलिङ्ग is quite distinct from अर्थान्तरन्यास based upon कार्यकारणभाव. It may be remarked here that the author has not succeeded in convincing us. The only distinction that he has been able to point out does not lie so much in the difference of the हेतु, as in the fact that in अर्थान्तरन्यास one proposition is independent of the other, while in काव्यलिङ्ग one is dependent on the other. But this also is not a sure guide. In 'पृथिवी स्थिरा' etc. which is an example of अर्थान्तरन्यास according to our author, it cannot be said that the sentences पृथिवी स्थिरा भव etc. are independent and complete in sense in themselves. The earth is already firm and it would be nonsense to ask it to be what it already is. Therefore 'पृथिवी स्थिरा भव' does stand in need of the sense contained in the last line in order to complete its own sense; i. e. the sentence पृथिवी स्थिरा भव is साकाङ्क्ष, just as 'त्वत्सादृश्यविनोदमात्रमपि' etc. is; it may, hence, be said that 'पृथिवी स्थिरा भव' is an example of काव्यलिङ्ग. It should also be noticed that the अलं. स. which appears to have been the guide of our author surrenders the position taken up by it, viz. that अर्थान्तरन्यास based upon causation is different from काव्यलिङ्ग and says that in holding that view it simply followed उद्भट. It says that the legitimate province of अर्थान्तरन्यास is the relation of सामान्य and विशेष; and that wherever the sense of a sentence constitutes the हेतु, there is काव्यलिङ्ग. It also says that a समर्थक-

Jagannātha speaks of an अलङ्कार called उदाहरण, which occurs when, in order to understand a general proposition laid down, a particular case of that proposition is mentioned and the relation of the two as अवयव and अवयवि is expressed by such words as इव, यथा, निदर्शनं etc. 'सामान्येन निरूपितस्यार्थस्य सुखप्रतिपत्तये तदेकदेशं निरूप्य तयोरवयवावयविभाव उच्यमान उदाहरणम् ।' R. G. p. 213. Examples are अमितगुणोऽपि पदार्थो दोषैर्नैकेन निन्दितो भवति । निखिलसायनराजो गन्धेनोऽग्रेण लघुन इव ॥ उपकारमेव कुरुते विपद्गतः सद्गुणो नितराम् । मूर्च्छा गतो मृतो वा निदर्शनं पारदोऽत्र रसः ॥'. What distinguishes this figure, according to Jagannātha, from अर्थान्तरन्यास is that in उदाहरण, some word, such as इव, यथा, निदर्शनं, which conveys the relation of अवयव and अवयवि is present, while in अर्थान्तरन्यास it is not present; and that in उदाहरण the predicate of the particular case is the same as that of the general proposition first laid down, as निन्दितो भवति in 'अमितगुणोऽपि' etc. "असिश्चालङ्कारेऽवयवावयविभावबोधकस्येवशब्दादेः प्रयोगः सामान्यविशेषयोरैकरूपविधेयान्वयश्चार्थान्तरन्यासमेदाद्वैलक्षण्याधायक इति ।" R. G. p. 215; also pp. 472-473. On this some say that the figure in उपकारमेव etc. is nothing but अर्थान्तरन्यास, for निदर्शनं means nothing but समर्थक. Others say that the figure is Upamā. Very few writers recognise this figure. "प्राञ्चस्तु वदन्ति 'नायमलङ्कारो (उदाहरणालङ्कारो) अतिरिक्तः । उपमयैव गतार्थत्वात् । न च सामान्यविशेषयोः सादृश्यानुष्ठासात्कथमुपमेति वान्यम् । 'निर्विशेषं न सामान्यं' इति सामान्यस्य यत्किञ्चिद्विशेषं विना प्रकृतत्वायोगात्तादृश-विशेषमादाय विशेषान्तरस्य सादृश्योष्ठासे बाधकाभावादिवादिभिरामुखे प्रतीयमानस्यापि सामान्यविशेषभावस्य परिणामे सादृश्ये एव विश्रान्तेः" इत्यप्याहुः ।" R. G. pp. 215-16. "ननु 'उपकारमेव' इत्यत्र कोऽलङ्कार इति चेदयमेव (अर्थान्तरन्यास) एव । निदर्शनशब्दस्य समर्थकपरत्वात् । उपमाऽलङ्कार इति कश्चिद् । एतेनोदाहरणालङ्कारोऽयमतिरिक्त इत्यपास्तम् ।" उद्योत p. 82. The Chand-

विकस्वर where first a particular proposition is supported by a general one and then a particular case is mentioned. “यस्मिन्विशेषसामान्यविशेषाः स विकस्वरः । स न जिग्ये महान्तो हि दुर्धर्पाः सागरा इव ॥”. The कुवलयानन्द cites the following as an example:— ‘अनन्तरत्नप्रभवस्य यस्य हिमं न सौभाग्यविलोपि जानन् । एको हि दीपो गुणसंनिपाते निमज्जतीन्द्रोः किरणेष्विवङ्कः ॥’ कुमार I. 2. This, however, does not deserve to be a separate figure. There is संसृष्टि of two अर्थान्तरन्यास or of अर्थान्तरन्यास and उपमा. “एवं चार्थान्तरन्यासस्य तस्य चार्थान्तरन्यासप्रमेदयोश्च संसृष्ट्यैवोदाहरणानां त्वदुक्तानां गन्तव्यत्वे नवीनालङ्कार-स्वीकारानौचित्यात् । अन्यथोपमादिप्रमेदानामनुग्राहकतया संनिवेशेऽलङ्कारान्तरकल्पनापत्तेः । ‘वीक्ष्य रामं घनदयानं ननुतुः शिखिनो वने ।’ इत्यत्रोपमापेयिनायां आन्तावलङ्कारान्तरत्वप्रसङ्गाच्च ।” R. G. p. 475.

तत्र वाक्यार्थता.....गोपयत्युग्रमूर्धनि (P. 46, l. 22-p. 47, l. 2). यत्त्वज्रेत्र.....क्षम्यते. क्षेमेन्द्र in his सुवृत्ततिलक (p. 47) ascribes this verse to श्रीयशोवर्मन् (probably the same as the patron of मयभूति and वाक्यतिराज, about 700 A. D.); the verse is cited as an example of काव्यलिङ्ग in the अलं. स. (p. 144). Some person who is gone on a long journey and whose mind becomes excited at the approach of the rainy season says this (according to राम०). यत् त्वज्रेत्रसमानकान्ति (त्वज्रेत्राभ्यां समाना कान्तिर्यस्य) इन्दीवरं तत् सलिले मग्नम्; मुखस्य छायां कान्तिमनुकरोतीति मुखच्छायानुकारी शशी मेवैः अन्तरितः (तिरोहितः); येऽपि त्वद्गमनानुसारिगतयः (त्वद्गमनानुसारिणी गतिः येषां) ते राजहंसा गताः (मानससरोवरमिति शेषः); त्वत्सादृश्यविनोदमात्रमपि (तव सादृश्यं तेन विनोदः, विनोद एव विनोदमात्रम्) मे दैवेन न क्षम्यते. In this stanza, the fourth line asserts that ‘Fate does not allow me to derive even that consolation which things resembling you would give.’ The first three lines imply the three reasons for this assertion. Here the reason is implied in a sentence

(हेतोर्वाक्यार्थता). The second variety, viz. हेतोः पदार्थता, may occur, when the हेतु is implied in a single word or in many words (not forming a sentence). त्वद्वाजि.....हरः—त्वद्वाजिराजिभिः (तव अश्वनिवहैः) निर्धूतं यत् धूलिपटलं तेन पङ्किलाम् (पङ्कमयीं) गङ्गा भूरिभारमिया हरः (शिवः) शिरसा न धत्ते. In this verse, the first half which is a single word (being a compound), implies the reason of the assertion made in the 2nd. पश्यन्त्यसंख्य.....मूर्धनि. देव (राजन्), त्वद्दानजलवाहिनीम् असंख्यपथगां (संख्यातीतैः प्रवाहैः गच्छन्तीम्) पश्यन्ती त्रिपथगा (गङ्गा; पक्षे त्रिभिः एव मार्गैर्गच्छतीति) आत्मानम् उग्रमूर्धनि (उग्रः शिवः, 'उग्रः कपर्दी श्रीकण्ठः' अमर. I. 1. 32, तस्य शिरसि) गोपयति. Here, for the assertion that the Ganges hides herself on the head of Śiva, the implied reason is contained in the words पश्यन्त्यसंख्यपथगां त्वद्दानजलवाहिनीम्. The reason is not contained in one word, but in many; but there is not a complete sentence.

It should be carefully remembered that to constitute the figure काव्यलिङ्ग, the हेतु must be implied and not expressed by the instrumental or ablative case. Therefore the verse "प्रजानां विनयाधानाद्रक्षणाङ्गरणादपि । स पिता पितरस्तासां केवलं जन्महेतवः ॥" (रघु० I. 24) is not an example of काव्यलिङ्ग, as the हेतु is directly mentioned by the ablative cases. Compare "तेन भयानकत्वात्परिवर्जनीयो दयाश्रयत्वादसि देव सेव्यः" इत्यादौ नायमलङ्कारः । गम्यमानहेतुकत्वस्यैव हेतोः सुन्दरत्वेनालङ्कारिकैः काव्यलिङ्गताभ्युपगमात् ।" R. G. p. 466.

The word लिङ्ग means 'a sign, reason'. The reason why the figure is called काव्यलिङ्ग is given by कुव० (p. 127) as "व्यासिधर्मता- [व्यासिपक्षधर्मता?] सापेक्षनैयायिकलिङ्गव्यावर्तनाय काव्यविशेषणम्." Vide "पक्षधर्मत्वान्वयव्यतिरेकानुसरणगर्भतया यथा तार्किकप्रसिद्धा हेतवो लोकप्रसिद्धवस्तुविषयत्वेनोपनिबध्यमाना वैरस्यमावहन्ति न तथा काव्यहेतुः । अतिशये सर्वेषां जनानां योऽसौ हृदयसंवादी सरसः पदार्थस्तन्निष्ठतया उपनिबध्यमानत्वात् । अतः काव्यलिङ्गमिति काव्यग्रहणमुपात्तम् । न खलु तच्छालिङ्गं, किं तर्हि काव्यलिङ्गमिति काव्यग्रहणेन प्रतिपाद्यते ।" प्रतीहारेन्दुराज on उद्भट VI. 16.

actually would cause the death of the love-lorn travellers, i. e. the हेतु is कारक. An example of ज्ञापकहेतु is 'गतोऽस्तमर्को भातीन्दुर्यान्ति वासाय पक्षिणः । इतीदमपि साध्वेव कालावस्थानिवेदने ॥' K. D. II. 244. Here the setting of the sun and the like indicate that it is time to perform the Sandhyā adoration. The अग्निपु० (B. I. edition) defines हेतु as 'सिंसाधयिषितार्थस्य हेतुर्भवति साधकः । कारको ज्ञापक इति द्विधा सोऽप्युपजायते ॥' अ० 343. 29-30 (हेतु is that which is a means to accomplish or prove what is desired to be accomplished or proved). The सरस्वतीक०, strictly following the dogma of the grammarians, says 'क्रियायाः कारणं हेतुः कारको ज्ञापकश्च सः । अभावश्चित्र-हेतुश्च चतुर्विध इहेष्यते ॥' III. 12. The कारकहेतु is defined as 'यः प्रवृत्तिं च निवृत्तिं च प्रयुक्तिं चान्तरा विशन् । उदासीनोऽपि वा कुर्यात् कारकं तत् प्रचक्षते ॥' सरस्वतीक० III. 13 (That which, whether itself acting or not, causes motion, cessation or continuity is termed कारक). About a ज्ञापकहेतु it is said 'द्वितीया च तृतीया च चतुर्थी सप्तमी च यम् । क्रियाना-विष्टमाचष्टे लक्षणं ज्ञापकश्च यः ॥'. A ज्ञापक has no व्यापार of its own and it serves as a characteristic of another thing. A ज्ञापक हेतु does not produce an object, but it only indicates its existence; it may itself be the effect and may lead us to infer its cause, as the sight of a flood of water leads us to the inference of heavy rains as the source of a river. The अग्निपु० (B. I. ed) observes 'प्रवर्तते कारकाख्यः प्राक् पश्चात्कार्यजन्मनः ॥ पूर्वशेष इति ख्यातस्तयोरेव विशेषयोः । कार्यकारणभावाद्वा स्वभावाद्वा नियामकात् । ज्ञापकाख्यस्य भेदोऽस्ति नदीपूरादिदर्शनात् ।' अ० 343. 30-32. The निष्पादक and समर्थक हेतुs of our author are both included under कारक; for we have shown above that no clear line of division can be drawn between them.

dealing contained in 'सहसा विदधीत' etc. is fully intelligible in itself (even without the mention of the reason) on account of the sense being complete, as being a piece of advice similar to that contained in 'परोपकार etc.' सम्पद्वरणं is the subject of करोति, the object being सहसाविधानाभावम्. सोऽप्यपत्तिकमेव goes with सहसाविधानाभावम्. The mention of the fact that prosperity chooses only the discreet merely confirms the prohibition (of rash dealing); but is not required for the completion of the sense of 'सहसा विदधीत etc.' What the author means is—We often give advice in the form of cut and dried propositions without stating the reasons for the advice. Similarly, in 'नहसा विदधीत' etc, people are warned against acting rashly; that advice is intelligible in itself; it is निराकाङ्क्ष. If the reason is at all mentioned, it is only to justify the advice given. That is to say, in अर्थान्तरन्यास based upon कार्यकारणभाव, one proposition is quite independent of the other; while in काव्यलिङ्ग, one proposition depends upon another (i. e. is साकाङ्क्ष) and would be unintelligible without it इति पृथगेव.....काव्यलिङ्गान्. For this reason काव्यलिङ्ग is quite distinct from अर्थान्तरन्यास based upon कार्यकारणभाव. It may be remarked here that the author has not succeeded in convincing us. The only distinction that he has been able to point out does not lie so much in the difference of the हेतुs, as in the fact that in अर्थान्तरन्यास one proposition is independent of the other, while in काव्यलिङ्ग one is dependent on the other. But this also is not a sure guide. In 'पृथ्वि स्थिरा' etc. which is an example of अर्थान्तरन्यास according to our author, it cannot be said that the sentences पृथ्वि स्थिरा भव etc. are independent and complete in sense in themselves. The earth is already firm and it would be nonsense to ask it to be what it already is. Therefore 'पृथ्वि स्थिरा भव' does stand in need of the sense contained in the last line in order to complete its own sense; i. e. the sentence पृथ्वि स्थिरा भव is साकाङ्क्ष, just as 'त्वत्सादृश्यविनोदमात्रमपि etc.' is; it may, hence, be said that 'पृथ्वि स्थिरा भव' is an example of काव्यलिङ्ग. It should also be noticed that the अलं. स. which appears to have been the guide of our author surrenders the position taken up by it, viz. that अर्थान्तरन्यास based upon causation is different from काव्यलिङ्ग and says that in holding that view it simply followed उद्भट. It says that the legitimate province of अर्थान्तरन्यास is the relation of सामान्य and विशेष; and that wherever the sense of a sentence constitutes the हेतु, there is काव्यलिङ्ग. It also says that a समर्थक-

न धत्ते...अलङ्कारत्वात् (P. 47, ll. 15-18). In न धत्ते...पङ्क्तिः हि सा, there is no काव्यलिङ्ग, because the reason is clearly and directly mentioned by the use of the particle हि, as if we were to employ the formal expression पङ्क्तित्वात् (हरः भूरिभारमिया गङ्गां शिरसा न धत्ते। पङ्क्तित्वात् etc.). It has been said above that only a गम्यहेतु (and not an expressed one) constitutes the figure काव्यलिङ्ग. There is no charm in the formal expression पङ्क्तित्वात्; and it is strikingness alone that constitutes a figure.

काव्यलिङ्ग must be distinguished from परिकर. In the latter the epithets are significant and the sense suggested from the words contributes to make the expressed meaning striking; while in काव्यलिङ्ग, the sense of the sentence or word itself becomes the reason of another assertion. For example, in अङ्गराज, द्रोणोपहासिन् etc. (which was cited above as an instance of परिकर) the words suggest a sense which makes the expressed meaning more charming; while in ‘यत्त्वन्नेत्र’ etc. the sense of the first three lines constitutes the reason of the assertion contained in the 4th line. ‘ननु सामिप्रायपदार्थवाक्यार्थविन्यसनरूपात्परिकरात् काव्यलिङ्गस्य को भेदः। उच्यते। परिकरे पदार्थवाक्यार्थबलात् प्रतीयमानार्थो वाच्योपकारतां भजतः। काव्यलिङ्ग तु पदार्थवाक्यार्थावैव हेतुमात्रं भजतः’ कुर्व० p. 129. Some say that in अर्थान्तरन्यास one sentence is independent and is confirmed by another; while in काव्यलिङ्ग one sentence is not complete in itself and requires the help of another. “यत्रेतरनिरपेक्षस्य वाक्यार्थस्य हेतुत्वं तत्रार्थान्तरन्यासः।” एका० p. 300, on which तरु observes ‘समर्थ्यसमर्थकवाक्यार्थयोः सापेक्षत्वे काव्यलिङ्गं निरपेक्षत्वे तु अर्थान्तरन्यास इत्यर्थः।’ It would be better to say that when two sentences stand in the relation of सामान्य and विशेष and one of them confirms the other, there is अर्थान्तरन्यास; and when two sentences stand to each other in some other relation and one justifies the other there is काव्यलिङ्ग. "किं च काव्यलिङ्गेऽपि न सर्वत्र समर्थनसापेक्षत्वनियमः ।...तस्मादुभयतो व्यभिचारात् समर्थनसापेक्षसमर्थने काव्यलिङ्गं तन्निरपेक्षसमर्थनेऽर्थान्तरन्यास इति न विभागः, किं तु समर्थनसमर्थकयोः सामान्यविशेषसम्बन्धेऽर्थान्तरन्यासस्तदितरसम्बन्धे काव्यलिङ्गमित्येव व्यवस्थावधारणीया ।" कुव० p. 132-133. Or to put it in another way, in काव्यलिङ्ग we understand from the sense a कारकहेतु, while in अर्थान्तरन्यास another proposition is put down for the purpose of a thorough understanding of what is already said. "तस्मात् साक्षात्परम्परया वा यत्र कारकहेतुरर्थतोऽवगम्यते तत्काव्यलिङ्गम् । उक्तार्थदृढप्रत्ययाय यत्रार्थान्तरन्यासनं तत्रार्थान्तरन्यासः ।" प्रभा p. 425.

Ancient writers like Dandin and Bhāmaha do not speak of काव्यलिङ्ग at all. Some say that काव्यलिङ्ग is not a figure at all, because in it there is no special charm that is striking. A striking charm is due to the poet's imagination. But in काव्यलिङ्ग there is no scope for a poetic flight, as it deals with the relation of cause and effect which belongs to ordinary life and is not due to the poet's fancy. If it be said that there is a charm in काव्यलिङ्ग when combined with श्लेष, the reply is that then the charm being due to श्लेष alone, the figure will be श्लेष and not काव्यलिङ्ग. Therefore, they say that what is called काव्यलिङ्ग is simply the absence of the fault called निर्हेतुत्व*. 'अत्र वदन्ति-काव्यलिङ्गं नालङ्कारः । वैचित्र्यात्मनो विच्छित्तिविशेषस्याभावात् । स हि जन्यतासंसर्गेण कविप्रतिभाविशेषः तन्निर्मितत्वप्रयुक्तश्चमत्कृतिविशेषो वेत्युक्तम् । न चानयोरन्यतरस्याप्यत्र सम्भवः । हेतुहेतुमद्भावस्य वस्तुसिद्धत्वेन कविप्रतिभानिर्वर्त्यायोगात् । अत एव चमत्कृतिरपि दुर्लभा । श्लेषादिसंमिश्रणेन विच्छित्तिविशेषोऽप्राप्यस्तीति तु न वाच्यम् । तस्य श्लेषाद्यंशप्रयोज्यत्वेन काव्यलिङ्गस्यालङ्कारतायास्तथाप्यसिद्धिः । यत्र तूपस्कारकवैचित्र्याद्विलक्षणं तदुपस्कार्यवैचित्र्यं तत्रास्तु नामोपस्कारकादुपस्कार्यस्य पृथगलङ्कारत्वम् । यथातिशयोक्तेर्हेतुफलोत्प्रेक्षयोः । यत्र तूपस्कारकवैचित्र्य एव विश्रान्तिस्तत्रोपस्कार्यमनलङ्कार एव । यथा प्रकृते । एवं तर्हि बहूनामलङ्कारत्वेन प्राचीनैरुत्कृष्टतानामनलङ्कारतापत्तिरिति चेत्, अस्तु । किं नश्छिन्नम् । तस्मात् 'निर्हेतुरूपदोषाभावः काव्यलिङ्गम्' इत्यपि वदन्ति ।" R. G. p. 470.

साधनात् साध्यस्य विच्छित्त्या ज्ञानं अनुमानम्—Anumāna is the knowledge of the sādhya, expressed in a striking manner,

* On this दोष, प्रदीप remarks 'निर्हेतुर्निष्क्रान्तो हेतुर्वस्मात् । यथा- 'गृहीतं येनासीः परिभवभयात्रोचितमपि प्रभावाद्यस्याभूत् खलु तव कश्चिन्न विषयः । परित्यक्तं तेन त्वमसि सुतशोकाच्च तु भयादिमोक्षे शल्य त्वामहमपि यतः स्वस्ति भवते ॥'—अत्र स्वशल्यागहेतुर्नोपात्तः ।" p. 280.

from the sādhana. The words साध्य and साधन are well-known to the student of Nyāya. साधन is that which goes to prove the existence of one thing on another, as in 'पर्वतो वह्निमान् धूमात्,' where धूम is the साधन, which, being known to be invariably associated with fire, proves the existence of fire on the mountain. साध्य is that the existence of which on a particular thing is to be proved by means of the साधन. The word विच्छिन्त्या serves to distinguish a poetic अनुमान from one which is purely logical. The inference must be a charming one; it must be due to the poet's fancy; and must not be purely matter of fact. Therefore 'पर्वतो वह्निमान्' etc. is not an example of the figure called अनुमान. Besides, in a poetical अनुमान, the five members of a complete logical syllogism are not mentioned; only the साध्य and साधन (and of course पक्ष) are mentioned. "अस्य च कवि-प्रतिभोद्धिखितत्वेन चमत्कारित्वे काव्यालङ्कारता" R. G. p. 475; "यत्र शब्दवृत्तेन पक्षधर्मान्वयव्यतिरेकवत् साधनं साध्यप्रतीतये निर्दिश्यते सोऽनुमानालङ्कारः । विच्छित्तिविशेषश्चात्रार्थाश्रयणीयः । अन्यथा तर्कानुमानार्त्किं वैलक्षण्यम् ।" अलं. स. p. 146; "अत्र साध्यसाधनकथनमात्राभिधानं व्याख्यादिप्रदर्शनं न कर्तव्यमित्युपदेशे पर्यवसितम् । इतरथा कथमेतत्तर्कानुमानतो मेदं भजेत् किं च पञ्चावयवत्वे सत्यपि अवयवान्तरानुपादानं पौनस्वत्यपरिहाराय ।" एका० p. 302.

The paleness of the limbs and the closing (कुङ्कुमलता literally means 'being a bud') of the eyes are really due to separation but the poet fancies them to be due to the rays of the moon. The moon's rays are pale and therefore the body appears pale; and as lotuses close their petals in the moonlight, the lotus-like eyes are represented as closing. As there can be no moonlight without the moon, the poet infers that the moon shines in her heart. Here the साध्य is the moon shining. The साधन is the paleness of the body and the closing of the eyes caused by the bursting rays of the moon. The पक्ष is the heart of the woman. The argument may be put in a syllogism as follows—अस्याः हृदयं विराजतिप्रियवक्त्रचन्द्रयुक्तम्, किरणजन्माङ्गापाण्डुताक्षिपद्मकुङ्कुमलत्वात्, i. e. the प्रतिज्ञा is 'her heart (पक्ष) has a moon in the form of her lover's face shining in it' (साध्य); the reason (हेतु or साधन) is 'because there is paleness of limbs in her and closing of lotuses (eyes) caused by the moon's rays'. अत्र साध्यसाधनयोर्धर्मिगतत्वं विशेषणं देयमेव.

It should be noted that in the first example, the साध्य was first mentioned and then the साधन; while in the second example the साधन is mentioned first and the साध्य last. In the formal syllogism, the साध्य is stated first (in the प्रणिज्ञा) and then the साधन. In the poetical अनुमान, this order need not be strictly adhered to.

It should be remembered that the word अनुमान is loosely employed in Rhetoric. The technical meaning of अनुमान is 'अनुमितिकरण'. According to the Naiyāyikas, the करण of अनुमिति (i. e. the अनुमान) is परामर्श (otherwise called तृतीयलिङ्गपरामर्श); others say that लिङ्गज्ञान or व्याप्तिज्ञान is the करण of अनुमिति. The rhetoricians define अनुमान as the knowledge of the साध्य from the साधन; i. e. they apply the word अनुमान to the resulting judgment (the अनुमिति) and not to the करण of that judgment. The word अनुमान, in the strict sense, is to be explained as अनुमीयते अनेन इति अनुमानम् (करणे ल्युट्); while the word अनुमान as employed by the rhetoricians is to be explained as अनुमीयते इति अनुमानम् (भावे ल्युट्). "अनुमितिरेवानुमानम् । तस्याश्च वाच्यत्वलक्ष्यत्वप्रतीयमानत्व-ध्वन्यमानत्वानां साम्राज्यम् । ल्युटश्च करणे इव भावेऽपीति ।" R. G. p. 476.

उत्प्रेक्षाया.....उभयोर्भेदः (P. 47, ll. 27-28). In the example of अनुमान the words जानीमहे and मन्ये* were used. It has been said above (text p. 32) that in Utprekṣā such words as मन्ये, शङ्के, ध्रुवम् are employed. A question arises:—what is the distinction between उत्प्रेक्षा and अनुमान? The answer is:—In उत्प्रेक्षा, the knowledge is not certain; while here it is attended with certainty. We have seen above that in उत्प्रेक्षा one thing is represented as probably identical with another; there is उत्कटैककोटिकः सन्देहः; while in अनुमान, there is no trace of doubt. अनुमान must be clearly distinguished from काव्यलिङ्ग. The author has already told us that a ज्ञापकहेतु is the province of अनुमान; while a निष्पादकहेतु is that of काव्यलिङ्ग. In काव्यलिङ्ग, the cause is an efficient one (कारक) i. e. it actually produces something else; while in अनुमान, the हेतु is only indicative, as smoke. It cannot be said that smoke is the cause of fire; smoke only indicates the existence of fire. In त्वद्वाजिराजि (text p. 46, l. 28) that presence of mud would be a cause of not bearing the Ganges on the head. Some distinguish between काव्यलिङ्ग and अनुमान in another way. The subject of the figure अनुमान is that reason [लिङ्ग] which the poet wishes the reader to know as employed by him (by the poet) to arrive at the inference; while in काव्यलिङ्ग, the inference is not drawn by the poet, but is left to be drawn by the reader. In other words, in अनुमान the poet composes his verse in such a manner that his intention is that the reader should know that the inference has been drawn by the poet himself and put in the mouth of a person; while in काव्यलिङ्ग the poet intends to leave the inference to the reader. “तस्मात्साक्षात्परम्परया वा यत्र कारकहेतुरर्थतोऽवगम्यते तत्काव्यलिङ्गम् । उक्तार्थदृढप्रत्ययाय यत्रार्थान्तरन्यसनं तत्रार्थान्तरन्यासः । किञ्चिदर्थज्ञापकतया हेतुकथनमनुमानमित्येव व्यवस्था कृता ।.....अनुमाने तु ज्ञापक-हेतुपन्यासः । अस्मादिदं गम्यते इति । तेन यत्र ज्ञापकहेतुनाऽनुमितिः कवितात्पर्य-विषया तत्रानुमानालङ्कार इति दिङ् ।” प्रभा p. 425; “श्रोतुर्बुद्धिज्ञानमितिबोधविषया कविः काव्यं निर्मिमेते तल्लिङ्गकमनुमानालङ्कृतेर्विषयः काव्यव्यापारगोचरीभूतानुमिति-करणमिति निष्कर्षः । काव्यलिङ्गज्ञानमितिस्तु कविना न श्रोतुर्बुधविषयिता । अत एवासौ न काव्यव्यापारगोचरः । श्रोतुः केवलं कारणवशाज्जायत इति नास्त्येवात्र जायमानायामप्यनुमिताबनुमानालङ्कृतेर्विषयः ।.....अपि च कविनिबद्धप्रमात्रन्तरनिष्ठा ऋणुमितिनुमानालङ्कृतिं प्रयोजयति । श्रोतुनिष्ठा महावाक्यार्थनिश्चयानुकूलं तु काव्य-लिङ्गमिति महान्विशेषः ।” R. G. p. 469.

* Vide the remark of R. G. “इह यत्र लिङ्गलिङ्गिनोः सत्त्वं तत्र मन्ये शङ्के अवैमि जाने इत्यादिपदानामनुमितिबोधकत्वम्, यत्र तु सादृश्यादिनिमित्तसम्भाव-स्तनोत्प्रेक्षाबोधकतेति विवेकः ।.....मन्ये इत्यादिवाचकपदोपादाने वाच्यमनुमानम् । वक्ति-कथयतीत्यादिलक्षकपदोपादाने लक्ष्यम् ।” p. 476.

Examples of the figure अनुमान are:—मधु निष्ठति वाचि योषिनां हृदि हालाहलमेव केवलम् । अत एव निपीयतेऽधरो हृदयं मुष्टिभिरेव ताड्यते ॥; तस्मिन्मणित्रानहतान्वकारे पुरे निशालोपविधानदक्षे । सखी विद्युक्ता दिवसावसानं क्रोकाः सशोकाः कथयन्ति नित्यम् ॥ (from R. G. p. 475); नव सुचरितमङ्गलीय नूनं प्रतनु ममेव विभाव्यते फलेन । अरुगन्तवमनोहरानु तस्याश्च्युतमसि लब्धपदं यदङ्गुलीषु ॥ शा० VI.

हेतोर्हेतुमता (कार्येण) सह अभेदेन अभिधा हेतुः—When a cause is expressed as identical with the effect, there is the figure हेतु. An example is “तारुण्यस्य विलासः समधिकलावण्यसम्पदो हासः । धरणि-तलस्याभरणं युवजनमनसो वशीकरणम् ।”. This verse is the author's own and is cited by him in the 3rd Parichheda. Here, from the context, we understand that it is the heroine that is being describd. Here, the heroine, who is the cause of the subjugation of the minds of youths, is described as the subjugation itself of the minds of young men. विलासहासयो.....लङ्कारः—अध्यवसाय has been explained above in the notes on लक्षणा (p. 51) and अतिशयोक्ति (p. 155). The author says that the figure हेतु occurs by itself in the 4th pāda viz. in युवजनमनसो वशीकरणम्; while in तारुण्यस्य विलासः and लावण्यसम्पदो हासः, the figure is based upon अध्यवसाय. It cannot be said that the woman is the cause of तारुण्यविलास or of सम्पद्हास; while the woman is really the cause of युवजनमनोवशीकरण. So in तारुण्यस्य विलासः, the charm lies in the woman's being swallowed up as it were by विलास, as is the case in the first kind of अतिशयोक्ति. In युवजनमनसो वशीकरणम्, the charm lies in the woman's (the cause) being identified with the subjugation (the effect). वैचित्र्यं चात्र विजृम्भणस्य विलासत्वेन प्रचुरतरोक्षास्य हासत्वेनाध्यवसायात् ।

There is a good deal of difference about the figure हेतु. Dandin speaks of हेतु as an अलङ्कार हेतुश्च सूक्ष्मलेशो च वाचासुत्तम-भूषणम्' K. D. II. 235. But from his treatment of the figure and the illustrations it appears that under हेतु he included both काव्यलिङ्ग (कारकहेतु of Dandin) and अनुमान (ज्ञापकहेतु). Bhāmaha positively declares that हेतु is not an Alaṅkāra, 'हेतुश्च सूक्ष्मो लेशोऽथ नालङ्कारतया मतः' II. 86 (This appears to be a reflection upon Dandin's words quoted above). Udbhaṭa does not speak of हेतु at all; he treats of काव्यलिङ्ग. It is Rudraṭa who first defines हेतु as our author does “हेतुमता सह हेतोर्भिधानमभेदकृद्भवेच्च । सोऽलङ्कारो हेतुः स्यादन्येभ्यः पृथग्भूतः ॥” रुद्र VII 82. Mammata criticizes this definition of Hetu; he says that हेतु does not deserve to be a figure, because it has no strikingness in it; and that if the identification of the cause with the effect were to constitute the figure हेतु, the words 'आयुर्धनम्' (an example of सारोपा लक्षणा) will have to be called an example of हेतु (which is absurd), "हेतुमता सह हेनोरभिधानमभेदतो हेतु"—इति हेत्वलङ्कारोऽत्र न लक्षितः । आयुर्धनमित्यादिरूपो ह्येन न भूषणता कदाचिदर्थति, वैचित्र्याभावात् । 'अविरलकर्मलविकासः सवालालिमदश्च कोकिलानन्दः । रम्योऽयमेति संप्रति लोकोत्कण्ठाकर. कालः ॥' (रुद्रट VII. 83) इत्यत्र काव्यरूपता कोमलानुप्रासमहिम्नैव ममास्मासिपुर्न तु हेत्वलङ्कारवत्पनयेति पूर्वोक्तं काव्यलिङ्गमेव हेतुः ।" K. P. X. under कारणमाला p. 706 (Vā). The चंद्रालोक (as well as कुवलयाणन्द) gives two varieties of हेतु; one is the same as our author's 'हेतुहेतुमतोरैक्यं हेतुं केचित्प्रचक्षते । लक्ष्मीविलासा विदुषा कदाश्च वेङ्कटप्रभोः ॥'; the 2nd variety is defined as follows.—'हेतोर्हेतुमता सार्धं वर्णनं हेतुरुच्यते । असावुदेति शीतांशुर्मानच्छेदाय सुभ्रुवाम ॥'.

It has been seen above that हेतु is regarded by Mammata and others as nothing else but काव्यलिङ्ग. In certain cases what is called हेतु by our author will be the first kind of अतिशयोक्ति (भेदेऽभेदः) according to the Uddyota "एवं हेतुफलयोरभेदाध्यवसायेऽप्येषा (अतिशयोक्तिः) । यथा—'वित्रासनं समरसीमनि शात्रवाणामाजीवनं विदुषपर्वदि कोविदानाम् । संमोहनं सुरतसंसदि कामिनीनां रूपं तदीयमवलोकयतोद्धतं मे ॥' इत्यादौ वित्रासनादिपदस्य तद्धेतौ शुद्धसाध्यवसाना । एतेन 'हेतोर्हेतुमता सार्धमभेदो हेतुरुच्यते' इति हेत्वलङ्कारोऽयं पृथगित्यपास्तमित्याहुः ।" उद्योत p. 58.

The figure is called अनुकूल, when unfavourableness turns out favourable. An example is कुपितासि०; (हे) तन्वि. यदा कुपिता असि तदा करजक्षनं (नखक्षतं) निधाय अस्य कण्ठं मुञ्जपाशाभ्यां (मुजौ एव पाशौ ताभ्यां) दृढं बधान अस्य refers to the नायक for some fault of whom the heroine is angry with him. Rāmācharaṇa says that these words are addressed to a heroine by her friend. Wounding and binding a man are generally unfavourable; but in the particular case taken, wounding the hero with the nails and locking him up in the arms (as punishment meted in anger) would be something most desirable to him. अस्य च विच्छित्ति.....न्याय्यम् (p. 48, ll. 5-6)—As the peculiar strikingness in the verse cited is apprehended as altogether different from all other figures, it is but proper that it should be counted as a distinct ornament.

* Pradīpa (p. 437) seems to be wrong in ascribing this definition of हेतु to Udbhata, who does not speak of Hetu at all. The definition is found almost verbatim in Rudrata and the example which Mammata cites is also from Rudrata. The Alaṅkāracandrikā (Kūval. p. 168) falls into the same error.

It should be noted that this is a figure defined by Viśva-nātha alone. No well-known writer on Rhetoric mentions it. We think that अनुकूल is somewhat like विपन्न to be defined below. If from a slight difference of strikingness a separate figure were to be reckoned, there would be a very large number of figures. There must be certain broad lines of demarcation between one figure and another. Compare the instructive-words of Dandin “काव्यदोषाकरान्धर्मानालङ्कारान्प्रवक्षते । ते चाद्यापि विकल्प्यन्ते कस्तान्कात्स्न्येन वक्ष्यन्ति ॥ किं तु वीजं विकल्पानां पूर्वाचार्यैः प्रदर्शितम् । तदेव परिसंस्कर्तुमयमसत्परिश्रमः ॥” K. D. II. 1-2.

वक्तुमिष्टस्य वस्तुनः विशेषप्रतिपत्तये निषेधाभासः आक्षेपः वक्ष्यमाणोक्तः (वक्ष्यमाणः वक्ष्यमाणविषयः, उक्तः उक्तविषयः) द्विधा. When there is an apparent denial of something, which was intended to be said, for the purpose of conveying some special meaning, the figure is termed आक्षेप, which is two-fold as pertaining to what is about to be said and what has been said.

In आक्षेप, there is a verbal denial or suppression of what is intended to be said; but this denial is not really meant to be so. The purpose for which this निषेध is resorted to is to convey something special about the matter in hand. So the निषेध not being intended to be so, becomes only an apparent one (निषेधाभास). Vide अलं. सू. “इह प्राकरणिकोऽर्थः प्राकरणिकत्वादेव वक्तुमिष्यते तथाविधस्य विधानार्हस्य निषेधः कर्तुं न युज्यते । स कृतो बाधितस्वरूपत्वान्निषेधादयते इति निषेधाभासः सम्पन्नः । तस्यैतस्य करणं प्रकृतगतत्वेन विशेषप्रतिपत्त्यर्थम् । अन्यथा गजज्ञानतुल्यं स्यात् ॥” P. 114. The elements that constitute आक्षेप are therefore four; there must be something intended to be said, there must be an express denial of it, this denial or suppression being really inapplicable under the circumstances must be only apparent, and lastly there must be the conveyance of some special meaning. ‘एवं च क्षिपे इष्टार्थस्तस्य (आक्षेपे इष्टार्थस्तस्य ?) निषेधः निषेधस्यानुपपद्यमानत्वादसत्यत्वं विशेषप्रतिपादनं चेति चतुष्टयमुपयुज्यते ।’ अलं. सू. p. 117. Where, however, what is really enjoined is निषेध or where what was said is merely negatived and this negation is real and not apparent, there is no आक्षेप. For example, “साहित्यपाथोनिधिमन्यनोत्थं काव्यामृतं रक्षत हे कवीन्द्राः । यत्तस्य दैत्या इव लुण्ठनाय काव्याश्चैराः प्रगुणीभवन्ति ॥ गृह्णन्तु सर्वे यदि वा यथेच्छं नास्ति क्षतिः कापि कवीश्वराणाम् । रत्नेषु लुप्तेषु बहुध्वमस्यैरद्यापि रत्नाकर एव सिन्धुः ॥” विल्हण’ विक्रमाङ्कदेवचरित I. 11-12. In the first verse poets are called upon to guard their poetic treasures. But in the second verse, this advice is negatived and they are called upon to allow others to take their treasures. Here as the negation is really meant to be conveyed and not apparent, there is no आक्षेप. “तेन न निषेधविधिः न विहितनिषेधः किं तु निषेधेन विधेराक्षेपः । निषेधस्यासत्त्वाद् विधिपर्यवसानाद् ।” अलं स. p. 117. “यत्र विधिपर्यवसायी निषेध आभासो भवति स आक्षेपस्य विषयः । यत्र तु निषेधस्य स्वार्थे यत्र विश्रान्तिर्न तत्राक्षेप इति ।” तरल p. 274.

The thing intended to be said may have been actually said (I), or it may be yet to be said (II). The first again is two-fold; the very nature of the thing said (उक्त) may be denied (a) or what is negated may be the mentioning of what is spoken (b). As regards the निषेध of that which is yet to be said (वक्ष्यमाण), we can only negative the कथन, because the वस्तु being yet not mentioned, we cannot negative its nature (स्वरूप). As regards the निषेध of कथन of the वक्ष्यमाण, there are two varieties; the whole of what is to be said and what was generally suggested may be negated (c), or a part being expressed, another part (not expressed) may be negated (d). Thus आक्षेप is fourfold. In this division of आक्षेप our author closely follows the अलं स. “तत्रोक्तविषये आक्षेपे कचिद्वस्तु निषिध्यते कचिद्वस्तुकथनमिति द्वौ भेदौ । वक्ष्यमाणविषये तु वस्तुकथनमेव निषिध्यते । तच्च सामान्यप्रतिज्ञायां कचिद्विशेषनिष्ठत्वेन निषिध्यते कचित्पुनरंशोक्तावंशान्तरगतत्वेनेत्यत्रापि द्वौ ।” p. 115. It should be well remembered that the विशेष (to be conveyed by the apparent निषेध) is never expressed in words, but is left to be understood ‘विशेषस्य चात्र शब्दानुपात्तत्वाद्भ्रमत्वम्’.

is not uttered. The special meaning that results from this expression is that it is impossible for the speaker to give expression to the idea of the death of the friend.

विरहे.....किम् (P. 48, ll. 22-23). दारुणः व्यवसायः यस्य whose purpose is cruel. Here, in the first half, the friend of the heroine intimates to her lover that he should stay with her and should not go away as he intends to do. After saying it, she negatives what she had said. This is an example of I b above, i. e. of उक्तविषय आक्षेप where वस्तुकथन is negatived. The particular meaning that results from this mode of speech is the excess of the sorrow felt by the speaker.

प्रथमोदाहरणे.....दुःखस्यातिशयः. In the first example, the particular meaning conveyed is 'my friend is sure to die.' The particular meanings in connection with the other examples have been already explained.

न चायं.....आभासत्वात् (P. 48, ll. 26-27). It cannot be said that in all these examples the negation of what is said or is about to be said is really intended and constitutes the essence of the figure. The negation, not being really intended, is merely apparently so and what constitutes the charm of the figure आक्षेप is the fact that the निषेध is purely apparent. We have shewn above that if negation of what is said be really intended there is no आक्षेप.

अनिष्टस्य.....मतः (P. 48, l. 28). Another figure, also called आक्षेप, is held to be the apparent permission or enjoining of something, which is really not desired. The word तथा means 'for the purpose of apprehending some particular meaning' as in the first आक्षेप described above. In this second आक्षेप, there are four constituent elements; there must be something अनिष्ट (not desired); there must be a permission or enjoining of that अनिष्ट thing; this permission must be only apparent and not really intended and lastly some special meaning must be conveyed by this mode of speech. These two kinds of आक्षेप differ as follows:—In the first, there is something which is desired and there is an apparent negation of it; while in the second, there is something which is not desired and there is an apparent permitting of it.

No one will enjoin what is not wished by him. So the verbal permission, being inapplicable, terminates in indicating the निषेध of what is not wished. Vide अलं. स. “यथेष्टस्येष्टत्वादेव निषेधोऽनुपपन्न एवमनिष्टस्यापि अनिष्टत्वादेव विधानं नोपपद्यते । तत्क्रियमाणं प्रसखलद्रूपत्वान्निषेधे पर्यवस्यति । ततश्च विधेरुपसर्जनीभूतो निषेध इति विधिनाऽयं निषेधोऽनिष्टविशेषपर्यवसायी ।” p. 120.

An example of this second आक्षेप is ‘गच्छ गच्छसि’ etc. This is K. D. II. 141. This verse is cited by the अलं. स. p. 120 and by the सुभाषितावलि No. 1040. Here the departure of the lover is अनिष्ट; it is permitted in the words ‘गच्छ’ etc; this permission is only verbal, what is really meant is that he should not go. The last line means ‘if you go away I shall die; I only wish that I may be born again in that place where you are going.’ अत्र.....प्रतीयते Here, as the departure of the husband is not desired, the permission (contained in the words गच्छ etc.) is inapplicable literally and terminates in prohibition and the special meaning conveyed is that the husband must entirely abstain from going. Dapḍin remarks upon this verse as follows “इत्याशीर्वचनाक्षेपो यदाशीर्वादवर्त्मना । स्वावस्थां सूचयन्त्यैव कान्तयात्रा निषिध्यते ॥” K. D. II 142. Vide अलं. स. “अत्र कयाचित्कान्तस्य प्रस्थानमात्मनोऽनिष्टमप्यनिराकरणमुखेन विधीयते । न चास्य विधियुक्तः । अनिष्टत्वात् । सोऽयं प्रसखलद्रूपत्वेन निषेधमागूरयति (लक्षयति) । फलं चात्रानिष्टस्य प्रस्थानस्यासंविज्ञानपदनिबन्धनमत्यन्तपरिहार्यत्वप्रतिपादनम् । एतच्च ममापि तत्रैवेत्याशीःप्रतिपादनेनानिष्टपर्यवसायिना व्यञ्जितम् ।” pp. 120-121.

The figure आक्षेप has been differently defined by different writers. Vāmana defines it as follows ‘उपमानाक्षेपश्च आक्षेपः’ काव्या. सू. IV. 3. 27. The वृत्ति on this is ‘उपमानस्य आक्षेपः प्रतिषेधः उपमानाक्षेपः । तुल्यकार्यार्थस्य नैरर्थक्यविवक्षायाम् ।’ This is nothing but the प्रतीप of later writers. According to another interpretation of the ~~word~~, what Vāmana calls आक्षेप would be समासोक्ति. ‘उपमानस्याक्षे-

दनन्तता ॥' K. D. II. 120. According to him the प्रतिषेध need not be of वक्ष्यमाण or उक्त, but may be of anything. Thus the following he regards as examples of आक्षेपः—तव नन्वङ्गि निध्वैव रुदमङ्गेषु मारद्वम् । यदि तस्यैव मृदून्येव किमक्वाण्डे रुजन्ति माम् ॥ 127; दूरे प्रियतमः सोयमागतो जलदागमः । दृष्टाश्च फुल्ल निचुलान मृता चास्मि किं न्विदम् ॥ 133. Bhāmaha, Udbhata and Mammata define in the same way. Their definition is practically the same as our author's definition of the first आक्षेप. 'प्रतिषेध इवेष्टस्य यो विशेषमिधित्सया । आक्षेप इति तं सन्तं शंसन्ति कवयः सदा ॥ वक्ष्यमाणोक्तविषयः स च द्विविध इष्यते । निषेधेनेव तदन्धो विषेयस्य च कीर्तितः ॥' उद्धट II. 2-3. The Alankārasarvasva, our author and Ekāvalī speak of the आक्षेप as defined by Udbhata and add a second kind of it, viz. the apparent permission of what is not wished for. Vide R. G. pp. 421-426.

It should be noticed that in आक्षेप there is suggested sense (विशेष). But this suggested sense is not prominent; it is subordinate to the expressed sense. The mode of speech itself is charming. Therefore, although there is a suggested sense, this is not ध्वनि, but गुणीभूतव्यंग्यकाव्य. Vide ध्वन्यालोक 'आक्षेपेऽपि व्यंग्यविशेषाक्षेपिणो वाच्यस्यैव चारुत्वम् । प्राधान्येन वाक्यार्थ आक्षेपोक्तिरामर्थ्यादेव ज्ञायते । तत्र शब्दोपाारुढरूपो विशेषामिधानेच्छया प्रतिषेधरूपो य आक्षेपः स एव व्यङ्ग्यविशेषमाक्षिपन्मुख्यं काव्यशरीरम् । चारुत्वोत्कर्षनिबन्धना हि वाच्यव्यंग्ययोः प्राधान्यविवक्षा ॥' pp. 36-37.

Examples of आक्षेप are:— त्वं जीवितं त्वमसि मे हृदयं द्वितीयं त्वं कौमुदी नयनयोरमृतं त्वमङ्गे । इत्यादिभिः प्रियशतैरनुरूप्य मुग्धां तामेव शान्तमथवा किमिहोत्तरेण ॥ उत्तरराम० III.; अहं त्वा यदि नेक्षेय क्षणमप्युत्सुका ततः । इयदेवास्त्वतोऽन्येन किमुक्तेनाप्रियेण तु ॥ मामह II. 69.; रे खलु तव चरितं विदुषामग्रे विविच्य वक्ष्यामि । अलमथवा पापात्मन्कृतया कथयापि ते हतया ॥ R. G. p. 423.

34 विभावना (Peculiar Causation).

When an effect is said to arise without a cause, it is विभावना, which is two-fold according as the reason is mentioned or not. As an effect is bound by the rule of presence and absence with a cause, it is impossible that an effect can come into existence without its cause. But if, under some striking mode of speech, it is stated that the effect does come into existence in the absence of its well-known cause there is विभावना. The effect in such a cause is due to some other cause which is not well-known (अप्रसिद्ध). 'इह कारणान्वयव्यतिरेकविधानात्कार्यस्य कारणमन्तरेणासम्भवः । अन्यथा निरोधो दुष्परिहरः स्यात्, यदि तु कयाचिद्भङ्ग्या तथाभाव उपनिबध्यते तदा

अनायास..... सुष्ठुवः (P. 49, ll. 9-10). अनायासकृशम् slender without toil (the waist of a man becomes slender by exercise through the decrease of fat). अशङ्कतरले—Tremulous without fright (when a person is frightened his eyes become tremulous). वयसि In youth. Here the effects viz. कृशत्व, तरलत्व, मनोहरत्व are represented as happening even in the absence of the well-known causes, viz. आयास, शङ्का, and भूषण respectively. But there is an अप्रसिद्धकारण that produces these effects. It is youth; and as it is mentioned in the verse, this is an example of उक्तनिमित्ता. If we read वपुर्भाति मृगीदृशः for वपुर्वयसि सुष्ठुवः, it will be an example of अनुक्तनिमित्ता.

The name विभावना is significant. विभावना etymologically means 'that in which some cause (other than the well-known one) is to be suggested'. 'विभाव्यते कारणान्तरं यस्याम्' अलङ्कारचन्द्रिका p. 98. We may also explain the term in another manner. विभावना is that in which the effect is represented in a peculiar manner i. e. as not produced by its well-known cause, as said by अलं. स. 'विशिष्टतया कार्यस्य भावनात्' or by Ekāvalī 'विशिष्टतया अस्यां कार्यस्य विभावनात् अन्वर्थाभिधाना विभावना ।' p. 279.

It should be noticed that in विभावना a conscious identification is at the bottom. For example, the कृशत्व due to youth is not the same as the कृशत्व due to exercise, but they are spoken of as identical. It is therefore that the अलं. स. says that अतिशयोक्ति is at the root of this figure. 'सा (अतिशयोक्तिः) च अस्यामव्यभिचारिणीति न तद्वधेनास्या उत्थानम्, अपि तु तदनुप्राणितत्वेन' p. 125. Jagannātha demurs to this statement and says that अतिशयोक्ति is not everywhere at the root of this figure; it is आहार्याभेदबुद्धि that is at the root everywhere. 'मा स भूत्सर्वत्र विभावनायामतिशयोक्तिरनुप्राणिका । आहार्याभेदबुद्धिमात्रमेवानुप्राणकम् । तच्च कचिदतिशयोक्त्या कचिच्च रूपकेणेति न दोषः ।' R. G. p. 433.

Dandin's definition of विभावना is every clear 'प्रसिद्धहेतुन्यावृत्त्या युक्तिवित्कारणान्तरम् । यत्र स्वाभाविकत्वं वा विभाव्यं सा विभावना ॥' K. D. II. 199.

Examples of विभावना are:—महाभागः कामं नरपतिरभिन्नस्थितिरेहो न कश्चिदर्थेन मयमप्यप्युष्टोऽपि भजते । तथापीदं शश्वत्परिचितविवेकेन ; मनसा जनाकीर्णं

मन्ये द्रुतवद्वपरीतं गृहमिव ॥ शा० V ; अङ्गलेखामकाश्मीरसमालम्भनपिञ्जराम् । अनलक्तकताम्राभामोष्ठमुद्रां च विभ्रवीम् ॥' उद्भट II. 21; निरुपादानसम्भारमभित्तावेव तन्वते । जगच्चित्रं नमस्तस्मै कलाश्लाघ्याय शूलिने ॥

Where, in spite of the existence of a cause, the effect is absent, there is विशेषोक्ति, which is likewise two-fold. It is well known that when all the causes are present they invariably produce the effect. When it is represented that the effect does not follow, although all the causes are present, there is विशेषोक्ति, which is resorted to to manifest some specialty. The contradiction involved in saying that the effect does not follow though the causes are present is to be removed by the fact that there is some reason which prevents the production of the effect. 'इह समग्राणि कारणानि नियमेन कार्यमुत्पादयन्तीति प्रसिद्धम् । अन्यथा समग्रत्वस्यैवाभावप्रसङ्गात् । यत्तु सत्यपि सामग्रे न जनयन्ति कार्यं सा कच्चिद्विशेषमभिव्यक्तुं प्रयुज्यमाना विशेषोक्तिः ।' अलं. स. p. 126.

An example of उक्तनिमित्ता is धनिनोऽपि etc. They, being truly great, are free from haughtiness though rich, are not fickle though young, and, though possessed of power, are not heedless in the exercise of it. Wealth generally makes a man haughty and youth makes one fickle. Here, they are represented as not being haughty &c. though they are rich etc. The reason, viz. being truly great, is mentioned. If we read 'कियन्तः सन्ति भूतले' we shall have an example of अनुक्तनिमित्ता विशेषोक्ति.

अचिन्त्यनिमित्तत्वं...अचिन्त्यम् (P. 49, ll. 18-22). It is Mammata who gives three divisions of विशेषोक्ति, viz. अनुक्तनिमित्ता, उक्तनिमित्ता and अचिन्त्यनिमित्ता. Almost all writers, including Udbhata, give two. Our author following the सर्वज्ञ says that what is called अचिन्त्यनिमित्ता (the reason of which is inconceivable) is really अनुक्तनिमित्ता. The reason that is not mentioned may be easily conceivable or not conceivable. It is to be understood that by अचिन्त्य is meant that it is inconceivable to ordinary intellects (and not to all). Otherwise the contradiction involved in saying that the effect does not follow though the cause is present cannot be removed. 'अचिन्त्यनिमित्ता त्वनुक्तनिमित्तैव । अनुक्तस्य च चिन्त्याचिन्त्यत्वेन द्वैविध्यात् ।' अलं. स. p. 127. An example of अचिन्त्यनिमित्ता cited by Mammata is 'स एकः' etc. This is given by Bhāmaha (III. 24) as an example of विशेषोक्ति. Here it is said that his body was destroyed, yet his strength is not destroyed.

Destruction of body is a cause of the destruction of strength. Here the reason why the effect does not follow the cause is not mentioned and besides it is inconceivable (i. e. not to be understood by men of ordinary intellect).

The name विशेषोक्ति is significant. The अलङ्कारचद्रिका explains as 'विशेषस्यानुत्पत्तिनिमित्तस्योक्तिरवगतिरर्थत्रेति व्युत्पत्ते. 1' p 101. The उद्योत explains as 'statement of something in order to intimate something in particular'; 'विशेष कश्चित्प्रतिपादयितुमुक्तिरित्यर्थः 1' p. 78. Similarly. एका० 'अथ कमपि विशेषं प्रकाशयितुं सत्यामप्येतस्यां (कारणसामग्र्यां) कार्यानुत्पत्तिरूपनिवध्यते तदा विशेषप्रतिपादनायोक्तिरिति यौगिकत्वमप्यसावाश्रयति 1' p. 281.

इह च कार्याभावः.....सद्भावमुखेन (P. 49, ll. 22-24). In the present figure, an effect is also intimated to be absent by means of representing something as present which is opposed to it. So also in विभावना, a cause is intimated as being absent by means of representing something, which is opposed to it, as present. What our author means is as follows:—विशेषोक्ति was defined as 'the absence of the effect even though the cause is present.' Our author declares that विशेषोक्ति occurs, not only when the effect is stated to be absent, but also when something, opposed to the effect, is stated to be present; i. e. it occurs, not only when the अभाव of the फल is stated, but also when the भाव of what is opposed to the फल is stated. Similarly, विभावना occurs, not only when the cause is stated to be absent though the effect is present, but also when something opposed to the cause is stated to be present; i. e. it occurs not only when the अभाव of the कारण is stated, but also when the भाव of what is opposed to the कारण is stated. Vide अलं. सू. "कार्यानुत्पत्तिश्चात्र क्वचित्कार्यविरोधोत्पत्त्या निवध्यते। एवं विभावनायामपि कारणाभावः कारणविरुद्धमुखेन क्वचित्प्रतिपाद्यते 1" p 127.

एवं च यः.....सङ्करः (P. 49, ll. 24-26). यः कौमारहरः—Vide our notes on this verse in the first Parichchheda. Here the cause of longing is the absence of the lover etc. The opposite of this is the presence of the lover etc. The figure is विभावना because the opposite of the cause (absence of the lover) is stated to be present. The statement that we expect in accordance with the definition of विभावना as strictly construed is 'the heart has a longing (फल), though the cause, absence of the lover etc. is absent (कारणस्य अभावः)'. In the verse, the अभाव of the कारण is not stated in so many words (i. e. we ought to have यः कौमारहरो वरः स न इति न); what is stated is the भाव (the presence) of what is opposed to the cause. Similarly, the presence of the lover etc. is a cause, which should produce the effect, viz, absence of longing. The opposite of absence of longing is longing. This is stated in the verse. Therefore there is विशेषोक्ति. The statement, strictly in accordance with the definition of विशेषोक्ति, should have been 'though the lover etc. are present (सति हेतौ), there is an absence of अनुत्कण्ठा (the फल)'. In the verse the अभाव of the effect is not directly stated (i. e. we ought to have चेतः न समुत्कण्ठते इति न). What is stated is the भाव of what is opposed to the effect (i. e. उत्कण्ठा is stated to exist). Compare "उत्कण्ठायाः कारणं कौमारहरवराद्यसंनिधानम् । तस्य विरुद्धं तत्संनिधानम् । तेन कौमारहरवराद्यसंनिधानरूपं कारणं विनाप्युत्कण्ठाया उत्पाद इति विभावना । तथा कौमारहरवरादिसंनिधानरूपस्य कारणस्य कार्यमनुत्कण्ठा तस्याश्च विरुद्धोत्कण्ठा । तेन सत्यपि कौमारहरवरादिसंनिधानरूपे कारणे समग्रे कार्यस्य अनुत्कण्ठारूपस्याभाव इति विशेषोक्तिः" विमर्शिनी p. 127. एवं चात्र.....सङ्करः we have explained in the notes (p. 21) on the verse how there is सङ्कर.

Jagannātha says that विभावना and विशेषोक्ति are शाब्द (express), when the absence of the cause or of the effect is directly expressed, otherwise they are आर्थ (indirect or implied). It was with reference to this distinction that Mammāṭa remarked on the verse 'यः कौमारहरः' etc, that there was no distinct figure in it. Mammāṭa appears to hold that विभावना is distinct only when it is stated in accordance with the definition of it, i. e. when the effect is stated, though the causes are absent. विभावना, according to him, is not distinct, when the existence of the opposite of the cause is stated. Similarly in the case of विशेषोक्ति. Vide R. G. p. 439 "कारणभावकार्याभावयोर्ध्वं प्रतियोगितावच्छेदकविशिष्टवैशिष्ट्येन श्रुत्या प्रतिपादने तत्र विभावनाविशेषोक्तयोः शाब्दत्वम् । अन्यत्रार्थत्वम् । यथा—'भगवद्दत्ताम्भोजं पश्यन्त्या अप्यहर्निशम् । तृष्णाधिकमुदेति स गोपसीमन्तिनीदृशः ॥' लोके ह्यसंनिकर्षस्तृष्णाकारणम् । तदभावे संनिकर्षेऽपि तृष्णोपनिबद्धा । तथा संनिकर्षस्तुप्तिकारणम् । तस्मिन्सत्यपि तृष्यभावो बोधितः । परं तु कारणाभावकार्याभावयोर्न प्रायुक्तप्रकारेण प्रतिपादनमित्यर्थत्वमेव तदुभयसंशयसङ्करस्य । अमुमेव चार्थ मनसिष्ठस्य मम्मटभट्टैः 'यः कौमारहरः' इति पद्यमुदाहृत्योक्तम् 'अत्र स्फुटो न कश्चिदलङ्कारः' इति ।"

Vāmana defines विशेषोक्ति quite differently. His definition is 'एकगुणहानिकल्पनावार्या साम्यदार्ढ्यं विशेषोक्तिः' काव्या० सू० IV. ३. 33. The confirmation of similarity resulting from the representation of the absence of only one quality (in one of the things) is called विशेषोक्ति. His examples are: 'मवन्ति यत्रौषधको रजन्त्यामतैलपूराः

सुरतप्रदीपाः' Kumāra. I. 10; 'यत्नं हि नाम पुरुषस्य असिहासनं राज्यम्' मृच्छकटिक II. The अलं स. says that this is nothing but Rūpaka. Jagannātha and Nāgoji call it वृद्धारोपरूपक 'या तु 'एकगुणहानिकल्पनायां साम्यदाढ्यं विशेषोक्तिः' इति विशेषोक्तिर्लक्षिता सास्मिन्दर्शने रूपकभेद एवेति न पृथग्वाच्या ।' अलं. स p. 128. Jagannātha remarks 'तथा गुणाधिक्य-कल्पनायामपि तदेव (वृद्धारोपरूपकमेव) । यथा 'धर्मो वपुष्मान्भुवि कार्तवीर्यः' इत्यादौ । एतेन 'एकगुणहान्युपचयादिकल्पनायां साम्यदाढ्यं विशेषणम्' इति विशेषालङ्कारं लक्ष्यन्तोऽपि प्रत्युक्ताः ।' R. G. p. 439.

Examples of विशेषोक्ति are:— चूतानां चिरनिर्गतापि कलिका वध्नाति न ख रजः संनदं यदपि स्थितं कुरवकं तत्कोरकावस्थया । कण्ठेषु स्थलितं गतेऽपि शिशिरे पुंस्कोकिलानां स्तं शङ्के संहरति सरोऽपि चकितस्तूणार्थकृष्टं शरम् ॥ शा० VI.; कर्पूर इव दग्धोऽपि शक्तिमान्यो जने जने । नमोऽस्त्ववार्यवीर्याय तस्मै मकरकेतवे ॥; आहूतोऽपि सहायैरेमीत्युक्त्वा विमुक्तनिद्रोऽपि । गन्तुमना अपि पयिकः सङ्कोचं नैव शिथिलयति ॥ (quoted in ध्वन्यालोक p. 38 as an example of अनुक्तनिमित्ता; लोचन remarks 'शीतकृता खल्वतिरत्र निमित्तमिति भट्टोद्भटः').

तव विरहे.....हृदयं दुनोति च मे (P. 50, II. 2-11). शशिरुचोऽपि सोष्माणः 'the beams of the moon are impregnated with heat.' अलिप्तमपि हृदयं सिन्धे—Even the hum of bees breaks the heart. In 'तव विरहे etc.' the विरोध of जाति with जाति, गुण, क्रिया and द्रव्य

is exemplified in the four pādas of the verse. सन्नत..... सरोजकुमाराः—This verse is cited by Mammata. We read there ‘सततं सुसलसक्ताः’ which is perhaps better. Here there is a contradiction in saying that the rough palms are soft. कठिनत्व and कोमलत्व are both qualities. This contradiction is removed by the fact that the palms were hard at one time and became soft at another time (when the munificent king began to rule). अजस्य.....कस्तव—This is Raghu. X. 24. निरीहस्य—though devoid of desires. याथार्थ्य reality. This is addressed to the Deity. Here there is contradiction between the गुण अजत्व (being unborn) and the action ‘being born’. This contradiction is only apparent; it is removed by the fact that God’s greatness is transcendental. बलभोत्सङ्ग.....अभवत्. बलभस्य (दयितस्य) उत्तङ्गस्य (अङ्गस्य) सङ्गेन विना हरिणवक्षुषः (हरिणस्यैव चक्षुषी यस्याः तस्याः ललनायाः) राकाविभावरीजानिः (राकाविभावरी पौर्णमासी निशाः, ‘पूर्णे राका निशाकरे’ इति अमर० I. 4. 8.; राकाविभावरी जाया यस्य स राकाविभावरीजानिः पूर्णचन्द्रः; ‘जायाया निङ्’ पा० 5. 4. 134 जायान्तस्य बहुव्रीहेर्निडादेशः स्यात्). विषज्वाला-कुलोऽभवत्. Here there is a contradiction between पूर्णचन्द्र (which being a single thing is द्रव्य and not a जाति) and ज्वालाकुलत्व (which is a गुण). This contradiction is removed by the fact that to one in separation the moon may appear to be full of heat. नयनयुगा.....दुनोति च मे—नयनयुगस्य असेचनकम् (or आसेचनकम् also; ‘तदासेचनकं रुमेर्नास्त्यन्तो यस्य दर्शनात्’ अमर० III. I. 53). मानसवृत्त्यापि दुष्प्रापम् Difficult to be found even in imagination. मद्यति gladdens. Here there is a contradiction between two actions मद्यति and दुनोति. This can be removed by the fact that in separation both of them are possible.

त्वद्वाजि इत्यादि—This verse occurs above (text p. 46) under कान्यलिङ्ग. Here there is a contradiction between क्रिया and द्रव्य i. e. between ‘not bearing on the head’ and Hara (who being one is द्रव्य and not जाति). The explanation lies in the fact that here there is a hyperbolic and picturesque description given by the poet. If we read in the verse बलभोत्सङ्ग etc., the words ‘मध्यन्दिनदिनाधिपः’ (the mid-day sun), then the verse will be an example of the विरोध of द्रव्य with another द्रव्य. The moon cannot be the sun. This is explained by the state of separation.

To constitute विरोध, the following is essential. There must be an opposition or contradiction between two things; but this contradiction must be explicable, i. e. apparent merely. If the विरोध cannot be explained and is final, it is a fault (दोष); but if the opposition can be reconciled in some way and thus shewn to be merely apparent, there is the figure called विरोध. Because the विरोध is merely apparent, the figure is also named विरोधाभास by some. Jagannātha defines विरोध as “एकाधिकरणसम्बद्धत्वेन प्रतिपादितयोरर्थयोर्भासमानैकाधिकरणासम्बद्धत्वमेकाधिकरणासम्बद्धत्वान्न वा विरोधः । यद्वा । एकाधिकरणासम्बद्धत्वेन प्रतिपादनं सः ।” ; he then remarks “स च प्ररूढोऽप्ररूढश्च । प्ररोहश्च वाधबुद्धयनभिभूतत्वम् । तद्वैपरीत्यमप्ररोहः । तत्राद्यो दोषस्य विषयः द्वितीयश्चालङ्कारस्य । अत एवेमं विरोधाभासमाचक्षते । आ ईषद्भासते इति आभासः । विरोधश्चासावाभासश्चेति । आसुख एव प्रतीयमानो ज्ञातिरिति जायमानाविरोधबुद्धिरस्कृत इति यावत् ।” R. G. p. 427.

विभावनायां.....भेदः (P. 50, ll. 19-21). The author now proceeds to distinguish between विरोध, विभावना and विशेषोक्ति. What is common to all these figures is apparent contradiction. विरोध is the widest of the three and corresponds to उत्तरग (general rule); while विभावना and विशेषोक्ति are narrow and correspond to अपवाद (exception). The contradiction involved in both विभावना and विशेषोक्ति is the violation of the law of causation. The contradiction in विरोध has nothing to do with the relation of causation. The general rule is ‘अपवादविषयपरिहारेण उत्तरगस्य व्यवस्थितिः’. So where there is apparent contradiction involved in stating that though the causes are absent the effect is present or that though the causes are present the effect is absent, there is विभावना and विशेषोक्ति respectively and not विरोध. Our author draws another distinction. In विभावना, as the poet starts with the statement of the absence of the cause, it is the effect only (represented as happening even in the absence of its cause) that is seemingly incongruous i. e. the कारणाभाव is बाधक and कार्य is बाध्य, because the absence of the cause is a matter of fact (स्वभावसिद्ध) while the कार्य is only poetically fancied. What is merely fancied is opposed by the real, but what is real cannot be opposed by what is fancied. विशेषोक्ति is the converse of विभावना. कार्याभावेन (उपनिबध्यमानत्वात्) कारणमेव (बाध्यत्वेन प्रतीयते).

In विशेषोक्ति the non-production of the effect, though causes exist, which is represented by the poet is more powerful than the cause and therefore the cause is apprehended as seemingly incongruous; i. e. in विशेषोक्ति, कार्याभाव is बाधक and कारणभाव is बाध्य. But in विरोध, both the objects are equally powerful and are both बाध्य and बाधक. as e. g. कठिनत्व and सुकुमारत्व in 'सुन्तत-मुसला०' etc. Compare "कारणाभावेन चोपक्रान्तत्वाद्वलवता कार्यमेव बाध्यमानत्वेन प्रतीयते, न तु तेन (कार्येण) कारणाभाव इत्यन्योन्यबाधकत्वानु-प्राणितादिरोधालङ्काराद्भेदः । एवं विशेषोक्तौ कार्याभावेन कारणसत्ताया एव बाध्य-मानत्वमुन्नेयम् । येन सोऽपि विरोधाद्भिन्ना स्यात् ।" अलं. स. p. 124. The following कारिका (quoted by जयरथ p. 124 and Jagannātha in R. G. p. 432) clearly explains the difference between विभावना and विरोध 'कारणस्य निषेधेन बाध्यमानः फलोदयः । विभावनायानामाति विरोधोऽन्योन्यबाधनम् ॥ अतो दूरविसेदोऽस्य विरोधेन व्यवस्थितः ।' Vide R. G. p. 432 "तत्र (विभावनायां) च कार्यांशः कारणाभावरूपविरोधिनी बाध्यनयैव स्थितः न बाधकतया । कार्यांशस्य कल्पितत्वात्कारणाभावस्य च स्वभावसिद्धत्वात् । अत एव कार्यांशो रूपान्तरेण पर्यवस्यति । अत एव च समबलविरोधिद्वयवदितदिरोधालङ्कारा-दस्य वैलक्षण्यम् ।"

It should be noted that our author says above that in विशेषोक्ति, कार्याभाव is बाधक and कारणभाव is बाध्य. This is opposed to the view of Jayaratha (who says that the words quoted by us above from Sarvasva as regards विशेषोक्ति are spurious and supports his remark by a quotation from तिलक whom Sarvasva generally follows) and of Jagannātha. They say that in विशेषोक्ति, the कार्याभाव is really बाध्य and कारणसत्ता is बाधक. To us the view of Jayaratha and Jagannātha appears to be sounder. "अत्र (विशेषोक्तौ) कारणसमवधानं कार्यानुत्पत्तेर्बाध्यमिति बहवः । वस्तुतस्तु कार्यानुत्पत्तिरेवासिद्धलङ्कारे बाध्या । 'स एकस्त्रीणि जयति जगन्ति कुसुमायुधः । हरतापि तनुं यस्य शम्भुना न हृतं बलम्' ॥ इति प्राचीनप्रसिद्धोदाहरणेषु कारणसमवधानस्य कामशरीरनाशरूपस्य प्रमाणसिद्धत्वेन बाध्यत्वायोगात् । यतः कामस्य शरीरनाशोऽपि शक्तिबल्योर्नाशः कुतो न जात इत्येव सर्वजनीनः प्रत्ययः, न तु शक्तिबल्योः सतोः कथं शरीरनाश इति ।" R. G. p. 438; 'लेखक—कल्पितश्चायमपपाठः' ('एवं विशेषोक्तौ कार्याभावेन कारणसत्ताया एव बाध्यमानत्वमुन्नेयम्' इत्येषः) । तथा हि—'हरतापि तनुं यस्य' इत्यादौ बलाहरणेन कार्याभावेन तनुहरणरूपं कारणं न बाध्यते, अपि तु सत्यपि तनुहरणाख्ये सामर्थ्ये कथं न बलं हृतमिति कार्याभावस्यैव बाध्यत्वेन प्रतीतिः । तस्मात् 'एवं विशेषोक्तौ कारणसत्तया कार्याभावस्यैव बाध्यमानत्वमुन्नेयम्' इति पाठो ग्राह्यः । एतदेव राजानकतिलकेनाप्युक्तम्—'कारणसासध्यमिह बाधकत्वेनैव प्रतीयते कार्यानुत्पत्तिस्तु बाध्यत्वेन' इति । ग्रन्थकृच्च (सर्वस्वकारः) प्रायस्तन्मतानुवर्त्येव । तदुक्तसमानन्यायोऽस्माभिः पाठो लक्षितः ।' विमर्शिनी p. 124.

A question arises as regards certain cases of विरोध. What difference is there between Rūpaka and विरोध (of जाति with जाति or of द्रव्य with द्रव्य) as exemplified in मलयमरुत् दवानलः, राकाविभावरीजानिः मध्यन्दिनदिनाधिपः? These last appear to be quite on a par with the stock example of Rūpaka, मुखं चन्द्रः. As in Rūpaka the identity of two objects is predicated, so in the above examples of विरोध also there is अमेद. Hence the above two examples should be regarded as cases of Rūpaka, or otherwise all examples of Rūpaka will fall under विरोध and Rūpaka will have no province of its own. To this objection the following reply is given. Although in the above two examples, the non-difference of the two objects is intended in order to give rise to the contradiction (involved in saying that the wind is fire, or the moon is the sun), still the charm in the two verses does not lie in the non-difference, which is subordinate as being subservient to something else. In the two verses what is intended to be conveyed is the extraordinary condition of a woman in separation. It is contradiction itself that is striking here, as being favourable to this purpose, although it is not directly expressed, but is implied; and therefore it is the contradiction that constitutes the figure here. On the other hand, in such examples of Rūpaka as 'the face is the moon,' the strikingness lies in the non-difference (of the face and the moon) in order that it may be understood that all the qualities such as 'being delightful' etc. residing in the moon are to be found in the face also. Although there is some contradiction in saying that the face is the moon, it, not being favourable to the sense intended, is not charming. Therefore there is Rūpaka and not Virodha. So the difference between विरोध and Rūpaka briefly stated is:—In विरोध, the strikingness lies in the contradiction and not in non-difference; while in Rūpaka, the charm lies in the non-difference and not in the contradiction. Vide 'अथ जालोर्द्रव्ययोश्च विरोधालङ्कारो न भवितुमीष्टे' on p. 429 of R. G. of which the following quotation from the Uddyota is a summary "नन्वेवमत्रारोपमूलं रूपकमेव न विरोधः। अन्यथा मुखं चन्द्र इत्यत्रापि विरोध एव स्यादिति चेन्न। अत्र विरोधोत्थापनार्थममेदस्य विवक्षितत्वेऽपि तस्यान्यार्थ-मुपादानेनाचमत्कारित्वात्। विरहिण्यवस्थायामत्यद्भुतत्वस्यात्र प्रतिपिपादयिषितत्वेन तदनुगुणतयान्तर्गमितोऽप्यर्थो (ताप्यर्थो?) विरोध एव चमत्कारितया समुल्लसतीति तस्मैवालङ्कारत्वात्। मुखं चन्द्र इत्यादौ तु चन्द्रनिष्ठाह्लादकत्वादिसकलगुणानां मुखे प्रतिपत्त्यर्थं चंद्रामेद एव चमत्कारी न तु सन्नपि विरोधः, विक्षितार्थाननुगुणत्वात्, रेङ्गि रूपकमेव न तु विरोधोऽलङ्कारः। यदि तु विरहिण्यवस्थाया अत्यतद्भुतत्वं न

विवक्षितमप्यर्थश्च न गर्भीकृतः, किं तु पीडाजनकत्वाद्यतिशयमात्रं तदाञ्च रूपकमेव । यदि वा नगरविशेषस्थितेरत्यद्भुतत्वविवक्षयाऽप्यर्थगर्भीकारेण च 'यत्र नारीणां मुखं चंद्रः' इत्युच्यते तदा तत्र विरोध एवेति दिक् ।" pp. 83-84.

Jagannātha remarks that the division into ten varieties is not a charming one. विरोध should be divided into two varieties:—(I) pure, (II) based upon paronomasia. 'वस्तुनो जाल्यादिभेदानामह्यत्वाच्छुद्धत्वशेषमूलत्वाभ्यां द्विविधो द्वेयः ।' R. G. p. 428. The works of Bāṇa abound in example of Virodha based upon Paronomasia.

37 असङ्गतिः (Disconnection).

When a cause and its effect are represented as having different locations, there is असङ्गतिः. It is a general rule that we see the effect as following in that very region where the cause exists. We see smoke in the kitchen, where fire is kindled; but fire lighted in the kitchen does not produce smoke on the mountain. Where, however, two things, related as cause and effect and therefore naturally expected to be in the same place, are represented as occupying different places on account of some specialty (of the cause), there is असङ्गतिः. 'यदेशमेव कारणं तदेशमेव कार्यं दृष्टम् । न हि महानसस्थो वह्निः पर्वतदेशस्थं धूमं जनयति । यदा त्वन्यदेशस्थं कारणमन्यदेशस्थं च कार्यमुपनिबध्यते तदोचितसङ्गतिनिवृत्तेरसङ्गत्या ख्योऽलङ्कारः ।' अलं. स. p. 129.

सा बाला.....इत्य (P. 50, ll. 24-27). This verse occurs in the Amarūṣāṭaka (No. 34) and is cited by the अलं. स. as an example of असङ्गतिः. The words are addressed to a friend by one disappointed in his love, or they are uttered in a soliloquy by one who is deeply in love. अर्जुनवर्मदेव comments upon it as follows: कस्याञ्चिदनुरक्तः कश्चित्स्वयं सवितर्कमनुसन्धत्ते । विस्मम्भपात्रस्य वा प्रतिविधानप्रत्याशया कस्याप्यग्रे निवेदयति । सा बालेति । सा अनिर्वचनीया मुग्धा, वयं च तदप्राप्तिपर्याकुलतया अप्रगल्भमनसः । अथ च यत्रैव बाल्यं तत्रैवाप्रगल्भमनस्कत्वं युज्यते । सा स्त्री, वयं च तां विना स्थातुं न शक्नुम इति गतपैर्याः । अथ च यत्रैव स्त्रीत्वं तत्रैव कातरत्वमुचितं भवति । सा पीनं चोन्नतिमञ्च एवविधं स्तनयुगलं बिभर्ति, वयं च तद्वाढालिङ्गनमप्राप्तवन्तः सखेदाः । अथ च य एव गुरुपदार्थभारं वहति स एव सखेदो दृश्यते । सा महतः नितम्बभरेणाक्रान्ता, वयं च तां तत्प्राग्भारलीलालसगामिनी सरन्तो जडिन्ना गन्तुं न क्षमाः । अथ च य एव महता भारेणाक्रान्तो भवति स एव गन्तुं न शक्नोति । एवं सति अन्यजनावलम्बिभिर्दोषैर्वयमसौष्ठवाः संवृत्ता इत्याश्चर्यमेतत् ।" The अलं. स. reads पयोधरभरं, which is noticed by अर्जुनवर्म also. The अलं. स. reads अप्रगल्भवचसः for अप्रगल्भमनसः and दोषैरन्यसमाश्रितैः (अन्याम्

मृदन्तःकरणवती. वयमप्रगल्भमनसः Our minds lack maturity of judgment i. e. the mind being disappointed does not know what to do. In childhood, one has not maturity of understanding.
Here the woman is young, and therefore the want of maturity of understanding should belong to her; but is represented here as belonging to the lover. Women are timid; therefore timidity should belong to her; but here timidity (of course, due to love) belongs to the lover. सखेदा वयम्—We are oppressed or worried. Here the causes, बालत्व, स्त्रीत्व etc., belong to the woman, but the effects अप्रगल्भत्व, कातरत्व etc. are represented as belonging to the hero. Thus कारण and कार्य exist in different places (i. e. there is वैयधिकरण्य of कार्यकारण) and therefore the figure is असङ्गति.

childhood is different from that due to love; similarly, the natural timidity of women is different from the fluttering of the heart due to love. But both of them are here regarded as non-different (i. e. there is अभेदाध्यवसाय between कातरत्व due to womanhood and कातरत्व due to love). It is therefore that the अलं. स. remarks “अत्र बाल्यनिमित्तमप्रगल्भवचनत्वमन्यदन्यच्च स्मरनिमित्तक-मित्यनयोरभेदाध्यवसायः। एवमन्यत्र ज्ञेयम्।” p. 130. The विमर्शिनी remarks upon this that, according to the views of अलं. स. अतिशयोक्ति is always at the root of this figure. “अभेदाध्यवसाय इति। अनेनातिशयोक्ति- रस्या अप्यनुप्राणकत्वेन कदाक्षिता। अन्यथा हि विरोधो दुष्परिहरः स्यात्।” विम०
p. 130. Jagannātha says that the figure अतिशयोक्ति is not everywhere at the root of this figure; what is necessary
कातरत्व explained above) ‘अस्यां च विभावनायामिव कार्यार्थेऽतिशयोक्त्यनु-
प्राणनमावश्यकम्। अन्यथा विरोधो दुष्परिहर एव स्यात्, इत्यलङ्कारसर्वस्वकारादीनां
वैषसी गतिः॥’ इत्यसन्निमित्तोदाहरणे व्यभिचारादसङ्गतम्। न हि ‘मुच्यन्ते
सङ्गतम्।” R. G. pp. 440-441.

absence of the natural co-existence of cause and effect, as said by Mammātā “सा तयोः स्वभावोत्पन्नपरस्परसङ्गतित्यागात् असङ्गतिः.”

place and that the effect is produced in another. So it may be thought that असङ्गति is nothing but विरोध. The author therefore proceeds to distinguish between असङ्गति and विरोध. As said above with reference to विभावना and विशेषोक्ति, असङ्गति corresponds to an अपवाद, while विरोध is something like a rule (उत्सर्ग). An अपवाद is always more powerful than a rule. So where the conditions of असङ्गति are satisfied, there can be no विरोध. विरोध occurs when two things, well known to reside in different places, are represented as residing in the same substratum, e. g. कठिनत्व and सुकुमारत्व, which reside in different objects, but are represented as residing in the same object, viz, the palm; असङ्गति, on the other hand, occurs when two objects, related as cause and effect and generally known to reside in the same place, are represented as residing in different substrata. Compare K. P. X. “एषा च विरोधवाधिनी न विरोधः । मित्राधारतयैव द्वयोरिह विरोधितायाः प्रतिभासात् । विरोधे तु विरोधित्वमेकाश्रयनिष्ठमनुत्तमपि पर्यवसितम् । अपवादविषयपरिहारेणोत्सर्गस्य व्यवस्थितेः ।” ; “व्यधिकरणत्वेन प्रसिद्धयोः समानाधिकरणत्वेनोपनिबन्धने विरोधालङ्कारः । समानाधिकरणत्वेन प्रसिद्धयोर्द्वयोर्वैयधिकरण्येनोपनिबन्धनेऽसङ्गतिः ।” R. G. p. 441. In विभावना, the effect is represented as following even in the absence of the well-known cause; in असङ्गति both the cause and effect exist, but in different places i. e. in विभावना the charm lies in कार्योत्पत्ति even without the well-known cause, while in असङ्गति the charm lies in the वैयधिकरण्य of कार्य and कारण. Similarly, विशेषोक्ति should be distinguished from असङ्गति. Jagannātha remarks that in असङ्गति it is not necessary that the two objects should be related as cause and effect. What is necessary to constitute the figure, according to Jagannātha, is that two objects, known as generally existing together, should be represented as residing in different places. “प्रागुक्तसङ्गतिलक्षणे हेतुकार्ययोरिति च समानाधिकरणमात्रोपलक्षणम् । तेन ‘नेत्रं निरञ्जनं तस्याः शून्यास्तु वयमद्भुतम्’ इत्यत्र निरञ्जनत्वशून्यत्वयोरेतपादकभावलक्षणसम्बन्धानन्तर्भावेन शुद्धसमानाधिकरणत्वेन प्रसिद्धयोरप्यसङ्गतिः सङ्गच्छते । यथाश्रुते तु सा न स्यात् ।” R. G. p. 441.

The following are some examples of असङ्गति. ‘अहो खलमुजङ्गस्य विचित्रोयं वधक्रमः । अन्यस्य दशति श्रोत्रमन्यः प्राणैर्विमुच्यते ॥’ ; ‘यस्यैव व्रणस्तस्यैव वेदना भणति जनस्तदलीकम् । दन्तक्षतं कपोले, वध्वा वेदना सपत्नीनाम् ॥’ (quoted in K. P. X.)

(I) When the qualities (a) or the actions (b) of a cause and its effect are opposed to each other, (II) When an effort fails and some evil result follows; or (III) when there is an association (bringing together or connection) between two things that are incongruous, there is विषम. विरूपयोः सङ्घटना विरूपत्वेन परस्परसम्बन्धायोग्यत्वेनोक्तयोर्यः सम्बन्धः प्रतीयते.

It is a general maxim that the qualities of a cause produce in the effect similar qualities, 'कारणगुणा हि कार्यगुणानारभन्ते'. Vide 'कारणगुणपूर्वकः कार्यगुणो दृष्टः' वैशेषिकसूत्र II. I. 24. Where the poet represents the qualities of the cause as opposed to those of the effect, there is विषम (I a above). If, however, the qualities of the cause are different from those of the effect in the nature of things there is no विषम; e. g. in "द्राक्षाफलानि शिखरेषु शिलोच्चयानां पीयूषसारसनिर्भरगर्भवन्ति । विष्वग्दृष्टकठिनकायनिगूढ-शृङ्गशृङ्गाटकानि पुनरन्मसि सम्भवन्ति ॥" there is no विषम, as grapes do naturally grow on the hills. Therefore, the production of qualities different from those of the cause must be due to the poet's imagination.

क वनं.....सदुःसहम् (P. 51, ll. 14-15). तखवल्कभूषणं (वृक्षवल्कं वृक्षवल्क् 'त्वक् खी वल्कं वल्कलमस्त्रियाम्' इत्यमर० II. 4. 12, भूषणं यस्मिन्) वनं क, महेन्द्रवन्दिता (देवेशपूजिता) नृपलक्ष्मीः क। नियतं (ध्रुवं) बत (बत इति निपातः खेदे) प्रतिकूलवर्तिनो धातुः (विषेः) चरितं (चेष्टितं) सदुःसहम्. Here we have an association of woods and royal glory (in the person of Rāma), which are incongruous. The commentator Rāmācarāṇa says that this is not a proper example of the third variety, because Rāma, when he went to the woods, was not a king; that, therefore, the verse is an example of the second variety, as not only was Daśaratha's attempt to crown Rāma as युवराज frustrated, but an evil result, viz. Rāma's exile followed. We may say against this that though Rāma was not king de facto, he was a king de jure and therefore the verse is a proper example.

विपुलेन...दृशा (P. 51, ll. 18-19). The author cites another example of the third variety (विरूपयोः सङ्घटना). The verse is Śiśu. XIII. 40 and is cited in K. P. also. "सागरे शेते इति सागर" शयस्तादृशस्य यस्य विष्णोः विपुलेन विस्तृतेन कुक्षिणा युगक्षये भुवनानि पमिरे पीतानि । स पुनः विष्णुः (श्रीकृष्णः) । सोऽपीत्यर्थः । एकंतमया कयाचिन्नगरकामिन्या मदेन विभ्रमो विलासो यस्यां सा चासौ असकला असम्पूर्णा च (एकदेशपातिन्या असमग्र-पातिन्या इत्यर्थः) तथाभूतया एकया दृशा पमे सादरमवलोकित एव । पीत इत्यनेनाध्य-वसानम् ।" उ. च. p. 444. Here in Vishṇu, there is the association of two incongruous things, viz., a part of Vishṇu is represented as swallowing all the worlds; but Vishṇu himself (the अवयवी) is spoken of as drunk by a woman with a single eye. 'यस्य कुक्षिरेव सकलभुवनपानसमर्था तस्य सम्पूर्णस्य अवयविनः स्त्रिया एकदृशा पानं चापरं विषमम् ।' उद्योत p. 123.

Our author give no general definition of विषम. He only mentions three varieties of विषम. In this he follows Mammata and Ruṣyaka. Jagannātha defines विषम as 'अनुरूपसंसर्गो विषमम्' (an incongruous relation). It should be noticed that the treatment of विषम given in the text is not exhaustive. Jagannātha remarks that in the second variety, we shall have to speak of a number of sub-varieties; e. g. (a) There may be the frustration of desired object and also the befalling of some evil, (b) there may be simply the non-attainment of the desired object, (c) there may be simply the befalling of some evil. He then shows that the desired object may be four-fold and that अनिष्ट may be threefold. Vide R. G. pp. 444-447. In the third variety (विरूपयोः सङ्घटना) also there are many subdivisions. We do not refer to them, as for our purpose it is not necessary to do so.

We should clearly distinguish between विरोध, असङ्गति and विषम (variety I). It may be said that the verse 'आनन्दममन्द' etc. is an example of विरोध, because there is an apparent contradiction between the two actions आनन्दं ददासि and तापयतितराम्. But this is not so. Here the charm does not lie in the apparent contradiction of the two actions by themselves; but it lies in the fact that the cause, the woman, and the effect, separation, have each of them an action opposed to that of the other. In विरोध what is charming is the residence in one place of two things that are known to reside in different places; in असङ्गति the charm lies in the fact that cause and effect are represented as residing in different places, although naturally they should reside in the same place; but in विषम the charm lies in this that qualities or actions pertaining to the effect are opposed to the qualities or actions belonging to the cause. "विरोधे विरोधिनाः सामानाधिकरण्यस्य, असङ्गतौ कार्यकारणयोर्वैयधिकरण्यस्य चमत्कारप्रयोजकता, अत्र तु कार्यकारणवृत्ति-विजातीयक्रियागुणयोगस्य चमत्कारितेति विशेषात् ॥" उद्योत p. 123.

The Kuvalayananda and R. G. speak of a figure called विषादन, which is defined by the latter as 'असीद्वायैविरुद्धलाभो विषादनम्'. Where one makes no effort to obtain what is desired but only desires it and something exactly the opposite happens, there is विषादन. An example is "रात्रिर्गमिष्यति भविष्यति सुप्रभातं भास्वानुदेष्यति हसिष्यति चक्रवालम् । इत्थं विचिन्तयति कोशगते द्विरेफे हा हन्त हन्त नलिनीं गज उज्जहार ॥". We think that this should be regarded as विषम, for there will be no end of figures if we go on with this hair-splitting.

An example of सम is शशिनमुपगतेयं etc. (P. 51, ll. 22-23). This is Raghu. VI. 85. इयं (इन्दुमती) मेघमुक्तं शशिनं उपगता कौमुदी नलनिधिं अवतीर्णा जङ्गकन्या (गङ्गा) इति समगुणयोगप्रीतयः (समौ

Mammatā speaks of two varieties of सम; (I) when the two things are both good and (II) when both of them are bad. The first is illustrated by the verse in the text. An example of the second is: चित्रं चित्रं वत वत महच्चित्रमेतद्विचित्रं जातो दैवादुचितरचनासंविधाता विधाता । यन्निम्बानां परिणतफलस्फीतिरास्वादनीया यच्चैतस्याः कवल-नकलाकोविदः काकलोकः ॥ (quoted by का. प्र. X p. 719).

सम is the converse of the third variety of विषम (विरूपयोः सङ्घटना). A question may be asked:—“why should we not regard the converse of the other two varieties of विषम as सम ?” The reply is that the converse of those varieties is not charming. To say that the qualities or actions of the cause are reproduced in the effect, or that one who was striving to attain his object has attained it is not very striking. “यद्यपि विषमस्य भेदत्रयमुक्तं तथापि तच्छब्देन (in the definition of सम given by अलं. स. ‘तद्विपर्ययः समम्’) सम्भवादन्त्यो भेदः परानुश्यते । पूर्वभेदद्वयविपर्ययस्यानलङ्कारत्वात् । अन्त्यभेदविपर्ययस्तु चारुत्वात्समाख्योलङ्कारः ।” अलं. स. p. 132. Jagannātha, however, condemns this remark of the अलं. स. and says that सम also has the same three varieties as विषम. The examples of the first two varieties are: कुवलयलक्ष्मीं हरते तव कीर्तिस्तत्र किं चित्रम् । यस्मान्निदानमस्या लोकनमस्याग्निपङ्कजस्तु भवान् ॥ नितरां धनमाप्तुमर्थिभिः क्षितिद त्वां समुपास्य यत्नतः । निधनं समलम्भि तावकी खलु सेवा जनवाञ्छितप्रदा ॥. In the last example, there is a pun on the word निधन (नितरां धनम्; निधनं मृत्युः). Jagannātha says that in these examples, there is a charm, which consists in describing a cause and its effect as suitable to one another, although they are really not so, by representing them by means of श्लेष etc. as possessing the same qualities, or in describing the attainment of what is desired, although it (the object attained) is really अनिष्ट, by the same process (by श्लेष etc). ‘वस्तुतोऽननुरूप-योरपि कार्यकारणयोः श्लेषादिना धर्मैक्यसम्पादनद्वाराऽनुरूपतावर्णने, वस्तुतोऽनिष्टस्यापि तेनैवोपायेनेष्टैक्यसम्पत्ताविष्टप्राप्तिवर्णने च चास्ताया अनुपदमेव दर्शितत्वात् । तस्मात्सममपि त्रिविधमेव ।” R. G. p. 452.

Examples of सम are:—त्वमहंतां प्राग्रसरः स्मृतोऽसि नः शकुन्तला मूर्तिमती च सत्किंवा । समानयस्तुल्यगुणं बधूवरं विरस्य वाच्यं न गतः प्रजापतिः ॥ शा० V; दिष्टया शकुन्तला साष्णी सदपत्यमिदं भवान् । अद्वा विचं विधिश्चेति वित्तं यं तत्समायतम् ॥ शा० VII.

When, for the attainment of the desired object, one does something contrary to it, there is विचित्र. An example is प्रणमत्युन्नति etc. (p. 51, ll. 26-27). This occurs in the Hitopadeśa II. 'For the purpose of being elevated, he bows down; for the sake of his life, he parts with it altogether; for the sake of happiness he subjects himself to misery; who is there a greater fool than a servant?' One who wants उन्नति (elevation, here used both literally and metaphorically) should go up; but the servant, wishing for उन्नति, goes down on his knees before his master. The servant takes service with the object of leading a comfortable life; but he has often to lose his life in the service of his master. He thinks that by service he will obtain happiness, but what he really gets is worry and toil. So for obtaining what is desired, viz., उन्नति, जीवित and सुख he employs means, viz. प्रणाम, प्राणविमोक्ष and दुःख, which are exactly the reverse of what he wants.

Jayaratha informs us that the figure विचित्र was first defined by अलं. स. 'एतद्धि ग्रन्थकृतैवाभिनवत्वेनोक्तम् ।' अलं. स. p. 134. "यस्य हेतोर्यत्फलं (कार्यं) तस्य (हेतोः) यदा तत् (कार्यं) विपरीतं भवति तदा तद्विपरीतफलनिष्पत्त्यर्थं कस्यचित्प्रयत्नः उत्साहो विचित्रालङ्कारः ।' अलं. स. p. 133. विचित्र, ordinarily means 'wonderful'. The figure is called विचित्र, because it causes wonder (in that one tries to obtain by means of a particular act a result which is exactly the opposite of what generally follows from that act.)

A question may be asked.—"What difference is there between विचित्र and that विषम, where an effect opposed to the cause in its qualities is produced? The reply is:—In विचित्र, when we say 'he bows down to become elevated' what we first understand is that bowing down cannot be the cause of becoming elevated (i. e. there is first कारणनिषेध) and then we understand that elevation cannot be the effect of bowing down, being opposed to it (i. e. there is कार्यवैपरीत्यप्रतीति); while in विषम (in which an effect opposed to the cause is already produced) there is विपरीतप्रतीति first and then there is स्वनिषेध. When we say 'Although the sword is black, it produces bright fame,' what we first apprehend is that brightness is an effect opposed to the cause (i. e. there is कार्यवैपरीत्यप्रतीति first) and then we apprehend that the blue sword cannot be the cause of bright fame (i. e. there is कारणनिषेध). This difference is set forth very concisely by the अलं. स. as follows:—‘न चायं प्रथमो विषमालङ्कारः । स्वनिषेधमुखेन (कारणनिषेधमुखेन) वैपरीत्यप्रतीतिः । विपरीत-प्रतीत्या तु स्वनिषेधस्तस्य (विषमस्य) विषयः । यथा ‘तमालनीला शरदिन्दुपाण्डु यदखिलोकाभरणं प्रमूते’ इत्यादि । इह त्वन्यथा प्रतीतिः ।’ p. 133. Another difference is pointed out by Jayaratha and Jagannātha. In विषम, an opposite effect results of its own accord; while in विचित्र, an effort is made by some person to produce an opposite effect. ‘यद्यपि विषमे विरूपस्य कार्यस्य स्वमेवोत्पत्तिरिह च तद्विपक्षतये प्रयत्न इति स्फुटोऽप्यनयोः भेदस्तथापि ग्रन्थकृता विशेषपरिपोषादेव सूक्ष्मेक्षिकागम्यो भेदोऽयमुक्तः ।’ विन० pp. 133-34; “न च कारणानुसृत्य कार्यमिति विषमभेदोऽयं वाच्यः । विषमे पुरुषकृतेरनपेक्षणात् । कार्यकारणगुणवैलक्षण्येनैव तद्भेदनिरूपणाच्च” R. G. p. 453.

It should be noticed that Dandin, Bhāmaha, Udbhata, Mammata and others do not regard विचित्र as a distinct figure. Uddyota regards विचित्र as not different from विषम, “एवमिष्टसिद्धयर्थमिष्टैषिणा क्रियनागमिष्टविपरीतयत्नाच्चरणनपि विषममेव । यथा ‘नमन्ति सन्ततैर्लोक्यादपि लब्धुं समुन्नतिम् ।’ वाच्यप्रतीतिवैलापां योगवैषम्यप्रतीतिः । एतेनात्र विचित्रालङ्कारः पृथगित्यपास्तम् ।” p. 124.

When, of the container and the contained, one is represented as vaster than the other, there is अधिक. एकस्य = आश्रयस्य आश्रयिणो वा आधिक्यं अधिकतया वर्णनमित्यर्थः. An example where the आश्रय is vaster than the आश्रित, is किमधिक etc. (p. 51, ll. 30-31). अज्ञात एव not known (by all the animals in the sea, because Hari lies in only a part of the sea). The greatness of Hari is apprehended from the fact that all the worlds are contained in Hari's side. The excessive greatness of the sea (the आश्रय of हरि) is understood from the fact that the great Hari covers only a part of the sea. An example of अधिक, where the आश्रित (the thing contained) is represented as being vaster than the आश्रय is ‘युगान्तः’ (p. 52, ll. 2-3). This is शिशु० I. 23, and is cited by मम्मट as an example of अधिक. It is a description of the great pleasure which Kṛṣṇa felt at the approach of the sage Nārada. “युगान्तकाले प्रतिसंहतः आत्मा स्वात्मभूतः प्रपञ्चो येन तस्य कैटभद्विषः श्रीविष्णोः, यस्यां तनौ

(मूर्तौ) जगन्ति भुवनानि सविकाशं सावकाशं आसत उपविशन्ति स्म, तत्र नस्या तनौ तपोधनस्य नारदस्य अभ्यागमः आगमनं तत्सम्भवाः तज्जन्याः मुदः प्रीतयः न ममुः न अवकाशं प्रापुः।” उद्धोत p. 125. Here the body of Kṛṣṇa, in which all the worlds lie without jostling one another, and which is therefore the आश्रय, is intended to be great. The pleasure due to Nārada's arrival, which must be smaller than the body, is here spoken of as not contained in the body (आश्रय) and therefore there is the figure called अधिक. प्रदीप remarks ‘अत्राधेयभूताया मुदो महीयस्त्वं विवक्षितम्.’

It should be well borne in mind that the figure occurs only when the अविकत्व of the आश्रय or आश्रयिन् is not true in the nature of things, but is due solely to the poet's fancy ‘तच्चाश्रयाश्रयिणोः कविप्रतिभाकल्पितमेव ग्राह्यं न पुनर्वास्तवम् । तेन चास्त्वाप्रतीतेः ।’ विम० p. 134; ‘लक्षणे कल्पनमित्यनेन यत्राधाराधेयोरन्यतरस्य न्यूनत्वमविकत्वं च वास्तवं तत्र नातिप्रसङ्गः ।’ R. G. p. 454. For this reason the following verse, though it is cited by the अलं. स. as an example of अधिक, is not a proper example of it. ‘द्यौरत्र क्वचिदाश्रिता प्रविततं पातालमत्र क्वचित्काप्यत्रैव धरा धराधरजलाधारावधिर्वर्तते । स्त्रीनस्त्रीतमहो नमः कियदिदं यत्स्थेमेवंविधैर्दूरैः पूरणमस्तु शून्यमिति यन्नामापि नास्तङ्गतम्॥’. Here the vastness of nabhas and the limited extent of the Heaven etc., that are described, are well-known. Compare ‘नपमो द्युप्रभृतीनां चान्योन्यापेक्षया नैपुण्यं पारिमित्यं च वास्तवमेवेत्यनुदाहरणमेतत् ।’ विम० p. 135.

It may be said that अधिक is nothing but the third kind of विषम (विरूपयोः सङ्घटना), since in the former also there is association of two incongruous things (i. e. the आश्रय is vast, while आश्रयिन् is very small or vice versa). But this is not proper. In विषम two things that are independent (i. e. not related as आधार and आधेय) and are incongruous with each other are brought together, while in अधिक two things are related as आश्रय and आश्रयिन् and one of them is vast while the other is limited. The charm lies not in the incongruity of the two things, but rather in the fact that the आश्रय or आश्रयिन् is vaster than the आश्रयिन् or आश्रय respectively. ‘एवं च परिमितत्वापरिमितत्वयोः सापेक्षत्वात्तथाविधवस्तुद्वयसङ्घटनयैव तदवगमनसिद्धिरित्यत्राधाराधेययोः सङ्घटनेनैवानुरूपत्वमवगम्यते । विषमे चानन्यापेक्षत्वेन स्वत एवानुरूपयोः सङ्घटनमित्यनयोर्महान्नेदः ।’ विम० p. 134.

Other examples of अधिक are:— अहो विशालं भूपालं भुवनत्रितयोदरम् । माति मातुमशक्योऽपि यशोराशिर्वदत्र ते ॥ K. P. X; गिरामविषयो राजन् विस्तारस्तव चेतसः । सावकाशतया यत्र शेते विश्वाश्रयो हरिः ॥ R. G. p. 453; जगद्विशाले हृदि तस्य तन्वी प्रविश्य सास्ते स्म तथा यथा तत् । पर्याप्तमासीदखिलं न तस्यास्तत्रावकाशस्तु कुतोऽपरस्याः ॥ रुद्र IX. 29.

उभयोः (वस्तुनोः) मिथः (परस्परं) एकक्रियायाः करणं (चेत्) (तदा) अन्योन्यम्. When two things do the same act to each other, there is अन्योन्य. अन्योन्य occurs when two things are represented as causing a speciality in each other. The essentials of अन्योन्य are two:—I. Two things must act on each other; II. the effect produced in each other must be the same. 'सिंहः प्रसेनमवधीर्लसिहो जाम्बवता हतः' is not an example of अन्योन्य, because there is no reciprocal action; we are told that the lion killed प्रसेन, but we are not told what प्रसेन did to the lion. 'कृष्णद्वैपायनं पार्थः सिषेवे शिष्यवत्ततः । असावध्यापयेत्त तु विद्यां योगसमन्विताम् ॥' is not an example of अन्योन्य. Here कृष्णद्वैपायन and पार्थ act on each other; but the action is not the same.

An example of अन्योन्य is त्वया सा० (P. 52, ll. 5-6). Here, the night and the moon conduce to each other's beauty.

It is not necessary that the two things should produce the same action in each other; it is sufficient if they produce the same quality (गुण). An example is 'प्रकाशः कोऽपि कैलासशैल-पूर्णन्दुबिम्बयोः । उदियाय तदन्योन्यपटुत्वजननक्रमात् ॥'.

Examples of अन्योन्य are:—कण्ठस्य तस्याः स्तनबन्धुरस्य मुक्ताकलापस्य च निस्तलस्य । अन्योन्यशोभाजननाद्भूव साधारणो भूषणभूष्यभावः ॥ कुमारसम्भव 1. 42; हंसानां सरोभिः श्रीः सार्यतेऽथ सरसां हंसैः । अन्योन्यमेवैते आत्मानं केवलं गुरुकुर्वन्ति ॥ K. P. X. p. 708; परपूरुषदृष्टिपातदज्राहृतिभीना हृदयं प्रियसा सीता । अविश्वरूपकामिनीमुजङ्गीभयतः सत्वरमेव सोऽपि तस्याः ॥ R. G. p 455.

43 विशेषः (Extraordinary).

(I) When something which is dependent on another (as its support) is represented as existing without it; (II) when one object is spoken of as being present in many places (simultaneously); (III) when somebody, in bringing about one result, unexpectedly accomplishes something else also, which is impossible; there is विशेष, which is thus threefold.

We construe the last two lines of the definition as किञ्चित्कार्यं वा प्रकुर्वतः इतरस्य अशक्यस्य कार्यस्य दैवात्करणम्. We think that वा connects the third kind of विशेष with the other two. Pramadādāsa connectss वा with इतरस्य; and takes इतरस्य as equal to शक्यस्य (i. e. अशक्यस्य कार्यस्य इतरस्य शक्यस्य वा कार्यस्य). राम० also does the same. We think that both are wrong for two reasons:—I. All weighty authority is in favour of our interpretation (i. e. in taking इतरस्य as अन्यस्य कार्यस्य) and against that of Pramadādāsa. No one speaks of the effecting of a शक्य कार्य. Carefully note the following words 'अन्यत्रकुर्वतः कार्यमशक्यस्यान्यवस्तुनः । तथैव करणं चेति विशेषस्त्रिविधः स्मृतः ॥" K. P. X.; 'यच्च क्विद्विदारममाणस्यासम्भाव्यवस्त्वन्तरकरणं स तृतीयो विशेषः ।' अलं. स. p. 136. II. Our author, supposing राम० to be right, does not cite any example of another शक्यकार्य being produced at the same time. Pramadādāsa translates अशक्य as 'unconnected with the subject.' This appears to be wrong, as will be clear from the word असम्भाव्य used by the अलं. स. above.

It should be noted that no definition common to the three varieties is given. There are really speaking three figures all of which are called विशेष. 'विशेषाश्चात्र त्रयो न पुनरेकस्त्रिविधः । लक्षणस्य भिन्नावत् ।' विम० p. 136.

An example of the 1st variety is दिवमप्युप० (p. 52, ll. 11-12). This is Rudraṭa IX. 6; the verse is cited by Mammata and the अलं. स. also. दिवमपि (स्वर्गमपि) उपयातानाम् (गतानाम्) येषां (कवीनां) अनल्पगुणगणाः (अनल्पः अलघुः गुणगणः यासाम्) गिरः आकर्षं (कल्पपर्यन्तं) जगन्ति (त्रिभुवनं) रमयन्ति ते कवयः कथमिव न वन्द्याः. Here the आवेय is speech, the well-known support (आधार) of which is man. The poets are spoken of as dead and yet their speech is represented as gladdening the world even in the absence of poets (the well-known आधार of speech). Therefore this is an example of the 1st विशेष. 'अत्र गिर आवेयाः । प्राप्याश्रितत्वाद् । अथ च विनाऽपि कविमिराधारै रमयन्तीत्युपलब्ध्या कथितम् ।' नमिसाधु.

Although the author does not say so specifically, we must understand that in the 2nd variety one thing simultaneously resides in many abodes, as said by अलं. स. 'यच्चैकं वस्तु परिमितं युगपदनेकधा वर्तमानं क्रियते स द्वितीयो विशेषः ।' p. 136. An example is कानने etc. (p. 52, ll. 13-14). अन्तकसङ्काशं=मृत्युसङ्काशम्. Here, the king is represented as seen in many places at the same time. It is not really possible that one man can be in many places at the same time. The king is represented to be in many places, because to his enemies, in whose hearts he has struck terror, he is everywhere. काननादौ पलायिता रिपवस्त्वामेकं तत्र तत्रैवान्तक-सङ्काशं पश्यन्ति.

An example of the 3rd variety is गृहिणी etc. (P. 52, ll. 15-16). This is Raghu. VIII. 66, and is cited by K. P. Aja, bewailing the loss of his wife, sums it in this fine verse. मिथः=हसि. Here Death is represented as depriving Aja of everything such as a minister, friend, disciple etc. in depriving him of इन्दुमती- येन (उपायेन) यथा येन प्रकारेण वस्तु केनापि (पुरुषेण) कृतम् तेनैव उपायेन चेत् अन्यः तदन्यथा (ततोऽन्यथा) कुरुते (तदा) व्याघातः. If a certain thing, which is done by one man by a certain means, is undone by another by the same means, there is व्याघात. An example is दृशा दग्धं मनसिजं जीवयन्ति दृशैव याः । विरूपाक्षस्य जयिनीस्ताः स्तुवे वामलोचनाः ॥. This verse occurs in Rājasekhara's Viddhaśālabhajñikā (I Act). Our author cites it as an example of श्रुत्यनुप्रास also. दृशा (शिवस्य तृतीयेन नेत्रेण) दग्धं मनसिजं (कामं) याः दृशा एव जीवयन्ति (कटाक्षेण मदनं जनयन्ति) ताः विरूपाक्षस्य (लोचनानां त्रित्वात् विरूपाक्षः शिवः) जयिनीः (शिवमपि प्रत्यादिशन्तीः) वामलोचनाः (वामे सुन्दरे लोचने यासां) स्तुवे. Cupid was burnt by Śiva with the fire from his eye; but here, women are represented as revivifying Cupid by that very means i. e. by the eye). Therefore there is व्याघात. 'अत्र दृष्टिलक्षणेनोपायेन स्मरस्य हरेण दाहविषयत्वं निष्पादितम् । शृगनयनाभिः पुनस्तेनैवोपायेन तस्य जीवनीयत्वं क्रियते । तच्च दाहविषयत्वस्य प्रतिपक्षभूतम् ॥' अलं. स. p. 138. It should be noted that the poet represents the eye of Śiva and the eye of the women as non-different; while in reality the two are different.

Examples of विशेष are:—I. युक्तं तु याते दिवमासफेन्दौ तदाश्रितानां यदभूद्विनाशः । इदं तु चित्रं भुवनावकाशे निराश्रया खेलति तस्य कीर्तिः ॥ R. G. p. 457; II. हृदये चक्षुषि वाचि च तव सैवाभिनवयौवना वसति । वयमत्र निरवकाशा विरम कृतं पादपतनेन ॥ रुद्रट IX. 8.; III. माघः शिशुपालवधं विदधत्कविमदवधं विदधे । रत्नाकरः स्वविजयं हरविजयं वर्णयन् व्यवृणोत् ॥ quoted by जयरथ with the remark 'अत्र न केवलं माघः शिशुपालवधं चकार यावदसम्भाव्यं चिकीर्षितं कविमदवधमपीत्यशक्यवस्त्वन्तरकरणात्मायं विशेषः' ।

The following are the essentials of व्याघातः—I. Something must have been accomplished by a certain person with certain means; II. What has been accomplished must be frustrated by another with the same means; III. The representation must be poetical and not mere matter of fact. When the same cause produces two opposed effects, in connection with different substrata, there is no व्याघात; i. g. "कुलममलिनं सद्गामूर्तिर्मतिः श्रुतिशालिनी मुजबलमलं स्फीता लक्ष्मीः प्रसुत्वमखण्डितम् । प्रकृतिसुभगा ह्येते भावा अमीभिरयं जनो व्रजति सुतरां दर्पे राजंस्त एव तवाङ्कुशाः ॥". Here there is no व्याघात, because the state of things can be explained by the fact that great men are quite different from ordinary men.

The figure is called व्याघात, because it is the cause of the frustration of a thing already accomplished, as said by Mammata 'स साधितवस्तुव्याहतिहेतुत्वात् व्याघातः'.

सौकर्येण.....क्रियते यदि. When the contrary of a certain act is justified by the same reason with facility, that is also व्याघात. The essentials of this व्याघात are—I. Some person must represent a certain cause as probably producing a certain effect; II. Another person must represent that very cause as capable of producing exactly an opposite effect and with greater ease than the first. This second variety also is called व्याघात, because in it there is a frustration of the effect that was represented as probable. 'किञ्चित्कार्यं निष्पादयितुं सम्भाव्यमानः कारण-विशेषस्तत्कार्यविरुद्धनिष्पादकत्वेन यत्समर्थ्यते सोऽपि सम्भाव्यमानकार्यव्याहति-निवन्धनत्वाद्याघातः कार्यविरुद्धनिष्पत्तिश्च कार्यापेक्षया सुकरा । तस्य कारणस्यात्यन्तं तदानुगुण्यात् ।' अलं. स. p. 139.

An example of this व्याघात is इहैव etc. (P. 52, ll. 22-25). The first half of the verse is spoken by the husband and the second by the wife. त्वं इहैव तिष्ठ (मया सह नागन्तव्यम्), अहं कतिपयैः अहोभिः कृतं (शीघ्रं) समागन्ता (Nom. Sing. of समागन्तु m.), कान्ते (प्रिये) मृदुः असि न च आयाससहना (केशान् सोढुं न क्षमा) । सुभग (सुन्दर) मे (मम) मृदुत्वं भवता (सह) गन्तुं अधिकं हेतुः यत् (यतः) (अहं) मृद्वी (सती) विरहकृतं (तव विरहेण कृतं) असमम् (अतुलं) आयासं दुःखं न सोढा (सहिष्ये). Here the husband mentions the delicate state of the heroine as a reason against her accompanying him (on a journey); but the heroine on the other hand represents it (मृदुत्व) with still greater force as a reason for accompanying him.

The difference between the first and the second kind of व्याघात is as follows: —In the first a certain thing is already accomplished by some person with a certain means and another person with the same means frustrates it; while in the second, a certain thing is put forward by a person as probably producing some effect (i. e. the effect is not already produced as in the first) while another represents that very thing as more easily capable of producing exactly the opposite effect. 'अत एवास्य प्रथमाद्याघाताद्भेदः । तत्र हि येन केनचिदुपायेन निष्पादितं सद्भूतं तथैवान्येनान्यथीक्रियत इत्युक्तम् । इह तु किञ्चिन्निष्पादयितुं सम्भाव्यमानस्य कारणस्य विरुद्धनिष्पादकत्वेन समर्थनम् ।' विम० p. 139.

It may be said that in the example इहैव० the husband not only failed to persuade his wife to stay at home (इष्टस्य अनवाप्ति) but the wife represented the excuse brought forward by him as a stronger reason for her accompanying him (i. e. there is अनर्थस्य सम्भवः); and therefore the 2nd variety of व्याघात is nothing but the second variety of विषम. To this objection we reply:—In विषम, the desired effect does not follow and moreover there is some evil resulting; while in व्याघात, it cannot be said that what is first put forward as a probable effect is not an effect at all. It is an effect; but another person represents that an effect opposed to the first can more easily be brought about by the same means. अभिमतैतरस्य पुनरिह कार्यस्य सुकरतयोपपद्यमानत्वात्, अभिमतकार्यानुत्पत्तौ अनभिमतप्रादुर्भावे च भवतो विषमालङ्काराद्विषयत्वेन स्थितः । एकावली p. 296.

It will have been noticed by the careful reader that in दृशा दग्धं etc., there is व्यतिरेक, as made clear by the words जयिनीः, वामलोचनाः and विरूपाक्षस्य. Jayaratha says that व्याघात is not possible without व्यतिरेक. The representation that one person frustrates what has been accomplished by another with a certain means by that very means cannot be explained otherwise than by supposing that the one excels the other. 'सोऽपि (व्याघातः) व्यतिरेकनिमित्तत्वेनात्रोक्तः । विरूपाक्षस्य चारुलोचना (the reading of सर्वस्य) इति व्यतिरेकगर्भावेव वाचकौ । जयिनीरिति व्यतिरेकोक्तिः ।' अलं. स. p. 138; 'अनेनास्य व्यतिरेकं विनोत्थानमेव न स्यादिति सूचितम् । तथाहि—येन केनचित्साधितं तदप्यन्येनान्यथा क्रियते तदा तस्य ततोऽन्यथा-करणानुपपत्त्या वैलक्षण्यमवश्याभ्युपगन्तव्यम् ।' विम० p. 138.

Ancient writers like Dapdin and Bhāmaha do not define व्याघात at all. Mammāṭa speaks of the first variety only. Our author follows the अलं स. Jagannātha says that in दृशा दग्धं etc. the figure is nothing but व्यतिरेक. Vide his remarks in R. G. p. 460.

Examples of व्याघात are:—I. दीनद्रुमान् वचोमिः खलनिकरैरनुदिनं दलितान् । पल्लवयन्त्युल्लसिता नित्यं तैरेव सज्जनधुरीणाः R. G. p. 450; II. विमुञ्चसि यदि प्रिय प्रियतमेति मां मन्दिरे तदा सह नवस्व मां प्रणयवज्रणायत्रितः । अथ प्रकृतिमीहरित्यखिलमीतिभङ्गक्षमात्रं जातु भुजमण्डलादवहितो बहिर्भावय ॥ R. G. p. 460; 'यदि बाळ इति सुतरामपरिल्याज्योऽसि । रक्षणीय इति भवद्वज्रपञ्जरमेव रक्षास्थानम्' हर्षचरित VI. para 10 (our edition) quoted in the अलं. स. with the remark "यत्र राज्यवर्धनेन श्रीहर्षाप्रस्थापने कार्ये बाह्यरक्षणीयत्वादि कारणत्वेन यत्सम्भावितं तत्प्रत्युत प्रस्थापनकारणत्वे सुकरतया श्रीहर्षेण राज्यवर्धनस्य समर्थितमिति व्याघाताख्योलङ्कारः । p. 139.

45 कारणमाला (Garland of Causes).

When each preceding object is spoken of as the cause of each succeeding one, there is कारणमाला. An example is द्युतं etc. (p. 53, ll. 3-4). द्युतम्—knowledge of the Śāstras ('द्युतं शास्त्रावधृतयोः' इत्यमर० III. 3. 77.). कृतधियान् of learned men—

Here the company of learned men is the cause of knowledge which again is spoken of as the cause of modesty, which is the cause of the affection of the people.

The name कारणमाला given to the figure is significant, because here a number of causes are spoken of as connected with one another in a peculiar manner; e. g. श्रुत which is the effect of कृतधीसङ्ग becomes the cause of विनय and so on. The charm here lies in the peculiar sequence of causes and effects. 'कार्यकारणक्रम एवात्र चारुत्वहेतुः।' अलं. स. p. 140.

Jayaratha and Jagannātha say that this figure occurs also when each succeeding object is the cause of each preceding one (and not merely when each preceding object is the cause of each succeeding one as said in the text). 'तत्र पूर्वं पूर्वं कारणं परं परं कार्यमित्येका, पूर्वं पूर्वं कार्यं परं परं कारणमित्यपरा। R. G. p. 461. An example of this is 'स्वर्गापवर्गौ खलु दानलक्ष्मीदानं प्रसूते विपुला समृद्धिः। समृद्धिमल्पेतरभागधेयं भाग्यं च शम्भो तव पादमक्तिः॥'.

Jagannātha remarks that the repetition of the same word in the same sense is not a fault in this figure. If another word were employed in the same sense it would obstruct the recognition of the object and the intended meaning would not flash at once on the mind; therefore the employment of two different words in the same sense would constitute a fault in this figure "अत्र च कथितपदत्वं न दोषः। प्रत्युत पदान्तरेण तस्यार्थस्योक्तौ रूपान्तरेण स्थितस्य नटस्येव प्रत्यभिज्ञाप्रतिरोधकत्वाद्विज्ञातार्थसिद्धेरकुण्ठितत्वविरहादोषः स्यात्।' R. G. p. 462.

Jagannātha further observes that in this figure we should preserve symmetry, if strikingness is to be produced. If we begin with the express mention of something as a cause then we must speak of the cause of that thing and so on; or we must speak of the effect of that thing as the cause of something else and so on. Or if we begin with the express mention of something as an effect, we must speak of the effect of that and so on or we must speak of that effect as due to something else and so on. "इह च यद्यादौ कारणोक्तिरेव प्रस्तूयते तदा पुनस्तस्य कारणं तस्यापि कारणमिति, तत्कस्यचिदिति तदपि कस्यचिदिति वा कारणमाला युक्ता। यदा तु कार्योक्तिस्तदा तस्य कार्यं तस्यापि कार्यमिति, तत्कस्यचित्कार्यं तदपि कस्यचिदिति वा युक्ता। सर्वथैव यः शब्दः कार्यकारणतोपस्थापक आदौ प्रयुक्तः स एव निर्वाहः। एवं क्रमेण निबन्धनमाकांक्षानुरूपत्वादमणीयम्। अन्यथा तु भग्नप्रक्रमं स्यात्। यथा प्राचीनानां पद्यम् 'जितेन्द्रियत्वं विनयस्य कारणं गुणप्रकर्षो विनयादवाप्यते। गुणाधिके ऽस्ति जनोऽनुरज्यते अनानुरागप्रभवा हि सम्पदः॥' अत्र जितेन्द्रियत्वं विनयस्य कारणं

When several objects are, in succession, connected with the same attribute, there is मालादीपक. Our author's definition is not quite clear. According to Mammata and Ruyyaka the essentials of मालादीपक are:—I. Many objects are connected with the same attribute; II. Each preceding object serves as a qualification of each succeeding one; ‘पूर्वपूर्वस्योत्तरोत्तरगुणावहत्वे मालादीपकम्’ अलं. स. 141 ; मालादीपकमाद्यं चेद्योत्तरगुणावहम्’ K. P. X.

An example of मालादीपक is त्वयि etc. (P. 53, ll. 8-9). शरैः अरिशिरः (आसादितम्), तेन (अरिशिरसा) भूः (आसादिता), तथा (भुवा) त्वं (आसादितः), त्वया यशः (आसादितम्). Here, the bow, the arrows, the head of the enemy, the earth etc. are all connected with the single action आसादन (obtaining or reaching), as in the figure दीपक, where some प्रकृत and some अप्रकृत things are connected with the same धर्म. Moreover, each preceding object serves as a qualification of each succeeding one; the bow serves as a qualification of the arrows by making them reach the head of the enemy, the arrows oblige the head by enabling it to reach the earth, and so on. Vide Uddyota “आसादितमिति (in the text आसादिताः) नृपुंसकानपुंसकयोरेकक्षेपः एकवत्त्वं च । अत्र कोदण्डे-नारिशिरः प्रापयता शरा उपक्रियन्ते शरैरपि भूमण्डलं प्रापयद्भिररिशिरः, शिरसाऽपि सञ्चायकं त्वां लम्बयता भूमण्डलं भूमण्डलेन च कीर्तिमासादयता नृपतिः.....इति पूर्वपूर्वभ्यः पुरस्खेपकारः ।” p. 67.

The reason why the figure is called मालादीपक is:—As in दीपक, so here also many objects are connected with one and the same attribute, just as many objects are illumined by a single lamp. Besides, here many objects are linked together, each preceding one qualifying each succeeding one.

Mammata defines मालादीपक after दीपक, intimating thereby that it is a kind of दीपक or very similar to it. Our author, following the अलं. स., defines it after कारणमाला and before एकावली, because here the charm really lies in the linking together, as it were, of certain objects. The अलं. स. says that it is not proper to define it after दीपक. Jayaratha says that the word माला is not used in the same sense in which it is used in the word मालोपमा (where many उपमान are mentioned one after another in connection with a single उपमेय). In मालोपमा, माला means a simple collection of things (which are, as it were, huddled up together without one being linked with the other); while in मालादीपक माला means 'a chain', because here each preceding object qualifies each succeeding one and therefore the objects are linked together so as to form a chain. मालादीपक cannot be a variety of दीपक, as in it there is no औपम्य intended between कोदण्ड and शर etc; in दीपक, औपम्य is admitted by all to be implied. The reason why writers like Mammata define मालादीपक after दीपक is that there is illumination (of many objects by a single attribute) here also, as in दीपक. 'मालात्वेन चारुत्वविशेषमाश्रित्य दीपकप्रस्तावोल्लङ्घनेनेह लक्षणं कृतम्' अलं. स. p. 141; 'मालाशब्देनात्र शृङ्खला लक्ष्यते । तस्या एवोपक्रान्तत्वात् । न चात्र मालोप-मावन्मालाशब्दो हेतुः । एकस्योपमेयस्य बहुपमानोपादानाभावात् । अत्र औपम्यमेव ज्ञास्ति । कोदण्डशरादीनां तस्याविवक्षणात् । अत एवास्य दीपकमेतत्वं न वाच्यम् । औपम्यजीवितं हि. तत् । प्राच्यैः पुनरेतदीपनमात्रानुगुण्यात्तदनन्तरं लक्षितम् ।' विम० p. 142.

The difference between कारणमाला and मालादीपक is as follows:— In कारणमाला and in मालादीपक also, each preceding thing is connected with each succeeding one; but in the former, each preceding object is the cause of each succeeding one, while in the latter, each preceding object only qualifies each succeeding one.

Examples of मालादीपक are:—शुक्रः श्वेताचिषो वृद्धयै पक्षः पञ्चशरस्य सः । स च रागस्य रागोऽपि यूनां, रत्युत्सवश्रियः ॥ K. D. II. 107; यस्य च समरभुवि भुजदण्डेन कोदण्डं कोदण्डेन शराः शरैरिशिरस्तेनापि भूमण्डलं तेन चाननुभूतपूर्वो नायको नायकेन कीर्तिः कीर्त्या च सप्त सागराः सागरैः कृतयुगादिराजचरितसरणमनेन च स्वैर्यममुना च प्रतिक्षणमाश्चर्यं समासादितम् । (वासवदत्ता p. 23. Jiv., p. 41 of Hall's ed.).

If each succeeding thing is affirmed or denied as an attribute of each preceding thing, there is एकावली, which is thus two-fold. An example of the first variety where each succeeding thing is affirmed as an attribute of each preceding वा युष्मै सरो etc. (P. 53, ll. 14-15). यत्र सरः विकसिताम्भोजम् (विकसित-एवं ओ अम्भोजानि पङ्कजानि यस्मिन्), अम्भोजं भृङ्गसङ्गतम् (भृङ्गैः अमरैः सङ्गतम् प्राचीरुम्), भृङ्गाः ससङ्गीताः (सङ्गीतेन सह वर्तमानाः) सङ्गीतं सप्सरोदयम् (सप्सरस्य मुत्तिरयः उद्गमः तेन सहितम्). विशेषण does not simply mean 'adjective' in Sanskrit विशेषण is anything (whether a noun or an adjective) which serves to distinguish one thing with which it is connected from other things or which gives a special character to a thing known in a general way 'स्वरूपमात्रेणावगमस्य वस्तुनो यत्सम्बन्धवलेन वैशिष्ट्यमवगम्यते तद्विशेषणम्' विम० p. 141.

In the above example, अम्भोज is affirmed as a qualification of the lake, bees are introduced as a qualification of lotuses, singing is mentioned as a qualification of the bees and the excitement of love as a qualification of the humming. So here each succeeding thing is affirmed as a qualification of each preceding one.

अपोह्यते—निविध्यते. An example of the second variety is न तज्जलं etc. (p. 53, ll. 16-17). This is Bhatti. II. 19. It is a description of autumn. न तज्जलं.....पङ्कजं— There was no water that was not graced with fair lotuses. (शरदि) न तत् जलं (आसीत्) यत् न सुचारुपङ्कजम् (सुचारुणि अतिशोभनानि पङ्कजानि यस्मिन्). न तत् पङ्कजं यत् अलीनषट्पदम् (न लीनाः षट्पदाः भ्रमराः यस्मिन्), न असौ षट्पदः यः कलं (मधुर) न जुगुञ्ज, न तत् गुञ्जितं यत् मनः न जहार. Here सुचारुपङ्कज stands as a qualification of water in a negative form, निलीनषट्पद appears negatively as a qualification of the lotus, कलगुञ्जित is put forward as a qualification of the bees. Therefore there is a negation of each succeeding thing as an attribute of each preceding thing.

क्वचिद्विशेष्यमपि.....एवमपोहनेऽपि (P. 53, ll. 18-22). Sometimes each preceding विशेष्य is affirmed or negated as a qualification with reference to each succeeding thing. An example is वाय्यो etc. Here in the first sentence the विशेषण is विमलः and the विशेष्य is वाय्यः, this विशेष्य is affirmed as a qualification (विशेषण) of कमलानि in the next sentence; the विशेष्य 'lotuses' is affirmed as a qualification of the bees and so on. The same holds good in the case of negating the विशेष्य in one sentence as a विशेषण in the next. राम० gives as an example the following:—'पुण्यक्षेत्रं न सर्वत्र पुण्यक्षेत्रे न नास्तिकाः । नास्तिकेषु न धर्मोस्ति न धर्मं दुःखहेतुता ॥'. It should be remembered that Mammaṭa and Ruyyaka spea of only that एकावली, where each succeeding thing is affirmed or negated as a विशेषण of each preceding thing. Jagannātha's treatment is the same as our author's.

The distinction between मालादीपक and एकावली (of the first sort) is:—In the former, each preceding thing lends some charm to each succeeding thing, as in 'शरैरिशिरस्तेन भूस्तया etc.', while in the latter, each succeeding thing enhances the charm of each preceding one, as in सरो विकसिताम्भोजम् etc. 'उत्तरोत्तरस्य पूर्वं पूर्वं प्रति उत्कर्षहेतुत्वे एकावली । पूर्वस्य पूर्वस्योत्तरोत्तरोत्कर्षनिबन्धनत्वे तु मालादीपकम् ।' अलं. स. p. 141. The difference between मालादीपक and एकावली (of the 2nd sort, where each preceding विशेष्य is affirmed or denied as a विशेषण of each succeeding thing) is that in the former all the things are connected with one and the same attribute, while in the latter they are not necessarily so. The distinction between कारणमाला and एकावली is that in the former the relation between the two things is that of कार्यकारणभाव; while in the latter it is विशेषणविशेष्यभाव.

Jagannātha remarks that मालादीपक does not deserve to be a separate figure, but should be regarded as a sub-variety of the second kind of एकावली (where each preceding विशेष्य is affirmed or negated as a विशेष्य of each succeeding thing). The only condition is that the obligation conferred on each succeeding thing by each preceding विशेष्य should be the same (एकरूप). He further observes that मालादीपक cannot be a variety of दीपक for reasons which we have already mentioned in our notes on मालादीपक. 'वस्तुतस्तु एतत् (मालादीपकं) दीपकमेव न शक्यं वक्तुम् । सादृश्यसम्पर्काभावात् । किं तु एकावलीप्रभेद इति वक्ष्यते ।' R. G. p. 322. "धर्मेण बुद्धिस्तव देव शुद्धा बुद्ध्या निबद्धा सहसैव लक्ष्मीः । लक्ष्म्या च तुष्टा भुवि सर्वलोका लोकैश्च नीता भुवनेषु कीर्तिः ।' इह पूर्वेण पूर्वेण स्वाव्यवहितमुत्तरोत्तरं विशेष्यते । अस्मिंश्च एकावल्या द्वितीये भेदे पूर्वपूर्वः परस्य परस्योपकारः क्रियमाणो यथैकरूपः स्यात्तदायमेव मालादीपकशब्देन व्यवहियते प्राचीनैः ।... एवं च दीपकालङ्कारप्रकरणे प्राचीनैरस्य लक्षणाद्दीपकविशेषोऽयमिति न भ्रमितव्यम् । तस्य (दीपकस्य) सादृश्यगर्भतायाः सकलालङ्कारिकसिद्धत्वात् । इह च शृङ्खलावयवानां पदार्थानां सादृश्यमेव नास्तीति कथंकारं दीपकतावाचं श्रद्धधीमहि । तेषां प्रकृताप्रकृतात्मकत्वविरहाच्च ।" R. G. p. 464.

निलयानि । निलयाः सलीलललना ललनाश्चात्यन्तकमनीयाः ॥ वाग्भटालः IV. 137;
नाकुसुमस्तस्तरसिद्धयाने नामधूनि कुसुमानि । नालीनालिकुलं मधु नामधुरक्काणमलिवल-
यम् ॥ रुद्रट VII. 111.

48 सार (Climax).

When the things to be described gradually rise in excellence, there is सार. An example is राज्ये सार etc., (p. 53, ll. 25-26). This is Rudrata VII. 97. राज्ये [‘स्वानन्दमालश्च राष्ट्रं च दुर्गं कोपो बलं मुहूर्त् । एतावदुच्यते राज्यं’ इति कामन्दकोक्ते (I. 16) सप्ताङ्गयुक्ते राज्ये] सारं (श्रेष्ठं, ‘सारो बले स्थिराशे च न्याय्ये ह्यीवं वरे त्रिषु’ अनर० III. 3. 171) (वस्तु) वपुधा, वपुधायानपि पुर (सार वस्तु), पुरे सौधम् (राजसदनम्, सुधालेपोऽस्यास्तीति), सौधे तटम् (श्रेष्ठम्), तट्ये (तट्यवर्तिषु सर्वेषु वस्तुषु) वराङ्गना अनङ्गत्वरुत्तम् (कामस्य सर्वत्वं सर्वस्वरूपा) (श्रेष्ठा) Here each succeeding thing is better than each preceding one, and the highest pitch of excellence is reached in the beautiful woman beyond whom the description cannot proceed.

Jagannātha remarks that this figure occurs not only when the excellence gradually rises (so that the thing last mentioned is the best of all), but also when each succeeding object is represented as worse than each preceding one (so that the last is the worst of all). An example of this सार (which corresponds here to ‘Anti-climax’) is “वृणाद्धुनरत्नतुल्लाडपि च याचकः । वायुना किं न नीनोऽसौ मामयं प्रार्थयेदिति ॥” कुव० p. 119.

Jagannātha says that this figure occurs not only when many things are mentioned as rising in excellence one after another, but also when the same thing, on account of difference of condition, rises in excellence. An example is ‘जम्बीरश्रियमदिलम्ब्य लील्यैव व्यानम्रीकृतकमनीयहेमकुम्भौ । नीलाम्बोरुहनयनेऽधुना कुचौ ते स्पर्धते खलु कनकाचलेन सार्धम् ॥ अत्र पूर्वपूर्वावस्थाविशिष्टाभ्यां कुचाभ्यामुत्तरोत्तरावस्थाविशिष्टयोरेवोत्कर्ष इत्येकविषयत्वम् ।’ R. G. p. 465.

The four figures, वारणमाला, मालादीपक, एकावली and सार are based upon शृङ्खला (chain). A question is raised by Jayaratha and Jagannātha whether the four should be separately defined or whether we should have only one figure called शृङ्खला with the above four figures as its varieties. They both come to the conclusion that the four figures must be separately defined; for otherwise, we shall have to define only विरोध and औपम्य by a parity of reasoning, and need not define विभावना, विशेषोक्ति, etc. or रूपक, अनन्वय etc. Vide the अलं. स. वि. p. 140 and R. G. p. 461 and p. 466.

Examples of सार are:—जये धरित्र्याः पुरमेव सारं पुरे गृहं सन्नति चैकदेशः । तत्रापि शय्या शयने वरुणी रत्नोज्ज्वला राजसुखस्य सारम् ॥ (बृहत्संहिता 73. 1.) ; संसारे मानुष्यं सारं मानुष्यके च कौलीन्यम् । कौलीन्ये धर्मित्वं धर्मित्वे चापि सदयत्वम् ॥ वाग्मटालं IV. 127.

यत् उद्दिष्टानां (पदार्थानां) क्रमेण अनूद्देशः (प्रतिनिर्देशः) (तत्) यथासंख्यम्. When a reference is made to objects in the same order in which they have been already mentioned, there is यथासंख्यम्. An example is उन्मीलन्ति etc. (p. 53, l. 29—p. 54, l. 2). उन्मीलन्ति (विकसन्ति, वञ्जुला इति गम्यते) नखैर्लुनीहि (वञ्जुलमुकुलानीति कर्म अध्याहार्यम्), वहति (वाति, दक्षिणानिलः इति संयोज्यम्) क्षौमाञ्चलेन आवृणु (दुकूलस्य अञ्चलेन आवृणु, वारय दक्षिणानिलम्), क्रीडाकाननमाविशन्ति (कुहूकण्ठाः इति योज्यम्) वलयकाणैः (वलयानां काणैः निनादैः) (कुहूकण्ठान्) समुत्रासय (सीतियुक्तान् कुर), इत्थं सुमग त्वदीयविरहे तस्याः सखीनां मिथः (अन्योन्यं) वञ्जुलदक्षिणानिलकुहूकण्ठेषु (वञ्जुलः अशोकः, कुहूकण्ठः कोकिलः) साङ्केतिकव्याहाराः (भवन्ति). These words are addressed by some woman to a person who is away from his beloved respecting the latter's condition. Here वञ्जुल, दक्षिणानिल and कोकिल are connected as agents with उन्मीलन्ति, वहति, आविशन्ति respectively and as objects with लुनीहि, आवृणु, and समुत्रासय respectively.

Some writers like Vāmana call this figure क्रम. यथासंख्य is one of those figures that occur even in the most ancient writers on rhetoric. Daṇḍin says 'उद्दिष्टानां पदार्थानामनूद्देशो यथाक्रमम् । यथासंख्यमिति प्रोक्तं संख्यानां क्रम इत्यपि ॥' K. D. II. 273. Bhāmaha tells us that संख्यानां was the name given to this figure by the rhetorician मेधावि (रुद्र?) "यथासंख्यमथोत्प्रेक्षामलङ्कारद्वयं विदुः । संख्यानामिति मेधाविनोत्प्रेक्षामिहिता कचिद् ॥" II. 88 (should we read मेधावी नोत्प्रे?).

Jayaratha and Jagannātha question the propriety of calling यथासंख्य a figure of speech. What is called यथासंख्य is merely the absence of the fault called अपक्रम. The fault अपक्रम occurs when a number of things mentioned in a particular order are not again referred to in the same order, such order being necessary for some reason or other, e. g. in रथाङ्गश्ले निम्नाणौ

पातां वः शम्भुशङ्खिनौ, Śiva being mentioned first should naturally be connected with रथाङ्ग (the wheel); but it is not Śiva who bears the wheel. Therefore there is अपक्रमदोष. The mere absence of a fault does not constitute a figure. To constitute a figure there must be some charm due to the poet's imagination. "न चास्यालङ्कारत्वं युक्तम् । दोषाभावमात्ररूपत्वात् । उद्दिष्टानां क्रमेणानुनिर्देशे ह्यक्रियमाणेऽपक्रमाख्यो दोषः प्रसज्यते । यदुक्तम् 'कमहीनार्थमपक्रमम्' इत्यादि । तच्च यथा 'कीर्तिप्रतापौ भवतः सूर्याचंद्रमसाविव' । दोषाभावमात्रं च नालङ्कारत्वम् । तस्य कविप्रतिभात्मकविच्छित्तिविशेषत्वेनोक्तत्वात् ।" अलं. स. वि. pp. 149-150. Vide R. G. p. 478. The Uddyota, while admitting the force of the above remarks, says that यथासंख्य was looked upon as a figure, because there is a certain strikingness in referring in the same verse to many things again in the same order in which they have been once mentioned. 'यद्यपि कविप्रतिभानिर्मितत्वस्यालङ्कारताजीवातोर्लेशतोऽपि अभावादस्य नालङ्कारत्वम् । तथापि एकत्र पथे बहूनां क्रमान्वये वैचित्र्यादलङ्कारत्वेनोक्तः ।' p. 80.

Examples of यथासंख्य are:—मृगमीनसज्जनानां तृणजलसन्नोषविहितवृत्तीनाम् । लुब्धकधीवरपिशुना निष्कारणवैरिणो जगति ॥; करकमलवितीर्णैरम्बुनीवारशष्पैस्तृशकुनिकुरङ्गान्मैथिली यानपुष्यत् ॥ उत्तरराम० III; स्फुरदद्भुतरूपमुत्प्रतापज्वलनं त्वां सृजतानवद्यविद्यम् । विधिना ससृजे नवो मनोभूर्मुवि सत्यं सविता बृहस्पतिश्च ॥ (In the last there is विशेष also.); पद्मेन्दुभृङ्गमातङ्ग-पुष्कोकिलकलापिनः । वक्त्रकान्तीक्ष्णगतिवाणीबालैस्त्वया जिताः ॥ भागवद् II. 90 (quoted in the वक्रोक्तिजीवितवृत्ति).

(I) When the same thing is (a) or is made to be (b) in many places in succession or (II) when many objects are (c) or are made to be (d) in the same place in succession, it is termed पर्याय.

An example of I a is स्थिताः क्षणं etc. (P. 54, ll. 6-7). This is Kumāra-sam. V. 24. The verse is spoken of with reference to Pārvatī, who was practising austerities in order to secure Śiva as her husband. तस्याः (पार्वत्याः) पक्ष्मसु (अक्षिलोमसु) क्षणं स्थिताः, (पश्चात्) ताडिताधराः (ताडितः अधरः यैः), (अनन्तरं) पयोधरोत्सेधनिपातचूर्णिताः (पयोधरयोः स्तनयोः उत्सेधः उन्नतिः उत्सेधे निपातः तेन चूर्णिताः स्तनकाठिन्यादिति भावः), (पश्चात्) बलीषु (उदररेखासु) स्खलिताः प्रथमोदबिन्दवः क्रमेण नाभिं प्रपेदिरे (प्राप्ताः). Here, one object, viz. first rain-drops, is represented as occupying in succession, Pārvatī's eyelashes, lower lip, breasts, the dimples on the abdomen skin and the navel.

An example of II c is विचरन्ति etc. (P. 54, ll. 8-9). यत्र तव अरिपुरे श्रोणिभरालसाः (नितम्बभरेण अलसाः अलसगमनाः) विलासिन्यः विचरन्ति तत्र वृककाकशिवाः धावन्ति Here in one and the same place, viz., the enemy's city, many objects, viz. gay women, and wolves, crows and female jackals, exist in succession.

An example of I b, where one thing is made to be (क्रियते) in many places is विसृष्ट etc. (p. 54, ll. 10-11). It is Kumāra. sam. V. 11. It speaks of the change that came over Pārvatī as regards her occupations when she began to practise penance. तया (पार्वत्या) विसृष्टरागात् (विसृष्टः रागः लाक्षारसादिरागः यस्य) अथरात् निवर्तितः स्तनाङ्गरागात् (स्तनयोर्निहितानि अनुलेपनादीनि तैः) अरुणात् (रक्तीकृतात्) कन्दुकात् (निवर्तितः इति योज्यम्), कुशाङ्कुरादानपरिक्ष्णान्जलिः (कुशाङ्कुराणाम् आदानेन परिक्ष्णताः अङ्गुलयः यस्य) करः अक्षसूत्रप्रणयी (रुद्राक्षमालायाः मित्रं) कृतः. Here, the same object, viz. the hand, is made to be in different places in succession, i. e. before the austerities the hand was employed in dying the lower lip and in playing with a ball, while after the austerities were begun, it was employed in cutting kuśa grass and in telling the beads of the rosary.

An example of II d is ययोरारोपितः etc. (P. 54, ll. 12-13). ते (तव) अरिवधूजनैः ययोः (स्तनयोः) तारो ('मुक्ताशुद्धौ च तारः स्यात्' इत्यमरः III. 3. 166, शुद्धमुक्ताफलवटितः) हारः आरोपितः तयोः स्तनयोः स्थूलाः अश्रुबिन्दवः निधीयन्ते. Here in one and the same object, viz. the breasts, many objects are made to be in succession, viz. necklaces when the husbands of the women were living, large drops of tears when they were dead.

The name पर्याय given to this figure is quite significant. The word पर्याय, according to the sūtra of Pāṇini 'परावन्नुपात्यय इणः' (पा० III. 3. 38; 'क्रमप्राप्तस्य अनतिपातः अनुपात्ययः । तव पर्यायः । अनुपात्यये किम् । कालस्य पर्यायः । अतिपातः इत्यर्थः । सि. कौ.), means sequence (क्रम), as the affix घञ् is applied to the root इ with परि only when sequence is to be conveyed. In the figure, there is a sequence (पर्याय) i. e. the figure is पर्यायवत् and hence the figure itself is called पर्याय. Compare 'अत एव क्रमाश्रयणात्पर्याय इत्यन्वर्थमभिधानम्' । अलं. स. p. 150; 'तद्वति तच्छब्दोपचारात् अर्शादित्वात् (अर्शादित्वात्?) पर्यायवान् पर्याय इत्यर्थः ।' तरुण p. 305.

It was said above that one thing is (भवति) or is made to be (क्रियते) in many places or many things are or are made to be in one place. What is meant by भवति is not 'natural existence' and by करोति what is meant is not 'artificial existence.' These words simply indicate that in one no causal agency is mentioned, while in the other it is mentioned; e. g. in स्थिताः क्षणं no one is mentioned as making the drops of rain exist in many places, while in 'विस्तृष्टागात्' the hand is made to be in many places by an agent who is expressly mentioned (in the word तथा). Compare प्रदीप 'प्रयोजकानिर्देशतन्निर्देशौ भवतिकरोत्यर्थौ । न तु स्वाभाविकत्वास्वाभाविकत्वे ।'

एषु च.....एवमन्यत् (P. 54, ll. 14-17). In these varieties (एषु), the place (आधार) is either a collection (hence looked upon as one) or not (i. e. there are several distinct places). संहतरूपः means संवातरूपः. For example, in the verse 'स्थिताः क्षणं' the rain drops successively exist in the eyelashes etc, which are several distinct things (and not a collection or aggregate). In the example विचरन्ति the several objects that are to be placed somewhere (आवेद्य), viz. wolves and others (आदि includes विलालित्यः also) exist in succession in the enemy's city, which is an aggregate (संहतरूपः). कचिद् आवेद्यमपि—understand संहतरूपम् असंहतरूपं च. In the verse 'विचरन्ति' etc. the आवेदय (viz. विलालित्यः and वृक्षादयः) are असंहतरूप, because they cannot form an aggregate, belonging, as they do, respectively to the past and the present. In the verse विस्तृष्टो the hand successively exists in many places, which form an aggregate (i. e. अङ्गुर and कन्दुक form one group and कुदाङ्गुर and अक्षमूत्र form another). Our author here borrows the words of the अलं. स. 'तद्वानेकोऽसंहतरूपः संहतरूपश्चेति द्विविधः । तच्च द्वैविध्यमाधारावेद्यगतमिति चत्वारोऽस्य भेदाः ।' p. 151.

It must be well borne in mind that the representation that one thing resides in many places in succession or that many things successively reside in the same place must be poetical in order to constitute the figure पर्याय. Where one thing naturally resides in many places in succession or many reside in one place as a matter of fact, there is no alankāra. 'यत्राधाराधेयतत्सम्बन्धक्रमेषु कचिदपि कविकल्पनापेक्षा तत्रैवायमलङ्कारः । यत्र तु सर्वांश्चे लोकसिद्धत्वं न तत्र कश्चिदलङ्कारः ।' R. G. p. 481. If this were not so, the words 'यत्र पूर्वं षट्स्त्राधुना पटः' would constitute an example of पर्याय. Similarly, 'पुरा यत्र स्रोतः पुलिनमधुना तत्र सरिताम्' is not an example of this figure.

Examples of पर्याय are:—नन्वाश्रयस्थितिरियं तव कालकूट केनोत्तरोत्तर-विशिष्टपदोपदिष्टा । प्रागर्णवस्य हृदये वृषलक्ष्मणोऽथ कण्ठेऽधुना वससि वाचि पुनः खलानाम् ॥ (भट्टशतक ४); निशासु भास्वत्कलनूपुराणां यः सञ्चरोऽभूदभिसारिकाणाम् । नदन्मुखोल्काविचितामिषाभिः स बाह्यते राजपथः शिवाभिः ॥ (रघु० XVI. 12); मकरालयस्य कुक्षौ स्थित्वा सदनेऽमृताग्निनां च चिरम् । संप्रति निर्दोषे ते राजन्वदनाम्बुजे सुधा वसति ॥ R. G.

51 परिवृत्तिः (Barter).

The exchange of a thing for what is (1) equal, (2) lesser or (3) greater is परिवृत्ति. सम means 'of equal value.'

तस्य च.....यशः (P. 54, ll. 24-25). This verse is cited as an example of परिवृत्ति by the अलं. स. तस्य प्रवयसः (वृद्धस्य) जटायुषः स्वर्गिणः (स्वर्गं गतस्य) अधुना किमिव शोच्यते (किमिव शोचनीयं, न किमपीत्यर्थः), येन जर्जरकलेवरव्ययात् (जर्जरं जीर्णतरं कलेवरं शरीरं तस्य व्ययेन, सीतां हरता रावणेन सह युद्धे प्राणव्ययः तेन) इन्दुकिरणोज्ज्वलं (चंद्रकिरणच्छुभ्रं) यशः क्रीतम्. Here Jātāyus gave up a thing of small value, viz. his shattered body, and received in return spotless fame, a thing of great value (3).

परिवृत्ति is defined as विनिमय by our author. In ordinary life, there must be two persons for an exchange of two things. A must give to B something (say a maund of rice) and receive from B something (say a maund of wheat) or A must receive from B something and then give something in return to B. This mutual giving and taking must exist in the figure also. Let us see whether it is so in the examples given by our author. In the first verse, there are two persons. The woman gives a glance to her lover and receives from him in return his heart; the lover gives his heart to his beloved and receives fever of love from her (i. e. caused by her). But in the second example, Jatāyus gives up his body, but there is no one to whom he gives it; he receives, in return for the body, pure fame but there is no one to give it; so that in this verse there is a single person. The essentials of a real barter are not satisfied in this verse. The question naturally arises:—what meaning is attached to विनिमय by our author? Does he use it in the same sense in which it is used in ordinary life, or does he mean by it simply this much that a man should abandon something and receive something else? The reply is:—Our author seems to have purposely left the word विनिमय undefined. We have shown above that in the first verse the strict meaning of विनिमय is taken, but not in the second. There is a sharp conflict of opinion as regards the essentials of परिवृत्ति among writers on Rhetoric. There are two schools, one represented by Mammāṭa and Jagannātha and the other by the Alāṅkāra-sarvasva and Vāmana. Our author, without following any particular school, seems to have made a compromise by accepting the views of both schools.

According to Mammāṭa, one must give to another a thing belonging to one's self and receive from that person another thing belonging to that person. प्रदीप says 'विनिमयो हि केनचिद्वस्तुना दत्तेन कस्यचिदादानम्', on which the Uddyots remarks परकीयस्य कस्यचिदादानमित्यर्थः । विनिमयपदस्य तत्रैव शक्तेः । एवमादाय दानमपि सा ।' pp. 91-92. According to this view, the verse 'तस्य प्रवयसः' etc. cited by our author, would not be an example of परिवृत्ति. The अलं. स. on the other hand says that in परिवृत्ति one must abandon something belonging to oneself (it need not be given to another) and take something else (not necessarily belonging to another). It appears that such a case cannot be distinguished from that variety of Paryāya where many things are successively referred to as occupying one place. That is, according to the अलं. स. there need not be two persons in परिवृत्ति. One of the examples cited by अलं. स. is 'किमित्यपास्याभरणानि यौवने श्रुतं त्वया वार्धक्योभि वल्कलम् । वद प्रदोषे स्फुटचन्द्रतारका विभावरी यच्चरुणाय कल्पते ॥ कुमार० V. Here there is a single person. viz. Pārvātī, who abandoned her ornaments (but did not give them to some one and receive from him something in return for the ornaments) and began to wear a bark garment. This verse would not be an example of barter according to Mammata, as there is no real barter in it. Jagannātha sides with Mammata. Vide his remarks “अत्र परस्मै स्वकीययत्किंचिद्वस्तुसमर्पणमित्येतावत्पर्यन्तं लक्षणे विवक्षितम्, न तु स्वकीययत्किंचिद्वस्तुत्यागमात्रम् । किंशोरभावं परिहाय रामा बभार कामानुगुणं प्रणालीम्” इत्यत्रातिव्याप्त्यापत्तेः । न चेदं लक्ष्यमेवेति वाच्यम् । पूर्वावस्थात्यागपूर्वकमुत्तरावस्थाग्रहणस्य वास्तवत्वेनानलङ्कारत्वात् । एवं स्थिते ‘विनिमयोऽत्र किंचित् त्यक्त्वा कस्यचिदादानम्’ इत्यलङ्कारसर्वस्वकृता यल्लक्षणं परिवृत्तेः कृतम्, यच्च ‘किमित्यपास्याभरणानि यौवने धृतं त्वया वार्धकशोभि वल्कलम्’ इत्युदाहृतम्, तदुभयमप्यसदेव ।” R. G. p. 482.

It should be remembered that the barter spoken of must be due to the poet's imagination merely, and must not be one of ordinary life. For example, the words ‘क्रीणन्ति प्रविकचलेचनाः समन्तान्मुक्ताभिर्वदरफलानि यत्र बालाः’ are not an example of परिवृत्ति; एषु दानादानव्यवहारः कविकल्पित एव न तु वास्तवः । यत्र वास्तवस्तत्र नालङ्कारः । R. G. p. 482.

The distinction between पर्याय and परिवृत्ति is as follows:—In the former there is no barter, while in the latter there is. To explain:—when, in पर्याय, one thing resides in many places in succession, that place from which the thing goes away to another place, receives nothing in return; e. g. in ‘स्थिताः क्षणं’ the eyelashes, from which the drops travel on to the lip, receive nothing in return for the drops; similarly, in the other examples of पर्याय, there is no barter intended or expressed. In परिवृत्ति, on the other hand, whether we follow the view of Mammata or of Ruyyaka, there is giving up and taking. Jātāyus gave up his body in return for fame. It is for this reason that the following verse is an example of पर्याय and not of परिवृत्ति, although the word विनिमय occurs in it:—श्रोणीबन्धस्त्यजति तनुतां सेवते मध्यभागः पद्भ्या मुक्तास्तरलगतयः संश्रिता लोचनाभ्याम् । धत्ते वक्षः कुचसन्निवृत्तामद्वितीयं च वक्त्रं तद्वात्राणां गुणविनिमयः कल्पितो यौवनेन ॥’ बालभारत p. 7. Here श्रोणीबन्ध is said to have given up तनुत्व but is not said to have received something else in its place and hence the poet does not wish to fix our attention on the change of the state of a thing, but rather on the change of the place i. e. he intends पर्याय and not परिवृत्ति.

Examples of परिवृत्ति are:—दत्त्वा दर्शनमेते मत्प्राणा वरतनु त्वया क्रीताः । किं त्वपहरसि मनो यद्दासि रणरणकमेतदसत् ॥ रुद्र VII. 78; नानाविधप्रहरेणैतत् संप्रहारे स्त्रीकृत्य दारुणनिनादवतः प्रहारान् । इप्साविचरिविसरेण वसुन्धरेयं विविप्रलम्भपरिरम्भविधिर्विनीर्णा ॥ (quoted by K. P. X. p. 675); उरो रश्मिपरीणां येन युद्धेष्वगृह्यत । हिरण्याक्षवधाद्येषु यशः सार्कं जयश्रिया ॥ उद्भट V. 32.

अवहनन and forbids the use of nails. Vide 'नियमार्था वा श्रुतिः' पू. मी. सू. IV. 2. 24 (शबरभाष्य 'सर्वे देशाः प्राप्तवन्ति न तु समुच्चयेन । यदा समः, न तदा विषमः, यदा विषमः न तदा समः स एव समः प्राप्तश्चाप्राप्तश्च । यदा न प्राप्तः स पक्षो विधिं प्रयोजयति अतो विषमचिकीर्षायामपि समो विधीयते ।) and संस्कारे च तत्प्रधानत्वात्' पू. मी. सू. IV. 2. 26. A परिसंख्या is that which restricts us to one of the many things which may be possible simultaneously and all of which accrue independently of the injunction and hence it merely serves to exclude the others. The import of परिसंख्या is therefore not injunctive at all but merely prohibitive. An example of परिसंख्या is पञ्च पञ्चनखा भक्ष्याः. Hunger can be allayed by eating the flesh of hares or dogs or of any other animal (i. e. there is युगपत्प्राप्ति). The sentence, therefore, restricting as it appears to do the permission of eating only to the five five-nailed animals, serves merely to exclude other five-nailed animals (such as a dog). The distinction between विधि and परिसंख्या is:—A विधि enjoins upon us something otherwise unknown as in अहरहः खात्वा संध्यामुपासीत. If we do not obey this injunction we shall incur sin. In परिसंख्या we are forbidden a thing (out of two, which are both possible at the same time). If we have to eat flesh at all, we must restrict ourselves to five five-nailed animals. The above परिसंख्या does not lay down पञ्चपञ्चनखभक्षण just in the manner of a विधि, for if that were so, he who does not eat the flesh of the five animals would incur sin. Therefore what that text does is to permit the eating of the flesh of the five and to forbid the eating of the flesh of other animals. In विधि the purpose is अत्यन्ताप्राप्तार्थप्रापणमात्र, while in परिसंख्या the purpose is purely अर्थान्तरनिषेधमात्र. The distinction between नियम and परिसंख्या is:—In the former, there is the enjoining of something and also the निषेध of something else; in the latter there is merely the निषेध of something else. For example, in समे देशे यजेत, the sacrificer is ordered to perform the sacrifice on a level piece of ground and is forbidden an uneven piece of ground. If he performs the sacrifice on an uneven piece of ground he will incur sin. In पञ्च पञ्चनखा भक्ष्याः we are not ordered to eat the flesh of five five-nailed animals; what the sentence really means is to prohibit the eating of other animals. Vide for further information the मित्ताक्षरा on याज्ञवल्क्यस्मृति I. 81, the विमर्शिनी p. 155, P. L. M. p. 28 and R. G. p. 483. "अत्यन्ताप्राप्तप्रापणं विधिः । यथासिंहोन्नं जुहुयात्, यजेतः कर्तव्या इति । प्राप्तस्याप्राप्तपक्षान्तरप्रापणं नियमः यथा समे देशे यजेतेति ।...

एकस्यानेकत्र प्राप्तस्यान्यतो निवृत्त्यर्थमेकत्र पुनर्वचनं परिसंख्या । तथा 'पञ्च पञ्चनखा भक्ष्याः' इत्यत्र हि यदृच्छया श्वादिषु शशादिषु च भक्षणं प्राप्तं पुनः शशादिषु श्रूयमाणं श्वादिभ्यो निवर्तयति । मिताक्षरा; "इह कस्यचिदर्थस्य नियमेनाज्ञातस्य विधिः क्रियमाणो यदार्थान्तरनिषेधार्थमपि पर्यवस्यति तदा नियमविधिः (नियमः । विधिः ?) पुनरज्ञातज्ञापनमात्रपर्यवसित एव भवति । तेन नियमे 'व्रीहीनवहन्ति' इत्यादाववघातमात्रपर्यवसायित्वमेव । दलनादेरपि निषेध्यत्वेन पर्यवसानात् । नापि निषेधमात्र एव तात्पर्यम् । अवघाताभावे विध्यनिषेधः । सर्वप्रकारप्राप्तेरप्राप्तज्ञापिपूरणस्याप्यभावे विधिः क्रियमाणोऽर्थान्तरनिषेधमात्रार्थमेव यत्र पर्यवस्यति सा परिसंख्या । तेन 'पञ्च पञ्चनखा भक्ष्याः' इत्यादावन्यपञ्चनखभक्षणनिषेधमात्रतात्पर्यमेव । न पुनरेतत्पञ्चनखभक्षणकर्तव्यताऽपि । तथात्वे हि पञ्चानां पञ्चनखानामभक्षणे प्रत्यवायप्रसङ्गो नियमादस्य भेदो वा न स्यात् ।" वि० p. 155.

It will have been noticed from the foregoing remarks on नियम and परिसंख्या that they have one thing in common, viz., अर्थान्तरनिषेध, e. g. in 'समे देशे यजेत' there is the exclusion of an uneven piece of ground (over and above the command that a sacrifice is to be performed on a level plot); and in पञ्च पञ्चनखा भक्ष्याः the words are really intended to forbid the eating of other five-nailed animals (and are not intended to lay down anything). It is for this reason that Grammarians include परिसंख्या under नियम, as said by P. L. M. "पञ्च पञ्चनखा भक्ष्याः' इत्यस्य नियमत्वेन भाष्ये व्यवहृतत्वात् । अन्यनिवृत्तिरूपफलेनैक्याच्च नियमपदेन परिसंख्याऽपि व्याकरणे गृह्यते इति संक्षेपः ।" p. 28. The महाभाष्य says 'भक्ष्यनियमेनाभक्ष्यप्रतिषेधो गम्यते । पञ्च पञ्चनखा भक्ष्या इत्युक्ते गम्यत एतदतोऽन्येऽभक्ष्य इति ।' (ed. Kielhorn, vol. I. p. 8.). For the same reason Rhetoricians include नियम under परिसंख्या as remarked by the अलं. स. 'अत्र च नियमपरिसंख्ययोर्वाक्यवित्प्रसिद्धं लक्षणं नादरणीयमिति ख्यापनाय नियमनं परिसंख्येति सामानाधिकरण्येनोक्तिः (in the definition 'एकस्यानेकत्र प्राप्तावेकत्र नियमनं परिसंख्या') । अत एव पाक्षिक्यपि प्राप्तिरत्र स्वीक्रियते इति युगपत्सम्भावनं प्रायिकम् ।' p. 155. We shall see later on how नियम and परिसंख्या (strictly so called) are both included under परिसंख्या by the अलङ्कारिकः.

When a thing which is known from other sources (प्रमाणान्तरप्राप्त) is yet made the subject of an express assertion, it terminates in the exclusion of another thing similar to it, for there is no other purpose which such an express mention can serve. The mention of such a thing is the figure परिसंख्या. The special mention of a thing may be preceded by a question (I) or not (II.). In each of these two cases the thing to be excluded may be expressly mentioned (a), or it may be implied (b). Compare "अलङ्कारिका अपि परिसंख्यालङ्कारप्रकरणे प्रमाणान्तरेण प्राप्तस्यैव वस्तुनः पुनः शब्देन प्रतिपादनं प्रयोजनान्तराभावात्स्वतुल्यान्यव्यवच्छेदं गमयतीति" P. L. M. p. 27; 'सा चैषा प्रश्नपूर्विका तदन्यथा वेति प्रथमं द्विधा । प्रत्येकं च वर्जनीयत्वस्य शब्दत्वाद्यैवान्यां द्वैविध्यमिति चतुःप्रमेदा ।' अलं. स. p. 153.

An example of I a is किं भूषणं etc (P. 54, ll. 31-32). This occurs in K. P. X. p. 704 and Subhā. (No. 2537). अर्थचरितं सुकृतं (अर्थैः शिष्टैः चरितम् आचरितम् सुकृतं पुण्यकर्म), दोषः=मुरापानादिः; अप्रतिहतं अकुण्ठितं (सर्वगामि); विपणा बुद्धिः. Here a question is first asked and then a special assertion is made, we know from the Utihasas, Pūrnas etc that the real ornament of man is fame. The express mention of it here serves the purpose of excluding the idea that jewels etc. are the ornaments of man. A jewel is expressly mentioned (शाब्द), therefore this verse in an example of I a.

An example of I b, where the special mention of a thing is preceded by a question and the thing to be excluded is not mentioned expressly, is किमाराध्यं etc. सदागम-सत्तानागम. the company of the good. परमं पदं=मोक्षः. Here the things to be excluded, viz पाप, अस्तत्समागम, इतरदेवता, धनादि respectively, are not mentioned, but left to be understood.

An example of II a is भक्तिर्भवे etc (P. 55, ll. 6-7). भक्तिः आसक्तिः भवे शिवे न विभवे धनादौ, व्यसनं रुचिः शास्त्रे न युवतिकामास्त्रे (युवतिरेव कामस्यास्त्रं तस्मिन्) चिन्ता (आस्था) यशसि न वपुषि (शरीरे). Here there is no question. We know from ancient writings that we should devote ourselves to the worship of God and not to that of Mammon. The express assertion भक्तिर्भवे serves to exclude the worship of lucre, which is expressly mentioned (शाब्द).

An example of II b is बालमार्तं etc. (P. 55, ll. 8-9). This is Raghu. VIII. 31. बलं आर्तमयोपशान्तये (आर्तानां पीडितानां भयस्य दूरीकरणाय, न तु परपीडनाय), बहु श्रुतम् (ज्ञानम्) विदुषा संमतये (संगानाय, प्रीतये वा न विवादाय) तस्य (दशरथस्य) विभोः (प्रभोः) न केवलं वत्तु (धनं) परप्रयोजनम् (परेषां प्रयोजनं यस्य परोपयोगि इत्यर्थः) अपि (तु) गुणवत्ता (गुणगण-मण्डितत्वम्) परप्रयोजना इत्यध्याहार्यम् (किन्तु च्यते तस्य धनं परोपयोगीति बलश्रुता-दयोऽपि गुणः परोपयोगिनः इत्यर्थः). Here there is no question and the things to be excluded are not mentioned.

It should be noticed that in some of the above examples there is what is strictly called नियम. We have seen that, in नियम any one of two things is possible (प्राप्त) but not both at the same time; and that a text restricts us to one of the two things to the exclusion of the other. It follows that a sacrifice may be performed on सम or विषम ground, but not on सम and विषम ground at the same time; we are restricted by the text समे देशे यजेत to level ground alone to the exclusion of विषम ground. Similarly, in किमाराध्यं सदा पुण्यं, any one of the two things

(पुण्यसेवा or पापसेवा) is possible; but it is not possible to have both of them at the same time. We are restricted to पुण्यसेवा to the exclusion of पापसेवा. For these reasons there is निबन्ध strictly so called in this verse.

The reason why this figure is called परिसंख्या is:—The two prepositions अत्र and परि have the sense of 'giving up, excluding' according to the sūtra 'अण्वरी वर्जने' पा. I. 4. 88. संख्या means बुद्धि or विचार, 'चर्चा संख्या विचारणा' अमर०. Therefore the word परिसंख्या means '(the mention of one thing with) the idea of excluding another.' Compare 'कस्यचित्परिवर्जनेन दुवचित्परिवर्जनां वर्णीयत्वेन गणने परिसंख्या ।' अलं. स. 153; 'परिशब्दे वर्जनायः । संख्या बुद्धिः । तेन वर्जनबुद्धिरिति अन्वया संज्ञा' । प्रभा p. 435.

There is a special charm when this figure is based upon Paronomasia. An example is 'यस्मिंश्च राजन्ति०'. This is taken from the Kādambarī (para 2) of Bāna. There was mixture of वर्ण (colours) in painting (there was no mixture of वर्ण, castes, in the community), there was छेद (cutting) of गुण (strings) in bows (but there was no lack of गुण, merits, among the people).

It need not be said that to constitute the figure परिसंख्या, there must be some poetic charm (कविप्रतिभानिर्वर्तितत्त्व); or else, even such expressions as पञ्च पञ्चनखा भक्ष्याः, कतौ भायामुपेयाव् will be examples of the figure परिसंख्या. "अत्र यत्र कविप्रतिभानिर्मिता इनर-व्यावृत्तिस्तत्रालङ्कारता । यथा—'कौटिल्यं कवनिचये' इत्यत्र कौटिल्यं कविप्रतिभया एकीकृतमिति तद्द्वारा तत्प्रतियोगिक(व्या?)वृत्तिस्तन्निर्मितेति बोध्यम् ।" उद्योत p. 112.

Examples of परिसंख्या are:—कौटिल्यं कवनिचये करचरणधरदलेषु रागस्ते काठिन्यं कुचयुगले तरलत्वं नयनयोर्वसति ॥ रुद्रट VII. 81; किं सुखमपारतत्रयं किं धनमविनाशि निर्मला विद्या । किं कार्यं सन्तोषो विप्रस्य महेच्छता राज्ञाम् ॥ रुद्रट VII. 80; यत्र वायुः परं चौरः पौरसौरमसम्पदाम् । युवानश्च कृतक्रोधादेव बिम्बुर्वधूजनाद् ॥ वाग्मटालं IV. 143.

यदि प्रश्नस्थः उत्तरात् (उन्नय उन्नयनं व्यञ्जनं) यच्च सत्यपि (असङ्कृत) प्रश्ने असङ्कृत असम्भाव्यं (अप्रसिद्धं) उत्तरम्. (I) When a question is inferred from an answer, or (II) when there being many questions, there are also many answers, which do not ordinarily occur to one, there is उत्तर. An example of (I) is वीक्षितुं (p. 55, ll. 16-17). वीक्षितुं न क्षमा is not able to see (i. e. is blind). स्वामी means 'husband'. We understand here from these words of the woman a question on the part of the traveller in some such form as the following 'will you give me a lodging for the night'?

An example of (II) is का विसमा etc. There are many different readings. Most editions of K. P. and the अलं. स. read किं रुद्धं जं, while the एकावली and Uddyota have किं दुष्टं. Similarly many read किं दुःखं जं for 'किं दुःखेज्जं. 'का विषमा दैवगतिः, किं लब्धव्यं जनो गुणग्राही । किं सौख्यं सुकलत्रं, किं दुर्ग्राह्यं खलो लोकः ॥'. What is most hard?—the fiat of destiny (the decrees of Fate). What should be obtained?—a man appreciating merit. What is bliss?—a good wife. What is very difficult to win?—wicked people. Here there are a number of questions and a number of answers, which are all असम्भाव्य (i. e. not ordinarily occurring to men).

In the first kind of उत्तर, the charm lies in the inferring of a question from an answer. It is sufficient if there is an answer and a question is inferred from it. In the second kind of उत्तर the charm lies in the number of questions and answers (both being expressed). A single question and answer are not sufficient to constitute the charm. 'उन्नीतप्रश्ने सङ्कुटुतरस्य चारुत्वम्, निबद्धप्रश्ने तु प्रश्नोत्तरयोरसङ्कुटुपन्यासे तदिति प्राब्धः ।' R. G. p. 520.

न चेदम्...अङ्गीकारात् (P. 55, ll. 21-22). It may be said that the first kind of उत्तर is nothing but अनुमान, because a question is inferred from a reply. Our author replies that this is not so. There is a difference between अनुमान, and उत्तर (of the first kind). In अनुमान, both the साध्य (thing to be inferred) and the साधन (the ground of inference) are expressly mentioned; in उत्तर, the प्रश्न and उत्तर are not both mentioned; only the answer is mentioned. 'नापीदमनुमानम् । एकधर्मनिष्ठतया साध्यसाधनयोरनिर्देशात् ।' K. P. X; 'न चेदमनुमानं पक्षधर्मतादेरनुदेशात् ।' अलं. स. p. 172.

is the reason of an assertion. Here the answer does not produce the question (i. e. the answer is not a कारकहेतु of the question); it at the most suggests the question. In काव्यलिङ्ग, a word or sentence contains the कारकहेतु of an assertion. 'न चैतत्काव्यलिङ्गम् । उत्तरस्य तादृष्यानुपपत्तेः । न हि प्रश्नस्य प्रतिवचनं जनको हेतुः ।' K. P. X.

Jagannātha remarks that when either the प्रश्न or उत्तर or both the question and answer are significant, it is not necessary that there should be a number of them. 'प्रश्नोत्तरयोरानूगम्यत्वे तावतैव चमत्कारान्नासङ्कदुपादानापेक्षा' R. G. p. 522. An example is किमिति कृशासि कृगोदरि किं तव परकीयवृत्तानैः (अत्र प्रश्नेन प्रतीकारसामर्थ्यं व्यङ्ग्यम्, उत्तरेण स्वस्य पातिव्रत्यं व्यङ्ग्यम्) The Uddyota remarks that the figure occurs also when the question is one and the answers many, as in 'किं स्वर्गादधिकतुल्यं बन्धुमुह्यत्पण्डितैः सनं गोष्ठी । नौराज्यशुद्धवृत्ति सत्काव्यरसामृतं स्वादु ॥'; also when the question and answer are expressed in the same words (owing to छेष) as in केदारपोषणरताः काशीतलवाहिनी गङ्गा । कंसं जवान् कृष्णः कम्बलवन्तं न बाधते शीतम् ॥ (गराणां पोषणे रताः के इति प्रश्नः, केदारपोषणरताः इत्युत्तरम्).

Examples of उत्तर are:—एकाकिनी यदबला तरुणी तथाहनसद्गृहे गृहपतिश्च गतो विदेशम् । कं याचसे तदिह वासमियं बराकी श्वश्रूर्ममान्धबधिरा ननु मूढ पान्थ ॥ रुद्र VII. 41 (quoted in अलं. स.); 'वाणिजक हस्तिदन्ताः कुतोऽस्माकं व्याघ्रकृत्यश्च । यावद्बुलितालकमुखी गृहे परिसंक्रामति कुष्ठा ॥' (quoted in the K. P. X.).

54 अर्थापत्तिः (Presumption or Necessary Conclusion).

When according to the maxim of the stick and the cake a fact is concluded from another, there is अर्थापत्तिः. अन्याथार्थमः—अन्यस्य अर्थस्य आगमः आपतनं प्रतीतिरिति यावत्. The दण्डापूपिकान्याय is explained as follows:—When it is said that the stick (on which cakes were placed) has been eaten by a mouse, it naturally follows that the cakes connected with the stick have also been eaten. The stick, being very hard, can be eaten with great difficulty; if it has been eaten, there can be no question as to the eating of the cakes (that are very soft as compared to the stick) which are placed on the stick. The दण्डापूपिकान्याय is, therefore, one, by which, in accordance with the above example, on the strength of one fact that is given or admitted, another fact comes in (i. e. has to be admitted or presumed) on account of the applicability to the latter of the same circumstances which are ascertained with certainty in the former.

राम० explains 'नियतगमान्यायात्' as नियतस्य तद्वत्त्वेन निश्चितस्य समान्यायात् तुल्यसामर्थ्यात्. P. amadādāsa translates 'through a necessary connection.' What is meant by नियतसमान्यायात् is:—if one fact being admitted, another follows, because the latter resembles the former (about the circumstances of which there is certainty) in its circumstances, there is अर्थापत्ति. The derivation of the word दण्डापूपिका must now be explained. अपूप is a cake or a preparation of flour and ghee 'पूणेऽपूपः पिष्टकं म्यान्' अमर II. १. 48. दण्डश्च अपूपश्च दण्डापूपौ (द्वन्द्व). The affix वुञ् is applied to this Dvandva compound according to the sūtra 'द्वन्द्वमनोज्ञादिभ्यश्च' पा० V. 1. 133 (शैथोपाध्यायिका, मानोज्ञिकम् । सि० कौ०). The affix वुञ् causes वृद्धि, but it does not do so here. The meaning will be दण्डापूपयोर्भावः. Or we may explain the word in another manner. दण्डापूपौ विद्येते यस्या नीतौ सा दण्डापूपिका नीतिः. The possessive affix ठन् is applied to the word दण्डापूप in accordance with the sūtra 'अत इनिठनौ' पा० V. 2. 115. Or दण्डापूपिका may be derived from दण्डापूप by the addition of the affix कन् according to the sūtra 'इवे प्रतिकृतौ' पा० V. 3. 96 (अथ इव प्रतिकृतिः अश्वकः). The meaning then would be दण्डापूपौ इव प्रतिकृतिः दण्डापूपिका (an image resembling दण्ड and अपूप). Compare the following from the अलं स. (which is here very badly printed):—दण्डापूपयोर्भावो दण्डापूपिका । 'दण्डमनोज्ञादिभ्यश्च' (इदं ?) इति वुञ् । पृषोदरादित्वाच्च वृद्धयभावः । यथा अहमहमित्यादाविनि केचित् । अन्ये तु 'दण्डपूपौ विद्येते यस्या नीतौ सा दण्डापूपिका नीतिः । एवं 'अहं शक्तोऽहं शक्तोऽस्यामिति' अहमहमिकेनिबन्मत्वर्थी-यष्टत्रित्याहुः (मत्वर्थीयष्टत्रित्याहुः ?) । अपरे दण्डापूपौ इव दण्डापूपिकेति इमे प्रकृत्याविति (प्रतिकृताविति ?) कनं वर्णयन्ति । p. 156. Vide the very lucid and valuable remarks of Jayaratha on this passage for further information. Jayaratha says that the first explanation of the word दण्डापूपिका is to be preferred. For मूपिकेण दण्डो ... दण्डापूपिका, compare अलं स. "अत्र हि मूपककर्तृकेण दण्डभक्षणेन तत्तद्वभाव्य-पूपभक्षणमर्थास्तिद्वन्द्वम् । एवं न्यायो दण्डापूपिकाशब्देनोच्यते । ततश्च यथा दण्डभक्षणाद-पूपभक्षणमर्थायां तद्वत्कस्यचिदर्थस्य निष्पत्तौ सामर्थ्यात्समानन्यायत्वलक्षणादर्थान्तरमा-पत्ति साधीपत्तिः ।" p. 156.

There are two varieties — (I) From a fact which is प्राकरणिक there comes in one that is अप्राकरणिक; of (II) from a fact that is अप्राकरणिक, there comes in one that is प्राकरणिक. An example of the first is हारोऽय (p. 55, ll. 29–30). मुक्तानामप्य किङ्कराः—When this is the condition of even those who are मुक्ताः (pearls, free from birth and death), what of us, the slaves of Love! Here the muktas are the subject of description. Those who are muktas can never be seen embracing women. If even they are seen yielding to the influence of love, then nothing need be said about ordinary men. The similarity (समानन्याय) between muktas and the speakers consists in the fact that both are men.

An example of the second variety is विल्लाप etc. (p. 55, ll. 31-32). This is Raghu. VIII. 43. अभितप्त.....शर्करिणम् Even iron, when strongly heated, becomess soft, what of men (who have ne iron-like bodies) ? Here the description of iron is अप्रस्तुत. The समानन्यायत्व may be explained as follows:—If even such a hard substance as iron melts when heated, then it follows with greater force that men, whose bodies are very soft as compared to iron, melt under afflictions.

न चेदमनुमानम्.....भावात् (P. 56, l 1). This figure is not Anumāna because the existence of similar circumstances is not of the nature of an (invariable) relation (which is required in अनुमान). In अनुमान, there is an invariable concomitance between one thing and another (between व्याप्य and व्यापक) so that where the first exists, the second is invariably found. In अर्थापत्ति, there is no invariable concomitance between two things. A certain thing being admitted, another follows, because the latter has a similarity (of circumstances) with the former. But it is possible that the latter will not necessarily follow. For example, although it is proper to conclude that the apūpas have been eaten, still the conclusion is not certain, because it is possible that the cakes may not have been eaten, although the stick is eaten, for the mouse may have so entered as to come in contact with the stick only or because the cakes may have been placed in a peculiar manner (so as not to be reached by the mouse). Jagannātha further points out that in अनुमान, the साध्य and हेतु reside in the same thing; but this is not possible in अर्थापत्ति; the fact that follows from another does not reside in the same place as the latter. Compare अलं. स. "न चेदमनुमानम् । समानन्याय्य (य ?) स्य सम्बन्धरूपत्वाभावात् । असम्बन्धे चानुमानानुत्थानात् ।" p. 175; "दण्डभक्षणे श्यूपभक्षणं समानन्यायत्वदुचितमपि न निश्चितमेव, दण्डभक्षणेऽपि पृथक्प्रवेशावस्थानादिना केनापि निमित्तेनापूपानामभक्षणस्यापि भावात् । अनुमानं पुनर्नियतमेवार्थाद-

as 'बहुः स्पर्धालन्यसम्भावनाविषयत्वादित्यर्थः' and we translate above accordingly. We think it is possible to put another construction upon the words. तुल्यबलत्वं.....सम्भाव्यमानत्वात्—The bending of the head and that of the bow are of equal force, because both of them are represented as if rivalling one another.

चातुर्यं च... इत्यत्रापि (P. 56, ll. 6-7). The ingenuity of the speech consists in its implying a comparison. राम० seems to have read the definition as विरोधश्चात्रार्थः. He notices two other readings 'विरोधश्चान्तरा यत्.' and विरोधश्चातुरी यत्. The essentials of विकल्प are therefore the following—I There must be two things of equal force II the two cannot be resorted to at the same time by the same person; III the two being thus opposed, we must be able to resort to anyone of the two alternatives at our will, and IV there must be implied resemblance between these two things. The text 'यैर्ब्रह्मिर्वा यजेत' lays down an option; but it is not an example of the figure, for there is no औपम्य implied in it. In the above example of the figure विकल्प there is resemblance between the two, based upon the property नमन (which is common both to the head and the bow), and a special charm in the representation that both alternatives are equally acceptable. Similarly, in 'निन्दन्तु नीतिनिपुणा यदि वा स्तुवन्तु लक्ष्मी. समाविशतु गच्छतु वा यथेष्टम्। अथैव वा मरणमस्तु युगान्तरे वा न्याय्यत्वथ. प्रविशन्ति पदं न धीराः॥' there is no विकल्प, as there is no implied resemblance. Vide the अल. स. 'विरुद्धयोरतुल्यप्रमाणविशिष्टत्वात्तुल्यबल्योरेकत्र युगपत्प्राप्तौ विरुद्धत्वादेव यौगपद्यासम्भवे विकल्पः। औपम्यगमत्वाच्चात्र चान्त्वम्। यथा 'नमन्तु शिरांसि धनूषि वा'...इत्यादि। अत्र प्रतिराजकार्यं नमने शिरसा धनुषां च तुल्यप्रमाणमक्षिष्टत्वम्। सन्धिविग्रहौ चात्र क्रमेण तुल्यप्रमाणे। प्रतिराजविषयत्वेन स्पर्धया द्वयोरपि सम्भाव्यमानत्वात्। द्वौ चेनौ विरुद्धाविति तयोर्युगपत्प्रवृत्तिं प्राप्तुश्चात्र (विरुद्धाविति नास्ति तयोर्युगपत्प्रवृत्तिः प्राप्तुवतश्च युगपत्प्रवृत्तिं प्रकारा०?) युगपत्प्रकारान्तरस्यानाशक्यत्वात् ततश्च न्यायप्राप्तौ विकल्पः।' अलं. स. p. 158-

एवं.....चास्तवम् (P. 56, ll. 7-8) शुष्माकं.....तनुर्वा हरेः—This is the last pāda of a verse cited by the अलं. स., the first three pādas being "भक्तिप्रहवलोकनप्रणयिनी नीलोत्पलरुपयिनी ध्यानालम्बनतां समाधिनिरतैर्नीति हितप्राप्तये। लावण्यस्य महानिधी रसिकता लक्ष्मीदृशोस्तन्वती" 'शुष्माकं.....तनुर्वा हरेः'—may the eyes of Viṣṇu effect the cure of your worldly distresses, or may the body of Viṣṇu do so. It should be noted that here the verb कुरुताम् is 3rd per. dual of कृ (Parasmaipada, when agreeing with नेत्रे) and also the 3rd person sing. (Ātmanepada, when agreeing with तनुः). The adjectives

प्रणयिनी, स्पर्धिनी, नन्वती are capable of two constructions; they are neuter duals (प्रणयिनी of प्रणयिन् etc.) or feminine singulars. Therefore there is द्वेय of लिङ्ग and वचन. We have to explain how there is विकल्प. As the eyes form part of the body, they should not be separately mentioned. But as they are separately mentioned, it conveys the idea of their rivalry with the body, there being otherwise no purpose which the separate mention can serve. When they are looked upon as rivals, there is opposition between the eyes and the body. The properties भक्तिप्रह्वविलोभननयिनी etc. are common to both नेत्र and स्तु and therefore there is implied resemblance. All the conditions of विकल्प being satisfied, the figure is विकल्प.

The figure विकल्प was first defined by the author of the अलं. स. as he himself and Jayaratha inform us. 'पूर्वैरङ्गनविवेकोऽत्र दर्शित इत्यङ्गनान्यम्' अलं. स. p. 150, on which जयरथ remarks 'अनेनास्य ग्रन्थद्वुपगतत्वेव दर्शितम्'. Uddyota remarks that this does not deserve to be a figure at all, as it does not enhance the charm of the subject of description, and as the general definition of a figure given by Mammaṭa as 'उपकुर्वन्ति न सन्तं येऽङ्गद्वारेण जातुचिद् । हारादिवदलङ्कारास्तेऽनुप्रासोपमादयः' is not applicable to it. Vide उद्द्योत p. 29.

(I) When, notwithstanding the existence of one cause sufficient to bring about an effect, there are others producing the same effect according to the maxim of the threshing-floor and the pigeons; (II) or when two qualities (a), or two actions (b) or a quality and an action (c) are simultaneously produced, there is समुच्चयः.

The खलेकपोतिकान्याय is as follows:—many pigeons, whether young or old, alight on the threshing-floor at the same time and rival one another in picking the grains of corn lying there. The maxim is, therefore, used to illustrate the production of an effect by the operation of many causes at the same time. The word खलेकपोतिका may be explained as follows:—खलेकपोताः in an Aluk compound according to the sūtra 'हलन्तादन्ताच्च सप्तम्या अलुक् संज्ञायाम् । त्वचिसारः । सि० कौ०'. The word खलेकपोतिका is formed from खलेकपोत by the affix कन् in accordance with the sūtra 'इवे प्रतिङ्कतौ' पा० V. 3. 96 (खलेकपोताः इव प्रतिङ्कतिः खलेकपोतिका). धान्यमर्दनस्थले कपोतानां युगपदापतनं तद्व्यायः खलेकपोतिकान्यायः. शबर (on जै. XI. 1. 16) says: 'अर्थेन प्रधानोपकारेण खलेकपोतवद्गुणपत्संनिपतन्त्यङ्गानि'.

An example of (I) is हंहो etc. (P. 56, ll. 15-18). These words are uttered by someone who is separated from his beloved. धीरसमीर (वायो) ते (तव) जननं (जन्म) चन्दनक्षमाभृतः (चन्दन-पर्वतात् मलयात्रलात्) (तव) दाक्षिण्यं (दक्षिणदिग्भवत्वम्; ऋज्वाशयत्वम्) जगदुत्तरम् (जगति उत्तरं श्रेष्ठम्), (तव) गोदावरीवारिभिः परिचयः, त्वमपि (एवंगुणविशिष्टोऽपि) चैव मे (मम) प्रत्यङ्गं उद्दामदावाशिवत् (प्रचण्डारण्यव-हिवत्) इह दहसि (तर्हि) अयं मत्तः मलिनात्मकः (मलिनः आत्मा यस्य) वनचरः कोकिलः किं वक्ष्यते (किमुक्तो भविष्यति मया). मत्तोऽयं.....कोकिलः What shall be said by me to this black cuckoo, wild and intoxicated as he is? When the wind, which comes from the Malaya mountain, which is pre-eminently दक्षिण (southern, gentle) and which is intimately associated with the holy and cool waters of the Godāvāri, causes burning, what of the cuckoo who is मत्त, वनचर and मलिन (it need not be said that the कोकिल will cause दाह)? मलिनात्मकः कृष्णवर्णकुटिलस्वभावः वनचरः लौकिक-व्यवहारानभिन्नः To a lover in separation, the southern wind, sandalwood etc appear hot: to all others they are delightful. अत्र....मुपादानम् (p. 56, ll. 20-21). Here, although there exists a cause, viz. the circumstance of being produced from the Malaya mountain, for the purpose of producing the effect, viz. burning (in the case of the lover), other causes, such as coming from the south, are mentioned. अत्र सर्वेषामपि . . दसद्योगः (p. 56, ll. 21-22). All these causes being good (as they are generally the source of delight to all), we have in the above example a combination of good things. In the fourth line of the above stanza, where many bad things such as being मत्त, वनचर and मलिन are combined, we have a combination of bad things. It should be noted that many divide the first kind of समुच्चय into three varieties, सद्योग, असद्योगः and सदसद्योगः; see अरु. सू. p. 161. In the verse हंहो' etc. our author exemplifies the first two of the three sub-varieties. In that verse, there is अर्थोपपत्ति also.

इह केचिदाहु.....इति (P. 56, ll. 27-28). The first explanation of सदसद्योग is resorted to by some who say that in 'शशी etc.' the moon and others are good and the wicked man is bad and thus there is a combination of good and bad things. There are three objections against this view. I. There is no charm in the combination of the moon etc. with the खल. II. The concluding words of the stanza are against the above construction. All the seven objects are declared to be शब्दः; so the moon etc. cannot be said to be शोभन. III. If we take this interpretation of the word सदसद्योग, we shall commit the fault of सहचरभिन्नता. A combination of good things with bad things, instead of being an ornament, is a fault. An example of सहचरभिन्नता given by मम्मट is 'श्रुतेन बुद्धिर्व्यसनेन मूर्खता मदेन नारी सलिलेन निम्नगा । निशा शशाङ्केन धृतिः समाधिना नयेन चलङ्कियते नरेन्द्रता ॥' K. P. VII p. 401 (Vā). In this verse, excellent things such as श्रुत are combined with things quite dissimilar, viz., व्यसन (vice) etc.

अन्ये तुप्रक्रमादिति (P. 56, l. 28-p. 57, l. 3). Others again take the second explanation of सदसद्योग (i. e. combination of things which are both good and bad). The moon etc. are good in themselves, but the dimness etc. with which they are associated are bad. So the six objects शशी, कामिनी, सरो, सुखम्, प्रभुः and सज्जनः are good in themselves, but become bad as they are associated with धूसरत्व, गलितयौवनत्व etc. We may say the same about नृपाङ्गणगतः खलः; a wicked man is bad in himself, but नृपाङ्गण is good. But as there is सहचरभिन्नता, this last may not be taken and the figure may be constituted by the first six only. अत्र हि.....विधायित्वम्. The special strikingness consisting in pointing out that such states as dimness etc. are extremely improper when they befall such objects as the moon etc. is what constitutes the charm of the verse (and not the combination of some good things with a bad thing as said by those who entertain the first view). Besides, the conclusion is that all the seven are afflictions as said in the words 'मनसि सप्त etc.'. This furnishes a reply to those who hold the first view. The clause 'नृपाङ्गणगतः खलः' bears a fault, on account of its violating the uniformity of description. Everywhere, the object qualified (such as शशी, कामिनी etc.) is good in itself (the qualification, such as दिवसधूसरः, being bad), while here the विशेष्य, खल, is bad and the विशेषण is good. Thus there is the fault called भग्नप्रक्रमत्व.¹ Therefore according to this second view the proper example of समुच्चय is furnished by the first six instances, the seventh नृपाङ्गणगतः खलः should be left out of account, as it is marred by a fault. Our author seems to hold the second view, which appears to us the better of the two. Vide अलं. सू. p. 162.

इह च.....इति भेदः (P. 57, ll. 4-5). The figure समाधि occurs when, though a cause capable of producing the effect exists, another cause begins to operate by chance and makes the production of the effect very easy. We must distinguish clearly between समुच्चय and समाधि. In the former all the causes operate jointly and simultaneously to produce the same effect, like pigeons alighting upon the threshing-floor to pick up grains of corn. In समाधि, notwithstanding the existence of a cause capable of producing the effect, another more powerful (cause) begins to operate by chance and facilitates the effect. The difference may be put thus:—I. In समुच्चय all the causes begin to operate at once, just as the pigeons all alight at the same time; while in समाधि, when one cause has begun to operate, another comes in by chance and not at the same time as the first; II. In समुच्चय, although there are many causes operating to produce the same effect, there is no specialty as regards the effect; while in समाधि, the operation of another cause by chance facilitates the production of the effect. “समाधौ हि एकेन कार्ये निष्पाद्यमानेऽप्यन्येनाकस्मिकमापतता कारणेन सौकर्यादिरूपोऽतिशयो यत्र सम्पाद्यते स विषयः । अस्मिन् समुच्चयप्रभेदे यत्रैककार्यं सम्पादयितुं युगपदनेके खले कपोता इवाहमहमिकया सम्पतन्ति कार्यस्य च न कोऽप्यतिशयः सः ।” R. G. p. 400. The काकतालीयन्याय requires a little explanation. A crow alighted on a Palmyra tree. At that very moment a fruit of the tree fell on its head and killed it. The maxim is therefore used to illustrate anything that occurs purely by chance. This maxim is a very old one, as it is explained even by Patañjali. Vide चि मी p. 22 for a lucid grammatical explanation of the word. The चि मी. quotes the Mahābhāṣya and कैयट's gloss on it. 'यदाह भगवान्मा-

अरुणे च.....क्रिययोः (P. 57, ll. 6-8). These words are addressed by a friend to the heroine. नरुणि, नव न्यने अरुणे (आरुक्ते) जाते इत्यध्याहार्यम्, प्रियस्य मुखं च मलिनम्; रुग्णि, नव मुखं अन्नं अस्य अन्तरे (हृदि) स्मरज्वलनः ज्वलितः In the first half there is the simultaneity of two qualities (viz. अरुणत्व and मलिनत्व) and in the second that of two actions (viz. bending down and blazing forth). The meaning of the verse is:—When her eyes become red (through anger), the lover loses his colour (because he despairs of winning her); when she hangs down her head (through love and bashfulness), the fire of love blazes forth in him. This verse is an example of II a and II b.

An example of II c, where there is a simultaneity of a quality and of an action, is 'कलुषं च' (p. 57, ll. 9-10). नव चक्षुः (प्रकृत्या) सितपङ्केरुदसोदरश्चि (श्वेतकमलसदृशकान्ति) अहितेषु वज्रेषु अकस्मात् कलुषं (कोपेन रक्तं) च । महीपतीन्द्र, तेषां (शत्रूणां) वपुषि आपदां कटाक्षैः पतितं च. Here there is यौगपद्य of the quality (कलुषत्व) and the action viz. falling. The meaning is:—No sooner do the eyes of the king grow red through anger than his enemies incur misfortunes.

धुनोति.....दृश्यते (P. 57, ll. 11-12). It will have been noticed that the qualities and actions that occur simultaneously are generally found in different places. For example, the eye of the woman or of the king becomes red and the face of the lover becomes gloomy or the enemies meet with misfortunes. So it may be thought that in the second kind of समुच्चय, गुणः, क्रिया or गुणक्रिया must be seen simultaneously in different places; but this is not so. Although the figure occurs more frequently when there is वैयधिकरण्य, still the यौगपद्य of qualities or actions is possible even in the same substratum, as in the example 'he waves his sword and spreads his glory'. Here there is यौगपद्य of two actions (धुनोति and तनुते) in the same person (viz. the king). These words are directed against Rudrata, who says that this variety of समुच्चय (i. e. the यौगपद्य of गुणक्रियाः) occurs only when a number of things occur in different places. 'व्यधिकरणे वा यस्मिन्गुणक्रिये चैककालमेकस्मिन् । उपजायेते देशे समुच्चयः स्यात्तदन्योऽसौ ॥' Rudratā VII. 27.

न चात्र दीपकम्.....मूलत्वाभावः (P. 57, ll. 12-14). It may be said that in some examples of समुच्चय there is really दीपक; as for example in धुनोति etc. where two actions are connected with one agent (thus there is कारकदीपक) Our author replies:—All these examples of समुच्चय due to the simultaneity of qualities and actions are invariably founded upon अतिशयोक्ति consisting in the inversion of the sequence of cause and effect; while दीपक is not founded upon अतिशयोक्ति. In the verse 'कलुषं च,' it is represented that calamities befall the enemies the moment the king's eye grows red. Here the cause (कलुषत्व) and the effect (आपत्यतन) are spoken of as taking place at the same time, against the general rule that an effect follows its cause. Similarly in धुनोति etc.

We must distinguish between समुच्चय and पर्याय. In समुच्चय there is यौगपद्य, while in पर्याय many things reside in one place in succession (and not at the same time). समुच्चय must also be distinguished from सम. In the former, there is a combination of causes (whether good or bad), while in सम, two things not represented as the causes of anything, are spoken of as being quite suitable to one another. 'समुच्चये सतोरसतोर्वा कारणयोः समुच्चयः, अत्र त्वकारणयोरपि तयोर्योगस्यौचित्याभिधानमिति विशेषः' उद्द्योत p. 120.

Examples of समुच्चय are:—I. उमा बधूर्भवान् दाता याचितार इमे वयम् । वरः शम्भुरलं ह्येष त्वत्कुलोद्भूतये विधिः ॥ कुमारसं० VI. 82; समुत्पत्तिः पद्मारमणपदपद्मामलनलात्रिवासः कन्दर्पप्रतिभटजटाजूटभवने । अथायं व्यासङ्गः पतितजननिस्तारणविधेर्न कस्मादुत्कर्षस्तव जननि जागर्ति जगत् ॥ R. G. p. 491.

II. प्रादुर्भवति पयोदे कज्जलमलिनं बभूव नभः । रक्तं च पथिकहृदयं कपोलपाली शृंगीकृशः पाण्डुः ॥ R. G. p. 490; अयमेकपदे तथा वियोगः प्रियया चोपनतः सुदुःसहो मे । नववारिधरोदयादहोभिर्मरितव्यं च निरातपत्वरम्यैः ॥ विक्रमोर्वशीय IV.

When what is to be accomplished becomes easy through the accidental operation of another thing, there is समाधि.

An example is मानस्यः etc. (P. 57, ll. 17-18). This is K. D. II. 299. अस्याः (मानिन्याः) नान निराकर्तुं (दूरीकर्तुं) पादयोः पतिष्ठतो मे उपकाराय धनगर्जितम् दिष्ट्या (भागेन) उदीर्णम् (उद्गमम्). Here the कार्य is the removal of the wounded pride of a woman. This is accomplished more easily by the sudden thundering of clouds (which frightens the woman and makes her cling to her lover).

The name समाधि given to the figure is significant. समाधि is equivalent to सम्यग् आधिः (आधानं करणम्) 'accomplishing a thing well.' 'केनचित्कर्तुमुपक्रान्तस्य कारणान्तरव्यतिकरतः सौकर्यं सम्यगाधीयते इति यथार्थाभिधानः समाधिनामायनलङ्कारः।' एका० p. 315.

An example of प्रत्यनीक is 'मध्येन etc.' (P. 57, ll. 22-23). तनुमध्या (ललना) (स्व)मध्येन मे मध्यं जितवती इति (हेतोः) अर्थं हरिः (सिंहः) अस्याः कुचकुम्भमिभौ (कुचकुम्भसदृशौ) इभकुम्भौ (करिकुम्भौ) भिनत्ति. Here the heroine is a rival of the lion, whom she throws into the background by her slender waist. The lion, not being able to do any harm to his rival, the woman, breaks the protuberant temples of the elephant. The temples of the elephant are connected with the woman (तदीय) indirectly, because they are connected with the breasts (by the relation of similarity) which are themselves connected with the woman by अवयवावयवविभावसम्बन्ध. This representation of the lion's breaking the temples of the elephant results in establishing the superiority of the woman (as regards slenderness of waist) over the lion.

The name प्रत्यनीक may be explained as follows—अनीक means an army. प्रत्यनीक means a representative or deputy of an army. Just as one unable to do harm to a powerful army tries to do harm to an ally of that army, so here also some powerful person, not being able to make any impression on his antagonist, harms another, who is weak connected with the antagonist. So the word प्रत्यनीक is applied by लक्षणा to the figure. The प्रयोजन is the conveying of the superiority of the antagonist 'अनीकं सैन्यं तस्य प्रतिनिधिः प्रत्यनीकम् । तस्मादृश्यादलङ्कारोऽपि प्रत्यनीकमिति व्यपदेशमलभत । यथा अनीकमभिमन्त्रितुमनीकश्वरेण केनापि तत्प्रतिनिधिभूतमन्यद्वयामोहादभिभूयते तथात्र बलवति परिपन्थिनि तदीयमल्पबलं कोऽपि परिमन्थयतीत्यर्थः । अत्र च प्रत्यर्थिप्रकर्षः प्रयोजनम् ।' एका० p. 316.

The connection between the enemy and his ally, whom another, unable to do harm to the enemy, punishes, may be either direct or indirect. An example of indirect connection has been given by the author. An example where the connection is direct is 'त्वं विनिर्जितमनोभवरूपः सा च सुन्दर भवत्यनुरक्ता । पञ्चभिर्युगपदेव शरैस्तां तापयत्यनुशयादिव कामः ॥'. Here Cupid, unable to conquer the hero, assails the heroine with his arrows. The heroine is directly related to the hero as his beloved.

Jagannātha points out that प्रत्यनीक is the same as हेतुत्प्रेक्षा. In the verse 'मध्येन' etc. the fact that the lion breaks the temples of elephants is poetically represented as due to the fact that the woman (whose breasts are similar to the temples of the elephants) surpasses the lion. So there is हेतुत्प्रेक्षा here. Uddyota replies to this by saying that, although there is उत्प्रेक्षा, it is not the principal figure, because there is a special charm in the representation that somebody being unable to avenge himself on his enemy harms another connected with the enemy. Vide R. G. pp. 494-495 and Uddyota p. 126.

Examples of प्रत्यनीक are:—रे रे मनो मम मनोभवशासनस्य पादाम्बुजदयमनारतमामनन्तम् । किं मा निपातयसि संसृतिगर्तमध्ये नैतावता तव गमिष्यति पुत्रशोकः ॥ R. G. p. 494; यस्य किञ्चिदपकर्तुमक्षमः कायनिग्रहगृहीतविग्रहः । कान्तवक्त्रसदृशकान्तिं कृती राहुरिन्दुमधुनापि बाधते ॥ शिशु० XIV. 78.

59 प्रतीपम् (The Converse).

प्रसिद्धस्य उपमानस्य उपमेयत्वप्रकल्पनम्, उपमानस्य निष्फलत्वाभिधानं वा प्रतीपमिति कथ्यते. (I) When things that are well-known to be standards of comparison are themselves turned into objects of comparison, or (II) when things which are standards of comparison are declared to be useless, it is termed प्रतीप.

An example of (I) is 'यत्त्वन्नेत्र' etc., which was cited above (text p. 46) as an example of कव्यलिङ्ग. इन्दीवर (blue lotus) is well-known as an उपमान of the eyes of women, as in नेत्रे इन्दीवरेण नृद्वये. But here इन्दीवर is made an उपमेय, by being compared to the eyes in the words 'त्वन्नेत्रसमानकान्नि (त्वन्नेत्रेण समाना कान्निदंश्य) इन्दीवरम्'. The reason why this is done is to convey that the Upameya is superior to the Upamāna and that the speaker has a low opinion of the thing, that is well-known as an उपमान. It is a general rule that the उपमान is superior in excellence, while the उपमेय is inferior. But sometimes a well-known उपमान is turned into an उपमेय to convey the idea that it is really inferior to what is generally regarded as the उपमेय (and therefore as inferior). Similarly in 'यत्त्वन्नेत्र' etc., the moon and राज्ञः (well-known Upamānas) are turned into Upameyas, by being respectively compared to the face and the woman in order to convey the superiority of the latter over the former. Compare प्रदीप 'यद्योपमानतया प्रसिद्धस्तोपमेये तस्माद्विशेषविवक्षया अन्तरार्थमुपमेयभावः कल्पयते, तदुभयरूपं प्रतीपम् ।'

An example of (II) is 'तद्वक्त्रं' etc. (P. 57, l. 28-p. 58, l. 2). This is बालरामायण II. 17. यदि तत् वक्त्रं (वर्तते) (तर्हि) शशिकथा (शशिनः कथा प्रशंसा, अथवा शशिविषयकः आलापः) मुद्रिता (समाप्ति गता), सा श्रुतिः चेत् हा हेम (कनकं शोचनीयं जातमित्यर्थः), यदि तत् चक्षुः कुबलयैः हा रितम् (गतम्, रि गतौ तुदादिः, अथवा हारितमिति एकं पदं) तत् सिनं चेत् का सुधा (अमृतम्) यदि ते भ्रुवौ चिक् कन्दर्पधनुः, कि वा बहु ब्रूमहे; यत्सत्यं वेधसः (ब्रह्मणः) सर्गक्रमः (सृष्टिविधिः, सृष्टिस्रणिः) पुनरुक्तवस्तुविमुखः तद्वक्त्रं...कथा-When there is that face, all talk about the moon is stopped (closed). हा रितं कुबलयैः The lotuses are gone, or (if we take हारित as one word) 'the lotuses are lost'. राम० explains the last line as 'वेधसः सर्गक्रमः पुनरुक्तवस्तुहीनः इति यद्वीक्ष्यते तत्सत्यम्.' We think that राम० has missed the spirit of the verse and that we need not take सीयते as understood. The last line must be regarded as ironical. यत्सत्यं etc. to tell the truth, Brahmā's method of creation is such that it avoids superfluities. Here it is represented that the face etc. (the उपमेयस) are capable of serving all the purposes served by the moon etc. (the well-known Upamānas) and therefore the latter are condemned as being superfluous. If we do not take the last line as ironical, there would be no force in saying that the moon etc. are superfluous and yet asserting that Brahmā's creation avoids superfluities. Compare अलं. स. 'उपमेयस्यैवोपमानसाराद्धहनसामर्थ्यादुपमानस्य कैमर्थक्येन (तच्चापारस्योपमेयेनैव कृतत्वादनुपयोगेनेत्यर्थः। विम०) आक्षेप आलोचनं क्रियते तद्वक्तं प्रतीपम् ।' p. 165.

It should be noticed that both these varieties of प्रतीप are based upon resemblance. If something is condemned as superfluous on account of the existence of another, and there is no resemblance between the two things, there is no प्रतीप. It may be asked:—what is the difference between उपमा and प्रतीप? The reply is:—in both there is no doubt resemblance; but in प्रतीप there is either the condemnation of the उपमान as superfluous or the fact of the Upamāna being turned into the Upameya (in order to convey the superiority of the latter and the inferiority of the former); neither of these exists in उपमा. 'उपमाप्रकारत्वं चानयोर्न वाच्यम् । उपमानस्याक्षेपादुपमेयकल्पनाच्च । न हि तत्र (उपमायां) तदस्तीति ततोऽनयोः सुप्रत्यय एव भेदः ।एवमौपम्यन्तरेण नैतदलङ्कारद्वयं (प्रतीपभेदौ) भवतीत्यवगन्तव्यम् ।' विम० p. 165.

The reason why the figure is called प्रतीप is as follows:—प्रतीप means 'against'. It literally means 'against the current.' The word is formed according to the sūtra 'अन्तरसर्गोभ्योऽप ईत्' पा० IV. 3. 97. The name प्रतीप is given to this figure because in it the उपमेय becomes opposed to i. e. is an antagonist (a rival) of the Upamāna. 'उपमानप्रतिकूलत्वादुपमेयस्य प्रतीपमिति व्यपदेशः ।' अलं. स. p 165.

This figure must be distinguished from व्यतिरेक. In प्रतीप as well as in व्यतिरेक, the उपमेय is seen to be superior; but in the former the superiority of the उपमेय is due to the fact that it is turned into the Upamāna and no dissimilarity between the Upamāna and Upameya is expressed or implied; while in व्यतिरेक, the उपमेय is not turned into the उपमान or vice versa and the charm lies in the conveying of the superiority of the उपमेय over the Upamāna by the mention of the possession of certain qualities by the Upameya, which are not possessed by the Upamāna (i. e. वैधर्म्य also is intended in व्यतिरेक, while in प्रतीप only साधर्म्य). उपमानादुपमेयस्य गुण-विशेषवत्त्वेन उत्कर्षो व्यतिरेकः । प्रतीपादिवारणाय तृतीयान्तं वैधर्म्यपरम् । तत्र (प्रतीपे) चोपमानतामात्रकृत एवोत्कर्षः, न वैधर्म्यकृतः । साधर्म्यस्यैव प्रत्ययात् । अधिकगुणवत्त्वमात्रम्, उपमानगतापकर्षमात्रं वा न व्यतिरेकस्वरूपम् तयोरुपमेयो-त्कर्षाक्षेपमन्तरेणासुन्दरत्वात् ।' R. G. p. 347.

उक्त्वा.....दूचिरे (P. 58, ll. 4-5). After declaring the pre-eminence of an object greatly excelling in some quality, if another is compared to it (if the former is made an उपमान of another), it also is termed by some प्रतीप. This is a reference to the views of Mammata and Ruyaka. When an object, which did not before experience the state of being an Upamāna on account of the possession of such pre-eminent qualities that nothing approaches it, is yet made to assume the state of an Upmāna, there is प्रतीप. Compare 'यत् असामान्यः गुणयोगान्नोपमानभावमपि अनुभूतपूर्वं, तस्य तत्कल्पनायामपि भवति प्रतीपमिति प्रत्येतव्यम्।' K. P. X.; "उत्कृष्टगुणत्वाच्चदुर्मानभावमपि न सूते नस्योपमाभाव" वत्कल्पितं (मानभावकल्पने?) प्रतीमेव ।" अलं. स. p. 167, on which जयरथ remarks 'यद्यपि प्रकृष्टगुणेनोपमानेन भाव्यं न्यूनगुणेन चोपमेयेन, तथापीदृशप्रकृष्टगुणत्वं विवक्षितं यदपेक्षया न्यूनगुणमपि उपमेयं न सम्भवतीत्यत्र पिण्डार्थः ।'.

An example of this is 'अहमेव' etc. तात (इति मनुकन्यमन्दीधनम्) हालाहल, अहमेव सुदारुणानां गुरुः (श्रेष्ठः) इति नास्मद्वृद्धः (ना गर्ह्य कृद्गः) ; ननु सन्ति (यनः सत्येव) अस्मिन्नुवने भूयः (पुनः) भ्रातृशानि (भ्रातृशानि) दुर्जनानां वचनानि. Here हालाहल is well-known to be such a deadly thing that there is nothing to compare to it; but here the words of the wicked are compared to it (i. e. हालाहल is turned into an उपमान). The result is that, although the words of wicked men are not equal to हालाहल in their deadliness, they approach हालाहल, which has been generally regarded as incomparable. In this verse, in the first line, the pre-eminence of the object is expressly declared (in the words गुरुः सुदारुणानाम्). If the pre-eminence be not declared, then there is no प्रतीप but only उपमा as in ब्रह्मेव० (यथा ब्रह्मा वेदं वदति तथा ब्राह्मणो वदति).

Examples of प्रतीप are—तस्याश्चेन्मुखनस्ति सौम्यनुभवं किं पार्वणेनेन्दुन सौन्दर्यस्य पदं दृशौ यदि च ते किं नाम नीलोत्पलैः । किं वा कोमलकान्तिभिः किसलयै सत्येव तत्राधरे ही धातुः पुनरुक्तवस्तुरचनारम्भेष्वपूर्वो ग्रहः ॥' (This bears a close resemblance to the verse तद्वक्त्रे etc.). This is quoted by जयरथ); गर्वमसंवाह्यमिमं लोचनयुगलेन बहसि किं भद्रे । सन्तीदृशानि दिशि दिशि सरःसु ननु नीलनलिननि ॥ रुद्रट VIII. 78.

केनचित् तुल्यलक्षणा (तुल्यं लक्ष्मं चिह्नरूपो धर्मः यस्य) (वस्तुना) वस्तुनः गुप्तिः (निगूहणम्) मीलितम्. When something is concealed (covered up) by another possessing a similar characteristic, there is मीलित. The thing having a common characteristic (or rather the characteristic itself, the चिह्नरूप धर्म) may be inherent (a), or adventitious (b).

An example of (b) is 'सदैव etc. (P. 58, ll. 16–17). यस्यां (नगर्यां) शोणोपलकुण्डलस्य (शोणः लोहितः उपलः रत्नं यस्मिन् तत् शोणोपलं पद्मरागमणियुक्तं कुण्डलं कर्णवेष्टनं तस्य) मयूखैः (किरणैः) सदैव अरुणीकृतानि (रक्तीकृतानि) कामिनीनां कोपोपरक्तानि अपि (क्रोधेन आरक्तानि अपि) मुखानि यूनां शङ्कां (भयं) न विदधुः (जनयामासुः). Here the redness of the ruby ear-ring is adventitious in the face. The glow spreading over the face of women through anger is concealed by the redness (which is more powerful) of the ruby in the ear-ring; the redness of the ruby that spreads over the face is not natural to it, but is borrowed or adventitious.

What constitutes मीलित् is as follows:—There are two things, one of which is more prominent, while the other is less prominent; II they both possess the same characteristic; III. on account of the possession of the same characteristic, the thing that is less prominent is concealed by the one that is more prominent. In the examples in the text, the mark made by the musk and the glow of wrath are not observed, because they are concealed by the more prominent lustre (of Viṣṇu's body) and the redness of the ruby respectively.

This figure is appropriately called मीलित्, as in it one thing is concealed by another. The root मील (1st conj. P.) means 'to shut, contract.' Compare अलं. स. 'तिरोधायकत्वादेव च मीलितव्यपदेशः १'.

This figure must be distinguished from भ्रान्तिमान्. In भ्रान्तिमान्, on seeing one thing, another resembling it, is remembered and mistaken for it e. g. in 'सुग्धा दुग्धधिया' p. 27 above, the moon's rays cause the milkmen to remember milk, which is not present then, and to mistake them for milk. While in मीलित्, both the things are persent; one is not perceived because ~~it~~ is overshadowed by another; moreover there is no mistake.

Examples of मीलित are:—अपाङ्गनरले दृशौ मधुरवक्त्रवर्णा गिरो विलासभरसन्धरा गतिरतीव कानां मुखम् । इति स्फुरितमङ्गके मृगदृशां स्वने लीलया तदत्र न मदोदयः कृतपदोऽपि संलक्ष्यते ॥ (quoted by K. P. X.); मदिरा-मदभरपाटलकपोलतलोचनेषु वदनेषु । कोपो मनस्विनीनां न लक्ष्यते कामिभिः प्रभवन् ॥ रुद्रट VII. 108.

An example is 'मल्लिका etc.' (P. 58, ll. 21-22). मल्लिकाचित्त-धम्मिष्ठाः (मल्लिकापुष्पैः आचिताः पूर्णाः धम्मिष्ठाः संयताः केदाः यासां) चारुचन्द्रन-चचिताः (अत एव) चन्द्रिकासु (ज्योत्स्नायां चन्द्रकिरणेषु वा) अविभाव्याः (अलक्ष्याः ज्योत्स्नातो अगृहीतभेदाः) अभिसारिकाः ('कान्तार्थिनी तु या याति सङ्केतं साभिसारिका' इति अमर० II. 6 10) सुखं यान्ति. Here the subject of description (प्रस्तुत) is women going out to meet their lovers at an appointed place. Women are represented as not distinguishable from the moonlight, which is अप्रस्तुत, on account of the possession by both (women who had white Mallikā flowers in their tresses and were anointed with white sandal, and the moonlight) of a common property, viz. whiteness

The reason why this figure is called सामान्य is that here there is connection of two things with the same property (which renders them undistinguishable). Compare सम्मट 'तत्समानगुणनिबन्धनात्सामान्यम्' or अलं. स. 'तत्समानगुणयोगात्सामान्यम्' p. 169.

What constitutes सामान्य is—I. There are two things both of which are seen; II. Both the things possess one property in common; III. The two objects are within sight but are not distinguished from each other on account of the possession by both of the same property.

मीलिते.....भेदाग्रहः (P. 58, ll. 23-24). The author now proceeds to distinguish between मीलित and सामान्य. In the former, an object possessing a quality in an inferior degree is eclipsed by another possessing the same quality in a superior degree and the object that is निःकृष्टगुण is not perceived; while in सामान्य both the objects are perceived, but they are apprehended as undistinguishable on account of both the objects possessing like properties, Compare अलं. स. वि. 'स्वरूपेणावगतस्यापि भेदानध्यवसायः सामान्यं, बलवता तिरोहितत्वात्स्वरूपानवगमो मीलितमिति स्थितम् ।' p. 168; "प्रत्यक्षविषयस्यापि वस्तुनो बलवत्सजातीयग्रहणकृतं तद्विद्वत्वेनाग्रहणं सामान्यम् । मीलिते तु निगूह्यमानवस्तु न प्रत्यक्षविषयः ।" R. G. p. 516. This figure must also be distinguished from अपहृति. As there is no denial of anything and as nothing else is asserted in the place of the former, this is not अपहृति 'नेयमपहृतिः । किञ्चिदपहृत्य कस्याप्यनारोप्यमाणत्वात् ।' एका० p. 320. Similarly this is not आन्तिमान् In the latter, we mistake one thing for another and both the things are not perceived (one is perceived and the other is remembered); while in सामान्य both the things are directly perceived. 'न च आन्तिमता सङ्करः । तत्र सस्यमाणस्यारोपोऽत्रानुभूयमानस्येति विशेषात् ।' उद्घोत p. 134.

Examples of सामान्य are:—यसिन्दिहमानीनिकरावदाते चंद्रांशुकैवल्यमिव प्रयाते । पुच्छाश्रयाभ्यां विकला इवाद्रौ चरन्ति राकासु चिरं चमर्यः ॥; सुसितवसना-लङ्कारायां कदाचन कौमुदी—महसि सुदृशि स्वैरं यान्यां गतोऽस्तमभूद्विधुः । तदनु भवतः कीर्तिः केनाप्यगीयत येन सा प्रियगृहमगान्मुक्ताशङ्का क नासि शुभप्रदः ॥ K. P. X.

स्वगुणत्यागात् अत्युत्कृष्टगुणग्रहः तद्गुणः. When an object is represented as giving up its own quality and assuming the quality of another excellent thing (that is near), there is तद्गुण. An example is 'जगाद etc.' (p. 58 ll. 27-28). This is Śiśu. II. 21. वदनपद्मपर्यन्तपातिनः (वदनरूपं यत्पद्म तस्य पर्यन्ते समीपे पतन्ति इति तान्) मधुलिहः (भ्रमरान्) उदग्रदर्शनांशुभिः (उद्गताभिः) शुभ्रदन्तप्रभाभिः) श्वैल्यं (श्वेततां) नयन् (आपादयन्) जगाद (बलदेवः). Here, the bees, which are blue, are represented as giving up their blueness and assuming the whiteness of the shining teeth of Baladeva.

The reason why this figure is called तद्गुण is that in this the object of description (प्रकृत) assumes the properties of that (तत्) i. e. of a thing not in question or of a thing that possesses same quality in an eminent degree. Compare, K. P. X. 'तस्य अप्रकृतस्य गुणोऽत्रास्तीति' or अलं. स. 'तस्योत्कृष्टगुणस्य गुणा असिन्निति कृत्वा ।' p. 170.

The essentials of तद्गुण are:—I. One object (the प्रकृत) has another object near it; II. the thing that is प्रकृत gives up its own qualities and assumes the quality of the thing that is near. It should be, however, noticed that our author does not speak anything about प्रकृत or अप्रकृत. His example also is noteworthy. The bees are not प्रकृत, but rather अप्रकृत. According to our author, तद्गुण occurs when one object (whether प्रकृत or अप्रकृत) assumes the qualities of another. In giving the essentials of तद्गुण above we follow the authority of Mammata.

मीलिते.....इति भेदः (P. 58, ll. 29-30). An objection may be raised:—in तद्गुण, the quality of one thing is concealed by another and so there is no difference between तद्गुण and मीलित. Our author replies to this as follows:—In मीलित, the thing itself is concealed by another, so that the former is not perceived at all; while in तद्गुण, both the things are perceived (and not only one, as in मीलित), but the qualities of one are transferred to another; besides in मीलित, the thing that is covered up (or over-shadowed) does not give up its own qualities and assume another's (as in तद्गुण), but is only over-shadowed by another possessing the same quality in an eminent degree; while in तद्गुण, the thing loses its own quality and assumes a different one. Compare: न चेद् मीलितम् । तत्र हि प्रकृतं वस्तु वस्त्वन्तरेण आच्छादितत्वेन प्रतीयते, इह तु अनुपप्लुतस्वरूपमेव प्रकृतं वस्त्वन्तरगुणोपरक्तया प्रतीयते इत्यत्यनयोर्भेदः । अलं. स. p. 170. तद्गुण must be distinguished from सामान्य also. In the latter, one thing does not give up its qualities, but appears undistinguishable from another on account of the possession by both of similar properties; while in तद्गुण, both the things are seen distinctly, but one gives up its quality and assumes the quality of another which is dissimilar. In आन्तिमान् one thing is really seen and mistaken to be another, which is remembered; while here both are seen and there is no mistake. Vide the following lucid remarks of the Uddyota “मीलिते धर्मिण एवाग्रहः, सामान्येऽपरित्यक्तगुणस्यैव अपृथक्प्रतिभासः; इह तु गुणमात्रस्यैवाभिभवः धर्मिणः पृथग्भासश्चेति भेद इत्यर्थः । आन्तिमिति स्वर्यमाणस्यारोपोऽत्र गृह्यमाणस्येति भेदः । आन्तेर्निबद्धत्वाभावाच्च ।” pp. 137-138.

An objection may be raised as follows:—What is common to the three figures मीलित, सामान्य and तद्गुण is the non-perception of difference (whether of qualities or things). So instead of defining them separately, let there be one Alaṅkāra, with these three varieties. If a slight difference were sufficient to constitute a distinct figure, then छुत्तोपमा will have to be defined as a figure distinct from पूर्णोपमा. Jagannātha replies to this that this is not proper. He says that following the above reasoning, रूपक, परिणाम, अनिशयोक्ति etc. cannot be separately defined and will form varieties of one figure called अमेद्. Besides, in each of the three figures there is a distinct charm, as in रूपक, परिणाम etc. (which have been separately defined by all Ālaṅkārikas). Vide R. G. pp. 516-517.

Examples of तद्गुण are —विभिन्नवर्णा गरुडाग्रजेन सूर्यस्य रथाः परितः स्फुरन्त्या । रत्नैः पुनर्यत्र रुचं रुचा स्वामानिन्यरे वंशकररीरनीलैः ॥ शिशु. IV. 14; नीतो नासान्तिकं तन्व्या मालत्याः कुटुमोत्करः । बन्धूकभावमामिन्ये रागेणाधरवर्तिना ॥ R. G. p. 513.

हेतौ सत्यपि (उत्कृष्टगुणपदार्थसंनिधानाख्ये हेतौ सत्यपि) तद्रूपाननुहारः (तद्रूपस्य उत्कृष्टगुणस्य अनुनुहरणं न्यूनगुणेन अनुनुवर्तनं अग्रहणं वा) तु अतद्गुणः. When one thing does not assume the quality of another, though there is a reason for it, there is अतद्गुण. This definition is word for word the same as that of the अलं. स. 'सति हेतौ तद्गुणाननुहारोऽतद्गुणः'.

It should be noticed that the figure अतद्गुण would occur in two ways:—I when something not in question (अप्रकृत), which is न्यूनगुण, does not assume the quality of the thing in question, which is उत्कृष्टगुण (although it comes in contact with the latter), there is अतद्गुण; II when the thing in question (प्रकृत) does not assume the quality of another which is not in question (अप्रकृत), although the अप्रकृत is quite near the प्रकृत, there is अतद्गुण. The हेतु referred to in the definition means here 'the presence of a thing possessing excellent qualities'.

गाङ्गमम्बुचापचीयते (P. 59, ll. 6-7). गाङ्गम् (गङ्गायाः इदम् इति गाङ्गं गङ्गासम्बन्धि) अम्बु (जलं) सितम् (शुभ्रम्), यामुनं अम्बु (यमुनायाः जलं) कञ्जलामं (कञ्जलसदृशम्), राजहंस, उभयत्र मञ्जतः तव शुभ्रता सा एव (एकैव, न्यूनानातिरिक्ता वा), न चीयते (गङ्गाजलसम्बन्धेन न अधिका भवति) न च अपचीयते

पूर्वत्रा.....तद्गुणता (P. 59, ll. 8-10). पूर्वत्रा.....निष्पन्नम्. This has been explained above. प्राप्तवत् अपि although it is proper that it should follow. उत्तरत्रा.....न तद्गुणता. It may be contended that in 'गाङ्गमम्बु' etc the figure is अप्रस्तुतप्रशंसा (4th variety तुल्ये प्रस्तुते तुल्याभिधानम्); the description of राजहंस is not really the matter in hand; the subject of description is a good man, who remains the same (in character) in prosperity or adversity. Our author concedes this contention and says that, although absolutely speaking the swan is अप्रस्तुत, still in comparison to the Ganges and the Jumna, the swan is a subject in question, as the Ganges and Jumna are still more removed from the real subject of description, viz. a good person. As the swan, who is thus relatively प्रस्तुत, does not assume the qualities of the rivers, though in contact with them, there is अतद्गुण.

अत्र च.....शेषोक्तैर्भेदः (P. 59, ll. 10-11). It may be contended that in the above examples of अतद्गुण, there is विशेषोक्ति, because, though the hero is placed in the heart which is full of राग (i. e. हेतौ सत्यपि), he does not become रक्त (i. e. there is कार्याभाव) and though the swan plunges in the bright and dark waters of the Ganges and the Jumna, it does not heighten or lessen its whiteness. Therefore अतद्गुण should not be separately defined. Our author replies that अतद्गुण deserves to be a distinct figure because there is a distinct charm in it, viz. the peculiar striking circumstance of the non-assumption of the quality of one thing by another. In विशेषोक्ति, the charm consists in the representation that the effect does not follow, although its well-known causes are present; while in अतद्गुण, the charm lies in the non-assumption of the quality of one by another. Even if there be a causal relation, the poet does not intend (in अतद्गुण) to emphasize it; what he (poet) insists upon as charming is गुणाग्रहण. We are informed by Jayaratha that अतद्गुण was included under विशेषोक्ति by the author of अलङ्कारसार (p. 171 of विमर्शिनी).

वर्णान्तरोत्प.....विषमात् (P. 59, l. 11). अतद्गुण must be distinguished from the first variety of विषम, where the properties or actions of an effect are opposed to those of the cause. In सवः करस्पशं (example of विषम on text p. 51) the sword which is darkish produces fame (which is white) i. e. a dark thing produces an effect possessing a quality which is opposed to that of the cause. But in अतद्गुण, a distinct (and opposed) colour is not produced; e. g. in 'हन्त सान्द्रेण' etc. the राग of the heart in which the hero is enshrined does not produce another (and an opposed) colour in the hero. The only thing that happens is that the hero remains धवल as before and does not assume रक्तत्व. विषमालङ्कारे कारणविरोधिगुणान्तरोत्पत्तिरिति भेदः.

The reason why this figure is called अतद्गुण is: तस्य प्रकृतस्य गुणा असिन् अप्रकृते न सन्तीति अतद्गुणः, अथवा तस्य अप्रकृतस्य गुणा असिन् प्रकृते न सन्तीति अतद्गुणः. Compare Mammata's words 'किं च तदिति अप्रकृतं अस्येति च प्रकृतमत्र निर्दिश्यते'.

Examples of अतद्गुण are:—धवलो सि जह वि सुन्दर तह वि तुए मज्झ रंजिअं द्विअम् । राअमरिए वि हिअए सुहअ णिहित्तो ण रत्तो सि ॥ (quoted in K. P.); कुचाभ्यामालीढं सहजकठिनाभ्यामपि रमे न काठिन्यं धत्ते तव हृदयमत्यन्त-मृदुलम् । मृगाङ्गानामान्तर्जननि निवसन्ती खलु चिरं न कस्तूरी दूरीभवति निजसौरभ्य-विभवात् ॥ R. G. p. 514.

यत्र आकारेण (अवयवसंस्थानविशेषेण) इङ्गितेन (चेष्टाविशेषेण) वा संलक्षितः सूक्ष्मः अर्थः (तीक्ष्णमतिभिरेव संवेद्यः अर्थः) कयाऽपि भङ्ग्या (वैदग्ध्यप्रकारेण) सूच्यते तत् सूक्ष्मं उच्यते:—When a delicate circumstance gathered from some feature of the limbs (a) or from gesture (b) is intimated to another by means of a clever hint, it is सूक्ष्म. It should be observed that Amara gives आकार and इङ्गित as synonyms 'आकारस्त्विङ्ग इङ्गितम्' III. 2. 15; in another place, he says 'आकारा-विङ्गिताकृती' III. 3. 162. The commentator Bhanuji explains 'इङ्गितं चेष्टा । आकृतिरवयवसंस्थानम्'. Mammata and our author seem to have taken आकार in the sense of आकृति (posture or appearance) and इङ्गित in the sense of चेष्टा (gesture). चक्रवर्ति, author of the अलङ्कारसर्वस्वसञ्जीविनी, says आकृतिव्यञ्जिताश्चेष्टा इङ्गितं बुद्धि-कारिताः । आकारः पुनरास्त्रातस्ता एवाबुद्धिकारिताः ॥ तारापुटभृदृष्ट्यादेर्विकारानिङ्गितं विदुः । आकाराः सत्त्वजा भावा आद्या बुद्ध्यापरेन्यथा ॥' (quoted in the रत्नापण p. 465).

Here, the masculine action of a woman, concluded from the mixing up of the drops of perspiration with the saffron on the two sides of the throat, is intimated to her by another by means of drawing on her hand the figure of a sword which is the characteristic mark of man. Here the आकार (appearance) is कुङ्कुममेद on the throat, which leads to the guessing of पुरुषायिन (the सूक्ष्म अर्थ). This delicate circumstance is indicated in a clever manner by the drawing of the figure of a sword on the hand of the woman. How कुङ्कुममेद on throat leads to the inference of पुरुषायित्व is explained by commentators as follows: 'प्रसिद्धरनौ उत्तानायाः वक्त्रात् गलितस्य स्वेदस्य पृष्ठभागे एव गमनम्, कण्ठे तद्गमनं तु विपरीतरतावेवेति वक्त्रस्यन्दीत्यादेरभिप्रायः'.

An example of (b) is सङ्केतकालमनसं (P. 59, ll. 19-20). This occurs on p. 15 of the text and has been explained above. Here the curiosity of the lover to know the time of meeting, which (curiosity) was guessed from the movements of his eyebrows and the like and is intimated to him by the closing of a lotus which (closing) takes place at the approach of night. Here the सूक्ष्म अर्थ is the desire of the lover to know the time of meeting. This सूक्ष्मार्थ is guessed by इङ्गित, viz. the movements of the eyebrows. The fact that the woman understands the meaning of the look of the lover is conveyed in a clever manner (संज्ञा) by the closing of a lotus.

It should be observed that in सूक्ष्म, there exists अनुमिति also. But the figure is not अनुमान, because it is subordinate. The charm lies not in the inference of a delicate circumstance from appearance or gesture, but in devising a clever mark which would easily intimate to another that the delicate circumstance has been discovered 'अत्र विद्यमानमपि अनुमानं सूक्ष्माङ्गम् । स्ववैदग्ध्यप्रकाशनद्वारा सूक्ष्मस्यैव चमत्कारित्वात्' उद्धोत p. 116.

An example of सूक्ष्म is:—कदा नौ सङ्गमो भावीत्याकीर्णो वक्त्रमक्षनम् । अवेश्य कान्तमबला लीलापद्मं न्यमीलयत् ॥ K. D. II. 216 (on this Dapḍin remarks पद्मसंमीलनादन सूचितो निशि सङ्गमः । आश्वासयितुमिच्छन्त्या प्रियमङ्गजपीडितम् ॥).

65 व्याजोक्तिः (Dissembler).

An example is 'शैलेन्द्रं' (P. 58, ll. 25-28). शिवः वः (युष्मान्) अवतात् (रक्षतु) । कीदृशः । शैलेन्द्रेण हिमालयेन प्रतिपाद्यमाना दीयमाना गिरिजा पार्वती तस्याः हस्तः तस्य उपगूढ आश्लेषः (भावे क्तः) तेन उल्लसद्भिः आविर्भवद्भिः रोमाञ्चादिभिः विसंस्थुलः व्यग्रः स चासौ अखिलविधिव्यासङ्गभङ्गाकुलः सकलवैवाहिक-क्रियाभङ्गाकुलः (शिवः) आः इति पीडयाम् । (ततश्च सात्त्विकभावगोपनाय) तुहिनाचलस्य (हिमालयस्य) करयोः आः शैत्यमित्यूचिवान् । शैलस्य (हिमालयस्य) अन्तःपुर (स्त्रीजनः) मातृमण्डलं (ब्राह्मयादयः 'ब्राह्मीत्याद्यास्तु मातरः' अमर० I. 1. 35) गणाः (प्रमथाः शिवानुचराः) च तैः सस्मितं दृष्टः (शिवः रक्षतु) 'व्यासङ्गः व्यापारः'. शैलेन्द्र...भङ्गाकुलः who was perturbed by the appearance of tremor and horripilation due to the thrilling touch of Pārvatī and was troubled by the fear of the irregular performance of the ceremonies of marriage (because his mind was distracted). Here, the love for Pārvatī that was hidden is manifested (उद्भिन्न) by the indications of love (अनुभाव of रति, viz. रोमाञ्च, वेपथु, etc.); it is then concealed under the pretence (व्याजात्) that these indications, viz. पुलक and वेपथु, are due to cold (as cold also causes tremor and makes the hair stand erect). Compare प्रदीप 'पुलकवेपथुभ्यां सात्त्विकाभ्यां प्रकाशिता गूढा रतिः तयोः शैत्य-कारणताप्रकाशनेनापह्नुतेति व्याजोक्तिरियम् 1'; 'अत्र रोमाञ्चादिनोद्भिन्नो रतिभावः शैत्यप्रक्षेपेणानपलपितः 1' अलं. स. p. 174.

What constitutes व्याजोक्ति is.—I. something is at first hidden; II. then it is manifested somehow (involuntarily); III but it is then represented as not being due to what really causes it, but to something else.

The reason why this figure is called व्याजोक्ति is that here there is a putting forward (उक्ति) of a pretext (व्याज), viz. representing a thing as due to something else. Compare 'वस्त्वन्तरप्रक्षेपरूपस्य व्याजस्य वचनाद्व्याजोक्तिः 1' अलं. स. p. 174.

मण्डल etc.; while in व्याजोक्ति, only one is expressed and the other (the विषय, which is concealed under a pretext) is only suggested. Mammata draws another distinction between व्याजोक्ति and अपहृति. In अपहृति, there is resemblance between प्रकृत and अप्रकृत (the उपमेय and the उपमान); but this is not possible in व्याजोक्ति. There is really no charming resemblance between रतिभाव and शैल्य. Besides in अपहृति, the उपमेय is denied and the उपमान is established in its stead; but in व्याजोक्ति nothing is denied, but something is represented as due to a cause other than that to which it is really due. 'न चैषापहृतिः प्रकृताप्रकृतोभयनिष्ठस्य साम्यस्येहासम्भवात्' K. P. X; 'तत्र (अपहृतौ) उपमेयनिषेधपूर्वकमुपमानव्यवस्थापनम् । अत्र तु किञ्चिदनिषिध्यैव निमित्तान्तरदयुक्तत्वज्ञानमित्यपि बोध्यम् ।' उद्योत p. 108. The difference between व्याजोक्ति and the 2nd kind of अपहृति has been explained in our notes on the latter (p. 138).

An example is लाङ्गूलेन etc. (P. 60, ll. 4-7). लाङ्गूलेन क्षितितलं (भूमितलं) अमिहत्य, अग्रपद्भ्याम् (अग्रे वर्तिभ्याम् पादाभ्याम्) असकृद् (वारं वारं) दारयन् (क्षितितलमिति योज्यम्), आत्मनि एव (स्वदेहे एव) अवलीय (प्रविश्य, अतिखर्वीभूयेति अर्थः), अथ (पश्चात्) गगनं विक्रमेण (अतिशक्तितया) द्रुतं प्रोत्पतन्, स्फूर्जद्भ्रूवारघोषः (स्फूर्जन् ह्रस्व इति घोषः यस्य), अखिलान् जन्तून् प्रतिदिशं द्रावयन् एषः कोपाविष्टः (कोपेन आविष्टः) अरुणोच्छ्रनचक्षुः (अरुणे रक्ते उच्छ्रने च चक्षुषी यस्य) तरक्षुः (मृगादनः) प्रतिवनं (वने वने) प्रविष्टः. अरुणोतरक्षुः the hyena, with red and swollen eyes. आत्मन्येवावलीय shrinking into himself for a moment. क्षिति...पद्भ्याम् = Scraping the ground again and again with his front feet. Here there is a description of the actions and characteristics of a hyena that are peculiar to it.

It should be borne in mind that a matter of fact description of an object does not constitute स्वभावोक्ति. Otherwise, even such a sentence as 'पश्य बलीवदौघं वासमस्ति मुखेन' will be an example of स्वभावोक्ति. What constitutes स्वभावोक्ति is:—The description must be charming; II The description must be in reference to the क्रिया and स्वरूप of an object, such as a child, lower animals etc. 'आदिना युवतिमुग्धकातरतिर्यग्भ्रान्तहीनपात्रादिसंग्रहः' उद्योत p. 88; III. The actions and characteristics described must be peculiar to the object described and must not be such as to be common to it and others; IV the description must be faithful and not hyperbolic.

The figure स्वभावोक्ति was also called जाति* by ancient writers; e. g. दण्डिन्, रुद्रट and भोज. See K. D. II. 8-18. Rudrata defines जाति as 'संस्थानावस्थानक्रियादि यद्यस्य यादृशं भवति । लोके चिरप्रसिद्धं तत्कथनमनन्यथा जातिः ॥ शिशुमुग्धयुवतिकातरतिर्यक्संभ्रान्तहीनपात्राणाम् । सा कालावस्योचितचेष्टासु विशेषतो रम्या ॥' VII. 30-31.

Examples of स्वभावोक्ति are:—क्षणं नद्धार्थवलिः शृङ्गेणाम्रे क्षणं नुदन् । लोलीकरोति प्रणयादिमामेष मृगार्थकः ॥ उद्भट III. 9; धूलीधूसरतनवो राज्यस्थितिरचनकल्पितैकनृपाः । कृतमुखवाचविकाराः क्रीडन्ति मुनिभैरं डिम्भाः ॥ रुद्रट VII. 32.

An example is मुनिः० (P. 60, ll. 11-12). This is cited in the ध्वन्यालोक p. 239, as an example where the description of a thing which is favourable to the development of some rasa produces great charm, although a figure of speech may be absent. 'अत एव च रसानुगुणार्थविशेषोपनिबन्धनमलङ्कारान्तरविरहेऽपि च्छायातिशययोगि लक्ष्ये दृश्यते । यथा—मुनिर्जयति० । अत्र ह्यद्भुतरसानुगुणमेकचुलुके मत्स्यकच्छपदर्शनं छायातिशयं पुष्पाति । तत्र ह्येकचुलुके जलसंनिधानादपि दिव्यमत्स्यकच्छपदर्शनमक्षुण्णत्वादद्भुतरसानुगुणतरम् । क्षुण्णं हि वस्तु लोकप्रसिद्धाद्भुतमपि नाश्चर्यकारि भवति ।' ध्व. p. 239. कुम्भसम्भवः (कुम्भात् सम्भवः यस्य) महात्मा योगीन्द्रः (योगिनां इन्द्रः श्रेष्ठः) मुनिः (अगस्त्यः) जयति, येन तौ (अतिप्रसिद्धौ) दिव्यौ मत्स्यकच्छपौ (मत्स्यकूर्मौ विष्णोरवतारी) एकचुलुके दृष्टौ. एकचुलुके दृष्टौ saw in the hollow of one of his hands the fish and the tortoise (the two incarnations of Viṣṇu), when he (Agastya) drank up the ocean in one handful of water. Here the wonderful thing is the seeing of the divine Fish and Tortoise in a handful of water (the sea). This wonderful thing appears as if it were present to the reader's eye on account of the vividness and strikingness of the description.

In the above treatment of the figure Bhāvika, acc. to the words of विश्वनाथ, we widely differ from the interpretation of Rāmacarapa. राम० takes भाविक to be of two sorts:—I अद्भुतस्य पदार्थस्य प्रत्यक्षायमाणत्वम् and II भूतस्याथ भविष्यतः प्रत्यक्षायमाणत्वम्. He instance 'मुनिर्जयति' etc. as an example of the first and असीदञ्जन etc. as an example of the 2nd. We, on the other hand, think that राम० is wrong, that there are no such two varieties acc. to विश्वनाथ, and that the two verses are examples of one and the same thing, viz. अद्भुतस्य पदार्थस्य (whether भूत or भविष्यत्) प्रत्यक्षायमाणत्वम्. Our reasons are:—I If Rāmacarapa's interpretation be accepted, then we shall be obliged to suppose that our author sets at naught all ancient and respectable authority. Bhāmaha, Udbhata and Ruyyaka all define Bhāvika as the representation of something past or future as if it were present. None of them speaks of अद्भुतस्य प्रत्यक्षायमाणत्वं as a distinct variety of भाविक. On the other hand, Bhāmaha, Udbhata and Ruyyaka in the clearest terms say that अद्भुतत्वं is one of the conditions (or causes) of the figure Bhāvika. Note carefully the following, 'भाविकत्वमिति प्राहुः प्रबन्धविषयं गुणम्। प्रत्यक्षा इव दृश्यन्ते यत्रार्था भूतभाविनः॥ चित्रोदात्ताद्भुतार्थत्वं कथायां स्वमिनीतता। शब्दानाकुलता चेति तस्य हेतुं प्रचक्षते॥' मामह III. 52-53; 'प्रत्यक्षा इव यत्रार्था दृश्यन्ते भूतभाविनः। अत्यद्भुताः स्यात्तद्वाचामनाकुल्येन भाविकम्॥' उद्भट VI. 12; 'अतीतानागतयोः प्रत्यक्षायमाणत्वं भाविकम्। सूत्र। अतीतानागतयोर्भूतभाविनोरर्थयोरलौकिकित्वेनात्यद्भुतत्वाद् व्यस्तसम्बन्धरहितशब्दसन्दर्भसमर्पितत्वाच्च प्रत्यक्षायमाणत्वं भाविकम्।' अलं. स. p. 178. II. Rāmacarapa's interpretation is opposed to the words of the author himself. If there were two varieties of भाविक, we expect some such particle as च and some reference to the two-fold division (as द्विधा) in the definition of भाविक. There is nothing of the sort. Moreover, our author introduces the second example (असीदञ्जन etc.) with the words यथा 'वा', which clearly show that the second example illustrates the same thing as the first, and preclude the idea that there are two varieties. Compare the definition of उदात्त immediately below where वृ occurs in the definition itself. We therefore think that Rāmacarana should not be followed, even though Pramadādāsa follows him in his translation, and that so far as विश्वनाथ's words go our interpretation is the only proper one.

What constitutes भाविक acc. to the साहित्यदर्पण is:—I There is a description of something past or future; II The description is of something which is strikingly wonderful or extraordinary (चित्र or अद्भुत); III The description is put in words that are perspicuous and the best adapted to the sense; IV The description of the past or future object must be such as to vividly present the object to the reflective mind of the reader. Vide the interesting remarks of the अरु. स. pp. 178-180. It should be borne in mind that the figure भाविक is spoken of as प्रबन्धविषय (having the whole work for its province, and not a verse) by Dandin and Bhāmaha. Bhaṭṭi, in his Bhaṭṭi-kāvya (canto 12), follows the same view, acc. to commentators. According to them, the figure permeates the whole composition and not a single verse. It is for this reason that Dandin and Bhāmaha do not give an example of भाविक. See K. D. II. 364-366.

The reason why this figure is called भाविक is: भाव means 'the intention of the poet' (कवेराशयः or अमिप्रायः) and the figure is called भाविक, because in it the meaning of the poet is so well conveyed that it is as it were reflected in the reader (i. e. the reader vividly feels the same emotion which inspired the poet); or भाव means 'revolving in the mind', and the figure is called भाविक, because in it there is this revolving in the mind of the readers. Compare K. P. X. 'भावः कवेरमिप्रायोऽत्रास्तीति भाविकम्'; 'कविगतो भावः आशयः श्रोतरि प्रतिबिम्बत्वेनास्तीति, भावो भावना वा पुनः पुनश्चेतसि निवेशनं सोऽत्रास्तीति' अरु. स. p. 178; भावः कवेरमिप्रायो निश्चयादिप्रतीतिविशेषकोत्रास्तीति व्युत्पत्तेरित्यर्थः । प्रदीप.

न चायं प्रसादाख्यो गुणः.....अहेतुत्वात् (P. 60, ll. 16-17). It was said above in dealing with the essentials of भाविक that the words must be well adapted to the sense so as to vividly present the meaning of the poet to the reader's mind. It may be contended that this is not possible unless the words are perspicuous and hence that भाविक is nothing but the gūṇa प्रसाद. It was said in the first pari. that rasa is the soul of poetry and that, just as bravery etc. (गुण) are possessed by the soul, there are certain properties of the soul of Poetry which are manifested by words. The number of these गुण is given differently by different writers. Mammata and our author speak of only three Guṇas, माधुर्य, ओजस् and प्रसाद. See K. P. VIII. and S. D. VIII. प्रसाद (Lucidity, Perspicuity) is defined by K. P. as 'शुक्लेन्धनाशिवत्स्वच्छजलवत्सहसैव यः। व्याप्नोत्यन्यत्प्रसादोऽसौ सर्वत्र विहितस्थितिः॥' and again 'श्रुतिमात्रेण शब्दास्तु येनार्थप्रत्ययो भवेत्। साधारणः समग्रानां स प्रसादो गुणो मतः॥' K. P. VIII. p. 476 and p. 486; भावह II. 3 अविद्वदङ्गनावलप्रतीतार्थं प्रसादवत्. Prasāda is a Guṇa which is common to all Rasas, by which the moment the words are uttered, the meaning is apprehended and which pervades the mind at once (i. e. which is instrumental in evolving at once the Rasas in the mind), in the case of वीर or रौद्र like fire pervading dry fuel and in the case of शृङ्गार or करुण like water permeating a clean sheet of cloth. An example of प्रसादगुण is 'परिमलानं पीनस्तनजघनसङ्गादुभयतस्तनोर्मध्यस्यान्तः परिमलनमप्राप्य हरितम्। इदं व्यस्तन्यासं श्लथभुजलताक्षेपवलनैः कृशाङ्ग्याः सन्तापं वदन्ति विसिनीयन्नशयनम्॥', रत्नावली II. Our author replies that प्रसाद is not the same as भाविक, because the former is not a (necessary) cause of a past or future thing appearing as if it were present. Our author means that प्रसाद (Perspicuity) is not absolutely necessary for the appearance of a past or future object as if it were present. This latter may be brought about by other things, such as attendant circumstances, the powerful feeling of the poet or reader etc.

न चाङ्गुनो.....हेतुत्वात् (P. 60, l. 17). The past or future thing must be अङ्गुत in भाविक. So it may be said that भाविक is not a figure at all, but merely अङ्गुतरस. The Rasas are 8 or 9. 'शृङ्गारहास्यकरुणा रौद्रवीरभयानकाः। बीभत्साङ्गुतसंज्ञाश्चेत्यष्टौ नाख्ये रसाः स्मृताः॥' भरत's नाट्यशास्त्र VI. 15 (the 9th is शान्त). विसय is the स्थायिभाव of अङ्गुतरस, the विभाव is seeing something that is extraordinary, accomplishment of what is desired, इन्द्रजाल etc. The अनुभाव (indications) are नयनविस्तार, रोमाञ्च etc. The terms स्थायिभाव etc. have been explained in the notes on the 1st परिच्छेद. The स्थायिभाव विसय, in conjunction with the appropriate विभाव, अनुभाव and व्यभिचारिभाव evolves in the mind of the spectator or reader the अङ्गुतरस. An example of अङ्गुत is, चराचरजगज्जालसदनं वदनं तव। गलद्गगनगाम्भीर्यं वीक्ष्यासि हृतचेतना॥'; कदाचिद्भगवतो नासुदेवस्य वदनमालोकितावल्या यशोदाया इयमुक्तिः। अत्र वदनमालम्बनम्। अन्तर्गतचराचर-जगज्जालदर्शनमुदीपनम्। हृतचेतनत्वं तेन गम्यं रोमाञ्चनेत्रस्फारणादि चानुभावः। त्रासादयो व्यभिचारिणः। R. G. p. 42. Our author replies that भाविक is not अङ्गुतरस, because the former is what causes विसय (the स्थायिभाव of अद्भुतरस). What the author means seems to us to be as follows:—the स्थायिभाव विस्मय, in conjunction with the विभावs and अनुभावs etc. causes the development of अद्भुतरस; while in भाविक there is no विस्मय, but only what would cause विस्मय; e. g. in आसीदजन etc. there is no reference to the sentiment of wonder in the speaker or reader i. e. the speaker or reader is not represented as engrossed in relishing अद्भुतरस, but rather as perceiving as it were what is past or future. This state of his may cause विस्मय to others. But as regards him, there is no विस्मय and hence no अद्भुतरस. Pramadādāsa asks us to read अहेतुत्वाद् for हेतुत्वाद्. But then it would be hard to explain the words, as he himself remarks "It indeed seems odd to speak of the representation of a wonderful object causing no wonder." The ms. G reads विस्मयं प्रति तस्याहेतुत्वाद्, which seems to have been due to the copyist transcribing again the words in the preceding line 'तस्याहेतुत्वाद्'. The विज्ञप्रिया explains 'तस्य विस्मयं प्रति हेतुत्वादेव न तु विस्मयरूपत्वादित्यर्थः ।'

न चाति.....भावात् (P. 60, ll. 17-18). भाविक is not अतिशयोक्ति, because there is no introsusception in the former (while it exists in the latter). In अतिशयोक्ति one thing is completely swallowed up by another and is spoken of in terms of the latter. In भाविक also, a thing which is past or future is spoken of as being present; and so there is अमेदाध्यवसाय. This objection our author meets with a flat denial. In भाविक there is no अमेदाध्यवसाय at all. Even when the past or future object vividly presents itself to the mind as if it were present, there is a deep seated but certain knowledge that the object is past or future. Compare अलं. स. 'नापीयमतिशयोक्तिः । अन्यस्यान्यतयाध्यवसायाभावात् ।' p 179. It should be observed that the Uddyota says that भाविक is the same as that अतिशयोक्ति in which there is असम्बन्धे सम्बन्धः. 'असम्बन्धे सम्बन्धरूपातिशयोक्त्यैव गतार्थोऽयम् । प्रत्यक्षासम्बन्धेऽपि तत्सम्बन्धवर्णनात् । भूतादिवस्त्वसम्बन्धेऽपि तत्सम्बन्धवर्णनाच्चेति ।' उद्योत p. 93.

न च.....प्रकाशनात् (P. 60, ll. 18-19). Our author copies the very words of the अलं. स. In भ्रान्तिमान्, one thing is mistaken for another similar to it. Here there is no mistake; for what is past or future is mentioned as past or future, as in आसीदजन etc.

न च स्वभावोक्तिः.....स्तीति (P. 60, ll. 19-21). It was said above that in भाविक there is a description of an extraordinarily striking object (whether past or future). In स्वभावोक्ति also there is a description of an object with regard to its क्रिया or रूप. What difference is there between the two? The reply is:—In स्वभावोक्ति, there is a faithful description of the nice (सूक्ष्म) characteristics of an object of everyday experience; while in भाविक, there is the peculiarly striking circumstance, viz. an object (really past or future) appearing as present. Clearly put the difference is as follows:—I. in स्वभावोक्ति there is a description of the peculiar धर्म of a लौकिक वस्तु, such as a child, a beast, a frightened person etc.; in भाविक there is a description of an अलौकिकवस्तु as in मुनिर्ज०; II in स्वभावोक्ति the description is admitted by all to be faithful, but there is no appearance of a past or future object as if it were present; in भाविक, a past or future object does appear as if it were present. 'नापीयं सुन्दरवस्तु-स्वभाववर्णनात् स्वभावोक्तिः। तस्यां लौकिकवस्तुगतसूक्ष्मधर्मवर्णने साधारण्येन हृदय-संवादसम्भवात्, इह च लोकोत्तराणां वस्तूनां स्फुटनया (पुरःस्फुरद्रूपतया) तादृश्येन प्रतीतौ (तेः?)' अलं. स. p. 181.

यदि पुन.....सङ्करः If, in a rare case, in the description of the nature of an object, the above peculiarity occurs, then there is a commixture of the two figures (भाविक and स्वभावोक्ति). If while describing the peculiar धर्म of a लौकिकवस्तु, it so happens that the thing, past or future, vividly appears before the mind as if it were present, then there is सङ्कर of भाविक and स्वभावोक्ति. An example of such a सङ्कर is given by जयरथ. 'हिरम्बोऽत्र हरीश्वरे नखमुद्धैः कण्डूयमाने गले कुर्वन्पुच्छविवर्तनां निविरतो रोमन्धली-लायितात् । संमीलन्नयने विसंस्थुलसत्सार्धं नतोन्नामितग्रीवं निश्चलकणीमीश्वरवलीवर्दः सुखं मन्यते ॥' अत्र वृषभस्य पुच्छविवर्तनादिसूक्ष्मधर्मवर्णनेन स्वभावोक्तिः, प्रत्यक्षायमाणत्वेन भाविकमित्यनयोः समावेशः ।" अ. स. वि. p. 181.

subject of description is what is actually apprehended (and not what is past or future) The person spoken of is present before the speaker and besides the description of the umbrella and chāmara as being present is due to a sort of reasoning (viz. as he is possessed of kingly lustre, he must be surrounded by umbrella). वर्णना.....स्वरूपत्वात्. And because this figure has for its essence the circumstance of appearing as present solely through the force of the description. Compare अलं. स. “इह क्वचिद्वर्णनीयस्य वर्णनावशादेव प्रत्यक्षायमाणत्वम् । क्वचित्प्रत्यक्षायमाणस्यैव वर्णनम् । आद्यो यथोदाहृतं प्राक् (मुनिर्जयतीत्यादि) । द्वितीयो यथा—‘अनातपत्रो’ इत्यादि... तस्माद्वास्तवमेव महत्त्वमुत्तरत्र प्रकारविषये वर्णितमिति नायमलङ्कारः ।” pp. 182-83. यत्पुनरप्र...इत्यादौ where something, though not actually present appears as if present on account of the description, there this figure occurs as in ‘आसीदञ्जन’ etc.

An example of (I) is अधःकृता etc. (P. 61, ll. 1-2). यस्यां (नगर्यां) अधःकृताम्भोधरमण्डलानां (अधःकृतं अम्भोधराणां पयोधराणां मण्डलं यैः) ज्योत्स्नानिपातात् क्षरतां (स्यन्दमानानां) शशाङ्कोपलकुट्टिमानां (चन्द्रकान्तमणिभिः निबद्धानां कुट्टिमानां ‘कुट्टिमोऽस्त्री निबद्धा भूः’) पयोभिः (जलैः) केलीवनं (क्रीडाकाननं) वृद्धिं (पुष्टिं) उरीकरोति (स्वीकरोति, पुष्टिं गच्छतीत्यर्थः). अधःकृताम्भोधरमण्डलानां शशा...मानान् of the roofs of the moonstone, which (roofs) leave the sphere of the clouds far beneath them i. e. which are built so high. Here what is to be conveyed is the extreme prosperity of the citizens. For this purpose a hyperbolical description is given to the effect that pleasure-gardens were fed by the water oozing from roofs of moonstone etc.

An example of (II) is नामि etc. (P. 61, ll. 3-4). This occurs in रघु० XIII. 6. नामिप्रमित्रांश्चरुहासनेन (नामैः प्रसिद्धं उद्धतं अम्बुरुहं पद्मं आसनं यस्य) प्रथमेन धात्रा (वेधसा, दक्षादीनानपि स्रष्टा) संस्तुयमानः, युगान्तोचितयोगनिद्राः (युगान्ते उचिता परिचिता योगनिद्रा यस्य) पुरुषः (परमात्मा विष्णुः) लोकान् संहृत्य (विलयं नीत्वा) अमुं (समुद्रं) अधिश्तेते Here the subject of description is the ocean and it is therefore the principal topic (अङ्गिन्). The actions of the lord Visnu are here subordinate or collateral (अङ्ग) to the description of the sea. The great Lord, who is used to the slumber of Yoga at the end of a mundane period and who destroys the worlds, is here spoken of as resting on the ocean. This suggests the greatness of the latter.

The two varieties of उदात्त are really two distinct figures but they have been treated together because the same name is given to both. The first is called उदात्त, because there is a description of the possession of enormous prosperity; the second variety is called उदात्त, because in it the subject of description is connected with the actions of a truly noble personage. Compare “एतेन उदात्तैश्वर्ययोगादुदात्तः प्रागुक्तः, अयं तूदात्तपुरुषचरितयोगादुदात्त इति पूर्वस्मादन्य एवायमलङ्कारोऽर्थभेदात् । परं तु शब्दसान्धान्यादस्यैव (त्रैव?) निरूपणम् ।” तरल p. 331. भट्टि called this figure उदार and रुद्रट speaks of it as अवसर.

What distinguishes उदात्त from भाविक and स्वभावोक्ति is that in the two latter, things are described as they are, while in उदात्त (1st variety) the poet gives an imaginative description of an object as possessed of prosperity beyond the experience of man. ‘स्वभावोक्तौ भाविके च यथावद्रस्तुवर्णनम् । तदिपक्षत्वेनारोपितवस्त्वात्मन उदात्तस्यावसरः । तत्रासम्भाव्यमानविभूतियुक्तस्य वस्तुनो वर्णनं कविप्रतिभोत्थापित-मैश्वर्यलक्षणमुदात्तम् ।’ अलं. स. pp. 183-184.

Examples of उदात्त are: उवाच च यतः क्रोडे वेणुकुञ्जरजन्मभिः । मुक्ताफलैरलङ्कारः शबरीणामपीच्छया ॥ पुष्टयेन्द्रनीलवैदूर्यपद्मरागमयैर्विषत् । शिरोभिर्-छिन्नचित्र शिखरं गन्धमादनम् ॥ उद्धट IV. 19 and 20; चाणक्यो नक्तमुपयान्द-न्नीडागृहं यथा । शशिकान्तोपलच्छन्नं विवेद पयसां गणैः ॥ आमह III. 13; II. (variety) तदिदमरण्यं यस्मिन्दशरथवचनानुपालनव्यसनी । निवसन्बाहुसहायश्चकार रक्षःक्षयं रामः ॥ रुद्रट VIII. 104.

(Impassioned, Devoted, Impetuous and Allayment).

(1) When रस, or (2) भाव, or (3) the semblance of रस and भाव, or (4) the quelling of a भाव (sentiment), are reduced to a

Rasas are Love etc which are particular states of the mind of the spectator or reader, and are evolved by appropriate विभाव, अनुभाव and व्यभिचारिभाव. All these terms have been explained in the notes on the 1st Pari. (pp. 30-32). It sometimes so happens that the principal Rasa is one, while another Rasa helps on its development and is therefore subordinate to it. When this is the case, the figure is रसवत्, which is so called because there is in it association of a Rasa. Compare “प्रधानतां यत्र रसादयो गता रसो रसादिध्वनिगोचरो भवेत् । भवन्ति ते यत्र रसादिपोषका रसाद्यलङ्कारदशा हि सा पृथक् ॥” quoted by Jayaratha, p. 186; ‘यस्मिन्काव्ये प्रधानतयाऽन्योऽर्थो वाक्यार्थभूतस्तस्य चाङ्गभूता ये रसादयस्ते रसादेरलङ्कारस्य विषय इति मामकीनः पक्षः । ध्वन्यालोक p. 71. An example of रसवद् is ‘अयं स रसनोत्कर्षो पीनस्तनविमर्दनः । नान्यूरुजघनस्पर्शो नीवीविस्त्रंसनः करः ॥’ महाभारत, स्त्रीपर्व अ० 24. 19. This verse was cited by Viśvanātha in the 4th Pari. These are the words of the wives of Bhūriśravas, who fell in battle, at the sight of his hand. ‘अयं दृश्यमानावस्यः कर इत्यन्वयः । पूर्वावस्था-मेवाह-रसनेत्यादि । रसनां काञ्चीमुत्कर्षतीति । तथा पीनयोः स्तनयोर्विमर्दकारी नाभिश्च ऊरु च जघनं चैतानि स्पृशतीति तच्छीलः । (‘नीवी संग्रथनं नार्या जघनस्थस्य वाससः’ नाममाला) वसनग्रन्थेर्विस्त्रंसनः मोचकः इति । एव चैवंविधशृङ्गारलीला-पात्रभूतस्य ईदृशदुरवस्थाप्राप्तिरिति करुणपरिपोषः । उ. च. p. 159. This verse forms part of the lamentations of the women. The principal Rasa is करुण (Pathos). In the present verse the Rasa is शृङ्गार (Love). The description of the amorous movements of the hand, that are remembered by the women, heightens the main Rasa (viz. करुण), because the recollection of those movements is an excitant (उद्दीपनविभाव) of करुण (the loss of the women appears the greater when it is seen what the hand had been to them). Thus love being not the principal Rasa intended, but only subordinate (as heightening the main Rasa, Karuna) the figure is रसवद्. एवमन्यत्रापि—Similarly in the case of other Rasas. An example of रसवद्, where करुण is an अङ्ग is ‘किं हास्येन न मे प्रयास्यसि पुनः प्राप्तश्चिरादर्शनं केयं निष्करुण प्रवासरचिता केनासि दूरीकृतः । स्वप्नान्तेष्विति ते वदन्प्रियतमव्यासत्तकण्ठग्रहो बुद्ध्वा रोदिति रिक्तबाहुवलयस्तारं रिपुस्त्रीजनः ॥’ ध्व० p. 72 (इत्यत्र करुणरसस्य शुद्धस्याङ्ग-भावात्स्पष्टमेव रसवदलङ्कारत्वम्). Another example, where हास्य is an अङ्ग of शृङ्गार is ‘का त्वं रक्तापटावगुण्ठितमुखी मुग्धे तवाहं सखी किं शून्यौकसि केवला निवससि त्वामागतान्नेषितुम् । पतद्भक्तमुदक्षयेति कथयन्त्यालोक्य कूर्चं ततः पत्युः सेरसुखाम्बुजयं तरुणी जाता विलक्षसिता ॥’ विम० p. 188; अत्र वाक्यार्थभूतः शृङ्गारः, अङ्गभूतस्तु हास्यः.

ऊर्जस्वि—When रसाभाव and भावाभास become subordinate to something else, there is ऊर्जस्वि. We have explained in our notes on the 1st Pari. the meaning of रसाभास. When रस and भाव are described in connection with improper (or unworthy) objects, there occur respectively रसाभास* and भावाभास. 'आभासत्वमविषय-प्रवृत्त्याऽनौचित्यम् ।' अलं. स. p. 185. The figure is called ऊर्जस्वि, because in it there is 'ūrjas,' i. e. impetuosity or force, in so far as there is improper procedure. An example of ऊर्जस्वि (due to रसाभास) is 'वने etc.' (p. 61, ll. 15-16). निजस्त्रियः परिहृत्य अखिलकलासक्ताः (नृत्यगीतादिकलासु असक्ताः) पुलिन्दाः (किराताः) वने त्वद्वैरिवनितावृन्दे (तव वैरिणा या वनिताः तासां समूहे) रति कुर्वते. Here the principal sentiment is that of love having for its object the king (राजविषया रति is a भाव and not रस according to the definition quoted above 'रतिर्देवादिविषया etc.'). This sentiment is helped by the description of the love of the savages for the royal ladies. This is शृङ्गाराभास (and not शृङ्गार), because there is impropriety (अनौचित्य) in the love as it is adulterous. As शृङ्गाराभास is here subordinate to something else, the figure is ऊर्जस्वि. The same holds good in the case of ऊर्जस्वि based upon भावाभास. An example of it is "द्विषां तवारण्यनिवासमीयुषां नितम्बिनीनां निकुरम्बकं नृप । मुहुर्मुहुर्लक्ष्यश्रवलद्विलोचनं न केन पछीपतिना निरीक्षितः (तम्) ॥" (quoted by Jayaratha, p. 190). Here the (व्यभिचारिभाव) औत्सुक्य (eagerness) of the Sabaras, having for its object the wives of others, is a भावाभास. This भावाभास is subordinate to the main sentiment of Love for the king.

समाहित—समाहित means 'giving up or quelling' (of a sentiment). The figure समाहित occurs when भावप्रशम (or भावशान्ति) becomes subordinate to something else. An example is अविरल etc. This is quoted by Mammata (K. P. V. Vā, p. 198). अविरलकर-वाल्कम्पनैः (अविरलानि निरन्तराणि करवालानां खड्गानां कम्पनानि तैः) भ्रुकुटीत-जैनगर्जनैः (भ्रुकुटीतर्जनं च गर्जनं च) मुहुः (वारंवारं) तव वैरिणां मदः (दयः) ददृशे (दृष्टः) तव ईक्षणे क्षणात् स कापि गतः. Here the quelling of the sentiment of pride in the enemies is subordinate to the sentiment of love for the king (which is principal). Another example of समाहित is : अत्युच्चाः परितः स्फुरन्ति गिरयः स्फारास्तथाम्भोधयस्ताने-

of विश्वनाथ.

When there is an excitement of a mood, when there is a conjunction of moods, and when there is a commixture of moods, all of them being subordinate to something else, there are भावोदय, भावसन्धि and भावशबल respectively. Our author does not expressly say that भावोदय etc. must be subordinate in order to constitute the figure भावोदय etc. But that qualification necessarily follows from the treatment of the four figures रसवद् etc.

What is meant by भावोदय is:—The word भाव has been already explained. उदय means 'the condition of being in process of evolution'. भावोदय occurs when a भाव is described as occurring or as being in process of evolution, and not when the भाव is completely evolved. The latter is the province of the figure प्रेयः. When भावोदय becomes subordinate to something else the figure is भावोदय. An example is मधु* etc. (p. 61, ll. 25-26). ते (तव) वैरिणः (शत्रवः) मुहुर्मुहुः सह मधुपानप्रवृत्ताः (मधुपानाय प्रवृत्ताः) कुतोऽपि त्वन्नाम श्रुत्वा विषमां दशां लेभिरे. Here the principal sentiment is love for the king. The sentiment of terror that is described as arising is subordinate to this main sentiment.

भावसन्धि—भावसन्धि occurs when two भावस (that are opposed to each other) are described as competing with each other. प्रदीप explains it as 'experience of two equally strong sentiments at the same time' (सन्धिरेककालमेव तुल्यक्षयोरस्वादः । प्र० p. 110 or 'सन्धिर्द्वयोर्विरुद्धयोः स्पर्धित्वेनोपनिबन्धः' अलं. स. p. 191). भावसन्धि (the figure) occurs when भावसन्धि is subordinate to something else. An example is जन्मान्तरीण etc. (p. 61, ll. 28-29). जन्मान्तरीणस्य

भावशबल—When many bhāvas are represented as successively taking the place of each preceding one, there is भावशबल ‘शबलता तु कालभेदेन निरन्तरतया पूर्वपूर्वोपनर्दिनाम् (आस्वादः)।’ प्रदीप p. 110 (Nir.) or ‘शबलता च बहूनां पूर्वोपमर्देन निबन्धः’ अलं. स. p. 191. The figure भावशबल occurs when भावशबल is represented as subordinate. An example of the figure भावशबल is ‘पश्येत् etc. This is found in K. P. V. (Vā. p. 200). कश्चित् पश्येत् (आवां इति अध्याहार्यम्), चपल (चञ्चलस्वभाव), चल (दूरमपसर), रे का त्वरा (किमर्थमेवं त्वरसे), अहं कुमारी (त्वया सह एकाकिन्या नैव गन्तुं युक्तम्), हस्तालम्बं (हस्तस्य आलम्बं) वितर (देहि), हहहा व्युत्क्रमः (हहहा इति खेदे, व्युत्क्रमः विपरीताचारः, यदहं कुमारी सती त्वामवलम्बे अननुरूपमेवैतत् कुमारीभावस्य) क असि (क) यासि, यद्वा ‘असि’ इति ‘त्वम्’ इत्यर्थे तिङन्तप्रतिरूपकमव्ययम्, (पृथ्वीपरिवृष्ट) (पृथ्व्याः प्रभो), अरण्यवृत्तेः (अरण्ये वृत्तिर्वर्तनं यस्य तस्य) भवद्विदिषः (भवतः शत्रोः) कन्या फलकिसलयानि आददाना इत्थम् कश्चित् (पुरुषं) अभिधत्ते. पश्येत्.....कुमारी O, we may be seen together. Go away, thou fickle man. Why this haste? I am a maiden. हस्तालम्बं.....व्युत्क्रमः ‘Give me the support of thy hand. Alas! Alas! what a transgression of maidenly conduct.’ Here the principal sentiment is the love for the king. Many bhāvas, which rise one after another, are subordinate to this main sentiment. The bhāvas are Apprehension (शंका in ‘पश्येत्कश्चित्’), Resentment (असूया in ‘चल चपल रे’), Equanimity (धृति in ‘का त्वरा’), Recollection (स्मृति in ‘अहं कुमारी’), Weariness (अम in ‘हस्तालम्बं वितर’), Wretchedness (दैन्य in ‘हहहा’), Awakening (विबोध in ‘व्युत्क्रमः’), Longing (औत्सुक्य in ‘कासि यासि’). Another example of भावशबल is त्याज्यो नैष शिशुः सुतो रघुकुले याति प्रतीपो गुरुत्ताम्यन्त्यस्य सहोदरा विजयते क्षत्रस्य शस्त्रग्रहः । यात्यसिन्नवसादमेति हृदयं स्वार्थः परार्थेन मे व्यामुह्यन्त्यमुना विना प्रकृतयो मान्यो मुनिः प्रीयताम् ॥ अत्र पुत्रादिविषयाणां रीतिनां पूर्वपूर्वोपमर्देनोपनिबद्धानां शबलत्वम् ।’ विम० p. 192.

lishing the form of words (वाचक) and senses (वाच्य). But Rasa etc., being such as to be helped (उपकार्य) by words and senses (and not उपकारक), should not properly be called ornaments. What is meant is:—It was said in the first Pari. that Rasa is the soul of Poetry, words and senses are the body and Alaṅkāras (figures) are ornaments which heighten the soul of Poetry through the body (viz. word and sense). Hence it follows that Rasa is always उपकार्य (to be helped or embellished) and not उपकारक (helping or embellishing others) and that whatever is called an ornament must heighten Rasa, the soul of Poetry, through word and sense, the body. It is laid down above that रस, भाव, etc. when they are subordinate to something else, become the figures रसवद्, प्रेयः etc. These persons assert that in this there is a contradiction. If they are रस etc. they cannot be Alaṅkāras, because Rasa and Alaṅkāra are by their very nature distinct (as Rasa is उपकार्य being the soul and Alaṅkāra is उपकारक being merely an ornament). If you say they are Alaṅkāras, you cannot call them Rasa. Thus these objectors are not ready to admit रसवद् etc. as ornaments. It should be observed that Mammata also does not regard रसवद् etc. as Alaṅkāras; he includes them under the 2nd variety of काव्य, viz. गुणीभूतव्यंग्य (see K. P. V. p 201 Vā.) 'एते च रसवदाद्यलङ्काराः । यद्यपि भावोदयभावसन्धिभावशबलत्वानि नालङ्कारतयोक्तानि तथापि कश्चिद्बुधादित्येवमुक्तम्'¹. The वक्त्रोक्तिजीविन also denies that रसवद्, प्रेयस्, उदात्त are अलङ्कारs e. g. 'कर्जस्व्युदात्ताभिधयोः पौर्वापर्यप्रणीतयोः । अलङ्कारणोस्तदङ्गवर्णत्वं न विद्यते ॥' (3rd उन्मेष). Its position is that these are not अलङ्कारs but अलङ्कार्य.

अन्ये तु.....एव इति (P. 62, ll. 6-7). Others again say:—The designation of ornament given to रसवद् etc. merely because they help (the development of) Rasa etc. is purely secondary (मातृ) and must be accepted in compliance with the practice of the ancients. What these people mean is:—Alaṅkāras are those which heighten the body of Poetry. We have seen above that in रसवद् etc. रस, भाव etc. are subordinate to (i. e. heighten) another Rasa etc. There is a difference between Alaṅkāras and रसवद् etc. The former heighten Rasa etc. indirectly through the body of poetry, viz. word and sense, i. e. words and senses (the body) are adorned by ornaments and then the soul is set off to greater advantage by the embellished words and senses; while in रसवद् etc., रस etc, directly enhance another Rasa etc. In spite of this difference, there is one thing in common between Alaṅkāras properly so called and रसवद् etc. viz that both of them heighten the Rasa (directly or indirectly) by being subservient to it. On account of this similarity between the two, the word Alaṅkāra which is properly applicable only to such figures as Upamā is applied to रसवद् etc. by lakṣṇā. We have seen above (p. 54) that सादृश्य is one of the circumstances which are at the root of lakṣṇā. रसवद् etc. do not properly speaking deserve to be called Alaṅkāras. The application of the word Alaṅkāra to them is secondary and has the sanction of ancient and respectable authority, before which we must bow. भक्त is derived from the word भक्ति and means the same thing as लक्षणिक. The Locana, while commenting upon the words 'भक्तमाहुस्तमन्ये', has the following note on the word भक्त:—"भज्यते सेव्यते प्राज्ञेन प्रसिद्धतयोद्बोध्यते इति भक्तिर्धर्मोऽभिधेयेन सारूप्यादिः। तत आगतो भक्तो लक्षणिकोऽर्थः। यदाहुः 'अभिधेयेन सारूप्यात् सामीप्यात् समवायतः। वैपरीत्यात्क्रियायोगालक्षणा पञ्चधा मता।' इति*। गुणसमुदायवृत्तेः शब्दस्यार्थभागस्तैक्ष्ण्यादिर्भक्तिः तत आगतो गौणोऽर्थो भक्तः। भक्तिः प्रतिपाद्ये सामीप्यतैक्ष्ण्यादौ श्रद्धातिशयः। तां प्रयोजनत्वेनोद्दिश्य तत आगतो भक्त इति गौणो लक्षणिकश्च। मुख्यस्य वा अर्थस्य मङ्गो भक्तिरित्येवं मुख्यार्थबाधननिमित्तप्रयोजनमिति त्रयसङ्गाव उपचारबीजमित्युक्तं भवति।" p. 9. Vide शाबरभाष्य on जै. VII. 3. 34 (p. 1536 Ānan. ed.) 'भक्त्या भविष्यति यथा दजमानो वै यूप इति।' The ancient authority alluded to is that of Bhāmaha, Udbhaṭa, and others who define रसवद् etc. as figures of speech. Compare Udbhaṭa 'त्रयो रसवद्दूर्जस्त्रि पर्यायोक्तं समाहितम्। द्विधोदात्तं तथा श्लिष्टमलङ्कारान्तरे विदुः।' IV. 1. It must be remarked that ancient authority is not unanimous in defining these figures. The समाहित of Daṇḍin is quite different from that of Udbhaṭa; moreover भावोदय, भावसन्धि and भावशब्द are not defined by Udbhaṭa and Bhāmaha and रुच्यक is the first great writer to define these three. Still, रसवद् etc. have generally been defined in the same way by many.

अपरे च....न्यायेन इति (P. 62, ll. 7-9). Others say:—Strictly speaking, an ornament becomes so merely by subserving Rasa etc. (रसाद्युपकारमात्रेणालङ्कारत्वं मुख्यतः); the circumstance that such figures as Rūpaka etc. embellish the sense etc. (which is the body of Poetry) is analogous to the nipple attached to the neck of a she-goat (which nipple serves no purpose). What

* The अभिधावृत्तिमातृका on कारिका 9-10 and the काव्यप्रकाशशङ्केत (p. 17 आनन्दाश्रम ed.) read this verse as 'अभिधेयेन सम्बन्धात् सादृश्यात्समवायतः' and ascribe it to मर्तुमित्र, an ancient मीमांसक; mentioned by the न्यायरत्नाकर of पार्थसारथि and सुचरितमिश्र's काशिका. On लोकवातिक verse 10. It is said that मर्तुमित्र made मीमांसा लोकायत.

वदलङ्कारास्तेनुप्रासोपमादयः' ॥ In रसवद् etc. as in Rūpaka etc. Rasa, the soul of poetry, is embellished. Therefore the application of the designation of Alaṅkāra to Rasavad etc. is not secondary (भाक्त, as said by those who hold the second view propounded in the text) but is rather strictly correct. The only difference between Rūpaka etc. and Rasavad etc. is that the former embellish Rasa through word and sense and that the latter directly do so. But this difference is of no importance. The circumstance that in Rūpaka etc. the senses (and words) also are embellished is purely accidental and serves no purpose, just as the nipple on the neck of a she-goat serves no purpose (it cannot yield milk). These persons hold the view that Rasavad etc. are properly called Alaṅkāras. The view is opposed to those who hold that the application of the word Alaṅkāra to रसवद् etc. is भाक्त. We have explained वाच्याद्युपधानं as वाच्याद्य-लङ्करणम् in accordance with Rāmcharaṇa's explanation. The word उपधान, however, generally means 'a pillow.' Taking this meaning of the word, we may translate रूपकादौ तु...न्यायेन as "The circumstance that in Rūpaka etc. the figures rest upon the sense etc. is (of no importance), being analogous to the nipple attached to the neck of a she-goat."

अभियुक्तास्तु...इति मन्यन्ते. स्वव्यञ्जक=अङ्गभूतरसादिव्यञ्जक. अङ्गिनः=प्रधानभूतस्य. But those who have deeply considered the matter say:—Rasa etc. which have become subordinate (to something else) and which are themselves helped (उपकृत) by words and senses that manifest them, quite properly obtain the denomination of ornament, because they help (other) Rasa etc, which are principal, by embellishing the words and senses that suggest the latter. In समासोक्ति, it is merely the behaviour of the Nāyikā etc. (that is imposed upon the behaviour of another) that constitutes the ornament and not the relish that is derivable from the representation; because, (the behaviour being itself the ultimate thing) it wants the said condition of assisting a principal Rasa through ornamenting the words and senses suggestive thereof. What is meant by this view (which is the one held by our author) is:—Alaṅkāras are those which assist the principal Rasa through words and senses that manifest it. In रसवद् etc. certain words and senses manifest a particular Rasa or Bhāva; this latter again is subordinate to another Rasa and assists it through words and senses which manifest the principal Rasa. It is therefore quite proper that रसवद् etc. are called Alaṅkāras. In समासोक्ति, the ascription of the behaviour of one to another constitutes the Alaṅkāra. But Samāsokt does not possess the characteristics of Rasavad etc. There is no आस्वाद (Aesthetic enjoyment or flavour) of one Rasa which assists another through words and senses, as in रसवद्. What is charming is simply the व्यवहार, which is not Rasa etc. So, although there is a difference between रसवद् etc. and समासोक्ति etc (because in the former there is रसास्वाद, while in the latter there is none), still both of them are very properly called Alaṅkāras, because to both of them the definition of Alaṅkāra (viz. what heightens the Rasa through words and senses is a figure) is applicable. The आस्वाद of a subordinate Rasa etc. in Rasavad etc. heightens the principal Rasa through word and sense; the व्यवहार also heightens the Rasa through word and sense. The words 'स्वव्यञ्जक.....व्यपदेशो लभ्यते' are an answer to the objection contained in the first view propounded in the text 'रसादयस्तु...उपकार्यं एव.' According to the siddhānta (the view of our author) रस etc. are not always उपकार्य (to be helped), they can also be उपकारक, as in Rasavad.

अत एव.....मतिः (P. 62, ll. 12-14). Our author supports his position by quoting the words of a highly respectable authority (perhaps the highest authority) on such matters. Construe अन्यत्र (रसस्वरूपे वस्तुमानेऽलङ्कारतायोपेय्ये वा) प्रधाने वाक्यार्थे यत्र (यस्मिन्काव्ये) रसादयः अङ्गं तस्मिन् काव्ये रसादिः अलङ्कारः इति मे मतिः. The verse is explained by Locana as follows:—"यस्मिन् काव्ये ते पूर्वोक्ता रसादयोऽङ्गभूता वाक्यार्थीभूतश्चान्यः।.....तस्य काव्यस्य सम्बन्धिनो ये रसादयोऽङ्गभूतास्ते रसादेरलङ्कारस्य रसवदाद्यलङ्कारशब्दस्य विषयाः। स एव अलङ्कारशब्दवाच्यो भवति योऽङ्गभूतः, न त्वन्य इति यावत्।" p. 71. The meaning is:—In that piece of poetry, where Rasa etc. are subordinate to the main purport of the passage (where another Rasa or a sense that is principal), the former (Rasa etc.) constitute in my opinion the province of an ornament

यदि च.....प्रसज्येत (P. 62, l. 15). This is an answer to those who hold the 3rd view mentioned in the text. If it be said that the mere circumstance of assisting a Rasa etc. constitutes an Alaṅkāre, then it would follow that words etc. also are Alaṅkāras because they also assist Rasa etc. It was said above by those who hold the third view that the circumstance of embellishing वाच्य etc. is of no importance, being like अजगलस्तन and that mere रसाद्युपकार constitutes an Alaṅkāra. If that were so, words themselves, which together with senses constitute the body of Poetry, will have to be called Alaṅkāras (because they also are रसाद्युपकारक inasmuch as they manifest Rasa); but this is absurd.

एवं च.....परास्तम् (P. 62, ll. 16-17) Similarly the dictum of some that the figures Rasavad etc. occur when Rasa etc. are principal and that when the latter are subordinate, the figure is Udātta (of the 2nd sort, अङ्गभूतमहापुरुषचरितवर्णनम्) is wrong. Some writers on Rhetoric denied the existence of ध्वनि (suggested sense) in Poetry. They said that wherever रस etc. are principal, there is रसवद् अलङ्कारः where रस etc. are subordinate there is the 2nd variety of Udātta. These views are wrong, for the simple reason that words also will then have to be called Udātta Alaṅkāra, because they also are subordinate to the principal Rasa (just as Udātta is said to be constituted by Rasa etc. being subordinate). Moreover there are other grave objections against this theory. If Rasa, even when principal, is to be called Alaṅkāra, then what is the soul of Poetry? This theory is alluded to by the अलं. स. 'तत्र यस्यिन्दर्शने (ध्वन्यभाववादिनां मते इत्यर्थः । वि०) वाक्यार्थभूता रसादयो रसवदाद्यलङ्काराः तत्राङ्गभूतरसादिविषये रसवदाद्यलङ्कारः । द्वितीये उदात्तालङ्कारः ।' (रसवदाद्यलङ्कारास्तत्राङ्गभूतरसादिविषये द्वितीय उदात्तालङ्कारः ! ?) p. 186.

यदि एते एव अलङ्काराः परस्परविमिश्रिताः तदा संसृष्टिः तथा सङ्करः (इति) पृथक् अलङ्कारौ. If any of the ornaments that are treated of here are combined together, then there arise two distinct figures, संसृष्टि and सङ्कर.

यथा.....पृथगलङ्कारत्वं (P. 62, l. 20). As the ornaments (worn on the body) in ordinary life produce a distinct beauty when they are combined together and are hence counted as distinct ornaments. Compare 'यथा बाह्यालङ्काराणां सौवर्णमणिनयप्रभृतीनां पृथक्चास्त्वहेतुत्वेऽपि सङ्घटनाकृतं चास्त्वान्तरं जायते तद्वत्प्रकृतालङ्काराणामपि संयोजने चास्त्वान्तरमुपलभ्यते ।' अलं. स. p. 193.

of figures is like the mixture of sesame and rice. There may be a mixture of शब्दालङ्कार only (I), or of अर्थालङ्कार only (II), or (III) of a शब्दालङ्कार and an अर्थालङ्कार.

An example is देवः etc. (P. 62, ll. 25-26). सरेन्दीवरलोचनः (सरे विकसिते इन्दीवरे इव लोचने यस्य सः) संसारध्वान्तविध्वंसहंसः (संसारः एव ध्वान्तं तमः तस्य विध्वंसः तस्मिन् हंसः रविः (‘रविश्चेतच्छदौ हंसौ’ अमर० III 3. 223) कंसनिषूदनः (कंसस्य हन्ता) देवः (कृष्णः) नः (अस्मान्) अपायात् पायात् (रक्षतु). Here we have a यमक (Rhyme) in पायादपायात् and अनुप्रास (Alliteration) in संसारध्वान्तविध्वंसहंसः. Thus there is a संसृष्टि of two Alankāras of śabda (I). There is an Upamā in सरेन्दीवरलोचनः and a Rūpaka in ‘संसारध्वान्तविध्वंसहंसः कंसनिषूदनः’ (Kṛṣṇa is identified with the sun and saṁsāra with darkness). Therefore there is a संसृष्टि of two figures of sense (II). As both these conjunctions reside in the same verse, there is a संसृष्टि of शब्दालङ्कार and अर्थालङ्कार (III). यमक and अनुप्रास deserve a passing notice. अनुप्रास is defined as ‘वर्णसान्ध्यामनुप्रासः’. The repetition of the same letters (consonants) constitutes अनुप्रास. It is possible in various ways:—e. g. (I) the same consonant may be repeated twice; (II) many consonants (व्यञ्जनसङ्घ) may be repeated only once and in the same order; or (III) the same consonant may be repeated a number of times. Examples of the three sorts (the second called छेकानुप्रास and the first and third वृत्त्यनुप्रास) are ‘ततोऽरुणपरिस्पन्दमन्दीकृतवपुः शशी । दध्रे कामपरिक्षामकामिनीगण्डपाण्डुताम् ॥’; ‘आदाय बकुलगन्धानन्धीकुर्वन् पदे पदे भ्रमरान् । अयमेति मन्दमन्दं कावेरीवारिपावनः पवनः ॥’; ‘अनङ्गरङ्गप्रतिमं तदङ्गं मङ्गीभिरङ्गीकृतमानताङ्गाः । कुर्वन्ति यूनां सहसा यथैताः स्वान्तानि शान्तापरचिन्तितानि ॥’. यमक (Rhyme) is defined as ‘स्वरव्यञ्जनसमुदायपौनरुन्यं यमकम्’ or ‘आवृत्तिं वर्णसङ्घातगोचरां यमकं विदुः’ K. D. I. 61. When more syllables than one are repeated in the same order in which they first occurred, but in a different sense, there is यमक. Examples are: ‘दशरथोऽनुशशास महारथो यमवतामवतां च धुरि स्थितः ।’ रघुः IX. 1.; ‘यो यः पश्यति तन्नेत्रे रुचिरे वनजायते । तस्य तस्यान्यनेत्रेषु रुचिरेव न जायते ॥ (रुचिरे मनोरमे वनं जलं वनजं पङ्कजं तदिव आयते दीर्घे, रुचिः प्रीतिः). There are other kinds of अनुप्रास called श्रुत्यनुप्रास, लाटानुप्रास etc.

The verse क सूर्य etc. is an example of संसृष्टि, where the two अलङ्कार of sense, विषम and निदर्शना, are combined.

77 सङ्कर (Commixture).

(I) When two or more ornaments stand in the relation of principal and subordinate, (II) when they reside in the same place, or (III) when there is a doubt about them, there is सङ्कर, which is thus threefold. It is said that the mixture of figures in सङ्कर is like the mixture of milk and water.

An example of (I) is अकृष्टि etc. (P. 63, ll. 4-5). This occurs in अलं. स. p. 93. यस्य अम्बुगर्भेः (जलनिधेः) पादमूले (एकदेशे, पक्षे चरणमूले 'पादा रश्म्यंत्रितुर्याशा.' अमर० III 3. 89) मन्दाकिनी (गङ्गा) अकृष्टिवेगेन¹ (समुद्रमन्थनकाले देवैः यत् आकर्षणं तस्य वेगेन) विगलन् प्रभ्रश्यन् यः भुजङ्गन्दस्य वासुकेः भोगस्य देहस्य फणाया वा निर्मोकः कञ्चुकः (त्वक्), निर्मोकः पट्ट इव ('पट्टः पेषणपाषाणे व्रणादीनां च बन्धने') तद्वेष्टनया तद्वेष्टनच्छलेन (मन्थव्यथाव्यापृशनाधर्मिव) आशु (शीघ्रं) चिरम् अवेष्टन. Long did Mandākinī cling to his feet (in kneading them) under the disguise of that bandage of the (white) slough, that had slipped, through the force of pulling, from the body of Vāsuki (employed as the string), as if to remove the worry the ocean had suffered in the churning. When the ocean was churned with Vāsuki as the string, the slough slipped from the serpent's body (the poet says) and encircled the ocean. The poet says it was not the slough that encircled the ocean, but it was the Ganges that had assumed that form and came there quickly out of love for her lord (the ocean). The Ganges remained at his पादमूल, to shampoo her lord's feet in order to remove the great fatigue that he must have felt when he was churned by the Gods.

अत्र...समासोक्तेरङ्गम् (P. 63, ll. 6-10). Here Mandākinī is superimposed upon the slough, the real nature of which is denied; so we have the figure अपहृति (प्रकृतं निषिद्धान्यस्यापनं अपहृतिः). अपहृति is subordinate to श्लेष, inasmuch as it gives rise to Paronomasia, because the actual पादमूलवेष्टन (clinging to a portion of the sea) of the Ganges (under the disguise of the slough) is the same as चरणमूलवेष्टन (clinging to the feet), as the word पाद is capable of two senses. श्लेष is subordinate to अतिशयोक्ति, because पादमूल in one sense is identified (मेदेऽमेदः) with पादमूल in another sense. अतिशयोक्ति is subordinate to उत्प्रेक्षा contained in 'मन्थ.....धर्मिव'. The natural पादमूलवेष्टन of the Ganges (disguised as slough) being identified with पादमूलवेष्टन (clinging to the feet), 'मन्थ.....धर्मिव' is fancied as the हेतु of पादमूलवेष्टन (clinging to the feet in order to knead them). उत्प्रेक्षा is subordinate to समासोक्ति, inasmuch as it conveys the idea of

अनुरागवती.....समागमः (P. 63, ll. 12-13). This verse is cited in the ध्व० p. 37. We read there 'दैवगतिः कीदृक्'. अनुरागवती (अनुरागः रक्तिमा, पक्षे प्रेम तद्युक्ता) संध्या, दिवसः तत्पुरःसरः (तस्याः पुरःसरः पुरोवर्ती, पक्षे संमुखः आज्ञाकरः) अहो दैवगतिः चित्रा (आश्चर्यावहा), तथापि न समागमः (मिलनं, पक्षे स्त्रीपुंससङ्गमश्च). Here the meaning of the words as they stand is "The Evening glows with अनुराग (redness) and the day is ever present before her; yet how wonderful is the working of Destiny—they are never united (when there is day, there is no संध्या, when the संध्या comes, there is no day)". The words संध्या and दिवस, on account of their gender, and the words अनुरागवती and तत्पुरःसर (which are Paronomastic) suggest the behaviour of a lover and his sweet-heart. The meaning then is:—(The sweet-heart) is full of affection and (the lover) is ever ready to do her bidding; but alas, wonderful is the working of Fate—there is no union of the two (this being due to the fact that one or both of them are prevented by the elders from meeting each other). Thus there is समासोक्ति. This समासोक्ति is subordinate to विशेषोक्ति. Although the causes of समागम, viz अनुराग (in the woman) and तत्पुरःसत्त्व (in the lover) are present, the fruit of them does not follow. Therefore there is विशेषोक्ति.

An example of सन्देहसङ्कर (III) is 'इदमाभाति' etc. (P. 63, ll. 15-16). The verse can be construed in many ways. 'इदम्' may be construed with ऐन्दवं मण्डलम् or separately (as referring to face etc.). सन्ततं (सर्वत्र प्रसृतं) तमः (अन्धकारः, पक्षे अज्ञानं) मिन्दानं (निरस्यत्) अमन्दं अनल्पं नयनानन्दं करोतीति अमन्दनयनानन्दकरं ऐन्दवं मण्डलं (चन्द्रस्य बिम्बम्) गगने आभाति. Here doubts arise as to the figure as follows:—It may be अनिश्चयोक्ति if we suppose that the face is swallowed up as it were by the moon and spoken of in the terms of the moon, as in कथमुपरि कलापिनः कलापः (p. 33) above, the figure may be Rūpaka consisting in the superimposition of the moon upon a face pointed out by the pronoun 'this' (as if we were to say इदं मुखं इन्दुमण्डलम्); the figure may be तुल्ययोगिता (defined as 'पदार्थानां प्रस्तुतानां' etc.), if we suppose that a face (pointed out by the pronoun 'this') and the lunar orb are both subjects of discussion (प्रकृत) and are connected with the same attribute of destroying darkness (whether internal or external does not matter); the figure may be दीपक (अप्रस्तुप्रस्तुनयोरेकधर्माभिस्त्वन्धः दीपकन्), if we suppose that the moon is not प्रकृत (and that the face is प्रकृत); the figure may be समासोक्ति, if we suppose that the face is अप्रस्तुत (and the moon in 'इदं ऐन्द्रं मण्डलम्' is प्रस्तुत) and that it is suggested by the sameness of attributes (viz. तमः सिन्धानं and अमन्दनयनानन्दकर); it may be अप्रस्तुतप्रकाशा (5th variety तुल्ये प्रस्तुते तुल्यस्य अप्रस्तुतस्य अभिधानम्), the face being in question and understood through the description of the moon which is not in question (on account of the similarity between them); or it may be पर्यायोक्ति, the time that excites love (viz. night) being meant to be described through the description of the moon, the rise of which is the effect of night. Thus there being a doubt on account of the possibility of many alaṅkāras, there is सन्देहसङ्कर.

साधकबाधक...रूपकसमास एव (P. 63, l. 25-p. 64, l. 6). साधक...सन्देहः. When there is some circumstance favourable to one alaṅkāra and some other circumstance unfavourable to another, or when even one of these exists, then there is no doubt (and no सङ्कर). For example, in 'He kisses the मुखचन्द्र,' the circumstance that kissing is consistent with the face and inconsistent in the case of the moon is a reason for regarding the figure to be a simile and is a reason against regarding it as Rūpaka. If we dissolve the compound मुखचन्द्रः as मुखं चन्द्र इव, मुख becomes prominent and can be well construed with the action of kissing; but if we dissolve it as मुखमेव चन्द्रः, चन्द्र becomes more prominent and cannot be well construed with the action of kissing. Therefore the figure is Upamā and not Rūpaka. Here there exist both साधक and बाधक circumstances. मुखचन्द्रः...उपमाबाधकः. In this example, the attribute of shiningness is a circumstance favourable to the recognition of Rūpaka (because it is construable with the moon in its primary sense) and is not unfavourable to simile because it can be construed with the face in a secondary sense. It is a general rule of interpretation that where the primary meaning is applicable, a secondary meaning should not be resorted to. So in 'सुखचन्द्रः प्रकाशते' there is रूपक only. Here there is a साधक circumstance but nothing बाधक (i. e. nothing that forbids the recognition of उपमा). राज.....रूपकम्—Here, the circumstance of a woman embracing one like her lord being improper, the embrace of the king as such on the part of Lakṣmī is impossible and so the recognition of Upamā is forbidden (if we dissolve as राजा नारायण इव, राजा becomes prominent and is likened to Viṣṇu); but the embrace of Nārāyaṇa by Lakṣmī being possible, there is a रूपक (i. e. we must dissolve the compound as राजा एव नारायणः, where नारायण becomes prominent and the king is identified with Nārāyaṇa). Thus here there is a बाधक of simile and therefore the figure is रूपक एवम्.....बाधकता. In 'the lotus-face of the fawn-eyed lady shines with tremulous eyes' the eye being possible only in the face, the recognition of Upamā is favoured (i. e. we must dissolve वदनाम्बुज as 'वदनं अम्बुजमिव' where वदन becomes prominent and is well construed with चञ्चललोचनम्) and as the eye is impossible in lotus, the recognition of Rūpaka is prevented (we cannot dissolve वदनाम्बुज as 'वदनमेव अम्बुजम्' because then अम्बुजम् will be prominent and cannot be well construed with चञ्चललोचनम्) एवंरूपकसमास एव. In such a sentence as सुन्दरं वदनाम्बुजम्, where the common property (सुन्दरत्व) is mentioned, the compound वदनाम्बुजं cannot be so dissolved as to bring out an Upamā, according to the sūtra of Pāṇini (II. 1. 56) 'उपमिनं व्याघ्रादिभिः सामान्याप्रयोगे' (an object of comparison, उपमेय, is compounded with व्याघ्र etc. the Upamānas, when the common attribute is not mentioned) and therefore the recognition of a simile is debarred. The compound here must be taken to be रूपक and as belonging to the class which begins with मयूरव्यंसक ('मयूरव्यंसकादयश्च' पा० II. 1. 72 मयूरो व्यंसकः मयूरव्यंसकः व्यंसकः धूर्तः । सि० कौ०).

एकाश्रयानुप्रवेशो.....लङ्कारयोः (P. 64, ll. 7-14). An example of the residence of figures in the same place (the 2nd variety of सङ्कर) is कटाक्षेण etc. यदि सा क्षणमपि कटाक्षेण अपि ईषद् (मां) निरीक्षेत तदा सान्द्रः (घनः) पिहिताशेषविषयः (पिहिताः संवृताः अशेषाः अखिलाः विषयाः विषयसाक्षात्काराः येन) आनन्दः (हृदये) स्फुरति, अम्भोरुहदृशः (कमलाक्ष्याः) सरोमाञ्चोदञ्चकुचकलशानिर्भ्रवसनः (सरोमाञ्चौ प्रियस्पर्शेन उद्भिन्नपुलकौ उदञ्चन्तौ उन्नतिभाजौ यौ कुचकलशौ स्तनकुम्भौ ताभ्यां निर्भिन्नं प्रअद्वैतं वसनं वल्लं यस्मिन्) परीरम्भारम्भः (परीरम्भः आलिङ्गनं तस्य आरम्भः उपक्रमः) क इव (कीदृशः) भविता (भविष्यति). पिहिताशेषविषयः which shuts out the consciousness of all external objects. अत्र.....अनुप्रवेशः.

Here the छेकानुप्रास contained in 'कटाक्षेणापीपक्ष्णमपि' and the वृत्त्यनुप्रास consisting in the occurrence of the compound letter क्ष twice in 'कटाक्षेणापीपक्ष्णमपि' and once in निरीक्षेत् have the same position. We explained above (p. 324) what is meant by अनुप्रास. छेकानुप्रास occurs when a number of consonants are repeated again in the same order. Here क्ष, ण् and प are repeated again in the same order in 'कटा.....पि.' प्रतीहारेन्दुराज on उद्भट (I) explains " छेकशब्देन कुलायाभिरतानां पक्षिणामभिधानम् । तदुक्तम् ' छेकान् गृहेष्वभितानुशन्ति मृगपक्षिणः ' इति । तेषां च कुलायाभिरतत्वादन्येन केनचिदनायास्यमानानामनेनानुप्रासेन सदृशी मधुरा वागुच्चरति । अतोयमनुप्रासश्चेकैर्न्यपदिश्यते छेकानुप्रास इति । अथवा छेका विदग्धाः । तद्वल्लभत्वादस्य छेकानुप्रास्ता । " वृत्त्यनुप्रास occurs when a single consonant is repeated once or many times, or when many consonants occur once again but not in the same order, or when many consonants occur more than once and in the same order. The letter क्ष occurs thrice in 'कटाक्षेण...निरीक्षेत्' and there is therefore वृत्त्यनुप्रास. एवं च..... लङ्कारयोः So also there is एकवाचकानुपवेश of अनुप्रास and अर्थापत्ति. If at the mere glance of the woman, all consciousness of external objects is lost (as in ब्रह्मानन्द) then what would happen at the time of embracing her ? This is अर्थापत्ति. The same words which cause this figure also present अनुप्रास and therefore there is एकवाचकानुपवेश.

गाथासप्तशती IV. 59. The reading in the printed edition of that work are 'अभिनवप्रावृद्धसितेषु' for 'अभिनवपयोदरसितेषु', 'रभसप्रसारित०' for 'शोभते प्रसारित०', 'शोभते श्यामायितेषु' for 'पथिकश्यामायितेषु.' The readings adopted in the text are sanctioned by the high authority of the ध्वन्यालोक and लोचन (see p. 230 of ध्व०). राम० appears to have read महनि for शोभते "अभिनवं हृद्यं पयोदानां मेवानां रसितं (गर्जितं) येषु दिवसेषु । तथाविधपथिकान् प्रति श्यामायितेषु मोहजनकत्वाद्वात्रिरूपनामाचरितवत्तु । यदि वा पथिकानां श्यामायितं दुःस्वप्नेन श्यामिका येभ्यः । शोभते प्रसारितग्रीवाणां मयूरवृन्दानां नृत्तम्" । लोचन p. 230 The expression 'पहिअसामाइएसु' may stand for पथिकसामाजिकेषु as well as for पथिकश्यामायितेषु. The meaning of पथिकसामाजिकेषु is पथिका एव सामाजिका. (सभासदः) तेषु (the spectators in the form of travellers). The verse means 'charming is the dance of the peacocks, whose necks are out-stretched, in these days, noisy with the fresh (or charming) rumbling of clouds and appearing to the travellers gloomy as the night (because they are separated from their wives); compare मेवदूत 'मेवालोके भवति सुखिनोऽप्यन्यथावृत्ति चेतः कण्ठाश्लेषप्रणयिनि जने किं पुनर्दूरसंस्थे'). If we read 'पथिकसामाजिकेषु', the meaning will be 'charming is the dance of the peacocks etc. in these days with travellers as spectators'. The readings of the printed गाथासप्तशती also yield a good meaning. 'अभिनवप्रावृद्धसितेषु शोभते श्यामायितेषु (or सामाजिकेषु) दिवसेषु । रभसप्रसारितग्रीवाणां नृत्यं मयूरवृन्दानाम् ॥'. Charming is the dance of the peacocks whose necks are stretched out through joy (or quickly 'रभसो वेगहर्षयोः' विश्व०) in these days, with the first roars of the rainy season and appearing dark as night (or in these days that are spectators). अत्र.....रूपकं प्रविष्टमिति. Here in the same place, viz the Prākṛit expression 'पहिअसामाइएसु', there is a simile in पथिकश्यामायितेषु and a rūpaka in पथिकसामाजिकेषु. The word श्यामायित is the past passive participle of a denominative verb श्यामायते which is explained as श्यामाः श्व आचरन्ति. Therefore in श्यामायित, there is उपमा (धर्मलुप्ता according to our author). In पथिकसामाजिकेषु (पथिका एव सामाजिकाः) there is रूपक. Therefore there is सङ्कर of उपमा and रूपक by एकवाचकानुप्रवेश. 'पथिकान् प्रति श्यामा इवाचरन्तीति प्रत्ययेन लुप्तोपमा निर्दिष्टा । पथिकसमाजेष्विति कर्मधारयस्य स्पष्टत्वाद् रूपकम् ।' लोचन p. 230. राम० justly contends that this is not a proper example of सङ्कर by एकवाचकानुप्रवेश; but that it is an example of सन्देहसङ्कर, as 'मुखचन्द्रं पश्यामि' is. The Prākṛit expression पहिअसामाइएसु does not simultaneously admit two figures, as in संसारध्वान्त etc. but alternately and therefore there is no doubt.

The difference between सन्देहसङ्कर and सङ्कर by एकवाचकानुप्रवेश is that in the former we are in doubt as to what the figure is, there being no determining circumstance, while in the latter we are certain about the figures, which occur in the same phrase or expression.

Mammata appears to have held that सङ्कर by एकवाचकानुप्रवेश occurs only when one figure of word and another of sense reside together in the same place (स्फुटमेकत्र विषये शब्दार्थालङ्घनद्वयं व्यवस्थितं च K. P. X.). Our author, following the उलं. सू., holds that सङ्कर by एकवाचकानुप्रवेश occurs not only when one figure of word and another of sense reside together, but also when two figures of word as in 'कुरवका' etc. or two figures of sense reside in the same place. The प्रदीप also says "शब्दार्थालङ्घनानि प्रायोवादः शब्दालङ्कारयोरप्येतददर्शनात्."
